Cyclone Cagers Win Second Place In Dist.

Basketball season ended on a good note last Friday night with the Cyclone downing the Lockney boys 69 to 51 and claiming second place in District 3-AA. The Dimmitt Bobcats won the 14-game season with a clean 14-0 record for championship.

In the girls bracket, however, a different story was recorded. Thursday night, (tonight) in the gymnasium, the Floydada girls, winners of the second half, will play the Friona girls, winners of the first half, in a one-game playoff for the championship.

Coach Travis Gilliland of Memphis said the local girls team will attend this game, which has all the aspects of a real fine contest. The Memphis girls lost to the Lockney squad in a hard fought contest last Friday night, 42 to 33. Bobby Carroll crowned the 1966-67 basketball sweetheart, Miss Sharon Gaston, at halftime of the boys game in a special ceremony. She was presented a necklace and an autographed white basketball.

Memphis Churches To Have Bible; Church School Attendance Campaign

The churches in the city of Memphis are cooperating in a Sunday school attendance campaign during the month of March. The project is being sponsored by the local ministerial alliance but it is the desire of this organization that all churches in the community will enter the program. The object of the campaign is to help the people of Memphis to be aware of how many are not in Sunday school week after week. Recent figures show that Memphis has a population of approximately 3,500. On an average Sunday there will be less than 1,000 people attending the Bible and church schools of their respective churches. This means that almost 70 per cent of our population never attend Sunday school.

He had a 61 per cent accuracy from the free throw line. Tony Pounds scored 299 points averaging 11 per game. He had a 63 per cent accuracy at the free throw line. About Future Growth And Progress!

Progressive thinking men in each community many years ago saw a need for banding together into organizations to handle and work out solutions for common problems. It is from this heritage that our nation has many, many fine civic groups, business associations, chambers of commerce, and a host of clubs.

Tonight, the Memphis Chamber of Commerce is having the annual Chamber banquet and Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives Ben Barnes will be here to make the principal address. According to J. W. Coppedge, local chamber official handling ticket sales, the banquet hall will be filled to capacity, over 350.

This is as it should be, for at that banquet, there will be residents of Memphis and Hall County, and citizens of many other places who find this affair important enough to spend money for tickets and drive many miles to attend.

Speaker Barnes will have a message to all who attend. He is an exceptional young man and we feel fortunate to have him in Memphis today to speak to our citizens about important issues. He has been in the public eye the past few months as he serves in the capacity of speaker of the Texas House of Representatives.

We feel we are not being selfish in asking the help of Representatives W. S. (Bill) Healy and Speaker Barnes, our guests today, for their support and cooperation, advice and counsel, on the problems facing our community, and many communities our size over the state.

Our chamber officials will be good hosts to our visitors; they will, if time permits give them a guided tour of our city and its facilities, discussing with them our plans, hopes and dreams for a brighter future for our area. These men will, in the space of one short day, form an opinion of Memphis and its citizens and leaders. A packed banquet hall filled with enthusiastic citizens goes a long way toward the right image and atmosphere.

The Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development has definite plans for the future of our area. These plans are broad, maybe so broad they are outside our immediate capabilities, but they definitely are feasible and worthwhile. The more support, help, leadership and encouragement our chamber receives, the faster the jobs will be done. It costs money, time and energy to promote a city, to plan worthwhile projects and see them through, to make a good impression and to create the essential ingredients to bring about growth and prosperity.

It is primarily through the efforts of groups like the Chamber of Commerce that progressive plans are made and wheels are set in motion which brings this about.

The annual Chamber banquet each year kicks off the work year for the organization, as new officers and some new directors take over, new committee chairmen and committeemen are named, and programs of work are outlined.

In future weeks and months, many ideas and activities will be discussed by members of chamber committees. Some of these ideas will develop into worthwhile projects, such as the Christmas lighting contest and the yard beautification project this last year, handled entirely and admirably by a chamber committee.

If growth and progress is to be accomplished this year, it will take an active group of committees carrying on the work of the chamber in our area. These workers need encouragement and a pat on the back occasionally to help them along, because we are all human, criticism sometimes throws a bucket of cold water on our flames and valuable time and much effort is necessary to get the fire going again.

