'Wood Badge' Is Given to Les Sims

Scoutmaster Les Sims of Troop 35 was presented his "Wood Badge" June 13 at M. K. Brown Scout Reservation during the awards ceremony of Boy Scout Summer Camp.

This award is the highest offered to volunteer scouters in the national Scouting program, and is achieved by 10 days of intensive training in Cloudercott, N. M., and answering 20 questions involving the whole Scouting program.

In answering the questions, about two years of research work is involved, as well as 100 pages of typewritten material.

The Wood Badge was presented by District Scout Executive Dave Agnew and Bob Douthitt, the only other holder of the badge in the Comanche District.

One of the requirements of the Wood Badge is that the applicant teach Scouting to others. Sims did this in Hedley and Shamrock, teaching "Basic Scout Techniques" to new scouters. Also, he conducted two Junior Leader Training Sessions this spring at Camp M. K. Brown.

This is the first Wood Badge to be presented in the Comanche District. Douthitt received his badge in the Kiowa District.

Scoutmaster Sims has been active in the scouting program in Memphis for the past 10 years and has served as Scoutmaster for most of that time. He has devoted much time and effort to developing a strong scouting program in Memphis.

I, Gip McMurry, County Judge of Hall County, do hereby declare the week of July 20-26, 1969 as FARM SAFETY WEEK in Hall County, for the following reasons:

WHEREAS, the citizens of Hall County are proud of our farm families from whom comes our abundance of food and fiber; therefore, our citizens are deeply concerned about the safety and well-being of this segment of our population as they go about the sometimes hazardous task of producing the commodities needed by the entire population; and

WHEREAS, the farm and ranch accidents continue to take more lives annually and cause painful disabling injuries; and

WHEREAS, the President of the United States and the Governor of Texas have proclaimed the same period as FARM SAFETY WEEK; and

WHEREAS, during this week, a statewide farm accident prevention education program will be undertaken by the Texas Farm Bureau, the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, the Texas Safety Association, The Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas 4-H Clubs, Future Farmers and Future Homemakers of America, Young Farmers and Young Homemakers of Texas and Hall County Farm Bureau with the theme, "Manage To Prevent Accidents"; and

WHEREAS, such campaign will do much to call to the attention of our rural citizens the need for observing safety precautions which would reduce the tragic toll inflicted by accidents;

THEREFORE, I urge all citizens to recognize this special period, and especially urge farm families of Hall County to become more safety conscious, not only during FARM SAFETY WEEK, but every day of the year.

Yankees Still Lead Little League Play

The Little League Yankees under Manager Jerry Carpenter and Asst. Mgr. Bob Sperry are leading in the race for the League championship, holding a one and a half game edge on the title at this point.

The Yankees staged a last inning comeback Tuesday night against the Tigers but fell short by one run. The Tigers claimed the victory 12 to 11 to stay in the race. The Tigers are in second place with a 6-5 record.

With an 18 to 8 victory over the Indians, the Giants moved into third place Tuesday night. The Giants have a four and a half, six and a half record while the Indians have a 4-7 record.

The schedule calls for each team to play three more games, one tonight, one Tuesday night and one next Thursday. Play each evening begins at 6 p. m. with the second game beginning about 8 p. m.

Country Club To Have Best Ball Tourney July 4th

The Memphis Country Club will have a best ball golf tournament Friday, July 4, with foursomes scheduled to start teeing off at 9 a. m. Entry deadline is 8:30 a. m. that morning.

Men, women and youngsters can play in the tournament, it was announced. Teams will be drawn up by the tournament committee at 8:30 a. m., it was announced.

The Memphis Little League Ball Park will be the site of the Area II All-Star Playoff games, which are scheduled for Monday and Tuesday, July 14 and 15, President Royce Frisbie announced this week.

The first game will begin at 6 p. m. and will be played between Carson County All-Stars and the Childress All-Stars. The Memphis All-Stars vs. the Clarendon All-Stars will follow immediately, at about 8 p. m.

Winners Monday evening will meet in the finals Tuesday evening, it was announced.

The official announcement came last week at a Wednesday evening meeting in Berger.

