Hail, Rain, Sand Damage Young Cotton Sat., Sun.

Hail and hard rain lashed Hall County Saturday night, June 20, destroying cotton fields in the Plaska, Lakeview and Lesley areas. Then Sunday night, high winds whipped up large amounts of sand causing damage to those fields lightly hit or missed by the hail. The total damage was estimated at approximately 95 per cent of the crops in these three areas.

Other parts of the county suffered from light to moderately heavy damage, according to reports received in Memphis the past three days. A survey Thursday morning in areas west of Memphis showed that farmers had replanted approximately 90 per cent of the hailed out, blown out and washed our fields. Carroll Fowler, who farms southwest of Lesley, stated that the hail wiped out the northeast part of his place, then swept on east through Lakeview and toward Plaska. He added that the high winds and blowing sand added to destruction in the same area, and was especially harmful in the Deep Lake area. He reported that about 90 per cent of the land had been replanted by noon today.

The rains accompanying the hail were especially heavy in the Plaska area where amounts up to three inches were reported. A. C. Sams, who lives west of Plaska, reported that the heavy hail damage started at Oaks Creek east of his place, and destroyed crops to Indian Creek. Rain was up to three inches in the area and flood waters did damage to farmland which did not receive hail. Destruction became complete in his area when the sand finished growing crops. He said that 80 per cent had been replanted by Thursday, with many farmers finishing up.

The Estelline area missed the hail damage Saturday, however, the blowing sand burned some areas, especially east of Newlin and west of Estelline. A few farmers replanted in these areas. Reports from the Turkey areas indicated that the crops were not

DeVille Swimming Pool Opens... Owners Dunked

The swimming pool at the DeVille Motel was unofficially "opened for business" Monday afternoon at 6 p. m.—with emphatic protests from the three owners.

It came about when several workmen, who had completed their chores for the day, realized that Homer Tucker, Bill Cosby and J. W. Coppedge, were all present. The men had been working under pressure for the past few weeks to complete the motel and restaurant. They decided the proper way to "open the pool" was to throw the owners into it—clothing, shoes and all. It did.

Each was confronted with request that he remove his bill-fold, watch and glasses. Arguments were heard but not respected. Then each of the three men were lifted bodily and thrown into the water.

Fowler Pool To Hold Red Cross Swimming Lessons

A Red Cross Beginner's Swimming Class will begin at the Fowler Swimming Pool on June 29th and continue through July 3, Dople Fowler, owner announced this week.

The class will be held one hour each morning, beginning at 9 o'clock and there is no admission charge of any kind. The class is for beginners only and those who can already swim are not eligible to attend.

No age limit is specified and any child who can follow instruction is eligible to attend, Mr. Fowler stated. Fowler, who will teach the course, is a qualified Red Cross Water Safety Instructor and is also Red Cross Water Safety chairman for this county.

County Court Hears Three Jury Trials

Three liquor cases were tried in County Court Monday, June 15, resulting in fines and one jail sentence.

O. D. Mathews, a Negro, was found not guilty on one charge; however, he was found guilty in the second case and fined $500 and court costs and sentenced to six months in jail. The six-man jury found him guilty of selling beer in a dry area.

In the third case tried, the jury found John Williams, a Negro, guilty and assessed a fine of $500 and court cost.

County Judge E. "Gip" McMurry presided over the three trials.

Indians Win First Half LL Play-Off

The Little League Indians Tuesday night dusted away the first half play with an 11 to 7 win over the Tigers, sweeping the title with an eight win, one loss record.

Taking second place were the Giants with a six win, three loss record. The third place Tigers supported a three win, six loss record and the Yankees had a one win, eight loss record.

In Tuesday's action, the winning pitcher for the Indians was Greenway, who was relieved four innings by Godfrey. The losing pitcher was Van Pelt. The Indians had five hits and the Tigers four hits.

The Giants rolled to a 17 to 7 victory over the Yankees Tuesday night. The winning pitcher was Smith and the losing pitcher was McElreath. The Giants had seven hits to the Yankees' six hits.

Last Friday night, the Giants defeated the Tigers 11 to 6, with both teams having five hits each during the game. The winning pitcher was Moss and the losing pitcher was Wansley.

In the other game, the Indians defeated the Yankees by a one-sided score of 20 to 3. The winning pitcher for the Indians was Richards and the losing pitcher was Ariola.

Tomorrow night, the second half of the Little League play-off gets underway. If the Indians win the second half, then they are the season's winning team. However, if another team wins the second half, a play-off will decide the winning team, Coordinator Milton

Miller said. Managers for the Indians are Tony Monzingo and Jerry Beasley.

Eight Boys From Hall County To Attend Salvation Army's Camp Hoblitzelle

More than 800 young boys, under the sponsorship of 266 Salvation Army Service Units operating in Texas cities and communities, will attend a full week of outdoor activities at the Salvation Army's Camp Hoblitzelle near Dallas.

