Memphis Plays Next Two Games Away From Home

District 2-A title race took a turn toward earlier predictions this week with a Clarendon victory over White Deer last Friday, and a Wellington victory over the Bucks Tuesday night.

If Clarendon win the remainder of their games, the Bronchos will represent District 2-A. The hardest game facing the Clarendon lads is with Wellington.

The Memphis-Canadian games last Friday night were called off due to weather conditions. The games will probably be played the night of Feb. 18 at Canadian.

The Cyclone and Cyclonette, along with the B team, will travel to White Deer Friday night for a rematch with White Deer.

Next Tuesday, Memphis will travel to Wellington for games with the red and white clad students.

Tuesday night, the Memphis B team won a 44 to 37 victory over Clarendon's B team to claim the only Memphis victory of the night.

In the girls' game, Clarendon jumped off to an early lead and won the game 53 to 24. Clarendon's Sandra Longan scored 25 points while Janie Watson scored 16 for Memphis.

In the boys game, the Bronchos started the game with hot shooting from outside and ran up a 27 to 14 first quarter lead. Hitting 18 free throws in the first half along with good rebounding by Archie Smith and Odell Lewis and a fine shooting performance by David Mooring, the Bronchos had a 53 to 33 half time lead.

The Cyclone battled all the way but ended up trailing 87 to 57 at the end of the game with the final two points being made by Larry Gaston just as the buzzer sounded. Bobby Carroll had a night for Memphis with 21 points, while Jerry Moss was second high.

Clarendon's David Mooring scored 30 points in the game to lead his team.

Jack Secord Is Guest Speaker At Hall County TSTA Meeting Monday

The Hall County Local Unit of the T.S.T.A. met at Travis Cafeteria Monday night, January 31, for its mid-winter meeting with President C. M. Wooten presiding. Despite fog, the snow covered ground, and bitter cold wind, about 100 teachers, administrators, Parent-Teacher Association officers and guests attended. Mr. Shannon Doss, Superintendent of Memphis Schools, extended a word of welcome, and Neal Hindman, Vocational Agriculture Teacher of Memphis, gave the invocation.

The meal was served buffet style and consisted of fried chicken, mashed potatoes, green beans, green salad, hot rolls, butter, coffee or tea and strawberry short-cake.

The tables were appropriately decorated in miniature snow men and simulated ice and snow tree limbs with the stage in background featuring a beautiful winter scene.

After the dinner hour, Mrs. Patsy Chambliss, Program Chairman, introduced Tommy, Carol and Ginger Greene, Memphis High School students, who entertained the group with vocal music. Susan McQueen played the accompaniment. Mrs. Chamberlain introduced the speaker of the evening and explained Mr. Frank M. Jackson, Executive Secretary of Teacher Retirement, was not present because of illness of Mrs. Jackson, but had sent Mr. Jack Secord, a Texas University student and an employee of the Records Division of Teacher Retirement System.

Mr. Secord ably discussed age and method of calculating benefits for retirement, choice of options, disability benefits, death and survivor benefits.

Miss Ethel Hillhouse, immediate past president of Hall County Unit of T.S.T.A., was presented a pin by C. M. Wooten, president, in appreciation of her services to Over 30 members of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development met this morning with Harry W. Clark, executive director of the Texas Industrial Commission, of Austin.

Following the meeting, held in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, a tour of the Golden Spread Irrigation facilities at the old Waples-Platter building, now occupied by the firm, and the Hall Plant of Postex Cotton Mills, was made.

Mr. Clark also had a luncheon meeting with Memphis men at the De Ville Restaurant before leaving at 1 p. m.

"Competition is real keen for new industries all over the United States," Mr. Clark said. "Last year, in the U. S., there were 1500 new plants built and there were 15,000 groups trying to get them to locate in their area."

Industry is only interested to two things when they seek locations for new plants, he said. There are: to make a profit, and the strength of the intangible factors such as community betterment.

The Texas Industrial Commission is recommending a five-point program to communities interested in acquiring new industry. The points all need to be carried out at the same time for the program to be effective, Clark said.

First, the community betterment program must be continued by city governments and the chamber of commerce. This is a big program which is vital if industry is to be attracted to the city, the director stated.

Secondly, the research and analysis program must be brought up to date and added to continually. Studies concerning natural resources, labor available, etc., are vital in talking to prospects.

Financing is also most important. Industries are interested in cities where money is available at the most attractive terms.

"The fourth point is the availability of sites. Merchandising of land and the exploiting of industrial prospects is the worst thing a community can do. Many industries locate in cities where good

After some three weeks of real weather, this Thursday morning the temperature started early at 49 degrees, with a promise tomorrow will be about the same. Well, we shouldn't grumble not much moisture went down because the ground is so dry, and most of the moisture from the snow went into the soil.

Really, moisture comes from the sky for planting. Last year's moisture came in dribs and drabs and the crops had to be made long, hot weather. Then for months lasted up to the end of 1965, which helped crops mature. That is why the Panhandle country keeps all of us wondering what is to happen next.