Now is the time to be thinking and making plans for chamber activities and to resolve to help out by working with the committees on worthwhile projects. If you are not a member of the chamber, now is an excellent time to join the organization. You, and Memphis, will benefit if you do.

Thoughts for Thursday

By H. M. Baggarly

The striking similarity between small children and adults was illustrated the other morning in a downtown store.

A happy little girl, perhaps four years old, came into the store with her father. Apparently she didn't have a care in the world. Her face was wreathed in smiles.

To please his little daughter, the father spotted an assortment of toys and told her to take her choice. Childlike, she selected two toys. The father explained that she could have only one, but she was unmoved, insisting on both.

After no little argument, the little girl stuck to her guns. But because her father also stuck to his, she broke into tears and was no longer the happy little girl which she was five minutes before.

She left the store with her father and one gift which apparently had failed even to maintain the status quo, much less add to her happiness.

Who would deny that the little girl that morning was any different from many adults.

There are more people who are unhappy because they can't have a new home with two garages in an exclusive residential district than are unhappy because they don't have a home and have to rent.

More are unhappy because they can't step up from a medium priced car to a Cadillac or Lincoln than are unhappy because they have no car at all.

The spirit which causes people to worship gadgets of this world is not unlike one's craving for alcohol or narcotics. The person whose very being cries out for a drink or a shot of morphine is not the one who has never taken a drink or had a shot. It is he who has tasted before, and he wants more—and more.

The Biblical admonition to "love not the world" is more truth than poetry. The one who inspired the advice knew that the person who loves this world's goods develops an insatiable appetite just as does the alcoholic or dope addict.

Yes, the little girl was happy so long as her mind wasn't on toys.

Incidentally, the father finally gave in, returned to the store and bought the second toy.

Non-Payment!

I know not who composed the following literary "masterpiece", but it was printed in the Graphic on November 12, 1891 and I thought you might find it amusing. (Conform it to any line of business you wish):

A printer sat in his easy chair; his boots were patched and his coat thread-bare, and his face looked weary and worn with care. While sadly thinking of business debt, Old Morpheus slowly around him crept, and before he knew it he soundly slept. And sleeping he dreamed that he was dead, and from trouble and toil his spirit had fled. Not even a sallow o'er did 'oll for the peaceful rest of the cowhide sole.

And wandering among the shades of smoke and scorn in lower hades, he shortly observed an iron door that creakingly hung on hinges ajar; but the entrance was closed with a red-hot bar. And Satan thereabout, and thus to the passing printer spoke:

"Come in, my dear, it shall cost you nothing and never fear; this is the place where I cook the ones who never pay their subscription dues; for though in life they may escape, they'll find when they're dead it's not too late.

"I will show the place where I melt 'em thin, with red-hot chains and scraps of tin, and also where I comb their heads with broken glass and melted leads. And if of refreshments they only think, there's boiling water for them to drink.

"The red-hot grindstone to grind their noses, and the red-hot rings to wear in their toeses. And then, dear sir, you'll see them squirm, while I roll them over with hand so firm."

With these last words, the printer awoke, and thought it all a practical joke; but still at time so real did it seem, that he cannot believe it was all just a dream. And often he thinks with a chuckle and grin, of the fate of those who hoard their tin, and never pay the printer.

Nematodes take their cut off the top.

Once nematodes get at your cotton, yields go down and so do profits. But with FUMAZONE® 86 soil fumigant applied at only 1 to 2 gallons over-all an acre, you can take care of root-knot, sting, meadow and other nematodes—those tiny soil pests that attack plant roots, suck away profits. FUMAZONE 86 soil fumigant increases yields up to $200 an acre. Many High Plains ranchers just like yourself tell us that's exactly what happened to their yields after their soils were treated with FUMAZONE 86. It can be applied right from the drum. No mixing, no diluting, no nozzles clogged with foreign material. You can use the chisel method, the plowsole method or inject FUMAZONE 86 into your irrigation water. Could you ask for greater flexibility? Sure you could. So here it is. Apply FUMAZONE 86 before planting, at planting or after planting. It's the only type of soil fumigant that can be used on living plants. Ask your Dow Farm Chemicals supplier about it. Enrollment At Clarendon College Sets New Record

Registration for the spring semester at Clarendon College closed Wednesday, February 8, with a record enrollment of 223 students. The final enrollment figure for last spring was 186, resulting in an increase of almost 20 per cent for the 1967 semester. The enrollment figure includes 152 male students and 71 female students. A classification breakdown shows 133 freshmen, 68 sophomores, and 22 unclassified students. A total of 51 students enrolled for the spring semester who were not enrolled during the fall.

