Estelline Bearettes Win Dist. 10-B

The Estelline Bearettes cager team took home the District 10-B basketball trophy and championship Saturday night the second straight year, when a fourth quarter rally carried them to a 52 to 39 victory over the battling Matador girls in a packed gymnasium at Turkey.

The Turkey gymnasium was the scene for the District 10-B girls tournament last weekend and Saturday night, basketball fans literally packed the gymnasium, eliminating all the standing room around the court.

Matador fans found plenty to cheer about as their improved girls team kept pace with the favored Bearettes until early in the fourth quarter. The third quarter ended with Estelline holding a 35 to 34 edge with several of the Bearettes regulars having foul trouble which could force them out of the game.

But when the fourth quarter got underway an adjustment in the Bearettes offensive tactics kept Matador's guards off balance and the Bearettes rocketed to a decisive victory, without losing any regulars via the foul route.

Cherri Rapp scored 38 points for the Bearettes while Matador's Karol King scored 17 points. King had a fine night shooting hook shots.

All-District Honors

Turkey Superintendent Loren Denton announced six girls who were chosen all district after the tournament was over. Those named were: forwards, Ruby Storey of Matador, Cherri Rapp of Estelline and Jane Helm of Estelline; guards, Hattie Morris of Turkey, Sherry Angell of Estelline and Frances Martin of Matador.

In the first game, Turkey girls defeated Lakeview girls for the tournament third place honors by a score of 46 to 33.

Lakeview led 14 to 11 at the end of the first quarter but trailed at halftime 32 to 21.

Arnold scored 22 points for Turkey to lead her team in scoring while Tonda Hatley scored 13 and Landa Berry scored 12 for Lakeview.

Bi-District Game

Estelline girls will meet the winner of the Samnorwood-Groom girls play-off game which will be played tonight at Clarendon.

Coach Jimmy Don Adams said that the Bi-District game will probably be played next Tuesday night, or early next week, on a neutral court to be decided upon by the two schools.

The Estelline girls played a practice game with the winning team of District 2-A, Clarendon, at Estelline Tuesday night and defeated Clarendon 37 to 34.

Over 300 Attend Chamber Banquet

More than 300 guests attended the Chamber of Commerce banquet Monday night at the Hotel Hamilton. The evening was a success and the Chamber of Commerce is proud to have had such a large attendance.

Byron Baldwin took over the C. of C. gavel from Warren Driver in the closing minutes of the banquet. Mr. Driver expressed his appreciation to the members of the organization for their hard work during the past year and for the work done on the fine banquet.

Pres. Baldwin, in accepting the gavel, urged members to work even harder to make Memphis and this county a better place in which to live.

Baldwin recognized several of the local industries and gave brief descriptions of their growth.

Many of those present commented that the food was the best ever, as roast beef with all the trimmings was served.

Lester Campbell served as master of ceremonies, while J. W. Coppedge introduced officers and directors; Mayor H. J. Howell introduced the speaker, and Kent Magness introduced guests.

The Welcome Committee decorated the Community Center for the occasion with a George Washington theme, on the eve of his birthday.

After Over Half A Century

Sam J. Hamilton, Local Attorney Community Leader, Is Retiring

(Editor's Note: The following is a compilation of material and information by B. O. Shankle, long-time friend of Sam J. Hamilton, who announced his retirement from the active practice of law this week.)

Sam J. Hamilton, venerable attorney, banker, rancher, and benefactor, took down his shingle this week, announcing his retirement after over half a century of law practice in the Panhandle of Texas.

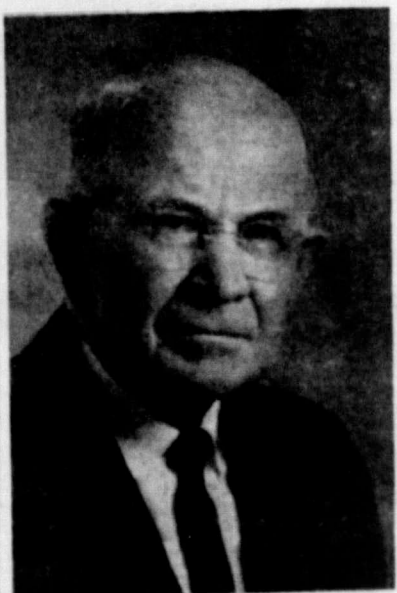

Small Town Attorney
In the early part of 1912, Sam came to Memphis, Texas, fresh out of the University of Texas Law School with a degree and license to practice law.

He associated himself with the late Judge R. J. Thorne in a partnership which lasted until business interests made it necessary for the latter to move to Dallas.