A paper sack, that is 50 years old or more, was brought in by Mrs. Gable. His father, J. E. Gable, was part owner of the store in the White Rose Cafe at his brother, Ben Gable. The sack had the following advertisement printed thereon: "Parity Bread, made clean, had clean, sold clean, 5 cents loaf. Parity Bakery, Memphis, Tenn."

Don Baldwin tells me that he is building a lot trying to remember all the business men who occupied the buildings on the north of the square, back ground front of 1900. Some of the buildings are to be torn down and a new building is to be erected and occupied by the First National Bank. Speaking about the National, that business is 66 years old. . . During the past few years, a lot of changes have been made, and to betterment of the City of Memphis. . . And that is really a starting point — for none of what is in store for making Memphis one of the best Panhandle cities.

Plans Made On Special Reading Workshop Here

A workshop, open to the general public, but primarily for special reading teachers of the school districts participating in Area IV of Panhandle Educational Services Organization will be held all day Friday, beginning at 9 a. m. and concluding at 4 p. m. in Memphis High School cafeteria room.

Mack A. Bush, unit coordinator of Area IV of PESO, said 18 special reading teachers from Memphis, Wellington, Lakeview, Dodson, Turkey, Estelline, Clarendon, Matador, and Roaring Springs will attend the workshop.

There are 11 participating schools in Area IV of PESO, Mr. Bush said. Besides those listed above, there are Samnorwood and Quail.

A coffee at 9 a. m. will kick-off the workshop tomorrow, Mr. Bush said. A representative from Sound-Photo Company will demonstrate reading machines and materials to be used in special reading classes begun in schools under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965.

The Panhandle Educational Services Organization (PESO) is established to serve the participating schools in the Panhandle and South Plains of Texas in their efforts to implement intelligently the provisions of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965. PESO is a agency of the West Texas State University designed to perform central services for participating schools.

Mr. Bush has established his office in Memphis High School; although he resides in Wellington. He has been hired by the controlling board (composed of the superintendents of the participating schools) of Area IV. Mrs. Nelda Askey of Estelline is serving as secretary to the unit coordinator.

Mr. Bush has had 14 years in the school profession, serving as superintendent of Hedley Schools, a high school and junior high principal of Wellington schools, an elementary principal of Children's schools, and a classroom teacher in Panhandle and Children's schools.

He worked two years as educational representative of Compton's Encyclopedia and worked with summer reading workshops at Midwestern University, Sul Ross College, Howard Payne College and West Texas State.

Title I Money

All four Hall County schools are participating in FESO and the Title One, E.S.E.A. of 1965. The Federal Government appropriated a total of $91,254.47 to the four county schools under the act. Memphis has $45,238.00; Lakeview, $29,833.47; Turkey, $7,799.00; and Estelline, $8,384.00.

Title One money can be spent for teachers' salaries, equipment, supplies and materials, and administration, Mr. Bush said, on special projects designed to help all children needing special help.

Participating schools are setting up special reading classes at the elementary and junior high school levels for students which have reading or comprehension difficulties. Classes are small in number and numerous teaching aids and interesting activities make reading classes more stimulating for students.

To be on display at the workshop will be film slide projectors, which can be regulated to determine the number of words a student reads per minute, and several other items of equipment.

Special Teachers
There have been nine special reading teachers employed by the four Hall County schools. They are as follows:

In Memphis, Mrs. Jack B. Boone and Mrs. Robert L. Moss are teaching special reading in Junior High School, Mrs. Richard Avery and Mrs. Dale Connally are teaching in Travis Elementary, and Miss Zady Belle Walker is teaching special reading in Stephen F. Austin Elementary.

In the Turkey School system, Mrs. Ann Coker is the special reading teacher.

At Lakeview, Mrs. Nathan Hughes and Mrs. Anna May Foster are the special reading teachers.

Mrs. Pattie Nivens is the special reading teacher in the Estelline Schools.

Probe For Peace Continues

The massive probe for peace still continues this week as officials of our government and other governments over the world try to find some hope in peace efforts, but the Viet Cong and the Chinese Communists still protest and say that the only solution is for us to get out and let them have South Viet Nam. This is not a peace proposal by the Viet Cong but a full-fledged surrender ultimatum. This is just a clear example of creeping aggression on the part of the Red Communists of Russia and China in their eternal bid for world domination. Our government this week has gone before the United Nations Security Council to open the worldwide debate in hopes that some permanent peace proposal could be worked out.

Red China has pledged all-out support in continued efforts to North Viet Nam and neither the Viet Cong or the Red Chinese are interested in anything but continued fighting to win the South Viet Nam country from the U. S. imperialists. It was for this aim the Viet Cong infiltrated the South Viet Nam country in the first place, with aims to bring them into the Red fold as another step toward an all-Red Communist controlled world.

