Vice President Has Legitimate Complaint!

The Vice President of the United States hit a sore spot when he criticized the powers that be in TBC, CBS and NBC, concerning their handling of news and comments on news, especially of President Nixon's recent address to the nation. We feel he was well within his rights to take the TV commentators to task.

When the TV industry was in its earlier days, the executives did a creditable job of hiring competent reporters and presenting to the public a factual and honest picture of the day's events.

But as the TV industry has grown in power, these executives have begun a campaign of "sensationalism" between themselves, sacrificing professionalism and honesty in order to "out-do" their past performance.

The TV industry appears to be trying to make heroes out of dissenters, law breakers, draft dodgers, and villains out of Elected Officials, Judges, Police, Soldiers who fight for their Country, School Officials, College Administrators, and about everyone else connected with "the establishment."

Vice President Agnew called the TV Executives a close knit fraternity of self appointed men, yielding unbelievable power. Power which would not be tolerated in the hands of government. He pointed out these men are not elected by anyone and answer only to themselves.

In making comparisons, the Vice President said that you could read his speech in text in one of the newspapers and find the editorial comments on his speech on the editorial page. Television doesn't do this, he said. He explained you give a speech on television, as President Nixon did recently on the Vietnam War, and immediately the industry-paid analysts tear it to pieces, express their disagreement and disappointment, drag out political critics to express opposing views. It is obviously an effort to discredit the effect of the speech in the public's mind, and to develop opposition and controversy.

Even with the Vice President's critical talk, the TV industry could not be objective. They gave just enough of the speech air time (about one minute) so the public could get the gist of what he was saying, leaving the impression that the Vice President was "whining and complaining," and then came the 15 minutes of carefully prepared rebuttals signed by chief executives of ABC, CBS, NBC, in which the Vice President was subjected to ridicule.

TV Executives see nothing wrong in criticizing everyone from the President on down, Republican or Democrat, alike, but apparently the industry is not mature enough to accept legitimate criticism of its own actions.

In television's race to sensationalism, the industry many times substitutes generalities for reality, offers conclusions instead of facts, and in effect, is guilty of making good guys out of those who are definitely in the wrong, legally as well as morally.

Television is the No. One supporter of the Hippies, Yippies and the SDS dissenters and troublemakers. Why else would TV give more coverage to the unwashed minority than they do to any other group or activity in the world?

It reminds us of the photographers slogan, "Where There's Beauty, We Take It. Where There Isn't, We Make It." It appears to us that ABC, NBC and CBS are operating on this philosophy: "Where There's Violence . . . We Take It . . . Where There Isn't . . . We'll Make It!"

Peace Marches are not new to this country. We had them before World War I, World War II, and the Korean Conflict. The nation survived these. But let the power of television loose on this issue, unrestrained, and the next thing you know we have a full scale rebellion on our hands.

We urge our citizens who feel TV is "off base" in reporting and commenting on the news, to write these same executives expressing their displeasure. Just because they don't read "letters to the editor," as newspapers publish them, there is no reason why these executives should be allowed to continue to ridicule established authority in our free society. Your letter could do more good than you think.

Craftsmen Needed

Considerable discussion was held by the Perryton school board at their meeting this past week regarding the need for an expanded vocational training program for both boys and girls in our schools.

This is an area that needs to be developed, and the school is studying several ways to go about improving the situation. This year some advancement was made when an eighth grade homemaking class was opened, with about 90 girls enrolled in it.

The board heard a report from high school and junior high principals who looked over the vocational program in the Lockhart school which has reduced the dropout rate in high school from 37 per cent to 2 per cent.

We have a dropout problem in the Perryton schools, even though nobody likes to think about it. Far too many youngsters never make the move from the end of their freshman year on the junior high campus to the high school campus to the south. They drop out of school and admittedly have a handicap in securing a job from then on.

More and more educators are coming around to the idea that vocational training has been neglected. Emphasis upon the academic is still necessary to provide a real education, but somewhere along the line some students throw up their hands and despair of ever learning all about nouns and participles and gerunds and adverbial objectives and the like, which English courses still emphasize.

The Lockhart plan takes junior high and high school youngsters and teaches them job skills, along with an ungraded academic course. The boys start out working on small motors and go on into auto mechanics and various other types of repair.

The girls learn sewing and cooking, not only as a homemaking skill, but as preparation for industrial type jobs as well.

The Perryton school people are looking at the Lockhart plan, but since it is geared to a problem not quite applicable to Perryton, they are thinking in terms of an expanded bonafide vocational program such as mechanics, welding, office skills, etc., which will actually prepare high school graduates for a job.

If this country is going to keep from falling apart, there needs to be a reevaluation of thinking as to what is "socially desirable" in the way of making a living.

Far too many students, and their parents, turn up their nose at any type of vocational training because they have their sights set upon the more glamorous professions like the law, medicine, teaching, accounting, and the other jobs that have come along with the space age and computer.

Despite the rush into the jet age, the computer age, the need keeps growing for people that can fix things. One of the biggest demands for labor today is for people that can fix computers and program them and operate the machines that produce the cards and tape that tell the complex computers what to do.

Even in this jet air age, the streets and highways are clogged with automobiles that need fixing and just about every garage is full of machines needing work done on them.

The printing industry continues to demand more and more people with new job skills as this industry moves into computer typesetting and offset printing production. It may not take a college diploma to be a printer, but it takes smart people to produce the mountains of printed material that a growing America consumes these days.

Despite the growing need for technicians and skilled workers in the trades, there remains a sort of snobbish attitude toward vocational training as though this is for the kid not smart enough to make his grades.

We need to change this attitude before we get so educated we can't get our plumbing fixed.

Missionary From Africa Speaks To Clarendon And Memphis Presbyterians

By VIRGINIA BROWDER
Following a 'pot-luck' supper, members of the St. Andrews Area Ministry, Presbyterians of Memphis and Clarendon meeting together with their pastor, Rev. Owen McGarity and family in the Fellowship Hall of the First Presbyterian Church last Thursday evening were highly entertained by the Rev. Roy Strange, in the states on furlow from West Africa.

