Watershed Report Is Given On Progress

... Woodson of Waco, Party Leader of the surveying working on the Lakeview watershed, addressed 12 men, members of the Lakeview Watershed at a meeting here Thursday, Jan. 19, in the SCS office in the Courthouse.

per cent of the land area will be controlled. There is a need for additional control measures on John Mann Creek which as 36.6 per cent of the land under control, and the two tributaries to Oaks Creek with 35 per cent control.

Henry Gregory reported that additional planning will be done on these three creeks to try to get additional control by detaining flood waters using levees or diversion on cropland fields. Using this diversion or levy type structures should inundate cropland, but release rate would draw flood water off cropland in approximately 48 hours. This would be built in some instances along property boundaries or by raising county roads. Gregory, the Work Unit Conservationist, said that there will be further checking into this by Mr. Woodson.

A high degree of control will be obtained on Brushy Creek, about 51.7 per cent, with two retaining structures. Bitter Creek will have possibly three structures which will give 69.4 per cent control.

Gregory, in explaining what the percentage figures of control mean, said that 69.4 per cent control on Bitter Creek means that 69.4 per cent of the land

New Contract Is Offered To Supt. A. E. Greer

The Memphis School Board met last week and handled customary January business.

In considering the contract of the school superintendent, A. E. Greer was offered a two-year year contract for July 1, 1967 until July 1, 1969.

The board also called for an election to be held to name three trustees to the Memphis School Board. Board members whose terms are expiring are J. W. Coppedge, Harold Smith and Bob Douthit.

The election will be held April 1, 1967 with one judge and two

The award was presented to Fowler for having the best set of records of any student in Hall County after final judging was completed early this week. Memphis Banks Again Sponsor ACP Handbook

The First National and First State Banks of Memphis have again sponsored the printing of the Hall County ACP handbook of conservation practices, Lynn L. McKown, ASCS Office Manager, announced today.

For twenty-one consecutive years the First National and First State Banks of Memphis have jointly paid the cost of printing the ACP Handbook for which Hall County farmers can justly be proud. The outstanding record of these two institutions is unequaled in their long-time contribution to conservation in Hall County.

Farmers should review their need for conservation work and make an early application to the county committee for cost-sharing. Many terracing systems need restoring to former size and a

Fire Dept. Is Pleased With Cooperation

The Memphis Volunteer Fire Department two weeks ago requested citizens of this area not to create traffic congestion when the sirens sound an alarm, especially near the scene of a fire.

This week, a spokesman for the department expressed appreciation for the response to this request by stating that since this public request was made, the problem has been solved.

Sunday afternoon, the Frank

Memphis Teams To Host Hale Center

The Memphis basketball teams, the past two nights play (Friday and Tuesday) were disappointing in the final outcome because both teams are out of the running.

Dimmitt boys and the Friona girls were first half victors and both teams are undefeated in second half action. The winner of the first half would play the winner of the second half in a play-off if they are not the same team, it was reported.

Last Friday, the Cyclone squad lost a heart breaker to Abernathy 45 to 43 at Abernathy. The game was decided in the final seconds. Bobby Carroll and Tony Pounds each had 11 points for the Cyclone to be leading scorers.

This game was an action packed affair with spirit on both sides running pretty high.

In the girls game, the Abernathy girls won the game 52 to 31. Cynthia Evans had 14 points to lead the local girls scoring.

Tuesday night, a good crowd was on hand to see the Memphis and Dimmitt games in the local gymnasium.

The Dimmitt girls moved to a 61 to 28 victory over the Cyclone. The game was action packed despite the score. Jan's Watson had 11 points for the Cyc-lonettes to be the high scorer for Memphis.

In the boys game, the Cyclone was in a do or die situation, after losing the Abernathy game.

The game opened up in a flurry of scoring with Dimmitt hitting 22 points in the first quarter to 17 points for Memphis.

It became apparent as the game progressed that Dimmitt's accurate outside shooting was making the difference as the District leaders moved to a 34 to 26 half time edge.

The Bobcat cagers took a commanding 52 to 37 lead in the third period and went on to win the game 72 to 45.

Coach Travis Gilliland said after the game that Dimmitt has a fine squad and should go a long way.

Friday night, the two local teams will play hosts to the two teams from Hale Center. The Tuesday, Jan. 31, is the last day for citizens to obtain voter registration certificates, Melissa Anderson, Hall County tax assessor-collector, reminded this morning.

To Thursday morning, a total of 1424 voter registration certificates had been issued to county residents.

There is no cost for a registration certificate, Mrs. Anderson pointed out. Otherwise the requirements for voting in all elections this year are the same as for a poll tax certificate.

Residents of the Turkey area can register at Ferguson Insurance Agency office with Leotta Ferguson.