Sam soon entered into a new partnership with Judge Preslar, formerly a Justice on the Court of Civil Appeals in Texas. This association lasted until the death of Judge Preslar, after which the partnership of Hamilton, Fitzgerald and Grundy was formed. The firm prospered and developed an extensive practice in both civil and criminal law over a wide area.

In 1935 he formed a partnership with John Deaver, the firm known as Hamilton and Deaver which continued for more than thirty years until Sam decided to retire.

"His ready answer to a legal question, his quick wit, and his sincere desire to help people who needed his services, coupled with his innate honesty and integrity, created an earned for him a name and reputation as a lawyer which will long be remembered in the area which he served." Deaver said when announcement of Sam's retirement was made.

Sam served as County Attorney, City Attorney of Memphis, Texas, and as District Attorney of the 100th Judicial District of Texas. In each of these offices, his record of achievement was unblemished.

Banker

Mr. Hamilton has always taken an interest in promoting the interest of the community where he lived, and its various business enterprises. He became a director of First State Bank, Memphis, Texas, in June 1933 at the time that the bank was organized, and has served continuously since that time.

Mr. Hamilton was elected president of the bank, Jan. 14, 1960, and served in that capacity until Jan. 13, 1966, when he was elevated to chairman of the board, and is now serving in that capacity.

Mr. Hamilton was a diligent and faithful man and was always thoughtful of the interest of others in all of his business dealings, as well as that of the general public.

Baptist Layman

On August 11, 1912, Sam became a member of the First Baptist Church of Memphis. On the following Sunday, Miss Jesse Ewen also became a member. A short time later, they were married, and they observed their Golden Wedding anniversary in 1964.

"Mr. Sam", as he affectionately became known in his community, served as church clerk, Home department superintendent, Sunday School teacher, and superintendent of the Junior Department. The church's first record of a fully organized Baptist Young People Training Union was under the direction of Mr. Sam.

"I was a member of his 12-year-old boy's Sunday School Class," said Wendell Harrison, local implement dealer, "and I can remember that we had to carry in fire wood on camping trips if

Members of the Memphis Cyclone Band will begin a fund raising drive, consisting of a magazine subscription selling campaign, next week, Band Director Darryl Phillips said.

The purpose of the drive is to raise money to send the band to Six Flags Over Texas Band Festival late in the spring.

Six Flags Over Texas Festival to defend their title as the outstanding Class A band at the festival, a title the band won last year," Director Phillips said.

The Memphis School Board approved the trip two months ago.

The band will be selling magazine subscriptions under the Look School Plan. Included will be subscriptions to every major magazine in sports, mechanics, hobbies, home and garden, news and general interest fields.

The major magazines included are McCall's, Look, Life, Readers Digest, and Better Homes and Gardens, along with 150 more, the director said.

How to move without ever leaving home

Families these days, they say, are moving on an average of every four years. Which makes the present generation the most uprooted generation in America's history. You can sense this rootlessness everywhere, can't you? In the relaxed standards people come to accept as the commonplace. In the nervous, unsettled and insecure feelings so many people express everywhere you go. In the nation's people, young and old, who so often exhibit a need to conform, not with what is excellent, but rather with what is popular. Ours is an age of vastly accelerated movement—and anxiety. Yet those who seek their faith—who worship, and put their faith to work every day—are uniquely prepared for today's pressures and problems. Their spiritual home goes wherever they go. And most important, by living their faith, and by becoming a part of the church or synagogue wherever they live, they can change their community—for the better.

Climaxing the tour, the group will perform in concert for the regional convention in Fort Worth of Tau Beta Sigma and Kappa Kappa Psi, national fraternities for women and men in band. The convention will be on the Texas Christian University campus.

Two assistant band directors, Donald Baird and David Ritter, will appear on some programs as baritone and trumpet soloists. Members of the Symphonic Band are selected by audition from the larger, 130-piece Buffalo Band, Garner said.

Among selections in the band's repertoire are Rimsky-Korsakov's "Procession of Nobles," Alford's "Skyliner March," Gianinni's "Symphony No. 3 for Band," Jacob's "Music for a Festival," and Fred's "Spaico." The Telemann "Suite in A Minor" features solo portions for the flute section.

Scouts Have Blue, Gold Banquet

Travis Cafetorium was the scene Tuesday evening for the Cub Pack No. 35 annual Blue and Gold Banquet and the cafetorium was packed with a capacity crowd of Cub Scouts, Scout Leaders and guests.

By far the most appreciated guest was the guest speaker for the occasion, Sheriff Bill of KGNC-TV, daily children's program.