Advertising A Vital Force In Local Area

Survey Shows That Newspapers Lead In Competition For Selling To Consumers

(Special to the Democrat) NEW YORK, Feb. 11 — In what way will Hall County residents distribute the $11,425,000 or so that they will be spending this year for consumer goods?

The way that they will spend it, and for what, will be determined, in great measure, by the effectiveness of the advertising that reaches them.

There is hot competition for their retail dollar. Local merchants, as well as manufacturers and distributors of thousands of products, are constantly trying to influence such spending and to lure larger portions of it toward themselves.

Some figures are now available from the American Newspaper Publishers Association, the Magazine Publishers Association and others on the amount of money that was spent in advertising in the past year.

Approximately $423,000 of it, it is estimated, was aimed at Hall County and its purchasing potential.

Throughout the nation as a whole, a total of $10.6 billion was spent for advertising in 1966 in publications of general circulation and over the air waves.

Newspapers were used for the major part of it, 5.67 billion. The other principal outlets were TV, $2.78 billion, magazines, $1.25 billion, and radio, $900 million.

All in all, for every dollar of retail business done in the country, there was an advertising outlay of 8.7 cents.

Applying this general average to Hall County and to the $11,425,000 in local retail business, an estimated $423,000 was spent in local and national advertising to achieve it.

It was equivalent to an advertising expenditure of $85 for every man, woman and child in the area.

Elsewhere in the United States, where purchasing power is not as high as it is locally, the amount spent on advertising is proportionately less. It averages $54 per capita. In the State of Texas, it is $53.

The 1966 figures show that advertisers are turning more and more to newspapers to reach potential buyers.

Currently, over 53 percent of the total amount spent for advertising in the four media is going to newspapers, the reports indicate.

Dr. And Mrs. Rose Attend Optometry Meet In Ft. Worth

Dr. and Mrs. Jack L. Rose were in Fort Worth February 12-13-14 where they participated in the 27th annual Southwestern Congress of Optometry. The session was held at the Texas Hotel.

Three outstanding leaders in the profession appeared on the program to discuss "Vision as a Tool of Learning, Remembering and Understanding in the Classroom," with special emphasis on modern education and the space age.

Knowledge gained from research at the Clinic of Child Development at Yale University, together with computerized statistics from much other scientific investigation, has contributed to methods of preventing visual problems in children and raising the level of their achievement in school. It was this aspect of vision care that was discussed by the speaker, Dr. Rose stated.

Appearing on the program were Dr. A. M. Skeffington, Director of Education for the Optometric Extension Program Foundation; Dr. John R. Pierce, professor at Indiana University where he has done much research and Dr. Robert S. Arner, author, lecturer and practitioner of Rockford, Ill.

The regional postgraduate meeting was primarily for optometrists and educators of the eight southwestern states but draws attendance from almost all states of the nation, Dr. Rose said.

The social highlight was the dinner-banquet honoring the speakers and the ladies. A full program of entertainment and educational sessions are also presented for the women in attendance.

Hall County Electric Cooperative Makes $64,488 Payment On Its Loan

The Hall County Electric Cooperative, Inc., Memphis, has made an advance payment of $64,488.86 on its loans from the Rural Electrification Administration in response to the Agency's request that its borrowers help counter inflation by stepping up payments to the U. S. Treasury.

The advance payment is in addition to regular quarterly principal and interest payments of $18,000 the cooperative makes to REA on funds borrowed to provide electric service to about 1,400 consumers. Previously, the cooperative had made advance payments of $35,513.14 on its REA loans.

Drivers License School To Be Held Here Soon

Hall County residents were reminded this week by Hall County Sheriff Elmer Neel and Memphis Police Chief Tomie Tucker that a Drivers License School will be held in Memphis, March 13-15, at the Community Center.

The classes will meet from 7 to 9 p.m. Monday through Wednesday, in the council room of the Community Center.