The massive probe for peace now underway by the American government is the one for individual citizens to take a responsible part in the resolution of people. Every serious and honest move for peace can be given tremendous impetus by individual support of such citizens.

Christians have publicly and privately, individually and collectively, said that they believe in peace and have urged their governments to negotiate a peace. Whether or not a peace can be negotiated depends a great deal on the support given the peace effort.

The Communists are trying to increase pressure in the hope that our nation will give up hope of finding a peace and surrendering the freedom of the South Viet Nam.

If Christians really believe that peace is better than war, it is time to speak out in support of their government's peace efforts. There are more than 123 million Christians in the United States. This is 54 per cent of the population. The strength of an individual conviction empowered by faith and multiplied by 123 million can make the difference between world peace and world war.

Over the many, many thousands of years of man's existence on this planet, wars have been fought and many were not stopped until one side or the other was unable to fight any more, and the conquering army claimed the spoils. There was no peace then, only the victor and the vanquished.

J. Edgar Hoover Comments

"Today, our priceless heritage of freedom is under relentless attack both at home and abroad." The words are those of J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation taken from an address recently made on his being awarded the Grand Cross of the Scottish Rite. He went on to detail where attacks of various kinds are being made—in southeast Asia, in Europe and the Near East, Central and South America. In all these vast areas, it has been necessary to use American power in efforts to stem the communist tide.

And here at home the communist problem is not, Mr. Hoover obviously believes, a small one. "Communism," he says, "is a vast international conspiracy which today dominates one-third of the earth's people. Here, in our own country, that conspiracy is represented by the Communist Party, U. S. A., a bold and defiant band of anti-American turncoats whose operations are directed and controlled by the Kremlin in Moscow."

Mr. Hoover flatly denies that communism is a legitimate political organization. As he sees it, the party constitutes a foreign outpost on our shores. He cites, in evidence, such communist objectives as withdrawal from South Viet Nam, non-interference with communist terrorism in Santo Domingo, and appeasement of the whole Marxist world.

In this country, Mr. Hoover reports, the communist are especially eager to win recruits among American youth and are confident they can do so. The party has placed heavy emphasis on campus speech programs in which skilled speakers woo young people. He gives several examples. In one case, the speaker told his young audience the Berlin Wall had been built to hold back undesirables from the West who were infiltrating East Germany!

Mr. Hoover adds that "it is one of the glaring contradictions of our day that the same Communist spokesmen who are so glibtongued in their appearances before groups of college students immediately lose their voice when placed under oath in a court of law or before a committee of Congress. They always take refuge behind the fifth amendment. Our moral atmosphere would be better if they knew as much about the Ten Commandments."

The substance of his address is that we must choose between law and anarchy, freedom and chaos. He finds danger signs that this country is being swept by an epidemic of spiritual malnutrition. The massive increase in crime is certainly an indication of that. He sees grave weaknesses in the operation of the courts. Too many of our judges seek out technicalities rather than guilt or innocence.

His answer is suggested in these words: "Faith is our mainstay in the ideological struggle now raging between the camps of godless communism and human freedom."

"And faith remains our strongest bulwark against the criminal and subversive enemies who would destroy our priceless heritage of liberty and justice for all. But faith without work will be of no avail—there must be unity of purpose."

"America will continue to progress in dignity and freedom so long as our people cherish liberty and justice and truth and honor God." —Morton Tribune.

What Other Editors Say

The Teacher Image!

We have read a most interesting article lately, written by a veteran teacher, which is presented as a formula by which schools might do a better job of getting and keeping teachers.

The problem of getting and keeping good teachers has always been with us, and with the great expansion in the scholastic population, the need for teachers was never greater.

In Texas, in order to get and keep good teachers, we had a pay raise which went into effect last year, but this veteran teacher before his article by discounting the theory that more money is all that would be needed to attract superior people to the teaching profession.

The reason most such people won't want to be teachers, he says, is that "it is an automatic demotion, socially speaking." If this stuns you, read on.

The article says that a satisfied teacher has to feel that he is successful, not only in the matter of grade, but also in the matter of a nice home, good car, money for travel, good clothes, etc.

And, the teacher, being only human, requires a height "image"—the enjoyment in the eyes of the community, the students and other teachers of at least a semblance of importance.

It may never occur to most people, but, as this teacher points out, members of his profession are allowed few of the prestige symbols of other jobs, an office, a phone, a name on the door. Successful people in other professions have respect, privilege, recognition and some privacy.

We don't know this veteran teacher. He is quoted in the Ft. Worth Star Telegram as a man who has something worth listening to by the people who find the bills for the public schools and school teacher salaries.

This teacher, like a great many more teachers, has been listening to the members of his profession instead of getting outside of it for a look around. He will find that school teachers most certainly do not suffer "an automatic demotion, socially speaking."

And he will find that the school teachers that deserve it also have an "image" that commands respect. With the current salary schedule, today's school teacher is able to enjoy a great many comforts of life and the teachers that we know are well clothed, well fed, and live in comfortable homes.

