City Council Grants Gas Rate Increase

A special meeting of the Memphis City Council last Wednesday, the City Fathers passed an ordinance fixing and determining the general service rate to be used for sales of natural gas residential and commercial customers within the city limits of Memphis.

The City Council was asked to increase the rate on the November meeting permitting Lone Star Gas Company, to make an adjustment in the first step of the general service rate for R. W. Philpot, Lone Star's manager here, said.

Section 1 of the ordinance provided: "Effective with the first billing rendered on or after the first day of February, 1967, general service rates for sales of natural gas rendered to residential and commercial consumers within the city limits of Memphis, Texas, by Lone Star Gas Company, a Texas corporation, its successors and assigns, is hereby determined as follows:

"First 1,000 cu. ft. or fraction thereof $1.67 gross; $1.50 net; next 24,000 cu. ft. at $.8433 per MCF gross; $.7950 per MCF net; next 25,000 cu. ft. at $.7444 per MCF gross; $.6990 per MCF net; next 25,000 cu. ft. at $.6433 per MCF gross; $.5790 per MCF net; all over 75,000 cu. ft. at $.5543 per MCF gross; $.4890 per MCF net.

"No gas bill will be rendered to any residential or commercial consumer served under the above rate not consuming any gas during any monthly billing period.

"Net rate shall apply to all bills paid within ten days from monthly billing date."

The ordinance goes on to say the company has the right to collect such reasonable charges as are necessary to conduct its business and the rate applicable to each residential and commercial consumer per month or for any part of a month for which gas is used at the same location.

Section 2 of the ordinance sets up regulations for amending the rate by either the City or the Company and Section 3 is the portion of the ordinance expressing the imperative public need for an ordinance which suspended the necessity for three separate readings at three separate meetings of the City Council for passage.

Diversion Prog. Signups To Begin Monday, Feb. 6

Under the 1967 annual diversion programs which farmers will begin signing up for on Monday, Feb. 6, 1967, Hall County farmers will be eligible to request $762,237 in advance payments, Lynn L. McKown, Office Manager, Hall County ASCS, announced today.

The annual diversion programs are similar to the programs for cotton, wheat and grain sorghum in 1966 with advance payments if requested on cotton and grain sorghum.

Assignment of payments can be made to anyone on cotton; only FHA can be given assignments on Feed Grain and Wheat payments.

The wheat program requires no diverted acres for 1967. The price support payment will be based on 35 percent of the wheat allotted acres or the wheat acreage seeded for grain, whichever is smaller.

The Feed Grain program will primarily be a production payment program for 1967 as payments for voluntary diversion have been eliminated except on small farms. On regular farms, 20 percent of the base acreage must be diverted without a diversion payment to participate. The price support payment of $7.42 per acre, county average, will be paid on the smaller of 50 percent of the base acreage or acres seeded.

Farms with feed grain bases of 25 acres or less can divert the entire base and receive payment of $14.87 per acre on 88 percent of the base. Producers with bases of 125 acres or less can request their base acreage be reduced to 25 acres for 1967 only and comply as a small farm.

The 1967 Cotton Program will be similar to the 1966 Program with a required diversion of 12.5 percent of the cotton allotted acres to a conservation use. A maximum of 35 percent can be diverted. Payments have been increased with the county average payment being $39.78 per acre for 65 percent of the allotted acres and $37.19 per acre for the diverted acres. The diversion is optional, any number of acres may be diverted between 12.5 percent and 35 percent of the (Continued on Page Ten)

The move into the new building began about 2 p. m. this afternoon with citizens and students volunteering pickups, trucks and manpower to help school personnel with the heavy moving of equipment.

Some of the more delicate items like science equipment and typewriters will be moved at a later time by special crews, he said. Plans call for school to open in the new building in the morning with the first basketball game to be played tomorrow night in the new gym.

There are still several things left to be done but these can be finished while school is in session the superintendent said.

Skip-Row Cotton Farmers May Get Some Relief

Hall County cotton farmers using skip-row practices may receive some relief in the form of an increase in projected yield income payable to farmers under an announcement released last Friday by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The Texas Farmers Union, elected representatives from Texas, the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. and many others, have worked hard since Oct. 7, 1966 when certain inequity penalties were seen in projected yields in 1967.

The USDA announcement has the effect of saying that a total of 20,503,296 additional pounds of cotton have been granted to Texas to take care of various inequities in projected yield in 1967, according to a RPCG interpretation.

The RPCG interprets this to mean that 90 per cent or more of these pounds will go to the 32 counties in the Rolling Plains who have lost pounds because of skip-row penalties. According to a table drawn up by RPCG, Hall County had a loss factor of 49, the largest of any of the 32 counties and a total pounds lost for county of 4,490,703. The total of all the counties were 34,785,537 pounds for the 32-county area.