Sheriff Neel and Chief Tucker said the school was obtained for Memphis as a part of the County's effort to sharply reduce the number of unlicensed drivers operating vehicles here.

The school is intended as an opportunity for persons who do not currently have drivers license to obtain them or to assist in obtaining them. Classes will be conducted in such a manner as to allow persons who do not read or write to qualify for a drivers license upon successfully passing the test administered by the Department of Public Safety.

Persons holding a valid drivers license are also invited to attend the school to increase and better their knowledge of the rules of the road according to Sheriff Neel and Chief Tucker. The school is free with only expense involved being the cost of obtaining the license.

Operators of motor vehicles attending this school should be in a much better position to pass their drivers license test and should not have any trouble in passing this test as all questions on the test will be covered in the school, according to Safety Officer of the DPS, Chester Fant, who will be the instructor.

program worked out represents a practical solution which will enable the rural electric and telephone systems to plan intelligently, keep their line of credit intact and yet make a constructive and significant contribution to the effort to reduce inflationary pressures in the economy.

The counter inflation program calls for:

1. Deferring all postponable construction.
2. Reducing the net cash impact of the program on the Treasury during current circumstances by — a. Getting borrowers to make advance payments on their loans; b. Getting borrowers to defer as long as possible the withdrawal of loan funds from the Treasury; and, c. Encouraging borrowers to invest a maximum number of dollars in U. S. Treasury Bonds — REA Series, paying 2 percent interest.

Borrowers were asked to give substantial priority in their planning for the coming year to set aside some of their developing cash resources toward achieving a two-year cushion of credit, as recommended by REA.

Clapp, emphasizing that the program was temporary in nature, said borrower response has been excellent, and that it was expected to gain momentum as boards of directors meet and determine the extent to which their systems can participate.

REA has financed about 1,900 rural electric and telephone systems. In Texas there are 99 electric and 66 telephone borrowers.

EMPHASIS MEMPHIS

... and County Comments —By HAC

Uppermost in the minds of cotton farmers in Hall County and neighboring counties, as well as business men who watch the farm economy, is the penalty we have been undergoing in what has been termed "skip-row" planting. The impact was heavy in 1966. Then comes the report from the recent meeting of the Texas State ASCS committee, which sets the "additional pounds" per county for 1967 planting all over this state. Old Hall County did not gain one pound in projected cotton yield! This decision was made by the five-man committee after hearing about the historic yield for our county from influential citizens who knew what they were talking about. We are disappointed. In the 30-year history of farm programs, in our opinion, we have never seen a more unfair expression written into the record than we received. And, several of our neighboring counties have received the same treatment.

In all fairness to the Hon. Frank Moore, long-time friend, who lives at Plainview and is one of five members of the committee which decided to overlook Hall County's claim to get justice from the so-called "skip-row" penalties, he told in a telephone conversation that he went to bat for Hall County. Frank said he did not sway the state ASC committee; so we will live with their decision; that is, of this date. But those who know the facts are not giving up.

Let's go back to the record. After extensive work by interested persons through their congressional representatives in Washington, the United States Agricultural Department allocated about 2,000,000 pounds of cotton to the Texas ASC committee. This allotment was to restore a part of the penalty earlier applied to what is known in counties of this area as skip-row planting. The fact remains: Hall County was penalized for skip-row planting, but was not included in the counties reimbursed from the Washington allocation. What has happened to our state ASC organization? Again to the record: Hall County farmers have been supporters of all farm programs with one of the highest participation in the state.

After getting it in the neck," as a farmer friend expressed it to me, after hearing the report about skip-row as the outcome of penalties decided upon by the five-man Texas ASC committee, enthusiasm for administration-assured programs are going to decline. What has happened? Has a few so-called "punch servants" been too active manipulating public funds where the extra pounds go? When this happens, cotton producing counties always penalized.

