The new cotton and wheat programs are voluntary. There will be no penalties for non-compliance but farmers can increase their income and help reduce surpluses by complying, Lynn McKown, office manager, Hall County ASCA, said.

Wheat farmers who have seeded wheat in excess of their allotments have only one more week to destroy their excess. Farmers who keep within their 1964 allotment and divert 11.11 per cent of their allotment will be paid $8.22 per acre on the allotted acreage and $4.88 on the diverted acreage—county average—but excess wheat must be destroyed or reclassified by May 1, 1964.

The City Of Good People

Couple Expresses Appreciation For Treatment They Received

Citizens of Memphis received praise last week in a letter from a resident of Lubbock, whose family was involved in a minor car accident recently in Hall County.

The letter, addressed to The Democrat, is reproduced below.

Plan Now For Retiring Under S. S. Program

Hal Geldon, District Manager of the Amarillo Social Security Office asks: "Are you planning to retire soon? Do you keep putting off inquiring about your social security status? If so, do you know what documents will be needed when you apply? Don't depend on your neighbor's recollection of what he was asked for—his situation may not apply to you."

Resolve today to prepare for your eventual retirement and inquire before you retire. Generally, you will need the following:

1. Proof of your age.
 2. Evidence of earnings—if you work for wages, your Form W-2, Withholding Tax Statement, for the year before you apply; if you have your own business, a copy of your complete Federal income tax return for the past year and the cancelled check showing payment of the social security tax will be needed.
 3. If your wife is applying at the same time, she will need proof of her age.
- Plan to make application at least 60 days before your actual retirement. If you have any doubts about getting the proofs you will need, your social security representative can help you resolve these well ahead of the time your first check is due.

and states in detail the thought of the writer:

Dear Sirs: You already know it, I'm sure, but I want to say what good people you have in Memphis.

My family and I experienced a minor highway accident April 10. An Oklahoma couple, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Tucker, took us to Brice and called Highway Patrolmen Thomson and Collins. These patrolmen arrived in a minimum of time, accompanied us back to the scene of the accident, and took all five of us to Memphis while a wrecker brought in our car. The courtesies shown by the patrolmen were indeed a credit to the Texas Highway Department of Public Safety.

We got a room at a motel while our car was being repaired—and found out immediately that the type of persons Patrolmen Thomson and Collins are, represent the rule rather than the exception in Memphis. The motel operators, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Currin, loaned their personal car to us while ours was in the garage. We were total strangers to them at the time, although we discovered later I was well acquainted with the Currins when I was a child.

While in Memphis nearly two days, we ate in restaurants and shopped in stores—and everywhere we found the business people and clerks friendly and helpful. Carl Truly and others at Foxhall Motor Co., moreover, made every possible effort to get our car repaired as quickly as possible so that our inconvenience would be minimized.

So, from someone making his first trip to Memphis—at a time when an accident had made me far from happy—a tip of the hat to a community that made us feel welcome and reminded us quickly that people can be wonderful. In Memphis, they are. Sincerely, Kenneth May.

From and About People—

Dear Sirs:

We received your letter of April 2nd telling us that my guess in the 1963 Cotton Guessing Contest was awarded the first prize by your fine newspaper. We wish to thank you so very much for the three year subscription to the Memphis Democrat, our hometown paper. It was our pleasure to enter the contest, we assure you.

My father, B. F. Cope, came to Hall County in 1891 and I was born and raised in Hall County. My father was the first president of the Annual Hall County Old Settlers Reunion, I believe, in 1927 or 1928. My parents subscribed for and read the Memphis Democrat from the time it was first published until their death in 1961.

We noticed in the Democrat where our longtime friend, J. Claude Wells, entered the Scott & White Hospital at Temple, Texas for surgery. We have never seen anything in the Democrat whether he ever got able to have surgery or how he is getting along. We, as his friends, would like to know the outcome of his sickness. We always enjoyed Claude's Comments as well as the other news in the paper. We hope J. Claude will soon be able to write his comments again or maybe he is retiring from the newspaper business. If so, we hope he will enjoy taking it easy and completely regains his health.

