football is kicked off between Clarendon and Memphis Boys, fans are always in for an exciting night.

Last year, the Broncs came from a two TD deficit to win a 22-21 victory over the Cyclone, a defeat the local lads have not forgotten.

In discussing the game with Coach Bert Glascock of Memphis, he observed, "Clarendon looks to be one of our toughest opponents. They lost three regulars and have eight returning while we lost six regulars and have five returning. Clarendon has the best speed, are larger than us, have fine linebackers and tremendous backfield men."

On the other hand, the Memphis coach said, our weaknesses include inexperience in running backs and line backers, and very little depth.

"If we have any strong points," Glascock said, "it would be our desire, mental toughness and fairly good team speed."

'The Cyclones have worked real hard and have shown steady improvement. The question is, have they improved enough? If desire, and hard work mean anything ... it should be a fine ball game,' the coach said.

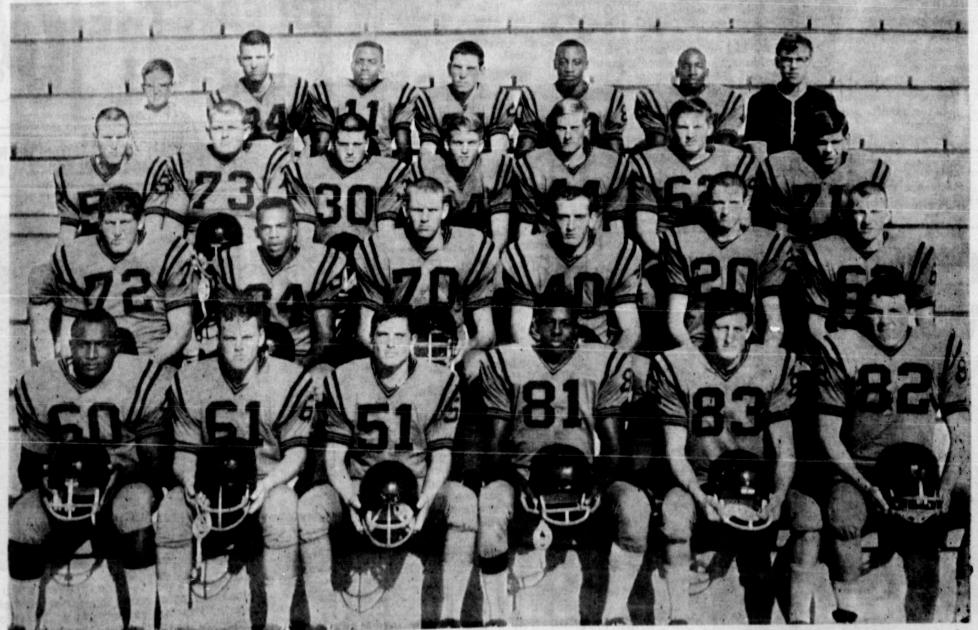

Clarendon's strong points include a stronger line, better running game with Archie Smith at fullback and Mac McClellan at tailback, better depth and better team speed. Clarendon is not expected to be the passing threat they have been in the past since the graduation of a quarterback named David Mooring.

Coach Jeff Walker of Clarendon cites the 190-lb. fullback Archie Smith as a potential allstater. Other top lads are end John Sommers (170), tackle Gale Gray (198), guard Pete Campbell (160) and McClellan.

The Cyclene will have four regulars in the line, Tackle Bobby Carroll and Larry Gaston, Guard Willie Devorce, and End Clyde Wilson. Quarterback Tony Pounds is the only returning regular in the backfield. A probable starting defensive corner back was injured in Wednesday's workout.

Coach Glascock said Wednesday that a list of probable start-(Continued on Page 12)

Physical Fitness Is Important!

Few people would quarrel with the objectives of the President's Council on Physical Fitness, which are, very simply, to get Americans to be more physically active and thus more physically fit. One trip to the beach or a swimming pool will convince you of the overwhelming logic of such a program.

For many adults, middle aged or older, who have for years neglected their physical bodies, it would be unhealthy and unwise for them to undertake a sudden strenuous physical program in an effort to "get in shape". Taking walks, mowing lawns, doing a little hoeing and raking, getting out with the children or grandchildren are sensible activities.