The above is caused by policy, such as that in a news item in the Wichita Falls Record and comments from farmers keep up with what is happening. The headline said, "Added Cotton Yields Listed." The item said state ASCS committee had announced "the following additional pounds will be added to previous cotton yields in the following counties: Childress, 17; Cotton County, 17; Cottle, 8; Fisher, Haskell, 27; Jones, 27; Kent, McCulloch, 11; Mitchell, 11; Nolan, 21; Runnels, 32; Schell, 7; Scurry, 24; Shackelford, Stonewall, 23; Taylor, 19; Green, 33; Borden, 7; Glasscock, 21." Where (and why) was elimination of an increase due to Hall, Collingsworth, Motley, Wheeler, Briscoe, Ector, and Foard? We believe the answer to this question, prove embarrassing to many in the Department of Agriculture from Secretary Freeman at the bottom rung of the ladder. When the pocketbook of the farmer who raises cotton is invaded there will be many questions asked. From our standpoint we intend to help in finding answers.

American Indians demonstrate in Las Vegas, Nev., against government policies in Indian affairs. They don't want to take Manhattan Island.

Lynda Gordon, D. McClure Marry In Dallas Rites Jan. 27

Lynda Dianne Gordon of Dallas became the bride of Douglas Jim McClure of Dallas Friday, January 27, at White Rock Methodist Church in Dallas. Dr. Herbert Minga officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harlie D. Gordon of Dallas and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Goffinett of Memphis. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Everett L. McClure of Dallas.

The double ring ceremony took place before an altar of white. On each side was a large bouquet of white gladiolas and a candelabra holding seven white candles.

The organist was Mrs. Sue Johnson of Dallas. She accompanied Mrs. Margaret West in two pre-nuptial selections. The selections were "One Hand, One Heart" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Attendants

The candles were lighted by Doug Gordon, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Donald Neblett was matron of honor while Kay Gordon, sister of the bride, and Katy Gibson served as bridesmaids.

The floor length dresses they wore were two shades of aqua. The bodice was deep aqua velvet with a pale aqua chiffon over taffeta skirt. A satin ribbon accented the empire waistline. Their hats were aqua satin bows with tulle veils, and they each carried a nosegay of white carnations with aqua streamers.

Serving as the groom's best man was Robert Hedges of Dallas. Ushers were Robert Staton, Steve Thornton and Donald Neblett.

The Bride

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an a-line dress of white silk peau de soie. The center panel of the dress was lace which was beaded at random with tiny seed pearls. Over the dress she wore a white satin coat with long fitted sleeves which came to petal points over the hands. The empire waistline was accented by a small bow in the front.

The elbow length veil of illusion was attached to a tiny crown of pearls and crystals. She carried a cascade of white stephanotis and white carnations centered with a white orchid. The mother of the bride chose a pink jacketed dress. The dress was a lace bodice was silk shantung with matching jacket. She wore pink accessories. Mrs. McClure wore a three piece suit of blue silk with embroidered lace trim on sleeves and jacket. She chose blue accessories.

Reception

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in Fellowship Hall at the church. The guests were greeted at the guest book by Mrs. Robert Staton, sister of the groom.

The serving table was covered with white net over a white taffeta undershirt and featured a four-tiered white cake with small blue rosebuds. A silver candel served as the centerpiece. Serving at the table were Miss Jacque Garfield, Miss Ronna Goldbery, Miss Barbara Newmann and Miss Linda Smith, all of Dallas.

For her going away suit, the bride wore a blue and white wool dress with matching coat. She chose black accessories and wore the white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Following the wedding trip, the couple will make their home in Denton where they are both students at North Texas State University.

Rehearsal Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. McClure honored the couple with a rehearsal dinner Thursday January 26 at Sammy's Restaurant in Dallas. The T-shaped table was decorated in blue and white with a lovely centerpiece of blue carnations and white chrysanthemums.

Guests from Memphis were Mrs. Louis Goffinett, Mrs. Lester Campbell and Mrs. J. E. Roper.

Delphian Club Enjoys Program On Movie Making

The business session was conducted by Mrs. Sim Reeves, president.

Mrs. R. C. Clements introduced the program for the afternoon. Mrs. Cyril Keith gave the meditation "Uniformity of Sentiment in the Theater". "It is remarkable how virtuous and generously we uniformly applaud what is right and condemn what is wrong when it costs us nothing but send everyone is at a play-timent," she said.