As a convenience, Mrs. Anderson stated that she would be in her office Saturday and would be glad to issue registration certificates. Offices in the courthouse ordinarily are closed all day on Saturdays.

Mrs. Anderson stated that persons who become eligible to vote during the year are not permitted to get a late exemption, but must register during the regular period. This applies especially to those who will become 21 during the year, and those who complete a year's residence during the year. The registration receipt will be marked as to the date that it becomes effective.

The over-age exemption is similar to the poll tax regulations in that a registration receipt is not necessary for those who are 60 or over if they live in a town of less than 10,000 population. Unlike the poll tax, the person need only reach the age of requirement by election day, not the previous Jan. 1.

Registration receipts must be written out by the tax assessor-collector's office staff. An application for voter registration certificate may be sent in if the qualified voter is unable to go to that office, but this application must be received through the mail or in person.

The application form printed on the back of your State and County Tax Statement may be used, a person may write to the tax office and request an application.

Registration may be made by a qualified voter only for himself, spouse, mother, father, son or daughter. This person doing the registering for these family members must himself be a qualified voter. This is to say, an 18-year-old, for example, could not register for his father or mother.

Lt. Governor Preston Smith has named Hightower chairman of the Senate Game and Fish, and Contingent Expense Committees.

In addition, the North Texas Senator has been assigned to the powerful Senate Finance Committee, which helps control the State's purse strings. Upcoming Projects Need Support

Within the next few months, there will be several important events taking place which need the support of the entire citizenship of this area if they are to be successful.

The Memphis Cyclone Band Boosters Club has launched an aggressive program to raise funds to purchase new style band uniforms for members of the Memphis Cyclone Band, since it has been about 10 years since the band has had a new uniform.

Every public spirited citizen can appreciate the advantage of having "The Going Band From Cycloneland" in as sharp looking uniforms as possible since our band is our musical ambassador, seen time after time throughout the Panhandle and the entire State of Texas.

The dedicated musicians who make up the Cyclone Band do their part every year to put forth the finest performance they are capable, and sweepstakes honors, along with many more, are not new to Memphis. It is a matter of pride, determination, and hard work that makes the Cyclone Band the fine musical group they are each year.

Sunday, right after Church services, the Cyclone Band Boosters is having a luncheon in the Community Center, with the profits going into the Band Uniform fund. The organization has a goal of $500 on this project and if our citizens will turn out en masse the band booster will well reach this goal.

After the new high school building is opened, Band Director Darryl Phillips said the band will have a concert in the new auditorium. The group is working hard toward this concert which should be well attended.

This brings up the second worthwhile event needing public support. The Memphis Schools are planning an open house for the new high school building early in March with State Senator Jack Hightower as principal speaker. This will be during Public School Week in Texas and a fitting time for such an event. Every man, woman and child in the Memphis Independent School District should be on hand for this open house being planned for a Sunday afternoon.

Tickets are now on sale for the 47th Annual Banquet, Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development, to be held in the Community Center, 7:30 p. m. Thursday, Feb. 15, with Speaker Ben Barnes, Texas House of Representatives, as the principal speaker. The speaker is one of the most energetic young men in the state government and will bring to Memphis an important message. The Chamber leaders feel the Community Center will be filled to capacity.

Our citizens can be proud of past accomplishments of the Chamber of Commerce and for the future work and planning going into this organization each year. It is only through support and cooperation that the Chamber in any community or city can be effective and attending the annual banquet of the chamber is one of the highlights of the year.

We feel that programs like these, along with many more like the library improvement program, need public support if they are to be successful. Let each of us do our part and support these programs by attending them.

Use Your Mind

Can you listen carefully to many people and conclude they're really trying to think through things and make intelligent comments?

In other words, when we discuss issues or topics of the day, do we attempt to understand both sides and look into the facts—even if that takes an effort—or do we just jump to a conclusion and say something that will be popular or provoke a laugh?

The freedom to dissent, to think for oneself, is a heritage dear to all of us. We were not in the beginning a nation of sheep; we are not today. This is because there have always been Americans who think for themselves, who use their minds independently, which helps keep this nation strong and prevents cooperation and despotism.

And we must tolerate opposing views and the opinions of those who differ with us.

Real thinkers are valuable assets to a community but are rare. It's easy to slip into the habit of loose talk and loose thinking, or lazy thinking.

The individual who trains himself to hold his tongue, and who thinks about what he is going to say carefully before he says it, will soon gain both knowledge and respect in his community.

among his associates.

Intelligent people can disagree—perhaps about almost everything—without being personal or anything personal involved. This is the test—and a sign—of maturity and wisdom, and democracy at work.—Shamrock Texan.

Healthier States

Based on life expectancy, the healthiest states in the union are Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota and North Dakota. Thus the Midwest is the place to live if you want to live longest. That's the gist of life insurance statistics recently analyzed.