Sheriff Bill talked to the young scouts on a very important problem facing our society, the school drop-out problem.

After explaining what a drop-out was, he quoted numerous reasons why students drop out of school before graduation.

"The first reason is because some children's parents do not give their children enough encouragement to complete their education but that's the grown-ups' problem and you Cub Scouts can't do anything about that," Sheriff Bill said.

"The second reason students drop out of school is because they have problems of reading their assignments," he said. Sheriff Bill urged all the young men and women present to practice good reading habits and if they are having reading problems to talk to their teachers and parents about it.

Sheriff Bill went on to encourage the Cub Scouts to complete their educations. "Don't drop out of school, and please don't forget to watch the Sheriff Bill program occasionally," he concluded.

One of the highlights for the Cub Scouts during the night, along with the fried chicken dinner and all the trimmings, was the awards presentation ceremonies in which Sheriff Bill aided Cubmaster L. B. Snider and Grady Haynes present awards to the boys earning them.

Grady Haynes presented the list of adult leaders in the Cub Scout program. These included: Jack I. Davis, Rotary Club in-

Den Mothers introduced were: Vada Glascock, Oleta Osborn, Mrs. Bill Boren, Mrs. Bill Ballew, Mrs. Presley Thomson, Mrs. James Bray, Mrs. Bob Hutcherson, Mrs. Harold Smith, Chris Galloway, and Hedley dens, Dorothy Brinson, Marie Johnson and Louise Stewart.

Following is a list of awards presented or earned by the Cub Scouts of Pack 35:

Geldon's Social Security Advice

The size of your social security check has nothing whatever to do with the amount of hospitalization or medical expenses that will be paid under Medicare, states Hal Geldon, District Manager for the Social Security Administration in Amarillo.

There is no maximum figure in the law, and there is no sliding scale geared to the size of a social security check.

Beginning this July 1, a social security beneficiary aged 65 or over, will find that Medicare will pay all but the first $40 of the reasonable costs up to 60 days of hospitalization, except for private duty nursing costs and personal comfort items. Too, on doctor bills, if the patient is enrolled, after the first $50 for which he is responsible, Medicare can pay for 80 per cent of the remainder, again with no maximum dollar figure. Geldon added that such would be true whether the social security beneficiary was getting a minimum of maximum monthly benefit.

Jane Ward and Doris Ann Ward enjoyed the weekend skiing at Ruidoso, N. M. They were accompanied by Watzell Kennedy and Evelyn Martin of West Texas State University, Canyon.

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGERS
Representative, 18th
Congressional District

ROAD TO COMMUNISTS
As ago I introduced in the House of Representatives cut off U. S. foreign trade relations with Communist regime in North Vietnam. I have been supported by many representatives from the Texas Panhandle and Members of Congress from other parts of the country. I am proud to press for early passage of this measure.

The House of Representatives states "that it is the policy of the United States to support the military and economic assistance to the free world which is necessary to maintain diplomatic relations with Viet Nam or is itself engaged in trade or commerce with North Viet Nam or to engage in trade or commerce with North Viet Nam." The House of Representatives is battling in South Vietnam where in the world Communist. Any assistance to Communist or Communist dominated countries is a blow at the United States which is in too many instances being held to ransom in turn help Communists. By law, the United States prohibits virtually all trade, shipping, and financial transactions with Communist China, North Viet Nam, and Cuba. Yet these Communist nations, as others, are the recipients of assistance through commercial relations with countries who are themselves receiving direct U. S. foreign aid. During 1965, the U. S. Government made diplomatic approaches to Free World countries with ships in the North Vietnamese trade asking their cooperation in stopping this trade. Free World shipping did decline. For example, Japanese flag vessels were withdrawn as of April 1, 1965. There is still progress to be made. I am advised that Free World imports to North Viet Nam consist mainly of chemicals (primarily fertilizers), machines, and industrial raw materials—and these, indeed, may be considered strategic, although any and all articles helping Communism to survive are strategic.

Standing behind the North Vietnamese regime is the world's leading outlaw nation, Communist China. It is discouraging to note that trade by Free World countries with Communist China increased during 1964, when the Viet Nam war was growing hotter, rather than decreased. Latest reports show that imports to Communist China from the Free World rose by 22 percent to $977 million—while the exports of the Chinese Reds for the first time exceeded one billion dollars. In 1964, seven countries, which sold $50 million or more each to mainland China, provided nearly three-quarters of that country's imports. Australia and Japan led the list following in order of goods supplied by Canada, Argentina, Cuba, the United Kingdom, and France.

