U. S. Senator Yarborough Has 'Town Meeting' Here

SEN. RALPH YARBOROUGH

Over 50 people from Memphis, Lakeview, Estelline and Turkey and surrounding counties as far away as Vernon were on hand Tuesday afternoon to meet with Texas Senator Ralph Yarborough in what the Senator called a "town meeting." District Attorney Jack B. Boone introduced the senior senator from Texas who previously shook hands with everyone present, and drank a cup of coffee, in the community center here. Senator Yarborough opened his remarks by saying that the first time he saw Memphis was when he hitch hiked through town in the early summer of 1926 on his way to work in the Berger oil field. Senator Yarborough stated he began his town hall meeting series last Saturday at Houston when he met with 125 city mayors and county officials on the repeal of the tax exemption on municipal bonds measure. Since then, he has been holding town meetings throughout the Texas Panhandle and speaking briefly on the problems of this nation and then opening the meeting up to questions from the floor. The Senator said, "when I was in Stratford yesterday, they handed me a list of five points that just about cover everything that we need in the Panhandle." He listed the five requests as higher farm prices, lower interest rates, an end to the Vietnam war, lower taxes and rain. "The administration can't make it rain, but they can cure two of those points right fast—the war and interest rates," Senator Yarborough said. In Memphis, the question was not brought up concerning Yarborough's candidacy for another term in the U. S. Senate. In other meetings, however, he would not make that decision this year, that he was not running for anything right now but "I sure may be in January." The senator has been speaking at each town on four general topics, farm programs, interest rates, Vietnam and tax reforms. He added a fifth in Memphis when he voiced strong opposition to any move to turn over the U. S. Postal System to a private corporation. He said under private ownership, the people's postal system, established in 1775 before the (Continued on Page 10)

Management Of Grassland Is Discussed Here

Joe Norris, Range Field Specialist with the Soil Conservation Service addressed the Young Farmers meeting Monday night. His talk "Why's of Grassland Management" was informative and interesting. He pointed out that grass management is a relatively new science. The more glamour topics of cross breeding, performance testing, and dry lotting the mother herd have captured the head lines in the past. Norris pointed out that to produce grass for the cow to eat it is necessary to have green surface in which to manufacture the plant food. He pointed out the fact that a grass plant eaten off into the ground has lost its food factory. A good rule of thumb according to Norris is "take half and leave half." Other factors needing consideration in grass land management are the kinds of plants that make up the grassland, type of soil, availability of moisture, temperatures, and many others. He concluded his talk with a discussion of grazing management plans. The first consideration here was that each grass or pasture land needs an occasional rest. The plans discussed all centered around a rest period.

What Is The Cost Of Security?

Security seems to be the motivating force behind almost everything happening today and this security all are seeking is coming with an ever increasing price tag. It may be that the price of security will price itself out of reach of the little man or the middle income man in this nation.

Take insurance for example. Each year, home owners, automobile, liability, life, hospital and medical, and all other forms of insurance are going up. People buy insurance for security against life's tragedies.

A house burns down, a car is wrecked, a person is injured or is stricken with a dread disease, a business is destroyed by an explosion, a tornado wrecks homes; but if losses are covered by insurance the sting of the tragedy is not so sharp.

We look to government for security. People have turned to government with the expectation of security. National security from enemies of our free society demands a big portion of our national budget. But people are expecting more than just national security. They want economic security, health and medical security, retirement security, job security, education security and even security in social acceptance.

Credit cards are getting more and more plentiful. This is just another step on the road to greater security. Credit card banking is the next step, where an individual can buy anything on his bank credit card.

Inflation rears its ugly head and all those who have put back "hard" money nest eggs find themselves with dwindling security with each rise in the cost of living index. Pensioners see what was once ample retiring incomes become meager with each passing year. Inflation also brings on other threats to security.

With rising costs, bankers and those with money to lend feel they must have a higher rate of interest to offset the declining value of their dollar in order to feel secure in making the loan. Along with this, insurance, where practical, is required or collateral is necessary. In this insurance, we see rising cost in both insurance and interest rates.

Inflation, rising living costs, higher insurance rates, higher interest rates, all cut deeply into any type of security planning. If you want security today and in future years, the price tag will be expensive, maybe even beyond your present capabilities.

The Military-Industrial Complex!

During the past months we have begun to feel the undercurrents of a revolt against the continued high spending in the name of defense, and particularly against a no-win war in Asia. This feeling has caused people at all levels to begin to examine the "defense" industry with a very critical eye.

Ever since World War II there has existed a group of businesses which owe their very being to a continuance of the cold war with intermittent hot outbursts such as Korea and Viet Nam. The people of the United States have gone along with this group for a number of years believing that they knew how to fight wars and allowing them to do whatever was necessary for the defense of this nation.