The trouble with too many school teachers is that the complaints about their low pay in terms of comparing it with the income of doctors, dentists, lawyers and bankers instead of doctors, dentists, insurance salesmen, newspaper people and others whose education might be on a par with that of teachers. We don't all make pay incomes.

There are plenty of people in every community with college degrees who do not find these pieces of paper a magic passport to easy living. Teachers who whine and tell each other how poor they are sometimes actually get to believing it and there's nothing worse than a person in any field that saturates himself with self pity.

The teaching profession is an honorable one, a rewarding one and in this community at least, a highly respected one. One of our leading bankers in Prepton says that he has never lost a dollar on a loan to a school teacher and this fact alone ought to make school teacher's standing soar high as the moon.

School teachers can do something themselves to boost the prestige of their job, if they are worried about it. They can do so not only by better preparing themselves in their field and striving constantly to keep abreast of new developments and techniques. They can stand up for improved curricula, reasonable classroom loads and sensible methods.

But they will achieve respect when they respect themselves; will some day realize that they have "image" in the eyes of the youngsters that the rest of us will never experience. Teachers ought to be glad that they can teach. It's a skill not given to everybody. —Schilbess County Herald.

On Quitting Football

Little clinics have a way of getting around the country into dozens, scores or even hundreds of newspapers. This is one.

A pastor announced to his congregation that never again will he attend a football game. His members were left speechless by this announcement, and he gave these reasons for quitting football.

1. Every time I went to a game somebody always asked for money.

2. Although I went to the games quite often, no one ever came over and spoke to me or tried to make me feel welcome.

3. I was a good fan, but the coach never once came to my home and talked to me.

4. The seats were too hard.

5. The referee said things that I couldn't agree with.

6. I suspected I was sitting with people who were hypocrites; they seemed more interested in betting odds and the band and the other spectators than they did in the game.

7. The band always played the same old tunes.

8. Since buying a look at football, I stay at home and read it. I consider myself just as good a football fan as those who attend the games.—Liberty Vindicator.

One thing can be said for multi-married women, they are well groomed.

Intermediation seems to be a bigger reason for dismissal than inefficiency.

Nuevo Study Club Of Turkey Has All Day Meeting

The Nuevo Study Club of Turkey met Thursday, Jan. 27, for their all-day meeting in the home of Mrs. J. R. Adamson, Jr., with Mrs. J. R. Adamson, Sr., as hostess.

At noon a meal of southern baked ham, green string beans, candied sweet potatoes, jello salad, fruit salad, stripped olives, butter, rolls, coffee and tea with apple pie and whipped cream were served to fifteen members and two guests.

In the afternoon, Mrs. Bert Degan, president, presided during the business session. Officers were then elected for the club year 1966-67.

The new officers are as follows: Mrs. Gordon Bain, president; Mrs. R. C. Green, vice president; Mrs. Goldie Russell, recording secretary; Mrs. Alga Turner, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Bert Degan, treasurer; Mrs. Abe Vinyard, parliamentarian; Mrs. J. E. Barnhill, Federation counselor; Mrs. Curtis Tunnell, press reporter. The new officers will be installed at the last meeting in May.

The program for the afternoon was led by Mrs. J. R. Adamson, Sr., who gave the devotional. Her text was taken from Philippians 3:13, 14.

Roll call was answered by original poems on food.

The program leader then introduced Mrs. Gordon Bain, who gave a most interesting and inspiring book review, "Seven Tears of Opolo", by Phyllis A. Whitney.

The program closed with a poem, "My Sister", given by Mrs. Bert Degan. She dedicated it to her sister, Mrs. Gordon Bain.

During the social hour, refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Adamson, to the following members: Mmes. Abe Vinyard, Bert Degan, Gordon Bain, Roy Russell, Roy Fuston, Curtis Tunnell, J. R. Nall, J. E. Barnhill, M. T. Blume, Alga Turner, U. F. Coker, Sr., Lillie Lacy, Goldie Russell, R. C. Green, and guests, Mmes. J. R. Adamson, Jr., and Erma Piercy.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. J. R. Nall on February 10.

Mrs. Harrison Gives Play Review At Theater Meet

The Little Theatre met in the home of Mary Lee Fields with Annette Boswell as co-hostess on Wednesday afternoon.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Boswell, and immediately turned to Mary Helen Sexauer to introduce the program, a play review by Peaches Harrison.

In her inimitable manner, Mrs. Harrison reviewed "Barefoot in the Park" by Neil Simon. She said, "This is a comedy that critics hailed as a real hit on Broadway. The locale is a large one-room apartment on the top floor of a brownstone house on East Forty-eighth Street off Third Avenue in New York City."

"After a six day honeymoon a spanking new lawyer, who has just won his first case (6 cents in damages), and his young bride, who is as pretty and addled as they come, moved into the new high-rent apartment that she has chosen for them. But the difficulty is, in order to enjoy the charming character of the apartment one has to climb six wheezing flights to get to it. And not only that, but the apartment is absolutely bare of furniture, the paint job came out all wrong, the skylight leaks snow, there isn't room for a double bed, and an outlandish gourmet who lives in a loft on the roof and uses it and the window ledge as the only access to his padlocked premises," she related.

