A Friendly Town!

Recently, we read a column written by Cleo Clements in the Lewisville Leader, concerning a subject that it behooves all of us to pay some attention. This is what a new comer to a community thinks about those who are already in residence.

Editor Clements said that recently, at a chamber of commerce banquet, he looked the crowd over for one of the segments of the town's population, and found them not in attendance.

He referred to the many comparatively new comers in their area who had approached him and said, in a complaining way, that Lewisville was a clannish and cold town. There is nothing that will get a Texan's blood pressure up more than to refer to him and his friends as cold and clannish, and Editor Clements was no exception.

But we feel that in the situation is a lesson to all of us, concerning life in our communities. Many times we are slow to meet new comers at church, or in our business life. Being creatures of habit, we fail to realize that most new comers are shy about attending public functions because they don't know anyone.

What happens? These new comers find other new comers to be their friends, and the first thing you know, they have their own clan going. This naturally leads to a clannish town, not because the old times make it that way, but because people with common interest will tend to stick together.

However, to get closer to home, Memphis has been fortunate the past two or three years, in the respect that many of the newcomers have taken an interest in our community affairs. They have attended churches, joined clubs and organizations such as P-TA, Jaycees, Lions, Rotary, women's clubs, etc., and have become leaders in our community. Now, after only a few months or years, Memphis is as much their town as it is the old established home of the first families. As the years pass, Memphis will contain fewer and fewer of its first settlers, because, even now, the influx of new residents has far outnumbered the few old established families.

Memphis has been able to avoid the slogan of being a clannish and cold community. To be closer to the truth, we have heard numerous visitors and new comers say that Memphis is a friendly place to live and visit. Let's keep it that way.

Are We Really Proud To Be Americans?

- We all claim we are proud to be Americans.
- But we turn around . . .
- Fail to take an active interest in the running of our government by not even voting.
- Fail to take advantage of the freedom of religion by not going to church.
- Fail to use our right of free speech by not voicing our opinions on important issues.
- Fail to appropriately honor those who have died throughout the years protecting our claim to freedom.
- Fail to teach our children that pride in our flag and country is of vital importance.
- Fail to abide by God's law of conduct and almost completely ignore the many laws of man.
- Fail to maintain a family unit which is so vital to any way of life.
- Fail to participate in many of the projects which make our children grow into better men and women.
- Fail to fully support our schools so that our future generations can be better educated.
- Fail to be tolerant of the other fellows beliefs, religion, race or color.
- Fail to assume the responsibility of leadership in our churches, communities, state and nation.
- Fail to honor our ancestors who have made this country the great nation it is.
- Fail utterly to follow through on our claim that . . .
- We are PROUD to be Americans.

Building Upon Knowledge

We sat in on a meeting of the General Telephone Company last week in Garland and heard one fellow, J. D. Williams, make a speech giving company people a look into the future of communications.

He pointed out that mankind is progressing in the scientific realm at the fastest rate in history and this is not surprising because man is building upon the knowledge accumulated through centuries.

It took millions of years for man to do much advancing beyond the stage where it took all his time and energy to hunt food and stay alive. Slowly he began to invent things, like the wheel.

One of the most significant inventions was the horse collar which allowed a horse to perform 16 times as much work as formerly, and releasing human labor for other things.

It was only when man could use other labor and free himself to think that progress began to speed up.

Development of the written word, where knowledge could not only be shared among men, but could be passed on from generation to generation, led to the rushing into the industrial age.

Modern man has not only adequate written knowledge, he has a big abundance. Scientists today take advantage of work done by other men and years of work can be compressed into a few pages of a book, read and absorbed in a short time, and new work started from this point.

The chief ingredients in what we know as the Industrial Revolution have been land, power or energy, metals, capital equipment, and intellect.

We are in what is called a Knowledge Revolution today, characterized by electronics and jets and space travel. But the shape of this country in many ways. Only 7 per cent of top business managers had a technical background 65 years ago, and now over 36 per cent are scientists or engineers.

Our geography is being changed as industries engaged in research are drawn to cities with colleges and universities. The $16 million Litton Industries plant went to Lubbock so as to be near Texas Tech and its educational facilities.

An individual of this age finds that a solid education has become a necessity of life. It will be increasingly true that even the highly trained, unless they keep their habit of learning and study-

The great educational and entertainment week for our citizens begins tomorrow morning with a great parade of the children who will march in a body to the big tent for the opening of the Chattanooga . . .

