State Approves Quail FM Road

The Texas Highway Commission Wednesday, May 6, approved the expenditure of $314,000.00 for construction of a new Farm to Market Road in Collingsworth County extending from Hall County Line to Farm to Market Road 1056, 3.0 miles South of Quail, announced Engineer V. J. McGee of Childress, Texas.

The District Engineer said 14.0 miles in Collingsworth County will be involved. The work will be under the supervision of Clyde Drake, Supervising Resident Engineer, Wellington, Texas.

The Commission's announcement concerning the Quail Road came as a welcome surprise due to the many years the project has been in the planning stages. Delegations from Collingsworth and Hall Counties have made six trips to Austin within the past five years concerning the road, which will be a shorter route connecting Memphis and Wellington as well as providing the normal Farm to Market road functions.

The Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development has worked for the past five years on the project along with the members of the Collingsworth County Commissioners Court and Hall County officials.

Also the Texas Highway Commission approved the expenditure of $47,300 for construction of a new Farm to Market Road in Childress and Hall County extending from F. M. Road 658, 2.6 miles North of F. M. Road 94.

Upon the death of Judge Gribble, Gov. Connally announced that he would appoint the man who was the winner for the office in the Democratic Primary since there was no Republican opponent.

Reynolds has served for four years as Childress County Attorney. Clarence Darter is expected to be appointed by the Childress Commissioners Court as County Attorney effective June 1, it was announced.

Judge Reynolds spoke Tuesday to the Memphis Rotary Club concerning the part civic clubs play in the growth of any community.

Several area students competed last weekend at Austin in the State Interscholastic League meet, however, none were able to win first place plaques.

Although none of the students won first, all made good showings at Austin against stiff competition.

In golf, the Memphis team and the Lakeview medalist found the Austin course tough because of the number of trees.

The Memphis Golf team placed second behind Bastrop, a town near Austin, which won the tournament. Memphis totaled a 674 while the Bastrop team shot a 645. Jay Dunbar had a 78, and 86 for a 164; Jerry Moss shot an 88-87 for a 166; Mickey Daugherty shot an 82-89 for a 171; and Larry Parks shot an 89-94 for a 173.

Dana Gibson of Lakeview, playing in Class B for medalist, shot an 85-88 for 173 and placed sixth in the meet.

In tennis, the Memphis doubles team of Ronald Pate and Bill Pounds lost out in the quarterfinals to Mike McCormack and Kelly Becker, 1-6, 6-3, 6-4. Lakeview's Nikki Clements was defeated in the quarterfinals in one of the closest matches of the meet. Playing in Class B girls singles, Nikki was defeated by Old Glory's Stephanie Letz, 6-3, 4-6, 7-5. Nikki had her opponent match set twice but was unable to win the match. Letz went on to win the tournament.

Lakeview's doubles team of Sandy Verden and Tommie Lou Payne lost in the quarterfinals to Marilyn Rabon and Barbara Bridges of Eden, 6-2, 8-6.

Quitaque's boys doubles of Jack Johnson and Terry Wood lost in the quarterfinals to Larry Carroll and Craig Coates of Bertram, 6-4, 6-4.

Johnny Lacy of Turkey advanced to the semi-finals and was defeated by Joe Tillerson of Celeste, 6-2, 6-2. He defeated Lopyr's Dale Walker, 14-12, 6-2.

The only literary entry from Hall County was Suzanne Sexauer. Suzanne placed third in Poetry Interpretation. She was accompanied to Austin by Mrs. Roy Guthrie, her coach, and her mother, Mrs. Robert Sexauer.

School Board Has Busy Session Mon.

The Memphis School Board had a busy session Monday night and handled several items of business before adjourning at midnight.

Superintendent W. C. Davis read a letter to the board from Mrs. Roy L. Guthrie, English teacher, in which she explained that due to her age she was returning her contract to the board unsigned and that she was planning to retire from teaching at the end of this school term.

Also, Band Director Bill Bradley met with the board and stated he had been offered a salary raise by the Muleshoe School District and he felt that if the Memphis District could not meet it, he would accept the Muleshoe offer.

After an hour's discussion, the board voted unanimously to stay with the present contract offered the band director.

The School board issued the following statement for publication: "The Memphis School Board and Superintendent want to express our appreciation to Mrs. Roy Guthrie and Mr. Bill Bradley for their service to the youth of the Memphis School."

"Mrs. Guthrie is quitting teaching and Mr. Bradley is moving up to a better job. They are both great teachers and their positions are going to be hard to replace. We regret that they have decided to leave Memphis High School. We join their many friends in wishing them happiness and success for the future."

In other business before the board, Bill Leslie, W. D. Young, and L. B. Snider were named as a Board of Equalizations for the District.

The board also approved a Driver Training class to be taught by Coach Charley Chambliss this summer. Charge for each student was set at $25 in the district and $30 for students outside the Memphis District. The first class will begin the first Monday in June.

The following school bus drivers were re-elected: Clifford D. Bradshaw, Lyman E. Robinson, B. J. Thomson and W. C. Foster.

Monty Alewine was re-elected Tax Assessor-Collector for the Memphis District by the Board.