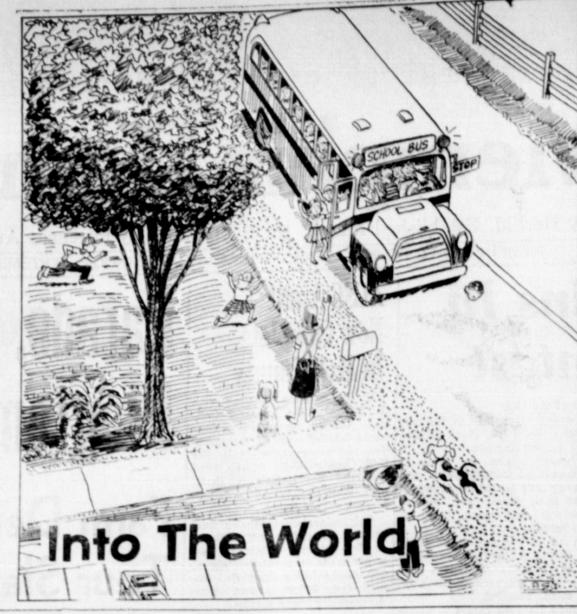

For those who are presently undertaking some form of physical activity in either work or recreation, the President's Council on Physical Fitness urges these citizens to continue. Swimming, golf, tennis, hiking, fishing, bicycling, and hunting are probably the most popular of these activities.

The Presidential Physical Fitness Award Program being introduced is another matter, however. It is directed toward our youngsters. For the many youngsters who displayed a distressing tendency toward obesity and lack of swimming, it provides a powerful incentive to literally "get moving"

President Johnson announced the awards program last winter, and it was introduced in many of the nation's schools last spring. Boys and girls aged 10 to 17 years are eligible for the award, which consists of a certificate bearing the Presidential seal and signature, plus an attractive embroidered emblem. To qualify they must make superior scores on the seven-item Youth Fitness Test, which measures strength, stamina, speed, agility and coordination.

Originally the President's Council predicted that the award would be most popular with junior high school boys, and that the State of California would produce the most winners. It comes as no surprise to us to learn that more girls than boys won the award; we had observed tong ago that they were in superior "shape." Californians may be shocked to know that they currently trail both Florida and Texas in the number of award winners.

The seven tests include: 600-yard run-walk, or twice around a football field without pooping out; shuttle run, how long will it take to run 30 feet, pick up a block of wood and run back; pull-ups, boys-the number of pull-ups, girls-how long can you hold one pull-up; standing broad jump; 50-yard envy.

Texas Promotion Of Farm Products Gets Donations

Ceremonies in Austin on Sept. 12 will mark private donations totaling over $40,000 to a Texas Marketing Program benefitting the rural economy of the Panhandle area, according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

Representative W. S. (Bill) Heatly of Paducah was co-sponsor of a bill during the last Texas legislative session which expanded marketing activities of the Texas Department of Agriculture. As a result, a promotion of Texas farm products on the national and international markets has been inaugurated as a joint venture between the state and private farm industries, White explained

Gov. Connally, in a speech delivered at Texas A&M recently, praised the value of the new marketing project by saying, "The Texas Department of Agriculture is now acting as a stimulant for the state's agricultural business.

Caprock Trail Riders To Parade At Wellington

By VIRGINIA BROWDER Nineteen members of The Cap rock Trail Riders met in the Riding Hall in regular monthly session the evening of September 9. Haskell Howell, president of the riders, presided duing the business interlude at which time plans for future rides were detailed.

There will be a "Play Day' gathering at the Riding Hall, adjacent to the City Park, Thursday evening, Sept. 8, at 6 o'clock for barrel racing and competitive rides. All members are urged to come horseback!