Presbyterian Board of Missions. The province of Rio Muni in West Africa with a district headquarters of 10,000 population has been home to Mr. Strange, his wife and four children (as they came along) for the past sixteen years; so they are well steeped in the culture and customs of the people there. In fact, their children, two girls and two boys, are so much 'at home' in Africa that they have no enthusiasm for return trips to the states. At present, while her husband tours Texas, Mrs. Strange and the children are 'in school' in Denton. She is taking graduate work in languages. During their years in Africa, her husband has learned to speak, read, and write the native dialect called 'fang'. Fang, a tonal language much like Chinese, stems from the Bantu. It is, indeed, the missionaries to whom most credit is due for transcribing the native tongues of Africa as well as other foreign countries in whose mission field they have served. Mrs. Strange, too, must have a working knowledge of 'fang'. Rev. Strange's lecture was interesting and informative. Among other things, it was learned that a vegetable something like our sweet potato is the main diet there and the leaves are cooked as greens. Consequently, Mr. Strange's health has become impaired to the point where he can eat only a small amount of food at a time and should have something to eat every two hours. Even so, being a dedicated missionary, he looks forward to returning 'home' to Africa when his term of furlow is completed. He, the son of a

New Jersey, have happily resigned navy man, and she, a native of themselves to saving souls for Christ in their chosen field of Africa. It was interesting and gratifying to learn that one in six African natives south of the Sahara are Christian, mostly protestant. The work in Rio Muni consists of training indigenous workers who share the responsibility of teaching and preaching. Mrs. Strange conducts health classes, assists the women to a better way of life and finds it a rewarding service. During the slave trade days, between thirty and forty million slaves were exported to England and America and yet much later the same white people, English and American, returned to evangelize the Africans.

Among the artifacts which Rev. Strange displayed were a hand-carved ebony chief's staff, a gourd baby bottle, and a cotton print. Tapes of their native music and a colored film strip added interest to the evening's entertainment and a banner of the women's auxiliary was most meaningful. A black banner with symbols superimposed on the dark field represented their credo. The heart at the top, the candle, the silhouette of the African continent, the cross, the church, and the globe of the world spelled out this motto for them to live by. "My heart be at peace so that my home will be a light for Christ and my church will worship God in spirit and in truth." Preceding the program by Rev. Strange, an explanation was made as to the church projects at home and abroad to be benefited by the Thanksgiving offering, and the offering was taken by the ladies of the Clarendon and Memphis congregations. The meeting was closed with prayer by Rev. McGarity.

Howdy Neighbor

Have you heard?

About the woman who stopped her car for a red light. When the light turned green, she just stayed right where she was. After several times observing the light changing, the officer finally went over and politely asked, "Lady don't we have any colors you like?"

About the officer stopping an excited young driver and explaining to her that she was driving seventy miles an hour. "Isn't that great!" she answered. "I only learned to drive last week." About the man who was so late that when he went to the barber shop and asked for a shave, he was told by the barber that he was too far down in the chair for a shave. "All right," he replied. "give me a haircut." Did you realize? If your uncle's sister is your aunt, then she is your mother. Public Notices

Ordinance No. 446
An ordinance fixing and determining the general service rate to be charged for sales of natural gas to residential and commercial consumers within the city limits of Memphis, Hall County, Texas, and providing for the manner in which such rate may be changed, adjusted and amended and declaring an emergency.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF MEMPHIS, TEXAS:

SECTION 1. Effective with the first gas bills rendered after January 1, 1970, the maximum general service rate for sales of natural gas rendered to residential and commercial consumers within the city limits of Memphis by Lone Star Gas Company, a Texas corporation, its successors and assigns, is hereby fixed and determined as follows:

First 1,000 cu. ft. or Fraction Thereof $1.8333 Gross; $1.650 Net.

Next 24,000 cu. ft. at $1.0100 per Mcf Gross; $909 per Mcf Net.

Next 25,000 cu. ft. at $.9100 per Mcf Gross; $.819 per Mcf Net.

Next 25,000 cu. ft. at $.8100 per Mcf Gross; $.729 per Mcf Net.

All over 75,000 cu. ft. at $.7100 per Mcf Gross; $.639 per Mcf Net.

No gas bill will be rendered to any residential or commercial consumer served under the above rate not consuming any gas during any monthly billing period.

Adjustment

The amount of each net monthly bill computed at the above stated rates shall be subject to the following adjustment: Plus an amount equivalent to the proportionate part of any new tax, or increased tax, or any other governmental imposition, rental, fee or charge (except state, county, city and special district ad valorem taxes and taxes on net income) levied, assessed or imposed subsequent to July 1, 1969, upon or allocable to the Company's distribution operations, by any new or amended law, ordinance or contract. Each gross monthly bill shall be adjusted proportionately. Company, at its option, may forego the application of this adjustment; however, failure of Company to apply such adjustment shall not constitute a waiver of Company's right from time to time, or at any time, to make such adjustment, in whole or in part, in any subsequent current monthly bill that may be applicable to such bill.

Net rate shall apply to all bills paid within ten days from monthly billing date; gross rate shall be applicable thereafter.

The above rate is applicable to each residential and commercial consumer per month or for any part of a month for which gas is used at the same location.

In addition to the aforesaid rates, Company shall have the right to collect such reasonable charges as are necessary to conduct its business and to carry out its reasonable rules and regulations in effect.

SECTION 2. The rate set forth in Section 1 may be changed and amended by either the City or Company furnishing gas in the manner provided by law. Service hereunder is subject to the orders of regulatory bodies having jurisdiction, and to the Company's Rules and Regulations currently on file in the Company's office.

SECTION 3. The fact that there is an imperative public need for an ordinance fixing and determining the rate for gas and gas service furnished to residential and commercial consumers creates an emergency, and the reading and passage of this ordinance shall take effect and be in full force from and after the date of its passage at a single meeting and the approval thereof by the Mayor.

PASSED AND APPROVED on this the 4th day of November, A. D. 1969.

