Lions Club To Hold Annual Broom Sale Wed.

Members of the Memphis Lions Club will hold their annual "Broom Sale" next Wednesday, Sept. 23, according to an announcement this week by Bill Hall, who is in charge of the event.

Method of selling will be different this year, Hall said. A large van will be parked on the courthouse square, and four pickups will be parked at four locations within the city. Citizens are asked to go to one of the five and make their purchases.

"This procedure is different from prior years," Hall added. "We have tried to canvass the city in the past, and found that it was impossible to do a thorough job. Therefore, we are asking that citizens go to either of the five trucks, where members will aid them in making their purchases."

One of the pickups will be parked near the southeast corner of the square. The other three will be parked in front of the following firms: Memphis Grocery, Davis & Scott Super Market, and Jones Super Save Market. Each will be filled with items which the lions will be selling.

A partial list is as follows: brooms, mops, brushes, ironing board covers and pads, skirt hangers, dust cloths, pot holders, cup towels, door mats, wax applicators, etc.

Profits from the selling effort will go to helping pay for the club's different projects throughout the year, according to Billy Ray Jones, president.

Louis Keer Gets Five Years Adult Probation Sentence

Louis Rocco Kerr pled guilty Wednesday before District Judge Charles Reynolds to charges of theft and was sentenced to five years of adult probation.

Kerr pled guilty to the theft of two saddles belonging to Robert Proctor of Turkey.

He was apprehended in Lawton, Okla., the latter part of June and waived extradition. He was indicted by the Grand Jury last month.

PIONEER KITCHEN SCENE—The Atalantean Club has on display at Lone Star Gas Co., an interesting kitchen scene showing the kind of furniture used by Pioneer women. You will want to inspect the wood-burning range, old-fashion cabinet, dasher churn and other items used years ago in the family kitchen.

Two-Day Rain Measures Up To 4 Inches In County

Two general rains falling early Tuesday morning and early Wednesday morning gave all of Hall County heavy amounts of soaking rainfall.

Here in Memphis, J. J. McMicklin reported 1.59 inches Tuesday morning and 2.18 Wednesday morning for a two-day total of 3.77 inches of rain.

In the Lakeview area, over four inches were measured from the two rains and one rain gauge measured 4.26 in this area.

Southeast of Memphis several miles, on the Buster Helm farm, 3.6 inches of rain were measured.

A report from the Estelline area recorded two and a half inches while another listed over three inches from the two rains.

Out at Brice, approximately two inches of rain was reported with rainfall amounts increasing between Brice and Memphis. This average in the area west of Memphis was over three inches.

Turkey received two good rains, the first a little less than an inch and the second near an inch and a half. Rainfall varied in the Turkey area, reports indicated.

Over the entire county, amounts of two inches or more were reported.

This will benefit the late cotton in some areas and put wheat ground in excellent condition for sowing.

Some farmers reported the two rains were the most general rains in this area in several years.

Temperatures have been mild, McMicklin reported. The high-low temperature spread includes: Wednesday 75-58, Tuesday, 75-58, Monday 89-54, Sunday 75-61, Saturday 74-63, Friday 95-62, and last Thursday 104-68.

Tickets went on sale this week for the Hootennany to be held on Saturday night at 8 p. m. at the City Park Amphitheater. Sponsor for the Hootennany to be held by the Women's Forum and tickets may be secured from any member of the organization.

Tickets are 50 cents each and all proceeds will go toward paying off the debt assumed by the organization last year at the time the new community building was erected. Approximately $1650.00 is needed by the organization, according to the treasurer.

He stated that County Agent W. B. Hoover has received the certificate which is good for six years.

"This commission wishes to express its appreciation to the people of Hall County for the splendid cooperation extended to its representatives while work was being conducted in Hall County, and requests the further cooperation of the citizens of the area to maintain the tuberculosis status of the county," Dr. Garrett said.

Some of the county's best musical entertainers have consented to appear on the program this year.

Featured will be the Starfire musical combo, Patsy Morris, vocalist; Susie Sams from Lakeview, pianist; Pat Wilson and Tommy Greene, vocal duo; Jerald Rapp, Zip Durrett and Ted Bruce, piano, drums and guitar; Jim Lewis, fiddler; K. D. Nabors and his vocal trio; Carroll Gardshire, vocalist, and the Hall County Singers.

Four Men Go To Industrial Dev. Conference

Four Memphis men are attending the 14th Annual Texas Industrial Conference at Texas A & M this week.

Melvin Jennings and Carl Yancey of General Telephone Co. of the Southwest, Division Office, Mayor H. J. Howell, and Chamber of Commerce Manager Clifford Farmer left Wednesday to attend the conference.

The two-day conference, set for Thursday and Friday, will feature outstanding industrial development across the nation on the program.

Hootennany To Be Held Saturday Night, Free Barbecue At Noon Hour Sunday

Over 2,000 persons are expected to attend the annual Hall County Picnic at the City Park in Memphis Sunday, Sept. 20, R. A. Eddleman, president of the association, stated this week. On this date the county will celebrate its 74th anniversary.

Highlight of Sunday's activities will be a free barbecue at the City Park at noon. The meal will be served at 12:45 p. m. following church services.

Churches of the city will feature special homecoming services Sunday morning.

Fire Destroys Leon Fowler's Farm Home Wed.

The six-room farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Fowler, located five miles south of Lesley, was completely destroyed by fire early Wednesday morning.

The six-room, three bedroom stucco house was vacant at the time of the fire because Mr. and Mrs. Fowler were in Colorado on vacation and their two daughters, Nancy, 17, and Judy, 15, were staying in Memphis with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. (Doc) Fowler.

Mrs. Doc Fowler said they were notified of the fire at 7 a. m. Yesterday morning. She said he understood that a neighbor, Jack Montgomery, discovered the fire and turned in the alarm.

The Fowlers lost all their household furnishings and clothing in the fire.

Mrs. Doc Fowler said Wednesday that the Leon Fowlers were due back from Colorado late Wednesday or Thursday.

Hall County Is Reaccredited M. A. T. Area

Dr. R. G. Garrett, executive director of the Texas Animal Health Commission, announced this week the reaccreditation of Hall County as a Modified Accredited Tuberculosis Area.

