Farmers Failing To Report Crop Acres

All farmers must report all crop acreage to the county ASCS Office before payments can be made. This is the responsibility of the farm operator and having the crop acreage measured by the ASCS does not relieve the operator of this responsibility. Lynn L. McKown, Office Manager of the Hall County ASCS Office, stated today. The ASCS is typing all acreage reports as they are filed by the producer for submitting to New Orleans for payment, but to date few farmers have reported their acreage. All reports filed to date will be submitted Monday, Aug. 4, for issuance of checks. The filing of reports is the responsibility of the farmer and there is nothing the local ASCS office can do until the reports are filed. One hundred and nineteen farms have been selected for spot check. This work is also awaiting the reports, but the farmers selected for spot-check can not be paid until their farms are measured by the county office.

Plans, Committees Named for Annual Hall County Picnic

The steering committee of the Hall County Picnic Assn. met Tuesday for about an hour and planned for the annual celebration to be held the third weekend in September.

If all plans materialize, the celebration will be one of the biggest since the 75th anniversary celebration held in 1965.

The Steering Committee voted to invite the Wills Family back for another concert Saturday evening, if the Family would like to return for the celebration this year. Their appearances the past two years have added greatly to the celebration.

The committee also approved the addition of an Old Fiddlers Contest for Saturday afternoon on the Courthouse Square and a Square Dance on the square later that evening, after the concert.

The American Legion Post of Memphis volunteered to sponsor a parade for the celebration which is to be held at 2 p. m. on Saturday afternoon. The Legion Auxiliary would like to sponsor a luncheon at noon Saturday, in which they charge a per-plate fee. This was also approved by the steering committee even though the association has no control or authority over activities of this nature, it was explained.

Committees

Hall County Singing Group To Meet Sunday

The Hall County Singing Association will meet Sunday, Aug. 3 from 2 until 4 p. m. at the First Christian Church, according to an announcement this week.

Wendy Dawn To Give Concert Here Friday

The Lone Star State has long been giving us fine singers and Wendy Dawn show every promise of carrying out this tradition.

Friday, Aug. 1, 1969, has been proclaimed as "Wendy Dawn Day" in Memphis by Mayor Kenneth Hechler as Wendy will perform at 7 p. m. Friday, Aug. 1, in concert at the Memphis High School Auditorium.

Also performing with her will be Emil Schattell and "The Panhandle Playboys". Also appearing will be Bob Porter who is a member of the Playboys who has a recording contract with "Little Wonders" Recording Co. of Nashville, Tenn.

Before arriving here, Wendy gave a performance at Murray, Kentucky, at the Murray Fair on July 17 and on the 19th at Albany, New York with the Asburn Brothers. On Thursday, July 31, she will fly to Amarillo for her performance in Memphis and is looking forward to seeing her friends here.

Wendy Dawn, a fast climbing RCA recording star, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Arval (Dutch) Wheeler in Wichita, Kans., and moved shortly to Memphis where she has spent most of her life.

At the age of eight, Wendy moved with her family to the Loco community and attended school in Wellington for two years. While there she attended a local amateur show, where she won first place for singing "Bimbo". This she won without the musical background. Wendy got three silver dollars which she has treasured through the passing years.

Wendy was on a talent show in Borger when she was 10 years old and out of 65 contestants she was in the finals. From this show she was contacted by Bill Mack to sing at a performance in Borger with his band one night. This was the Bill Mack who now is master of ceremonies for the No. One Band of the Nation. Buck Owens and the Buckaroos were also from this talent show in Borger. Wendy was first introduced to Al Rogers who had a Country Barn Dance Show on KGNC, Amarillo. Wendy appeared on the Al Rogers show off and on for several years and was finally in a Walsh Talent Show where she got a gold cup, which she still treasures, singing, "I Cried A Tear".

By this time Wendy had grown into a pretty young lady and met and married a local boy, Jimmy Dale Hartsell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Connie Hartsell. To this marriage (Continued on Page 10)

New items are being added each day and the Heritage Hall hopes to have all display cases full for the Annual Hall County Picnic scheduled for the third weekend in September.

"We still have room for displays from all over the county and are especially interested in displays from Estelline, Turkey or Lakeview areas," Baldwin said.

Two Accidents Are Reported In Hall County

Mrs. Leora Williams of Rt. 1, Lakeview, was seriously injured in a one-car accident 6.3 miles east of Turkey on State 86 about 4 a. m. Sunday.

Her husband, Leo Williams, was driving the car and hit a mail box on the side of the highway. Mrs. Williams had her head out the window and she received a severe head injury. She was rushed to an Amarillo Hospital where her condition has been listed as critical.

The Memphis Highway Patrol unit also reported another accident this week.

Last Saturday, 3.8 miles south of Memphis at the intersection of U. S. 287 and the Harrold Chappel Road an unusual accident resulted in damages to two cars, even though neither of the cars hit the other.

Roy Morris Hannah of 5005 Bonham, Amarillo, was traveling northwest on U. S. 287 when he apparently went to sleep and his car, a 1960 Chevrolet left the highway to the left. His car hit a traffic control sign at the intersection and the sign broke his windshield.

The impact knocked the sign into the left side of a 1963 Ford being driven by Winfred S. McQueen of Rt. 2, Memphis, which was parked at the intersection.

Highway Patrolman Don Collins reported that neither of the drivers were injured.