Legislation Provides New Cotton Provisions

basic price support of 30 cents. The additional price support payments, however, would not be eligible to growers planting an export market acreage.

The chairman pointed out that the new program supplements, rather than supersedes, the cotton program which has been in operation in prior years. Marketing quotas will be in effect for the 1964 cotton crop, as approved by growers in a referendum last December, and any "excess" cotton will be subject to marketing quota penalties, as in former years.

One major difference for 1964 is that the grower may, if he wishes, plant a one-third smaller acreage of cotton and meet other conditions of the program and in return be eligible for a 3.5 cent price support payment in addition to the regular price support loan at the 30-cent rate. The acreage not planted to cotton because the grower planted within the smaller "domestic allotment" may be planted to other crops (with the feed grain limitation mentioned under point "B" above), thus providing an additional source of income.

The other major difference is that a grower may produce some cotton to sell at the world price if he files an application by June 1, 1964, deadline and furnish a bond assuring that the cotton from the export acreage will be exported without Government subsidy.

Mr. Davis said that notices will soon be mailed to growers containing information on the new program provisions as they apply to the individual farm. If the grower (Continued on Page 12)

The Cotton Market!

With some good rains this past weekend, county farmers whose fields were wet enough, began planting their 1964 cotton crop. And, with the planting of the crop, many begin thinking about what the cotton market will be this fall.

John C. White, Commissioner of the Texas Department of Agriculture in his newsletter this week, predicted that new processes will boost cotton uses. The new processes he referred to were the continued advancement in the stretch fabrics and the new development of the process which will give cotton a "locked-in" shape.

The stretch fabrics which hit the market with such success in the past couple of seasons contributed a great deal to the cotton market. Ladies stretch pants and all types of sportswear made from cotton fabric which snapped back into shape were immediate favorites with the consumers.

Now comes a process which permanently locks in a cotton shape such as pants creases or hat contours or a multiple number of forms. By using these moldable cotton fabrics, manufacturers should be able to speed and cut costs of producing cloth items.

The use of "locked-in" or moldable fabrics will increase the use of cotton in the molding of pointed toes of women's shoes and would be particularly helpful in simplifying and thus speeding production of sofas, chairs, and other upholstered items.

Another aspect of the cotton market this year is the new cotton legislation passed recently. Some criticism from individual farmers has generally been related to the two and one-half cents price cut. Nevertheless, many in the cotton industry did support the bill, complete with price cut (although with reluctance), and there is justification for that support, according to some arguments.

The price cut, coupled with the subsidy payment on cotton sold for use by domestic textile mills is designed to make cotton competitive in price and thereby improve its chances in the market place against other fibers offered there for sale. This point is emphasized by industry spokesmen. Some critics wanted the subsidy payment larger to bring the price of cotton for U. S. mills down to the desired level without reducing the price paid to the farmer. Others maintained that farmers have been doing pretty well under the old cotton program and old pricing policies. These seemed to be ignoring that under the old program of recent years and recent USDA pricing policies, cotton was losing some of its markets; production was on the increase, and unused cotton stocks were piling higher and higher. Why buy cotton when competition of synthetics was growing each year? Such were some of the comments.

It is easy to see that a surplus of any commodity has but two possible solutions—either the supply must be decreased or consumption must be increased. For cotton, decreasing the supply could only be accomplished through drastic acreage cuts and even this, would furnish no permanent solution. King Cotton would lose out to Prince Synthetics.

Obviously, then, the only plausible way out of cotton's surplus problem is stepped up consumption, and industry leaders are generally agreed that consumption will go up under the new cotton bill. According to Robert T. Stevens, President of J. P. Stevens & Co., a recognized industry leader, the use of cotton will go up 600,000 to a million bales the first year.

So, this was the choice faced by the cotton industry spokesmen—an inevitable series of acreage cuts of new legislation. There can be little doubt as to which of these alternatives is easier for farmers to stomach. And, if there are those who prefer an acreage reduction over a price cut, they can choose to underplant effective allotment by one-third and by doing so earn one-cent increase over last year's support price.

The government has helped a lot in keeping farm income up in past years, but whether we like it or not, in the final analysis permission to continue volume cotton production in Texas at a profit will come as a result of healthy markets, because no government can forever support a commodity when the demand is gone.

In Hall County, land is our most valuable asset, but it has no value in itself alone, but it is valuable for its ability to produce something that can be sold at a profit. Removing any part of the county's cotton acreage would have an immediate effect on land values as well as on annual income for land owner and tenant.

The Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., reported that a Lamb County farmer who looked at 960 acres of level land with a 14-inch irrigation well pumping 5,400 gallons per minute of pure water in the San Luis Valley of Colorado, found out that the owner has been unable to borrow $30 per acre on it, nor has he been able to rent it even for enough to pay the very low taxes. The San Luis Valley is said to hold some three million acres of land in the same condition.

Why is its value so low? Because it has no allotment to grow a crop that can be sold at a profit. This comes as a surprise to many Hall County citizens.

Lower cotton prices are hard to take, but with King Cotton being placed in a position to compete for existing markets, a greater demand may result. We must have markets, because without them, land values and farm income would go down together.

