Fire Prevention Week - 1964

This week, October 5-10, is being observed as Fire Prevention Week, in Texas, as well as over the Nation. The week is annually observed as National Fire Prevention Week in order to remind citizens of their responsibility to get rid of fire hazards.

The Texas Safety Association General Manager, J. O. Musick, stated, "Your life may depend on the way you keep house—inside and out." He explained that last year, 8,100 persons in the U. S. died as a result of fire. Of this number, 6,500 persons were killed as a result of fires in the home."

The Texas fire fatality toll was 537 persons, of which 444 were attributed to home fires.

Nationally, there are about 600,000 residential fires each year. In addition to the loss of life and human suffering caused by such fires, they cost the nation about $400,000,000 a year; a staggering figure.

The Memphis Fire Department is participating during the observance working with the students in the three elementary schools, distributing pamphlets, etc.

Each year, Fire Departments encourage residents to take steps to prevent fires on their property. They suggest homeowners to discard old newspapers, magazines, boxes, clothing and other useless items. These create fire hazards when stored. Daily household trash should be kept in covered metal cans away from heat, and disposed of frequently. Dust mops and cleaning materials should be put in well-ventilated, fire safe storage units. Flammable liquids should be stored properly, away from children, and never used inside the home, but outside or in well-ventilated places.

The outside area is just as important as the inside. Keep dried weeds, grass, trash, etc. from accumulating around buildings, wood fences, etc.

The firemen added that keeping heating and cooking equipment and electrical appliances in good working condition is a part of good housekeeping, and further protection against home fires.

One of the most dangerous items many people use is electrical extension cords. The use of cords are not dangerous when used properly, however, few it seems pay any heed to the correct use.

Overloading electric wiring is one of the chief causes of fires. "Appliances such as an iron, toaster, heater, roaster, waffle iron, or a hair dryer, need considerable power—avoid using two at the same outlet at once or using inadequate extension cords," firemen warn.

For years residents have been warned that children and matches are an especially dangerous combination as are adults and smoking. Serious burns, sometimes fatal, result when children's or adult's clothing catch fire.

Citizens are urged to pay particular attention this week to fire hazards and correct them whenever they are discovered. We never know how many fires have been prevented by the mother who took matches away from her small son or daughter, or by the husband who discovered his wife's ironing cord was frayed, and replaced or repaired it.

Coin Shortage

How would you like to solve the coin shortage?

This intriguing question was posed this week by the American Bankers Association, and having concluded a search of our own pockets with nearly negative results, we are passing the question on to the reading public... being personally unable to contribute more than thirty-one cents to the cause at the moment.

The bankers are sure, however, that if we and several million of our fellow Americans would turn in all the pennies, nickels, dimes and quarters we've been stashing in piggy banks, sugar bowls, cigar boxes and dresser drawers, the nation's cash drawers would be speedily overflowing with change.

So, it's up to you, fellow Americans! We'd personally love to do our patriotic best, but where coins of the realm are concerned, we are personally as unproductive as the proverbial bloodless turnip. We don't smoke cigars (or collect cigar boxes), haven't owned a piggy bank in more than forty years, and the only silver in our sugar bowl is an heirloom spoon. However, the ABA insists that there are nearly 48 billion coins now in existence... more than enough to satisfy all normal banking and business needs... so cough 'em up, you lucky people.

Being realistic about this thing, however, the U. S. Mint is working both its coin-making plants (in Denver and Philadelphia) on a 24-hour schedule and will have a new mint in operation in Philadelphia, with more efficient production facilities, in two or three years. Mint officials attribute the coin shortage to the population boom, sales taxes, vending machines, parking meters and automatic laundries... not sugar bowls and cigar box collections. —Ben Ezzell, Canadian Record.

Even With Development Water Shortage Is Due

A grim warning was introduced in the debate preceding Senate passage of a bill to coordinate land resources in the U. S.

It was sounded by Senator Clinton B. Anderson, New Mexico Democrat, who said that "Even with full development of water resources, the nation will have inadequate water supplies in 1980 to meet anticipated increases in population and economic activity."

Water use is increasing astonishingly day by day and month by month. Population increase, new households, industrial processes and other sources of demand constitute a warning that the nation no longer can dilly-dally if areas of it are not to suffer stragic consequences.

There are numerous regions imminently threatened by water shortages. Various parts of Texas in recent years have been in fear of the effects of protracted drought. Not only is most of the West and Southwest affected, but also such wide areas as the western Great Lakes states, Northeast, some of the South, and the whole industrial area from Boston south to Norfolk, Virginia, and sweeping west to Kansas City and South Dakota.