The unhealthiest state (including the District of Columbia) is South Carolina. The average lifespan of a caucasian male in South Carolina is only 65.97, while the national average is 67.55 and the average in the healthiest states several years more (Females live seven or eight years longer than males in practically all areas of the country.) Among non-white the average is even lower.

Geographical location is not the only factor in longevity, however. The experts say another influence is heredity. Climate and rainfall and soil (which relate to geography) are all thought to have an effect. Contrary to what some might think, the ratio of doctors to the number of citizens has relatively little influence on life expectancy.

And the warm weather—which so many elderly people seek in later life—doesn't produce an average longevity as great as that in the upper Midwest, where the winters are cold and the weather severe, which may surprise a number of readers.—The Floyd County Hesperian.

Once nematodes get at your cotton, yields go down and so do profits. But with FUMAZONE® 86 soil fumigant applied at only 1 to 2 gallons over-all an acre, you can take care of root-knot, sting, meadow and other nematodes—those tiny soil pests that attack plant roots, suck away profits. FUMAZONE 86 soil fumigant increases yields up to $200 an acre. Many High Plains ranchers just like yourself tell us that's exactly what happened to their yields after their soils were treated with FUMAZONE 86. It can be applied right from the drum, No mixing, no diluting, no nozzles clogged with foreign material. You can use the chisel method, the plowsole method or inject FUMAZONE 86 into your irrigation water. Could you ask for greater flexibility? Sure you could. So here it is. Apply FUMAZONE 86 before planting, at planting or after planting. It's the only type of soil fumigant that can be used on living plants. Ask your Dow Farm Chemicals supplier about it. YOUR COUNTY AGENT SAYS

Efficient Bagworm Control Starts During Winter

"One of the most economical and efficient means of controlling bagworms is by removing the bags from the trees during the winter months and destroying them," says County Agricultural Agent W. B. Hooser.

Bagworms belong to the order Lepidoptera—moths and butterflies. The male larvae pupate and emerge from their tapered brown bags usually during late August. The female also undergoes pupation, but being legless and wingless, she remains inside her silken bag. After mating, the females lay approximately 500 eggs inside the bag she has occupied all summer. The females then fall to the ground and die. The bag containing the eggs remains on the tree until the following spring.

If the bags are destroyed, the life cycle is broken. If not, the eggs hatch into tiny worms which begin feeding greedily on the surrounding foliage. A silken case is soon spun about the developing larvae with the front end being left open so that the larvae may extend a portion of its body from the bag to crawl about in search of foliage. Pieces of bark and foliage are soon attached to the case for re-enforcement and camouflage.

These destructive pests prefer evergreens, but often attack deciduous shrubs and trees. Aside from destroying the overwintering stage (the eggs in their silken bags) they can be controlled with several insecticides if applications are made while the larvae are quite small. As soon as the larvae becomes fairly large, they are extremely hard to kill and heavy infestations will remove the foliage and bark from all or parts of a tree or shrub; at times resulting in the death of the plant.

Additional information on the control of this insect may be obtained from L-199, "Texas Guide For Controlling Insects On Ornamental Plants," available at your county agricultural agent's office.

Some Plant Pests Are Best Controlled During Winter

During the winter, while deciduous plants are in a dormant state, is a good time to control several plant pests. Spraying pe-should be applied when the temperature is between 40 and 60 degrees F. and free of freezing weather within 48 hours after application.

Dormant oils should not be allowed to get on the roots of trees. Dormant oils have reported by damaged sugar and Japanese maple, beech, hickory, walnut, and butternut trees.

Follow directions given on the container label. For a list of recommended materials, rate of application and time of application please refer to L-245, "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects and Diseases on Fruits and Nuts" and L-199, "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Ornamental Plants." These publications are available at the county agent's office in the Hall County Courthouse.

1040 U.S. Individual Income Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on Federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers question most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q—Is it true that IRS will figure out your tax for you when you file the short form?

A—Yes, if your income tax is less than $5,000 and Form 1040A is filed then IRS will compute your tax if you wish. We will refund any overpayment or bill you for any additional tax due.

Q—I married a widow with two young children last summer. Can I claim the children as dependents?

A—If you provided more than half the children's support for the year then you may claim them as dependents. If your wife provided over half their support, she can claim the children as dependents on her separate return or they may be claimed on a joint return.

Q—Can I claim two exemptions for a dependent over 65?

A—No. You only claim one exemption regardless of the dependent's age. The additional exemption for being 65 or over may only be taken by a taxpayer filing his own return.

Q—Why do I have to put a Social Security number on my tax return?