The Lachman-Lewis Carnival Co. has been here Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week running their shows on the south side of the square . . .

The water fight advertised by the fire boys was pulled off Monday to the amusement of the big crowd that gathered to see the contest by the two opposing teams from the fire department. Both teams stood up and "took water" for something like 15 minutes when the judges called it a draw neither side having gained any decided advantage over the other.

Acting upon the recommendaing new ideas, will find that their training has become obsolete.

Versatility is the key to future employment. The average six year old can be expected to change vocations at least three times during his lifetime, maybe more.

Looking into the future, man will travel farther and faster than ever before. His problems will be more complex and he will devise new tools and methods to solve them.

A 70-year-old man today has spanned more history than any other in history, living from the horse drawn age to the jet age. They say that children born today will span an even greater period of history. All that remains certain is that change is inevitable.

Gas Regulation at the Crossroads
I urged my colleagues in the House and Senate this week to take a fresh look at Government policies regulating the natural gas industry—the Nation's sixth largest and certainly a keystone industry in our Panhandle economy. I addressed myself to the matter because this week marked the tenth anniversary of a decision by the U. S. Supreme Court that in independent natural gas producers selling in interstate commerce are subject to the jurisdiction of the Federal Power Commission.

For ten years, the Federal Power Commission has engaged in experimental regulatory actions affecting the natural gas industry. The result has been confusion and uncertainty working to the detriment of the industry and to the consuming public.

Government, I reminded my colleagues in an address which appeared in the "Congressional Record," cannot play games with business and expect business to survive, to grow, to expand in the future. The situation involving regulation of the natural gas industry today is the condition which destroys public confidence in our governmental process. It grows at the very vitals of Government because it demonstrates monstrous inability to govern.

I believe it is essential that Congress take a fresh look at the role of regulation and its effect on the future of natural gas. We must create an effective, stable, sound policy which will serve the overwhelming public interest of adequate supplies at reasonable cost. It is time for new thinking and new action.

The "Festival of Gas" pavilion at the New York World's Fair is a dramatic example of research progress being made by the natural gas industry. The pavilion is heated, cooled, and electrically powered by a "total energy package." The gas industry is making it possible for large areas—industrial complexes, shopping centers, apartment houses, airports—to provide in one package all the energy needed for heating, cooling, and electricity. Scientists are now working on a "fuel cell" in which natural gas is employed in the chemical manufacture of electricity—and this research looks to a day when a householder with a "fuel cell" in his basement or garage, could provide from that single unit all his power requirements.

Both the electric and gas industries have become so vital to the American economy, and competitive with each other, that we must seriously question whether policies affecting their future development should be left to the regulatory handling of a single Government agency.

Natural gas is assuming increased importance in our daily lives and in our modern technology. Today, there are more than 25,000

Either the regulatory process must be divided to reflect today's realities, or Congress must spell out in detail a modern concept for natural gas regulation which will acknowledge all factors and pierce the artificial dam of confusion which now exists. I believe the objective of modern regulatory policy can be achieved.

Pre-Nuptial Shower Fetes Miss Cook

The home of Mrs. Joe Montgomery on South 8th Street was the setting Saturday evening for a lovely pre-nuptial shower honoring Miss Drubette Cook, bride-elect of Davis Ray Howell of Breckenridge.

Delia Davis, Larry Combest Wed In Spearman

In an informal ceremony at 8 p. m. Friday, June 5, Miss Delia Kay Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Davis of Spearman, became the bride of Larry Combest, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Combest of Panhandle and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Cudd of Memphis. Rev. Charles Gates officiated.

Coy Palmer sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer". Mary Ellen Barkley was the organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a pink suit with matching accessories and a corsage of white flowers.

Mrs. Sam Wyson, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a dress of pink and white and a corsage of pink roses.

Best man was Larry Nunn of Panhandle, a former roommate of the bridegroom at WSTU.

Mrs. Davis, mother of the bride, wore a navy blue suit with white accessories and a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Combest chose a beige dress, with matching accessories and wore a pink carnation corsage.

A small reception for members of the families was held in the Davis home after the ceremony.

The couple will make their home at 1217 W. 10, Apt. 4, in Amarillo.

Guests, who called between the hours of 7:30 and 9 o'clock, were greeted by Mrs. Montgomery and presented to the receiving line composed of the bride, her mother, Mrs. Bray Cook, and Mrs. Ray Howell of Breckenridge, mother of the groom-to-be.

Miss Sarah Beth Montgomery presided at the bride's book to secure signatures of the guests.