The strongest Communist power, and our principal opponent in the Cold War, remains the Soviet Union. Imports of the Soviet Union from the Free World totaled $2.5 billion in 1964—a gain of 20 percent over 1963. Soviet exports, at $2.4 billion, remained at about the 1963 level. Soviet purchase of wheat and wheat flour rose to more than $480 million

Rogers Introduces Bill To Bar FCC On TV Reception

Congressman Walter Rogers late last week introduced legislation to bar the Federal Communications Commission from exercising any control over the reception of broadcast signals or communications.

Congressman Rogers is chairman of the Subcommittee on Communications and Power of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce. The subcommittee exercises initial House jurisdiction over broadcast legislation.

The effect of the Rogers bill would be to deny to the Federal Communications Commission authority to control or regulate what is received by anyone owning and operating a broadcast reception device, such as a radio or television set.

The Congressman said the bill was being introduced because of recent decisions by the FCC. He pointed out that the FCC "in undertaking an overall regulation and control of all community antenna television systems is also undertaking to expand its jurisdiction to cover the reception of matter broadcast into the airwaves and received by anyone."

Congressman Rogers said, "If this proposed expansion of power is allowed to stand, it would create the possibility in this country of a situation of censorship. The Communications Act presently prohibits censorship but expressly provides against indecent language and associated matters."

"The legislative history of the Communications Act evidences the expressed intention of the Congress that the Federal Communications Commission has jurisdiction over the transmission of broadcast signals—not the reception thereof. However, the FCC is wholly disregarding the legislative history and is seeking to expand its jurisdiction without in 1964, and as a result of a sharp increase in Soviet purchases of wheat, Canada became in 1964 the principal Free World supplier to the U.S.S.R. I have always opposed wheat sales to the Soviet Union and to other Communist countries and will continue to do so. Again, most items shipped to Communist lands to make up deficits in their production may certainly be regarded as strategic; without Free World help in supplying wheat, the failures of Soviet agriculture would have forced a severe slackening in the entire U.S.S.R. economy.

In the world-wide struggle with Communism, we are only hurting ourselves when we help other countries which are helping our enemies.

the approval of the Congress of the United States.

"It is absolutely repugnant to the American system of free broadcasting for a Federal agency to exercise any control or regulation whatsoever over broadcast reception," Congressman Rogers said.

Congressman Rogers said it is his hope that early hearings can be held on the bill by the Subcommittee on Communications and Power.

Local Translator Closes Down TV Signal Tuesday

The television rebroadcast signal of Caprock Translator System was closed down at approximately 6 p. m. Tuesday, Feb. 27, according to Arlie Shawhart, president of the board of directors. The closing down order followed a special meeting of the board of directors of the system, which began at 3:30 p. m. Tuesday. After discussing the financial problems of the system fully, the members of the board voted to cease rebroadcasting. "We want to emphasize the fact that the close down will remain in effect until such time as the budget of our system can be met," Pres. Shawhart stated Wednesday morning. "We regret to make this decision, but the plain facts are that the system is not receiving sufficient money on which to operate. There are too many families using the system who are not paying. We must operate in the black."

As soon as the budget is met, the board of directors are planning to do work at the tower which will give their customers a better television signal, he said. New equipment will be experimented with in the next few days which will give a better and broader coverage of the area receiving the translator television signal from the tower, Shawhart said.

It was announced that Arnold Cruz, engineer, is moving his family to Memphis, and will be on call at all times. Cruz will be available to help translator customers with installations, and will do collecting. Shawhart appealed to all in-

Local Drivers Urged To Obey Traffic Laws

Local vehicle drivers were urged this week to stay on alert and observe all traffic regulations by Chief of Police Tomie Tucker. The accident rate in the city for the first two months of 1966 is showing a steady rise, he said. There has been seen a decline in safe driving practices this year so the Police Department is urging all drivers to stay alert and observe all traffic regulations.

the Hamilton home always has remained open to pastors and visiting ministers through the years. Mr. Sam was active in the organization of a missionary church which later became the Travis Baptist Church of Memphis. Since becoming a member of this church, he has served in many capacities, and is presently an active deacon.

"He is one of the most aggressive members of our Church, and he is loved and respected by everyone," said Leroy Gaston, pastor of the church.

He is a member of a Club with more than 50 members, and has been a continuous service organization. Accolades come from friends who have loved him through the years. "His talents are placed in need without money and the feeling that helpful is the reward of the best."

By VERN SANFORD
Many shooters make the mistake of taking their trusty rifles to gunsmiths and asking them to 'sight 'em in.' Then they head afield without further ado and wonder why they miss easy shots at deer.

This idea of having a gunsmith doing the job for you is okay. But you should test the rifle yourself, to see if you and the gunsmith both see alike.