Hall County voters will join other Texas voters next Tuesday, Aug. 5, in an election to decide the fate of nine proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution.

Polls will be open from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. in four polling places in the county, Memphis, Lakeview, Estelline and Turkey.

Bob Ayers will be the presiding judge in Memphis box in the Courthouse, Precinct No. 1 and 13 boxes will be combined during the special election.

Estelline area voters will vote in the Estelline City Hall with Frank Hedrick serving as presiding judge.

Turkey area voters will vote in the City Hall in Turkey with G. O. Coker serving as presiding judge.

Lakeview area voters will vote in Lakeview School auditorium with W. C. Hight serving as presiding judge.

As of Thursday morning, 14 absentee ballots have either been voted in the County Clerk's office or had been mailed out. Deadline for voting absentee is 5 p. m. Friday in the County Clerk's office in the Courthouse.

The amendment election this year is an important one so voters should make plans now to go to the polls and vote their convictions.

We've Been To The Moon . . . What The Cost?

This nation has spent approximately $24 billion since 1961 to put men on the moon, a feat which will dominate the history books for the 20th Century and probably herald a new age for mankind, The Space Age.

Some Americans complain that this money could have been spent toward solving problems of mankind here on earth, and they could be right. But what would have happened in the New World if Columbus' report to the Queen of Spain had been accepted with the negative attitude, "if it isn't a closer route to India we will just have to look elsewhere."

It is not likely that the leaders of this nation will close the door in space exploration now that the door has been opened as President Nixon predicted the other day that in this century we will visit "new worlds where there will be a form of life." He dispelled any possible doubt that his administration is dedicated to a full space exploration program.

But we taxpaying Americans are asking, "what the cost?" Well, let's examine this cost by comparing it to another government expense. Since 1961, the space program has cost $24 billion. Since 1961, the federal government has expended $125 billion—five times as much as it spent on space—to pay interest on the public debt.

Two major reasons for this outlay: Since 1961, Washington has spent $60 billion more than it took in, and the Treasury consequently had to borrow that much more money and pay interest on it. Secondly, inflation has brought on the inevitable rise in the interest rates which the Treasury must pay when it borrows money.

Today, the Treasury must pay more than twice as much interest as it did in 1961. In fiscal 1970, interest on the public debt is expected to total $17.8 billion. In other words, when we the American taxpayers pay our interest debt in 1970, we're paying almost as much as we paid to send our astronauts to the moon and bring them home safely.

There should be no question about continuing. But there has been, of course. The benefits the space program already has yielded and the benefits which obviously are to come, put the advantages of pressing on—in a measured way—beyond much doubt.

We can pursue a significant space program and at the same time undertake to meet our needs at home. The problems we face today in our society, hunger, pollution, and even war, are problems mankind has faced since his earliest existence on this planet.

If the United States falls behind in space, we risk falling behind in knowledge and in industry.

The space budget now stands just under $4 billion annually. This is down from its high of $5.9 billion of four years ago. The work force has been reduced from 420,000 to about 190,000. This appears to be a level that can be maintained.

A new program is on the drafting board and is expected to be presented to President Nixon in September. This program calls for a balanced space effort over a 15 year period. There still remains, already committed, enough missions—manned and unmanned—to last three more years.

The race to the moon is over, surely there is no hurry now. We can and should take the time to allocate our resources in relation to the needs, to review our priorities. And most of all, establish a balance as soon as possible.

Surplus Food

It is a paradox of the times that there is a surplus of food and at the same time a surplus of people going hungry.

Here is a farming and ranching area, we are more attuned to the problem of surpluses of farm products and the resulting lowering of farm prices than are people in cities who are more concerned about retail food prices than what the farmer gets for it.

While the number of people in this country who go hungry is small compared with the total population, nevertheless there are people without enough food to eat.

Around the world, there are millions who go to bed hungry every night. Some countries, notably India, are faced with the problem of a rapidly increasing population and a shrinking food supply.

Probably if all of the surplus food were to be distributed around the world there would be no surplus.

The only problem is how to achieve such a result.

Back in the depression days of the 1930's there were people without enough food to eat. There were those who couldn't buy bread and at the same time the price of wheat dropped to 25 cents a bushel out here.

Obviously the obstacle was not in producing food or in a demand for food, but in a method of distribution.

This situation led to the obvious solution of government planning, government purchases and government distribution. This works as a temporary, emergency measure, but in the end it results in total control of supply and demand which is another term for dictatorship.

Right now the American people have money with which to buy beef and they are buying it in such volume as to push up the price of meat to high levels. If enough people have money for food, no doubt they increase consumption of all types of food.

The question still arises: How can you have surplus when there are hungry people?

Who Speaks For Agriculture?

If you were a congressman from New York without a single farmer in your district but sincerely wanted to vote for the best interest in agriculture, to whom would you go for advice?

Think of all the conflicting advice you would receive from farmers and farm organizations. Agriculture speaks with so many voices. Is it any wonder that some congressmen wonder if #### agriculture really knows what it wants?