During the thirteen week-long sessions this summer, approximately 2600 campers will enjoy the facilities of Camp Hoblitzelle.

Joe B. Browning, camp chairman for Memphis, has selected five boys from Memphis, one from Estelline and two from Turkey to attend the camp.

Attending from here will be Bobby Patterson, William Brown, Wyley Brundage, Jack and Jerry Murray, all of Memphis; Cecil Ubanks of Estelline and Buddy Thrasher and Clarence Gattlin of Turkey.

The boys will go to camp by private car driven by Mr. Browning.

Located on a rolling, heavily wooded tract of 340 acres, Camp Hoblitzelle is seven miles south of Midlothian, eight miles west of Waxahachie and within an hour's drive of Dallas. The camp features a large lake for water skiing, fishing and boating; a swimming pool; a gymnasium, and well-equipped playgrounds and recreation areas. Organized sports and activities are under the supervision of experienced coaches and counselors.

While at camp, the youngsters will be housed in attractive brick and redwood cabins. Expert cooks and kitchen personnel will prepare balanced, nutritious meals, designed for the needs of growing youngsters, which will be served in the camp's own dining room.

Camp Hoblitzelle has been made possible through the generous gifts of more than one hundred men and women of Texas. Their gifts provided money for the purchase of the land, buildings and improvements on the property. The Salvation Army operates the camp for the benefit of youth who, without the help of the Salvation Army would not have the opportunity to enjoy camp life.

Reserve Seat Tickets On Sale For "Music Man"

Reserve seat tickets went on sale this week for "The Music Man," a musical production to be presented July 16 and 17 by the Theatrical Society and Memphis Cyclone Band at the Community Center.

Reserve seat tickets are $1.50 and may be secured by calling Bill Bradley or Mrs. Roy Guthrie, directors. They are being assisted in directing by Kerry Moore, speech teacher in the Muleshoe Public Schools.

A Broadway play, "The Music Man" is one of the best musical comedies of our time, Mr. Bradley stated.

Students of both organizations are working hard in rehearsals and this promises to be one, if not the best, productions ever presented by the Memphis students the directors stated.

Last winter, the two groups working together turned out a delightful performance of "The Wizard of Oz," which received much favorable comment from those who saw the production.

Those who do not wish to buy reserve seat tickets may purchase value or at the door. General admission is $1.00 for adults; 75 cents for students over 12 and 50 cents for students under 12 years of age.

Formal Opening Set For July 11

The new De Ville Motel, located on Highway 287 north, will open for business Saturday afternoon, June 27. The announcement was made late Wednesday by the owners, Homer Tucker, O. M. (Bill) Cosby, Jr., and J. W. Coppedge.

At the same time, they announced that date of the Formal Opening will be Saturday, July 11. "Although final polishing up and checking of equipment will not be complete for several days, we will be able to start accepting guests Saturday afternoon," the owners stated.

Crews of different sub-contractors have been busy for several days to meet the Saturday afternoon deadline.

Restaurant Opens

The De Ville Restaurant opened for business last Tuesday, under the management of Will Hall. The owners announced that the restaurant has been leased to Gene Miller (Amarillo). Will Hall has been retained as manager, and announced Wednesday that 11 persons are now on the payroll at the restaurant.

The new restaurant proper has a seating capacity for 72 persons. Adjoining it is the De Ville Steak Room, which has 36 seats at four-some tables. The Steak Room can accommodate private parties and meetings which include up to 60 people, it was announced.

"We are glad that Mr. Miller has leased the restaurant, and believe that it will prove an additional asset to our community," the owners stated.

Miller presently operates the Top of Village restaurant, located at Wolfkin Village in Amarillo; also the Farrell Manor Motel and Restaurant on Highway 66 in Amarillo. Miller is a former president of the Texas Restaurant Association. He was recognized as "Outstanding Restaurateur of Panhandle" in 1961.

Manager Hall is a graduate of the University of Alabama, and worked in hotels and motels while attending college. He served as assistant manager of the Coronado Inn Motel and Restaurant at Pampa from February, 1963, until he accepted the position here. He and his wife, Pelina Inez, and their four-month-old son, Stephen Craig reside at Sanders

Ordnance Team Teaches 8-Hour Class This Week

Personnel of the Memphis Volunteer Fire Dept. and the Hall County's Sheriff's Office attended an eight-hour, two-day explosive ordnance reconnaissance class here Monday and Tuesday nights, taught by U. S. Army instructors from Ft. Sill, Okla.

Approximately 20 firemen and law enforcement officers attended the classes held in the Municipal Building. Kenneth Dale, fire chief, stated that it was emphasized during the class that souvenir shells, grenades, etc., taken during WW I, WW II, or the Korean Conflict, are very dangerous unless they have been disarmed.

He said that the instructors pointed out that many times they find live explosives being placed on display in museums or private collections of souvenirs because the souvenirs had not been disarmed.