In the dining room, the table was laid with a lovely white cut-work cloth and centered with an arrangement of white Shasta daisies, aqua and white stock and white feathered fern. Flanking the arrangement were lighted aqua tapers in silver candelabra.

Miss Carolyn Montgomery served punch from the silver service, assisted by Mrs. Guy Smith. Other table appointments were in silver and crystal.

A lovely array of gifts were on display in two rooms of the party suite.

Both students at Abilene Christian College, the couple will be married here on July 4 at the Church of Christ.

Hostesses for the courtesies, other than Mrs. Montgomery, included Mrs. Paul Montgomery, Mrs. Billy Thompson, Mrs. John Deaver, Mrs. Ralph Williams, Mrs. Herschel Combs, Mrs. Herb Curry, Mrs. Guy Smith, Mrs. Bill George Kesterson, Mrs. W. H. Goodnight, Jr., Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard, Mrs. Dick Spoon, Mrs. B. M. Durrett, and Mrs. Robert Sanders.

Flashbulb Fishing Corks
These days most fishermen carry a camera and flashgun with them on fishing trips. When you snap flash pictures don't throw away the used bulbs. They make great fishing corks.

No matter whether you use M5's, Press 25's or the little M2's, the bulbs are easily attached to the line by the grooves. With the little M2's three or four split used as sinkers are ideal. Use more sinkers with the larger bulbs.

Methodist WSCS Meets For Study Monday Afternoon

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met Monday, June 15, at 3 p. m. in the Methodist Church Annex for a student and youth program led by Mrs. Lee Brown.

Lynn Foxhall and Toby Crooks gave an informal and enthusiastic report on their recent trip to Ceta Canyon for the MYF Officers Training Camp. Toby explained the MYF symbol of crosses and a circle. He was especially interested in what he learned about what Methodists believe, concluding that it is a balanced and vital religion. Lynn discussed the Training Camp program, stating that the studies and meditations were full of depth and meaning for all. Lynn and Toby want to build up their own MYF with methods they learned at the training camp.

Randy Driver gave an informative talk on Crusade Scholars, "Dedicated to the Future". He said they fall into three categories: those who come from overseas to study in the United States; foreign students studying in the other countries; and persons from the United States who study here. A teacher in a Methodist girls' school in India explains her motive for study as a Crusade Scholar which is fitting for all of them: "I wish to be more qualified in order to serve my church and country in a better way."

Ginger Greene discussed in an interesting manner, "U. S.—2's Heed the Summons." These young Americans dedicate themselves to two years in the service of Christ anywhere in the United States. They are challenged to "go forth" as teachers, nurses, church and community workers, and even as architects and accountants.

Mrs. Brown concluded the program with prayer.
Mrs. Ed Hutcherson, the hostess, served delicious refreshments to the above mentioned and Mmes. J. W. Oliver, M. G. Tarver, Myrtis Phelan, W. J. McMaster, J. J. McDaniel, and F. W. Foxhall.

Kay Lemons Is Shower Honoree

Miss Kay Lemons, bride-elect of Gale Justus, was honored with a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Bill Johnson Friday evening, May 29.

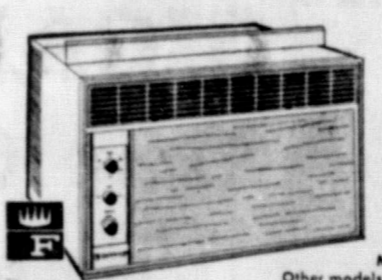

The receiving rooms were beautifully decorated in the bride's chosen colors of white and peach. The refreshment table was laid with a cut-work cloth of white over peach satin and centered with a beautiful arrangement of talisman roses and lighted candles.

This is vacation time . . . and hard to keep up with who is going and coming. Each summer we work hard to report vacations of our visitors to Memphis, but we don't get out later than we miss a few. When you take a vacation, we'd appreciate it if you would pick up the telephone and dial 259-2441 to give us the details. If I am in the office, Peggy Ashford, my assistant, will be glad to take the details.

The big news at our house: arrival of our sixth grandchild, Earl Allen, son of Billy and Taney Combs, on Tuesday. At the time we welcomed Bret into the family, we welcome Lester Grimes into the "Grandparents' Club." Bret is their first grandchild. There is one statement on which all grandparents are in agreement, and that is: there's nothing quite so nice as being a grandparent. One is served with love and affection and most any of the responsibilities go along with parenthood!

speaking of vacation, will be a reunion for six sisters in California next week. Neva and Joe Dick Young, along with their two sisters from Tampa, left today to visit two more sisters in California. It's quite often that four sisters have the opportunity for a vacation.