Anderson was floor leader for the measure, which originated in 1961 when the late President Kennedy recommended legislation "to provide for comprehensive river basin plans, biennial assessments of regional water needs and supplies, aid to the states and encouragement of more efficient water development, management and use."

Anderson said that the bill ran into powerful opposition from advocates of states' rights in the field of water resources that caused a delay of two years until now.

Before it was approved by the Senate the measure was amended to meet some of the objections of the states' righters.

The House still is to act on the bill.

The warnings of prospective water deficiency have been sounded time and again, until many persons regard it only as a form of complaint. But the danger is real, and it has to be met if the nation isn't to suffer economic calamity. (Editorial from the Austin Statesman)

Some workers have lots of "get-up-and-go" when it's time to get up and go home. Yes, sir, they're the ones who get "fired with enthusiasm."

Florists Meet In Tulia To Form New Organization

A group of small town florists met Saturday, Oct. 3, in Tulia to establish an organization whereby florists may meet periodically to discuss new design techniques and common problems, and improve the standards of the floral profession.

Five West Texas towns were represented and many more have expressed the desire to participate with the group. In attendance at the Tulia meeting were Mrs. Ralph Stephens and Mrs. Billie Harrison of Abilene; Florist; and Mr. and Mrs. Jody Yeager of Colonial Floral and Gift, Abilene; Trudy Dennis of Dennis Floral, Dimmitt; Aline Welch and Delores Pigg of Friendly Flowers, Quitaque; Bill Leslie of Leslie's Flowers, Memphis and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Richardson of Tulia Floral, Tulia.

Officers were elected as follows: president, Glenn Richardson of Tulia Floral; vice-president, Trudy Dennis of Dennis Floral; secretary-treasurer, Bill Leslie of Leslie's Flowers, and reporter, Judy Yeager of Colonial Floral and Gift.

After officers were elected the membership requirements were established, limiting membership to small towns of no more than three floral shops. This limitation was made because small town floral shops have problems which occur only in small towns. Thus, the common problems and interest would be the objective of the group.

The dues were then set. A name for the organization was not decided at Tulia Saturday.

The next meeting of the group will be in Amarillo on October 25.

Mr., Mrs. Byrd Move To Elgin This Week

Mr. Byrd is a long-time employee of the Texas Highway Department and retired in April, 1962.

Their many friends regret to see them leave.

Bradley Three Ranch Named Premier Breeder

At the recent South Plains Fair at Lubbock, Bradley 3 Ranch was named Premier Breeder and Premier Exhibitor at the largest Angus show in the entire history of the fair.

The blacks dominated the fair's cattle show with 105 entries from Texas and Colorado. Champions from the Colorado State Fair, West Texas, New Mexico State and Tri-State Fair were there competing.

The Premier exhibitor award was based on the amount of prize money won by one breeder and the Premier breeder award was based on the winnings of one herd, showing cattle bred and owned by them. Caprock Stock Farm of Groom, Texas, ran B3R a close race for the banners.

Other champions this fall that have been won by the include junior and reserve champion females at the Colorado State Fair and New Mexico State Fairs.

Richard Stotts, herdsman for the ranch, has also exhibited a winning heifers at both of the fairs.

The B3R cattle will again leave home Thursday for the Texas State Fair at Dallas.

Wheat Variety Name Labeling Can Mislead

Hall County wheat growers were reminded today that use of the variety name "Rust Resistant Triumph" in labeling wheat seed shipped or sold in interstate commerce is considered a violation of the Federal Seed Act. County Agent W. B. Hooser said the U. S. Department of Agriculture has found the variety to be non-resistant to leaf rust.

The Act, explained Hooser, is administered by USDA's Agriculture Marketing Service with cooperation from the states and specifies that variety names of agricultural seeds shall not be false or misleading.

The Oklahoma Agriculture Experiment Station requested changing the name of the variety to "Triumph 64" and it has been approved by AMS as being in compliance with Federal Seed Act requirements, the county agent said.

Use of the name will prevent farmers from being misled into thinking the variety is rust resistant, Hooser said. The change will also clarify future labeling as to the variety of wheat produced from the foundation seed now being released from the Experiment Station, AMS seed officials told Hooser.

Coffee Sat. To Honor Republican Candidate Here

this week. Serving as co-hostesses for the coffee will be Mrs. Mills Roberts and Mrs. J. D. Tuck. The coffee is open to the public, Mr. Roark stated. However, those who plan to attend are requested to call Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Roberts or Mrs. Tuck.