He stated that County Agent W. B. Hoover has received the certificate which is good for six years.

"This commission wishes to express its appreciation to the people of Hall County for the splendid cooperation extended to its representatives while work was being conducted in Hall County, and requests the further cooperation of the citizens of the area to maintain the tuberculosis status of the county," Dr. Garrett said.

Cyclone Team Has Schedule Change

The Memphis Cyclone Coach Charley Chambliss announced a schedule change this week, when last minute arrangements were finalized.

The Cyclone will not travel to Chillicothe Friday night but rather will travel to Hooker, Okla., (located north of Perryton) for a non-conference bout.

School officials closed the deal for the Memphis-Hooker contest and the Cyclone team is scheduled to leave about noon tomorrow. The Cyclone Band will not accompany the team to Hooker, school officials announced.

Due to the long distance, only a few Memphis fans are planning to make the trip.

The Memphis-Chillicothe game was postponed due to the fact that Chillicothe is not fielding a team this year, the local coach said.

Coach Chambliss said, "We know that Hooker defeated Beaver last Friday night, 9-7, and they have a big line, averaging about 195 lbs. per man. They run from day morning. Local resident as well as visitors are urged to attend church services and then go directly to the City Park for the picnic.

Downtown Display
Again, this year pioneer window displays are being set up by the Federated Clubs of the City. All visitors are urged to visit downtown stores over the weekend and inspect the many items that will be on display.

Those in charge of the downtown window displays consider themselves very fortunate in having some of the fine paintings of Otha Stubbs among the attractions this year. This art exhibit by a Hall County cowboy artist will add a cultural touch to the array of early-day relics and artifacts.

Mr. and Mrs. Stubbs are at home on the outer edge of Turkey, where he paints, tools leather, carves wood and carpenters besides managing a lumber yard in town. A person of many interests, Mr. Stubbs' enthusiasm for collecting rocks and Indian artifacts combined with his overseas service during the war has resulted in a most interesting private museum.

A very collection of Indian arrow points, mesquite wood carvings, and an array of old guns from Germany are only a few of the attractions in his museum. Each summer the Stubbs journey to Taos, N. M., where he paints and "prowls" for more treasures to add to his already sizable collection.

Western pictures by Otha Stubbs will add background interest for The Sorosis Club of Turkey's display in The Greene Dry Goods Store during the Hall County Reunion. Be sure to see it!

Registration
Registration this year, for the first time, will begin on Saturday, Tops Gilreath, chairman, has announced. Three downtown booths will be open Saturday and local residents and visitors are asked to Twenty-four years ago, this country was the land of coyotes, prairie dogs, and the home of the cattle king. It has long been discovered that under the sod lay rich treasures—the plow and the hoe turned golden soil to reap an abundant harvest. Year after year of that soil gets away—yet remaining soil, with proper management, returns abundantly. In other sections of country continually do as well as the handle and South Plains?

Most people, in fact all the people of the Panhandle, since the beautiful rains Monday and Tuesday nights, have grins instead of frowns. The county is up with three to four inches of rain—amount of good to be done and fed by the rains is beyond a few hundred dollars to many thousand dollars. The Democrat will soon give the people an opportunity to guess the number of bales of cotton grown in Hall County.

Many former citizens of Hall County will be here Sunday, and some of them will arrive the day before. They will be disappointed if local folks are not present to meet them. A barbecue dinner is being furnished by the local folks, and should also be on hand as well. In that way the picnic should be a success for visitors and local folks alike.

Last year, and years before, was not possible to know how many attended the Picnic because large numbers did not register. The Committee requests that all people who attend the picnic to register. This year is more important than any other, since names furnished this year will furnish the nucleus for starting work on the Diamond Jubilee in 1965. Whether you are a new comer or an old timer, join in the forward movement of Memphis and Hall County.

Water Plan Under Study

Man, throughout his history on this earth, has envisioned in his dreams a utopia in which he finds himself in a garden of fresh water with many growing things, where food is abundant.

However, in most parts of the world, conditions exist which foil man's dreams. If there is enough water, the ground is not fertile, and if fertile soil exists, no water. In some areas, fertile soil and ample water does exist but the growing season is too short, or to the other extreme, the temperature too high, for a variety of plant growth.

However, a special subcommittee of the U. S. Senate Public Works committee has adopted a program for starting work on the preliminary phase study of a proposal to overcome the water shortage of the Southwestern United States by a continent-long diversion of Arctic water to western Canada, the western and mid-western United States and Mexico.

The plan calls for bringing surplus water from Alaska and the Yukon Territory into the U. S. and Mexico at a total cost of about $100 billion.

This is a lot of money, but on the other side of the ledger, consider how rapidly water is becoming a more costly economic problem. It is evidenced by this study and the serious search for additional or substitute sources of supply, that our water shortage problems are just beginning.

Water transfers from areas of surplus to deficient areas, desalting of sea water, reclaiming of waste waters and weather modification are all included in the frantic search for water.

Senator Clinton P. Anderson of New Mexico recently said on the floor of the U. S. Senate that "Even with full development of water resources, the Nation will have inadequate water supplies in 1980 to meet anticipated increases in population and economic activity."

Congressman Walter Rogers of Pampa told the University of Texas Seminar on Advanced Water Resources Topics, April 20, that a sound water development and conservation policy is as important to the Nation's welfare as national defense. He said the U. S. is now spending about $1.3 billion a year for water development, and warned that unless State and local governments and private interests work together on water problems the Federal activity will expand. He is an authority on this subject since he is chairman of the subcommittee on Irrigation and Reclamation of the House Committee Interior and Insular Affairs, and is thoroughly conversant with the Nation's water problems.

Engineering studies show Texas has the water resources to meet foreseeable demands if properly developed, conserved and managed. This is a job for all Texans, for water is the lifeblood of all human activities and we need to move faster in developing this indispensable resource.

Pep Pills and Goof Balls

The Columbia Broadcasting System (CBS) deserves credit for valuable public service in its dramatic exposure of dangerous practices in the narcotic drug trade.

Barbiturates and amphetamines popularly known as goof balls and pep pills. One is a sedative, the other is a stimulant. These drugs are useful under careful medical supervision. Carelessly used they promote irrational behavior and are apt to cause dangerous addiction. They have become a fad among thrill-seeking youngsters.