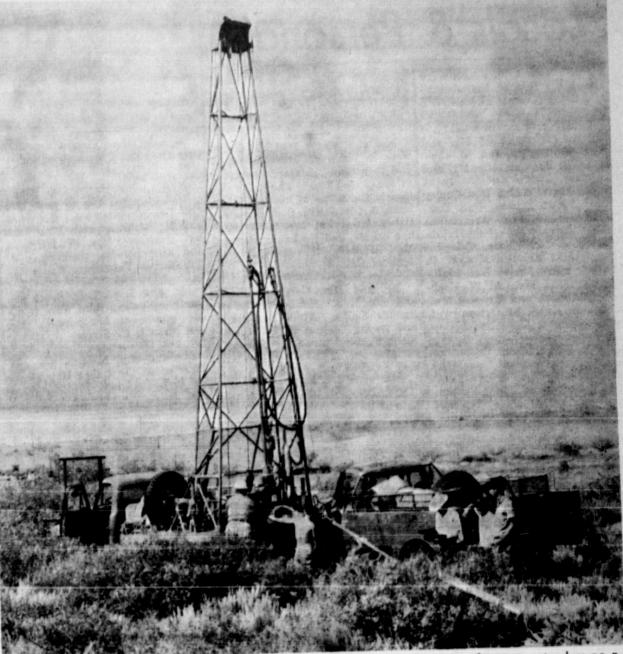

Also, plans were "cut and dried and hung in the smoke house' for The Captrock Trail Riders to parade in Wellington at 10 o'clock Friday morning, Sept. 9. Each member will be responsible for transportation of his horse to Wellington and gather there to fall into the parade as a group. Two families, the G. W. Lock arts and the Oscar Maddox, Irs., joined the club. The membership now numbers some 75 paid members and enthusiasm seems to grow as time goes on. If you like active riding and hearty good fellowship, come aboard! The world looks brighter from the back of a horse! Try it and see.

Those present at the meeting were: Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Mosley, Mr. and Mrs. John McCauley, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Ward, Lonnie Widener, Tanja Kay Neal, Juanelle Mowrey, Winifred Davis, Lewis Foxhall, Johnny Palmer, Haskell Howell, Grady Worthing-A Savings Bond registered in co-owner form becomes the sole ton, Phaeton Alexander, Doc and absolute property of the sur- Fowler, and Troy Davis.

The next meeting will be Octo viving co-owner in the event of ber 6, at 7:30 in the Riding Hall.

OAKS CREEK DAM-Core drilling along the Oaks Creek Dam site began yesterday as a crew from Waco moved onto location. The feasibility of a recreational dam to empound about 300 surface acres of water will depend heavily on a fave table report. Geologist Lemund Goerdel of Waco said today core drilling was only half completed so no indication as to the finds has been released. The Oaks Creek dam site is located on the Gilbert Young farm and the project is part of the Lakeview Watershed. Pictured is the core drilling rig. Precinct No. 2 of Hall County is providing a caterpillar tractor to assist in moving the rig across Oaks Creek.

Deferred grazing is one of the est means of utilizing the maximum forage production of a ranch, according to County Agent W. B. Hooser.

The stocking of a ranch must | be flexible enough so that a deferred program can be set up to allow from a sixth to a fourth of the total ranch acreage to be deferred during each growing season, from 4-6 months. The other pastures on the ranch should not be overgrazed while trying to improve one pasture.

Deferred rotation grazing is anractice of removing livestock from grazing the area for a specified period of time during the growing season to promote plant reproduction, establishment of of new plants, or restoration of Deferred grazing is one of the best means of utilizing the maximum forage production of a ranch, according to County Agent W. B. Hooser.

The stocking of a ranch must | be flexible enough so that a deferred program can be set up to the total ranch acreage to be deferred during each growing season, from 4-6 months. The other pastures on the ranch should not be overgrazed while trying to improve one pasture.

ractice of removing livestock from grazing the area for a specified period of time during the growing season to promote plant reproduction, establishment of of new plants, or restoration of Deferred rotation grazin gis another type of deferred grazing, according to Hooser. This is the practice of removing livestock from grazing various parts of a ranch while other parts are being grazed at various seasons of the year. At least two, three or four pastures are necessary to establish a systematic plan. Only one herd of livestock is moved at any one time from a grazed to a deferred pasture.

Checkerboard deferred grazing is the removal of livestock from grazing a pasture that receives effective rainfall during the growing season. Leave livestock from the pasture for 6-12 weeks or un-Hooser. This system has been preventable.