From the standpoint of the consumer, the reduced price to local farmers will naturally bring such questions as: "How much lower will be the price I pay for my underwear, shirts, pants, etc.?" Time will give the answer.

MAKING PLANS

ACROSS THE DESK

What Other Editors Say

Harold Hudson in The Ochiltree County Herald (Perryton): The scene: A committee meeting of an organization with a fund raising project in mind which will help the club carry out a worthy project.

The time: Any time.
The place: Any community, large or small.

What do you suppose will invariably be suggested as a good place to raise money?

Of course! Ask the "merchants" for a contribution, after all, we trade with them and if they can't come across with a contribution for a worthy cause once in a while, they're not worth trading with.

So once again a small group visits the merchants and once again he contributes to a worthy cause, and charges it up to "advertising" when he knows good and well that there is nothing resembling advertising in it.

In fact, were the average business man not so polite, he could hit a form of blackmail. At best, it is pressure, and plenty of it.

These pressures for donations might be disguised as program advertisements or ticket purchases but they are still donations.

It may be that a show of some sort is planned. The promoter suggests that the way to insure success is for the club to bring up a bunch of advance tickets, and then sell these in bunches to merchants who can give them away to his customers or find some other use for them.

It is still a donation.

In this country, there has developed a feeling that the merchant is fair game for every club and organization. People forget that businessmen belong to churches which they support, that they belong to clubs to which they pay dues and to which they contribute.

There is no group that is taxed on his means of making a living like the business man.

There is little way of estimating how many dollars go out of town into "advertising" in school annuals from schools who finance their yearbooks this way. These are more properly called "donations" instead of advertising. In the business man feels like he has to support the school yearbook because he has customers who come from that community. Nobody ever sees his "advertisement" but a handful of students who buy a yearbook at the close of the school year.

Clubs and organizations ought to ask themselves "Does the business man have an obligation to support this activity?"

Is there a real advertising value or a real benefit to the business man who gives to this cause.

Donations and contributions make up a lot of money at the end of the year for any business, large or small. In some case a store gives out thousands of dollars and some smaller stores give out hundreds.

But be it large or small, the average businessman or business enterprise is looked upon by people not in business as fair game for contributions. Sometimes it even seems that people think business has a bottomless pit containing money waiting to be tapped for good causes.

It ought to be that way, but it shore ain't.

YOUR PLYMOUTH DEALER IS HAVING A RED HOT SUCCESS SALE

ON THE TEST TRACK CHAMP

Recently a showroom Plymouth, equipped with a standard V-8, beat Ford and Chevrolet in ten out of ten tests at Sebring, Florida. Tests of performance, handling, braking and gas economy. These are tests of the very "things you buy a car for."

Now your Plymouth Dealer is having a "success sale" on the same model Plymouth (and other models, of course). He's dealing like it was mid-summer. And right now trade-ins are worth more too. So get your share of success. See your Plymouth Dealer.

At Plymouth's request, Nationwide Consumer Testing Institute bought the comparably equipped V-8s directly from dealer showrooms, hired the drivers, supplied the officials, made the rules and supervised the entire competition. See your Plymouth Dealer for details of "Test Track, U.S.A."

George Fin, an Ohio bait processor, says post mortems prove bluegill will eat anything that moves or fits into its mouth. "Furthermore," says Fin, "the bluegill is hungry all the time and you don't have to wait for a special lunch period to feed him."

The bluegill, in this instance, takes in all the perch family. Most of us call 'em perch, but others like the name of bluegill. And still others call 'em bream. But by whatever name, ounce for ounce, there is nothing quite as rewarding for an afternoon of fast and furious pleasure than taking bluegill.

Mainly, the bluegill is a worm fish. Perhaps more of them have been caught on worms than all other baits combined. We used to dig worms in the back yard. Now we buy them put up in ice cream containers.

worm on their hook. Others break the worm into bits and put only a small part on a small hook to be sure and catch the bait stealers.

Now, thanks to scientific breakthrough, there are methods of preserving natural baits, such as garden worms, crickets, grasshoppers, grubs and grass shrimp. All these are ideal bluegill baits and will help you catch a basket full with very little trouble.

Biologists encourage bluegill fishing. They urge you to take as many as possible and not throw any back. Reason is . . . impoundment soon can become overrun with them.

Although most of us picture bluegill fishing with a cane pole and a small float, there are other methods that will prove as much or more fun.

For instance, there is nothing better than a flyrod for catching them, especially if you are working from a boat. A light flyrod or ultra-light spinning outfit is ideal for tossing the various baits close to the rock banks, which seem to be the best spot to catch bluegill.

I know two fellows in Austin who sometimes forget about their big bass fishing and take out after those fighting bluegills with casting equipment. They fish a great deal on Lake Marble Falls, where there are high rock banks. By casting directly against the rock banks and jiggling the lure a time or two after it hits the water, perch will attack it.

I've seen them bring in perch smaller than the lure they cast. During the course of an afternoon they'll fill a wire basket with bluegill the size of your hand. And who can deny these are not good eating!

Others using spin or casting equipment carry along several of those little plastic bubbles. They are fastened to the line about two feet from the end.