To determine how hard it is to obtain these drugs, CBS set up a fake "import-export" company with a small office and a letterhead. Orders were submitted to 19 manufacturers. About half demanded evidence of license but nine, asking no questions, filled the orders.

For only $600 this letterhead company bought over a million pills with an estimated value of over $50,000 on the legitimate market and something over $250,000 on the black market.

The pills were turned over to the Food and Drug Administration in Washington which reports, amazingly, that it has no authority over this dangerous business.

Sen. Thomas Dodd, D., Conn., and Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D., Tex., are sponsors of a bill which at least would require manufacturers to keep records of production and distribution. The records would be available for inspection by the federal drug administration.

The Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Assn., deploring these loose sales practices, has pointed out the companies which sold the drugs are not members of the association. But they are no more able than the FDA to police the business.

The Dodd-Yarborough bill has been passed by the Senate but, in the House, it stalled in the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee. It has been given little or no chance of action at this session, but perhaps the good work of CBS will help pry it loose. We certainly hope so!—Ft. Worth Press.

The Big Lie Is Gaudier, But Little Lies May Be Deadlier

One of the little campaign gimmicks which is making the rounds these days which may be more damaging to President Lyndon Johnson than all the book-length smears of Evetts Haley and his ilk is a little card bearing a quotation from one of President Johnson's speeches and containing only about three dozen words.

The "quotation," which is accurate, by the way, says: "We are going to try to take all of the money that we think is unnecessarily being spent and take it from the 'haves' and give it to the 'have nots' that need it so much."

This is being used as evidence to "prove that President Lyndon Johnson is a Communist . . . or at least that he's parroting the 'Communist' line. And we've seen some old-line Democrats who have been confronted with this "evidence" who've been seriously shaken up by it.

The quotation is accurate, all right . . . but it's also out of context. It's taken from President Johnson's message to Congress on February 6 in which he called for economy in government and outlined his plans for obtaining it.

The "haves" which he is referring to are government bureaus . . . not wealthy citizens. And the "have nots" which he is referring to are also government bureaus . . . not tenement dwellers. Lyndon Johnson's message was clear . . . his plan was to take surplus appropriations away from government bureaus which have had more money budgeted than they have needed, and to transfer it to other departments of the government where funds are required. His proposal, in other words, was to run his program by re-allocating funds already approved by Congress for various government agencies . . . not by asking for new appropriations. A lot of Democrats, and Republicans, in Congress thought it was a fine idea at the time.

But some Republican opponents are using the President's words against him . . . and very effectively too . . . by one of the oldest and shoddiest tactics known to politics; twisting an old phrase to give it a new meaning.

The "big lie" technique is gaudier, but the "little lie" technique may be deadlier.—Canadian Record.

Clarendon College Offers Vocational Training In Area

Clarendon Junior College is an approved educational institution for those who are qualified to enroll under the State Vocational Rehabilitation program, according to Jean Moore, student personnel officer. The Texas Education Agency, through the Vocational Rehabilitation Office, offers payment of tuition and other services to students who have certain physical handicaps, provided the vocational objective selected by the student has been approved by a rehabilitation counselor.

To those who are interested in additional information as to how application for rehabilitation should be made, contact Mrs. Moore, or the Registrar's Office at the college.

According to information received here last week, Mark Montgomery, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Montgomery of Leveland broke his left leg while playing Sunday, Aug. 30. The seven-year-old youth will be wearing a cast for about four months.

There is very little difference between foreign dishes and American dishes. They both break easily.

HaH County Soil Conservation

A farm or ranch is a place that must produce food, fats, oils and fibers for an expanding population without permanent damage to the soil. At the same time we must look to the land for recreation and relaxation. The farms and ranches of the HaH County Soil Conservation District can provide hunting and fishing as well as produce the foods and other materials needed.

Land primarily suited for cropland or rangeland produces wildlife as a secondary crop. In addition there is land on almost every farm that can and should be used to produce wildlife as a primary crop—it is wildlife land. Small areas of wildlife land well distributed over the farm or ranch when coupled with proper use and management of other land makes the whole farm an efficient unit for the production of all crops including wildlife.

There are no two kinds of wildlife that have the same requirements for living. However, it is safe to say that all kinds of wildlife need food, cover and water. To be the most successful food must be plentiful and close to cover that will furnish protection from enemies and weather. Food must be available in season when it is usually scarce. The most critical season for wildlife food is winter and early spring. There are no insects during these seasons and most of the wild fruit and other foods are gone. Snow and ice may cover waste grains.

Most kind of wildlife need several kinds of cover. Cover must conceal nest and the young, provide shade from the hot sun and shelter from the chilling rains and also a place to escape from enemies. Good management of cover for wildlife will consist of unburned fence rows, ungrazed areas or corners.

Farmers and ranchers in the district can promote more wildlife on their farms and ranches by leaving the last row or two of milo near windbreaks, fence rows, ditch banks or other odd areas that have protective cover for wildlife.

If you are interested in developing more wildlife on your farm or ranch, contact your Soil Conservation Service personnel for information and help.

Hadaway-Kilgore Vows Read Here

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Gayle Hadaway and Dale Kilgore on August 29 in the Church of Christ in Memphis with Cecil Hadaway, father of the bride and minister of the Hydro, Okla., Church of Christ, officiating.

Miss Cecelia Hadaway, sister of the bride, sang "I Pledge My Love."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original wedding gown of slipper satin. The fitted bodice featured a round neckline and was accented with lace appliques that extended down the front of the gown. The floor-length belted skirt was styled with a detachable chapel train and a lace cummerbund accented her tiny waistline.

Her shoulder-length veil of silk illusion fell from a headpiece studded with seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of gold and bronze mums. Her only jewelry was a pearl pendant, a gift of the groom.

Miss Cecelia Hadaway served as her sister's maid of honor and bridesmaid was Miss Dorothy Harrelson of Deming, N. M.

David Kilgore, brother of the groom, was best man and Byron Selle, cousin of the groom, served as usher.

Mrs. Herschel Williams, cousin of the bride, served the decorated tiered wedding cake while Miss Vicki Jones, also a cousin of the groom, served punch.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kilgore and a '63 graduate of Memphis High School. The couple are at home at 1021 10th St., Lubbock, where the groom is a student at Texas Tech

Cyclone 30-12 Friday

Shamrock Irishmen's defensive attack and tough defense was too much for the Cyclone Friday night and they walked away from the field with a 30-12 victory.