On the surface that statement might seem ridiculous. But actually, differe... people do see in a different way. They hold the rifles different, therefore they get different sight patterns.

Very seldom can one man zero in a rifle to hit in the center of the bull's-eye at 100 yards and another duplicate the feat with the same rifle.

For this reason, it pays to 'sight in' your own rifle. This isn't as difficult as you would first imagine. In fact, if done correctly, it can be quite simple.

Most common mistake is for someone to set up a piece of cardboard, get back 100 or 200 yards and start blazing away. At this distance, any error in sight adjustment will be magnified, and with a new sight you'll be lucky to hit the cardboard, even if it is of extremely large size. This kind of hapchance sighting only makes the ammunition manufacturers unhappy.

There is a much easier way. Suppose you've just installed a new scope sight on your rifle. You want to sight it in, so here's how to do it, the quick and easy way.

First, to make sure you're steady and solid, get set up where you have a good rest for shooting. Then, if possible, remove the bolt from your rifle, steady it on a rest and bore sight the rifle at a chunk of cardboard 25 yards away.

When you get the bore lined up, raise your sight and look in the scope. Adjust it until the crosshairs are on the target. This way you'll be reasonably sure of putting your first shot on the paper and you can work from there.

But even if you're shooting something like a lever-action gun where bore sighting isn't possible, at the range of 25 yards you're more than likely to hit the cardboard anyway. Once you've established your first shot you're in business.

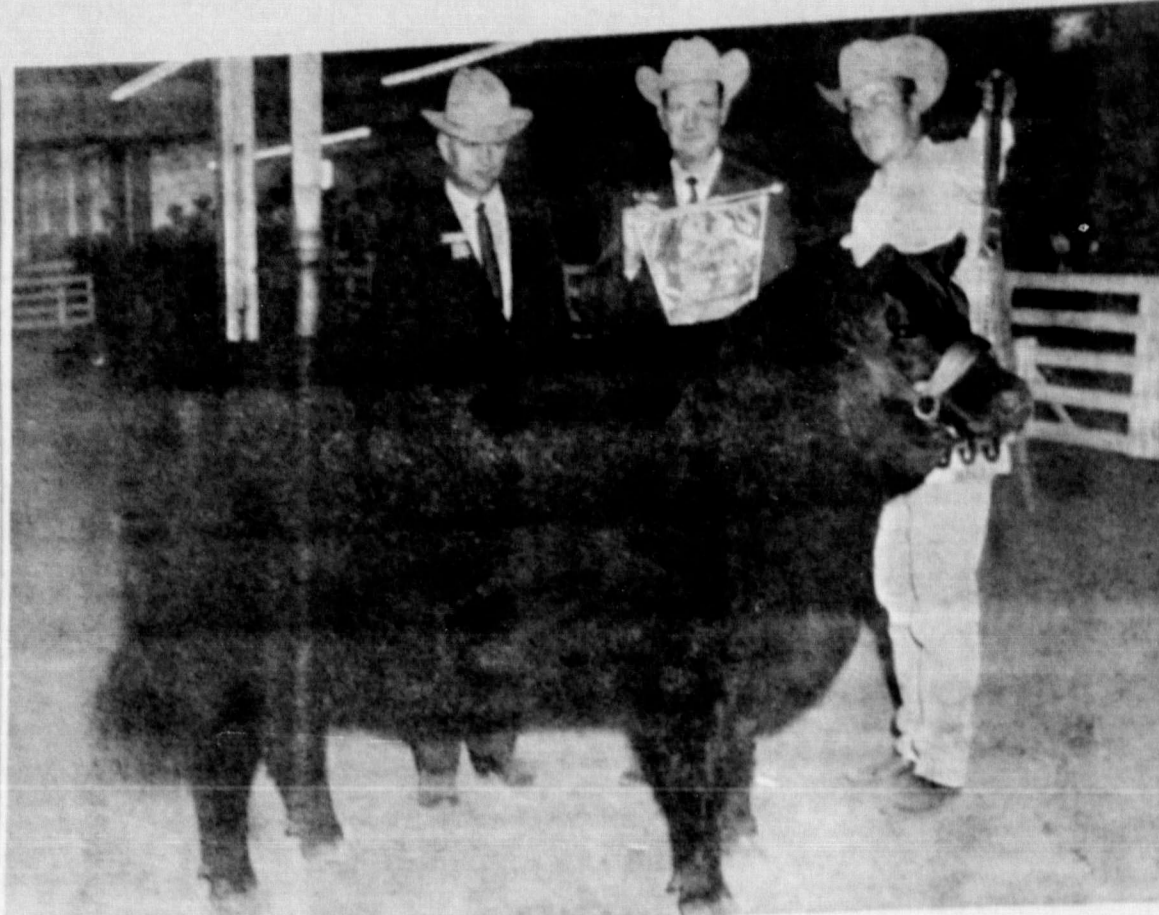

Scope sights have adjustments for elevation and windage. The first is to move the bullet placement either up or down, and the other either left or right.