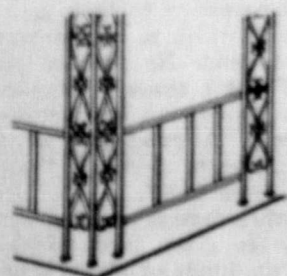

As a result of the continued rat hole in Viet Nam, in terms of both men and money, many taxpayers and interested citizens have decided that they know better how to defend this country than do the "experts." Congressmen are very sensitive to the feelings of the people and this is why Congress is investigating spending by the Pentagon. We predict that before the investigations are over there will be a lot of companies out of business and that the ties between high military officials and the companies that manufacture the weapons of war will shock most of the average citizens.

There will be charges that the war in Viet Nam has been continued for purely money reasons and that many development projects for new weapons have been conceived in order to keep certain companies in business. The pressure from business on the President of the United States must be tremendous. In the latter part of his term President Johnson tried to end the war in Viet Nam but was unable to do so. President Nixon entered the White House with the same idea but has been unable to stop the drain on men and money that the fighting is causing.

"As any man who fought in World War II will tell you, there is no such thing as a "limited war". You either fight to win or to lose. And the day is fast approaching when the usually "silent majority" will make its will known. The pulse of the people seems to say "either win or get out of world affairs." It will take a while to break the magic spell the industrial-military complex has woven in Washington but once the turning point of public opinion has been reached there will be no stopping it. As is so true in our history, we always avoid taking care of a problem until it gets out of hand and then we rise up and settle the matter in a very rough style.

ACROSS THE DESK

What Other Editors Say

Insurance Rates

The investigation of the complex automobile insurance problem announced by Gov. Preston Smith has been welcomed by both the insurance industry and its critics.

Such an investigation should also be welcomed by the public which pays the insurance premiums.

The insurance industry is seeking substantial rate increases on Texas automobile insurance policies and it is indicated that the state board of insurance is convinced the rates need to go up.

Car insurance rates have gone up every year for the past several years and we suppose there is no reason to suppose the climb won't continue.

But a lot of people are being priced out of the market when it comes to car insurance. Even carrying liability insurance of the minimum kind costs a lot of money.

The insurance companies contend that the increases are necessary because of highly inflated costs of automobile repair and medical treatments, and certainly we know that inflation has hit hard in both those areas.

Critics of the companies contend that the companies are fat and prosperous, getting rich on inflated premiums, and that their system of reporting profit and loss does not give a true picture of their net income.

So many are the arguments and counter-arguments that the average automobile owner, who must pay the ever increasing costs, cannot know who is right.

Insurance rates have become one of the major automobile operation cost factors. Still, the automobile owner who has any other property feels compelled to insure it to protect himself against suit if for no other reason.

We don't know what effect this investigation will have on car insurance rates in Perryton. Probably none.

But all of us welcome any sort of indication that there will be financial relief for the car owner no matter how slight.

This Costs Texans $ 2 MILLION A DAY

YOU HELP PAY THE BILL

The way cars are being wrecked and the way folks are being injured and killed in traffic accidents, it looks like this year's Texas traffic toll will top $800 million. This figures out to be more than $2 million a day and that is a lot of money!

When you pay for your auto insurance you help pay this bill because most of your insurance rate is for the amount of money insurance companies pay for traffic accidents. Add to this the amount they pay for autos destroyed or damaged by collision, fire, hail, theft and pilferage. Lower these amounts and your insurance costs will go down. Raise these amounts that insurance companies must pay and your auto insurance costs will have to go up. It is as simple as that.

Here are three ways to cut your auto insurance costs.

1. Help reduce the number of Texas traffic accidents. You can do this by driving the very best you can and by insisting that traffic laws are enforced in your town, county, and state. Let your Mayor, County Officials and Governor Smith know that you want all traffic laws enforced.
2. Help cut down on car thefts and vandalism by locking your car and taking the keys whenever you park. Always try to park your car in a safe place.
3. Ask your insurance agent to show you how you can save money on your auto insurance by taking full advantage of the Driver Education, Two Car and other discounts now offered in Texas.

Auto insurance costs will be cut in Texas after accidents and their costs go down. You and other motorists of Texas can bring this about . . . if you really want to. IT IS UP TO YOU!

Slow Moving Vehicles Must Drive in Outside Lane After September 1

Part 4 of 5 Parts
AUSTIN — Slow-moving drivers who drive on the inside lanes of divided highways may find themselves in trouble after September 1. On that date, Department of Public Safety patrolmen will begin enforcement of a new law which requires that vehicles traveling at less than the normal speed of traffic be driven in the right-hand lane, or as close as practicable to the right-hand edge of the roadway, except when passing.

Operators of such vehicles will have until January 1, 1970 to obtain emblems approved by the DPS and mount them as prescribed by law. Use of the emblem on other types of vehicles, or on fixed objects, is prohibited by law.

West Texas State Announces New Schedule Change

CANYON — West Texas State University joins a growing academic trend toward completion of the fall semester of school before the Christmas holiday period next year.