USE SODA ON GREASE FIRE

AUSTIN, Tex. — The Texas Safety Association says ordinary cooking fires which occur from such things as grease in a pan can be stopped by throwing handfuls of baking soda on the flame. Never use water on stove fires or try to carry out a burning pan. Be sure to protect yourself and your clothes first. Then shut off stove. You may also try smothering the flame by placing a pan cover over it. And, if you have a fire extinguisher (dry powder or CO 2 type) USE IT!

CARD OF THANKS

I want to take this method of extending my sincere thanks to the many kindnesses shown during my recent stay in hospital. The cards, flowers, and visits from my many friends were sincerely appreciated. I also want to express thanks to Dr. Clark and the tire staff at the Hall County hospital.

This gin is modern in every respect, with all necessary extra equipment being operated to give our customers the TURNOUT and STAPLE SECOND TO NONE. As we have stated before: the staple tells the story. Our plant was designed with this thought in mind—that much of the cotton grown in this area will be harvested by use of strippers. A new press helped out last season, and we have just installed a new Super 88 Lummus high capacity gin stand for better and faster ginning.

This farmer-owned gin, operated by a competent crew, is already giving the best ginning service modern machinery can produce. Ask those farmers who ginned with us last year, or those who have already brought cotton to us this season.

Again this year, the Memphis Farmers Co-op Gin will be buying cotton from local growers through the Plains Cotton Co-Operative. Each day prices are posted in our gin office. We will be able to pay you immediately at the quoted price. Check with us about this service if you want to sell.

Hall County
Soil Conservation

The best protection for the soil, against wind and water erosion, is a growing crop. Farmers should be planning, now, for a cover crop to be on their land during the winter and early spring months, when the county normally has the blowing season.

There are several crops that are adapted to this area that can be used for a winter cover crop. They are small grains such as rye, oats or barley, winter peas, or vetch with small grains.

Cover crops should be seeded early enough so as to make sufficient growth to protect the soil, prior to extremely cold weather. There are several ways to establish these cover crops. They can be drilled, broadcast or planted with inter-row seeders. With a cyclone type seeder or inter-row seeder, cover crops can be seeded in existing crops. On land that is not in a crop, drilling is probably the best method of seeding.

For maximum benefits from a cover crop, it should not be grazed or harvested. The cover crop should be left growing as long as possible or until about April 1.

When another crop is to follow the cover crop, the cover crop should be shredded or disked about two weeks prior to seedbed preparation. Residues left on the surface dry out quickly and are easier to get through while preparing the seedbed. Breaking a cover crop into the soil tends to give trouble while preparing the seedbed, due to slow deterioration of plan residues.

Fertilization of a cover crop produces a faster growth and a heavier poundage of residues. The Hall County Soil Conservation District recognizes the need for a large acreage of cover crops, especially for protection of the soil against wind erosion. Also, a cover crop managed properly improves the soil by adding organic material and increasing the intake of water.

Soil Conservation Service Technicians assisting the District are available to assist in the planning for adapted cover crops and the management of their residues.

Methodist WSCS Continues Study Of New Nations

The Women's Society of Christian Service met Monday, October 5, to continue the study, "The Mission Among New Nations." The meeting was held in the Methodist Church Annex with Alpha and Oliver Circles attending.

After the opening hymn, "Rise, Men of God," the leader, L. G. DeBerry gave an inspirational meditation on the subject of forgiveness based on several verses from Matthew 18. Mrs. Bob Hutcherson gave a talk on the new independent nations of Sarawak where the Iban were headhunters just four years ago. Missionaries have translated books into their language.

A skit was then presented with members on a plane returning from six newly independent nations. Mrs. Myrtle Phelan was the flight hostess and asked the following questions for informative reports from the countries they had visited: Mrs. W. J. McMasters told of the advance Southern Rhodesia has made in Christian education, economic and political affairs since 1959. Here the Methodist Church has established a scholarship fund for exchange students.

Mrs. J. B. Thompson reported on Sierra Leone which became independent in 1961. In the October issue of "Look" magazine is a picture of "Madam Kablo-Gulbene" who lives there is the only woman to achieve ministerial rank in the African continent. She visited the U. N. recently. Mrs. Dink Miller stated that Ghana is communism's latest foothold. It is 25 percent literate. Mrs. Bob Fowler showed pictures of Uganda, under British protection, gaining its independence in 1962. Mrs. Hutcherson had pictures of Peace Corps workers building new schools in Gabon, Africa. Mrs. F. W. Fox told of communications being improved in Tanganyika through Christian magazines and newspapers, Sunday School publications in Swahili, and a new Christian broadcasting station being started.