All-Star Team Named
Tuesday evening, President Frisbie introduced to spectators the members of the 1969 Memphis Little League All-Stars, and announced that Billy Foster will be the manager and Jerry Carpenter the coach for the super team.

Members include: Giants, J. D. Evans, Ricky Miller and Tucker Wiggins; Indians, Charlio Bryley, Mark Shawhart and Ted Phillips; Yankees, Albert Mason, Kenneth Fields, Frank Lopez and Rickey Woodard; and Tigers, Duck Richards, Matt Monzingo, Jimmy Melton and Candy Reyes.

Two other boys were named as alternates, it was announced.

These boys will be issued special All-Star uniforms and will begin working out as soon as regulations allow, preparing for the Area II playoffs.

President Frisbie said that Little League leaders here are proud of the fine facilities provided at the Little League Ball Park. The American Legion Post No. 175 provided a flag pole in the middle of the center field fence. The refreshment hut has also been remodeled. The grass on the field is the best it has ever been.

One of the big advantages of the Memphis Little League Ball Park is that parking is available all around the field, so spectators can sit in or on their cars and watch the ball games.

Bicycle Riders Asked To Not Follow Spray Unit

City Maintenance Foreman Johnny Hancock requested this week that parents of bicycle riding boys ask the lads to not follow the insect spraying vehicle while it is fogging the town in the evenings.

The machine uses diesel fuel in the spray which could be harmful with over-dosage, he said.

Kneeling from the left are: Kirk Thomas, Guy Ledbetter, Frank Lopez, Dwayne Wheeler, Rodney Lamb and Bobby Mason. Lesson In American Citizenship!

Tomorrow is July 4th, the date we Americans observe as our national holiday, for this is the date of the signing of The Declaration Of Independence on July 4, 1776. We feel it would be appropriate to publish in observance of the occasion the following article entitled, "Government by Law", written by the Committee on American Citizenship, State Bar of Texas:

"Most Americans profess preference for 'government by law' rather than 'government by whim.'"

"Yet, many of us, including some lawyers, can neither enumerate nor define the concepts which sustain a true 'government by law.'"

"Ignorance of these concepts could lead to the loss of our 'government by law'—and our precious liberty with it."

"The following opinions and beliefs (in the form of a credo) are offered, therefore, in the hope that interest, thought, and discussion may be stimulated and that a better general understanding of this ancient subject may result."

"WE BELIEVE:

1. In government by law, rather than government by whim, because it is more likely to promote and sustain exact justice for all men.

2. That because 'all power is vested in, and consequently derived from, the People;' the Supreme Law should be an enumeration of the powers granted by the People to their chosen representatives.

3. That the best such Supreme Law and enumeration of powers granted by the People to their Government, in the history of man, is the Constitution of the United States of America.

4. In the lawyers' maxim, that 'to determine the meaning of the law, it is necessary first to find the intent of the lawgiver.'

5. That the meaning of the Supreme Law, once determined, remains the same and is, therefore, not subject to alterations or interpretations which differ from the intent of the lawgiver who establishes it.

6. That the Supreme Law (or Constitution) can be altered or changed legally only by the legislatures or conventions of three-fourth of the several States, as provided in Article V of the Constitution of the United States of America.

7. That government should be the servant and not the master, of the People, and that therefore our government and all its branches should help preserve government by law in accordance with the foregoing principles and not give us government according to the whim of those administering and interpreting the law."

Governor's Right Of Veto!

Governor Smith's veto action recently effectively wiped out most of the work of the 61st Legislature of the State of Texas. To some, the vetos came as a surprise, but to others who have read of the conflict between the Governor and the Lt. Governor of our State, it is no surprise that the Governor should stand by his tough-minded common sense and high regard for constitutional law.

This editor was taught in government classes that the State of Texas operated under a bi-annum system. In other words, under the Texas Constitution, the State Legislature would draft a two-year appropriation bill to finance the operation of the State of Texas for a two-year period.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes and Speaker Gus Mutscher, leaders in the Senate and House, lead the 61st Legislature into producing a one-year appropriations bill instead of a two-year bill in the hopes of postponing a tax increase. All agreed that a tax increase would then be necessary the following year.