Early Shredding Of Cotton Stalks Is Recommended

Boll weevils can be deprived of a favorite food source through the early destruction of cotton stalks.

John Thomas, Extension entomologist at Texas A&M University, says to be most effective, the early stalk destruction program should cover a wide area. Stalks should be shredded as soon as possible after harvest, preferably with a flail-type shredder. Such a shredder is a must in areas where pink bollworms are found, explains Thomas. They will destroy about 90 percent of the pink bollworm larvae in the plant residue as compared with about 50 percent for the more conventional rotary-type shredder, he says.

Boll weevils require a number of days of feeding on squares and boils to prepare themselves for entering diapause. When stalks are shredded and plowed under, their food supply is removed and a high percentage are forced into overwintering on a lean ration and do not survive.

After the cotton crop residue has been shredded, fields should be plowed so the residue will be covered to a depth of at least 6 inches. A good plowing and covering operation is an important part of the program, emphasizes Thomas.

The importance of early harvest, clean fields and residue destruction should not be overlooked, says the entomologist, in making plans for the 1970 cotton crop.

Thomas urges cotton producers in every area of the state, especially where harvest is completed prior to freezing weather, to destroy all stalks and residue as soon as possible after harvest. It will be a big aid in controlling boll weevils and pink bollworms next year. Local county agents can supply additional information on stalk destruction programs the expected benefits, says entomologist.

Farm Operating Loan Program Is Explained By Farmers Home Adm.

Operating loans are available through the Farmers Home Administration to assist operators of not larger than family farms to make adjustments and improvements in their farming operations, buy livestock and equipment, pay operating expenses, and refinance debts. Each loan is designed to the borrower's needs.

In order to be eligible for a loan, an applicant must:

1. Have farm background, experience or training necessary to successfully carry out the proposed operation.
2. Possess the character, industry, and ability to carry out the proposed farming operation.
3. Manage and operate the farm.
4. Be unable to obtain sufficient credit elsewhere at reasonable rates and terms.
5. Be of legal age and a citizen of the United States.
6. After the loan is made, be an owner or tenant operating not larger than a family farm.

The County or Area Committee consisting of three farmers familiar with local farming and credit condition determines the eligibility of applicants.

The interest rate is 6 5/8 per cent per year on the unpaid principal. Each loan is scheduled for payment within a period of time consistent with the borrower's ability to repay. Funds advanced for operating expenses are repaid when the crops, livestock, or livestock products produced during the year are sold.

Loans for livestock may be scheduled for repayment over periods up to 7 years and equipment for periods up to 5 years.

The FHA Supervisor and the local Committee determine the amount of credit which can be made available to an applicant by considering his plan of operation and his ability to repay. In no case may a borrower total principal indebtedness to FHA exceed $35,000.00.

A farmer with off farm income can qualify for a loan if he is otherwise eligible, has dependable off farm income, and will be receiving a substantial portion of his cash income from farming.

Interested persons should contact the Farmers Home Administration County Office serving the area where their farming operation is located.

The FHA Office serving Hall County is located at 517a Main Street, Memphis, Texas.

Visitors keep coming to Heritage Hall. There were 30 registered Saturday in the three hour period from 2 to 5 p. m., and all were very much surprised at how much had been accomplished in so short a time.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Tunnell of Turkey were in. She is the daughter of the late Dave Gibson and Dave named the daughter Davie after him. Said she was born on the main street location of Turkey before the town had built up. Mrs. Tunnell's father was a cowboy on the Shoe-Bar Ranch in the early days. Her father was killed on the site of the People's Bank in Turkey when his horse fell on him. He was one of the pioneers who lived in a half-dug-out. Curtis Tunnell's family moved to Quitaque in the early days coming there in a covered wagon. He did his courtin in the early days nine miles from his adobe and he won Davie. These were very interesting people to talk with and think we will hear from them again, as they were very much interested in the displays. Said they had a collection in their back yard. Curtis used to be one of the wagon freighters from Estelline to Turkey.

Dennis and Kelly Howard of Lubbock in Heritage Hall Saturday. They are part of the Indian Dance Team in Lubbock.

Ruth (Wood) Womack of Houston but formerly of Memphis, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wood and sister of Carl Wood, was a recent visitor. She left here before she graduated but said she could remember a few in her class. June Power, Jerry Kinard and Katherine Walker. Hope Carl found out what kind of vitamins she is taking as she still looked like a school girl.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Mixon of Clarendon, former Hall County residents, with them were Mr. and Mrs. Leon Mixon and daughter Quida of Dumas. Mrs. Leon Mixon was the former Jackie Srygley. They all seemed to enjoy going through Heritage Hall. Mr. and Mrs. Pete Land of Clarendon, along with Millie Land and Ella Faye Land of Hedley were in. Pete is the guy who has been cooking our barbecue every year and he has the "know-how".

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Orcutt of Estelline said: "We don't know how you got so much together in such a short time."

Mrs. C. A. Coffee (former Lissa Bean) taught school at Parnell 1919-20. She is now living in Daughtery, Texas. She remembered T. D. Gee and the Mothershed and Parge Winn.

Mrs. Paul (Theresa Mae) Smith, now of Lubbock, graduated from MHS 1942, visited Heritage Hall.

Mrs. Dick Farrell, former Jane Alexander, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Sam Alexander, was in. She is now living in Casper, Wyo. By the way, she graduated in the 1928 MHS class. I believe she is in the class of Hiram Crawford, Jimmy Anthony and M. E. McNally, claim was the largest and smartest class that ever graduated here!

Blend Of Fibers Holds Promise For Future Market

Texas is the number one state in the nation in the production of all three of the major natural fibers — cotton, wool, and mohair — and it has been the dream of Southwest fiber producers to market a strategic blend of these fibers that would be unique and competitive in the marketplace. This blend which would combine the comfort of cotton, the warmth of wool, and the high luster of mohair is now a reality.

Texas Governor Preston Smith, on a recent visit to the Textile Research Center, at Texas Tech University, was presented the first garment to be knitted from this promising blend. The garment is a beautiful golf sweater of "Red Raider" red and black, the colors of the Governor's alma mater. Texas Tech, and is composed of equal parts of cotton, wool, and mohair.