4. You shalt answer questions seventy times seven.

5. Thou shalt remember the State Motto of Texas is "Friendship" and show it.

6. Thou shalt keep your area neat and clean, for cleanliness is a mark of politeness to others.

7. Thou shalt cause children to have a happy vacation for their memories will profit you in the future.

8. Thou shalt encourage travelers to stay and see Texas for thereby will you and the entire state benefit.

9. Thou shalt send visitors on their way with smiles on your face and theirs.

Young Homemakers Attend Area I College In Amarillo Voc. Arts Center

Mrs. James Merrell, Mrs. Bobby Ward and Mrs. Monte Rogers of Amarillo Thursday, July 31, as representatives for the Memphis Chapter of Young Homemakers and attended the College Area I Young Homemakers which was held at the Vocational Arts Center.

Registration and refreshments were held from 9:15 to 9:45 a. m. The general assembly was next on the program with the recognition of guests and chapters. Approximately 10 chapters were represented.

The first class at 10 a. m. was "fitting pants" instructed by Mrs. Barbara Truitt who was seen on the "Betty Callahan Coffee Time" program each morning.

The next class was given on "Organizing Assessories" by Rosa from Colbert's in Amarillo. At 12 noon, a catered luncheon was enjoyed by all present and a Style Show from Blackman Brother's in Amarillo was presented. Everyone enjoyed the "preview" of the newest fashions.

The main point of the day was at 1:30 p. m. when the guest speaker, Dr. C. L. Kay, of Lubbock Christian College, spoke on the theme "Look To The Future". After an amusing and interesting opening Dr. Kay spoke on the rise of women, rising costs of goods from 1958 to the year 2000, crime, taxes, inflation and the Vietnam War.

Dr. Kay then showed slides of his tours he has taken on the Civilian Operation sponsored by the Defense Dept. of the United States.

The first tour included the ORAD Defense Unit under the Wyoming Mountain in Wyoming of the "Big Eye" Radar Screen Florida. Also in Fort Benning, he saw the power of our military forces on land and air. The last stop in the first tour was at Camp Lejeune, North Carolina where tanks, jeeps, men, and other needed items were landed on a beach-head in order to completely take an island.

These slides showed the real life that all the men in the Navy, Army, Air Force, and Marines feel for their country. However, not everyone knows of this type of patriotism. The people are only informed of the hatred and destruction the small minority of people in the United States feel for their country, he said.

Dr. Kay's second tour started at Reece Air Force Base in Lubbock, and he flew from there to Cape Kennedy, Florida. At Cape Kennedy he met the other men who were taking this tour and they were taken on a complete guided tour of all the U. S. missiles and how and where they are built and stored. In the vehicle assembly building where the missiles are assembled, 13 Empire State Buildings could be put inside.

On March 10, 1968, the men flew to Thule Air Base in Greenland. Greenland is the largest island in the world. It is 1,400 sq. miles long, 700 sq. miles wide, and 1,700 sq. miles of this is covered in ice which is 5/6 of the Island. This forms the Ice Cap which is one of the Seven North Pole and has weather up to 44 degrees below zero and wind up to 220

LEGAL NOTICE
Being certified by the Commissioner of Agriculture of the State of Texas for this purpose the Southwestern Peanut Growers' Association of Gorman, Texas proposes a referendum election on September 24, 1969, under provisions of House Bill 764, 61st Legislature on the proposition of whether or not peanut producers in the State of Texas shall assess themselves a maximum amount of $1.00 per net ton (farmers stock basis) to be collected at the point of first processing or sale and to elect members for a 9-man commodity producers board to administer proceeds of such assessment to be used for research, disease and insect control, education, and promotion designed to encourage the production, marketing and use of peanuts.

The referendum and election will be held by mail ballot which will be provided to all eligible voters not later than 15 days prior to the election. Ballots must be mailed to the polling place at Gorman, Texas before midnight on the date of the election.

Any person within this state engaged in the business of producing, or causing to be produced peanuts for commercial purposes is eligible to vote, including owners of farms and their tenants and sharecroppers, if such person would be required to pay the assessment proposed.

Any person qualified to vote at the referendum may place his name in nomination for membership on the proposed commodity producers board by application to the above organization signed by himself and at least ten other persons eligible to vote in the referendum. miles per hour. Eskimos do exist very well in that region. Their means of survival include hunting and fishing.

Dr. Kay visited bases other than Thule Air Base. They were the Sounerstone Base and the Base at Mt. Dundas.

All these defense bases Dr. Kay visited have very sufficient means of detecting a missile and finding out when and in how long a time it will take to reach its destination.

But even with all these ways of detecting a missile the United States really has no means of protection because we have no Anti-Ballistic Missile Method. The Anti-Ballistic Missile Method is a must as our defense against an all out war of all nations. As Dr. Kay, stated, "The only place a politician can cut taxes is in the defense plan without losing votes." Therefore, each of us should think of our own safety and write our congressman and tell him we are definitely in favor of an Anti-Ballistic Missile Method.

After Dr. Kay's very interesting talk there was a question and answer period.

Door prizes were given away.

Mrs. Bobby Ward from the Memphis Chapter won a beautiful set of cologne and bath oil, given by the Quail Chapter.

Fire Marshal Scott was sponsored by Hall County Farm Bureau and Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies by contributions toward the cost of the school. ### SENIOR CITIZENS NEED OUR LOVE — AND OUR HELP

People in Texas need to think. They need to think about people who have reached their golden years and ask this question: Are our loved ones being adequately rewarded for the contributions they have made to our society?

Many are not. Let's look at the facts. In Texas we have 229,000 Old Age Pensioners average grant $58.96 month. Grants to Blind $71.71 month. Totally disabled average grant $59.74 month.