Farmers Union President from Texas, Jay Newman of Waco, in a release this week said, "The possible $2 million dollar increase in projected yield income payable to cotton farmers under the announced additional reserve allotted to Texas resulted from the refusal of Farmers Union and Texas members of Congress to give up in their efforts to get USDA to correct erroneous projected yield allocations for certain skip-row pattern counties for 1967."

As nearly as we can tell, the Texas ASCS committees will determine how the pounds will be distributed, but it is expected that most of this will go to Rolling Plains counties.

A close examination of the additional pounds of cotton which have been granted to Texas, slightly over 20 and a half million, that it is about two-thirds of the amount asked for. Not all of the loss will be corrected in this action.

The RPCG and other cotton grower groups were elated at the decision by the USDA. The ultimate goal being sought after is that of returning to measuring a stalk of cotton in the Rolling Plains of Texas just like a stalk anywhere else in the United States. Charles W. Stenholm, executive vice president of the RPCG, has said.

We have known for several years that many of the problems of cotton in the United States are administrative or legislative problems which have developed into certain inequities to producers. These problems must be dealt with through political units if effective solutions are to be worked out.

This is one of the real healthy situations to develop and it is fitting that growers and other citizens should be elated with the step being taken for it definitely will help this area.

What Other Editors Say

Reading A Necessity

The publishing business in the United States is producing more printed material than at any time in the nation's history, and yet curiously enough a great number of people don't read.

A recent study showed that the average American reads on the seventh grade level and only about half the adults in the country ever read any books at all.

This is a distressing statistic and has caused concern among the educators of the nation, and well it should.

Reading is the key to knowledge, and while illiterate people are not necessarily ignorant people, without the knowledge of how to read and write, a person's progress is necessarily limited.

If a person reads a book a week throughout his average adult life of 50 years, he would read about 4,000 books in a lifetime. This figure, while impressive and far beyond that of most people, would make but a dent in the accumulated knowledge contained in a typical library such as our own Perry Memorial Library.

The fact is, of course, that very few people read a book a week. A great many people don't even read a book a year.

This is too bad, because reading is essential. The ability to read and reason is a requirement for an informed electorate that keeps our free form of government alive and healthy.

We will admit that we live in an age when there is an intense competition for reading time, and many people have surrendered their precious reading time for other pursuits. When they do this, they cheat themselves out of one of life's greatest joys, because only reading gives us a link with our past, a comprehension of our present, and a fleeting glimpse of the future.

A good reading program must be founded on reserving a certain period of each day for reading, even if it is only an hour a day. That reading period, whether it comes late at night or early in the morning, should be jealously guarded and surrendered only to the most urgent demands.

In earlier days, books were precious and the ability to read them was a mark of the educated man. In this day of mass education, the right to read is carelessly accepted and casually used. —Ochiltree County Herald.

Tourism In Texas

Know what the third largest industry in Texas is?

It's easy enough to guess the state's first industry: the giant oil and gas and related industries. And the second largest is fairly easy—farm and ranch industry.

But the third is a sleeper. According to the latest statistics, the tourist industry is the third largest in the state . . . and now, more than ever before, communities all across the state are going after the tourist dollars with grim determination.

Over at the Colorado City tourist meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Friday, Andrews representatives were told that by 1975 the average worker would have three times the leisure time that he enjoys now.

And it's the long drawn vacation period and those long week-enders that have accounted for the gigantic leap in sales of the camper units in this area.

A man and wife with a couple of children could afford a motel for a couple to two two-day outings a years . . . but commercial lodging can put a real whammy on the pocketbook on a four-or-five jaunt around the countryside.

So most travelers are solving the problem by carrying their own facilities . . . and the community that caters to those travelers can rack up the tourist dollars in the years ahead.

So the long-talked about plans about converting the old courthouse site into camping facilities, the development of the Kiddie Park, the creation of the prairie dog town, all centered around the city lake area . . . should emerge into concrete plans upon which action can be taken.

Work will have to get into high gear in the next few weeks if the facilities are to be ready for the coming summer.

Good facilities, well maintained and well policed with adequate signs on all highways leading into town, can pay handsome dividends in the immediate future. —Andrews County News.