A—The law requires persons filing returns to furnish a tax account number. Since the majority of taxpayers already have Social Security numbers, these numbers are also used for tax identification purposes. Taxpayers who forget to list their number will have refunds delayed until the number is supplied.

Q—I teach in high school. Under what conditions will summer courses I take be deductible for tax purposes?

A—The courses will be deductible if the primary reason you took them was: (1) for the purpose of maintaining or improving your present teaching skills, or (2) expressly required by your employer to maintain your salary, status or job.

Q—We lost a child in a traffic accident last year. Can we claim him as a dependent for the entire year or only part of it?

A—If the child was your dependent you may take the full $600 exemption for the year of his death.

Q—Do you have to be married to get the head of household income tax rates?

A—No you don't. On page 3 of the 1040 instructions you will find an explanation of whether you qualify for these rates. It cannot be used if you are married and can file a joint return.

Q—I won a prize in the contest run by the local filling station. It was cash. Do I have to report it as income?

A—Yes, you do. Prizes such as yours as well as money or merchandise won in lucky number drawings, radio and television quizzes or from any sales promotion programs are taxable and must be declared as income.

Q—My name was misspelled on the 1040 package I received in the mail. How can I correct this?

A—Make the change on the 1040 package you received by marking through the error and entering your correct name. It is helpful for us to get the corrected label back to aid in identifying the error and making the necessary changes. If your Social Security number is misspelled please correct it in the same manner.

Q—Are child support payments deductible?

A—Child support payments are not deductible to you nor are they taxable to your former wife. However, if you, rather than your former wife, provide more than one-half the child's support, then you may claim the $600 dependency exemption on your return.

Q—I have several W-2 forms since I worked for several people last year. Should I attach all of them to my return or can I add them up and give you the totals?

A—You should attach Copy B of all your W-2's to your return, although only the total need be entered on your Form 1040. Fail-

Editor, Memphis Democrat. Greetings to you, Dr. T. and to all readers of the paper. The year 1967 is a profoundly sacred one for me. I am old. Memory of four short years we resided in Memphis will I forget how kindly Mrs. B. received us in the hands an 1936. We were deeply touched by the friendliness, the fullness of all whom we met. Observation and experience of two great factors in all that we observe how well and how good people in Memphis met and good way. Their experience, community, church life, enterprises of Elmon varied engagements served—and experiences a matter of history from 1936; plus a high right thinking, right beauty pressed us more and Editor.

Now on this day, Jan. 26, 1967, I am thinking of history you, the people of Memphis and Hall County, Georgia which will live on in the bounds of your country. So in the years to come will say of you: how glad those citizens were interested in the future who were to follow in come. God bless you in the tomorrows of yours. E. C. Cargill, Atlanta, Georgia.

Even the ash tray rides smoother in Chevrolets

When you're down at your dealer's trying out a new Chevrolet, be sure you pull out the ash tray. Notice how nice and easy it glides, never hanging up or even scraping. The reason is, it rides on ball bearings. Four shiny little ball bearings. (Take the tray all the way out and you'll see them.) You say you don't even smoke? Then look at it this way. That ash tray is a symbol of the way we make cars: Paying extra attention to the little things as well as the big ones, as a way of making extra sure your '67 Chevrolet gives you

March Of Dimes Asks For Funds During January To Fight Birth Defects

Although Hall County is not holding an active drive to raise money for the National Foundation March of Dimes during January, local citizens who would like to help with this worthwhile project may do so by mailing their check to Mrs. Marc Tarver.

"After finding a cure for polio, the National Foundation has turned its interest to fighting birth defects which rob more than a quarter-million American children of their birthright: to enter the world healthy and grown normally," Mrs. Tarver stated.

"Until recently," she said, "the parents of many children born with birth defects heard only the heartbreaking answer from their doctors: 'there's nothing more we can do'."

"But now, thanks to the March of Dimes, here is a nationwide network of treatment and diagnostic centers where teams of experts deal with the medical, social, and economic problems caused by birth defects. The work of these centers continually narrows the gap between research findings in the laboratory and their application to the problems of the birth defect patient."

Through the National Foundation, two Birth Defect Centers have been set up in Texas.

In January, 1964, a center was of Pediatrics in the University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston and in September, 1965, the March of Dimes Birth Defects Center was opened at Southwestern Medical School, Dallas, by a grant from the National Foundation Chapter of Texas.

The Birth Defects Center's goal is to assist the child with birth defects to realize his full potential as an individual by providing good medical care and helping his family to understand and manage the problems arising from this condition.

Education is a vital part of the Center's program and includes instruction of medical and paramedical students, dissemination of information to medical and paramedical personnel in active practices, and to other persons involved in the management of children such as teachers, parent groups and community agencies.

Research into basic causes of birth defects and better management of existing problems is also of major activity in the Centers.