The Cyclone rolled to two TDs in the first quarter and led 16-0 at the 10:00 mark. Then, riding the wind in the second quarter, they passed for a brace of TDs to round out their scoring.

The game was scoreless until the third quarter when HB Toby Crooks took a pass from QB Jim Sturdevant and outran Shamrock's defense to the goal line. Following a quarter by Linebacker Jim Sturdevant and a 15-yard pass from QB Sturdevant, Shamrock moved for one first down. Then, in the next series, defensive halfback Jim Odom went high into the air and intercepted a Shamrock pass.

Memphis was held and punted to Shamrock. Shamrock moved for three first downs, but were then stopped on the Memphis 15 yard line.

The Cyclone was held for three, and on the fourth, Shamrock partially blocked Odom's punt and Shamrock got the ball on the Memphis 26.

Four plays later, Shamrock scored when HB Louis Davis carried over from the three. QB Dicky Reeves carried for two more points making the score 8-0.

Shamrock held the Cyclone after the kickoff and Odom punted to the Shamrock 43. Seven plays later, Shamrock's QB Reeves passed to End Billy Rives for a score, the play covering 5 yards. Reeves added two more points on a carry.

The second quarter ended a few plays later.

The third period of play was taken up by two long drives by Shamrock. The first ended on the Memphis 36 with Shamrock losing the ball on downs.

The second drive began on the Shamrock 15. Shamrock was held at one point, and was forced to punt. The punt was caught by average; Mike Crow, 4 carries for 10 yards; Billy Thompson, 2 carries for 4 yards; and Jimmy Sturdevant 14 carries for a minus 18 yards.

Recap of Game

The first quarter got underway with Shamrock receiving, being held, and punting to the Memphis 42 yard line. Memphis made four yards in two plays; then on the third down, Toby Crooks circled right end and went all the way for 54 yards to the goal line, but the play was nullified by an illegal procedure penalty against Memphis. On the next play, QB Sturdevant was thrown for a 10-yard loss when he attempted to pass, and so the Cyclone punted on the fourth.

Shamrock moved for one first down. Then, in the next series, defensive halfback Jim Odom went high into the air and intercepted a Shamrock pass.

Memphis was held and punted to Shamrock. Shamrock moved for three first downs, but were then stopped on the Memphis 15 yard line.

The Cyclone was held for three, and on the fourth, Shamrock partially blocked Odom's punt and Shamrock got the ball on the Memphis 26.

Four plays later, Shamrock scored when HB Louis Davis carried over from the three. QB Dicky Reeves carried for two more points making the score 8-0.

Shamrock held the Cyclone after the kickoff and Odom punted to the Shamrock 43. Seven plays later, Shamrock's QB Reeves passed to End Billy Rives for a score, the play covering 5 yards. Reeves added two more points on a carry.

The second quarter ended a few plays later.

The third period of play was taken up by two long drives by Shamrock. The first ended on the Memphis 36 with Shamrock losing the ball on downs.

The second drive began on the Shamrock 15. Shamrock was held at one point, and was forced to punt. The punt was caught by Jimmy Sturdevant of Memphis, but he was knocked loose from the ball and Shamrock recovered. The third quarter ended with Shamrock on the Memphis 31 in possession.

In the early minutes of the fourth quarter, Shamrock's Jessie Terry carried 30 yards to the Memphis 1 before being tackled by Toby Crooks. On the next play, Shamrock scored. Rodney Vaughn carried over for the Irishmen.

Memphis took over the ball after the kickoff on their own 29. On the first down, QB Sturdevant passed to End Jim Odom up the middle, and Odom went high into the air with one hand, tipped the ball and then tucked it in before he was tackled.

Sturdevant passed incomplete on the next play, but on the second down, he connected with HB Crooks with a 20 yard pass and Crooks raced the remaining 30 yards to the goal line. A two point pass play was broken up and the score was 22 to 6.

Shamrock was quick to retaliate. In the next series, QB Reeves passed to End Clyde Edwards for a 54-yard TD play and Shamrock's final tally. The same combination accounted for two more points on an extra points pass.

A few plays later Donnie Bridges intercepted a Shamrock jump pass on the Samrock 28. The officials called a personal foul against Shamrock and Memphis was given the ball on the Shamrock 12 yard line. On the next play, HB Stargel carried for 11 yards to the Shamrock one and a first down. QB Sturdevant scored on a QB sneak on the second down. QB "Hoot" Jones attempted to pass for the extra points for Memphis but the play was broken up.