Are these the people we love? Yes, they are—but we don't show it sometimes. Texas ranks near the bottom of the list of states in payments to old age pensioners. These payments certainly will go lower unless we show some concern. Some assistance checks were cut May 1, 1969, because of lack of funds. Do we want a cut in the meager allowance now paid to our Senior Citizens?

Only you can answer this question by going to the polls on August 5 and voting for Amendment 5.

SOCIAL SECURITY NEWS

"Visit your social security office for help in filing your first claim for reimbursement under the Medical Insurance program," Travis Briggs, social security district manager, said today. He continued, "After a Medicare beneficiary has met the $50 deductible for the year, Medicare will pay 80 percent of all reasonable charges for covered expenses."

A visit to the district office permits the personnel there to explain the proper method of completing the Request for Payment Form. When the form is completed correctly, payment is made faster.

Persons visiting the social security office for this assistance should bring their Medicare cards and the itemized bills doctors or suppliers with them. Payment may be made even if the bill is not paid; although it must be itemized.

SWIMMING POOL SLIDE—The City of Memphis Swimming Pool now features a slide which is very popular with children and adults alike. The slide was erected last week. ### OUR COUNTY AGENT SAYS

Ants in the Home and Lawn Are Easily Controlled

There is no need to turn the lawn and lawn over to ants this year. These pests can be effectively controlled, advises County Agent W. B. Hooser.

Chlordane and dieldrin are the most effective insecticides for use against ants. They should be applied along window sills, foundation cracks, door thresholds and other runways used by ants, says Hooser.

Ants and destroy the nests. They may be behind walls, in closets, furniture and other dark, cluttered places.

Inside the home ants can be killed by applying 2-3 percent chlordane or .5 percent dieldrin sprays. These materials may also be applied with a brush. Repeat the application if needed, suggests the county agent.

Outside the home apply a band of insecticidal dust or spray around the foundation wall and treat all nests in the yard. A 10 percent chlordane, 2 percent dieldrin or 5 percent heptachlor dusts of these materials are also available and are convenient to use.

The county agent says to be sure and follow the directions given on the label of the insecticide container because pets and humans can be affected. Detailed information on controlling household insect is available for the asking at the offices of local county agent, W. B. Hooser.

The answer is simple, Senator. President Nixon wanted to meet President Thieu halfway, so he suggested Midway.

Memphians Attend Texas Department Legion-Auxiliary July Convention

Delegates of Simmons-Kel Post 175 attended the Texas Department of the American Legion and Auxiliary held July 17, 18 and 19 in San Antonio, according to a report by Noel Clifton, local adjutant.

Representing the Memphis post were Bill Ballew, 18th District adjutant and local finance officer; Henry D. Gregory, commander; Gary Gregory; Mrs. Bill Ballew, 18 District vice president, and Mrs. Henry Gregory, local auxiliary president.

Several important resolutions were approved at its 51st annual convention, held at the Convention Center. The Texas Department expressed support for a modified Anti-Ballistic Missile (ABM) system. The organization pledged its support to President Nixon for his "wise decision for the deployment of a modified anti-ballistic missile which is in his words vital for the security and defense of the United States."

The same resolution further called for support for the President at a "time when national unity seems so far away and when isolationists in Congress criticize through irresponsible public statements that create further dissension."

In another resolution, the group asked for public support of the Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) programs on college and university campuses and requested that state and federal funds be withheld from any tax-supported college or university that "favors any request of the SDS (Students for a Democratic Society) and its associates."

Concerning the Vietnam War, the American Legion group said that the President should give Communist negotiators at the Paris peace talks a "firm time limitation for the showing of good faith."

If such "good faith" was not forthcoming, the group said, the President should then "order appropriate response on the part of the military."

The American Legion delegates in another resolution expressed support for the present selective service system but said that "all possible support should be given the President's proposal to create a peacetime, volunteer armed force."

"A selective service system ready to operate must be maintained in the event a volunteer force cannot be achieved," the resolution stated.

In other resolutions, delegates asked for more efforts in the area of crime-control, urged Congress to rescind its action in the 1968 gun control act and expressed opposition to the United States' recognition of Red China or the seating of Red Chinese delegates in the United Nations.

Delegates also expressed a desire for the United States to work with the Organization of American States to bring "an early end" to the Communist regime in Cuba.

The three-day convention was attended by about 2,000 Legion members. Activities included election of delegates and alternates to the national convention and election of department officers. Mrs. Clayton Mann of Wichita Falls was named president of the state auxiliary for the coming year.

The department has chosen Fort Worth as the site for its 1970 convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fowler and daughters have been vacationing in Denver, Estes Park and Colorado Springs, Colo., and are visiting now in Dallas with Mrs. Fowler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Manton.

B.B. Shots

By BYRON BALDWIN

Back in the No-Boomsday of what we called the dirty 30's, a good many of you will remember M. B. Oats with the Fort Worth and Denver Railway who then was the promoter, I believe, for the farmers on this road. His slogan was "The Cow, Sow and Hen", and if it had not been for that income in Hall County, it would have been a lot dirtier word of some kind because the cow, sow and hen kept us here. We shipped a lot of chickens out by the carload when we would have special days to load out chicken cars and the cream check from the cow was the weekly living for a lot of people. You could go down to the depot and see several of the express trucks loaded with cream cans. In fact sometimes there would be so many that it would delay the departure of the passenger train. Charlie Flannery was express agent here at that time and the express business was good full cream cans going out and empties coming back. Charlie Flannery is now retired and living in Dallas and their son Jerry the last I heard was a commercial pilot for one of the major airlines and what they called the short line, Dallas to Denver. He had his evening meal at home in Dallas and was back in time to have breakfast at home.