Not all birth defects are noticed at birth or even during the first year of life. Some show up during childhood, others are detected during adulthood. Of the estimated 15 million Americans of all ages with one or more birth defects which affect their daily lives there are:

Almost three million with mental retardation from causes that are prenatal in origin; four million with diabetes; one million with congenitally crippled by diseases of the bones, muscles or joints; half a million born blind or with serious visual defects; some 750,000 with congenital hearing impairment; at least 350,000 with inborn hearing defects; more than 100,000 with speech defects of prenatal origin and an additional million with a variety of other inborn defects of the nervous, digestive, endocrine, circulatory and other body systems.

Research is the major weapon of the future against birth defects which strike more than 250,000 babies each year in the United States. Much of the research program financed by the March of Dimes is directed toward genetics and other factors suspected of causing stillbirth, infant deaths and handicapping defects.

Doctors believe that certain birth defects can be prevented or minimized by promoting nationwide programs of prenatal care, arousing public concern, and thus stimulating community action, Mrs. Tarver said.

YOUR COUNTY AGENT SAYS

Forage Testing Can Increase Cattle Profits

Forage testing can increase profits from beef cattle. The nutrient content of forage crops varies so widely that it is difficult to calculate rations precisely for best performance using average values for the given forage, explains County Agent W. B. Hooser.

Recent analysis of some Coastal Bermudagrass hays show that the crude protein content varied from 3.3 to 17.2 percent, he said. Protein content of alfalfa varied from 8.7 to 23.2 percent. A wide variation in other quality factors was also noted, the county agent added.

"Thus, it is easy to see that average values cannot be used with confidence in most cases. Underfeeding will result in decreased productivity and overfeeding in wasted nutrients," Hooser said. In either case, profits will be lowered.

"Forage sampling supplies and information on how to take a sample are available from county agents' offices. Samples may be sent to the Forage Testing Laboratory, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas, or another laboratory in the area," Hooser said.

Different type tests are available.

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Tex.—In Gov. John Connally's "state of the state" message there was enough grist to keep the legislative mill running all of its 140 days.

His proposals drew favorable comments from some, yes-and-no from others, and maybe-so attitudes from other legislators. Their reactions indicate that Connally's recommendations will be debated extensively during the months ahead.

Included in his wide-range message were:

CONSTITUTION REVISION—He suggested that the Legislature ask the people at a special election in September whether they want to elect 450 people, three from each House of Representatives district, to form a constitutional convention and bring back a new constitution for a vote by the people. A commission of 25 members, of which the governor would name 10 and Speaker Ben Barnes, Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert would name five each, would serve as the staff for the constitutional convention. A vote in 1968 could be possible, under Connally's timetable.

ELECTION LAW—He recommended a strict law for registering to vote the first time but easier thereafter.

ANNUAL LEGISLATIVE SESSIONS—Connally renewed the proposal for sessions of the Legislature every year, with the even-year sessions limited to budget-making and emergency proposals from the Governor. Trying to decide this spring what money is needed for state agency spending through August, 1969, is too difficult, he declared.

FOUR YEARS—Connally renewed his request for four-year terms for himself and other state officials, despite the voters' rejection of that plan in 1965.

STATE PARKS—He gave details on his proposal for a vote by the people this fall on issuance of $75,000,000 in revenue bonds to finance an elaborate system of state park expansion. Most of the money would be used to buy land before its price goes up. An admission fee of $1 per car to all state parks would retire the bond issue, he said.

AGRICULTURE — Connally said agriculture is important to Texas, but it is in trouble. The state is spending $41,000,000 each two years on 15 different agencies. He said he will propose reorganization later to provide coordination and cooperation of efforts to aid agriculture.

WATER — Also recommended was passage of a bill to adjudicate water rights by administrative procedures, through the Texas Water Rights Commission, rather than the more expensive route of going through the courts. He said more water rights are granted or claimed than there actually is surface water available. This will lead to costly fights when use comes close to supply, hence he proposed the plan advocated reorganization, strengthening and financing of the Texas Water Pollution Control Board. This to put a stop to water pollution, plus a program of $4,000,000 for planning regional waste treatment plants, and grants of $12,000,000 a year to cities and five authorities for waste-water treatment facilities, dovetailing with federal grant programs.

BANKING — Governor Connally drew quick fire from financial conservatives when he advocated the branch banks be legalized by a vote of the people in the four biggest counties—Harris, Dallas, Bexar and Tarrant. He said the many small banks in the counties simply cannot gather together the money to make the size loans required by modern Texas industry. So he wants the big-city banks to be allowed to have branches, instead of independent banks, in all parts of the four counties.