On the terminal there will be one or two small hooks. These can be baited with worms or those preserved baits. By casting the bubble near the rocky shore, come up with a crappie or even a big bass.

This type of fishing is especially good on short float trips down some of the streams of Texas. You get a mixed creel on trips of this kind. Many of them however, are various subspecies of perch. Sometimes you get those big goggle-eyed ones.

And don't sell perch short as to their eating qualities. Just the bait is sure to attract fish.

Sometimes when fishing in this manner for bluegills you will scale 'em, clean 'em and toss them into a skillet with plenty of hot grease and let them cook until they are thoroughly brown. This way, on the smaller fish at least, you are not bothered with the bones. You chew them along with the meat.

On the larger ones you can peel off the very delicious meat and throw the bones away.

Perch fishing isn't just for the kiddies. Grownups find it equally as enjoyable.

Don't Give Up First Time
Fish have pretty good memories. But usually one must be hooked five or six times for the experience to register.

So, when you lose a lunker after a battle, don't give up and move on. Try the same spot again and again. The lunker may take your lure when you least expect it.

The female octopus may produce as many as 325,000 eggs in one spawning.

CAUTION URGED IN USE OF HERBICIDES

The use of hormone-type herbicides — sometimes called weed-killers — has proved to be of considerable value to many Texas farmers and ranchers. The application of such herbicides as 2,4-Dichlorophenoxy Acetic Acid and 2,4,5-Trichlorophenoxy Acetic Acid, usually referred to as 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T, respectively, can be of special benefit in weed control on pastures and ranges because they act selectively on broad-leaved plants.

Along with these benefits, however, there can be an appreciable amount of risk in applying these useful chemicals. This is because many cultivated plants within proximity of the area being treated can be accidentally damaged or killed by herbicides when proper precautions are not used. Cotton, Texas' largest crop, is particularly vulnerable to herbicide damage.

tion area to surrounding acreage) and closeness to susceptible planted crops such as cotton and flax.

In 1963, a marked increase has been noted of people who are using 2,4-D (the more commonly-used hormone-type herbicide) for the first time. There has also been noted a significant rise in complaints from people who have cause to believe that the application of herbicides by others has had some effect on their crops. Such complaints are serious and call for prompt attention by the Department of Agriculture when regulations apply.

It is therefore a matter of great importance that any person not having had previous experience in the use of these important chemicals first of all check with the nearest Texas Department of Ag-

Laugh Of The Week

"This may come as a bit of a shock, but I'm afraid we're going to have to remove a little of your original equipment."

About Your HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health.

The discarded nail was hidden in tall grass. The mower blade hit it and suddenly it was buried an inch deep alongside the shinbone of the 23-year-old Williamson County secretary.

Accidents of this type will be on the increase now—this is lawn-mowing time, you know—until fall weather brings a welcome respite from the weekly chore.

The State Department of Health does not keep statistics on non-fatal accidents, so the extent of injuries from carelessly handled power mowers is unknown. But one Central Texas city reports, conservatively, that 15 to 25 serious accidents are reported each year.

Like the man who stopped his car at the curb, intending to say hello to his prespiring neighbor busily mowing the grass. Neighbor wheels up with mower to return the greeting. Man in car—elbow resting on window—finds his forearm pinned to bicep with a five-inch piece of wire flung at him by the whirling blades.

Power equipment is a tremendous boon to the man who likes to keep his yard neat with a minimum of effort. But it takes constant concentration to do the job safely. Even experience is no substitute for concentration. A garden club member in a major Texas city used to pride himself on his safe and sane use of power tools that helped him maintain the sharpest yard in the block.

But no more. One afternoon, while trimming his driveway with a power trimmer, he reached down to lift a bloom-laden branch of a rose bush out of the way.

When he withdrew his hand two fingers were missing. "I wasn't alert," he wryly explained.

One of the most frequent mower accidents has this sequence:

A stick or wire or rock jams between the cutting bar and blade. The operator attempts to clear the without going to the trouble of killing the motor. Results: Badly cut or severed fingers when the surge of power spins the freed blade.

Most power mowers come equipped with safety guards. Trouble is that guards are removed by owners for one reason or another and never replaced.

But use one carelessly and you're liable to become a candidate for a quick trip to the emergency ward of a hospital.

Extra Fuel Tank

It's important on outboard cruises to obtain the best miles per gallon of fuel. So, adjust your speed for minimum gas consumption.

Then to prevent trouble and inconvenience, carry an extra fuel tank, as insurance, to be used only in an emergency.

Make Worms Do Full Duty

Worms don't show up very well in murky water. Add to the worm's appeal when threading it on the hook by tying a small strip of red bandanna cloth through the hook's eye.

Worm soon will twist itself around the red cloth and so add to the brightness of your bait.

... It Goes Where It Is Invited!

People Buy Newspapers Because They Want All The News

They are as much interested in the advertising columns as the news columns because advertising is the news of what is available in goods and services at the stores they know.

There are no gadgets to turn off the advertising in newspapers. Nobody wants it turned off. Every survey ever made shows that people prefer to have the newspaper they buy contain advertising because the Advertising Is News!