The fibers in the sweater were grown and produced in the Lone Star State and spun into yarn by the Textile Research Center. The yarn was then shipped to the USDA Western Regional Research Laboratory in Albany, California. This lab dyed and finished the yarn and shipped in on to Portland, Oregon where a commercial firm knitted the sweater.

While Governor Smith has little time for golf, he did testify to the comfort and beauty of the golfing sweater and to the great potential of the natural fiber industry by blending these beautiful and durable products.

Experts present testified that the sweater achieved, to a high degree, the goals of comfort, warmth, and high luster; plus the added quality of "breathing". Dr. John R. Bradford, Director of the Textile Research Center stated, "We are extremely pleased with the success of this blend and I believe that in the very near future we will see these blends gain popularity in full fashion knits."

Control Herbicide Drift
Controlling drift is a major problem in applying herbicides for brush and weed control.

As an aid for those who may be interested in this method of control, County Agent W. B. Hooser, says he now has available at his office a new Agricultural Extension Service leaflet on the subject. It is available for the asking.

The leaflet was prepared by G. O. Hoffman, Extension range brush and weed control specialist and Professor R. H. Haas of Texas Tech.

Among the topics covered are factors affecting spray drift, drift control materials, thickened spray solutions, reducing spray drift by regulating size of droplets and precautions which should always be observed.

The county agent suggests that persons planning to do brush or weed control work with herbicides should pick up a copy of the new publication before spraying is started.

Guidelines for Better Quality Cotton Are Given
From a quality standpoint, the basic objective of cotton harvesting is to keep moisture and trash content to a minimum, reminds County Agent W. B. Hooser.

Their removal at the gin creates a major preservation problem. Excessive moisture and the presence of green leaves also cause quality losses in storage, he notes.

The moisture and trash content factor in seed cotton is related to the prevailing weather, plant condition and machine adjustment and operation.

The county agent suggests these guidelines for cotton harvesting.

1. Moisture of seed cotton in the field should be 10 percent or less.

2. Machines must be conditioned prior to harvesting and kept in adjustment as dictated by plant and field conditions.

3. Operators must be trained and supervised.

4. Only enough water to keep spindles clean should be used.

5. A specific service program should be followed.

6. Excess lubrication should be removed.

7. Seed cotton of varying moisture and moisture content should be mixed in the same trailer.

8. Getting cotton to the gin in the best possible condition makes possible for the ginner to do kind of ginning job his plant designed and engineered to conclude the county agent.

Our New High-Capacity Gin Stands Will Give You FASTER and BETTER Ginning

THIS FARMER-OWNED GIN'S BETTER AND MODERN EQUIPMENT WILL AGAIN MEAN MORE MONEY TO YOU THIS YEAR

As we begin this 1969 ginning season, we are proud to announce that we have installed two new high-capacity Lumus gin stands, one a newly-designed 128-saw stand and the other the proven 88-saw stand. As you will remember, we added a new 88-saw stand last year, which proved so successful that the new ones were installed.

Also installed is a new battery condenser as well as a completely new individual motor set-up.

This investment means we will be able to gin from 12 to 15 bales per hour, and give our customers the FINEST AND BEST TURNOUT—in the shortest time ever. As the rush starts, we will be able to gin faster—with NO SACRIFICE OF QUALITY.

The above equipment has been added to that which this gin installed last year, including a K-B Special Cotton Processing System which does a better job with vacuum cleaning, and the rock and green boll separator. Our customers are getting a better grade as we separate a larger percentage of green bolls, stems and other foreign matter.

AS YOU KNOW, NO MORE BURS AND TRASH WILL BE BURNED
The bur and trash collector eliminates this. Our customers can return burs to their land without delay. Ask us for details.

Again this year, the Memphis Farmers Co-op Gin will be buying cotton from local growers through the Plains Cotton Co-operative. Check with us about this service if you want to sell.

COTTON TRAILERS ARE AVAILABLE TO OUR CUSTOMERS
Let us know if you need some of them. We'll make arrangements.

THIS FARMER-OWNED GIN IS OPERATED FOR YOUR BENEFIT
By keeping your gin busy during this ginning season, you will be helping it to have a more profitable operation this season. All our profits are returned directly to the farmers who are our patrons.

Alpha Circle WSCS Meets Scott Home

Alpha Circle of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the First United Methodist Church met Monday, Nov. 17, at 7 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Ed Hutcherson.

For the meditation, Mrs. Bob Hutcherson conducted an impressive pledge program. She chose a scripture reading from I John after which she distributed pledge cards asking each member to read the purpose of the society printed on them. She concluded with a prayer that the pledges might be useful to further God's Kingdom.

Those to whom the hostess served delicious refreshments including those already mentioned were Mmes. J. J. McDaniel, Ben Parks, Bess Crump, W. J. McMaster, M. G. Tarver, W. V. Coursey, J. P. Montgomery, Clint Srygley, David Hamblin, F. W. Foxhall.

Bethel Class Meets Nov. 11 With Mrs. Gurley

The Bethel Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church met at 7 p. m. Tuesday, Nov. 11, in the home of Mrs. Ward Gurley with Mrs. Bill Merrell as cohostess.

The president, Mrs. Ward Gurley, presided welcoming members and guests. Mrs. Byron Baldwin led the opening prayer.

Mrs. Henry Foster gave an inspiring devotional from Romans 14:7-12. She said, "So then every one of us shall give account of himself to God. First, if my influence is to count the most for God, (2) I must depend more on God and less on self. I must share more truth and not hoard. (3) I must go among people and not avoid them; (4) I must push on and not stand still; (5) I must try to serve others and to be served; (6) must be gentle and not hurt people; (7) I must submit ideas, not suppose; (8) I must be optimistic, not pessimistic; (9) and I must be cheerful; (10) I must be a go giver and not a go getter; (11) I must admit my mistakes; (12) I must be humble; (13) I must disagree without being disagreeable; (14) I must be a doer and not just a taker; (15) I must be able to see both points of view and not just my own and I must also be patient."