If residents in this area have souvenir ordnance items in their homes they are asked by Fire Chief Dale to bring them to the Fire Department and tags will be returned in a safe condition.

"We will contact the ordnance demolition squad at Ft. Sill, Okla., to inspect all souvenir items turned in to us," Chief Dale said.

Fire Truck Chasers—A Problem!

Every few years, a problem develops during the heavy fire fighting period, which poses undue hardships on those dedicated volunteers of the Memphis Fire Department. Usually, a little publicity brings about a solution, but sometimes more drastic action must be taken.

We are referring to those individuals who let their curiosity get the best of them when they hear the fire siren summons the Memphis Volunteer firemen to the scene of a blaze and hop into their cars, arriving on the scene just about the time the firemen do.

Memphis Mayor H. J. Howell and several firemen have stated that recently, the problem of onlookers and curiosity seekers at the scene of fires has gotten completely out of hand. This is a situation which must be corrected immediately, before serious consequences result in injuries or heavy property damage.

What are the dangers? First of all, firemen arriving on the scene must park their automobiles or pickups sometimes as much as three blocks from the location of the fire because of the traffic congestion.

Secondly, many times fire hoses and other pieces of equipment must be left in the street during the course of fighting a fire, and those driving automobiles who come looking for the fire drive right over them, and anything else in the way, while they are looking to the right, rear, or left—looking for action.

Thirdly, sometimes firemen have to move their equipment from one street to another because the fire spreads due to flying sparks, and streets lined with parked, vacant vehicles make this job impossible.

In past years, for a fourth reason, firemen here recall that sometimes they have almost been run down by wild eyed drivers not paying any attention to where they are going.

If citizens don't stop chasing after fire trucks, the City of Memphis has only one alternative—start handing out tickets to every unauthorized vehicle in the area. Can the City Police do that? The answer is yes. The City of Memphis has an ordinance against chasing or following fire trucks to the scene of fires.

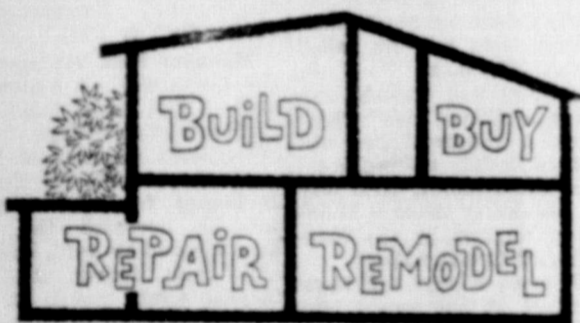

This newspaper has long believed that the work of the Memphis Volunteer firemen is one of the most important for all, to the safety of our health and property. Without a fire department and good firemen to man it, any minor grass fire or trash fire could spread into a major disaster.

Also, the tax strain on the city taxpayers would be far heavier than it is now if the city had to turn the fire department into a professional organization instead of a volunteer one.

It goes without saying, however, sometimes it must be said, that every time the fire siren blows, the volunteers put their lives in danger and often take many hours off their jobs to extinguish a fire in the Memphis area.

It is a simple matter for citizens who have no reason for attending the fires to stay away until after the fire department has done its work and left. Then, those unfortunate victims would not mind a little help in trying to salvage what is left.

What Other Editors Say

Newspaper Success!

The publisher of a country newspaper retired with a fortune, it is said. When asked the secret of his success, he replied:

"I attribute my ability to retire with a $500,000 bank balance after 30 years in the newspaper business, to close application to duty, pursuing a policy of strict honesty, always practicing rigorous rules of economy, and to the recent death of my uncle, who left me $498,500."—Charles Didway, The Post Dispatch.

Consider Your Share

In the great society of mankind, each of us has a God-given purpose for being. In our time each among us fulfills a mission in the long progression toward the ultimate design of our Maker. To each among us, God has assigned a share in the expanding brotherhood of stewards. It is a membership of service, dedicated to the husbandry of lands and waters, forests and ranges, and the fish and game He has placed at our disposal.

Consider your share—

It is your acceptance of responsibility to do your part in a task too large and too vital for the few.

It is part of your contribution toward a world of freedom and plenty, in which the nobility of human dignity can be established in accordance with God's purpose.

It is your commitment to participate personally in meeting the problems of a demanding society—a society in which multiplying combinations of people and their works are compounding the pressures on our resources.

It is the expression of your faith that the continuing work of stewardship is meaningful and right.

You have been endowed with talents which in their development and expression are uniquely yours. Will you use them forthrightly as a steward?

It is your awareness of beauty in the world we live in—and your decision to nourish it.

It is your obligation to work with your fellowmen to provide the strength, through cooperation, which makes great achievement possible.

It is your recognition of the need to couple wisdom with vision, and capability with aspiration, in charting the avenues of your effort.

And your share includes, too, the hopes and prospects which penetrate the great tomorrow. You have the opportunity, rich beyond all measure, to share in enlarging the horizons of man to areas new, wonderful, and infinitely rewarding.