Dr. Walter H. Juniper, academic vice president, said the fall semester in 1970 will begin Aug. 24, three weeks earlier than this year.

"The basic purpose is for uniformity of calendars among all state-supported schools," he said. "Not all schools will make the change immediately," he added.

Under the new calendar the fall semester will end Dec. 17, the spring semester will start Jan. 11, 1971 and will be concluded May 13. The 1971 summer session will begin May 31.

The plan also necessitated a change in the coming school year's calendar.

Juniper said the dates for spring semester final examinations will be May 25-28 — one day earlier than announced in the previously published 1969-70 university catalogue — and the 1970 summer session will be from June 1 to Aug. 14, instead of June 8 - Aug. 28.

On order to have the same amount of instructional time during each term of the 1970 summer sessions, Juniper said, the first term will be of six weeks duration with 50-minute-long class periods each day and the second term will be five weeks with 90-minute periods.

Bruce-Gentry Wedding Vows Are Solemnized Sat., Aug 16

The altar of the First Baptist Church of Memphis was centered with an arched candelabra decorated with a greenery arrangement and apricot and white gladiolas for the formal wedding of Miss Judy Carole Bruce and Mr. Frank Gary Gentry at 7:30 p. m. Saturday, Aug. 16.

On either side of the nuptial space were candelabra holding lighted votive tapers with greenery arrangements and wedding bells. Floor baskets of apricot and white gladiolas completed the altar setting.

The bridal aisles were marked with lighted votive candles and greenery arrangements.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boyce Bruce of Memphis and the granddaughter of Mrs. Florence Paschall and Mr. and Mrs. Sam. G. Bruce of Memphis.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Gentry of Memphis, the step-grandson of Mrs. Mary Norvell of Abilene and the grandson of Mrs. Arthur Gentry of Richardson.

Miss Melissa Barbee presided at the registrar's table to secure names of the guests. The table was covered with white satin and tulle net cloth graced with apricot colored pom poms.

Traditional wedding music was played by Miss Claudia Corley who accompanied Miss LuAnn Graham, cousin of the bride, of Amarillo as she sang "Because", "The Twelfth of Never" and "The Wedding Prayer".

The Bride

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of organza and hand-clipped chantilly lace, fashioned with a bateau neckline, long lace petal point sleeves, empire bodice of lace accented with pearls. The detachable Watteau chapel length train was accented with appliques of lace and two bands of lace petals with pearls and crystals held a veil of imported illusion.

She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid surrounded with a cascade of white elegance carnations and miniature English ivy.

MRS. FRANK GARY GENTRY

The bride carried out the traditional "something old, new, borrowed and blue and a six pence in her shoe".

Attendants

Mrs. Mike Limer of Weatherford, Okla., was matron of honor and Mrs. Exie Hughs was bridesmaid. Miss Boycene Bruce, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

Their formal-length dresses of silk organza were apricot in color and A-line fashioned with self-covered buttons extending from a round neck to the floor. They wore matching head pieces of tulle illusion net fashioned in a bow with daisies attached to bows and shoulder-length streamers. They carried nosegays of apricot tinted pom pom mums with white satin streamers.

Little Miss Terri Gailey, niece of the groom, of Denton served as flower girl. She was dressed identically to the bridesmaids and carried a basket of rose petals.

Local Girls Enjoy Lake Outing Friday

Miss Robin Hanvey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hanvey, Jr., entertained for a group of friends at Greenbelt Lake outside of Clarendon on Friday night, Aug. 15.

Arriving at the lake at about 4:30 Friday afternoon, the girls enjoyed swimming, water skiing and a weiner roast.

Those attending were: Miss Hanvey, Misses Tammy Lockhart, Jana Davis, Gwen Proctor, Brenda Wiggins and Beverly Hunt of Borger who was a house guest of the Hanveys over the weekend.

She wore a wristlet of apricot tipped pom pom mums.

Master Andy Freeman, nephew of the groom, of Claude served as ringbearer.

Best man was Doug Martin of Hart. Groomsmen were Gary Dale Graham of Abernathy and Mark Gentry, brother of the groom.

Ushers included Jerry Moss of Dallas, Ben Holder of College Station, Sam Bruce, cousin of the bride, and Jimmy Widener, both of Memphis.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bruce chose a two-piece suit of lime green complimented with matching accessories. She wore a corsage of Salmon glamelias.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Gentry, chose a pastel pink knit dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was of rose pink glamelias.

Reception

A reception honoring the couple was hosted by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce, at the fellowship hall of the church.

Members of the house party included: Misses Nancy Simpson, Cynthia Evans and Melissa Barbee.

The bride's table was laid with a white floor-length net over satin, two-tiered cloth and was appointed in silver. The centerpiece was of apricot and white glads and pom poms.

A four-tiered wedding cake adorned with white doves, scrolls and daisies was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Punch, mints and nuts completed the reception fare.