Mrs. Foster then closed with the reading of the poem "Myself" by Edgar A. Guest. The secretary, Mrs. Leonard Wilson, read the minutes of the previous meeting which were approved as read. Group leaders, Mmes. Ida Hutcherson, Amanda Simpson and Edna Merrell, gave monthly reports. Iva Smith gave a benevolence report.

Program chairman, Mrs. A. J. Fowler introduced Mrs. Bud Godfrey who gave an interesting reading of the story of the first Thanksgiving that was observed by the Pilgrim Fathers in 1621. She stated that there has been a national Thanksgiving day in America ever since. Although there have been many hardships and much sorrow, we are thankful for the privilege of living in a Christian land where we have the choice of worshipping God to the best of our beliefs.

The hostess served a delicious refreshment plate to members and guests, Miss Sybil Gurley and Mmes. Henry Foster, Byron Baldwin, Bill Billington, Henry Hays, Carrie Dennis, Edna Merrell, Enod Godfrey, Iva Smith, J. W. Fitzjarrald, Ida Hutcherson, Dorothy Gurley, Amanda Simpson, Pauline Wilson and Ethel Fowler.

Mrs. Rhodia Davis had as guests Sunday her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Davis of Panhandle and granddaughters and great-grandson, Mrs. Betty Sue James and Mickel Lee of Panhandle; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Brinkley and Patricia of Canyon; a sister, Lela Rogers and husband of Long Beach, Calif.; granddaughter, Mrs. Shirley Weldon of Jacksboro; great-granddaughters, Miss Rhonda Weldon of Jacksboro and Miss Roy Nell Martin of Memphis. Mrs. Davis and her sister had not seen each other in 26 years.

Two Oklahoma taxpayers filed a $23.1 million damage suit against national youth activist groups, because of disruptive activities that put a heavy tax burden on the federal government. Hippie, hippie hooray!

Wellington Drops Memphis 42-14 Fri.

Memphis gridiron teams finished the 1969 season winning two games and losing one to teams from Wellington last weekend.

The Memphis Jr. High Whirlwinds were probably favorites going into their game with Wellington 8th Graders, but after a fine effort, came out of the contest a one-sided victor 56 to 18. Coach George Berry had high praise for his Whirlwinds.

At Wellington Thursday night, a previous 18-18 deadlock between the Memphis Jr. Varsity and the Wellington B team was decided in Memphis' favor 34 to 0 in what has to be the best effort of the year for the Junior Varsity.

Friday night, the Wellington Skyrockets just had too much speed for the Memphis Cyclone as the visitors to Cyclone Stadium won 42 to 14.

The Skyrockets took advantage of two pass interceptions and grabbed off four Cyclone fumbles, and mounted a wide open running attack to score 22 points in the first half and 20 points in the second half. The Cyclone managed two touchdowns one in each of the two halves of play.

Memphis Backs Averages: Ronnie McFalls carried the ball 35 times for 177 yards for a 5.4 yard per carry average. This is the best ball carrying effort of a Memphis backfield man since 1965 when Gilbert Devore set some kind of a school record of 193 yards on 17 carries against Hooker, Okla. McFalls' previous best effort was against Lockney in 1965 when he carried 22 times for 155 yards.

Carol Thompson carried the ball three times for 10 yards and Lewis Davis carried four times for 16 yards. John Carmen finished the night on nine carries for a minus 21 yards and on three carries Mark Hundley had a minus 8 yards.

Fumbles Play Key Role
Memphis opened with a drive after the kickoff which was stopped by Wellington when a Memphis pass was intercepted on the Wellington 33-yd. line.

Wellington drove to the Memphis 15, where the drive ended when Russell Smith recovered a Wellington fumble. Memphis fumbled the ball back to Wellington on the Memphis 20 setting up the Skyrockets first score. Three plays later, Nicky Watts scored on a 10-yd. carry. A pass from QB Mauldin to HB Larry Robinson added two more points.

Danny West climaxed a 75-yd. drive for Wellington with a 19-yard scoring carry in the second quarter. The same pass combination added two more points and the score was 16-0.

An exchange of fumbles left Memphis with the ball on the home 40. This started the Cyclone's first scoring drive.

Carries by TB McFalls of 5 and 6 yards each, and a three-yard keeper by QB Carmen moved the ball to the Rockets 46. Two carries by McFalls and one by TB Lewis Davis added a shy 10 yards, then McFalls made two more and a first down to the 34-yd. line.

The Cyclone got a break in the next series, when QB Carmen was thrown for a loss, but face guard tackling was called against Wellington. With third down and six needed, McFalls picked up three each on the next two carries and a first down to the Wellington 24.

Carol Thompson added two more up the middle, then McFalls battled his way for eight more yards and a first to the 14.

Here, it looked dim, as three plays, a carry by Carmen, one by McFalls and one by Davis netted only 5 yards. Fourth and 5 needed, the Cyclone ran a sweep to the right, McFalls saw daylight and cut inside and plowed his way nine yards to the goal line. McFalls got the call for the two-point attempt but he fell inches short.

Wellington came back and scored on a drive, with Danny West going the distance from 19 yards out. A pass for points went incomplete and the score was 22-6. The half ended shortly thereafter.

After the half, Wellington was held after the Memphis kickoff and punted to the Cyclone 40. Memphis attempted to pick up a first down on a 4th and 2 situation, but fell short and Wellington had the ball on the 49 of Memphis. The Rockets drove to the Memphis 18, fumbled the ball and Meric Kilpatrick recovered for the Cyclone.

But again, misfortune occurred, as a Memphis fumble was recovered by Wellington on the Memphis 8. The Rockets scored three plays later on a two-yard carry by Mauldin. A pass for points went incomplete.

The Rockets intercepted a Memphis pass deep in their end of the field, and marched 86 yards for the score. Scoring was FB Watts from the 16-yd. line. Mauldin carried for the points and the score was 36-6.