But you could not fill a cream can car or a case of eggs in a week in Hall County now.

Just heard the other day of the three couples from Estelline who tired of fishing in the south took off for Alaska. At the last report, they were still going north. I guess they will have to break the ice to fish and I imagine they will know all about blubber when they return. Frank Hedrick gave me this information about Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Warner Cope. Have been looking forward to seeing Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Eddleman come through any day with the chuck wagon when they have caught enough fish to have a big "cook out".

Met Kay Ferrel Hightower on the street. Seems like she should be a little 10 or 12 year old, but now married to Bo Hightower with 2 kids about as large as she is. How times change! Girls getting older and Mamas getting younger. So you wonder sometimes which is mother and which is daughter.

Visitors in Heritage Hall the past few days seemed very interested. From Rochester, N. M., was Mrs. Frances Zolensky, a 1946 graduate of MHS (Francis Pyeatt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Pyeatt). They have lived in Rochester for the past 14 years and have three youngsters, Mike, David and Debbie. I think the two-headed calf attracted the most attention from all of them.

Gene Paschall and wife Bettie of Kermit were in. Said he had been away from Memphis 17 years. He is the son of Mrs. M. A. Paschall. There were five boys and five girls in this family and Becky Bruce is the only one living here. They all call this their home town though. Gene's wife is the daughter of a former Hall Countyman, Fern Abbott, whose is the daughter of a former Hall ed northeast of town. Gene and his wife have three boys, Tony, Jimmy and David, and they all seemed to enjoy their trip through Heritage Hall.

A. L. McKay and wife, Ruth Potter McKay, with their family from Tampico near Turkey were in the past few days. A. L.'s father ran a freight wagon in the good old days. Four days to Memphis and back was the schedule of time in running the freight line.

Ernest Hembree and wife were by reminiscing last Saturday. Said he left Memphis in 1918. A few of you will remember Bro. Hembree, a Baptist missionary living here at Davis and 8th Streets. He and his wife had four boys and two girls, Bill and Ernest are two boys living, Bill in San Angelo and Ernest in Amarillo; the two girls, Myrtle and Cressie are living in Dallas, and also the mother who is now past 98 years of age.

Fern Miller, former pastor of the First Baptist Church of Memphis, was through here Monday night on his way to Glorieta, N. M. I enjoyed the visit with him.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Ward of Wellington visited Heritage Hall Monday afternoon. They liked it very much and thought they should start a museum in their town.

The school department that Hubert Dennis and Garland Moore spent a lot of time on is growing every day with more pictures. If you have any photographs of high school graduates of every school in the county and any year, bring them in.

I understand that the Bascomb-Davenport have been flying high here of late from Amarillo to New Orleans and then back. Hope they have their feet on the ground by now.

We now have one of the cases on the south side that has been filled by Calvin Todd. Thanks to you Calvin for quite a display.

Hollis Boren's great-grandfather's wood working tools are over 130 years old. They are different from any others I had ever seen.

The Dennis family had their annual reunion last weekend. The sad part of it is as I observe it there are a few less each year now in attendance. The earliest I can remember them was Grandmother Dennis on the spring seat of the wagon wearing her little black bonnet.

The family of Pearl Noel Ward let us have one of Pearl's violins for Heritage Hall and I think she was the first violin teacher here and second music teacher. Also with the violin was a song book published in 1891.

Met four of Sam Bruce's sisters from Sherman, who came up to see Sam. I asked them for the combined weight of the four, then asked for the combined years of age. I did not get either question answered, but they are good natured bunch of Irish girls and am sure it gave Sam a boost to see them all here.

My young sister, Ruth Haynes, is here this week and looking over Heritage Hall made her seem older since I did not realize she would recognize so many things so far back. So I guess it is later than we think with all of us.

I am glad I have lived long enough to see man reach the moon, and I think it destroys the truthfulness of that old nursery rhyme that said, "Hey diddle diddle, the cat and the fiddle, and the little dog laughed while the cow jumped over the moon". It would have had to be an awful powerful, energetic cow to do this. The moon is so pretty and bright now I think the spacemen must have used a detergent and have given it a bath.

Parkers Attend Celebration In Amarillo Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Parker spent Sunday in Amarillo with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Helton. Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Helton are sisters.

They helped their mother, Mrs. R. R. Gill, celebrate her 82nd birthday. All her children were there, except one daughter, Mrs. Rae Elliott, Ridgecrest, Calif., who was unable to attend.

Others were her brother-in-law, John Gill; also a granddaughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Poyner, Raya, Curtis and Rhonda, all of Amarillo.

Glenda Bruce Is On Honor Roll At University

Glenda Bruce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bruce of Memphis, has been listed among students at Texas Woman's University who had achieved high scholastic averages during the spring semester. The announcement was made last week by Dr. John D. Williams, vice president for academic affairs.

Miss Bruce is a junior nursing major at the university.