For her wedding trip, the bride chose a cranberry and white checked suit of linen with white accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Memphis High School and attended Sam Houston State College this past year. The groom is also a graduate of Memphis High School and is a senior student at Texas A&M University, majoring in agriculture economics.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Gentry were hosts for the rehearsal dinner at 7 p. m. Aug. 15 at the O-Bar Dining Room. The table was attractively decorated with apricot and white gladiolas and apricot pom poms.

Miss Bruce was honored with a bridal shower July 12 in the home of Mrs. R. B. Phillips of Memphis.

A New Cotton Defoliant Guide Is Available To Cotton Farmers

A revised guide covering the use of defoliants and desiccants for getting cotton ready for machine harvesting is now available at the county agent's office.

All chemicals listed in the guide have been registered, or granted an extension, by the U. S. Department of Agriculture except where limitations have been noted.

says County Agent W. B. Hooser.

The guide also gives suggestions relative to when chemicals should be applied as well as application rates for both ground and airplane spraying.

Suggestions are given for the care and operation of application equipment along with safety precautions.

When calling or writing for a copy of the guide ask for L-145, "Cotton Defoliation Guide". It is free for the asking, reminds Hooser.

Combed cottons have been "combed" of short fibers, leaving the longer lengths.

New Problem In Swine Production Is PSE Pork

COLLEGE STATION — A relatively new problem in swine production, pale, soft, exudative pork (PSE), or pale watery pork, has been found in Texas A&M University studies to be associated with fast-gaining, meat-type hogs.

Dr. G. T. King of the A&M Animal Science Department said the purpose of the research was to determine causes and physical and chemical traits responsible for PSE pork.

Several factors appeared to affect the condition, he explained. One of these was sex. Of the 117 carcasses evaluated in the project, barrows generally had a better loin score than did gilts.

In breed effect, Duroc and Yorkshires scored highest in loin color.

Overall, the faster gaining and more efficient pigs produced the most PSE pork, compared to slower gaining and less efficient pigs. It was also noted as the age of the animal increased, the amount of PSE pork produced decreased.

And finally, King and his associates, Dr. Z. I. Carpenter and W. B. Tuley, found that rapid environmental temperature changes brought on higher incidences of pale, watery pork.

PSE pork, King said, has less eye appeal for consumers, and could cause a merchandising problem.

COUNTY AGENT YOUR SAYS

Controls For Heel Flies And Cattle Grubs

There are controls for cattle grubs and they work. These livestock pests are the larval stages of the heel fly which annoy cattle during the late winter and early spring, explains County Agent W. B. Hooser.

Losses from heel flies and cattle grubs are many. The instinctive reaction of cattle fleeing heel flies interferes with normal grazing and causes weight and energy losses, says the county agent. The grubs, as they migrate through the animal's body cause annoyance and irritation and compete with the animal for nutrients, resulting in reduced production of meat and milk. Grubby slaughter animals are frequently docked because the carcass-blemishing warbles must be trimmed resulting in meat waste and unattractive, less valuable carcasses. Holes down-grade the value of hide for leather use.

Effective grub control, points out Hooser, depends upon the proper use of systemic insecticides—chemicals fed or applied to the animal's body which are then distributed through the body tissues to control grubs inside the animal. Best results are obtained when animals are treated as soon as possible after the termination of the heel fly activity and when the grubs are small.

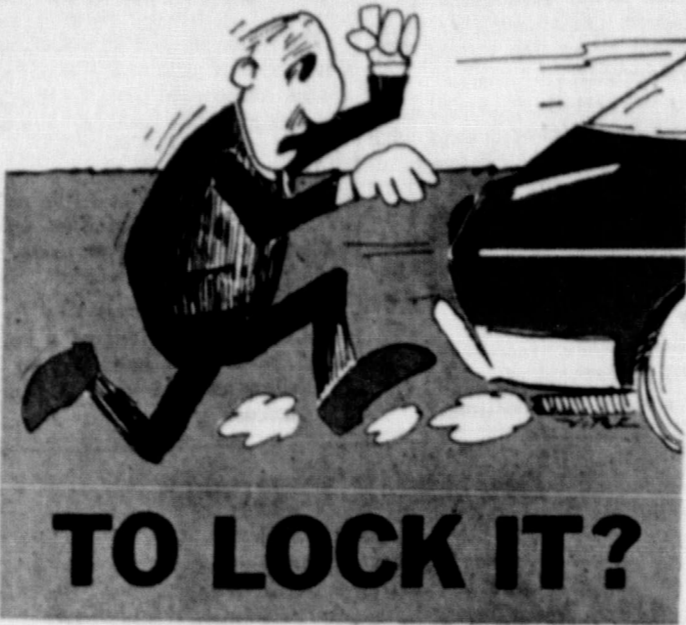

Several chemicals and methods of treatment are available, including dips, sprays, or backline pour-ons. Others can be used as free choice block or granular mix for range animals or others are available which can be used in the animal's rations. Certain of these materials also effectively control horn flies, lice and ticks when used in the recommended manner, says the county agent.