The newspaper is there all week. It is there for the whole family to read. And They Do!

It is there to be read at the time and under the circumstances when the reader asks to be informed. It is there for the housewife to tear out the ads and take them with her when she shops. And She Does

Annual Giles Picnic Is Slated For May 30

By VIRGINIA BROWDER
Yessiree! There will be, as usual, a Giles Picnic on the banks of old Buck Creek in Donley County May 30. A meeting of the "steering committee" has been called for the evening of Thursday, May 14, in the country home of Virginia Browder. At that time, detailed planning for the picnic festivities will be made, but, after eight years, everyone pretty well knows his and her duty and does it as to the celebration preparations.

For the ninth consecutive year, we will have just a good old-fashioned country picnic with good food and fellowship the order of the day. Again, Walter Johnson, sheriff of Giles, will head the music committee and Bob Ayers will act as "master of ceremonies" for the duration. Flip Breedlove and Pete Land will

Hooser Gives Information On Tomato Growers

Tomato growers who have not used plastic mulch can prevent fruit rot on their tomatoes by staking or by placing newspapers under vines to prevent contact with the soil, reports W. B. Hooser, County Agent of Hall County.

Staking tomato plants sometimes produces larger, better quality fruit. It also keeps them cleaner and makes plants easier to spray. However, staked tomatoes are likely to have more cracking, blossom-end rot, and sunscald, Hooser said.

Placing whole sections of newspaper under tomato vines is an easy way to prevent fruit rot. The county agent suggests putting papers down after the vines are heavy enough to keep them from blowing away. Plastic dry-cleaner bags can be used the same way, he said.

When staking tomatoes, place sturdy, five-foot stakes about one foot in the ground. Set them about four inches from the plant and avoid cutting tomato roots when setting them. Use of soft cord or strips of old cloth will lessen injury to plants when tying them, Hooser says.

A good method of tying plants to stakes is to loop the material around the main stem; then across between the stem and the stake to form a figure eight. Tie it back of stake.

If pruning is necessary, Hooser says to break off shoots that grow from the crotch formed by a leaf at the main stem. Break the shoots, rather than cutting them, because a knife may spread disease, Hooser said. When pruning shoots should be removed before they are three inches long.

Fire by wood friction can be produced by three different methods: the saw, the plow or the drill.

BOWLING TROPHIES—Betty Brown, left, won both individual trophy for high game and high series with the Pin Buster Bowling League for the past season. To capture the award she bowled a high game of 195 and high series of 500. Shirley Miller, shown to the right, was awarded a trophy for second high game of 191. They also received team trophies, winning second high bowling with Potts Chevrolet team.

Around and About

By HELEN COMBS

Never were rain drops more welcome than those that fell over the weekend, putting an end for the moment to sand and wind. In fact this week started off, weather wise, most pleasantly. And even J. Claude Wells made an appearance at the office Monday and Tuesday morning for a short visit. . . he's doing nicely now.

Many homes had out-of-town visitors over the weekend. . . while other families visited out-of-town with relatives. At least two fraternities at Texas Tech entertained their mothers, along with their fathers over the weekend. Going from here were Mr. and Mrs. Guy Wright, whose son is a member of Phi Gamma Delta, and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Gailey and Mr. and Mrs. Crump Ferrel. Don Gailey and Billy Ferrel are members of Pi Kappa Alpha. Diane Gailey and a friend, Rosemary Harrison, accompanied her parents to Lubbock.

Lottie Kinard enjoyed a pleasant Mother's Day as a guest in the home of Mrs. O. V. Beck in Amarillo, where several members of the recent round-the-world trip enjoyed a reunion. Mrs. Morgan, a member of the tour group, showed pictures and everyone enjoyed recalling highlights of the trip. . . sometimes all talking at once, Lottie laughingly stated.

Katherine Milam, who has been confined to home most of the time since suffering a stroke in June of last year, was surprised with a visit by fellow club members before the 1913 Study Club meeting last Wednesday. We understand Katherine received her guests looking as pretty as a picture! Driving out to the Milam country home were Peaches Harrison, Lottie Kinard, Lorraine Tarver, Tomacile Greene, Virginia Browder, Cy Foxhall and Mrs. Roark of Denver, Colo., who was a guest in the home of her son, Swede Roark and wife Jimmie.

Fern Boone departed for Austin Monday. . . a few days later than first reported. . . to get the first look at her new granddaughter. We are happy to welcome Fern to the "Grandmother Club" . . . nothing nicer we can assure her.

And, speaking of grandchildren, we are now awaiting the arrival of number six, and the day is May 17. As a nurse for small infants, we are beginning to feel experienced. However, after talking to Helen Howard we may need to take a back seat.

Helen was in Oklahoma City last week helping out her sister, Mrs. Virgil Miller, who has a new daughter, Carla Jean. In addition to taking care of the new baby, Helen cooked and kept the household running smoothly. In addition to the new baby, there are four other children in the family—three boys and a girl. Helen has gone down and stayed a week with each child to help her sister in time of need.

We think this is a most wonderful way to show her love and devotion to her sister.