J. Earl Miller returned last Thursday from Tusculum and Sheffield, Ala., where he enjoyed attending a reunion of the descendants of Robert Skenner Miller and Elizabeth Willett Miller. There were about 70 present, he stated. The next reunion will be held in Oklahoma City, Okla., on the third Sunday of July in 1970.

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Fielding of Dallas visited last week with his mother, Mrs. S. W. Fielding. Also visiting were Mr. and Mrs. Al Prentice of Durant, Okla. He is Mrs. Fielding's brother.

To The Editor

Bowie, Texas
July 26, 1969

Editor Memphis Democrat:

We would like to write a thank you note to some fine people you have in Memphis.

Going on vacation to Red River, New Mexico, the water pump went out on our car about 11 p. m. July 19 just south of Memphis. We got on in to a service station. Mr. Monroe Jeffers, a policeman, got a man from the Ford place to open the store and get a water pump. A station attendant worked two hours to install it, and we were on our way again at 2:30 a. m.

This probably couldn't have been done in any other town. We hope people in Bowie would be helpful if you have trouble here.

Sincerely,
The W. D. Barnes

Constitutional Amendments Are Explained

(Editor's Note: This is the second and last in a series in which the proposed constitutional amendments are explained by the Texas Legislative Council. The next session of the Texas Legislature will be going to the special election.)

Last week, the first four proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution were discussed in the first part of this two-part series. This article the last five proposed amendments will be discussed.

Amendment No. 5: Increasing the maximum amount which may be expended in one year from $10 million to $15 million for public assistance to needy aged, needy blind, needy deaf, and needy children to $80 million, in order to comply with federal requirements for obtaining matching funds.

The amendment calls for appropriating $15 million for each of the next two fiscal years beginning Sept. 1, 1969, in addition to the amounts appropriated for these purposes in the regular Appropriation Act for the fiscal year beginning Sept. 1, 1969. The increase in the number of children eligible for public assistance, combined with the reduction of the ceiling limiting public assistance to needy children in 1968. A proposed amendment to raise the ceiling to $75 million in 1968 was defeated by the electorate in the November general election, necessitating another cutback in public assistance to needy children on May 1, 1969. The present $60 million ceiling would be raised to $80 million—with an annual appropriation of $15 million for the fiscal year beginning Sept. 1, 1969—by adoption of the proposed Amendment No. 5.

Arguments for the amendment: The proposed Amendment No. 5 gives the legislature to appropriate sufficient funds to again enable the State Department of Public Welfare to make assistance payments to all four classes of welfare recipients in accordance with the minimal standards of aid established by the Department. Texas consistently has been among the lowest of the states in terms of average monthly assistance payments per recipient and terms of per capita cost to taxpayers. It ranks almost at the bottom in Aid to Families with Dependent Children, with its average payment per recipient of Aid to Families with Dependent Children now less than $19 per month. The failure of the proposed constitutional amendment in 1968 resulted in drastic reductions in public assistance to needy children. The State Department of Public Welfare now is able to pay only 50 percent of what it says should be provided for needy children, and it is powerless to restore benefit payments to the levels it recognizes as minimal unless the proposed Amendment No. 5 is adopted. If the proposed amendment is defeated, it will cause another immediate reduction in assistance to needy children and the Department predicts that it ultimately would have to reduce levels of assistance to the newly disabled and the needy aged.

Arguments against the proposed Amendment No. 5: The large overall expenditure of state funds which this proposed amendment authorizes would increase each recipient's income only a few dollars a month but would possibly require $20 million in new funds each year at a time when the state is already hard pressed to meet existing financial obligations.

Amendment No. 6: Authorizing removal of constitutional interest-rate limitations on certain bonds subject to limitations imposed by the legislature.

At the present time, the prevailing rate of interest at which bonds and other public securities can be sold on the open market is higher than the maximum interest-rate limits set by the Texas Constitution. Since the interest rate borne by bonds is an important factor in making them easy to sell on the open market, bonds issued by various public agencies in Texas which bear interest rates below the prevailing rate on the open market are very difficult to sell. The purpose of Amendment No. 6 is to remove the maximum interest-rate limitation so that certain public agencies may raise the interest-rates on future bonds issued to a level which is at least equal to the prevailing rate on the open market.

Arguments for the amendment: Adoption of this amendment would make it possible for certain state agencies now under constitutional restrictions establishing maximum interest-rate limits to provide for higher interest-rates on future bond issues thereby allowing the bonds to complete for sale on the open market on even footing with bonds issued by other entities.

Failure to adopt Amendment No. 6 would cause many major state programs to be curtailed or discontinued due to a lack of funds. Among these programs are the Texas Opportunity Plan, which provides student loans enabling many young Texans to attend college, and the Texas Water Plan, which is designated to provide Texas with an adequate water supply for the next 50 years.

Arguments against the amendment: Removing the constitutional limit on maximum interest rates for bonds issued by certain public agencies would allow those agencies to provide higher interest rates of future bond issues which, in turn, would require increased tax revenues from Texas citizens to pay the added interest.

The adopting of Amendment No. 6 would encourage the state through its various agencies to rely even more on creating bonded indebtedness as a means of financing future needs.

Amendment No. 7: Adding certain governmental employees, officers, and agents, including members of organized volunteer fire departments and members of organized police reserve or auxiliary units, to the list of persons whose surviving spouses and children are eligible for assistance as provided by law.