Mrs. Mildred Stephens gave a report on "Movies and You". She stated "Movies are here to stay. Films are a favorite past time in the U. S. A. and in countries around the world. Today's movies are different from what we saw several years ago. For one thing, there are more of them. But, what is perhaps most important is the fact that there is more variety to choose from. Some are more serious—many more gay than ever before. There is entertainment, enlightenment and inspiration for everyone. Film-making now ranks with writing a novel, composing a symphony or painting a picture on canvas. Just as we have tried to develop our critical standards about other media, so must we about movies," she concluded.

Each one present enjoyed a quiz, "Your Movie 'Eye Q'".

Delicious refreshments were served to the following: Mmes. J. L. Barnes, Gaylen Ariola, Cyril Keith, Neal Hindman, R. H. Wherry, C. C. Hodges, Abe Anisim, Henry Hays, R. C. Clements, Sim Reeves, Jack B. Boone, Frank Finch, J. S. McMurphy, W. C. Dickey, Mildred Stephens and Miss Maud Milam.

Mrs. R. S. Greene Gives Review At Wesleyan Guild

The Wesleyan Service Guild of the Methodist Church met on Monday evening with president Mildred Gidden conducting the brief business session.

Mrs. Gidden introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. R. S. Greene. Virginia Law is the author and it is her experiences.

In 1941 Virginia Law entered Asbury College in Kentucky; a Methodist college for missionaries and ministers. To help her earn her way through college, she helped in the dining room.

Someone asked Virginia to go on a blind date and the date was Burleigh. Then came Thanksgiving and he invited her to dinner, soon they were "keeping company". Burleigh told her he planned to be a missionary and serve in the Congo, she prayed to be "called" too. A missionary came to the college and Virginia told him she hoped to have or that she prayed that she, too, would be called, the missionary told her to go on that Burleigh's Call was enough for both.

Virginia's family lived in Florida and they were married in 1942. Burleigh had to quit school and took a job with the forestry service. He had a charge he was never ordained to preach. Virginia worked and saved her money and much of his. They later returned to Asbury.

During this time Dr. Reed had Burleigh to drive him downstate for a speaking engagement and on the way the car broke down, so Dr. Reed told him he must go to the Congo as there was much for him to do there after he was so impressed in the way that he repaired the car.

In March 1950 the Laws and their two sons left the States on their way to the Congo to build a hospital. He felt that at last he was filling a divine purpose. They arrived at Leopoldville and purchased groceries to last for 3 weeks and flour for three months. They arrived in Wembo Nyam where 10 missionary families lived. They were given an old fashioned "pounding" upon arrival. Here they learned the leopard was the king of the jungle and not the lion. It took their furniture 6 months to arrive.

During the time Mr. Law was busy elsewhere, Virginia was busy teaching the mothers to sew, cook and to care for their children. Dr. Reed went to the Congo for a visit and wanted to find the pygmies so the Laws went with him. The pygmies are hard to find. They did find some where they had killed an elephant and devoured it before moving somewhere else.

One of the primitive things they learned, a man had wanted to be a nurse and after all had contributed clothing for him to go to school, he was killed by lightning. If the wife does not mourn loud enough she is punished by having to climb a hill with a bucket of water on her head, and other severe punishment. Another bad thing, if a new mother dies, the live baby is tossed into the grave to be buried with the mother.

Methodists from Indiana gave Burleigh a plane and he learned to fly it. The sons were now grown and going to Asbury and the baby girl was several years old when Virginia brought her to the States to visit her parents in Florida. They had not been there long when a telephone call came from the government that Burleigh had been killed as he left his plane.

The sons were asked to make talks at their father's services and one said he was making a doctor to go to the Congo to work in the hospital that his father had built.

Mrs. Gidden and Ophelia Haynes served delicious refreshments to the guests and members, Neville Wrenn, Annette Boswell, Betty Johnson, Maxine Phillips, Ruth Fowler, Lucile Burnett, Hester Bownds and Mildred Stephens.

Children were from the following families: Bert Glascock, Charley Chambliss, Billy Johnson, Isabell Chavez, Leon Myers, J. D. Tuck, Jerry Hassell and Neal Hindman.

Certificates Given In Pre-School Vision Course

After completing an eight-hour course in Pre-School Vision Screening, 16 local persons were awarded certificates by the Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness, Inc., here Friday.

The course was held on Thursday and Friday in the office of Mrs. Helen Neal, school and migrant health nurse, at the high school building. The course is being sponsored by the 1913 study club with Mrs. M. G. Tarver serving as chairman.