Our congratulations and best wishes to you, Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Combs, as J. Claude's newspaper associates in a job well done. Thanks again for sponsoring the Annual Cotton Guessing Contest of which I was privileged to win the top honors. Sincerely yours, A. G. Cope.

P. S.—I stand corrected about what I said in the former part of this letter about not being anything in the Memphis Democrat about how J. Claude was getting along after having surgery and the stroke. My wife showed it to me in the March 19th issue. Accept my sincere apology and forgive me for not reading your good newspaper as thoroughly as my good wife as she never misses anything.

Glen.

Jet-smooth Luxury Chevrolet makes roads feel as smooth as the maps they're printed on Run your finger over a map and find yourself a place to go. That's a preview of how it feels to get there in a Chevrolet.

We've put what we think is the best suspension system in its class under this great highway performer. A big husky coil spring at each wheel and double-action shock absorbers to soak up bumps. Over 700 sound deadeners throughout the chassis and that spacious Body by Fisher to blot out noise from road and wind.

There's a lot of other Jet-smooth luxury, too.

Wide seats with foam-cushioning front and rear. Luxurious wall-to-wall deep-twist carpeting (this year it comes with even the lowest priced Biscaynes). A choice of seven great engines, all precision-balanced for smoother running, with four smooth-shifting transmissions to match. Everything that makes Chevrolet the great highway performer it is.

So get out those road maps. And wherever you go, get off to a good start—during Trade 'N' Travel Time at your Chevrolet dealer's.

moisture stretching factor for crop production. It gives plants their growth and a higher protein content. Nitrogen deficiency in plants is indicated by a yellowish color in leaves. Bermuda grass has a yellowish color and produces small yields and has a low protein content. Cotton develops a yellow color and has a small stalk.

Phosphorous encourages early root development, early fruiting, and hastens maturity. Phosphorous deficiency in plants is indicated by a slow growth and poor fruiting. Cotton sheds squares and small bolls when the plants doesn't get enough phosphorous.

Potassium makes plants grow vigorously, aids in fighting diseases, and is essential in the formation of starches, sugars and oils in plants. Potash deficiency is indicated by a scorching of the edge of the leaves.

The soil must supply plants with a well balanced supply of plant foods nutrients in order to produce high yields of good quality. It is much better to maintain a balance of plant food in soils than to deplete a nutrient and then try to get them back into proper balance.

Fertile soils are one of our Nation's greatest assets. Let's keep them productive to farms, communities, towns and cities may prosper.

Hall County Conservation District News

The approach of planting spring crops and planting bermuda grass pastures is time to start your fertilization program for the coming season in the Hall County Conservation District.

Soil analysis should be applied to a specific field. Information on how to gather a soil sample can be obtained from the County Agent or Soil Conservation Service. When fertilizer recommendations are based on soil analysis some of the important factors to consider are soil pH and fertilization.

For row crops, fertilizer should be placed 2 to 3 inches and 2 to 3 inches below the seeds. For acres of bermuda grass, the fertilizer should be drilled or chiseled into the soil. Pastures that are established to bermuda grass should have at least 30 pounds of phosphorus and 30 pounds of potash at the start of the growing season. Throughout the growing season a total of 200 pounds of nitrogen should be applied for the year.

Cliff Farmer Attends Meet Of 287 Assn.

Clifford Farmer, Chamber of Commerce manager, attended a U. S. Highway 287 Assn. meeting at Vernon Monday and Tuesday and reported the meeting was very informative.

He said that Tuesday, Howard Woodard, of the State Highway Dept., spoke at a meeting. He told the group that the state recognized Highway 287 as a major highway next only in importance to the Intra-State system.

Woodard told the association that plans are on the board now for making the highway a four-lane divided highway from Fort Worth to Amarillo. He also told those present that Texas tourist business increased last year by 21 per cent.

Woodard said that in most towns the tourist business each year equals the payroll of the best industry located in the town.

Farmer explained that the Association is planning a north caravan to leave Denver, Colo., and proceed to Canada. The caravan will leave sometime in May.