These adjustments are graduated in minutes of angle, or fractions thereof. Some have 'click' adjustments while some do not.

A minute of angle has a value of one-half inch at 50 yards, one-fourth inch at 25 yards.

Suppose your rifle is shooting an inch high and an inch to the right. Four clicks on both adjustments should move your aim to the bull's-eye.

Just remember, if your adjustment moves one minute of angle with each click, you must adjust the dial four clicks to move the bullet placement one inch.

If each click is only one-half minute of angle, then it would require eight clicks to move it an inch. And so forth.

Once you've established your aim at 25 yards, or directly in the black or bull's-eye of the target, you're ready to determine where the bullet will strike at longer ranges.

What you must remember is that a bullet travels in a trajectory. Thus it will bisect a straight line out from the muzzle twice, once as it starts up on its trajectory and again when it comes down. If this first intersection is at 25 yards, the bullet will be in the bull's-eye again somewhere out where it curves down and bisects the line again.

With an ordinary .22 rim-fire rifle, for instance, the bullet will cross at 25 yards and again at 60 yards. In firing fast-shooting center-fire rifles, with flatter trajectory, the second point of intersection will be much farther out. A .243 will bisect the line again about 250 yards out, which means it won't be more than an inch high at 100 yards. So anything between the ranges of 10 yards and 250 yards will be vulnerable to your .243 bullet, since there is no more margin than an inch error anywhere in between.

This can be determined quickly with other rifles one you've established your point of aim at 25 yards.

Put the target at 100 yards, fire and see where the bullet hits. Now try it at 150 yards, and finally at 200 yards. This way you can clearly determine the performance of your particular caliber all the way from 25 yards to 200 yards.

Quick and simple. A straightforward way to straight shooting.

Tips For Sportsmen

Ice For Your Camp Cooler
Campers often are faced with the problem of not having enough ice.

Usually this is because the cubes they brought with them were soon melted. Ice can be made to last much longer if, instead of filling the chest with conventional cubes, you freeze water in 2-quart, or gallon, milk cartons.

These king-size ice cubes melt much more slowly. And they will last much, much longer if refrozen in the deep freezer.

Doggone Good Fish Bait

If you want to create your own little fishing 'hot spot' just take several cans of dog food—any brand—and punch holes in the end. Then tie these cans together with tough twine and sink them at your favorite fishing spot.

In a day, or so, you should be able to fill your stringer in a hurry—at that spot.

Giving Your Dog Medicine

Does your sick dog stir up a storm when you try to give him a dose of medicine?

Don't try to ram the stuff down his throat. There's no need for unpleasantness.

Just pull out a corner of his lower jaw and pour the liquid in. Then hold his jaws closed, raise his head and stroke his throat until the medicine is swallowed.

Chemical New Here

Patrick, a Memphis chemical company, has completed its 31st year in Memphis this week. The new location at 420 Main Street, it was announced by the owner of the firm, R. S. and Inez Patrick, who have been operating the business since 1935.

AGENT SAYS

Farmers Urged To Restore Matter To Soil. "The best time of the year to prune trees depends on the reason of pruning, says W. B. Hooser, Hall County Agricultural Agent. Deadwood can be removed from trees at any time without injuring them. Spring pruning, however, is recommended when doing correctional pruning, since the wounds heal faster than at other times of the year. If your objective is to increase fruit and bloom set, prune before the blossoms form in midsummer, says Hooser. If, on the other hand, you want to decrease the number of blossoms, prune before they bloom after the blossoms have set. Hooser points out that pruning trees during early fall tends to reduce plant hardiness and, in general, is not a good practice. Evergreens should not be sheared in late summer or fall as the cut ends will not heal over until spring, he warns. Dead branches can be removed at any time.

buffer to prevent rapid changes or fluctuations in soil acidity or alkalinity, says Hooser.

During the decompositions process, a continuous supply of carbon dioxide, nitrogen in various forms, phosphorus and other nutrients so essential to plant growth are liberated. Organic matter serves as a storage facility for mineral nutrients such as calcium, magnesium, nitrogen, and many others making them less likely to be lost in drainage or water seepage. It also makes the soil more favorable for vigorous, rapidly developing root systems of young plants.