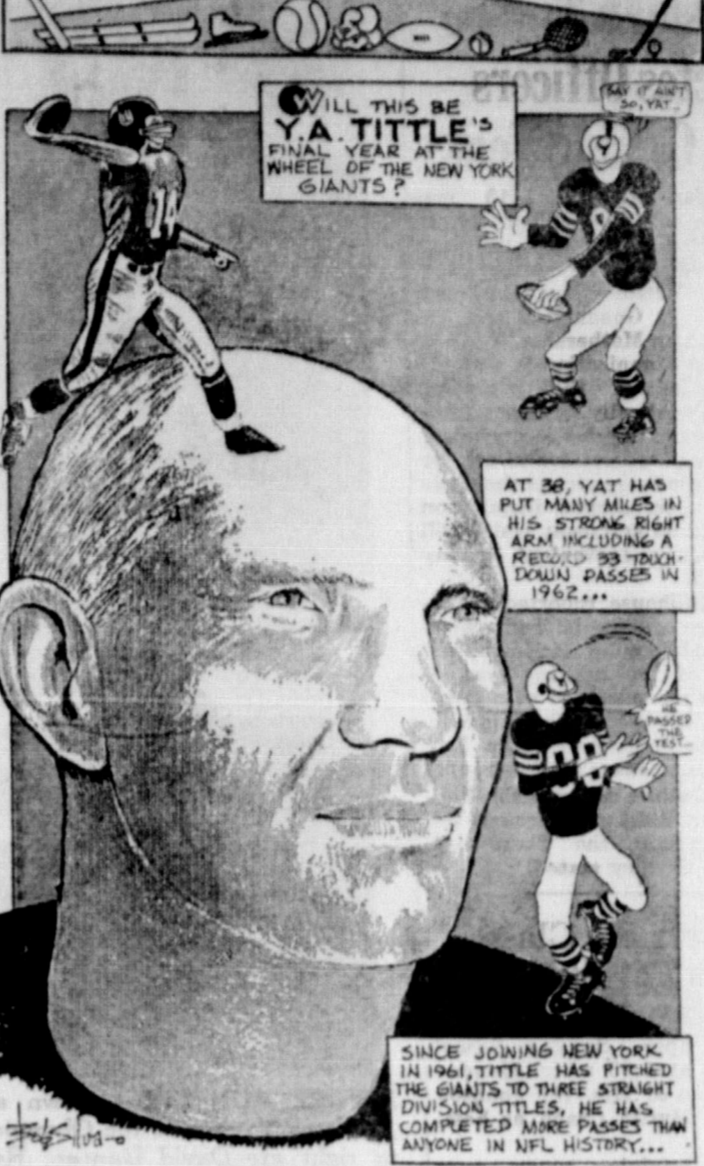

Shamrock lost the ball on a pass interception. Memphis moved for one first down on an 18-yard pass from Sturdevant to Odom. In the next series Reeves intercepted a Memphis pass to repay the compliment.

Then, on the next series, Davis broke loose for Shamrock and was fumbled on the Memphis one yard line. It looked like a sure Shamrock score but a fumble was picked up by an alert Cyclone lineman and Memphis took over on their one yard line.

Moving for one first, Memphis lost the ball on a pass interception, and Shamrock was in possession when the game ended.

A woman who lost her thumb in a train wreck was awarded $50,000 as damages, by a female jury, because it was the thumb she kept her husband under.

Oct. 2 Is Deadline For Wheat Program

Wheat growers who haven't yet signed up to participate in the 1965 voluntary wheat program are reminded that the sign-up period ends on Friday, October 2, and this will be the only sign-up period for this area, Lynn McKown, office manager of Hall County ASCS, said.

The wheat program for 1965 is a voluntary program. Wheat is not under marketing quotas. You can harvest wheat in excess of your allotment in 1965 without a wheat penalty. The signing of a plan, or intention for 1965, does not obligate you in any way to participate in the program. You may modify your intention, anytime through March 5, 1965, he said.

It is to your personal advantage to sign up, before October 2, as this qualifies you to take part in the program. Without signing up, it will be impossible for you to participate, if you desire to later, McKown explained.

Producers who sign up before October 2, 1964, and participate in the program, will receive many benefits, not available to the non-signers. Diversion payment, at a higher rate per acre, than last year, about $8.00 per acre on all wheat seeded, within your permitted acreage, a price support loan of $1.24 per bushel, and substitution of wheat for feed grain.

Call at the county ASCS office, at your earliest convenience, and have the program explained in detail. Better do it soon—the program sign-up for the area ends October 2, 1964, he concluded.

LEGAL RESEARCH

Much of the work a lawyer does has the effect of preventing law suits. By foreseeing a situation which may go bad, a lawyer can protect his client. All of this means great emphasis upon legal research.

Much of your lawyer's time goes into looking up the law. He must check statutes, code, reports of decisions, commentaries, and often technical books outside the law. He can then advise his client what to do and to keep his client from getting into situations that may lead to litigation. This stress on prevention is relatively new, as compared with the lawyer's traditional role as trial advocate.

In general the longer a rule of law based on precedent has been used, the more persuasive a court is likely to find it. Following precedent is called the doctrine of stare decisis ("the decision stands"). Because of "stare decisis", lawyers are able to count upon the law's stability in helping their clients to plan their estates, personal, or business affairs.

But law also changes as conditions and attitudes change. And these are days of change.

Lawyers want to predict legal results reliably for their clients. Some law changes little, for example, in the fields of property, contracts, wills, and trusts. But in other fields such as civil rights and labor law, for example, the law changes rapidly these days.

In order to keep with change, for example, Texas lawyers have pooled their research and talents to conduct a program of Continuing Legal Education. During the past year there were more than 2,000 registrants in the program. They have kept up to date through hundreds of lectures and the publication of several new volumes of law books. The program is a project of the State Bar of Texas begun in 1948. It is fully financed by Texas lawyers and judges at a cost of several thousand dollars a year. The various law schools of Texas also conduct a number of post graduate seminars each year, attended by hundreds of members of the profession.

Also, monthly and weekly publications of the State Bar covering late developments in the law to go to each of the 15,000 lawyers belonging to the organization.

Thespian Troupe Elects Officers For Coming Year

Thespian Troupe 1113 met Thursday afternoon, Sept. 10, to elect officers. Those elected were vice-president, Donny Miller; secretary, Suzanne Sexauer; treasurer, C. J. Goodnight; and reporter, Susan Mothersher. The policy of the organization is that the vice-president of the preceding year automatically becomes president. Jimmy Srygley is president.

The members decided to ask for the community center as the place to hold their annual installation and initiation ceremony which will be held on a convenient Sunday afternoon.

Amy Hillhouse reported a called summer meeting in the home of Lowell and Kenneth McKown. The purpose of the meeting was to authorize the purchase of a drapery for a window of the Community Center in honor of Mrs. Roy L. Guthrie, sponsor of the troupe.

"Mrs. Guthrie deserves this honor for her assistance through the past year with the Thespians," President Srygley stated.

Jaycees Set 10 MPH Average Carrying Olympic Torch For 14 Miles

Ten runners, ten drivers, carried the torch through cloud-filled, fog and drizzle-filled afternoon from the Oklahoma State line to Shamrock, S. Highway 66 in record time.

Representatives of the National Jaycees organization told the Memphis men, averaged 10 mph and arrived in Shamrock at 1:30 p. m., one and a half hours ahead of schedule. Jaycee President Gene Hamill said, "We spaced our runners two tenths of a mile apart, and as soon as a runner finished his lap, we carried him to the head of the line."

Two cars were used to carry the runners ahead, he said, and K. D. Nabers and Joe Allard served as drivers. Runners were Bob Howe, Robert Hodges, Jim Thomas, G. D. Hall, David Duncan, Bill Lockhard, Ken Maddox, Bob Blagg, Gene Hamill and Carroll Gardenhire.