Consider your share. Consider it well!—Sealy News.

Keep Grasshoppers On Ice

Here's a new wrinkle that very few fishermen have tried.

Live bait anglers, who use grasshoppers as bait, should store the critters in a refrigerator overnight so they will be stiff. This makes them easy to stick on the hook.

A few minutes' exposure to the sun, or warm fishing waters, will bring the hoppers back to active life.

main diet of the sparrow hawk is grasshoppers. Frogs are able to sing under water because they normally sing with their mouths and nostrils closed. Except for vultures and parrots, wild geese live longer than any other birds. Authentic records give them as much as 70 years. The bald eagle was adopted as our national emblem by Congress on June 20, 1782. The weird, mournful cry of the loon has given rise to the phrase "crazy as a loon." But the bird is far from crazy. Deer, elk and moose have no gall bladders. The carp, a native of Asia, was introduced in the United States in 1872. Birds have the highest body temperature of all creatures—104 to 110 degrees Fahrenheit. A snake's teeth are pointed backward to prevent escape of animals captured for food. It is quite doubtful that camels, as many suppose, can go without water for a week without great discomfort or physical danger. Two or three days is believed to be the limit. The wild goose has about 12,000 muscles—10,000 of which control the action of its feathers. The ant has two stomachs. One he uses for himself. In the other, he stores food which is to be shared with other ants in the nest. Snakes and fish have ears but these ears have no outside openings. They "hear" mostly through vibrations in the ground or water.

SBA Announces New Liberalized Loan Program

The very small businessmen—chiefly operators of retail shops or service establishments—many of whom have had a hard time obtaining financing in the past—will now find it much easier to qualify for a Government loan. Jack Teddlie, Lubbock Branch Manager of the Small Business Administration, said today.

The new, liberalized loan program was announced by President Johnson at White House ceremonies in Washington, May 26, which Mr. Teddlie attended, along with SBA Administrator Eugene P. Foley, Cortland J. Silver, Chairman of SBA's National Advisory Council, and other businessmen and Government officials. The White House ceremonies, in connection with National Small Business Week, were the climax of a trip to Washington by Mr. Teddlie along with other SBA regional directors and branch managers to review the Agency's activities. "President Johnson's liberalization is very definite," Teddlie said. "He assured us that he has small businessmen very much in mind every day and his interest was clearly demonstrated by his willingness to take time out from a very busy schedule personally to greet the SBA representatives."

The SBA's new small loan program reflects a new emphasis on helping the very small businesses, Teddlie said. SBA Administrator Foley has frequently expressed the view that the Agency in the past has not done as much as should to help the businessmen at the low-end of the small business scale, he said. Yet they are often the businessmen most in need of financial help, and those who have the most difficulty in obtaining it. The new small loan program was designed to meet this need, Teddlie said. Under this program SBA will make loans to small firms up to a maximum of $15,000 or as long as 6 years under greatly liberalized terms. Primary emphasis will be on character of the applicant and his past record of meeting obligations, and no application will be turned away merely because he lacks collateral to pledge as security for the loan. "SBA believes that you have to take a chance on people," Teddlie said, "and we will take a calculated risk in cases where we believe the applicant has a favorable earnings potential sufficient to repay the loan. "We have simplified out procedures and requirements for these loans. We believe it is important to help the many thousands of struggling small firms, as a means of creating new jobs, and stimulating the Nation's economy."

It is clear," Teddlie said, "that the SBA will have an important role in President Johnson's war against poverty. More and more it is becoming apparent that a thriving small business community can do much toward taking up the slack in unemployment." He said that top SBA officials in Washington are also concerned with the large number of business mergers which may be a threat to small business and the problem of industrial conversion from defense to commercial production. Teddlie added that SBA officials are giving serious thought to the effects on small business in the future as the Government cuts back on defense production and the economy converts primarily to provide for civilian needs. It was but natural that "The Jersey Bounce" would be followed by the "Milk Cow Blues." It takes a woman longer to dress than a man because she has to slow down for the curves.

Miss Carolyn Hutcherson, sister of the bride-elect, presided at the register to secure signatures of the guests.

Motorists Urged To Drive Carefully On July 4th

While the drivers of Texas are making plans for 4th of July trips, the Texas Department of Public Safety is getting ready for "Operation Motorcade", a three day vigil of tabulating all traffic deaths in the State. Major Harry Hutchison, Regional Commander of this area for the D. P. S., reported today the State is approaching the mid-point in the year amid definite indications that traffic deaths will hit an all time high again in 1964.

"If we continue to take lives at the present rate, 1964 will become the most deadly year in Texas history for traffic fatalities," he said. "Motorcides" at this time are over 150 more than at the same time last year, and considering the trend of increased accidents and casualties, we have every reason to expect that traffic death will exceed the previous all time high in Texas of 2,729 in 1963.