Mrs. M. G. Tarver gave a splendid discussion on "The Church of Nationalism." In speaking of Africa, the second most populous continent in the world, she acquainted the group with Lal Bahadur Shastri, the new Prime Minister, who was a close associate of Nehru. He gives all his money expenses for living expenses to the servants of Society Organization established by Gandhi. He says that there is no chance for democracy to fail in India. In discussing Africa where there are many newly independent nations, Mrs. Tarver stated that there are many people there crying "Uhuri" meaning freedom, but they have no understanding of the responsibilities that go with it. Missionaries work in all African nations, but the Methodists are only in part of them.

Those present other than the ones mentioned were: Mmes. R. Steene, Ed Hutcherson, J. W. Erwin, Mary Lou Erwin, Bess Erwin, O. M. Gunstream, Lee Erwin, W. F. McElreath, M. N. Erwin and Kermit Voelkel.

(Editor's Note: This background statement by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman follows earlier reports on sales of wheat to Russia last winter.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville F. Freeman said recently the Soviet Union has made the final cash payment for the wheat it purchased from this country in late 1963.

The Secretary noted that U. S. exporting firms had sold about 65 million bushels of wheat to Russia and had received $140 million in cash payment. Wheat exports in fiscal 1964, as a result of the Soviet purchases, were a record 850 million bushels.

"The U. S. balance of payments is $140 million to the good, wheat farmers received more dollars for the wheat they grew than would otherwise have been possible, new business was created for railroads, barge lines and shippers as well as for the exporting firms, and additional jobs were created because of the increased level of activity—all as a result of these added wheat sales.

"And the American taxpayer will have almost $85 million which otherwise would have been paid out to store this wheat until it could have been moved into commercial markets over a five to seven year period.

"Equally as important, the people of the developing nations saw clearly the difference between the Soviet system of government and our own. These people, for the most part, live on the land and are farmers; and all of them seek to improve their own agriculture so they may enjoy more adequate diets and strengthen their farming economy.

"These people now know that Communism cannot fill their stomach—and that is a key advantage in determining which political philosophy they will choose—Communism or Democracy."

The Secretary listed these gains specifically as a result of wheat sales to the Soviet Union:

Economic Gains

1. Benefited the U. S. balance of payments position. The United States sold over 65 million bushels of wheat to the Soviet Union, for which U. S. exporting companies received $140 million. A cash inflow of that size is very welcome at this time. In recent years the movement has been all too much the other way. Between 1959 and 1963, for example, the outflow of U. S. gold and dollars exceeded the inflow by over $14.5 billion.

2. Saved U. S. storage, handling, and other charges. Costs of maintaining Government-owned farm commodities are larger than is generally realized. On the basis of 1962 experience, it costs 26.21 cents per bushel of wheat for storage and handling, transportation, resale payments, and interest on public funds tied up in the commodity. The savings in maintenance costs for one year on 65 million bushels, therefore, amount to about $17 million. However, on the basis of recent disposition history, wheat acquired by the Commodity Credit Corporation would stay in inventory for 5 years. Therefore, the total savings in CCC carrying charges

3. Strengthened U. S. domestic wheat prices. Any reduction in the pressure on domestic supplies tends to strengthen prices of wheat in the U. S. markets. This tendency was noted last fall and winter when the prospect of U. S. exports—plus the effect of the "drawdown" on Canadian, Australian, and Argentinian supplies by Soviet Block and Chinese communist buying—helped to improve domestic U. S. wheat prices.

4. Stimulated American business. The sale of 65 million bushels of U. S. wheat to Russia created profits not only for exporters but also for railroads, barge lines, ocean shipping companies, and other U. S. enterprises having a direct or indirect connection with foreign trade.

5. Created jobs for American workers. The U. S.-Russian wheat deal created additional jobs for U. S. stevedores, seamen, railroad men, and other workers. If this deal had not been arranged, all of the wages entailed in shipping wheat to Russia would have gone to Australian and Argentinian workers.

on wheat shipped to Russia was 5 times $17 million—or $85 million. This is assuming that the full quantity, had it not been shipped, would have ended up in the CCC's stockpile. Savings of $85 million more than offset the cost of export payments, which amounted to $44 billion.

6. Increased demand for farm products, increased farm production and stocks, increased production expenses, and lower prices for farmers make up today's general agricultural situation, reports John G. McHaney, Extension economist, Texas A&M University.

7. Increasing personal income and an expanding population point to continued gains in consumer demand for farm products through the remainder of 1964, McHaney contributes income gains to increasing employment, rising wages, larger dividends, surge in corporate profits, and reduction in income tax rates.

8. Output of farm products continues to increase and will likely total above last year's level, says McHaney, and stocks of most crops were larger at the beginning of the present marketing year. Crop indications as of July 1 were brighter than those a year earlier, and the upward trend in yields is expected to continue.