"The situation is enough to break the heart and burst the lungs of any stylish young lawyer; and indeed it does, on the night he flatly refuses to join his wife in a barefoot walk through the snow in the park. She kicks him out, but he comes back—not for reconciliation, but because he figures that since he's paying the rent she should be the one to go. But the young wife is so happy to see him she gathers him in her arms and happiness is reborn," Mrs. Harrison concludes.

Mrs. Boswell presided over a brief business meeting and the officers for 1966-67 were elected, as follows: Mrs. Sexauer, president, Mildred Stephens, vice president, Toni Goodnight, treasurer, Monta June Harrell, recording secretary, Bettye Smith, reporter, JoAnn Crawford, critic and parliamentarian, and Virginia Browder, director.

Culture Club Meets In Home Of Mrs. G. T. Moss

The Woman's Culture Club met January 19 in the home of Mrs. G. T. Moss.

The devotional, "The Book," was given by Mrs. Frank Ellis. Mrs. Ellis stated, "The Bible is the book of the ages; is food for the soul, divinely inspired, and is a light in darkness." She continued, "God's word is mighty in its influence, crushing word is mighty in its influence, crushing as a hammer, has saving power, is a defensive weapon, a probing instrument, and was written with a purpose."

She concluded, "The Bible gives knowledge of eternal life, is absolutely trustworthy, is profitable for instruction, and is part of the law."

Mrs. Frank Ellis, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Clifford Farmer, who reviewed "Walnut Grove" by Jane Gilmore Rushing for guests and club members in a most entertaining way.

Mrs. Farmer stated that Jan Gilmore Rushing is a West Texas girl, married to a professor at Texas Tech, Lubbock, has a small son, and "Walnut Grove" is her first book. It has been out about a year.

"Walnut Grove" is the story of John Carlile as he grew into manhood in a pioneer town in West Texas when the century was young. His experiences and problems were intimately related to the town's growth and to the good and evil that were always mixed in what happened.

Cotton was taking the place of cattle, and farmers like John's father gambled on winning a livelihood from the soil; but a prolonged drought threatened to make the struggle hopeless, and underscored John's passionate attachment to the land with fear that he might have to leave it.

While the establishment of the first school opened new horizons for John, it also introduced him to cruelty and the torment of a young teacher that was not to be forgotten. His grandmother's yearning for the more civilized ways she had known back home; his sister's desperate desire for marriage, which she believed was her only way to find freedom; a neighbor's carefully guarded secret; delicious refreshments were served to the following: Tomacile Greene, Nell Beeson, Robbie Doss, Helen Combs, Shirley Miller, Helen Phelps, Lottie Kinard, Emma Deaver, Sexauer, Boswell, Stephens, Smith, Goodnight, Harrell, Crawford, Browder, Harrison, and the hostesses.

PLANS MAY WEDDING—Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Childress announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Tanya Eugenia, to Carl Lee May, son of Mrs. Carroll Byrd of Childress. The wedding is a May event in the Church of Christ at Childress. Mr. May graduated in 1964 from Childress schools and more at Texas Technological College majoring in education. Mr. Lee was a 1962 honor graduate of Childress High School and is a chemical engineering student at Texas Tech. He is the grandson of Mrs. I. D. May and the late Mr. Mullin of Turkey and Mr. and Mrs. Lee, Sr., of Middlesboro, Ky.

ret; his ambiguous relationship sweetheart—all are part of John's story.

During the social hour refreshments were served to guests, Mrs. Charlie Chambliss, Mrs. Stacey Waites and Mrs. Robert Clark; members, Mmes. R. E. Clark, Guy Cox, Frank Ellis, Clifford Farmer, Bert Glascock, Ward Gurley, Jeanette Irons, Robert Moss, L. G. Rasco, Misses Sybil Gurley and Alma Bruce, and the hostess, Mrs. G. T. Moss.

TNH Association Meets In Amarillo; Officers Elected

The Golden Spread Chapter of the Texas Nursing Home Association met for dinner, a program and election of officers on Thursday evening, January 27, at Shirley's Restaurant in Amarillo.

Jack Rude, president, called the meeting to order and introduced the speakers, Phil Martin and Jim Hudson with the Lilly Drug Corporation.

Mr. Martin said they were both licensed pharmacists and travel throughout the Panhandle. He discussed drugs, their handling, rules for keeping drugs in nursing homes, records of such drugs, who may dispense them and that this must be done under the direction of the family physician. Nursing homes let the family choose the doctor and the drug store and under no circumstance is a medication to be given unless ordered by the doctor. The doctor will visit the nursing home from time to time to determine if a medication is to be discontinued or continued or if another medication would serve better. Most patients in nursing homes take a terrific amount of medications and often compare what or how many they take to other patients.