"Only 271 more deaths in 1964 than in 1963 will make a total of 3,000 lives lost on our streets and highways in one year, an increase for the year of ten per cent over 1963." Deaths in traffic this year have consistently been in excess of 15 per cent over 1963, an indication that the 3,000 mark will be surpassed.

Hutchison said that "Operation Motorcade" will be placed in effect from 12:01 a. m. Friday, July 3, and continue through 11:59 p. m. Sunday, July 5, 1964. In order to focus attention upon the added dangers of holiday travel when traffic is at a peak and as an integral part of the operation, which calls for maximum enforcement, additional personnel from other uniformed services of the D. P. S. will augment the regular Highway Patrol force. These patrolmen have been instructed to be extra alert for and direct their enforcement efforts toward those violations that are most often caused factors in traffic accidents. In addition every effort will be made to remove drinking drivers from the highway.

"Since police traffic supervision cannot cover the entire street and highway system in the State every minute of the day, the big hope for safe driving and accident prevention rests with the individual motorist," Hutchison concluded.

Drug, Cosmetic Quackery Information Is Given By Food, Drug Administration

The older population of the United States has become the target of many health swindles. And one of the most expensive is the promotion of unusual foods and "food supplements" as cure-all for disease and to guarantee good health. It has been estimated that 10 million Americans waste half a billion dollars a year on this form of attempted self-medication.

If you're tempted to spend your money on such products it would be wise to remember this—according to leading nutritionists there is no substitute for a well-balanced diet as a basis for good health. Pills cannot take the place of food.

It's true that at certain age levels and under certain conditions infants, youngsters, and some adults may need extra vitamins and minerals. But the only safe, sure, economical way to know whether you need them, and what to take, is to see your doctor. If you do need them, most vitamins can be bought at reasonable prices without a prescription.

Of course, there are many recognized dietary foods for people suffering from certain diseases. These include low sodium and salt-free foods for heart conditions and high blood pressure; and special foods for diabetics and for people with allergies. These legitimate products should not be confused with the many products promoted as dietary cure-alls and usually touted as "health foods."

As a matter of fact, the very term "health foods" is misleading. It implies that the products have special health-giving properties—when all they really contain are the very same nutrients that can be found in regular food products—which are much less expensive. For example:

1. Yogurt may be recommended for certain intestinal conditions, but nutritionally it is the same as milk, which costs much less.
2. The "minerals" in blackstrap molasses are mainly impurities that get in during the sugar refining process, and have no health importance.
3. Kelp tablets or sea salt are unnecessary. The iodine in them is adequately supplied by sea foods and iodized salt.
4. Wheat germ is a useful cereal food, but it does not perform any nutritional miracles.

As for older people, their nutritional needs are much like those of any other age group. With few exceptions, they do not have any special requirements for vitamins, minerals, proteins, etc., that cannot be supplied by inexpensive, everyday foods. These include vegetables, fruits, milk, eggs, meats, fish, and enriched bread and cereals.

Ward Motor Co. To Have Open House

Grand Opening of Ward Motor Company will be held Friday and Saturday, June 26 and 27, according to Dennis Ward and L. E. Ward, owners, who this week announced that the two days were being set aside by the local Chevrolet and Oldsmobile dealership to get better acquainted with the people of the Memphis area.

They purchased the dealership from Tommie M. Potts and Homer W. Tucker May 1. During the past seven weeks, they have completely remodeled and repainted the building, located on the corner of Main and 7th Streets. Also, they have remodeled the building formerly occupied by Jack Boone Service Station, immediately north of the post office, which will be headquarters for their used car sales. Also, lots adjoining this building have been paved, and new and used cars will be displayed.

The new owners have moved the firm's body shop to the 50-foot building, located at 705 Noel Street. All body work will be done at this location.

Dennis Ward announced that he was pleased with the reception which he had received since moving to Memphis. He issued an invitation to "everybody" to visit with him Friday and Saturday.

"We want everyone who can to come in and get acquainted," he said. "There will be free drinks—and surprise prizes will be given away during the two days."

In charge of the service department is J. H. Savage, who has 30 years' experience as a mechanic, and is factory-trained. He is being assisted by Clint Cleveland, who has five years experience, and has received factory training. Willie Williams is the janitor.

Dutch Wheeler is in charge of the body shop. He is being assisted by his brother, Buzz Wheeler.

Three salesmen are with the firm, in addition to Ward. They are Homer Bursleson, Morris Odum and Barry Ward. L. O. Dennis, long-time partsmen will continue with the new owner. Hester Bownds is the bookkeeper.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Ward reside at 1121 North 17th Street. They are the parents of five children: Barry age 23; Penny Lee, 15; Beeky, 14; Lynn, 9, and Julie, who is 2 years old. Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Ward live at Wellington.

TOO LATE TO CHANGE YOUR MIND

What if some glib salesman signs you up for an encyclopedia, or a set of pots and pans. Next day you change your mind. Can you cancel the order. Chances are you can't.