Farmer is a past president of the association (in 1956) and is a member of the executive advisory council.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas
A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

In Contemplation of Death
Uncle Joe, a widower, had more money that he would ever need. This enabled him to make generous gifts over a period of years to a number of friends and relatives.

When Uncle Joe died and his estate was probated, the heirs were shocked when the federal Treasury Department levied estate taxes on all the gifts made during the past three years. How could this be?

The tax law is clear: Any transfer of property within three years preceding the date of death—except on a bona fide sale for adequate and full consideration—is presumed to be in contemplation of death and taxable, unless shown by the donor's estate to the contrary. But any gift or transfer more than three years before death is not taxed as part of the estate.

This law has a valid public purpose. It is aimed at preventing people from avoiding estate taxes by giving away their property before they die. Of course, one seldom knows exactly when he will die, but an older person or one with an illness may reasonably know that his years are limited. Thus the law raises the presumption that any transfer within the three-year period is in contemplation of death.

Anyone can make gifts of his property at any time. Those gifts other than purely nominal ones must be reported for gift tax purposes. Sizeable tax exemptions are allowed for gifts, but the laws are so contrived as to prevent a wealthy person giving away all his property before death tax-

This Is Good Time To Prune Trees, Shrubs

If anyone has been thinking about doing some pruning around the home, A. F. DeWorth, head of the Floriculture Section of the Soil and Crop Science Department of Texas A&M University, offers these suggestions:

The cardinal rule of pruning is, if there is no good reason for pruning a plant, put the tools away. The primary purpose of pruning is to remove unwanted growth, whether it be for the plant's health, free.

In Uncle Joe's case the gifts will be taxable unless the estate can show otherwise, but the presumption that were made in contemplation of his death so as to avoid the estate tax or as a substitute for a will.

appearance, safety reasons or disease control.

In dealing with shade tree pruning, the cardinal rule is to remove V-shaped crotches and limbs of many small branches that are desirable than removal of large ones. When large limbs or portions of the tree need pruning, an expert should be contacted.

Trees may be pruned any time, but spring is excellent because of the rapid healing of wounds which occurs during the growing season. Pruning ornamental and small flowering trees on growth habits and characteristics of the plants during the spring produces flowers on growth made previous year, therefore, plants should not be pruned when they have finished blooming.

Jack Shattuck, Space Science Lecturer For NASA, Speaks To MHS Students

Last week the students of Memphis High School were presented one of the most important programs this year.

Jack Shattuck, the space science lecturer for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, presented a program on the latest developments in space science. The program was very enlightening to all concerned and the students and faculty were very impressed by the demonstration of solar cells, rocket propulsion, and solid and liquid fuels.

Mr. Shattuck is a member of the Space Mobile Service Branch of the Public Education Committee for N.A.S.A. The Space Mobile system has hundreds of units operating in the United States and in several foreign countries.

Mr. Shattuck had just returned from such a trip to Argentina where he gave demonstrations in several high school there. He emphasized that high school students are entering a wonderful new age and everyone has a place in it whether he drives a truck, teaches in a classroom or builds a rocket engine. And that our present knowledge obtained between 1950 and 1960 is equal to all of man's accomplishments prior to 1900, and the rate is increasing at a faster pace every day. The student body is grateful to the faculty and to Mr. Shattuck for a very informative and entertaining program.

Austin-Travis News

By Tony Monzingo

The sixth grade at Austin was visited by Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard, who gave the class a lecture on her world tour and showed them many of her pictures. The class also visited the high school to see the Space Mobile (NASA) demonstration and lecture about our future in the Space Age.

The first graders in Mrs. Hick's room presented the assembly program last Thursday. All children participated in each number given.

The first thing presented was a rendition of twelve animal songs with animal imitation; that is each child wore an animal head or face.

"Shoes for Angela", a library book, was dramatized secondly. The main characters were Angela, Melanie Cunningham; the mother, Rita Collins; the postman, Audie Moore and Jimmy Timmes. Mark Shawhart and Houtencia Rye, acted as the P. T. A. sellers. The two readers of the story were Danny Freelan and Terry Anderson.