Political Gains

1. Depleted the USSR's gold and dollar reserves. The Russians use gold and dollars in subversive activities throughout the free world. They also used gold, dollars, and other foreign currencies in buying abroad heavy equipment, instruments, and other items to manufacture armaments. The U. S.-Russian wheat deal, therefore, diverted to peaceful uses $140 million worth of "monetary ammunition" which would otherwise have been used against free world countries, particularly against the United States.

2. Gave the U. S. a propaganda victory. Purchase of U. S. wheat by Russia highlighted more than anything else could that regimented Soviet agriculture is far less efficient than free-family-farm American agriculture. Uncommitted countries observe all this very closely. Their economies are predominantly agricultural; they depend on the production of farm commodities for their own living and for earning foreign exchange. The failure of Russian agriculture to feed the Russian people—as contrasted with America's ability to feed its own people and millions of other abroad—is a potent argument for the free enterprise family farm.

3. Improved the image of America in Russia and the satellite countries. The people of Russia and of the satellite countries know that Russian agriculture is in trouble. These communist consumers also know that supplies

Demand For Farm Products Up, Prices Lower

An increased demand for farm products, increased farm production and stocks, increased production expenses, and lower prices for farmers make up today's general agricultural situation, reports John G. McHaney, Extension economist, Texas A&M University.

Increasing personal income and an expanding population point to continued gains in consumer demand for farm products through the remainder of 1964, McHaney contributes income gains to increasing employment, rising wages, larger dividends, surge in corporate profits, and reduction in income tax rates.

Output of farm products continues to increase and will likely total above last year's level, says McHaney, and stocks of most crops were larger at the beginning of the present marketing year. Crop indications as of July 1 were brighter than those a year earlier, and the upward trend in yields is expected to continue.

from the United States, have in effect "balled them out" this year. These consumers unquestionably are grateful that the free world countries, including the United States, have seen fit to share abundant supplies.

U. S. wheat did not provide help which was otherwise unavailable.

The question is asked, "Why ship U. S. wheat to Russia when it helps that country?"

U. S. wheat helps Russia only in the sense that it obtains needed supplies from us—and if we refuse to sell to Russia, it will turn elsewhere for wheat. Canada, Australia, Argentina, and other nations are willing to sell non-strategic commodities to the communist countries. The exporting countries are not likely to alter this point of view. Therefore, we are confronted with the fact that a one-country wheat boycott against Russia cannot hurt Russia—and cannot help us.

Production of livestock and livestock products in January-June, 1964, preiod was four or five percent above last year and is expected to total a little above 1963 during July-December of this year.

Production expenses have been rising steadily in recent years, the economist points out. During the first half of 1964, the index of prices paid by farmers for production items was slightly higher than a year earlier and will remain high during the rest of this year.

Prices received by farmers in the first half of 1964 averaged two percent below last year. For the year as a whole, they are expected to average about three percent below 1963.

Although realized net farm income has remained relatively steady for the past decade, averaging about $12 billion annually, the number of farmers and ranchers has declined steadily from 4.8 in 1954 to 3.5 million at the present. Thus the average income per farm is rising this year to about $3,500 compared with about $2,500 in 1954.

After frequent wear, some sweaters become matted with fuzzy balls. You can remove fuzz from the sweater by brushing it with an emery board or a piece of very fine sandpaper fastened around a block of wood. Of course, the job will be lighter if you get the emery board when you first notice fuzz beginning to collect on the sweater.

Silverton Owls Stun Cyclone 30-22

The Memphis Cyclone came out on the short end of a 30 to 22 football game last Friday night at Silverton, when the Owls took advantage of three Cyclone fumbles to set up scoring plays; and scored the winning TD with only seconds left in the game on a long pass play.

The favored Cyclone found the going rough from the opening series when they lost the ball on a fumble deep in their own end of the field to the last series, when QB "Hoot" Jones was dropped in the end zone for a safety.

The opening minutes of the game was nightmare for the local lads. The Cyclone returned the kickoff to their own 37. QB Jones was dropped for a seven yard loss back to the 30. On the next play, HG Jack Stargel made a good gain but the Cyclone was penalized five yards. Then, trying a pitchout, a Silverton end crashed, slapped the ball down and recovered it on the Memphis 19 yard line.

The fred up Owls drove for one first down to the nine yard line, but were then held. However, on a third down, QB Gray Towe passed to HB Max Garrison for the TD. The same play netted the two points after except the quarterback ran the ball across.

The Cyclone returned the kickoff to their own 38. A penalty was called against Memphis before the ball was snapped, and on the next play, Jack Stargel fumbled the ball and Silverton recovered.