Because of the number of insecticides available, the county agent suggests that interested persons come by his office for copies of MP-961, "Texas Guide for Controlling External Parasites of Livestock and Poultry". This publication outlines in detail recommended chemicals and their use.

Ornamental Plants From Cuttings are Inexpensive and Simple to Start

Rooting cuttings and growing plants is a simple, inexpensive method for getting plants needed to improve the appearance and value of a home.

Immediate effects can be obtained by purchasing plants of a desirable size from a nursery; however, points out County Agent W. B. Hooser, circumstances often prevent the making of extensive plantings.

It is possible for anyone to start enough plants from cuttings to completely landscape the average home grounds. In general, cuttings are made from wood that is mature (hardwood) or wood that is actively growing (softwood). The most commonly used method involves hardwood cuttings. Some easily propagated by this method of Spiraea, Abelia, Althea, Deltozia, Weigela, Hon-eyesuckle, Multiflora Rose, Hydrangea, Ligustrums and willows.

Hardwood cuttings are usually made during the period from November through February. Select mature, one - year old wood from the preceding season. Make the cuttings 12 to 18 inches long with the basal or bottom cut about one-fourth inch below a node or joint. Be careful to note which is the basal end of the cutting. Treat the basal ends by dipping them in a root promoting hormone before placing them in the rooting medium.

Moisture is very important. If the garden soil is a good sandy loam that stays moist, the cuttings may be set directly outdoors. Set them so two to three inches of the top is above the soil surface. Space them 8 to 12 inches apart in the row. If the cuttings are over 8 inches long, it is best to place them in a slanted position so the base is not over 5 inches below the soil surface. Firm the soil around cuttings after they are placed in the row.

Cuttings handled in the above manner should root in the spring and early summer and begin growth. The agent says to keep the area free of weeds and leave the cuttings in this location during the first summer. The young plants can be moved the following fall.

Cattle Face Vitamin and Mineral Deficiency Due to Dry Ranges and Pastures

Beef cattle on dry ranges may face serious nutritional deficiencies, warns County Agent W. B. Hooser. Of major importance is the lack of sufficient range grass or forage. The low quality or absence of total digestible nutrients is a further complicating factor. This kind of forage contains little or no protein, phosphorus and vitamin A.

Decisions are difficult to make during stress periods. An attempt should be made to balance livestock numbers and forage supplies. Calves may be weaned earlier to help relieve grazing pressure and improve cow conditions. Fewer replacement cattle should be kept and culling is always in order. Non-breeders and slow breeders, irregular breeders and cows which consistently produce lower grade, lightweight calves should be marketed.

Under extremely dry conditions, it may be available to confine the foundation herd to a small acreage. High energy feeds such as grains and protein supplements may be fed in limited amounts for maintenance. Forage is the critical feed, however, and is usually high in cost for total digestible nutrients. A protein supplement fed with forage will improve digestion. Phosphorus is the most likely to be deficient. A mineral supplement high in phosphorus should be fed free choice or in controlled drinking water.

Vitamin A may or may not be deficient depending upon the available forage. Protein supplements fortified with vitamin A should be considered. Synthetic vitamin A is available for use in drinking water, injections or for mixing with feed.

Since most livestock producers in Hall County have had experience handling livestock during periods of stress, decision making on management practices becomes an individual proposition, concludes Hooser.

A pound of cotton can be spun into 70 yards of cloth.

Mrs. Lena Smith of Clarendon spent the day Monday with her sister, Mrs. A. J. Fowler.

B.B. Shots

By BYRON BALDWIN

We heard Sue Lacy humming and singing that old song "Don't Fence Me In," did not know it had so much meaning to her until driving by their home found that Denzel had fenced in with a six foot chain link fence. Have always heard it said that it is "hard to keep up with the Joneses," on our last Shots we tried to say that 22 1/2 years ago Gladys Jones Gilmore decided she would go to the department store in Dallas and work a while to make her some extra Christmas money and she kept on working regular all that time. Now after 22 1/2 years she retired a few weeks ago and she should have a pretty good Christmas fund because she has been having Christmas 12 months a year. Allie Boswell looking over Heritage Hall and doing a little re-arranging said she remembered the her brother, the late Max King brought in the material and said "I have to have a baseball suit." She was back in early 1900. She and Max got down on the floor and cut it out with him helping her they sewed the pieces together and Max had the baseball suit. She says she has the picture of this team and is bringing it down to Heritage Hall. This was one of the first ball teams they had in Hall County. Visiting in Heritage Hall and with friends in Memphis were Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Taylor, who were residents here in 1924 and 1933 and are now living in Alexandria, La. With Mr. and Mrs. Taylor were Dr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Garner of Shreveport, La. Dr. Garner is professor of education at Centenary College, the college which our Joe Mickle was president of. The Taylors had one set of twins, Gerald and Geraldine, and Geraldine is the wife of Dr. Garner and is librarian of Fairport High School.