Now to our way of thinking, should the State of Texas operate one year under existing tax laws, and incur a deficit, then raise taxes the next year to meet this past deficit and meet the demand required for the second year, the citizens of this state will still have to pay the same amount over a two-year period and do so in one year.

Due to the nature of taxation, it is the rule that once a tax is collected, it is never removed from the list of taxes to be collected. Therefore, a much greater amount would have to be collected the second year, under the Barnes-Mutscher program, to meet the tax requirements and this level would then be maintained. In effect, in the third year of taxation, the tax load would be just as heavy as the second year, without the deficit carried over from the first year, so the State would have more money to spend.

Gov. Smith advocates raising taxes now to meet any increased expenses to the State of Texas for the next two years as provided by the state constitution. It will give the taxpayers a chance to pay the increase in two payments instead of one and keep the long range tax load of the state at a more honest and even keel.

Sure, the 61st Legislature spent a lot of time doing what they did, and in effect wasted a lot of time that taxpayers paid them for, under the guise of trying to save the taxpayers a tax increase for 1969. This same legislature approved many new pieces of legislation which will require an increase in taxation to finance, but offered no legislation as to where the additional money would come from.

State Rep. W. S. (Bill) Healy told us last week that he was not in favor of the one-year appropriations bill and that he was glad that the Governor vetoed this piece of legislation.

What the taxpaying citizens of this state need to do now is let their senators and representatives know that they want constitutional law in this state and they want their elected officials to insure orderly and business-like conduct at the special session. Unless the special session does produce this kind of result, the cost eventually may be a lot higher than that of a few new taxes.

It seems to us that is all the Governor is asking of the 61st State Legislature. If the 61st is so bent on saving the taxpayers of the State of Texas some money, then they had better come up with a more concrete plan than a one-year appropriations bill.

What Other Editors Say

We talked to an employer the other day who was complaining about the quality of help these days, referring specifically to a young fellow who was hired to sweep out and clean up and do the odds and ends that have to be done around the store and the youngest employee gets to do. This employer said the kid swept down the middle of the aisle and didn't sweep out the corners. He said this like it was something new or something peculiar to the present generation.

It is no new thing. Every kid that ever took a job sweeping out had to learn that the broom was made to go under objects and into corners. Kids do not look at things the same way as the store owner does. The kid wants to get through with that job as quickly as possible and get on to something else.

The owner looks at the completed job with a far more critical eye than does the young fellow just starting out. Learning how to do a job properly is part of the continuing education process and is just as important as learning from books in school.

Serious Crime Rate In U. S. Is Still Climbing

According to figures made available through the FBI's Uniform Crime Reports and released by Attorney General John N. Mitchell, serious crime in the United States continued its upward trend recording a 10 percent rise nationally for the first three months of 1969 when compared to the same period in 1968.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover noted that each crime classification used in the national Crime Index showed increases. Crimes of violence as a group recorded a 15 percent increase with murder up 7 percent, forcible rape 12 percent, aggravated assault 8 percent, and robbery 22 percent. Property crimes as a group climbed 9 percent with burglary up 4 percent, larceny $50 and over in value 17 percent, and auto theft 11 percent.

According to the FBI Director, the large cities with over 100,000 inhabitants experienced an average increase of 10 percent, suburban areas 11 percent, and rural areas 7 percent. When viewed by geographic regions, the Northeastern States reported a 12 percent rise, the North Central States were up 10 percent, and the Southern and Western States each registered a 9 percent increase.

The FBI Director called particular attention to the continued sharp increases in the crimes of violence. He pointed out the sharp increases in robbery, which continues to increase at a more rapid pace than the other Crime Index offenses. Nationwide, according to Mr. Hoover, armed robbery where any weapon was used rose 27 percent and aggravated assault with a firearm increased 10 percent during the first quarter of 1969 over the same period in 1968.

Owning Property Not Required To Vote On Bonds

Texas Secretary of State Martin Dies, Jr., said last week that the United States Supreme Court's decision in a Louisiana case last week has invalidated a Texas law which restricts voting in revenue bond elections to property owners.

By statute the Secretary of State is the chief election officer of Texas and is responsible for obtaining and maintaining uniformity in the application, operation and interpretation of the state's election laws.