We were slowed down at one point by heavy rains, he said, but I think we got better the further we went, Hamill said.

The Jaycees ran the torch in connection with a nation-wide campaign to raise $1,000,000 to send the U. S. team to Japan. The idea behind the "Run For The Money" is to raise the money without asking the Federal Government for handouts and therefore prove that free enterprise isn't dead.

The local Jaycees ran the torch from the Oklahoma State line to Shamrock, followed by members of the National organization in a sound truck to make sure that the Jaycees actually ran the distance and to publicize the project.

In setting the 10 mile per hour record, Bill Lockhart, one of the runners, said it was due to the excellent condition of the Jaycee members and the wet weather, but "every step was there".

Straightening Out Line

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

by Vera Sanford

Handy Cartridge Container

An inexpensive plastic cigarette case makes a fine .22 cartridge container. It's light, fits into your pocket and costs little.

Cooking Small-Boned Fish

Here's how some cooks prepare fish which have a lot of real small bones: Cut the fish into chunks and run through a meat grinder, on coarse setting. Mix the chopped-up fish in cracker meal to absorb moisture.

Run this through the grinder again, only this time set on fine grind.

Result will be an easily handled substance that can be shaped into patties. Dip in egg batter and fry.

Reloading the .22 Rifle

Here's a quick way to load a .22 rifle having a tubular magazine. Just pre-pack the cartridges in a large-size soda straw and twist the ends closed. In the field, tear off one end of the straw and pour the ready-stacked hulls inside the tube. Pack as many straws as you think you might need.

For Cleaner Utensils

Coat the bottoms of your camp cooking utensils heavily with yellow soap before using them. Then the soap will wash off in a jiffy.

Shh! Quiet Man!

Mr. Deer Hunter: Cover with adhesive tape keys, loose change, cartridges, anything that might clank at the wrong time. Big bucks will hate you.

Deflating Air Mattress

Deflating an air mattress takes several minutes and no small amount of work. Here's an easy way to do it: On the morning you plan to break camp, turn the air valve as you lie in bed. Then take 40 winks while the mattress lets you down. When the air is gone, roll up the mattress and you're ready to go.

Another Use for Pipe Cleaner

Attach sinkers with a pipe cleaner cut in half and you can twist 'em off and on in less time than it takes to tell it.

Double-Duty Matches

If you can cut the stems of matches in two, you can carry twice as many in your waterproof match container.

Snell Hook Holder

A good way to keep snelled hooks in your tackle box or pocket is to coil snell neatly and wrap hook and snell in masking tape. This way rigs will not deteriorate, won't be damaged and won't catch and tangle in clothes or other gear.

Carpet Reduces Noise

More and more fishermen are lining the bottoms of their metal boats with old carpet. Cuts down noise that might spook a wary fish.

Aid in Lion Spooling

Wind new monofilament on your reel by putting the line spool in a bucket.

Helps a lot in cutting down tangles, snarls and knots.

Foil Increases Lantern Light

You'll be surprised how much more light a regular gasoline lantern throws out if you line half of it with aluminum foil. Then too, the light can be directed where you want it.

Shellac Keeps Screws Tight

If a particular screw on a reel, rifle or shotgun keeps coming loose, fix it right by putting a drop of shellac on the threads before seating it securely.

Landing Net Tip

Do you have trouble with your landing net drying out between catches so that it floats when you try to slip it under fish?

Stop this in a jiffy by dipping the net in melted paraffin before you go out. Then it will sink like a rock.

Curry Comb Scaler

There is no better fish scaler than the curry comb used to rub down horses.

Corn Attracts Worms

An ear of corn buried in a moist corner of your garden will gather worms like a magnet.

Single Edge Blades Useful

Carry a single edge razor blade (in a safety wrapper of course) for quick field dressing of small game. It is sharper than a knife and easier to handle. A half dozen take up but little space.

Use Shells for Sinkers

Loop a short piece of wire into an empty .22 shell and fill with lead. Makes a good, light sliding sinker. Works equally well without the loop as a wrap around sinker if longer wire is used.

Varnish With Pipe Cleaner

When refinishing a fishing rod, a pipe cleaner will be just the right size to varnish under the guides where small brushes won't reach.

FOOD FOR KNOWLEDGE

Approximately 756,000 Texas children enjoyed a variety of good-tasting, good-quality food served in well-balanced lunches under the National School Lunch Program in 1963-64. The entire Federal-State program is geared to making maximum use of national, regional and locally abundant foods. Federal assistance to school lunch programs began in the 1930's when surplus foods were first donated to schools. In 1946, the National School Lunch Act placed "school feeding" on a permanent basis. Under this program, each participating school agrees to serve a lunch which includes a protein-rich, a generous serving of fruits and vegetables, bread and butter, fortified margarine, and one-half pint of milk.

frequently. In 1964 thousands of children will get a chance to enjoy that traditional Southern dish—corn grits. And last year, "bulgur" a dried cracked wheat product, was introduced in 22 states and won quick fame among the students because of its nutty flavor in meat dishes.

The Government, in making purchases of goods for the school lunch program, studies state reports to ascertain what foods the children need most and like best. In a recent survey, students rated hamburgers, fried chickens, turkey, spaghetti and hot dogs as their favorites. With a variety of good quality foods as well as many new and different foods, it is hoped that the children will gain the knowledge they need for selecting nutritious, well-balanced meals for themselves all through their lives.

About Your HEALTH

Students, working in chemistry laboratories for the first time, sometimes object to the strict supervision exercised by their teachers. But, as soon as they have conducted a few experiments, and have seen the startling and sometimes volatile results, of mixing two chemicals, they are usually appreciative of the rules imposed on them in the laboratory. They have been made aware of the dangers and are taught how to prevent mishaps.

Unfortunately, chemicals are being mixed in other areas besides the laboratories and by persons who know nothing of their characteristics or the dangers involved in mixing them. Many times the results are disastrous.

Consider the case of the housewife who, wanting an especially immaculate finish, poured some liquid chlorine bleach into a toilet bowl along with a cleaner, figuring that the two stain removers would do a better job than one.

The result was the chemical generation of poisonous, even sometimes deadly, fumes, when the bleach came in contact with the acidic substances present in the toilet cleaner.