LABOR—The Governor endorsed some of organized labor's goals—higher unemployment and workmen's compensation pay, and an industrial safety law. As he pointed out, more people are hurt on the job each year—201,000—than on the highways—186,000. Death rate in Texas factories is nearly double the average rate for the other nine major industrial states. So he proposed that the bureau of Labor Statistics be given the job of promulgating and enforcing industrial safety rules.

FINE ARTS—He suggested financing and permanent status for the Texas Fine Arts Commission, set up in 1965 to preserve and promote fine arts in Texas, headed by John Ben Shepperd of Odessa.

INTEREST RATES—State Finance Commission has had a committee working up a consumer finance code. Connally gave it general endorsement, but said he will have detailed recommendations. Report will allow banks to go into the small-loan business, with higher interest rates than the traditional 10 per cent. It also will propose regulation of automobile dealers, department stores, appliance finance companies, and others who charge people for use of money. At present, only those who lend less than $1,500 at a time, for more than 10 per cent, are under state regulation.

PUBLIC UTILITIES—Connally proposed the creation of a State Public Utilities Board to take over from the cities the regulation of gas, electric, water and telephone rates; and from telephone companies, regulation of intrastate long distance rates.

CRIME—Stiffening of criminal laws, including requiring convicts to serve at least 20 years on life sentences and a third of all sentences before parole, was among his recommendations, plus tough new laws against carrying pistols.

TRAFFIC SAFETY—He wants more men for the Highway Patrol, at higher pay; driver education to be made available for all junior high schools; 18-year-old minimum driving age without driver education, upon which licenses may be obtained at 16; helmet requirements for motorcycle riders; medical exams to remove unsafe drivers from the highways; new tests for all drivers every four years; 12-month license suspensions for those convicted of major traffic offenses; mandatory suspensions for driving while intoxicated; and stronger motor vehicle inspection laws.

MEDICAID—Connally proposed that the voters' mandate of last fall be carried out, to give hospital and medical care to all those on public welfare rolls at federal and state expense.

Mr. and Mrs. Oattie Jones and daughter, Mrs. Bill Ray Jones and son, Rodney, visited Tuesday of this week in Pampa with Ernie and Lilly Jones, who recently celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary. They were married at the First Baptist Church in Wellington in 1907.

Estelline-Quitaque Girls To Meet Friday In Crucial District 10-B Game

The District 10-B race is getting into the final stages, with the two Quitaque teams, boys and girls still in the top seats, winning games from Flomot and Turkey this past week.

The biggest game of the upcoming schedule is Friday night, when the Estelline girls take on the Quitaque girls in the Estelline gymnasium. Estelline has suffered only one defeat in district play and this was to Quitaque at Quitaque in the first round.

This re-match game at Estelline Friday night beginning at 7 p. m. will be one of the top girls basketball games played in the Panhandle this season as both teams are determined to win the contest.

Last Friday night, the Lakeview girls and boys teams and the Turkey girls and boys teams battled to exciting climaxes. When the smoke cleared, Turkey teams were victorious but only by a threat in both games. The Turkey girls won by one point and the boys won by two points over their county rivals.

The Estelline girls downed the Matador girls 60 to 38 in what was a tight ball game for the first half, with Estelline holding a 31 to 29 edge.

In the boys game, Matador won the encounter 59 to 49. Jimmy Adecock had 29 points for Estelline.

Tuesday night, the Lakeview boys defeated the Matador boys 59 to 55 in a good game. The Matador girls won 53 to 36 over Lakeview.

Quitaque won two games from Turkey teams. The Quitaque boys won 94 to 43. Turkey's Johnny King had 12 points. In the girls game, Quitaque won 61 to 34. Karen Arnold had 19 points for Turkey.

The Estelline girls defeated a

EMPHASIS MEMPHIS

... and County Comments —By HAC

Wednesday morning I spent approximately one hour inspecting the finest high school building in this entire area—bar none. I came about when I asked A. Greer to go with me to the new Memphis High School building. He not only consented but gave me a guided tour. I not only saw, but heard a complete commentary from the superintendent pertaining to everything from the walls as well as plans for the area outside. I was impressed by what I saw and heard. Greer's remarks, as he looked to the future of educating boys and girls, should be heard by hundreds of other persons. The new educational facility is playing its part in producing the new generation all of us are hoping for in the future. I can't write thousands of words about this educational plant. But it only urge every person in this school district to visit it on Open House is held.

It is hoped by Supt. Greer and members of the school board that the move into the new building will begin within the next week. From what I saw, everything is ready now.

As we left the building, I looked east. My eyes fell upon the motor stand and the Little League baseball layout. The least I can say is that what I saw is finally not in harmony with a new building. Something must be done about this, and I believe it will come to pass. Don't let me wrong... I am for the Little League program all the time.

Look for announcement soon on Open House will be slated at the new High School for either March 5 or March 12. It will be on a Sunday afternoon, and is general public will be invited to tour the building.