Once nematodes get at your cotton, yields go down and so do profits. But with FUMAZONE® 86 soil fumigant applied at only 1 to 2 gallons over-all an acre, you can take care of root-knot, sting, meadow and other nematodes—those tiny soil pests that attack plant roots, suck away profits. FUMAZONE 86 soil fumigant increases yields up to $200 an acre. Many High Plains ranchers just like yourself tell us that's exactly what happened to their yields after their soils were treated with FUMAZONE 86. It can be applied right from the drum. No mixing, no diluting, no nozzles clogged with foreign material. You can use the chisel method, the plowsole method or inject FUMAZONE 86 into your irrigation water. Could you ask for greater flexibility? Sure you could. So here it is. Apply FUMAZONE 86 before planting, at planting or after planting. It's the only type of soil fumigant that can be used on living plants. Ask your Dow Farm Chemicals supplier about it. Wanda Grice, Fred Davis Exchange Wedding Vows Sat.

Wanda Sue Grice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Grice of Memphis, became the bride of Fred Wayne Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Davis of Blair, Okla., in a beautiful double ring ceremony Saturday, Jan. 28, at 5 p. m. at the Travis Baptist Church.

Rev. Gene Jorgenson, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Memphis, officiated.

Guests were registered by Gayle Cleveland.

Pre-nuptial selections were played by Betty Stewart, who also accompanied Jimmy Stewart as he sang "Always" and "Whither Thou Goest."

Vows were exchanged before an arch arrangement of jade foliage placed on a curved candelabra holding thirteen white candles. Two eight branched candelabra holding white candles stood on each side of the arch. Baskets of white gladiolas stood before the candelabras.

White satin bows marked the aisle.

Attendants

Candlelighters were Mark Shawhart and Mike Davis.

Mrs. Troy Petty, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. Mrs. Jerry Lebow of Pampa was bridesmatron and Sandra Davis, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. Each attendant wore an A-line dress of red velvet with long sleeves. Their hats of red velvet and red tulle were accented by red sequins. They wore white accessories and carried single long-stemmed white roses.

Angelia Wynn, niece of the bride was dressed identically to the attendants.

Serving as best man was Jerry Lebow of Pampa. Groomsmen were Jimmy Grice of Memphis, brother of the bride, and Kent Westbrook of Fort Worth.

Ushers were Bill Perry of Fort Worth and Eddie Williams of Blair, Okla.

The Bride

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white satin featuring a chapel train. The bouffant skirt was scalloped in front to reveal a full underskirt of Alencon lace. The scalloped front was topped with tiny white daisies and seed pearls. The fitted lace bodice was fashioned with a scalloped neckline and long fitted sleeves which came to petal points over the hands. Her fingertip veil of imported English illusion was attached to a tiny crown of pearls and aurora crystals.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white sweetheart roses centered with satin puffs, net and a white Cattleya orchid.

The bride carried out the tradition of something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue with a penny in her shoe.

The wedding party formed a receiving line at the back of the church following the ceremony.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Grice chose a two-piece royal blue knit suit with black accessories. Mrs. Davis wore a three-piece light blue knit suit with beige accessories. The grandmother of the groom, Mrs. Fred Davis, Sr., was dressed in green with black accessories. Each wore a corsage of white feathered carnations.

Reception

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The serving table was covered with a white flocked nylon cloth attractively draped over an underskirt of white satin. The two-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Two imported silver candle holders holding white spiral candles flanked the bridal bouquet. Crystal and silver appointments complemented the arrangement.

Serving the wedding cake was Becky Westbrook of Fort Worth. Sandra Davis poured the cranberry punch.

Mrs. Davis' going-away costume was a red and white three-piece knit suit with beige accessories. She wore the white orchid from the bridal bouquet.

The bride is a 1965 graduate of Memphis High School and attended Clarendon Junior College.

The groom, a 1965 graduate of Blair High School and the H. C. Lewis School of Electronics in Oklahoma City, is presently employed with General Dynamics Corporation in Fort Worth.

The couple are now at home at White Settlement Road in Fort Worth.

Rehearsal Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Davis of Blair, Okla., were hosts for the rehearsal dinner which was held at the Pounds Cafe Friday night. The dining tables were covered with white linen cloths on which floral arrangements of red roses were placed.

Pathfinders Club Enjoys Program On Better Health

"Medicine of '66" was discussed by Mrs. Sarah Hill. She stated that 1966 might be characterized as the year of vaccines. Mumps and measles vaccines were discovered also during 1966 the first successful implantation of artificial devices was accomplished. Some went into effect and the adoption and improvement of artificial limbs also happened in 1966.

W. F. McElreath's topic was "Spare Parts for Humans." Examples of these are the curved ear on for faces with underdeveloped lower jaws, props for restoring noses, framework around which skin can grow to form new ears, crystal-clear corneas for eyes whose natural ones are become clouded by disease, heart valves to replace leaky natural ones, tubes to replace plugged natural ones between throat and middle ear, sunken cheeks and other leftover effects of accidents and disease. She said there are many more but the point is that all of these spare parts of the human body are made from the same family of wonder material of silicones.