The entire class played "Le Secret" as a rhythm band number. The final number was "Calendar Notes", a choral group reading with posters to fit each month of the year.

The fourth grade was on the assembly program and the P. T. A. program April 14 at Tustin School.

The program consisted of two choral readings, "Mr. Nobody" and "The Wind" and the following songs: "Texas, Our Texas", "Catch a Falling Star", "Cripple Creek", "Deep in the Heart of Texas", "Home on the Range", "Going to Leave Old Texas", "Bluebonnets of Texas", "Reuben and Rachel", "Have You Ever Been to Texas in the Spring?" and "God Bless America".

The solo parts were sung by Bruce Rose, Carol Foxhall, Cynthia Phillips, and Tommy Lockhart.

The announcers were: Rusty Fowler, Ramona Ballew, Bobby Clark, Venita Tooke, Larry Simpson, Carol Foxhall, Wiley Davis, Mark Stevenson, Debra Herndon, Mack Miller, Cynthia Phillips, and Bruce Rose.

Other class members participating were: Connie Cortez, Rhonda Crawford, Victor Garcia, Tommy Hall, James Hansard, Prentice Hicks, John Jerrel, Jerry Jones, Mary Juarez, Chris Limer, Glen Miller, Pablino Narvaez, Gary Watson, Randy Whitten, and Dale Wilks.

The songs were under the direction of Mrs. Gailey, music teacher.

Dear Parents,

We thank you for coming to our school program.
Mrs. Newton
Room 10.

The Travis picture memory team won first place in the district 2-A University Interscholastic League spring literary meet in McLean last Saturday. The members of the team are: Billy Ed Dixon, Larry Moss, Pam Gordon, Pam Nabers, John Vallance, LuGay Godfrey. Byron Tuck was first alternate.

Picnic Day

After Mr. Foxhall visited us, Mr. Dickey came to take Mrs. Farmer's room and Mrs. Bruce's room to the Park. The boys took balls, bats, and gloves. We took sack lunches, too. We played kick ball and baseball before eating. The room mothers served Cokes. They were Mrs. Carl Baker, Mrs. Doyle Gilbert, Mrs. R. L. Nelson, Mrs. Billy Ray Jones, and Mrs. Carl Yancey. We had a lot of fun, too.

Mr. Foxhall came to Travis to talk to the children in the fourth grades about our water supply. Mrs. Farmer's room went into Mrs. Bruce's room. Mr. Foxhall drew pictures to show us where we get our water.

After Mr. Foxhall left, both rooms went on a picnic. We went to the park in the bus. The boys played softball and the girls played kickball. After we got tired of that, we played on the equipment. We brought our own lunches. The room mothers bought the drinks. The children had lots of fun, but we were tired.

A Water Talk

First, to start an exciting day on April 16, 1964, Mrs. Farmer's fourth grade of Travis School went into Mrs. Bruce's room. Her room is a fourth grade, too. We went into her room to hear Mr. Frank B. Foxhall tell us about our water system, how we get water, how we get clean water, and where our city wells are. These are some things he told us. Don't drink out of creeks. The sources of water from which Christ drank are still here because of the water cycle. Water is precious and we must save it. We thank Mr. Foxhall for visiting us.

The two fourth grades had a wonderful day April 16. First we had spelling, then math. Then we had the first treat. Mr. Frank B. Foxhall came to talk to us about the water situation. He told us about people in other countries; and that most of them had to walk or ride very many miles just to get one pail of water. We are trying to help these people. The two fourth grades appreciate Mr. Frank B. Foxhall's visit and the things he told us about the pure clean water of Memphis.

EDITORIAL The So-Called "Farm Vote"

We are disgusted at the reams of publicity which has been carried in the daily newspapers for the past several years regarding the "farm vote". Metropolitan newspapers have been using non-factual figures to try to convince the city dwellers that the vote of the farm is no longer a potent segment of the population. They have cited figures to prove their arguments, but the figures told only part of the facts.