A four-year study at the South Plains Research and Extension Center, Lubbock, has shown the value of burrs in cotton production. The research shows that lint yields were the highest when burrs were applied to the soil and plowed under at the rate of six tons per acre, but if burr supplies are not available for this rate of applications, two tons per acre gave the greatest profit per ton of burrs applied. The tests showed burrs were effective under both dryland and irrigated conditions.

"For example, a ton of burrs contains from 14.6 to 21.6 pounds of nitrogen; from 7.9 to 9.5 pounds of phosphorus and from 53.4 to 101.4 pounds of potassium. These amounts were calculated on the basis of dry weight," the county agent said. "But the greatest contribution to soil improvement from the application of burrs appears to be the increase in the supply of energy which is used by soil microorganisms in breaking down the material and the later release of plant food nutrients contained in the burrs."

"Continuous cultivation without giving attention to regular additions of residues gradually lowers the organic matter in the soil. The level may become so low that maximum production cannot be obtained. Without organic matter, results from fertilizer is diminished," says County Agent Hooser. "A soil test will show the organic level in the soil."

The best time of the year to prune trees depends on the reason of pruning, says W. B. Hooser, Hall County Agricultural Agent.

Deadwood can be removed from trees at any time without injuring them. Spring pruning, however, is recommended when doing correctional pruning, since the wounds heal faster than at other times of the year.

If your objective is to increase fruit and bloom set, prune before the blossoms form in midsummer, says Hooser. If, on the other hand, you want to decrease the number of blossoms, prune before they bloom after the blossoms have set.

Hooser points out that pruning trees during early fall tends to reduce plant hardiness and, in general, is not a good practice. Evergreens should not be sheared in late summer or fall as the cut ends will not heal over until spring, he warns. Dead branches can be removed at any time.

The County agent has available for use by those who desire to improve their gardens and landscapes the following publications: A Planning Guide for Home Landscaping, B-940; Propagation of Trees and Shrubs, 1567; Pruning Shade Trees and Repairing Their Injuries, 83; Modern Pruning Methods, B-997; Method of Making a Cutting Bud, L-280; Fertilizer Conversion Tables for Lawns, Gardens and Flower Beds, L-166.

This is an excellent time to plant balled and burlapped plants as well as container grown plants. The days are cool and plants are not exposed to the high water loss experience in summer. Do not fertilize newly planted trees and shrubs until the following spring.

In most areas of Texas it is better to wait until late fall or winter to set out bare root plants as they are not completely dormant until November or December.

Set plants no deeper than they were grown in the nursery. Many trees and shrubs are lost annually because they are planted too deeply and the roots die from lack of oxygen. When planting large balled and burlapped plants, don't dig the hole any deeper than the depth of the ball. The ball should rest on firm earth at the bottom of the hole rather than filled soil. A heavy ball tends to settle when placed on filled soil leaving the plant too deep in the ground.

Watering at the time of planting is important. Add a mulch to help conserve moisture. If the weather is dry in late fall and winter, water thoroughly every week to 10 days. This is especially true with evergreens.

Trees and shrubs over four feet tall should be staked so the tops will not blow back and forth in heavy winds.

Go easy on the urge to prune plants in early fall and winter. The best time to do this is in late winter just before new growth commences. By early pruning, new growth is frequently forced from lateral buds during warm spells. A sudden drop in temperature can cause severe damage or even loss of the plant.

General Telephone Company Plans Construction Program of $141 Million

The construction program for General Telephone Company of the Southwest during the next five years calls for gross expenditures of $141 million with over $25 million scheduled in 1966, according to E. H. Danner, president.

San Angelo is headquarters for General Telephone Company of the Southwest which serves over 420,000 telephones in 260 towns in the five state area of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Arkansas. Danner pointed out that the constantly changing needs in communications as well as the rapidly growing communities we serve compel us to look from five, ten or even twenty years into the future. "Our current construction programs must be compatible with future developments," Danner said.

A highlight of 1966 will be the completion of a 30,000 square foot addition to the present 13,000 square foot general office facilities in San Angelo. Occupancy of the expanded building costing $1,730,000 is scheduled to be phased in the beginning of this month. The expanded quarters will serve as headquarters for consolidated operations of General Telephone of the Southwest and Southwestern States Telephone Company which now has headquarters in Brownwood. E. H. Danner heads up both companies which are subsidiaries of General Telephone & Electronics Corporation in New York.