Mrs. McIntush then gave a report on Hall County's contribution to the Cancer Crusade since 1948. The best contribution was in 1959 when $1378 was given. It stated the goal for 1967 is $179 which is equal to 14¢ per capita. Delicious refreshments were served to the following: Mmes. F. Ritchie, Sarah Hill, J. J. Daniel, W. R. McElreath, J. McIntush, A. Gidden and the Misses Mrs. J. R. Mitchell.

THE WATT and THE KILOWATT

Producing power is a gigantic battle with nature. The windmill produces enough power to pump water from the ground—something a few watts of electricity can do. But the huge generating plants which produce the power transmitted over the vast network of WTU transmission lines which reach from the Red River to the Rio Grande are measured in kilowatts—hundreds of thousands of them. Power enough to serve 166 cities and towns in 50 West Texas counties. You can live better electrically—West Texas Utilities provides the kilowatts.

1040 U.S. Individual Income Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on Federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q—When do you have to file the long form 1040 instead of the short form 1040A?

A—The general rules are that the short Form 1040A cannot be used if: (1) deductions are itemized; (2) income was $10,000 or more; (3) more than $200 of income was not subject to withholding; (4) special tax status or tax credits are claimed; (5) a fiscal year or accrual accounting method is used; (6) the return is delinquent. The 1040A instruction booklet gives more details on who can use it and how it should be prepared. Free copies are available at IRS offices as well as many banks and post offices.

Q—What can be deducted by salesmen for the cost of operating a car?

A—You may be entitled to deduct 10c a mile for the first 15,000 miles of business use and 7c a mile thereafter if you qualify, or you may deduct the actual cost of operation including depreciation. Of course your car travel must be an ordinary and necessary business expense. These rules are explained in more detail in the Form 1040 instructions.

Q—When does the law on direct filing with service centers go into effect?

A—The law requiring returns to be mailed direct to service centers will be implemented in stages. This year no individual income tax return will be required to be sent direct to the service center although in many districts returns calling for a refund can be mailed directly to the service center to speed up processing. Check page 10 of the Form 1040 instruction booklet for the mailing address you should use this year.

Dixion TV & Appliance

W-2 before sending in my return? I have a refund coming and want to file as soon as I can.

A—You must wait until you have your W-2 forms before filing your return. When IRS receives returns that do not have required W-2's attached, processing is held up until the taxpayer is contacted and the missing forms supplied.

Q—What state and local taxes are deductible on my federal tax return?

A—State and local income taxes, general sales taxes, state and local gasoline taxes, annual ad valorem personal property taxes, and real estate taxes levied for the general welfare are deductible. Deductions are not allowed for: drivers licenses, state and local taxes on alcoholic beverages, tobacco and certain miscellaneous taxes. Also, the cost of auto tags are deductible only to the extent it is based on the value of your car.

You will find further details on what is and is not deductible in the Form 1040 instruction booklet.

Q—Have you got any publication that goes into more detail than the 1040 instructions?

A—The publication, Your Federal Income Tax provides additional information on tax filing. It may be obtained for 50c at any IRS office.

Q—Where should you file your return, in the district where you live or the district where you have your legal residence?

A—Tax returns should be filed in the district where you legally reside. For the majority of taxpayers legal residence and actual residence are identical.

Q—I was off the job for two months last year with a kidney infection. Is the -80 a week I received in sick pay deductible?

A—If the $80 a week you received was 75 per cent or less of your normal salary and you were hospitalized at least one day, you may exclude from gross income $75 a week for the first 30 days of your absence and $80 a week thereafter. If you were not hospitalized, nothing can be excluded until after a 7-day waiting period, beginning with the first day of work you missed. Then you may exclude $75 a week for the next 23 days, and the full $80 thereafter.

However, if the $80 a week you receive was more than 75 percent of your normal salary then the waiting period is 30 days from the first day of absence from work, and nothing may be excluded until that period is up. This will be true whether or not you are hospitalized.

The maximum amount excludable after the 30 days is $100 per week.

Q—It is true that you don't have to provide over half a person's support to be able to claim him as a dependent? I've heard that if several people chipped in to support someone then it way up to the group to decide the dependency exemption. Is that right?

A—Under some circumstances that is correct.

Cases like this usually arise when several members of a family contribute jointly to support another member. When the other tests for claiming a dependent are met, and when several people together have provided more than they may agree to permit one of them to claim the exemption.

To do so, the person who takes the exemption must have contributed over 10 percent of the support and the others who contributed over 10 percent must sign a declaration that they will not claim the exemption for that year. These declarations must be filed with the return of the one claiming the exemption.