She pulled a picture from her billfold of her 19 year old son and says this is your namesake as I named him Byron Ober. She told us the baby sitter she left at home was Violet Tippett, former Memphis resident, some of you will remember. While living in Memphis years ago, Mrs. Taylor was an invalid and was in a plaster of paris cast and the future looked dark for her, but now she and C. S. both are chipper as can be. See we never know in life what is ahead for us and I often think of the quotation that Congressman Upshaw preached in our blackland school almost 60 years ago, "Let nothing discourage you, never give up".

Those of you who knew him remember as a young man a team of mules ran away with him and broke his back and he was on crutches the rest of his life. He got his education, went to Congress and lived nearly 100 years.

Grandson Of Local Residents Weds In Kansas

Yellow gladioli and mums provided the altar setting at the First Congregational Church in Tonganoxie, Kans., for the recent marriage of Ellen Elizabeth Sparks and Thomas John Smith, IV.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ellen Harbaugh of Tonganoxie, while the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas John Smith, III, of Tailgate Ranch, Tonganoxie, and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Godfrey of Memphis.

Rev. Emil T. Pietz was in charge of the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. Hazel McGee was organist and Miss Kathy Puthoff, soloist.

The bride, escorted by her brother, wore a floor-length empire gown of white silk organza. Chantilly lace appliques accented the dress from shoulder to hem line and edged the detachable cathedral train. Her tiered veil of imported silk illusion was held by an orchid shaped head piece bordered by clusters of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of yellow and white roses. A rose from the bride's bouquet was given to the sister of the groom.

Mrs. Donna Smoots of Topeka, Kans., sister of the bride, was matron of honor, with bridesmaids, Jonna Smith, sister of the groom, and Dorothy Quisenberry. They were dressed in floor-length empire gowns of yellow linen. Garden hats trimmed in yellow satin ribbon with streamers to the waistline were their headpieces. They carried baskets filled with yellow and white roses, daisies and carnations.

Dressed in miniature of the bride's attendants was the flower girl, Melanie Mills of Des Moines, Iowa. Candlelighters were Lisa Turner and Sandy Mills. Ringbearers were Kerry Harbaugh, sister of the bride, and Scott Mills. Bruce Smith, brother of the groom, served as best man and Lee Sweeten and Nick Nicholson both of Corpus, were groomsmen. Serving as ushers were Mike Smoots and Charles Kesinger.

A reception was held at the church following the ceremony. Assistants were Cheryl Blackwell, Ginger Mills, Sue Rich, Pat Cooney and Mary McBroom.

Mr. Smith is serving on the U.S.S. Repose off Vietnam and Mrs. Smith will be a senior student at Kansas University.

Bethel Class Meets With Mrs. O. Jones

The very inspiring devotional was given by Mrs. Frank Ellis, John 10, with many good comments such as "Christ is the door and the good shepherd".

The secretary, Mrs. Leonard Wilson, read the minutes and they were approved. Benevolence chairman, Mrs. J. W. Smith, gave a good report. Mrs. A. J. Fowler led the class in saying a verse of scripture by memory with all present taking part.

The refreshment table was covered with an imported lace cloth from Brussels, matching that of the registration table. It was centered with an arrangement of tinted pom poms in pink, blue, yellow and white, topped with a crib mobile of vari-colored butterflies. The centerpiece was flanked with pink tapers in blue satin rosette bases.

Pink punch from a blue trimmed punch bowl was ladeled by Mrs. Paul Thompson and pink and blue decorated cake squares were served by Mrs. Cook from a pink frosted imported crystal plate. Other appointments were in crystal and silver.

Gaily wrapped packages were piled in a baby bed, the gift of the honoree's grandmother, Mrs. W. B. Sykes, as well as displayed in the adjoining party rooms. The honoree was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Joe Berry, and Mr. Duncan's mother, Mrs. Dorothy Duncan, in opening and displaying the gifts.

8910 reasons why Maverick is the fastest-selling new car in automotive history!

Our little car is making a big hit. In its first 100 days Maverick has out-sold every new car ever introduced. And every day more and more smart drivers are discovering the fun of owning the simple machine. Take a few minutes to find out why Maverick's so popular. Then take a test drive at your Ford Dealer's.