The new street which is being established immediately south of the new building has been named 7th Street. "The new High School faces High Street" will be a comment heard many hundreds of times in the future. Pressure is on to complete engineering and laying of this street as time urges to occupy the new facility. It is my guess that it will not be laid at this time, but will be laid in order to allow all-weather travel. Also, another problem to be met is that of establishing parking lots near the school. Plans are being made by the school board, and work will be progressing within the near future on this.

All in all, I not only got an eye-opener during my tour, but received a mind-opener as I began to comprehend the magnitude of the task which has been faced by the trustees and administrators who are serving this district. There are still problems, but they will be faced squarely in the future.

Don't put oil or oil products into the sewer system. This is the way being made by city officials and employees. It is the result of oil and grease appearing in the sewer disposal plant recently which caused workmen to get by with dip buckets and remove it as quickly as possible. It explained, oil kills the bacteria which is nature's way of eliminating sewage waste by digesting it. The new plant is one of the finest to be found anywhere.

where and is sufficient to take care of this city's needs—even if it doubles in size. It is hoped that local people will recognize this problem, and place oily waste elsewhere.

Another thing: don't throw paper towels into the commode. Sewer line stoppages recently have been traced directly by plumbers to paper towels. The towels serve their purpose as intended, but can plug up sewer lines. A match stick can act as an agent to gather other substances, which eventually can cause a clogged line.

While passing on suggestions, here's another: don't wait until you arrive at the Community Center to purchase your ticket for the casserole and salad luncheon which will be served by the Band Boosters Club. Secure them in advance from any member of the band. Remember what happened last year when some persons (holding tickets) arrived late and could not be served. There was no more food. The ladies estimate how much food to prepare and base it upon the number of advance tickets sold. Serving will be from 12 until 2 p. m.; price $1.25 for adults, 75 cents for children under 12. Proceeds from ticket sales will be used to help purchase new uniforms for the Cyclone Band members.

GOOD WORKS

‘For as the body from the spirit is dead, so faith apart from works is dead.’—James 2:26

Christianity means much more than going to church once or twice a week. Taking the body to church is a small physical effort; it is more difficult to achieve a presence of mind, heart and soul.

It is not enough to say we have faith, and to believe it. We must show faith, in the daily conduct of our lives, in our constant approach to problems and situations.

In the performance of good works, faith is strong and most clearly evident.

Miss Donna Nell Knight Is Bride Of Marvin F. Shelley

MRS. MARVIN F. SHELLEY

Donna Nell Knight of Fort Worth became the bride of Marvin F. Shelley of Arlington Saturday, Jan. 21, at 7 p. m. in the Ridgela Presbyterian Church in Fort Worth. Dr. Clifford Williams officiated.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Earl L. Knight of Fort Worth and she is the granddaughter of Mrs. W. F. Adams of Lesley. Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Shelley of Arlington are the parents of the groom.

The background for the ceremony was a large white bouquet of gladiolas with a pair of arch candelabra which held white votive candles. The couple knelt on a white wrought iron kneeling bench trimmed in white stepanotis.

The organist, Mrs. W. H. Wright of Fort Worth, played "Midnight's Summer Dream" as a pre-nuptial selection and also the traditional processional, "Lohengrin" by Wagner, and the recessional by Mendelssohn. She accompanied Devon Hamilton of Dallas as he sang "Ave Marie" Bach-Gounod and "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte.

Attendants

Mrs. Jack Merchant of Dallas was matron of honor while bridesmaids were Miss Donna Perrone of TCU in Fort Worth and Mrs. Coy Garrett of Arlington.

They wore floor length dresses of avocado crepe which featured empire waistlines and short sleeves. Their headpieces were short veils attached to small flat bows made of the same material as the dresses. They carried cascade bouquets of feathered tangerine carnations with moss green bows and streamers.

Miss Susanne Taylor of Fort Worth was flower girl and wore a dress identical to the bridesmaids. Serving the groom as best man was Coy Garrett of Arlington. Ushers were Kenneth W. Foreman of Irving, Norman B. Nicholson, Robert P. Frost, and W. O. Goodwin, all of Arlington.

The Bride

For her wedding, the bride wore a formal gown of white imported English net with re-embroidered Alencon lace over pure silk taffeta. The cage gown of English net was appliqued at random with motifs of the Alencon lace.

The jeweled neckline was banded with scallops of the lace, and the long fitted sleeves of the net applied with the lace was the hemline of the gown. The scapular court-length train flowed from the shoulders.

Her bouffant cage veil of imported illusion was appliqued with Alencon lace. She carried a traditional bridal bouquet of white miniature roses centered with a Cauteya orchid.

Reception

Immediately following the ceremony, the reception was held in the church parlor.