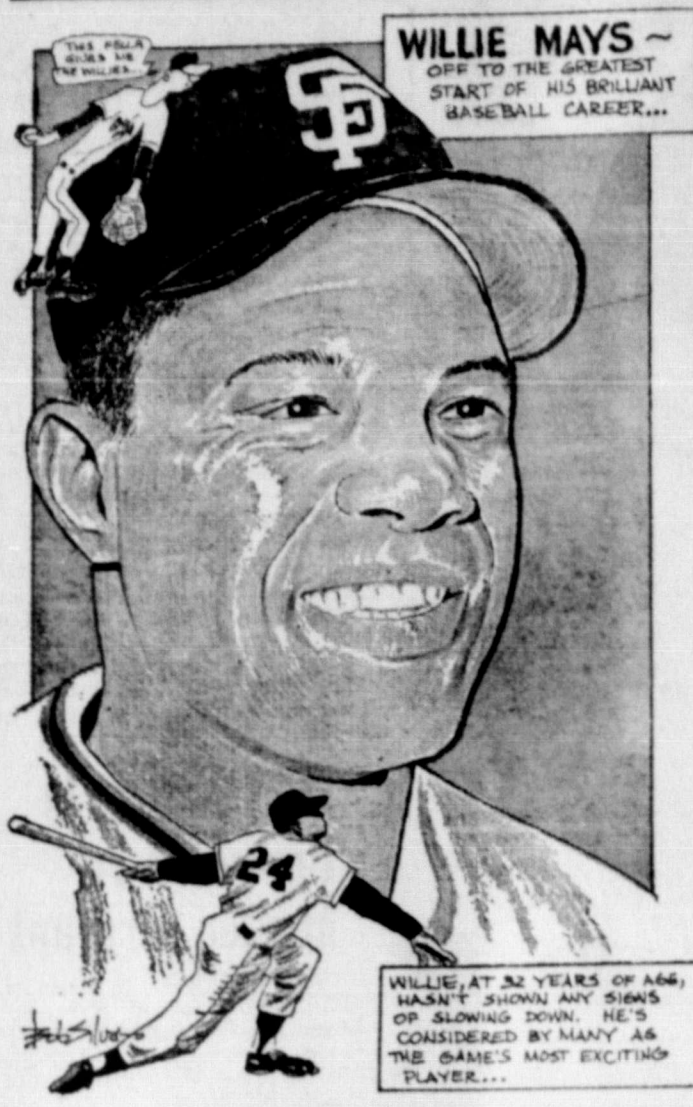

The typical pattern runs thus: the salesman fast-talks poor Joyce Jones into signing an order for a set of cooking ware, silver, or what-have-you. She pays a nominal amount down, the balance to be over a long term. The price is high enough, plus a big carrying charge, but the installments run for a long time and at first look reasonable. When the shipment arrives, Joyce decides she doesn't want it, and can't afford it anyhow, so she refuses to accept it and tells the company she is cancelling the order.

But poor Joyce is out of luck. The company promptly tells her that they "sold" her installment contract to a bank or financial institution, and she must now deal with them, not the company. The company thus got its sale price in full, the salesman his commission, and the new owner of the contract expects his money in full. Sorry, but it is too late to cancel the order. This is not at all like buying from a local store, where you can usually return the goods if they are unsatisfactory or if you change your mind. If Joyce ships the merchandise back, the company will most likely refuse to accept it.

Moreover, the companies buying such contracts are hard-boiled about collections. If Joyce doesn't pay, they will not hesitate to report her to a credit rating agency, or even sue.

The moral is, be sure you know who you are dealing with, and be sure you know what you are signing and the consequences.

Use Caution In Handling Lawn Mowers

With the power mower season now in swing in most of the United States: here is a word on why "safe mowing is no accident."

Many home owners, delighted to be back outdoors after a long winter, sometimes forget the basic fundamentals of safety in using their power lawn mowers.

Follow these simple rules:
1. Refresh your memory by reading the operator's manual which came with the power lawn mower. Make certain you know how to stop the engine quickly in the event an emergency develops.

2. Before you start the mower, make an inspection of the lawn to be cut.

Remove any rocks or stones or small branches or other dangerous material which could be picked up by the blade and shot through the air.

3. Make certain that when the engine is started your hands and feet are away from the blades.

4. Do not start the engine in a garage or indoors. Make sure you are outdoors where there is fresh air and carbon monoxide cannot collect.

5. This may sound strange, but some people actually try to add gasoline to an engine while it is running. This is one of the most dangerous activities possible. Never add gasoline when the engine is operating. Make sure the engine is off before any fuel is added.

6. Do not walk away from a power lawn mower while it is running, even for a second. Take no chances, turn the engine off.

7. One of the most important things, prior to operating a mower for the first time, is to check nuts and bolts and screws. Make sure they are tight and that the mower is in a safe operating condition.