On Monday of last week the United States Supreme Court struck down a Louisiana law which gave only property taxpayers the right to vote in elections called to approve the issuance of revenue bonds by a municipal utility, on the ground that it violated the equal protection clause of the Federal Constitution because it excluded otherwise qualified voters who were substantially affected and directly interested in the matter voted upon as those who were permitted to vote.

Texas has interpreted this provision as applying to elections for issuing utility bonds which are to be retired from revenues produced by the utility, as well as to elections for issuing bonds to be retired by levy of a property tax.

Boykin-Stotts Nuptials Read In Childress Rites June 26

Miss Brenda Lou Boykin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Boykin, Route 2, Childress and Richard Wayne Stotts, son of B. H. Stotts of Amarillo, were united in marriage June 26 in the First Baptist Church in Childress.

Rev. Joe S. Allen read the double-ring ceremony at 7 p. m. before a nuptial space decorated with standard candelabra holding cathedral tapers and entwined with greenery and tied with white satin bows.

Traditionall wedding music was provided by Miss Mina Musgrove, pianist. She also accompanied soloist, Norman Hemphill, who sang "Twelfth of Never" at the beginning of the ceremony and "Wedding Prayer" at the conclusion.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal wedding gown of lace over peau de soie fashioned with long bell sleeves and a ring neckline banded in peau de soie. Her veil of illusion was attached to a petal coif accented in drop pearls.

Alabama Family Enjoys Tour Of County Museum

Mrs. Jeanne Holt and daughter, Brenda, and son, David, left recently for their home in Birmingham, Ala., after a two-week visit here with her parents, M. and Mrs. Jesse Dennis.

En route home they will stop in Amarillo to visit with Mrs. Holt's brother, Bobby D. White and family.

Mrs. Holt said, "I miss the large trees and beautiful scenery of my home state, Alabama, but the friendliness and hospitality of the fine people of Texas makes up for anything that may be missing in the scenery."

"While in Memphis we enjoyed a guided tour through the new museum by Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Dennis.

I had never seen many of the West Texas products on display and it was both enjoyable and educational."

"It takes one back to the dear old Golden School days when we only read about the West and considered it to be the other side of the world which one would never be able to see. Now it's just a skip and a jump and we are in the beautiful Golden Spread of Texas where the dearest people in the world now live—my parents and their neighbors and friends," she concluded.

Dust Storms This Year Are At Record Low

Air pollution from dust storms was at a near record low in Texas this spring, according to a wind erosion report released this week by Clyde W. Graham, state conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service. Graham credited favorable moisture conditions and the work of conservation farmers in the western part of the state with reducing the dust storms.

"Reduced dust pollution benefits a lot more people than you might think," Graham said. "Dust hurts people with asthma, emphysema, hay fever, and other respiratory ailments. It ruins electric motors, cars, buses, trucks, tractors, and anything else with moving parts. And it settles in homes, grinding furniture, carpets and floors."

Less than 500,000 acres, or about half the five-year average, were damaged in Texas by wind erosion this year, Graham said. His report was the result of an annual survey made by SCS offices in the 34 million acre area of West Texas subject to severe blowing during the Nov. 1 to May 31 season.

Graham noted that during the Dust Bowl days in the "dirty 30's" dust blown from several million acres of Texas land darkened the skies along the Eastern seaboard and out into the Atlantic Ocean.

Of the land damaged this season, 460,000 acres were cropland and 8,600 were rangeland. Some 17,000 acres of non-farm land, such as roads and bare city land, were also damaged by blowing.

Graham said work done under the popular Great Plains Conservation Program in the west has been a big factor in reducing Texas dust storms. He pointed out that in the last 10 years this 99-county area, soil-protecting grass has been planted on 700,000 acres of rangeland. 463,000 acres of highly erodible cropland has been retired from farming and planted to grass and strip cropping, stubble mulching, cover cropping, and other conservation measures have been applied to some 2.3 million acres of cropland. Vast areas of grassland have also been improved.

SCS conservationists help farmers, ranchmen, city officials and other users of land plan and apply measures to prevent wind and water erosion. This work done through 187 local soil and water conservation districts in Texas, Graham stated.