The result would have been much the same had ammonia been mixed with the bleach.

Poison Control Centers throughout Texas report that they receive calls regularly from people who suffer from respiratory irritations after inhaling such fumes. Newspaper and other news media report numerous cases of injury and death from gases of this kind.

Manufacturers sense the dangers of using these products more than do the users. A majority of the name brand toilet cleaners and ammonia found on the market today carry some warning against mixing with chlorine bleach. Similarly, the liquid chlorine bleaches bear warnings against mixing with toilet cleaners.

These warnings are not always conspicuously placed. Some are buried among the directions for use, while others are in unusually fine print that is seldom noticed. In almost every case any advice on what to do in case of gas poisoning is omitted.

The secret of safety in this case is to read the label on all cleaners, bleaches, solvents and other household chemicals thoroughly before using.

Harvest time is synonymous with autumn in the minds of many people . . . particularly the migrant laborer.

Over 130,000 Texans will be harvesting the nation's crops from now until the cold bite of winter sends them to their homes in southernmost Texas.

They began their migration early last spring to labor in fields or orchards—wherever they could find work. Whole families pack a few things and travel in pickups, trucks or buses following their "crew leader" across the country.

This is the migrant way of life . . . with its many inherent problems.

For example, the typical migrant farm laborer is functionally illiterate—that is, he never attained more than a third-grade education. This problem is perpetuated by the younger generation as the children seldom attend school for more than a six month period.

His home, where he lives less than six months a year, is normally a small structure with little or no plumbing. On the road, following the crops, he and his family live wherever they can.

The migrant way of life makes record keeping almost impossible, but those who have worked closely with these people make the following estimates.

The migrant's income averages about $900 a year. His diet, more often than not, consists of beans and tortillas. Milk is an infrequent treat.

The average migrant never sees a doctor during his entire lifetime. His life expectancy is about 30 years.

Obviously health problems are a major concern of the migrant worker and the communities where he goes. Tuberculosis and other diseases may be prevalent and go undetected. Immunization schedules—if any—are erratic, and infant mortality soars.

The Texas State Department of Health has underway a statewide project aimed at bettering health service for the migrant. Separate projects are being conducted by Laredo-Webb County, Southwest Texas Region, and Lubbock City-County and Plainview-Hale County health departments.

Former Estelline Man Receives President's Medal

Billy Ray Caldwell of El Monte, Calif., who was reared in Estelline and graduated with the class of 1942 from Estelline High School, recently was awarded the National Safety Council's highest award, the President's Medal, it was learned here this week.

Caldwell, who is project superintendent of Electrical Construction for the Fluor Corp. Ltd., of Los Angeles, was working in Arizona on a project when he was credited for saving a life of one of his workmen by his extraordinary efforts, quick thinking and prompt action.

It was on March 29, 1963 . . . and the day began as typical day at a Fluor construction site near Pinnacle Peak, Ariz., where workmen were constructing a 230 KV transmission line for Arizona Public Service Co.

Shortly after 3 p. m., however, tragedy struck before a horrified group of customers representatives and project personnel.

Electrical Groundman Eugene Mayers of Phoenix was dragging a wire rope (snubbing line) about 90 feet from an energized power line which had already been erected.

Suddenly Mayers fell. Many observers thought he had merely tripped.

It was Superintendent Bill Caldwell who noticed smoke coming from Mayes' shoes and that the fallen man had turned purple.

Caldwell rushed to Mayes and pulled him free of the snubbing line, which investigation later revealed had picked up induction from energized lines.

Mayes had swallowed his tongue. His heart had stopped beating. He had ceased to breathe.

Caldwell immediately freed the electrician's tongue, massaged his heart and began artificial respiration. Mayes lived.

Insurance underwriters and attending physicians have credited Caldwell with saving his life.

Prior to receiving the President's Medal, Caldwell was presented a Life Saving Award at a special luncheon in Los Angeles February 29, and H. L. Kennicott, Kemper Insurance Group vice president, presented him with a bronze medal and citation.

Caldwell was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. A. (Gus) Caldwell, who were long-time residents of the Estelline area.

Morgan was unloading cattle at his home in the Brice Community when the accident occurred. The cattle rushed back against the end-gate in the cattle truck, knocking Salmon down, according to information received here.

GIRL SCOUTING

Officers for the year 1964-65 were elected by the Senior Girl Scout Troop No. 187 Sunday when the troop met in the home of their leader, Mrs. Brode Hoover. Laurel Pounds was elected vice-president; Amy Hillhouse, secretary; Carol Ann Voyles, treasurer, and Glenda Bruce, librarian.

The troop voted to hold the meetings every second and fourth Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. This date was accepted due to the heavy schedules the girls were carrying. Unfinished Business Major issues remain to be decided before this history-making Congress can adjourn. No one can predict accurately at this time when the House and Senate will wind up the business of this year. Intense controversy surrounds provisions of the three legislative proposals not yet passed. The three measures are: The "medicare" amendment passed by the Senate to the House-passed "Social Security Amendments of 1964." This bill, which left the House, provided amendments in social security benefits and extended coverage. But it was put in an entirely new light when the Senate amended the bill adding a provision calling for insurance for older citizens in the social security program. The House received the bill in the Senate, which it will next attempt to pass. The parliamentary wrangle began on whether to accept or modify the Senate amendment. In the House members will be re-elected for or against adding this long-controversial amendment to the social security program.

(2) State legislative reapportionment. The House has passed the so-called "Tuck Bill" to limit the jurisdiction of federal courts in legislative reapportionment cases. Meanwhile, the Senate was locked in a filibuster over the so-called "Dirksen-Mansfield" amendment tacked on to the Foreign Aid authorization bill. On Thursday the filibuster was given new life when the Senate voted 63 to 30 against imposing an end to the debate through the "cloture" process. The "Dirksen-Mansfield" proposal, not as far-reaching as the House-passed Tuck Bill, would authorize temporary stays of execution of court orders for immediate population-based reapportionment of state legislatures. The basic issue in this controversy is whether States, without interference from the Federal judiciary, are to be permitted to structure representation in State legislatures as they deem best, recognizing factors other than population; or whether the "one-man-one-vote" theory advanced in the recent Supreme Court decision is to prevail, thus requiring that each House of a State legislature be established strictly on a population basis.