A date has not been set for the Pre-School Vision Screening in Memphis, but it will be held sometime in the spring, Mrs. Tarver stated. The project is for all county students and mothers will be asked to bring their children in for free screening, she stated. The study club is being assisted in the project by the Health Nurse, Mrs. Helen Neal, and several other interested individuals.

Miss Betty Kimmey and Mrs. Barbara Bywaters of Houston were here to direct the course of training which prepared local residents to qualify in the Pre-school Vision Training Program.

The purpose and aim of the Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness, Inc., is to prevent blindness and conserve sight, Miss Kimmey explained to the group.

The Texas Society was organized in 1955 and is affiliated with the national society. It is operated strictly on funds donated through mail contributions, donations from foundations and businesses.

Three-fold in purpose the organization through volunteer workers holds screenings for preschool children, glaucoma screenings, and sponsors eye safety programs.

Miss Kimmey pointed out that Glaucoma is the second cause of blindness and usually hits persons of 35 years or older. That caught in time the disease can be effectively treated. Lions Clubs throughout Texas participate in this program, she stated. Last year over 5,000 persons were screened free of charge by doctors who gave of their time and other volunteer workers. She said that about 150 persons were referred and 39 cases of glaucoma were found through these screenings.

There are 30 chapters in Texas for Pre-School Vision Screening programs. Last year 12 new projects were organized and a few less will be organized this year.

All projects are set up on a permanent basis and refresher courses are held each year by the Society Program consultant.

The Pre-School Vision Screening program is for children from 3 to 6 years of age, and is designed to help children with visual problems before entering school so that they may be on the same visual level with other children.

One out of 20 children is threatened by Amblyopia ex Anopsia or what is commonly called "Lazy eye Blindness", Miss Kimmey stated. It is one in which an eye that appears healthy actually has low or poor vision which cannot be helped by wearing glasses. It is a defect and not a disease. If caught in time 100 per cent prevention can be maintained, Miss Kimmey stated.

Seven members of the 1913 Study Club received certificates of award in the Pre-school Vision Screening course; Virginia Browder, Mmes. Herschel Combs, Ralph Williams, R. E. Roark, L. G. DeBerry, F. W. Foxhall and M. G. Tarver.

OWNING ON THE BASKETBALL COURT—Above are four pictures showing some of the crowd pleasing activity when the Harlem Stars visited Memphis recently. Picture No. 1 shows George Ferris of Memphis "Loud Mouth" of the Stars guarding each other closely while the action is on the other end of the court. Picture No. 2 shows Irl Brown, KGNC-Amarillo, Dink Miller, Steve Blackmon, Jack B. Boone, Barry Ward, Travis Gilliland and Jerry Hassel, the Booster Club all-stars on the bench. Other players were Joe B. Browning, Cleve Evans, Bill Lockhart, Zack Fisher and George Ferris. Picture No. 3 shows one of the Stars taking a shoe taken from the audience in a comedy ski while Browning, Gilliland and Blackmon look on. The fourth picture was taken after "Loud Mouth" stopped the game to pose for photograph after saying, "Stop the game, this man wants to take my picture." Officials Charlie Johnson and Eddie Braidfoot stopped the game. The new gymnasium was packed and the Memphis Cyclone Boosters Club president Bob Montgomery reported the organization made over $300 in its share of the receipts. "We want to thank the players and all those who attended for their support," Montgomery said.

ton Quality Meeting Planned Lubbock Wed.

Producers throughout the county are urged to attend a quality meeting on principles of improving cotton quality to be held Wednesday, February 22 at the Oko Palace, at 50th and 10th in Lubbock. County Agent W. B. Hooser will preside. The session will include talks on ginning methods, cotton picking and block ginning. Featured speaker at the cotton quality meeting will be Dr. Mack Brown, economist with the National Cotton Council. Dr. Horn recognized as one of the top cotton economists in the United States, according to Hooser. Hooser will discuss the world cotton situation and cotton supply and demand in the U. S. The agent said the meeting will begin at 9:30 a.m. and continue into the afternoon following a dutch luncheon. The cotton quality meeting is open to the public. Hooser said members of the Hall County Cotton Quality Committee are planning to attend. Mrs. Garland Coldiron and daughter Dana and Mrs. T. E. Davis were in Dallas last week. While there, Dana underwent examinations at the Regional Congenital Heart Center at Children's Medical Center.