Questions were also answered from the floor.

Charles Martin, a director in TNHA, presided over the election of officers and officers elected were Mr. Rude, president; Loyd Nollner, vice president; Eugene Thompson, secretary-treasurer, and Mildred Stephens, reporter.

Nursing homes represented were Vivians, Mr. and Mrs. Rude, Amarillo; Thurmans, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Hohgood, Miss Willie Frances Hutchinson, Hutchinson Convalescent Nursing Home, Amos Griffith, Amarillo, Cousins Home, Mrs. Mildred Stephens, Memphis, Abraham Memorial Home, Eugene Thompson, Canadian and Moore Convalescent Home, Clarendon, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Moore.

The next meeting will be February 24 at Shirley's Restaurant at 7:00 p. m., Amarillo.

Visiting with Mrs. R. H. Wherry over the weekend were her grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mundy of Canyon.

Mrs. Arlis McBee, Lisa and David visited with Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Lindsey Sunday.

Never A Dull Moment

Memphis Cotton Classing Office Has Numerous Unexpected Visitors

K. E. Voelkel, officer in charge of the USDA Cotton Classing Office, here, completed final chores Monday and closed the seasonal office until next fall.

Mr. Voelkel, in an interview Monday before leaving Memphis, said the office never had a dull moment and recalled several humorous incidents which occurred to liven things up.

"Being located near a small slaughter pen and frozen food locker, which is slightly in back of the classing office building on the Hollis, Okla., highway makes for some interesting visitors," he said.

walked into the front office and noticing the 'pigeon holes' on the counter (for Form 1 Card pickup) asked to purchase a money order. Soon thereafter, two other individuals walked in and inquired whether we still had some sweet bread and chitterlings.

"Last week a large fellow came in and wanted to know some more about the bull he had to sell. We assured him that he was in the wrong place even though we sometimes were inclined to 'sing the bull'."

The USDA Cotton Classing Office classed almost 200,000 samples during the three and a half months it was open from the 12-county area it serves. "Mrs. Voelkel and I feel that we would be very amiss if we did not make an attempt to say thank you to all the wonderful people of Memphis and surrounding area for their many kindnesses, hospitality, and interest in our behalf. Our emotions are mixed—it is always good to go home to Austin, but on the other hand Memphis is

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGERS
Representative, 18th
Congressional District

responsibility of Congress sound laws. The responsibility of departments and agencies of the Executive Branch is to execute those laws well—and in the intention of Congress. Good lawmaking is not a matter of bureaucratic bumbling, management, or deliberate undermining. As I have noted of Congress is sometimes at fault in passing legislation so that too many decisions are left to the discretion of administrators, who have been known to abuse their powers. And Congress is victimized by deliberate distortions of the law intended under new laws. In this case in point, I cite the program enacted last summer by the Department of Agriculture administering this new program in such a way that substantial numbers of farmers are being denied their pocketbooks—and never the intent of Congress in passing the farm bill. The problem has developed because of rules and regulations by the Agriculture Department.

for enactment of the new farm program, that of maintaining farm income, the effect on feed grain producers and others in the grain trade has been the direct opposite. An evaluation of regulations issued to county ASC committees on November 19 made it clear that grain sorghum producers would face an average loss in total gross income of about $3 per base acre. Soon after that, I and other Members of Congress made strong protests to Secretary Freeman asking that an adjustment be made in regulations. However, nothing has been done—and no explanation has been forthcoming.

Part of the problem lies in rules issued by the Department concerning the common High Plains conservation practice of skip-row cotton planting. Grain sorghum crops were planted, under past practices, in the "skip-row" land—the land left fallow between two or more rows of cotton—and the practice was a sound, economical one from several standpoints. The Department's change in regulations in the way this land is measured for participation in farm programs is having a serious effect on the producers. Department officials were well aware of the problem the change would cause; they were also aware that the stated intent of Congress was that no such change be made. Votes were won for the farm bill with the understanding that proposed changes in skip-row rules would be dropped. In acting on the Agriculture Department appropriations for this fiscal year, the House Appropriations Committee stated in its report, "In the opinion of a majority of the Committee, the adoption of such changes would be a definite step backward, since it would result in a failure to fully utilize the results of extensive research in this area." In addition, informal assurances were given Members of Congress by Department officials that no skip-row rule changes would be made.

Secretary Freeman can make the farm program work as Congress intended. If he does not, I predict that Congress will reopen its debate on farm legislation—and that an increasing chorus of voices will be heard from Capitol Hill asking for Secretary Freeman's resignation.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

In behalf of the Cotton Division, I want to express appreciation to you for giving the weekly cotton quality and office activity reports front page coverage in your fine publication. Also, thanks for the excellent cooperation that you have always given the classing office.