8. Some home owners unthinkingly push an operating power lawn mower across gravel driveways where there are loose rocks, loose cement, or lose asphalt. If a mower has to cross these areas, the owner should stop the engine before he reaches such dangerous areas.

9. Never permit a small child to operate a power lawn mower. In the same vein, if a neighbor want to borrow your power mower, make sure that you instruct him properly in its operation.

10. If you cut on slopes or grass, be extra careful of footing.

11. Never leave windup starters in a charged position is too easy for some small child to push on the starter and start the engine.

A tragic accident, or a serious injury, can be avoided by a home owner who pays strict attention to how he can work safely and prevent accidents.

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGERS
Representative, 18th
Congressional District

Anniversary of the GI Bill Twenty years ago, America's GI's were consolidating their foothold in Normandy, battling north of Rome in Italy, pressing the South Pacific campaign against the Japanese. On June 22, 1944, President Roosevelt signed into law the "GI Bill of Rights," a measure approved unanimously by both houses of Congress and surely one of the most historic legislative measures ever enacted. Its impact was great on millions of veterans and their families—and on our national way of life.

More than 16,500,000 Americans were eventually under arms in World War II. Although the war was a long way from won in 1944, the people, their Congress, and leaders of veterans' organizations recognized the need to provide a program serving as a buffer against possible economic and social chaos in the post-war period.

In 1944, public opinion was near-unanimous in its support for the "Servicemen's Readjustment Act," as the GI Bill was formally titled. American could envision the prospect of a million men a month passing through separation centers and heading for home. It was apparent that the veterans would face an uncertain economy as industry retooled to peacetime production. Could the post-war economy absorb them? It could and it did. Private industry, responding to five years of pent-up demand for consumer goods, was to convert from defense to peacetime production in a much more orderly manner than many pessimists had thought possible. And the readjustment, loan, and educational benefits provided by the GI Bill helped the national conversion from wartime to peacetime in ways that historians and economists have not yet fully assessed.

The education and training programs of the GI Bill cost approximately $14.1 billion. It is estimated that veterans trained under the GI Bill, because of the increased skills and education they have attained, will return to the Treasury—in taxes—twice and perhaps three times that amount.

The GI Bill is perhaps best known for the educational benefits provided. More than 7,800,000 World War II veterans—nearly half of all those who served—took some form of training under the GI Bill. Of the total enrolled in the program, 2.2 million attended colleges and universities; 3.5 million went to schools below college level; 1.4 million participated in on-the-job training; 700,000 underwent on-the-farm training.

With the Nation's high-gear economy still critically short in some areas of skills and with our unemployment problems centered on workers who are primarily unskilled, it is interesting to speculate whether our economic advance could have been made without the enormous reservoir of manpower trained under the GI Bill. By categories, the United States gained 450,000 engineers; 180,000 doctors, dentists, and nurses; 360,000 school teachers; 150,000 scientists; 107,000 lawyers; 243,000 accountants; 36,000 clergymen of all faiths; 711,000 mechanics; 383,000 construction workers; 288,000 metalworkers;

138,000 electricians, and 700,000 who trained for business and executive careers.

One out of every five single-family houses built in the United States since the end of World War II have been financed by the GI loan program for either World War II or Korean War veterans. Of the 28 million home-owner properties in the country, 16 million are mortgaged properties and about 22 percent are financed with Veterans Administration GI loans. In all, more than 5,268,000 GI loans were made to World War II veterans to purchase homes, farms, or businesses—and the record of repayment has been excellent. The GI loan program made a vital contribution to homeownership in this country.

The GI Bill is a historic example of long-range planning in the national interest.

Hall County Soil Conservation District News

More and more farmers and ranchers in the Hall County Soil Conservation District are finding The Great Plains Conservation program a faster way of solving conservation problems and making yields and income more dependable.

A farmer or rancher can apply a complete conservation plan at a stepped up rate. This gives him the best drought defense science and farmer-rancher experience has ever been able to work out for agriculture in the Great Plains.

The Great Plains Program is a long term contract from 3 to 10 years that guarantees cost sharing to complete a conservation plan. A farmer or rancher can get up to $25,000 cost share help to complete his conservation plan and the minimum period is three years. Chances are some other program will fit your needs if the work can be completed in less than three years. Also a Great Plains contract can be modified to meet the changing needs and conditions.

The Great Plains Conservation Program is geared to the going program of the Hall County Soil Conservation District. It makes use of help from other programs, agencies and organizations at county, state and federal levels.

Some of the practices that you as a farmer or rancher might be interested in are the overseeding of soil bank land to natives grasses, livestock water wells and stor-

Rogers Authors Bill To Control Cigarette Labels

Congressman Walter Rogers of Pampa last week introduced a bill requiring that packages of cigarettes carry a clear warning that a smoker's health may be endangered.

Congressman Rogers' proposal would require that packages of cigarettes sold in interstate commerce carry the warning: "Caution: Cigarette Smoking May Be Hazardous to Your Health."