A wonderful vacation is in store for John Lemons, who flew to Washington, D. C., where he will meet his sister and husband, Lt. and Mrs. James L. True. They will go from there to Philadelphia, on to New York for the World's Fair, visit Lt. and Mike Palfrey (the former John Lemons) in Battle Creek, Mich. At the end of the vacation the Trues will accompany home. Lt. True, who is in the U. S. Air Force, has a six-month leave to finish work toward a degree at McMurry College, where he will enroll in July.

Maudie Whitley has returned after accompanying her husband, E. L. Pritchard, and family to California. They visited all the usual tourist attractions to be found in that state, route home, true to form, in Las Vegas. All in all, it was a wonderful vacation.

WEDNESDAY'S WRECK—Pictured above is the Carl Fisher car which was involved in the one-car mishap Wednesday morning two miles north of Memphis on Highway 287. Mrs. Jewell Fisher died in the wreck and her husband is in St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo in critical condition. The couple's home is listed as 1021 5th Ave., Ft. Worth.

Maudie said . . . just too short.

Another vacationer, Mrs. N. A. Hightower, has returned home after a tour with relatives. Mrs. Hightower, too, had a wonderful trip visiting Tennessee, Kentucky, Arkansas and Illinois.

Many people are enjoying the fine facilities of the new county hospital, which at times is completely filled. We are fortunate to have such a modern hospital in Memphis and one so well staffed with qualified, courteous personnel who are interested in the comfort and welfare of their patients.

The grounds at the hospital are taking shape. A new parking lot is being added to the north of the building and a sidewalk leading from that area to the front walk was laid Wednesday. Grass has been sprigged and will soon begin to spread. We understand the Memphis Garden Club will sponsor a drive to beautify the grounds with shrubbery, roses, etc.

We noticed a local florist is offering roses for half price to be planted on the hospital grounds. I don't believe the advertisement said half-price. It's one of those packages where you buy a plan and get another free. More and more folks here are growing roses. We were amazed at the beauty of the yards down on the south end of Fifth Street earlier in the summer . . . and only last week we notice the roses were in bloom again.

Well-kept yards, neatly painted homes, and good yard fences mark a thriving, industrious town. At least that's the way Herschel and I judge a town when we travel. Oftentimes we become so accustomed to our surrounding that we are blind and simply overlook the little repairs that could be done without much expense. Now, with new homes being built, citizens have a comparison to make, and we have noticed many older homes are being painted and remodeled as well. Yes, Memphis is on the march in many ways. Let's continue to grow and improve.

Sisters are nice . . . so thinks Gladys Montgomery, who is enjoying a vacation in Mexico as a guest of her sister, Mrs. Bill

Greene of Clarendon. It all happened this way. Mrs. Greene won a vacation trip for two in the colorful land of Mexico . . . and since it was impossible for her husband to leave at this time she took along sister Gladys. Nice arrangement, we'd say and know the two are having fun. They are traveling with a guided tourist group.

REA Payments On Loans Pass $2 Billion

Electric systems financed by the Rural Electrification Administration have passed the $2 billion mark in principal and interest payments to the Government on their loans, the U. S. Department of Agriculture announced today.

The payments include $234,280,766 in principal paid in advance of due dates and $647,229,203 paid in interest. Payments made on principal as due amount to $1,122,631,324.

REA Administrator Norman M. Clapp said, "REA's 1,000 electric borrowers are making an outstanding repayment record, despite handicaps under which they must operate their rural systems." He listed these handicaps as low consumer density, low revenue per mile of line, lack of large and diverse loads, and isolation from sources of low cost power. "Despite these obstacles, REA-financed electric systems have brought modern electric service to more than 5.2 million rural consumers. But these consumers still pay substantially more for service than do urban people. While the Government's investment in rural electrification is paying off handsomely," Mr. Clapp continued, "there remains much yet to be done before rural consumers will have electric service comparable in price with that available in urban areas."

REA, now beginning its 30th years, has approved loans totaling $5.2 billion to electric borrowers in 46 states, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. Of this amount, $4.4 billion has been advanced to borrowers for investment in electric distribution, generation and transmission facilities.

