Chamber Banquet Is Next Thurs.

ENTERED IN SHOW—One of the 12'x48' mobile home coaches, like the one shown above, is entered in The Tulsa (Okla.) Show 1970 to be held Feb. 10-15. Buckley of Texas, Inc. mobile homes plant here is producing about two coaches each day and has entered their product in the Tulsa Show.

The Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development will hold its 50th Annual Banquet Thursday, Feb. 12, beginning at 7 p. m.

The speaker for the occasion will be Wayne B. (Red) Smith, executive vice president, Borger Chamber of Commerce.

Smith uses both humor and serious material in his speeches, and is noted as an after-dinner speaker, according to reports of local C. C. officials.

Another feature of the banquet this year is a short explanation of the history of the local chamber entitled "Our 50 Years" by the incoming vice president, Lester Campbell.

Actually, the Hall County Chamber of Commerce held its first banquet in September, 1919, and banquets were held annually until World War II years. During one of these years, the organization missed a banquet, records show.

Menu for the banquet will be roast beef, green beans, baked potatoes, tossed salad, Mrs. Barber's hot rolls, coffee, tea and dessert.

Through the courtesy of Postex Cotton Mills Hall Plant, the cotton sheeting souvenir programs will again be used this year.

President J. B. Scott will be toastmaster. Rev. David Hamblin, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, will give the invocation. Director John Deaver II will introduce the guests. Pres. Scott will introduce officers and directors.

Memphis Mayor Kenneth Dale will introduce the speaker for the evening.

After the address, the chamber's gavel will be turned over to the incoming president, Sheron T. Lee.

Tickets are on sale at $3 each, and sales are being handled by a committee headed by Charley Brown.

The Welcomette Committee of the chamber, Mrs. H. R. Stevenson, chairman, is decorating for the banquet.

Industrial Group Is Meeting Today For Report Session

Members of the Hall County Industrial Foundation and interested citizens were invited to a meeting this afternoon (today) to hear reports from officers and directors upon the organization's functions and progress for the past year.

The meeting, called by President John Fowler, was scheduled for 3:30 p. m., to be held in the Community Center.

According to the agenda, those in attendance will hear details about what has happened and the accomplishments of the past year are explained. A report will be made on the new mobile home factory here, which is now being operated by Buckley of Texas, Inc.

Also to be discussed will be the industrial foundation's plans for the future.

A full report will be printed in next week's issue of The Democrat.

MHS Fans Invited To Crowning Fri.

Memphis basketball fans and parents are invited to be at the Memphis-Iowa Park basketball game in Cyclone gym Friday evening, Feb. 6, for a very special occasion.

The games should be exciting district contests, and, during the intermission between the two games, the ceremonies crowning Mr. and Miss MHS Basketball 1970 will be held.

"This will be the last night in the season that the Cyclonettes and the Cyclone will be playing together on the home court; so we are crowning our basketball royalty that evening," Coach Dennis Lacy said.

Those selected for the honors will not be known until the announcement is made.

"We would like to have as many of our fans as can come out and see the games and the crowning," Lacy said.

To Shamrock
Next Tuesday night, Memphis teams will travel to Shamrock. This will be the last game of the season for the Memphis girls, while the Cyclone has two more games left on the schedule.

The Memphis girls played a good game against Tulia Friday night, even though they lost the contest 68 to 50. Tulia has a strong Class AAA girls team and is recognized as one of the finer teams in the Panhandle in all classifications, it has been reported.

Susan Spruill had 26 points, Wanda Walker had 13 and Diane Devorce made 11.

Buckley of Texas, Inc. To Display Coach In Tulsa

Buckley of Texas, Inc., will be showing a 12-foot by 48-foot mobile home in the Tulsa Show 1970 at the Exposition Center in Tulsa, Okla., beginning Tuesday, Feb. 10, and running through Sunday, Feb. 15.

President R. R. (Dick) Buckley made the announcement this week and indicated Sales Manager Charles Pamplin of the Memphis based plant will be in charge of showing off the mobile home which was built here in the huge mobile home show.

Pamplin said the coach which will be shown has already been shipped to Tulsa for placement in the Exposition Center. It will be set up in the indoor display inside the 456,000-square-foot Exposition Center.

"Manufacturers from 10 states, suppliers from all over the nation, as well as finance and insurance companies will have display ing room, bath, and hallway. It is plumbed for washer and has space for dryer also. The coach has a gas furnace, 30-gal. water heater (gas), carpet in living room, sofa and chair, full length drapes. The coach has tandem axle, 2"x4" side wall studs and 16" centers, 2"x8" floor joists, and Meets the Texas Code.

The show is most important to manufacturers because they get together with suppliers on the latest products which they can use in building more attractive and modern coaches, which will sell better in the market.