The Congressman said the purpose of the bill is to insure that all cigarette purchasers, especially young persons, be aware that smoking is a potential risk to physical well being.

"Although many words have been written and spoken on this matter, I feel certain that many of our citizens are not yet aware of the danger. I believe it is the Government's responsibility to be certain all Americans are warned of the possible consequences of smoking, just as it is its responsibility to be certain other potential health hazards are properly identified as such," Congressman Rogers said.

The bill introduced June 18 would make it "unlawful, and an al wedding marches for the professional and recessional. Matron of honor was Mrs. James Lively of Riverside, Calif., and bridesmaids were Mrs. Wayne Garner of Rails, Miss Kathryn Paddy of Gruver and Mrs. Sid Ross of Abilene.

Attendants
Her honor attendant and bridesmaids wore identical street-length dresses, each in a different shade of pale yellow, iced blue, petal pink and mint green. The frocks were fashioned of imported linen combined with silk chiffon. The fitted bodice featured a detachable roll collar and puffed chiffon sleeves that were fitted midway of the arm. The rounded necklines tapered to a V at the center back and was accented with a bow at the V and repeated on the back waistline. The softly controlled skirt fell in two small pleats at each side front and a deep pleat in the center back.

They wore short circular veils of illusion which fell from a small tailored linen bow, each matching the tone of the gown.

Miss Le Donna Broadhurst of Hale Center, niece of the bride, was flowergirl, and ring bearer was Leslie Broadhurst of Hale Center, nephew of the bride.

Candlelighters were David Smith of Memphis, brother of the groom; Mac Devin of Tullia and Kim Cluck of Gruver.

Best man was Robert Weir of Abilene and groomsmen were Thomas Bormann of Stuttgart, Ark., Jim Uselton of Hereford and Paul Thompson of Lakeview.

peau-de-soie in a diamond white and was accented with imported re-embroidered Alencon lace.

The molded bodice featured an overlay of the re-embroidered lace completely covering the upper bodice and ending just above a set-in midriff, giving an empire line. Sprays of seed pearls were sprinkled over the lace. Natural lace scalloped formed a natural scalloped neckline and the lace sprayed from the shoulder line into the upper part of the fitted three-quarter length silk sleeves.

The controlled skirt featured a flat front that unfolded in deep single pleats at each side, giving the effect of a sheath front. An overlay of lace completely covered the entire center panel, and sprays of the matching lace were applied down each side of the back skirt drifting into the chapel-length train. A rose of peau-de-soie accented the center back of the waistline.

Her bouffant veil of imported pure silk English illusion fell in tiers from Queen's crown of matching lace that gave a scalloped outline, tapering higher at the center front.

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held in the church parlor.

For a wedding trip, the bride chose for travel a yellow silk accented with black patent accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Smith is a graduate of the Gruver High School and McMurry College while Mr. Smith graduated from Tullia High School and is also a student at McMurry College.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith will make their home in Abilene.

Harmony in co-operative achievement comes when each looks to the conductor and follows his leadership, she stated. She presented the president with a miniature baton as a symbol of leadership.

The vice president's duties were compared to those of the piano player in the orchestra; the secretary's were compared to those of the drums; the treasurer's duties were likened to the violin and the corresponding secretary's duties were compared to the trumpet. Each of the above officers were presented with miniature instrument representative of the office held, by Mrs. Gardenhire.

Officers installed were Myrtle Helm, president; Kathryn Latimer, vice president; Joy Duncan, recording secretary; Ethel Driver, treasurer; and Molly Carlos, corresponding secretary.

Enjoying the luncheon, in addition to the members, were several guests.

Some people just didn't realize how much Fords have changed. Then, they came in to see Mustang—and took their first good look around a Ford showroom. They saw the hottest line of cars in America... the "Car of the Year" Award winners... the best-built Fords ever. They saw cars so smartly styled, so easy to handle, so good to drive, that they made this the best sales year in Ford Division history even before the Mustang came out. They saw America's leading performance car—the Super Torque Ford (hardtop sales up 54%). They saw America's most famous personal luxury car—Thunderbird—with sales up 68% over last year's record. They found out why Falcon almost outsells Chevy II and Valiant combined. And why Fairlane is a pace-setter in its own field. One look can make you fall in love with any one of Ford's 46 models. A test drive can make you a Ford man forever.

A Good Home

"... be it ever so humble, there's no place like home."
—John Howard Payne

It has often been said that we fail to really appreciate "home" until we go away for one reason or another. Memories of home were the inspiration for Payne when he sat down in Italy to pen the words of his famous song.

Home is where the heart is; where the loved ones are. Home is where we first learn the meaning of such words as love and truth and honor and obedience. The home, like the church and the school is an institution; and the three work together in the development of individual character.

Lucky indeed are those who enjoy the advantages of a good Christian home filled to the rafters with love, faith and good example. Such is a home in the finest meaning of the word.