Report Shows Operation Of Cousins Home

(Editor's Note: The following article was written by Mrs. Mildred Stephens, one of the owners of Cousins Home, located at 520 North 18th St. It covers facets of the operation which are unknown to many persons in this area, and gives a fuller insight into the service which is rendered and is needed in this area.) Cousins Home has been open since Sept. 1, 1963, serving many patients. We pride ourselves in saying that we have had many satisfied patients; and we have had "disgruntled" patients. During the first six months the doctors were very kind to us in sending terminal cases to the hospital. But as time went on we have had patients to expire in the Home. We remember the first such patient, was a man from another town and we asked the doctor when we knew his illness was terminal if he wanted to send him to the hospital and he said, "No, there is nothing to be done for him in the hospital that cannot be done here." Then this family said they did not want him moved. He lived only a few days longer. This family wrote us and told us they would never forget the many kindnesses extended them during their sad hour. Since then we have had a number of deaths and only because the family or doctor were satisfied to have them remain in Cousins Home. We remember one man that had no family, and the doctor told us he could not live long and that he could take him to the hospital but we loved him and could not see him passing away with no one to care. We celebrate all birthdays by singing "Happy Birthday" and using birthday napkins or some gay colored napkin. Each patient is given a small favor at Christmas, Mother's Day, Father's Day and special observance to other holidays. The people of the community are especially nice to Cousins Home throughout the year. One of the sweetest things that ever happened to Cousins Home was one day last summer, four little girls organized and presented a circus, charging neighborhood children a small fee for the show and pennies for cold drinks. The show was highly successful and the proceeds netted $3.60. The four girls were Jennifer Pate, Karyl Smith, Kim Vaughn and Meredith Douthit. We can't keep from saying here the whole month of December was Christmas month and we mean spiritually. Programs and gifts were presented by Delphian Club, Travis Baptist Church, Church of Christ, Woman's Society of Christian Service from the Methodist Church, MYF of the Lakeview Methodist Church, Cub Scouts, Brownies, Candy Strippers from Hall County Hospital, little children from the Church of Christ, Pathfinders Council, Mrs. A. W. Howard, Hedley Methodist Women, Parsons-Lockhart Pharmacy, Miss Una Lourd, Mrs. A. B. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Tucker, Mrs. Del Wells, Mrs. O. L. Favors, Mrs. Ted Montgomery, Mrs. O. E. Gardenhire, Mrs. Henry Blum, Chas. Stout, Cadettes Scouts, the John Shadids, Mrs. Lilly Davis, Mrs. C. D. Morris. In compliance with Civil Rights Act Cousins Home will provide care on a nondiscriminatory basis. All patients are admitted and receive benefit and services without regard to race, color or national origin.

About 30 Trackmen Report For Workout

Approximately 30 MHS boys reported for track workouts this week, including a nucleus of regulars returning from last year's regional championship squad.

Coach Bert Glascock said that it is too early in the season to know how many of the lads will be varsity trackmen. "We have about 30 boys working out now," he added.

Looking around the track, the coach named Clyde Wilson, Roy Long and William Welch as boys who ran last year at the State Class A meet, and Dwayne Jones and Roge Fowler as boys participating at regional. The 1966

The Cyclone had a 16 win, 11 loss season, winning first in the Shamrock tourney, second in the Samnorwood tourney, and second place in District 3-AA under the coaching of Travis Gilliland. The team scored 58.2 points per game average to their opponents' 52.3 average.

The Cyclonettes won two and lost 26. They played in one of the toughest girls basketball districts of the state this season. The team averaged 29.3 points, and their opponents 52.9 points. The team's foul shot percentage was 41 per cent.

Janie Watson was second high scoring girl with 226 points, averaging 10 points per game. She had a 39 per cent accuracy at the free throw line.

Bonnie Vick scored 52 points in 21 games, Sue Melton scored 42 points in 18 games, and Sandy Saxe played in six games as a forward and scored 11 points. The team scored 823 points for the season.

Coach Travis Gilliland said this week, "we had a good season and our teams made a pretty good showing against tough competition."