This week, John C. White, Commissioner of Agriculture of the State of Texas, released from his office in Austin some facts and figures which might cause some of the Senators and Representatives from our great cities to pause as they plan utterances against the Texas farmers.

It is natural that any candidate make his "political pitch" to the voters who are qualified to elect or re-elect him. But some of the candidates might well consider the facts as far as the State of Texas is concerned.

According to Commissioner John White, the opinion in some political circles, the farm vote at the polls is a thing of the past. He admits that on its face, from the national scale, the so-called farm vote represents about 9 per cent. But he goes on to point out that the figure does not represent a true picture of agricultural strength or importance.

"Actually, a total of 63 per cent of our population is directly connected with the buying, selling, manufacturing or processing our farm products."

This is the key to the misconception. This is the reason that all legislative matters, both state and national, are vitally important to this segment of the population.

White goes on to say, "If everyone who buys the raw products of the farm could vote with the farmer, the strength of the rural vote would increase to 14 per cent. If those who pass these products through channels of trade were counted, the total goes up to 24 per cent. The processors and manufacturers of these goods would swell the total to 37 per cent. Retailers of the ultimate product increases the strength to 56 per cent."

And finally, those who sell the farmer only those tools and materials needed to produce his crop brings the grand total to 63 per cent of our voting strength!

Of course, most thinking persons rely upon agriculture for their daily needs. No other industry affects the entire population so directly. Nothing is more important to the economy of this nation than the food and fiber which is produced by the farmers.

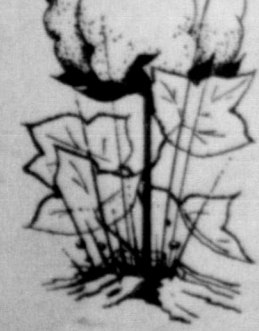

The facts of the above must be considered by everyone. The fate of agriculture has been considered—and discussed—by many facets of our economy. Agricultural leaders, and the members of the Congress of this nation, are concerned. Some who purport to speak for agriculture have been advising those in Washington for many years to "turn the farmer loose." We do not know what this means, but we do know that the profits—at the end of the harvest season—are the only important issue which is involved.

The "pitch" to the city dwellers for many years has been that the "subsidy" has cost them higher prices. The facts will prove this erroneous. For example, the price of white broad-cloth shirt—if the producer gave the lint of cotton to the mill—would only be reduced some 30 cents (provided the wholesales deducted it from the cost). All know the small amount the wheat grower receives for his part of the price of a loaf of bread. Figures received for cattle, poultry, fruit, and all others, will bear this out. We might well ask: "Why hasn't the price of beef declined in proportion to that which has been received for many months by the cattlemen?" The answer is obvious.

Here in Hall County, we have been enjoying the fruits of bountiful harvests for the past four years. We are realizing the benefits of gainful employment as industry has moved to this area. This is the realization of the dreams of our leaders and those who have struggled to make our country their home. Not enough recognition has been given to the regular payrolls which have kept us solvent. Neither has enough thought been given to the plight of those who have tremendous investments in farm and ranch lands of this area. These people have suffered—and prospered with favorable weather and prices.

But, in the final analysis, as Commissioner White points out: politicians must not overlook the potent "farm vote." It affects the pocketbooks of just about everyone living in Hall County.

Leukemia and Hope

Leukemia is a form of cancer that strikes fear in all of us. This is understandable. It is a fatal disease; it brings heartbreak to parents whose child is stricken by it and to families of adult victims. And leukemia is increasing, especially among older people.

Against this dark side is a bright side. This is the new and hopeful side. The hopeful side is very real. The course of leukemia has been slowed, even halted for a time. It has brought months and even years of happy, useful life to children and adults alike.

This is the result of research—the finding of new drugs and new methods of treatment. All of this has happened since the end of World War II when scientists began to tackle the cancer problem in earnest.

The gains have been so important that many scientists now believe that "time is running out" on leukemia. They believe that cures will be found for leukemia sooner than for any other cancer. Scientists consider that this may happen in the foreseeable future. All of this because science has probed deeply into the disease.