While the limelight is still focused on the women of the family as a result of the annual Mother's Day, we would like to take this time to point out some facts that were brought out at the recent FHA state meeting in Austin.

We have long known that marriage is not a 50 percent proposition, give and share alike, where the home is concerned. . . that it is basically the responsibility of the mother to see that the home operates smoothly. . . and the children are well behaved. The home is the woman's domain and when she fails in her duties there is trouble and unhappiness ahead. . . of course, there are exceptions to all rules. But statistics given at the FHA meeting pointed out that one out of every three teenage marriages today end in divorce while one out of every 70 college graduate marriages end in divorce. But the most amazing figure presented is that only one out of every 270 marriages of women who have a home economics degree from college divorce. We would like to see the State of Texas require one year of home economics in all high school girls.

Today's Cuckie: Rose dicament. The young man's mother told him that the next time he would send her a bouquet of roses, one for each year of her life.

He ordered two dozen roses and delivered the next morning. The florist, knowing the man's father was one of those customers, kindly put in a dozen. And the young man knew why his girl was

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Fleta and Dana were in Dallas last week, where Dana was more tests for her heart condition at Children's Medical Center. Mrs. T. E. Davis accompanied them and remained for various parts of east Texas.

CARD OF THANKS
I have appreciated your thoughtful and encouraging cards during my illness. Friends are a real treasure.
Sincerely,
Mrs. Exie Sweatt.

Roping Firewood
Firewood soon get scarce around a camp.

When it does, take an ordinary rope, one-half inch, or larger, long enough to reach lower tree limbs. Tie a weight on one end of the rope and toss it over a dead branch. Hold both ends of the rope and pull.

You can "lasso" a surprising amount of firewood in this manner.

Keep Line From Tangling
Every fisherman knows how badly a line tangles while you are moving from one fishing spot to another. You can prevent this by wrapping the hook and line close to your rod.

Simple method is to twist a pipe cleaner around the rod and line. Pipe cleaners are easy to twist and easy to undo.

Silk is obtained from several species of moth.

Band News

By LOWELL MCKOWN

This week, Mr. Bradley announced that he would resign his position with Memphis High School to become band director in the Muleshoe Public School system. The reason he left is that the Muleshoe Schools offered him a situation too good to turn down. We, the members of the Memphis Bands—elementary, Jr. High and High School, are very sad to see him go. He has built the bands up into an organization we could be proud to be in. Everywhere we went, the Cyclone Band earned the respect and admiration of all the other schools. His skillful direction and leadership contributed greatly to the band's success these last three years. Words cannot convey the great love and respect we have for him. We feel that a part of him will always stay here with us and we hope that he will always remember the good and bad times we have shared together at M. H. S.

Tuesday night, the Memphis Cyclone Band had a very successful salad supper and concert. The money is to be used for the trip to Enid and for the use of the Cyclone Band. The concert was directed by Mr. Bradley, Tony Monzingo and Gerry Knight. Monzingo and Knight jointly conducted First Suite in E Flat for Military Bands. In concert the band played: March Onward, Spiritual, First Suite, West Side Story, Fantasy On Dixie, Brighton Beach, and Music Man. During the concert, Mr. Bradley was presented with a Sweepstakes haton from the Band. The salad supper was prepared by the Band mothers to raise money for the trip to Enid in the spring. The event was very successful, and the band would like to thank everyone who supported the salad supper and concert.

The Memphis Cyclone Band was in a parade publicizing the Jaycees Jubilee held Friday evening in the Community Center. The parade consisted of the Cyclone Band, a float with entertainers for the evening, and several new cars shown by local car dealerships.

The parade started at Memphis High School and marched down Main Street to the square, ending up on the South steps of the courthouse, where the band played several numbers and members of the Jubilee sang. Two members from each bus sold tickets to the concert and salad supper which was held May 12.

After the program, the band marched down Noel Street to turn down 11th Street and back to the high school.

The Memphis Junior High and Elementary Bands went to solo, ensemble, concert and marching contests in Quanaah Saturday. The results were sweepstakes, most outstanding concert band and most points.

Golf Team Takes Second Place At State Meet

Last week on Friday, May 8, and Saturday, May 9, the State Golf Meet was held at Austin on the Austin Municipal Golf Course. The golf team was represented by Jay Dunbar, Larry Parks, Mickey Daugherty, Jerry Moss, and Jimmy Harrison. The first day, the team was in second place with a team total of 337, ten shots back of the leaders, Bastrop. Jay Dunbar was tied for medalist the first day with a 78.

The second day, the team shot another 337 to finish 20 shots back of the winners, Bastrop, with the total score of 645 while Memphis had a team total of 674. The total of the individual boys were as follows:

Jay Dunbar: 78-86—164.
Jerry Moss: 88-78—166.
Mickey Daugherty: 82-89—171.
Larry Parks: 89-84—173.

To American cowboys spurs were a necessary implement when mounted, a social requirement when dismounted, and used for everything from a branding iron to a tombstone.