Arguments for this amendment: The people have already voiced approval of the principle involved—that the public should aid those dependent on public employees who perform hazardous duties for the public benefit. It is logical to extend the eligibility for this assistance to all public employees and volunteers who perform hazardous duties, such as volunteer firemen and policemen, attendants at the Rusk State Hospital for the Criminally Insane, and others.

The proposed amendment does not automatically provide assistance. The legislature must specifically name by law the groups to receive the benefits.

Arguments against this amendment: The amendment proposed does not place a limitation on the amount of assistance which may be provided. The cost to the electorate, therefore, cannot be determined by them.

Many of the employees who are within the scope of this amendment are employed by cities or counties. This cost might more appropriately be borne by local political subdivisions.

Amendment No. 8: Authorizing the legislature to provide for additional loans to students at institutions of higher education under the Texas Opportunity Plan.

The student loan fund was established in 1965 with an initial authorization of $85 million in bonds.

Arguments for this amendment: The total amount of funds presently available for student loans will be in use and loaned out before repayments of outstanding loans begin to return substantial amount of funds available for lending. It is desirable that a certain amount be available every year to insure equal treatment of deserving students to maintain a stable recycling of funds. Therefore the proposed amendment is essential to continuation of the Texas Opportunity Plan.

A college education in today's technical world is even more essential now than in 1965. Every deserving and qualified student should be afforded the opportunity to have a college education.

All loans are repayable with interest charges set by the coordinating board. Of the 90,000 loans made thus far, the 23 in default of payments constitute a percentage actually too small to calculate.

The single greatest natural resource in the State of Texas is its young people and the continuing of their education due to adequate financing would assure the State of Texas that future state development will be in the hands of those best qualified for service.

Arguments against this amendment: State loans to students take business from private enterprise. Bonds, savings and loan institutions, and private charities have helped students finance their educations for years.

This amendment continues the practice of making loans to students enrolled in church-supported schools. This is merely a subterfuge to permit state aid for churches.

Those able-bodied young people who are serious enough about wanting an education and who are willing to work can finance their own schooling. At a time when violence and disrespect for law and order are evident on our campuses, the state should encourage students to work and build for themselves rather than foster indolence through practically giveaway loans.

Amendment No. 9: Providing for annual sessions of the Texas Legislature.

This amendment adds a new paragraph to provide for the holding of regular sessions in even-numbered years. Present provisions prescribe that regular sessions be held biennially in odd-numbered years. Thus the proposed amendment would institute annual sessions.

The proposed amendment also provides that, commencing in 1971, the legislature, at each regular session, must appropriate funds for the support of activities of the state government for the succeeding fiscal year.

Historically, Texas has continuously operated the biennial session system, supplemented with the special session called by the governor, except for the brief period of existence of the Constitution of 1869, wherein annual sessions of the legislature were required.

Arguments for this amendment: Economic and efficient state government requires minimum time lag between the budget estimates are actually prepared and the passage of an appropriation bill. State agencies can prepare a more precise and practical budget which takes into consideration only those funding requirements for the succeeding fiscal year instead of incorporating the inadequate guesses of longer-range planning.

The actual business of state government has reached such proportions that adequate supervision can no longer be given to the affairs of state by one legislative session every two years. More frequent legislative sessions would insure more considered legislation on budgetary and other matters since fewer items would be considered at each individual session and the legislature as a whole would be more in tune with the progress and activities of state government.

Annual sessions continue to gain support; more and more states are abandoning the biennial session as inadequate to serve the legislative needs of a modern, progressive state.

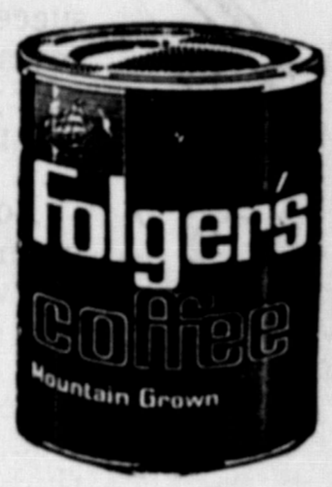

Arguments against this amendment: The added regular session is uneconomical in itself in that the cost of the additional session represents a significant increase in the cost of state government.

An additional session is unnecessary because of the power of the governor to call a special session in the event that unforeseen circumstances require any new legislation prior to the succeeding regular session. On the basis of existing programs, adequate information is available for budgeting over a biennium. New or changed programs of sufficient importance can be provided for by special session.

Finding the Way

"The Lord shall guide thee continually."

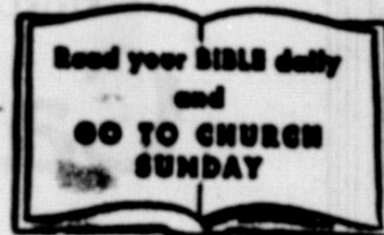

—Isaiah 58:11

You cannot sit by the side of the road and expect to find the kind of faith you need for successful living. You must turn your footsteps toward the open door of your church and direct your thoughts to the significance of God's commandments.

Look to the example of the life of Christ upon earth and work into your own pattern of living some worthwhile form of dedication and service.

Seek guidance, thoughtfully in the word of God, in the teachings of Christ and you will find faith sufficient to your needs.