Some of the things scientists want to know are: Do viruses cause human leukemia? They have caused leukemia in animals. If viruses cause leukemia in humans, as many believe, can a vaccine be developed against it as was the case with polio? A vaccine that will prevent leukemia in animals has been found. If viruses are found to cause human leukemia and a vaccine is developed against it, then it may be possible to bring all cancers under control.

Based on the hope that the answers to these questions are possible, the American Cancer Society is supporting many scientists in many institutions charged only with finding these and other answers to leukemia. Currently the Society is investing over $2,000,000 on leukemia-related research.

Remember this when an American Cancer Society volunteer calls for a contribution. Scientists can move ahead only as fast as funds are made available.—Shamrock Texan.

PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS

WTU is proud to be a part of your community

PAYROLLS

... sparkplug for economic growth

Payrolls pay off when new manufacturing industry begins operation in a town. Memphis, population 3500, is a good example. Pictured above is the Hall Plant, a unit of Burlington Industries, famous textile manufacturers. It brought a payroll to this Texas Panhandle town for more than 100 employees, mostly women, and has become an important addition to the local economy.

National studies show that payrolls, which come from 100 basic new jobs in a community, add 100 more homes such as the total electric Gold Medal home pictured left . . . increase retail sales by $331,000 annually . . . create three new retail establishments . . . bring 359 new people including 91 school children . . . and add 97 more car registrations.

This is another PATTERN FOR PROGRESS.

American industry is on the move . . . expanding, relocating, and establishing new product facilities all over the Nation. Here is another opportunity for communities to seek new manufacturing payrolls. WTU suggests that every community give serious consideration to this opportunity, since payrolls are, as we have seen, a sparkplug for economic development and growth.

Water Challenges

Must Be Met
Americans now use more than 10 billion gallons of water daily—about one-third of the daily streamflow in the United States, exclusive of Alaska and Hawaii. Our water resources are expected to double by the year 1980, to triple by the year 2000. Population increases and demand for water, which exist in some parts of the United States, are becoming more acute. The challenges posed by these increases must be met.

The Texas Panhandle area is becoming "water conscious" as any region in the Nation. The absence of a steady supply of water is a major factor in affecting our lives and fortunes. And certainly some 10,000 Americans who each summer experience "waterless" days, when ground supplies run dry, will be aware of our water problem. But many of our fellow citizens do not yet realize the magnitude of the problem; many city dwellers assume that water is as available as the air they breathe.

The problem we face in the United States is to make the best use of the "manageable" water supply available to us. If the quantity of rain and snow that falls on the United States in an average year were evenly over the country, it would stand 30 inches deep, that 30 inches, 21 inches to the atmosphere. Our "manageable" supply consists of the water that drains from the surface and seeps into the ground. This supply, we now with-hold 3 inches of water—after use, one inch returns to the atmosphere and 2 inches to the stream network. If the 3 inches we use were available, we obtain 80 percent from lakes, rivers and the other 20 percent from wells. Clearly, if we provide for the needs of our cities, we must find ways to conserve our ability to take large amounts from the 9-inch total supply available.

Recent national averages cited above are misleading. The Texas Panhandle receives only two inches of rain a year, some of the country receive more than that. The Texas Panhandle, thus, differs from one another. In one part of the United States, the main problem may be supply. In another, the distribution of an abundant supply may be the major problem. In some areas, the amount of the sediment and chemical control, and floods, are particularly in the United States, a combination of these problems heightens the danger. In some areas, as the population would quickly see, the total problem could be these factors: short variability in the supply, the control of the water available, and the control of chemical and sediment deposits.

and the demands of the federal, State, and private resource development programs concentrate on five specific ic kinds of activity: regulating streamflow through the construction of surface reservoirs and through watershed management; more adequate pollution abatement programs; making better use of underground storage; eliminating wasteful practices to make more efficient use of the supply; increasing the natural water yield by desalting, weather modification, and other artificial means.