CRAFTS CLASS—Shown above are several patients at Cousins Home who are enjoying the Crafts Class being taught by Mrs. O. R. Goodall. On display are several items made by the class including decorated jewelry boxes, waste paper baskets, ash trays, and pots for potted plants. The class is in need of decorator items including old jewelry, pretty buttons, shells, artificial flowers, etc. Persons who have such items may take them to Cousins Home.

Cousins Home Patients Enjoy Course In Crafts

Cousins Home is a busy place these days. All special days are observed in one way or another. Mrs. Mildred Stephens, co-owner of the home, stated this week. A new project for the home is a course in crafts under the direction of Mrs. O. R. Goodall, Mrs. Stephens stated.

Goodall, the patients have trimmed flower pots, made beautiful jewelry boxes, ash trays and waste paper baskets. "For trims, old buttons, beads, ear screws, odd bits of wool or yarn can be used," Mrs. Goodall said. "Artificial flowers and shell macaroni can also be used," she added.

"Working with patients at Cousins Home is interesting and rewarding. They eagerly await each new project," Mrs. Goodall added. Mrs. Goodall said donations of old jewelry, pretty buttons or any other items that can be used in a decorative way will be appreciated. Donations have already been made by Baldwins, The Fair Store, The Truth Seekers Class of the First Methodist Church, Diggs Pharmacy, Fowler Drug, Parsons-Lockhart Pharmacy and many individuals.

ver, lavender, black, yellow, pale green and pale blue. Some are decorated before spraying while others are sprayed and then decorated. Waste baskets are made from large ice cream cartons. "It takes a tremendous amount of glue and spray paint," Mrs. Goodall said, "and contributions of these items would be greatly appreciated."

Birthdays at the home are always observed. Celebrating birthdays since the first of the year are: January, Mrs. Elizabeth Hastings; February, Mrs. H. A. McCanne and Mrs. Virgil Bevers; March, Mrs. W. D. Orr and B. M. Durrett; April, Mrs. Laura Lowe and Thomas T. Loard; June, Mrs. McCanne and Mrs. C. T. Jarvis.

On Valentine Day, the Delphian Club brought a beautifully decorated Valentine box for an old fashioned Valentine Party with many Valentines for each patient. A heart-shaped cake was given to the patients.

Every Sunday evening, members of the Travis Baptist Church come to sing hymns, to read the Bible and offer prayer. The patients often join in.

Members of the Church of Christ bring communion to members who are here and distribute bulletins for each service.

At Easter time, the Pathfinders Council brought a beautiful Easter program. For dessert for the evening meal, they presented the patients with a beautiful Easter Bonnet cake. For favors at noon on Easter Sunday, each one received a lovely decorated Easter egg.

On Mother's Day, all mothers received an orchid and dainty napkins depicting kitchen gadgets, aprons, etc., added to the festivity of the day.

The Mystic Weavers Club brought a half-bushel basket trimmed very prettily with green and yellow crepe paper filled over flowingly with fruit, candy and cookies. The patient unpacked it and exclaimed their appreciation over each new find.

Visitation is desired and encouraged but we request that you do not visit during meal time.

The Hall County Soil Conservation District Board is composed of five farmer and rancher supervisors. They are: Lee Scrivner, Turkey; Wayne Hutcherson, Memphis; Bill Bradley, Newlin; Kenneth Ellis, Kirkland; and Ernest Ham, Carey. Remember, the conservation way of farming means fitting man's way of doing it into nature's way, which in the long run, will prove the most profitable way.

We would like to express our thanks to all our friends and neighbors for all they did at the time we lost our baby. All the flowers at the funeral and those sent to the hospital were so beautiful. All the food was deeply appreciated.

We also thank Bro. Nixon and Bro. Griffin for the comforting words at the funeral service.

Your expressions of sympathy will always be remembered.

LET'S GO! . . . to a hidden world in General Telephone Country

Carlsbad Caverns National Park

Renowned throughout the Nation, Carlsbad Caverns is proclaimed by millions to be the world's first natural wonder. Created through countless centuries by giant earth upheavals and water erosion, the Caverns have rooms as big as 14 football fields and ceilings as high as a 22-story building. Several tours are offered visitors. There is even elevator service, to a lunchroom deep in the heart of the cave. Overnight accommodations in hotels, motels and trailer courts are nearby. Shops, restaurant, nursery and kennels are at the service of visitors. Situated in Southwestern New Mexico, open the year 'round, Carlsbad Caverns is readily accessible by major highways from any point. It is an underground fairyland — one of the truly great places to go and things to see in General Telephone Country.