Texan Wins Top USDA Award For FHA Leadership

John O. Barnes, Assistant Texas State Director of the Farmers Home Administration, recently received the Superior Service Award of the U. S. Department of Agriculture from Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin.

In ceremonies at the Sylvan Theatre adjacent to the Washington Monument, Barnes was cited "for superior leadership of the Farmers Home Administration during a critical period when the State Director was disabled".

Barnes is one of five selected for the award from among the 6,500 employees of his agency.

Barnes, 48, took full responsibility for direction of the Farmers Home Administration program in Texas, which includes a staff of 430 people, when former State Director Lester J. Cappelman was severely injured in an automobile accident last June and was away from his duties for several months.

Because the Texas program accounts for nearly one-tenth of the national loan volume of the USDA rural credit agency, high quality leadership in Texas is essential to success of the agency's program, the Barnes award nomination noted.

More than $125 million in loans and grants was handled by the Texas Farmers Home Administration office in the last fiscal year, by far the largest state program in the nation. More than 35,000 loans are outstanding for family and community projects.

When confronted with the major challenges facing him as Acting State Director, Barnes could call on more than 16 years of experience with FHA, having joined the agency in 1952 in Jacksonville, Texas. He carried out increasingly responsible posts in Beeville, Carrizo Springs, Corsicana, and Greenville prior to his promotion to Assistant State Director at the Temple headquarters in 1967.

Mr. Barnes holds both B. S. and M. A. degrees in vocational agriculture from Sam Houston State University in Huntsville. He served in the U. S. Marines during World War II and again during the Korean conflict.

Cotton Insects

By W. B. Hooser
County Agent

SITUATION AT A GLANCE:
Heavy rains, hail and wind and sand during the past two weeks in Hall County has damaged cotton heavily. Stands were completely destroyed in many parts of the county. Older cotton in some parts of the county is well past the one-third grown square stage; however, much of the cotton is in the four to six leaf stage. Thrips were observed in many fields in the county during the past week; however, infestations were generally light. Some boll weevils continue to be found on older cotton.

APHIDS:
Light infestations of aphids (lice) were found over the county.

FLEAHOPPERS:
Light infestations of fleahoppers were observed in the county. As cotton begins to put on small squares, producers should be especially watchful for fleahoppers and their damage. Fleahoppers cause considerable damage by preventing cotton plants from putting on fruit earlier in the season.

BOLL WEEVILS:
Boll weevils continue to be captured on winged traps and in early cotton near Turkey. They are found primarily on earlier planted cotton. As cotton plants produce one-third grown squares, female weevils will begin to deposit eggs in these squares. When heavy numbers of boll weevils are detected, one or two applications of insecticide are recommended just prior to the one-third grown square stage to prevent boll weevils from depositing eggs and thereby suppress later boll weevil populations.

WE GIVE BUCCANEER STAMPS

B.B. Shots

By BYRON BALDWIN

On or about June 24, I made a survey with the local motels on the people who spent the night in Memphis and where they were from. On checking up, we found that the night before, there were guests checked in from 21 states outside of Texas. Three or four on this particular night were from Alaska. The world is getting smaller all the time and we have more and more close neighbors. Had a man and wife and their children register in Heritage Hall last week from Alvin, Texas on their way to Colorado. We asked them why they happened to stop here and he replied that he had to stop for gas here and in looking toward the square, this looked like a progressive clean town and decided to circle the square and found Heritage Hall. This man is a doctor in his home town. I asked him if our old Hall County boy, Frank Duke, still lived there and he said "Yes, and he is a friend of mine." Said he would report to Frank that he stopped in Hall County where Frank lived as a boy.

The motels and gas stations are reflections on us as a show window of this community and from all reports, they are doing a good job of carrying out good impressions of the tourists who pass our way.