(3) The so-called "Appalachia Bill." Debate on this measure, to provide public works and economic development programs in the 10-State area of the Appalachia Region, has begun in the Senate. The House has yet to begin its floor deliberation on the matter. Like the "anti-poverty program", with which it is allied, the "Ap-

More Diesels in

Expanded 1965 Chevrolet Truck Line

To meet customers' needs for more specialized trucks, Chevrolet has greatly expanded its 1965 truck line to 327 models, largest number in its history. Most expansion is in the diesel field, extending down to the 1½-ton class for the first time. New to the line are an economical in-line, 3-cylinder two-cycle diesel of 94 hp for city pickup and delivery work, and three V6 four-cycle diesels of 130, 150 and 170 hp. A 230-cu.-in. 140-hp six-cylinder engine will be optional in the Chevy-Van, replacing the smaller 120-hp six previously offered as an option.

Chevy Trucks Go On Display At Ward Motor Co.

The 1965 Chevrolet truck line is now on display at Ward Motor Co., Inc., Dennis Ward announced this week.

To meet the increasingly specialized needs of its customers, Chevrolet has expanded its 1965 truck line to 327 models, 131 more than 1964 and the largest number in history, he said.

"For the past several years, there has been a growing trend toward assembly line customizing of trucks," Ward said in announcing the new line. "The expanding and changing economy among House members doing our best to see that the House follows suit.

When Congress will adjourn still remains a question. I do not favor hasty action merely to bring the Session to a close; Congress should remain in Washington, disposing of its business in a regular and orderly way until the work is done.

palachia" proposal has stirred heated argument in the halls of Congress and throughout the country, and a final decision will be some days in coming.

Knocked out of the Appalachia Bill early in the Senate debate was a section providing what amounted to a subsidy for further pastureland in the Appalachia region. This section if permitted to remain in the bill, would have boosted the number of cattle in the Appalachian region and would have served to compound the difficulties facing our domestic livestock industry. It would have given a subsidy, in effect, for farmers in Appalachia to compete with Americans now producing beef. On the one hand, Congress had enacted legislation to provide quota restrictions on imported beef to help take care of the severe slump in beef prices, had encouraged development of foreign markets, increased the purchases of beef for the school lunch program—had responded affirmatively to the request for assistance from the domestic cattle industry. On the other hand, in the Appalachia bill, it was proposed that Congress further stimulate beef production. I am encouraged by the Senate action in eliminating this provision and I will be a-and the rising pressure of costs has created a demand for the most efficient possible truck tailored for specific load requirements and operating conditions.

"The number of different engines, transmissions, wheelbases, axles, springs and other components has grown steadily, along with the introduction of whole new chassis and body designs to give the customer the best possible combination of performance, load carrying ability, and economy for his particular operation.

"For example, ten years ago we offered two basic engines, four transmissions, six rear axles, 11 wheelbases, and 127 standard options. In 1965 we will list 13 basic engines, 26 transmissions, 28 axles, 24 wheelbases and more than a thousand standard options."

Largest expansion of the 1965 Chevrolet line is in the steadily developing diesel field. The new diesel lineup will include 148 models, and increase of 126 from last year, and extend down into the 1½-ton class for the first time.

To keep pace with the trend toward diesel power in city pickup and delivery service, the division will offer a medium-duty model with an economical in-line 3-cylinder, two cycle 153 cu. in. engine developing 94 hp. It is especially well adapted to stop-and-go operations with high idling time because of its exceptional fuel economy.

Also new to Chevrolet are three four-cycle, V6 diesel engines, named the Torq-Flow line. One is 351 cu. in. displacement and develops 130 hp. The others are 478 cu. in. displacement with ratings of 150 and 170 hp.

The engines are proved power plants offering the fuel economy and low maintenance of a diesel, but with only a moderate weight and cost differential. Because of their short-stroke design, friction speeds are reduced and friction power loss is low. Short, high-swirl inlet manifold passages, short exhaust manifolds, and a high pressure fuel injection system contribute to high efficiency.

In line with the trend toward a higher ratio of load space to overall truck length and better maneuverability in metropolitan traffic, Chevrolet has more than tripled the number of tilt-cab models for 1965 to a total of 71, of which 47 are diesels. Low-cab-forward models also are increased—to a total of 52, with 31 of them diesel powered.

To meet customers' need for metropolitan delivery trucks with greater load capacity, Chevrolet is introducing two new forward control chassis. Available in 157 and 175 inch wheelbases, they will accommodate large van bodies for hauling bulky and heavy cargoes and are powered by a 140 hp. six cylinder engine with a 170 hp. six optional.

When he broke his engagement he was only doing to the engagement what the engagement did to him.

Estelline To Host Cotton Center Fri.

The Estelline Bear Cubs will have their first home game of the season Friday night when they host Cotton Center at 8 p. m.

Estelline Coach Jimmie Don Adams said that Cotton Center lists 27 men on their lineup and he is expecting a wide open type ball game.

The Bear Cubs lost to Harrold last Friday night, 5-28, at Harrold, in an 8-man contest.

"We had a bad first half, trailing 34-0," Coach Adams said. "If we had played the first half like we did the second, we could have been in the ball game," he said.

Estelline scored all but one of their touchdowns on passes. QB Jody Rapp passed to End Jerry Cosper for two TDs and two, two-point extra points. He passed to HB Ronald Mullins for one TD and Mullin returned a kick-off for a TD.

Friday night, the Bear Cubs' starting line will be Cosper at end, Dannie Longbine at guard, Larry Elliott at center, Jimmy Rothwell at guard, Larry Wynn at end.

Jody Rapp or Melvin Long will start at quarterback, Ronald Mullin at fullback, and either Melvin Long or Gary Walker at halfback. Walker was injured early in the season and if he is able to go tomorrow he may get the starting nod, Coach Adams said.

Eight-man football is wide open, Coach Adams said, and if a defensive boy misses a tackle he opens the field up for a score, he explained.

Fan should find plenty to cheer about Friday night at Estelline's first home game.

Estelline Junior High will play Patton Springs in Estelline at 6:45 Tuesday night, it was announced.

The announcement was made yesterday by R. E. (Swede) Roark who is serving as Price's county campaign manager.