You will recall that in the December 23, 1965 issue of the Democrat, you carried a series of pictures which explained in detail, and very vividly, the various operations of the classing office. This picture story received very favorable comments and below I am quoting two of the sources: E. M. Byrnes, Head, Market News Section, Cotton Division, Memphis, Tenn.—"Thank you very much for the copy of the series of fine photographs which were carried in the December 23 issue of 'The Memphis Democrat.' It was very considerate of you to send these to us and it surely demonstrates that you are continuing the outstanding job of public relations that you have always performed." Harold C. Bryson, Chief, Southwestern Area Information Division, Consumer and Marketing Service, Dallas, Texas—"Let me congratulate the Memphis Cotton Classing Office on the set of 7 pictures in the December Memphis Democrat. What a good story they tell about your operations. As you can see from the enclosed memo, we have sent the clippings you sent us to Washington. Would you send us a complete Democrat 23 Memphis Democrat so we can use it as an exhibit of good information work in our next marketing seminar?"

Also, I want to thank you for your letter of January 21 and the fine comments concerning our weekly releases.

What's the best 5-letter word for fertilizer?

And for wheat — NIPAK 45.

Get better wheat crops and earn bigger profits. Topdress your wheat with Nipak 45 right now — for greater yield and higher protein. Nipak 45 — 45% nitrogen fertilizer from Urea — gives you one-third more nitrogen per pound than any other form of solid nitrogen fertilizer — which enables you to handle less fertilizer and cover more ground in less time. Nipak 45 is uniformly prilled, too. It flows easily, won't cake, clog — or corrode your equipment. Nipak also dissolves in the soil moisture and moves quickly to the root zone where it stays put until your crops need it. So for more grow power, ask your local Nipak dealer about Nipak 45. He can help you plan a complete fertilizer program because he can provide a complete fertilizer service.

Quivira Girl Scout Council Elects Officers

The annual dinner meeting of the Quivira Girl Scout Council was held Tuesday, January 25, at 7:00 p. m. in the First Methodist Church, Pampa.

Mrs. J. R. Holloway, president of the council, presided. The flag was presented by Cadette Troop 14, Mrs. E. A. McLannan, leader. Kay Ann Porter of the Senior Scouts from Shamrock gave a reading, "Are We Waving the Flag Too Much?"

Following dinner, Mrs. John Porter, second vice-president from Shamrock, gave the welcome and introduction. Reverend Harry Vanderpool, minister of the First Methodist Church, was the guest speaker.

Officers elected for 1966-1967 are: Mrs. J. P. Long of Fritch, president; Mrs. John Porter of Shamrock, first vice-president; Mrs. James C. Crouch of Pampa, second vice-president; Mrs. Fred Tinsley of Pampa, secretary; Mr. Lawrence Neece of Clarendon, member-at-large; Mrs. Pat Bryan of Borger, district I chairman; and Mr. J. P. Long of Fritch, Mrs. Marcel A. Poulain of Phillips, Mr. Francis Cox of Lefors, Mr. Cecil Smyth of Miami, Mr. George Setliff of Turkey, and Mrs. Jack Woodruff of Shamrock, all elected to serve on the nominating committee. Mrs. Roland Allen of Borger installed the new officers.

Awards were presented to: Mrs. J. R. Holloway, outgoing council president; Mrs. James Crouch and Cecil Batton of Spearman. Outgoing board and nominating committee members receiving certificates of appreciation were: Mrs. Jim Wheeler of Borger, Sid Talley of Miami, Mrs. Donald Vealner of Shamrock, and T. M. Whiteley of Pampa.

Also receiving certificates were: Paul Mariner and Pat Rion of Borger; Mr. Jack Skelly, Jack Ross, Mrs. Eugene Turner, Jim White, and Mrs. John Brewer of Pampa; Mrs. Elmont Branigan and The Memphis Democrat of Memphis; and Mr. R. L. Roberts of Shamrock.

Mrs. Elmont Branigan, trainer of the Roundup Patrol, was unable to attend because of inclement weather. The Roundup Girls present told of some of their experiences at 1965 Roundup held at Farragut, Idaho, and Mrs. C. L. Garrett of Phillips, who also accompanied the girls to Roundup, showed movies of the event.

The Quivira Girl Scout Council covers a ten-county area—Gray, Hutchinson, Carson, Roberts, Hemphill, Wheeler, Armstrong, Donley, Collingsworth and Hall, with headquarters in Pampa. Most of this area was represented at the annual meeting. There are approximately 400 adults registered with the council serving about 1,700 girls between the ages of 7 and 17. The Girl Scout program adapts activities related to the arts, the home and the out-of-doors to the changing interests and needs of girls from 7 through 17.

No Broken Egg Worries
Best way to carry eggs to camp is to break them in a jar or leak-proof plastic container and carry them in your cooler. Then you don't have to worry about breakage.

Our looking into the subject of disease and medicine brings to mind a whimsically philosophic bit as follows:

You have two chances . . . one of getting the germ and one of not. And if you get the germ . . . you have two chances. One of getting the disease and one of not. And if you get the disease . . . you have two chances, one of dying and one of not. And if you die, you still have two chances.