Plans for major expenditures through 1970 include replacing 45 central offices because of growth and obsolescence; providing Direct Distance Dialing facilities to customers in four long distance centers; and making improvements and refinements to existing DDD services in the Sherman area. Forty-six new exchange buildings, and five warehouse buildings also are scheduled for construction. Twenty additions will be made to existing exchange buildings to provide for equipment expansion.

Six microwave routes will be established during this five-year period at a cost in excess of $750,000. The routes will improve service where weather conditions have been a perennial hazard to communications and also will provide additional message channels for increased long distance usage.

Extended Area Service which permits calling between certain exchanges without a long distance charge will be established in several areas including some of the larger exchanges served by General.

The company-wide expansion program also includes the installation of 132,000 lines and 118,000 terminals of central office equipment which will permit upgrading programs and to provide for anticipated growth. Plans call for the eventual elimination of urban four party and eight party lines. Some $35 million will be invested in new central office switching equipment, $60 million in outside plant (cables, poles, etc.) and approximately $8 million for new buildings and building additions during the next five years. Included in the $60 million for outside plant, is at least $18 million for construction of rural facilities.

In addition, intricate test equipment will be set up in central test centers which will check cables routinely for defects. Other test facilities will scan central office equipment for possible trouble thus permitting reconnection of service more rapidly.

One of the highlights of 1966 was the reduction in long distance telephone rates made possible, according to Danner, because the telephone industry has been able to make technical advancements and improve operating efficiency.

In summary, Danner pointed out that while gross expenditures are generally an accepted measurement of progress and economic well being, General Telephone also has included in its plans, programs to develop employees to their fullest potential. Along with self-development, he said, we are also attempting to improve our techniques in communicating with our employees so that we better understand today's industry and the vital link each of us as employees plays in serving our customers.

Jimmy Sexton To Attend FDIC School In Wash.

Jimmy Sexton of Fort Worth, who was raised in Memphis, has been selected to attend a four-week training course at the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation School in Washington, D. C.

Sexton was one of the two men selected to attend the school from the 11th District which includes Texas, Louisiana and New Mexico. FDIC holds only three such specialized schools during a five-year period.

Mr. Sexton is with FDIC in Fort Worth and will leave at the end of the week for Washington. He is a graduate of the local high school and West Texas State University, Canyon.

He is married to the former Wilma Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Martin, and is the son of Mrs. S. M. Tinger. Mrs. Sexton will visit here with her parents while Mr. Sexton is in Washington.

BRUSH CONTROL—Lee Scrivner of Turkey, examines a pasture that has been grubbed of mesquite and deferred during the growing season. More research is needed on brush control to find cheaper and successful procedures. However, profitable control methods are now available for many species and conditions.

Brush In Pastures Poses Increasing Problem To Hall County Land Owners

Most everyone these days who works in the city or on the farm pays taxes. Some of these taxes are income, personal and property. If you own or manage land you may be paying another kind of tax that some people don't realize exists, Cyril Keith of the Soil Conservation Service.

One of the Soil Conservation Service call it the "Brush Tax". Brush is an ever increasing pest and is found scattered across our rangeland in Hall County and throughout Texas. Brush could be classified more than a pest whether it is mesquite, shinnery, sand sage or salt cedar. It could be called a thief and a robber. It robs the people of their land and the moisture that is needed for grass production.

To some, the mesquite has become a common tree and they give it a rightful place on our range and pastureland. But the mesquite uses five times more water to grow a pound of leaves as does a grass plant to produce the same amount.

Lee Scrivner, who ranches near Turkey, Texas, has been grubbing mesquite the past several years with assistance thru the Great Plains Conservation Program. Scrivner has used special treatment as well as tree-killing and root-killing.

During the past five years, he has treated 1549 acres of brush on his ranch. He has also seeded 490 acres of eroded back to native grass.

In Hall County, it is estimated that 241,969 acres of rangeland is infested with some type of brush. Most infestations range from medium to heavy. In Texas, 187 million acres of grazing land has a significant brush problem.

Brush control is not cheap and easy. It usually requires a major operation—an aspirin will not give relief. Because of the great variety of kinds of brush, grasses, soils, moisture conditions, wind velocities, growing conditions, temperatures and other factors, brush control is a highly technical problem usually requiring on site assistance. Such help is available from the Soil Conservation Service thru the Hall County Soil Conservation District.

If you wonder why the common cold seems so large and villainous, consider the fact that it accounts in total for almost one billion illnesses and a $2 billion economic loss each year in the U. S. alone.

Vaccine hunters are experimenting with new weapons against the wheezing-moaning scourge, but a cure is believed to be a good five years distant. A drawback to an early breakthrough in the search for an effective cold cure is the discovery since 1951 of some 100 different viruses which may play some part in the common cold.