The Cyclone drove for the second score of the night. An 8-yd. pass from QB Carmen to Kilpatrick and a 12-yd. carry by McFalls moved the ball to the home 48. Thompson added two more and McFalls stepped off 11 to the Wellington 39. Three carries by McFalls moved for another first to the Wellington 26.

Then, WB Hundley carried on the reverse and made 12 yards to the Wellington 14. TB McFalls, carried the ball four straight times and scored from the Wellington 8. A pass from QB Carmen to FB Thompson added 2 more points and the score was 36 to 14.

In the closing minutes, Wellington's speedster Larry Robinson returned a Memphis punt about 85 yards for a touchdown to round out the scoring.

YOUR COUNTY AGENT SAYS

Glycerine Cured Flowers And Leaves Make Attractive Arrangements

Many of the attractive flowers and fall leaves now available can be preserved by drying and used later for winter bouquets or decorating. Flowers and fall leaves cured with glycerine will retain their bright color, be less brittle, last longer and arrangements are easier to make than with most dried materials, explains County Agent W. B. Hooser.

These plant materials include Magnolia, Eucalyptus, Ris Leaves, Sterilitia, and English Ivy.

Here are suggestions on how to cure the plant materials with the glycerine method.

Place the bottom four to five inches of the stem in jars containing a solution of one part glycerine to two parts of water. The absorption of the glycerine can be speeded up by crushing the end of the more woody stems before placing them in the solution. The effect of the solution is noticeable on the leaves as it rises through the foliage. Allow the material to remain in the jar until the entire surface is cured. Remove the specimens from the containers and hang them upside down until the curing process is completed, and they are thoroughly dry.

Dry material for winter bouquets preserved by glycerine can be used with either fresh flowers or in dry arrangements. With a little imagination and experience, cured materials can be utilized in making many different kinds of arrangements for home decorations when fresh flowers are not available.

Agriculture Finance Seminar Slated for Dec. 4

"Money" is a subject which is always of vital interest to everyone, and this particular subject will be in the spotlight when the Panhandle Economic Program (PEP) Management Task Force presents an Agriculture Finance Seminar in Amarillo on December 4.

The seminar will be held at the Holiday Inn West and will get under way at 9 a. m., points out County Agricultural Agent W. R. Hooser.

An outstanding slate of speakers will present a program which should be of interest to all who have ties with the agricultural industry, says Hooser. Financial institution representatives, agency representatives and farming and ranching leaders are encouraged to attend.

Leo Forrest of Hereford, chairman of the PEP Executive Committee, will welcome those attending the seminar.

One of the featured speakers who will kick off the one-day session will be Dr. Tyrus R. Timm, head of the Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology at Texas A&M University. He will discuss "Financing American Agriculture in the Future".

"Availability of Money and What Regulates It" will be discussed by Dr. Arthur Smith, economist with the First National Bank of Dallas.

Jack Barton, executive assistant with the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Houston, will talk about "Availability of Money through the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank".

A discussion on "Money for the Operator — What the Lending Institution Looks For" by Lynn Futch, state director of the Farmers Home Administration, will round out the morning portion of the seminar.

Speaking at the noon luncheon will be Henry Sears, president of the First National Bank at Hereford.

Major addresses during the afternoon session will be made by E. G. Schuhart, a farmer at Dalhart, and Dr. A. B. Wooten, professor in A&M's Department of Agricultural Economics. Schuhart will discuss "Meeting the Operator's Needs" while Wooten will talk about the "Effect of the Money on Land Prices".

Ed Garnett, Extension area farm management specialist and PEP secretary, will give a "wrap-up" of the seminar and W. W.

Grisham, Jr., Extension district agricultural agent and PEP coordinator, will deliver the closing remarks.

The County Agent encourages all interested individuals in the county to make plans to attend. A pre-registration fee of $3.50 which includes the noon luncheon should be paid at the county Extension office.

This finance seminar is the first of a series of educational seminars which are being planned by members of the PEP Executive Committee for the coming months, added Hooser. In addition to the Management Task Force which planned this seminar, other PEP task forces include Resource Development, Agricultural Production, Marketing and Family Living — Youth.

Mrs. John McWhorter visited in Higgins over the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Frankie McWhorter and family.

Hi Everyone,
That time of year again — the Democrat is still our one touch with "home".

Our family is still growing and getting their "education". Donnie is a sophomore at U. T. in Austin. David Judd is a senior — same school. Small world, David Judd married July 19 to Harriett Hartzog whose daddy was raised in Brice and still has much family living there. One way or another we shall remain a part of Hall County and the home we loved so much.

A bit early but David and I send our love and wishes to all of our friends for a very happy holiday season!

During the Past Several Months, These Two Farmer-Owned Gins

Have Been Completely Overhauled

AND NEW AND BETTER EQUIPMENT INSTALLED

They Are Now Ginning More Cotton in LESS TIME

THIS ADDS UP TO THE FACT THAT OUR CUSTOMERS WILL GET A BETTER GRADE FROM EACH OF THESE MODERN GIN PLANTS

As has been pointed out in past years: "The Record Speaks." As we enter this delayed ginning season, the record is again being shown in the grade and staple which our customers are receiving. This is due to the equipment in our gins and the method of ginning which our crews are using. New green boll catchers have been installed in both the plants in Memphis and Plaska. It is another continuing step to give the cotton growers of this area the finest ginning possible.

Our equipment which catches all burs and trash is in operation. Trucks are available to haul this material to your farms. If you desire to catch it, you can use your own truck for hauling.

As this season gets into full swing, we take this opportunity to thank every farmer who has brought his cotton to either Memphis or Plaska. We appreciate your patronage in the past, and are trying to give an even better ginning service to all our patrons.

WE WILL BUY YOUR COTTON THIS SEASON

With special arrangements with the Plains Cotton Co-operative, we will be able to buy your cotton again this year. Details will be furnished when you visit our gin office.

As in the past, a water truck is available to all our customers. Call either gin office, and a load of water will be delivered free of charge without undue delay.

Remember the Facts of Past Years:

CWO Gerald Young—

Army Copter Pilot Killed In Vietnam;
Final Letter To Relatives Is Released

Army CWO Gerald Lee Young, of Fort Worth, a Huey Cobra helicopter pilot, died Oct. 13 when his craft crashed and burned while on a mission in South Vietnam.