TRAVIS NEWS

The pupils of Mrs. Farmer's fourth grade at Travis had been studying Asia, when Vickie Ferguson's father, John A. Ferguson, Medical Substance Inspector of the U. S. Air Force, and family returned from Japan, where John was connected with Tachikawa Hospital for three years. Prior to this, he was stationed in Korea. In fact, his attractive wife is Yong Cha of the Republic of Korea. The Fergusons have three children who were born in Asia: Judy 7, Carol, 6, and Howard, 3.

Judy and Carol, who have been attending an American school in Japan and who speak English beautifully, visited Travis last Monday afternoon. They delighted the children with their Korean songs and happy personalities.

After a few weeks visiting in Memphis with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Peters, John and his family will leave for their home at Turner Air Force Base in Georgia.

Second graders have made gifts for Mother. They rooted cuttings and transplanted them into milk cartons. Each child enjoyed decorating his own gift and making his Mother's Day card.

The children have completed the SRA Achievement tests this week.

The third grade rooms made pictures for Mother's Day. They also took the achievement tests.

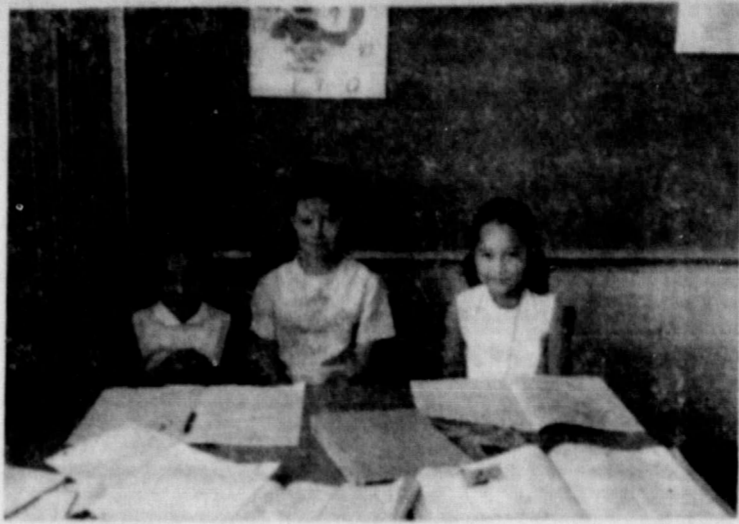

The second, third, fourth, and sixth grades have been taking their SRA achievement tests this week. The tests cover all the major subjects in school and rate the pupils in a grade school.

The many samples of rocks, fossils, and minerals given Travis for entering the regional science fair are going to be displayed on a premade bulletin board. The samples all came from our Panhandle region.

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGERS
Representative, 18th
Congressional District

Trade and Agriculture
The United States may top 274 million persons. By then, the problem of our agricultural activities may be a matter of history as our farmers supply not only greatly increased domestic requirements but also vastly larger markets all around the globe.

Our effort to preserve the soundness of our agricultural economy today has as an important objective the preparation of American agriculture for the heavy demands to be placed upon it tomorrow. Thus, among the many important considerations involved, soil and water conservation efforts are vital in insuring future as well as present farm productivity. No one knows this better than the farmers themselves, for they are truly the "stewards of the soil."

This week was observed throughout the United States as "Soil Stewardship Week." Sponsored by the 3,000 local soil and water conservation districts, their national association, and cooperating church groups, the week's theme was "To Each Among Us A Share." Among inspirational material distributed by soil conservationists was this very meaningful paragraph:

By any standard of measurement, the land is big; but it is not endless. So it is with the companion resources—the water, grass and forests; the game, fish, and wildlife—which are influenced and supported by the land. Together they constitute a treasury of indispensable value, entrusted to us by God for our use and for which we must accept responsibility.

The evidence of Conservation activity is all around us in the Panhandle. All of us on the plains are conscious of the essential value of soil and water conservation work, and great progress has been made. Some of the most interesting and challenging work I perform in the Congress comes in connection with my duties as chairman of the Subcommittee on Irrigation and Reclamation of the House Committee on the Interior. This week our subcommittee held hearings for four days on several reclamation proposals being advanced as part of the nationwide effort to protect, conserve, and enhance our vital resources of land and water. This work and many other similar efforts on the local, State, and Federal levels—as well as on the land itself by the men who farm it—all are aimed at one objective: To maintain America's bountiful ability to provide.

Mrs. J. E. Roper and Mrs. Kate Parks left Monday for Tupelo, Miss., where they will visit with Mrs. Roper's relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Spear of Long Beach, Calif., visited here last week with Mrs. W. M. Cofer and other relatives.

FHA DELEGATES—Miss Gayle Widener, left, and Miss Linda Snider attended the State FHA meeting in Austin last week, as delegates from the local chapter. Accompanying the girls to Austin was Mrs. Gloria Wilson, homemaking teacher.

Hall County Soil Conservation District News

Deferred grazing is a means of allowing Mother Nature to improve the vegetation on your rangeland. Deferred grazing is carried out by removing all of the stock from a pasture during all or part of the year. For maximum results, deferral should be done during the growing season.

Grasses need a rest to regain their vigor and growth and to make a seed crop. Grass that is kept grazed too close will gradually weaken and die out. Approximately 90 percent of the food for plant growth is manufactured in the leaves. Raw plant foods or materials, water and nutrients, are taken in through the roots, then transported through the stems to the leaves, where with the aid of sunlight and air, food is manufactured for the life and growth of the plant where it is utilized for growth. So, you can see when there are too few leaves on a plant, little growth can be expected.