With all the competing uses for our limited natural water supplies, we must learn to conserve, use, and re-use with utmost efficiency, and find ways to increase our supplies. We must increase our understanding of the role of water in its many uses and to explore new and better ways of conserving precious water supplies and using them to the best advantage. Research, like that conducted at the University of Texas, is most important.

Conflict over water resource development is luxury the United States cannot afford.

W. S. (BILL) HEATLY

JUDGE A CANDIDATE BY HIS OPPOSITION

During my 10 years as a member of the Legislature I have earned the opposition of certain special interest groups. This list includes those who want:

- LEGALIZED GAMBLING
- SALE OF LIQUOR BY THE DRINK
- TAX FAVORS FOR THE BEER INDUSTRY

There may be others from time to time, but these are always trying to defeat me, and anybody who runs against me automatically has their support, financially and through paid campaign workers.

I urge voters of the 82nd Legislative District to check the source of organized opposition to re-election of Bill Heatly. Most of it comes from outside the district. Without exception my active opponents represent (sometimes innocently) those who belong in one of three categories:

- (1) They want to get their hands a little deeper in the taxpayer's pocket.
- (2) They want tax concessions; or
- (3) They want the right to engage in business now prohibited by law.

Based on 10 years of experience none of these ever supports legislation which does not benefit them financially.

I have a constructive voting record in the Legislature and have sponsored or actively supported such legislation as: (1) Exemption of farm implements from State sales tax; (2) Veterans Land Purchase Program, which is self-liquidating and doesn't cost taxpayers a single dollar; (3) Better care of indigent seniles and mentally and physically handicapped persons; (4) Hospitalization for recipients of Old Age Assistance; (5) Constructive legislation on education, such as sponsorship of appropriations in last session $167.8 million above previous biennium; (6) Continued operation of Rural Electrification and other measures of interest to people of my district.

IT IS EASY TO AVOID OPPOSITION OF SPECIAL INTEREST GROUPS. ALL A MEMBER HAS TO DO IS VOTE FOR THEIR PET MEASURES.

In a job of this kind there is no substitute for experience. Lobbyists are never happier than when they can replace a veteran legislator with an inexperience member who has only one thing in mind: getting special favors for his active supporters.

Boy Scouts Hold Annual Comanche District Camporee At Buck Creek

The annual Camporee for the Comanche District was held on Buck Creek April 17-18. Boy Scouts from Wheeler, Shamrock, Wellington, Clarendon, Quail and Memphis were on hand for the week-end.

Elmont Branigan, Camporee Chairman, was assisted by Grady Hayes and Royce Frisbie in setting up camp-sites, contest areas and over-all programming.

Tex McCoy, Executive director for the Comanche District, was in attendance for the two days. John Brewer, Scout Executive of Pampa, was on hand for the contests. Lawrence Neece of Clarendon accompanied Mr. Brewer as a guide of the area. Mr. Neece has been on the list of volunteer works of the Adobe Walls Council for many years.

A campfire was held Friday night. Scouts Presley Yarbrough of Claude and Bobby Cain of Clarendon conducted the ceremonies. Each troop presented skits and led songs. Mr. Branigan gave the last-minute instructions concerning the schedule for the night and during the following day.

Volunteer workers from the district served as judges for all the contests beginning with the skits. Campers were judged on conduct during the night, camp sites as well as on contests. Troops were twenty patrols for the contests.

divided into patrols numbering Reverend Richard Avery opened the events on Saturday with a prayer. The Camporee site on Buck Creek near Wellington was available through the courtesy of Okie Loving of Wellington.

According to Mr. Branigan, this year's Camporee has been the most successful one he has directed and he adds, "This was due to the outstanding ability of the men serving as judges." Troop No. 33 of Clarendon was high-point team and received the coveted Buck Skin. Troop No. 32 received honors for best campfire contests of various activities selected, on which they were judged. Presley Yarbrough served as master of ceremonies passing out of awards. Leaders were unaware the trophy was being scored on Pate of Troop No. 35, who was the happy recipient of trophy for "Outstanding Leader."

The ceremonies were closed a prayer by Rev. Avery. Troops returned home.