New Ford Maverick... the simple machine

1. LOW PRICE. Maverick is the best seller of the '70s at 1960 prices. And you get your money's worth. A complete car all ready to drive home.
2. LOW FUEL BILLS. In tests by professional drivers at our tracks, where we do our best to duplicate actual driving conditions, Maverick averaged 22.5 mpg. (Some Maverick owners report they get 25 mpg and better.)
3. 105 HORSES. Maverick's high-spirited Six gives you nearly twice as much horsepower as the leading import's engine. You get fast acceleration, easy passing.
4. PEOPLE-SIZED INTERIOR. Maverick pinches pennies, not people. Its front seat gives you nine inches more shoulder room than the leading import. Plus lots of leg room, hip room and head room.
5. EASY HANDLING. Maverick can outmaneuver the leading economy import. It can U-turn in a tighter circle, nip around corners and slide into tight parking spaces with amazing agility.
6. FEWER SERVICE CALLS. Maverick is actually easier and less expensive to maintain than an economy import. Maverick oil changes come only once every 6,000 miles and chassis lubrications once in 36,000 miles. The leading import recommends an oil change twice as often and a chassis lubrication six times as often. (Maverick gives you economy without inconvenience!)
7. SIMPLE SERVICE AND REPAIRS. The Maverick Owner's Manual has 24 pages of instructions for routine maintenance jobs you can do yourself, if you wish. You can change spark plugs, replace fuel filter, adjust ignition timing, and more. Even a smashed grille can be replaced in as little as 13 minutes.
8. WIDE-OPEN TRUNK SPACE. No more cramming in luggage just because you have a small car. Maverick gives you 10.4 cubic feet of luggage space—nearly twice as much as the leading import. (With Maverick, you can take it with you.)
9. SOLID DURABILITY. Maverick's unitized body construction makes it light, strong and durable. (And Maverick's 3-speed transmission is tough enough to handle twice as much horsepower as the engine turns out.) (Maverick may be little, but you don't have to treat it like a kid.)
10. BUILT-IN SAFETY. Unlike most economy imports, Maverick's tread is wider than the car is high. That means stability—mighty important when the road is wet or the wind is strong.

New Nematode Detection Lab Established

Nematodes, small hair-like worms which live in soil, soon be getting a lot of spe-attention.
 Because of the increasing importance of plant parasitic nematode control, and the need for cultural procedures and home-remedies to have information needer control, a detection laboratory has been established at Texas A&M University at College Station.

Wendell Horne, plant pathologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said the lab will operate on much the same as the soil testing lab, also Extension Service operated at. A fee of $2 per sample will be charged for the detection which will include the identification of nematodes presence, infestation level, whether chemical or cultural control methods are justified and a list of resistant varieties of crops.

Dr. Horne will be in charge of the laboratory. Treatment or control recommendations will be made by Horne or another Extension Service pathologist. Recommendations, Horne said, will be based on facts other than nematode counts, including consideration of the crop to be grown, cultural practices available, variety differences, soil types and other factors. Test results should be back to the sample sender within 10 days from the receipt of the sample in the lab, Horne said.
 The plant pathologist noted that nematodes are found in every part of Texas. All, however, are not destructive to crops. The major Texas commercial crops affected by the parasites are cotton, peanuts, soybeans and ornamentals.

 Substitute liberty or freedom

 Frankly, we don't know who's to blame for the present permisrooted in political ideology. It more likely has as its motivation

Cotton Harvest Aid Pointers Given By TEAS

COLLEGE STATION — This year's cotton crop defoliant and desiccant recommendations are in terms of spray formulations. Dusts have been discontinued.
 Fred C. Elliott, cotton specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says dusts have fallen into disfavor because of drift problems. Dew on cotton leaves also is necessary for a dust to be activated, he added.
 Sprays can be applied by ground rigs or by airplanes, but Elliott urges growers to stagger applications in the case of large acreages.
 "In other words, the application rate of defoliants or desic-cants should be at about the same rate as the harvesting machinery will cover the field," he said.
 "This will avoid some of the greening-up that might occur if the whole acreage is defoliated at one time."
 Harvest and chemicals are of two general types—defoliants and desiccants.

 Defoliants prepare cotton for machine picking. There are chlor-ate and organophosphorus types.
 In 1968, there were 6,344 cotton picking machines operated in 93
 Texas counties. They harvested 25 per cent of the crop.
 Desiccants prepare cotton for machine stripping. Of these, arsenic acid and Paraquat are the most common kinds.
 During the 1968 cotton season, 39,028 strippers in 165 counties stripped 75 percent of the Texas crop.
 "When cotton is harvested by strippers before frost, use of a desiccant is a must," Elliott pointed out. "Desiccation may be applied for as little as $1 per acre, depending on crop conditions and material used."
 The specialist emphasized that sprayers be carefully calibrated to avoid misapplication.
 "Ground sprayers should be checked to see that a uniform amount is being applied to each a half years before being converted to Christ.

Rev. Phelps surrendered to the ministry in November, 1962, and attended Southwestern Baptist Seminary, 1963-66, graduated in January of 1966 with a Diploma in Theology. After serving as pastor of Inspiration Point Baptist Church, Ft. Worth, and Temple Baptist Church, Hereford, he entered evangelistic work in January, 1967.