The bride's table, laid with a white cloth, featured a white tiered cake. An epergne held an arrangement of tangerine carnations.

Ft. Worth Bridal Socials Honor Miss Donna Knight

Donna Knight and Marvin F. Shelley, who were married in Fort Worth Saturday, Jan. 21, were honored at a dinner Sunday, Jan. 8, at the Dallas Athletic Club.

Hosts for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Shelley, parents of the bridegroom, and Mr. and Mrs. Willis C. Brown of Garland.

The table was covered with a white cloth and centered with an arrangement of red roses.

Guests attending were Richard Shelley of Plano, Mr. and Mrs. Coy Garrett of Arlington, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Chandler of Dallas and Mr. and Mrs. Earl L. Knight, parents of the bride.

Miss Knight, the granddaughter of Mrs. W. F. Adams of Lesley, was also honored at a bridal shower Jan. 15 at 7:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Hugh Bozeman in Fort Worth. Hostess for the shower was Mrs. Jack Merchant.

A white cloth covered the table which held a centerpiece of white roses.

Mrs. C. E. Lowrance and Mrs. Conway Dillard, both of Fort Worth, were hostesses for a bridal shower for Miss Knight on Jan. 17 at 7:30 p. m.

The table was attractively laid with a white cloth. The unique centerpiece was a miniature wedding party. White satin ribbons with little nosegays of pink and white flowers extended to the corners of the table.

Mrs. John Deaver Shows Movies To B&PW Club Thurs.

The Business and Professional Women's Club met Thursday at noon in the Community Center for the regular luncheon meeting with Mrs. Gerald Knight, vice president, presiding in the absence of the president, Mrs. R. C. Clements.

Mrs. Bill Leslie, program chairman, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. John Deaver, who showed movie film of her trip to Europe last summer. Mrs. Deaver and a niece, Miss Jo Foxhall (now Mrs. Russell Sanders) spent six weeks touring several European countries. The film, along with comments by Mrs. Deaver, was most interesting and informative.

Housing Credit Needs Being Handled By FHA

The U. S. Department of Agriculture Farmers Home Administration is better equipped to handle the housing credit needs of low and moderate income families as a result of legislation recently signed into law, according to E. Leon Thurman, Farmers Home Administration Supervisor.

Thurman said the Demonstration Cities and Metropolitan Development Act, signed recently by President Johnson, makes it possible for a broader range of Hall County families to qualify for housing credit under expanded housing loan authorities of the Farmers Home Administration.

The new legislation makes more mortgage credit available to low and moderate income families in Hall County by increasing the level of activity of the agency rural housing loan program.

Loans by the Farmers Home Administration can be made in Hall County, to rural applicants who are unable to obtain credit they need from private lenders at reasonable rates and terms.

Application may be made at the Hall County FHA Office, 517 1/2 Main St., Memphis.

Poinsettias Can Be Planted And Enjoyed Next Year

Many people receive beautiful poinsettias as Christmas gifts, but they do not realize that they can plant them after Christmas to enjoy the following year.

According to Everett James, Extension landscape horticulturist at Texas A&M University, the poinsettia plant will go into a dormant period sometime in mid-January. It will shed its colored leaves at this time. When this happens, gradually reduce the amount of water and move the plant to a cool location where the temperature will remain between 50 and 55 degrees F. Do not allow the plant to become too dry, however, excessive moisture should be avoided, he says.

When the plant may be re-potted or moved directly in the yard. If the plant is to be kept in a pot, it should be 6 inches in height, shake the soil from the roots and re-plant in a fertile well-drained soil. Add a pH of 6.0 to 7.0. After planting, the plant should be placed in shade for a few days and watered well.

In order to produce a compact plant, pinch out the tips of the new growth when it reaches 6 inches in length. Repeat procedure until the middle of August.

The poinsettia is a short day plant. That is, they will not set buds and produce the colorful bracts until the short days of winter arrive. If they are kept in a room where electric lights are on at night, this will also prevent formation of flower buds.

Beginning the first week in January, the plant should not receive over 8 hours of daylight in order to hasten flower formation. Place the plant in a dark room at night and bring it back into the light at 8 a. m. After the bracts begin to show color, this short day treatment may be discontinued. Using this system, the plants should show color by Thanksgiving and be in full bloom by Christmas.

Poinsettias are very susceptible to damage by mealy bugs, aphids, or other sucking insects. Spraying with Malathion at the recommended rates will control these insects.

Throughout the southern portion of Texas, they can be grown as shrubs in sunny areas where they can be protected from early frost. They prefer a sunny location with well-drained soil. The same pinching procedure should be followed as prescribed for pot plants in order to keep the plant bushy and compact. They should be located in an area of the yard where the yard light will not lengthen the day for them.