From the Memphis 35, the Owls QB Towe, scored on a quarterback trap through the center of the line, catching the Cyclone defense flatfooted. Towe carried for the two-point conversion and the score was 16-0 with most of the game yet to play.

The Cyclone recovered a short kickoff on the midfield stripe and got their offense rolling for the first time.

Mike Crow carried on three downs making yardage to the Silverton 39. Then, HB Jack Stargel set sail around right end for a 39-yard TD race. A pass from QB Jones to FB Crow was good for two points and the score was 16 to 8, still in the first quarter of play.

Silverton lost the ball to Memphis on down after the kickoff on the Memphis 35. Stargel carried 14 yards to the Memphis 49. Then, HB Melvin Moore raced to the Silverton 40. After Crow had carried for one yard, QB Jimmy Sturdevant raced around left end and went to the Silverton 25 before being knocked out of bounds.

But here, the drive was halted. The obstacle came in the form of penalties, which pushed Memphis back to the midfield stripe. End Jim Odom was called on to punt, and punt he did, into the endzone.

Silverton took over and began one of their longest drives. They marched to the Memphis 6 yard line, where they had first and goal to go. But the Cyclone defense stopped the four efforts, and Memphis took over on their own two.

Trying to move the ball out of the hole, the Cyclone made six yards to the 8 yardline. On a third down, however, a fumble occurred, and Silverton recovered the loose ball on the six yardline.

The Owls tried to run the ball across for two downs, but could not get by the line of scrimmage. Then, on the third, a pass from Towe to end Garner Garrison was good for the score. A pass was incomplete for the PAT.

Memphis took the kickoff, marched down the field to the Silverton 25 but could not muster a scoring play before the half ended.

The third period saw the Cyclone defense unyielding, but their offense unable to work a scoring opportunity until late in the quarter.

The break came about with Silverton on their own 40 and a fourth and five situation. QB Towe was back to punt, but the pass from center was over his head. He ran back to retrieve the ball, but the Cyclone linemen dropped him on the Silverton 15.

From here, QB Sturdevant made two yards to the 13. Then, on an end sweep, H. B. Stargel avoided tacklers and fought his way to the five yardline before being knocked out-of-bounds.

Two quarterback sneaks, the first for three yards, and the second for two yards and a score, completed the scoring drive. Jack Stargel carried for a two-point conversion and the score was 15 to 22.

Beginning the fourth period of play, the Owls moved for one first down to their 39 and then punted to the Memphis 18.

This began the Cyclone last scoring drive. Mike Crow started the drive with a 14-yard carry to the Memphis 32. Then, whittling the yardage away, Crow, Stargel, Sturdevant and Moore, in 10 plays, came up with a scoring effort.

The scoring play was a 14-yard carry by QB Sturdevant around left end. The two-point conversion carry by Jack Stargel fell only inches short and the score was tied 22-22.

The Owls were not satisfied in the closing minutes of the game, they got a drive started from their own 30. Marching down the field they drove to the Cyclone 27. After two pass attempts failed, the Owls went into a spread formation and their end Garner Garrison got behind the Cyclone pass defense and he caught a TD pass from QB Towe for the score.

In the closing seconds of the game, QB Jones of Memphis went back to pass deep, but was thrown for a safety behind the Cyclone goalline for two points. This made the score 30-22.

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGERS
Representative, 18th
Congressional District

Adjournment records for the 88th Congress convened in January, 1965.

The major issue mainly responsible for keeping Congress in Washington as election day approaches is that involving the apportionment of State legislatures. The Supreme Court's decision of June 15, requiring that State legislatures be apportioned on the basis of the "one-man, one-vote" rule, has caused heated controversy. The Senate declined to pass a House-passed bill to block the Federal courts from reapportioning State legislatures in the absence of State action. Instead, the Senate substituted a "sense of Congress" resolution which instructs but does not bind the courts in ruling on reapportionment matters. Still pending before the House is a constitutional amendment to permit representation in one house of two-house legislatures to be based on factors other than population. In my view, approval of an amendment of this type is the way to preserve sound, properly representative State government and to prevent takeovers of State government by centralized, urban factions.

If a sufficient majority cannot be mustered in Congress to send the amendment to the States, then the States themselves should act to force the proposed amendment to a decision. Affirmative action by legislatures in two-thirds of the States could bring about a Constitutional Convention to consider it.