Six Memphis Men Attend WT Ind. Conference

Six Memphis representatives attended the Annual West Texas Chamber of Commerce Industrial Conference in Wichita Falls Tuesday. The Conference, held in the Clark Student Center, Midwestern University, attracted nearly 300 from West Texas towns. Those from Memphis were H. J. Howell, Robert Philpot, Wayne Goodrum, Homer Tucker, Wendell Harrison and Clifford Farmer.

The theme of the meeting was "Industry, a Gold Mine in Every Back Yard". Speakers included Harry Clark of the Texas Industrial Commission and a number of manufacturers who are now operating plants in West Texas.

Quitaque Boys, Estelline Girls Still Lead District

Possibly the most important thing developing in District 9-B basketball all season is the Estelline-Quitaque girls battle which now has seen split games, but the Estelline girls are still on top in district standings.

Last Friday night, the Quitaque girls edged Estelline out of the undefeated ranks with a 61 to 59 victory.

The Bearettes held a comfortable 21-13 first quarter lead but had to battle to a 34 to 42 half-time edge. The third period saw Quitaque capture a 5-point edge, 48 to 43. Patricia Brunson scored 31 points of Quitaque while Estelline's Cheri Rapp scored 29 points.

Estelline has lost to Quitaque, but Quitaque has been defeated by Estelline (first round) and Matador girls, so they are one game back.

The Quitaque boys continued their undefeated string with a lopsided 116 to 50 victory over Estelline. Joe Lucero had 19 points for Quitaque while Jimmy Adeock scored 16 for Estelline.

Friday night, Lakeview boys defeated Flomot, but the Lakeview girls were defeated by Flomot in games played at Flomot.

Tuesday night, Estelline girls and Turkey boys were the two winning teams. The Turkey boys downed Estelline 67 to 31 with Danny Longbine scoring 9 points for Estelline and Turkey's Jerry Lane scoring 13 points for Turkey.

In the girls game, Estelline took a 23 to 7 lead over Turkey in the first period of play and won the game 57 to 37. Jane Helm and Cheri Rapp each scored 21 points while Turkey's Cathy Wedge scored 16 points.

The Lakeview boys played Quitaque a good game but had a cold spot in the fourth period, losing the contest 75 to 58. In the girls game, Quitaque won a 52 to 33 decision.

Games Scheduled
Lakeview will play hosts to Estelline Friday night, the schedule shows and then Saturday night a make-up game between Lakeview and Turkey will be played at Turkey gymnasium. Matador, Lakeview and Turkey boys are all vying for the second place position in the district.

Estelline is scheduled to play the make up game with Matador next Tuesday night.

Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, Turkey gymnasium will be the scene for the District 9-B boys tournament.

Friday night Turkey is scheduled to play Flomot there and then on Monday night, Feb. 7, Turkey will play hosts to Quitaque at Turkey.

These games will round out the round robin portion of district play.

Hall County Singers To Meet Sunday

The Hall County Singing Association will meet Sunday at 2 p. m. in the First Christian Church for the regular monthly singing.

Mrs. Amos Weddel, secretary announced this week. Some of the members have been meeting recently to practice songs in the new hymn book so we are looking forward to some good singing, she said.

Curtis O. Tunnell, Justice of the Peace, Prec. 4.

Chairman Jones also stated that most members of the Hall County Democratic Executive Committee had filed applications to have their names placed on the ballot. He added that this body will determine whose names go on the party primary ballot, and the amount of assessments to each candidate. Also, they will canvass the results of the two Democratic primaries and shall determine which candidates shall be certified as the party nominees.

land is available at a reasonable price, usually less than $1,000 per acre," Clark said.

The fifth point is finding prospects. The best prospects are those who are already located in your town. Communities should make every effort to enlarge those industries they already have, and encourage them with whatever help they need, he said.

"The second best prospects are the men with ideas that can be manufactured and sold. The third best prospects are the allies of the community, the utilities companies, and others, always interested in seeing your community grow," he added.

H. J. Howell, chairman of the industrial committee of the chamber, presided at the meeting and introduced Mr. Clark and Don R. Raburn, industrial development consultant, who is traveling with him.

dle cities—not in number of citizens, but one that will be looked upon as beautiful and pleasant where people like to make their home. Business, social, schools, churches, and superior — laugh that off, if you dare.

Tuesday morning, Mister Ground Hog showed up and saw his shadow. Then the sun became clouded. His shadow meant that we would have six more weeks of wintery weather.

If there is such an animal, I haven't met the gentleman. I have seen lots of prairie dogs—they get underground quickly. And there are badgers, and when one goes under, just try to pull one out with a lasso—he'll break the rope.

CARD OF THANKS

We thank Dr. Goodall, the nurses and staff at the Hall County Hospital for the kindness shown to us during the illness and passing of our loved one, and to all who came to our assistance in any way, and for the beautiful flowers and the wonderful food.

We will always remember you.