Weekday services have been scheduled for 10 a. m. and 8 p. m. each day, Monday through Saturday. Sunday services will be held at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m.

Monday night has been designated as Sunday School night with each class competing to see who can bring the most visitors. Rev. Pitts said.

Wednesday night has been designated as "Pack the Pew Night" and we urge each church member to bring a guest.

Thursday night will be youth night with the young people of the congregation entertaining the other youths of the community with a weiner roast at 5:30 p. m.

Friday will be "Pack the Pew Night" again. Sunday morning there will be a unified service with the evangelist relating his personal experiences during his wrestling career and his decision to enter the ministry.

All area residents are invited to attend any and all of these services, Rev. Pitts said.

Mrs. Ruby Lee Smith of Morton, visited here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Wiley, Monday and Tuesday.

Voyles. Jars for each candidate will be placed in local stores, and the public is urged to vote for their choice with penny ballots.

Henry Gregory and Bill Ballew of the American Legion appeared before the group and stated that all kinds of entries are welcomed for the parade. Anyone wishing to enter a float or display is urged to contact Jay Stone, parade marshal, or Royce Frisbie, assistant marshal.

The meeting was then adjourned by Mrs. Gregory.

8:30 to 10:15 a. m., juniors from 10:15 to 12 noon, sophomores from 1 to 2:30 p. m. and freshmen from 2:30 to 4 p. m.

Elementary schools and junior high will register their students that morning, Supt. C. L. Chambliss announced.

First day of school for Memphis students will be Tuesday, Sept. 2, it was announced.

Grid Scrimmage —

The first workout session Monday morning and voted to hold practice sessions at 8:20 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. each day. Tuesday morning 36 boys reported and Wednesday morning 29 boys were on hand, Coach Glascock reported Wednesday afternoon.

"Due to heat and limited number of boys at workouts, training sessions have been spotty so far," Coach Glascock said.

"The more experienced boys are showing up real well in workouts," the coach said.

The coach reported that no roster of varsity players has been drafted as yet. Ten players from last year's roster have reported including: Ronnie McFalls, Merle Kilpatrick, Carol Bland, Cornelius Whitmore, E. L. Kirkland, Billy Gilbert, Russell Smith, Ronald Bradshaw and Max McQueen.

Coach Glascock indicated that several new boys had come out and with the sophomore group it would be a while yet before a varsity roster would be drawn up.

The coach said that the team is working out twice each day and any boys desiring to compete for a position on the team are welcome.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Coy Wayne Miller of De Soto, Texas, announce the birth of a son, Coy Wayne Miller, Jr. He was born on Wednesday, Aug. 20, and weighed 8 pounds, 1 ounce. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Coy L. Miller of Memphis.

He who feathers his nest dishonestly should plume himself for a flight.

Declaration of Independence was signed or the Continental Army was formed, would limit postal service to rural areas and would subsidize lower class mail, especially slick magazine mailing rates.

Yarborough said the plan would close all fourth-class post offices and about half of all third-class post offices in order to save money. He pointed out that AT&T has been able to show a profit by serving 80 percent of the people in only 20 percent of the land area. A private owned postal system would do the same thing, he pointed out.

The Senator told the group here that he would support Rep. Bob Poage's farm bill which he felt was a "good" bill. The Agriculture Department has not made any statement on the type of farm legislation it wants, he said.

The senator urged resistance to a new agricultural plan that could propose a severe cutback in agriculture by taking 74 million acres out of production. This, he said, would kill family-type farming and mean the death of many small rural towns.

Senator Yarborough left Memphis after answering several questions to speak at the kidney foundation meeting at Amarillo High School that evening.

Other topics covered by Senator Yarborough were on the Nixon Administration handling of the war in Vietnam and the increasing interest rates.

Concerning interest rates, Yarborough pointed out that this nation has seen high interest rates four times in its history. In 1814, the dark year of the War of 1812, in 1864, during the Civil War, in 1918-19, World War I and in 1929, just before the Great Depression. When the rate went to 7 1/2 percent, this was the highest since the Civil War, he said.

"These high interest rates are bleeding this country to death," the Senator said.

The senator said former President Johnson had 536,000 soldiers in Southeast Asia at the highest point and Nixon now has 537,000 there, despite the reports of bringing troops home.

The Senator said that this war is costing this country dearly and he feels it is good for this nation "I would applaud anyone, Republican or Democrat, who can bring this thing to an end," the Senator said.

The Senator spoke on other matters in answer to questions such as "busing students in school districts," "the Cold War G. I. Bill" which he authored, and other domestic matters including why the Nixon Administration is showing a credit in its budget. They are not spending money earmarked to be spent on all kinds of government programs, he explained.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wheeler and sons visited here Saturday with his grandmother, Mrs. T. J. Brock. The Wheelers were en route to Houston where they will make their home.

Success is just a good idea coupled with hard work.