The 88th Congress has put its stamp on history. In my view, no single action of this Congress was more important than enactment of the tax cut. The tax load borne by private citizens and corporations was reduced by $11.5 billion, and the capital thus freed for consumer spending and business investment is making itself felt in contributing to our record economic expansion. Approval of the tax cut was a ringing reaffirmation by Congress of the philosophy behind our free enterprise system—the first action ever by Government to stimulate economic growth by reducing taxes. Other momentous actions of the Congress are too numerous to note here, but I place high up on the list a variety of measures to conserve our land and resources. Among these was the so-called "Wilderness Bill," which will retain in primitive state for generations yet unborn millions of acres of America. Of special importance to the Panhandle were measures to advance construction of the Canadian River Project, to provide a new hospital and other vital facilities at Amarillo Air Force Base, to further progress in soil conservation and agricultural experimentation, to keep foreign beef imports in check.

Down to Earth: Recently Southwestern Public Service Co. dedicated new facilities at Earth, Texas. I was attending this ceremony when a friend called my Washington office from New York. He was informed that I was not in the office but had gone "down to Earth," whereupon he said to the secretary: Is that so—and where are you?"

A person with charm is one who can make another feel that both of them are pretty wonderful people.

Perseverance indicates a strong will; obstinance a strong won't.

Morningside School Wins Fire Inspection Award

The Memphis Volunteer Fire Department conducted their annual junior fire marshals program this week in observance of National Fire Prevention Week. The supplies for the program are furnished each year by Hartford Fire Insurance Company, Dunbar and Dunbar, local agents. Home inspection blanks were passed out last Friday to all third, fourth and fifth grade students in Austin, Morningside, and Travis Elementary schools.

These inspection slips were taken home by the students, filled out and signed by the parents, before being returned. The school with the highest percentage of returns won the Achievement Award, a flag for the school.

This year, the flag was presented to Morningside Elementary school who has a 93.4 percent return. Travis Elementary placed second with a 92.4 percent return.

The Fire Department stated that 286 inspections were made as a result of this program. Junior Fire Marshals badges were given to each student who returned his inspection blank.

For kindergarten, first and second grade students in the three schools, the firemen presented fire prevention literature, and red fire hat, and took them on a ride on the "Big Mack" fire truck Tuesday morning.

Around and About

By HELEN COMBS

One of the most informative speeches we have listened to in a long time was given Monday night at the Lions Club banquet by Mr. Iqbal Sinnh Sekhon, a native of India who is manager of the La Tunisia Restaurant in Dallas. Mr. Sekhon talked for more than an hour and then answered questions for another 30 minutes about his native country.

The problems of India were brought into clear focus through Mr. Sekhon's explanation of the people's deep religious belief and their economic problems. He gave a vivid account of what the government of India is trying to do to improve conditions in the country since gaining its independence in 1947.

They have the people in India up out of the gutter, but where they can take them from here will be determined in the next few years, Mr. Sekhon stated, when asked what he thought was the danger of India going Communist.

When more than one-fifth of the people of a nation have less than one meal a day, it is easy to see how they can be searching for a better way of life. The present democratic government has promised the people better conditions and it will determine to a great extent whether these promises can be fulfilled how the people will respond, he said. Only their deep abiding faith of better things in the world hereafter has made their living conditions bearable in this life, he said.

Mr. Sekhon believes that the salvation of India lies in better and more improved methods of farming and a decline in population through birth control for the nation.

After listening to Mr. Sekhon, we were happy to know that part of our Foreign Aid dollars have been going to India. The United States has sent food to help feed the hungry and is now trying to help India with irrigation and water control problems. This year the country lost a great many acres of crops during the monsoon because they do not have a way to keep the fields from flooding. Their lands are fertile, but their methods of farming are medieval compared to the know-how used in America . . . and they have nearly three times as many people to feed, we learned during Mr. Sekhon's talk. In fact, we learned a lot of things that we hadn't known before about India.

The same thing was true, Mr. Sekhon said when he carried his American wife home to meet his family in India. The people in the village where he lived had never met an American girl . . . their idea of American women was drawn from pictures in the magazines sometimes showing a girl scantily clad with a cigarette in one hand and a cocktail in the other. After meeting Mrs. Sekhon, the image of the American woman is quite different, he stated. For this reason he feels that the Peace Corps will prove to be very effective for the United States in letting people of other nations know what the Americans are really like.

Although we were unable to attend the fall fashion show in Lakeview Monday night, sponsored by the Young Homemakers' Club, we understand it was a most successful event . . . and the models were stunning as they furnished by local merchants. Beautiful stage decorations done by the Lakeview home economics department under the supervision of the instructor, Irie Baker.

Wednesday afternoon Memphis women were privileged to see a most unusual collection of antique jewelry when the Atahua Club entertained with a grand tea at the Community Center. Earl Wyatt, who has an antique shop in Amarillo, was accompanied to Memphis by Bernard man, who is showing the collection of jewelry made up many dealers whom he represents. The collection contained jewelry from all part of the world, the 18th century to the present. Very interesting indeed.