Deferring a pasture should be done during the peak growth period of the grasses. Ninety to 120 days summer and early fall deferral allow grasses to make a good top growth and to make seed.

Areas that have been seeded to grass or have had brush controlled should be deferred for an entire growing season, thus allowing new seeding to become well established, and following brush control allowing the grass to recover from the competition of the brush.

Further information on the best periods of deferral for your particular type of pasture can be obtained from the local Soil Conservation Service personnel assisting the Hall County Soil Conservation District.

Mrs. Tim Paulsel of Fort Worth visited here with her mother, Mrs. L. M. Thornton, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week.

Edd Drake Dies At Bonham Home

Those attending the funeral of Edd Drake in Bonham last week were Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Miller and Mike of Lakeview and Mrs. J. A. Stanford and Rosa. Mr. Drake lived near Lakeview for many years. For the past 14 years, he had lived in Denison and Bonham. He was buried in Cherry Mound Cemetery at Bonham.

their deep sorrow over the loss of our beloved President Kennedy who gave his life in service to his people."

Mule Train To Stop Here Wed.

The Rolling Plains Mule Train Wagon Run will stop here Wednesday night, May 20, and will bed down in the City Park here by circling their 30 wagons and tying their prize winning mules to a rope fence.

The train invites those interested to join them in their evening and breakfast meals, Chamber of Commerce Manager Clifford Farmer said. The Chamber has tickets for both meals. The evening meal ticket sells for $1.50 and the breakfast at $1.25, he said.

Several horsemen from this area are planning to meet the train between Memphis and Hedley on Highway 287 and escort it to the City Park, Manager Farmer said.

State Approves

partment under legislation authorizing a yearly budget for new FM construction.

The Farm to Market Road grid in Texas now stands at 37,163 miles of designated roads. "Designated" includes both roads already built and those financed to be built in the near future.

With addition of new FM miles authorized by the Highway Commission, the Texas highway network exceeds 65,000 miles for the first time. New total for highways of all types in Texas: 65,798.

Of this designated mileage, 3,031 miles represent Interstate Highways and 25,604 miles are U. S. and State-numbered highways of the "Primary" system. The remaining mileage is Farm to Market Roads.

Of the new farm roads to be added to the Texas highway system under the 1964 program announced today, 69 per cent are school bus routes and 67 per cent are mail routes. The remaining per cent are generally new routes that when improved will also be utilized as school bus and mail routes.

Today's sprawling Farm to Market Road system in Texas traces its genesis to a 6-mile stretch built in 1936 between the communities of Mount Enterprise and Shiloh in Rusk County. From this first Farm to Market road the Texas Highway Department has been pointing toward an ultimate system of 50,000 miles of such roads. Bibb's expansion of the system has occurred since 1949.

Growers will decide which allotment they wish to use and plant on the basis of that allotment. If the acreage is determined in excess of the chosen allotment, the producer will have a period during which he can adjust acreage. After the planted acreage is verified and found to be within the domestic allotment, the eligible producer will then file an application for the additional price support payment.

This proven yield provision has been liberalized, and all farmers who can prove their production for 1961, 1962, and 1963, will be given the yield that they produced. Appeals must be made to the committee within fifteen days, from the date of their notice.

People who are deliberately indifferent to their personal hygiene are as scarce as purple cows.

Nature has endowed most of us with an acute sense of pride about such things as daily bathing, brushing teeth, clean fingernails, good grooming. We would go to practically any length to avoid being offensive to anyone—customers, co-workers, or whoever.

And most of us resent even the slightest suggestion that there are times when our PH (personal hygiene) quotient slips a little.

Think about it for a moment: what in this competitive life is as important to the average man or woman as personal cleanliness? What contributes more to their being accepted and welcomed by others?

Fortunately a high PH quotient is easy to come by. Actually it is a habit, a way of life, and a very pleasant one. Here are its main ingredients:

Bathing: Daily bathing is as refreshing as it is healthful. Besides making you more agreeable to be around, you are less vulnerable to disease when you wash off the 24-hour accumulation of perspiration and soil. Most people find it practical to wash their hair at least once a week. One brand of soap isn't necessarily superior to others. The important thing is to use plenty of it.

Dental health: This is absolutely essential to a high level of personal hygiene, so see your dentist regularly. Don't be confused by television commercials about the therapeutic and cosmetic effects of certain tooth pastes or powders. The brushing is what counts.

Fingernails: Nothing is more fatal to attractiveness than dirty fingernails. By all means check yours every morning as part of your getting-ready-for-the-day ritual.

Handwashing: Frequent hand-washing, particularly after room visits, is another practical habit for cooks, waitresses, bers, beauty operators, etc.

These ingredients blend together to give you a PH quotient. Each is a habit in itself, worth acquiring. We owe our friends and co-workers more important, we owe to ourselves.

Early Greek literature little about the practical ques of manufacture, since citizens did not engage and non-citizens were contemporary literature.