Young was the nephew of Mrs. Smith and cousin of Jim Smith, both of Memphis.

Funeral services were held at 10 a. m. Monday in Fort Worth, at the All Saints Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Young and Mrs. Jim D. Smith of Fort Worth to attend the funeral.

Tarrant County's 171st Helicopter Squadron, a member of Moslah Temple's motor corps and the Helicopter Society.

He was a helicopter engineer at Bell Helicopter when entering the Army in 1965.

The following is a letter written by Young to his brother, Gerald, of Fort Worth, about 48 hours before his gunship crashed on a mission near his Camp Eagle, near Hue, Vietnam.

"For a change I've got a little off, and I'm sitting in my room listening to one of the tapes you sent me (WFAA Radio). I thought I'd write a few lines to appreciate your taking the time to record them for me. I'm about the only form of entertainment here, and I can't be bought over here. I'm busy as the devil lately. A matter of fact, I just got pulled out of our outlying bases, especially in the Chu Valley. "Charlie" has been moving back in. Our recon teams pick up all around our perimeter. We are scrambled. He generally has a few rockets and mortar here every night. One never knows where they are going, so most of us are kind of jumpy about it—not much can be done, so why sweat it."

The Marines pulled out of DMZ and Quang Tri. We've been pretty busy. Several NVS units have moved closer to borders, and send platoons company-size elements to us. We've had one spotted over the fence for sometime, and as they have increased their fire power and moved closer, we are going to raid them in the a. m. Should be interesting.

I suppose you can tell by now that the lull mentioned in the news is not quite what it appears. Too bad the Peace Movement people don't channel their energies in our direction and press for an all-out effort to win. As it is, "Charlie" just keeps building up and getting stronger. I know because I see it! If we aren't allowed to pursue him, he'll get stronger and stronger, and when we reduce our size, or pull out, he'll blitzkrieg South Vietnam.

Well, so much for the war—I'm glad that Sharon's father is O. K. I hope all of you are well and happy. Life is too short not to be. As for me, the Army has helped me immensely. I feel that I have accomplished something for myself and in some small way have contributed to others. I know that if I get zapped all of my efforts to do something constructive for myself and others haven't been entirely in vain, and I have achieved a small amount of happiness for myself. I only wish I had come over here and stayed many years ago. I suppose that sounds like an escapist, yet I definitely have discovered that there are many things more tragic than my small trials and tribulations.

I couldn't begin to explain the feeling I have when I'm on a contact mission supporting the ground troops who are under heavy attack. All I can think of is doing my utmost to aid them and the enemy fire never seems real until it's all over.

Well, it's late and I've got to be up in 4 hours so I'll say good-bye. Thanks again for the tapes.

Gerald.

Mrs. Ralph Howard and sons and Mrs. Estelle Guthrie of Lubbock and Mrs. Jim Martindale of Childress were visitors in the home of Dink Dennis over the weekend.

Mrs. Bernie Crump and Kathy of Amarillo spent the weekend here with their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Hayes, and other relatives.

Inspection Rate Of Motor Vehicles
Behind Last Year

AUSTIN — Colonel Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said today that motor vehicle inspections in Texas are running almost 30 per cent behind the inspection rate at this time last year.

"Unless the inspection rate increases, there are going to be some awfully long lines at inspection stations prior to the April 15 deadline," Speir said.

During the year which ended August 31, some 6.3 million vehicles were inspected in Texas. Since September 1, only 538,000 have received the required inspection.

The State Motor Vehicle Inspection Act was amended by the Legislature to provide that inspection stickers issued after September 1 will expire 12 months from the date of issue. However, the law requires that all motor vehicles display a new sticker before April 15, 1970.

Senator
YARBOROUGH'S ★ REPORT ★

Three Medical Bills Passed In One Day

This report is about three of my health bills which passed the Senate in one day, the same week that saw passage of my Cold War GI Bill, that I reported on to you last week.

Each of these three health bills represents months of work, of study of committee hearings and meetings and of reporting out of committee. The work on each was finished at the same time and I was able, with the assistance of the able Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, to get all three passed the same day in the Senate.

One bill was the Communicable Disease Control Bill. This bill is urgently needed as surveys have found that half of the preschool children in poverty areas do not have protection they need from communicable diseases.

Medical science has found ways to prevent measles, polio and many other diseases. But many children do not have the benefits of this knowledge, they do not get vaccinations or inoculations against these diseases. They have not been given such vaccinations or inoculations that would protect them from many contagious diseases for which we have the means of protection. My bill will make money available to the state to provide protection against these diseases. The diseases which will be fought under my bill include tuberculosis, measles, polio, or infantile paralysis as we formerly called it, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough and Rh factor diseases and other diseases.

The Vaccination Assistance Act expired last year. The last money under that act was used up earlier this year. This left the nation in danger of an epidemic of any of several diseases. My Communicable Disease Control Bill will head off this threat to the health of the nation.

Another health bill of mine which passed the Senate was the Medical Libraries bill. This bill extends for three years programs to help in the financing of medical libraries for hospitals and medical schools. My bill will aid in the collection of the latest medical knowledge and in getting this news from the research centers to the doctors treating patients.

My third health bill which passed the Senate in that one day deals with the commissioned officers of the Public Health Service. It will give those officers the same retirement benefits as commissioned officers of the armed services.

The Commissioned Officers Corps of the Public Health Service was set up in 1889 along military lines. It had the same titles and pay as Army or Navy officers but they don't get the same retirement. It is only fair that these men in the Public Health Service should have the same retirement plan.

The passage of these three bills was gratifying to me personally but more importantly, they will do much to help health care and the delivery of health care in this country.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Moreman had as dinner guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sweatt of Groom and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sweatt and Mrs. Ira Lawrence, all of Memphis.

Mrs. Ted Montgomery and Mrs. O. L. Favors enjoyed visiting in Abilene over the weekend with an aunt, Mrs. M. E. Hicks.

can Lone Star Gas help you get rid of wrinkles?