On last Saturday night, a certain man and his wife were not a father and mother, the wife's sister was not an aunt, and her brother was not an uncle. The wife's father and mother were not grandparents, but by nine o'clock Sunday morning, they were all what they were not Saturday night. This all came about by the birth of one little seven-pound boy and with all of this, the answer is that Les Sims is married to a grandma. So that is life, as it has been for centuries and will continue. Other papas will throw out their chests just as big as Jimmy Roden saying, "My son." Those of us who have gone through it feel so good that we have contributed something to humanity to keep this world going and hope that in passing it on, they will do a better job than we did. Minka, I think he will be ready for school this fall. The first day he raised his head, opened his eyes and waved to us. Looks like Memphis is really building on the industrial site. My observations by there the past few days looks like we might be building Yankee stadium in size

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Waggoner and Sammy Russell of Garland visited here over the weekend with their grandmother, Mrs. Ila Moore. Glass Containers Can Be Used In Home Freezers

Glass containers can be used in home freezing although care in handling is required, it was announced recently by Texas A&M University to County Home Demonstration Agents.

Clear glass makes labeling unnecessary. Only the date of freezing should be added, the announcement said.

Miss Sally Springer, Extension food and nutrition specialist, lists a few simple steps for handling the use of jars:

1. Examine jars to make sure they have no nicks or cracks. Wash them in hot soapy water, rinse and scald them. Invert jars on a clean cloth to drain and cool.
2. Pack food in clean jars to within 1/2 inch of the top of jar. Pack firmly but not tightly.
3. Place cap on the jar with sealing composition next to the glass and screw the band tight. No special cap is needed for freezing; use canning lids.

It was also announced that this method is especially good for freezing raw black-eye peas they will not "freezer-burn" and can be kept in the freezer as much longer than they can be kept in plastic bags.

Visiting recently with the Wells family here were Sam Wells of Fort Worth, Mr. Mrs. Johnny Bishop and Mr. Mrs. Don Wells and sons, all Amarillo.

Mrs. Herschel Montgomery Richardson visited here last week with her mother, Mrs. E. Thompson, and other relatives.

FHA Can Now Make Recreation Loans On Farms

The Farmers Home Administration can now make loans to farm and ranch owners or tenants for outdoor recreational enterprises according to James E. Chappell, County Supervisor.

Loans to individuals can be made to convert all or a portion of their farms to recreational facilities. The recreational enterprise may supplement regular farm income or, in some cases, replace farm income by converting the entire farm to recreation.

Public recreational areas are increasing in number each year; however, the demand for such facilities still exceeds what is available. The purpose of this loan program is two-fold in that it will provide more recreational areas and help farmers and ranchers to increase their income stated Chappell.

Loans may be made for camping, picnicking, and hiking facilities, swimming, boating, skiing and fishing facilities, golf courses, riding stables or many other forms of outdoor recreation. Funds can be used to purchase necessary materials, supplies and animals, acquire and develop land and water resources, construct or improve modest essential buildings, and to purchase and install needed equipment and fixtures.

Each loan will be scheduled for repayment over a period not to exceed 40 years at 5 0/0 interest. Interested individuals should contact James E. Chappell at 517a Main St., Memphis, Texas for further information.

that some progress was made in law enforcement legislation. Laws were passed on drugs, obscene literature, riots and public peace, and steps were taken toward "certification of peace officers."

Water was also a chief topic in Austin with most of the Legislators interested in the outcome of the Texas Water Plan Constitutional Amendment, one of the nine Constitutional Amendments voters in the state will be deciding upon August 5 in a special election.

The senator said that one of the most important of the Constitutional Amendments was the one on salary increases for state law makers of which Senator Hightower said he was in favor.

Senator Hightower said that he did not go along with the governor's veto of the one-year appropriations bill; that he is in favor of putting the state on a one-year budget. It is a "more realistic" plan for it does away with "conservative" estimates and "liberal" estimates in trying to decide how much money it will take to run the State.

He said that during the special 30-day session scheduled to begin July 28 that the major problem will be writing a tax bill. The comptroller estimates the state will need an additional $340 million to balance the budget.

Little frogs are subject to greatest predation. They are eaten by fish in the water, animals on land, and birds from the treetops.

Thomest critical time for newly planted trees and shrubs is during the first summer. Because of the reduced root system, many plants have difficulty getting established. This is especially true in areas where rainfall has been abundant, then suddenly it turns hot and dry before the roots are well established. Rather than frequent light watering, give the plants a thorough soaking to a depth of 8 to 12 inches. Allow the soil to dry in the upper two inches before watering again. A mulch over the root area will aid in moisture conservation and keeping soil temperature down.