We are happy to report that it is much improved and is home. No doubt he will be and about again in a few days.

Two FFA Boys Named Greenbelt District Officers

Two FFA members, one from Lakeview and one from Memphis, were elected Greenbelt District FFA officers at a Hedley meeting Wednesday, Sept. 30.

Rodney Sams of Lakeview was elected vice-president of the Greenbelt District. Robert Maddox of Memphis FFA was elected treasurer of the district, it was reported.

Attending the meeting and serving as voting delegate for Lakeview FFA were Bob Neal and Johnny Earl Thomas.

Memphis' voting delegates were Carl Houston and Mark Phillips.

S. S. Reminds Maids, Sitters About Rights

"Maids and babysitters—protect your rights." This advice comes from Hal Gelson, social security district manager in Amarillo.

Gelson says that many households and homeowners are unaware that household employees are covered by social security. This and the subsequent failure of employers to make earnings reports have caused many maids and other household employees to lose valuable retirement and disability benefits which were rightfully theirs.

"Household employees" include maids, babysitters, cooks, gardeners, and others who work in or around a private home. Gelson said that each of these persons has a definite responsibility to see that his or her employer makes proper earnings reports. A report is due at the end of any quarter in which the worker is paid as much as $50 in cash by one employer. The social security tax is shared equally by the worker and the employer. The present tax rate is 3/8 percent from each.

To protect your rights to social security benefits, Gelson urges you to get in touch with his office to make sure your employer is making correct reports.

The social security office for this area is located at 1006 Adams Street, Amarillo, Texas.

Lake McClellan To Undergo Rehabilitation

Region I fishery crews will take the first step toward rehabilitating Lake McClellan, 65 miles east of Amarillo on September 29, 1964, by totally destroying existing fish populations with a 5 per cent mixture of rotenone.

Fishery surveys show fish populations in McClellan are made up of 90 per cent rough fish, principally carp and bullhead catfish. Game fish, which total less than 10 per cent, are almost stunted white crappie and sunfish.

The September 29 treatment should be highly successful since the lake is down drawn down for dam repairs and the water is cool enough to assure high kill effects with rotenone on highly resistant species, such as bullhead catfish.

The final step toward renewed good fishing in Lake McClellan will take place in October when 10,000 two-inch largemouth bass and 70,000 two to six-inch channel catfish will be stocked from Federal fish hatcheries.

Lions Banquet—

and are old. There are no homes for the aged citizens in India, but there are homes for the old cows. The homes are maintained through donations.

Most of the people of India do not eat beef; however, the Moslems do. The quality of beef in India is very poor and that shipped in from Australia is not good. There is no cold storage in India and the cows are sick and old. There are no dairies and each family has to keep its own cow for milk.

There is no need for homes for the old citizens in India as all the families live together. Very few women in India work as their place is in the home. "You might call us a backward country, but there are advantages, too. The children are not left to hired help and they grow up with love and understanding. I think that is why America has so much juvenile delinquency because the children are with hired help who do not give them love," the speaker said.

India has a population problem, too. Its population is almost three times that of the United States and still increasing. The biggest increase is in the poorer families.

In India boys and girls do not go to school together, attend the theater, etc. Their mae is chosen with very careful consideration by their parents, he explained.

The girl's family makes the arrangements with the boy's parents, offering a dowry. The young couple do not see each other until after the wedding ceremony. In America the boy and girl marry because they are in love . . . In India the boys and girl love each other because they are married. There is very little divorce in India . . . not at all until recent years. Divorce is "looked down" on in India, he said.

He concluded his address with a demonstration of India's traditional dress. He made a turban for Mr. Maye, and Mrs. Gaston served as a model for the dress worn by the women of India.

A question and answer period followed.

Cyclone Takes

backer Donnie Bridges received a hip muscle injury in the Sanford-Fritch game and he did not see action against Silverton and is still greatly hampered.

Larry Wynn, starting guard, suffered a shoulder injury in the Eagles game and is just now able to workout but no contact.

James Waites, the Cyclone's senior fullback and defensive safety specialist is still on the doubtful list as far as the Wellington match is concerned. Waites underwent surgery early in the season.

Toby Crooks, the starting right halfback, received a knee injury in the Sanford-Fritch contest and is still unable to see action.

Coach Chambliss said these boys will see action in the Wellington contest only if sufficiently recovered and ready. At the best, the coach said, the Cyclones will be below its potential.

Mrs. Lamar West is in the Baylor Hospital where she has been for two weeks taking therapy treatments.