Former Schoolmates Meet, Enjoy Week Together In N. M. Mountains

By MRS. BILLY THOMPSON

"A Promise is a Promise, is a promise, is a promise"—so it would seem by the results of a Christmas party held in 1935 of a group of silly, giggly high school girls. This was not a class party as their ages varied—neither was it a neighborhood affair as they lived in different parts of the small town of Memphis, Texas—only a gathering of girls who had become very close friends during their years in grade school. On that very night, they made a promise to make this an annual affair—even if they were so old as to need hearing aids and walking canes! Now after the passing of 34 years, this same group of "girls" continues to have their "get-together". Of course, the affairs have changed through the years, but it still takes place—and that is what is so important. At first, the topic of conversation being that of their new boy friends or what Santa might leave under their home tree. From that it went to college—to engagements—to weddings—to home furnishings—to cooking—to babies—and now "pictures-in-the-purse" Grandmas.

3-day house parties — and now a week in the mountains in Red River, N. M. However, the routine is about the same — talking, picture-taking — picture-showing looking over the old high schools annuals, catching up on what has happened to each other in the last year, and of course, telling of all the cute things the grandchildren can do or say.

Some years there has been more than one meeting such as this year. Last March they were isolated during a blizzard at the country home of Mrs. Don Leary of Estelline. During this 10 inch snow, they were very comfortable with plenty of good food and hot coffee — and uninterrupted visiting — the thing they love the most.

After 3 days, the weatherman was nice and sent the sun to moderate enough whereas they could return home on time. Now again they have just returned from Red River after a lovely week in the mountains. They were guests of Mrs. Foster Watkins of Wichita Falls. While there, they spent one day in Santa Fe, N. M., and one day in Taos where they visited the Pueblos. The group was guest at a fish fry in the mountain home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hayes of Phillips and also enjoyed a dinner party in Red River given by Mr. and Mrs.

T. E. Noel and Tommye. Those making the trip were Mmes. Lester Campbell, Homer Tucker and Billy Thompson, all of Memphis; Mrs. Don Leary of Denton; Mrs. George Short of Amarillo, Mrs. Horace Taber, Jr. of Chillicothe and Mrs. Watkins of Wichita Falls.

Those usually in attendance but unable to make this year's trip were Mrs. Jerry Beavers of Lorenzo, Mrs. Dorothy Sue Estes of Houston and Mrs. Ace Galley of Memphis.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Gardenhire visited in Sayre, Okla., last week with her 91-year-old father. Mrs. Gardenhire says her father lives by himself in a six-room home, does all his cooking and canning and takes his clothes to the laundry. He also makes jelly and cans anything he wants to from a small garden which he cares for along with mowing his own lawn. Also visiting there was a sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Ward of Chandler, Ariz.; another sister, Mrs. D. A. Droper, who lives in Sayre; and a brother, Mr. and Mrs. Aron Jenkins of Rofin of Maine. The group also visited a brother who lives near Sweetwater, Okla. Other visitors included Mr. and Mrs. Leon Jenkins and their son and family of Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Combs and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Combs were in El Paso during the weekend.

Cotton Insects

By W. B. Hooser
 County Agent

During the past week, much of the cotton in Hall County reached the bloom stage. Evidence of light boll weevil damage was found in fields scattered throughout the county.

Damage from thrips is light and is evident only in scattered fields over the county.

Fleahoppers infestation is considered to be medium.

Grasshoppers have been causing much damage to the cotton near turn rows in din fields bordered by native pastures.

Tommy Greene is in Dallas where he is attending Drum Major School at SMU. He will return home Friday.

Wendy Dawn—

riage has been born three children, Shane 7, Andy 6 and Kathy 5. Tragedy hit this home when they found out the oldest son had muscular dystrophy.

Although she was always busy, Wendy found time to sing and help on local programs and also on the Heart Telethon program in Amarillo.

Wendy was appearing on the Banner Record show in Memphis Community Center, when she was first discovered by Bill Crawford who signed her to an exclusive managers contract.

In January 1968, Wendy and Jimmy went to Nashville, Tenn., where Manager Crawford had moved where she auditioned for RCA. Also while there, she was on the Ralph Emory Show where she sang "I Wanna Sing a Song" and "How Great Thou Art". Chet Atkins, who is an executive at RCA Recording Co., was watching the Ralph Emory Show and was helpful in getting Wendy a contract with the company.

Wendy's first recording was in June, 1968, "See One Man" and on the flip side, "Railroad Track Blues". After this recording she went to Wheeling, W. Va., to appear on "Wheeling Jamboree".

Wendy cut her first album in August of last year, "Harper Valley PTA". She is looking for another in the near future. In her first album Wendy sang such hit songs as, Jeanie C. Riley's million seller, "Harper Valley PTA," David Houston's, "Already It's Heaven". She also sings, Sonny James' "Heaven Says Hello", Leon Ashley's "Flower of Love", and Waylin Jennings' "Only Mama That'll Walk The Line", and many others.

Wendy had a single out the first of the year, "John" backed with "I Wanna Sing a Song". This record did quite well for Wendy and was written for her by Tommie Williamson, a writer from Ralls, Texas.

Though Wendy is new to the recording field she is well known in this area and appreciated by those who have enjoyed her singing since she was a youth. She has her own style and way with a song that's distinctive and most pleasing.

About her future, she goes to another recording session on 6 and her newest release, "Wendy Dawn and Wendy's Way," is both easy to remember," is released soon.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Blynn and Roy of Carrollton were here this week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Galt.