We know all wrinkles are not due to aging. Some are due to drying. And dryers.

Some dryers affect clothes the way sun affects skin. They not only dry out moisture. They bake in wrinkles. Even in permanent press.

But gas dryers are more sensitive to your family's clothing. And more sympathetic to your work load.

Most new gas dryers have a special cool-down cycle that turns off the heat before your clothes become overheated.

That means your clothes have fewer wrinkles. And you have less ironing.

You also have less expensive utility bills. Because gas dries for about a penny a load.

See your gas appliance dealer or Lone Star Gas Company. Find out how to take it a little easier. And avoid wrinkles.

WACO — A Baylor University student from Estelline has been named to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

He is Larry Braidfoot, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Braidfoot of Route 1.

Braidfoot, a 1960 graduate of Estelline High School, is a graduate religion major.

Braidfoot was chosen by members of his class for the honor that is given to outstanding university and college students across the nation.

He was selected as a finalist by a committee of Baylor faculty members, and his selection was approved by the national Who's Who office in Tuscaloosa, Ala. Nomination for the honor is based on the student's academic standing, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and future potential.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to take this opportunity to thank the many fine Memphis friends for sending cards and letters during my illness. Each hearing was appreciated by Jane and me. I thank each and every one very much.

While they were there Mr. and Mrs. Thompson celebrated their 38th wedding anniversary. Among those present from out-of-town for the occasion were their children, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Thompson and son of Houston and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cook of El Paso; Mr. Thompson's brother, Henry Thompson, and a brother-in-law, Conway Jordan, both of Houston.

Mrs. Goffinetta said they had a most enjoyable visit and brought home some deer and wild turkey, as this was the hunting season at the ranch.

Girl Scout Troop Gives Flag Ceremony

Veteran's Day was observed at Austin School with a flag ceremony. The fifth grade Junior Girl Scout Troop 101 presented the flag and the students and faculty joined the Girl Scouts in pledging the flag and singing a patriotic song.

The principal, Miss Ethel Hillhouse, explained the meaning of Veteran's Day and told the students that a daily morning watch would be observed for the remainder of the year.

Memphis Band—

"We march 56 pieces where all the other bands were larger, many with over 100 pieces. The wind was blowing hard and it was uncomfortable cold," he said.

Director Thompson announced that Thursday evening, Dec. 18, has been selected as the date for all the Memphis Bands to put on a Christmas Concert.

The concert will begin at 8 p. m. that evening. Parents of band members are especially invited. The concert is open to the public and is one of the highlights of the Christmas season.

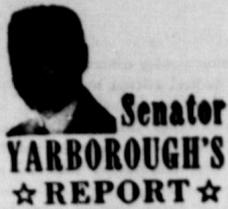

Director Thompson said the High School Band and the Jr. High Band will play appropriate Christmas music, while the 6th Grade, beginners band, will play the numbers it has worked up for the concert.

The musical program of the concert will be announced later.

Senator YARBOROUGH'S REPORT

Funds For Veterans Home Loans I want to discuss with you, homes for veterans. The present high interest rates are causing many problems for the middle and low income families in America. One result of this high interest rates has been that people have had to give up or postpone plans to buy a new home.

Veterans, who looked forward to buying a home through the special veterans housing program, have been disappointed. The interest rates have been allowed to jump under the present program. Congress passed laws to see that veterans had special opportunities to own their own homes. But the high interest rates have undermined that veteran's home building and home buying program.

It has been argued that the interest rates had to go up to make the veteran's home loans attractive to the money lenders. But as these interest rates have gone up, the veteran's home loans have become more unattractive for the veterans. In May, 1968, there was a 6 per cent ceiling on veteran's mortgages. At that time, housing for veterans was being built at a rate of 57,000 housing units a year.

Now, the interest rates on veteran's home loans have gone up to 7 1/2 per cent. In just one year, the interest rates on these loans have gone up 1 1/2 per cent on the total amount of the loan, that means an increase of 25 per cent on the amount of interest paid. During this time, the rate of home building for veterans has dropped from 57,000 to 46,000 units a year. This shows that raising the interest rates is not the way to spur a home building program for veterans. We need another answer to meeting the housing needs of our millions of veterans.

Recently, I introduced a bill co-authored by Senator Herman Talmadge of Georgia, which will make available $5 billion more for veterans home loans. Under this bill, the money would come from the National Service Life Insurance Fund. That fund is built up with money veterans pay in for the premiums from loans on their policies and the fund would lend $1 billion a year for five years for the special purpose for home loans for veterans.

This bill would help the National Service Life Insurance Fund because it would get more interest on its capital. Presently, this National Service Life Insurance Fund, built up to pay policies for veterans, can only invest in government securities. That gives the fund just under 4 per cent return on its investment. By making these veteran's home loans, the fund could get 6 1/2 per cent on its money.

My bill would have several beneficial effects. It would increase the income for the National Service Life Insurance Re-

The office has four classers, 10 clerks and two laborers employed now.

Classers are: Mr. Cain, Asst. Officer in Charge Bill Rathbun of Dallas, Smith Coleman of Paris, and J. S. Tiffington of Muskogee, Okla.

Clerks include: Becky Brown, Carolyn Foster, Louise Hatley, Marsha Madewell, Theresa Smith, Laverne Williams, Janice Davis, Paula Sherry, Zee McQueen and Brenda Pate.

Laborers for the office are Gary Rea and Walter Wynn.

Officer Cain said receipts are coming in from all ginning points. From as far north as Wheeler and from as far south as King County, he said.

"We are expecting to see the season get into full swing next week," Mr. Cain said. "Since we are so late in harvesting our crop, we should not have a shortage of classers this season."

serve Fund. It would spur the home building industry, put men back to work in home building and make it possible for tens of thousands of veterans to get homes they need.

The Honorable Olin Teague, of Texas, Chairman of the House Veterans Committee, has introduced this similar bill in the House of Representatives. The Honorable Wright Patman, of Texas, Chairman of the House Banking Committee, has tried to get this program before the House.