When mobile home coaches leave the Memphis plant they are ready to be lived in as soon as they are connected with utility services.

Pamplin explained that Buckley of Texas, Inc. coaches are now being handled by dealers in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona.

He said that the demand for mobile homes is increasing steadily. The mobile home industry is trying to meet the need of providing adequate, modern, attractive housing for those who cannot afford the high cost of owning real estate. Homes are just not being built now for under $15,000, or even more in some areas, he said.

HUD reports that 96 per cent of all new homes bought in 1966 with the purchaser paying less than $10,000 were mobile homes, he added.

The 12x48 coach being shown has two bedrooms, kitchen, liv-

Election Year Sees 2820 Hall Countians Register

Voter registration in Hall County was 500 above what it was last year as 2,820 citizens in the county became eligible voters by the deadline Jan. 31.

Mrs. Melissa Anderson, county tax assessor-collector, stated that her office processed several mail-in applications received Monday, which were mailed before the deadline Saturday night.

This pushed the election year registration total to 2,820 in Hall County.

The report from all over the state of Texas is that registration was higher than at any time in history.

District 4-B Is Going To Photo Finish

Friday night, the round robin portion of District 4-B play will be decided one way or the other. In the boys bracket, a strong possibility of a tie could result, even a four-way tie is possible.

Hedley and Lakeview boys have each lost two games but are one game up on Samnorwood and Quail. Lakeview plays Samnorwood at Samnorwood, and Quail plays Hedley at Hedley.

Should Lakeview or Hedley win and the other lose, then the winner would be the round robin champ. But if they both lose, then a four-way tie would result. Should they both win, then they will have to meet in a one game play-off.

Hedley girls are leading by one game over Lakeview in that division, even though Lakeview defeated Hedley Tuesday night 44 to 35.

The round robin portion must be settled before next Thursday night when the district tournament will get underway in Clarendon. Both boys and girls teams will compete in the tournament. The tournament girls winner will be decided by Friday night, so a play-off for the district crown can be settled by Saturday. The boys tournament finals will be held Saturday night.

Lakeview boys lost to Quail at Quail last Friday 62 to 49 in a key game. Lakeview girls defeated Quail 47 to 25. Richard Gilreath with 21 and Brenda Smith with 20 were high point individuals for Lakeview. Coach Cable Davis said his boys team did not play very well.

Tuesday night, the Lakeview girls gave Hedley girls their first defeat in district play 44 to 35. Smith had 29, Durrett 10, and Gregory 5. Hedley's scorers were George 18, White 9, and Holland 6.

Hedley boys defeated Lakeview 53 to 46. Richburg had 19 points.

"This was the coldest night of shooting our boys have had in their home gym," Coach Davis said.

Chamber Has Labored For 50 Years!

The Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development this year entered into its 50th year of existence as a volunteer civic improvement group. It was in September, 1919, when the organization held its first banquet, bringing the businessmen of this community and area together to work on improvement projects. The Chamber missed a banquet during World War II.

In the past 50 years, at some time or the other, the local chamber has affected the lives of almost everyone who has lived in this area with its different and varied activities.

Some citizens seem to forget the objectives of a chamber organization of the type we have here and sometimes voice criticism when things get a little rough. "Why doesn't the chamber do something about such and such?" they ask . . . in a complaining way.

The chamber's primary goal is the development of effective leadership from among its membership. This leadership is vital if the community is to grow and prosper. Many wonderful ideas for civic improvement have never become reality because there was not the effective leadership and joint cooperation among the leaders in the community to implement the project.

The chamber's second aim is the development of a cooperative spirit in the community. Whenever controversial issues arise, if the opinions of those on the chamber board and membership are divided, the organization, in order to survive, must be neutral on the issue. Because of this fact, many times, chamber organizations are criticized for their fence sitting and neutrality.

On the other hand, some projects have almost unanimous support of the members of the chamber. When this occurs, the chamber is often the sponsor of the project, making public its stand and urging approval.

The key to the success of a chamber is how effective its leaders plan a program of work and carry it out. Almost all small town chambers use the committee system to get its projects carried out. Committee chairmen and members work long and hard on their assigned programs of work. If a committee does not do so, then the work is not done. Sometimes, projects are so big they are almost beyond the scope of the loose knit, moderately financed, capabilities of a chamber organization. Some projects take years of planning, promoting, and nursing to ever reach the realm of possibility. The Palo Duro Scenic Road project is a good example of this.

The Memphis Chamber has the reputation of being one of the finest in a small town of any in our state. It is recognized as such due to the unselfish dedication of the civic leaders in this community. It has survived a half century with many, many men taking time out from their busy careers to do its work, promote its program, work on the solutions of its problems. We have all benefited from it.

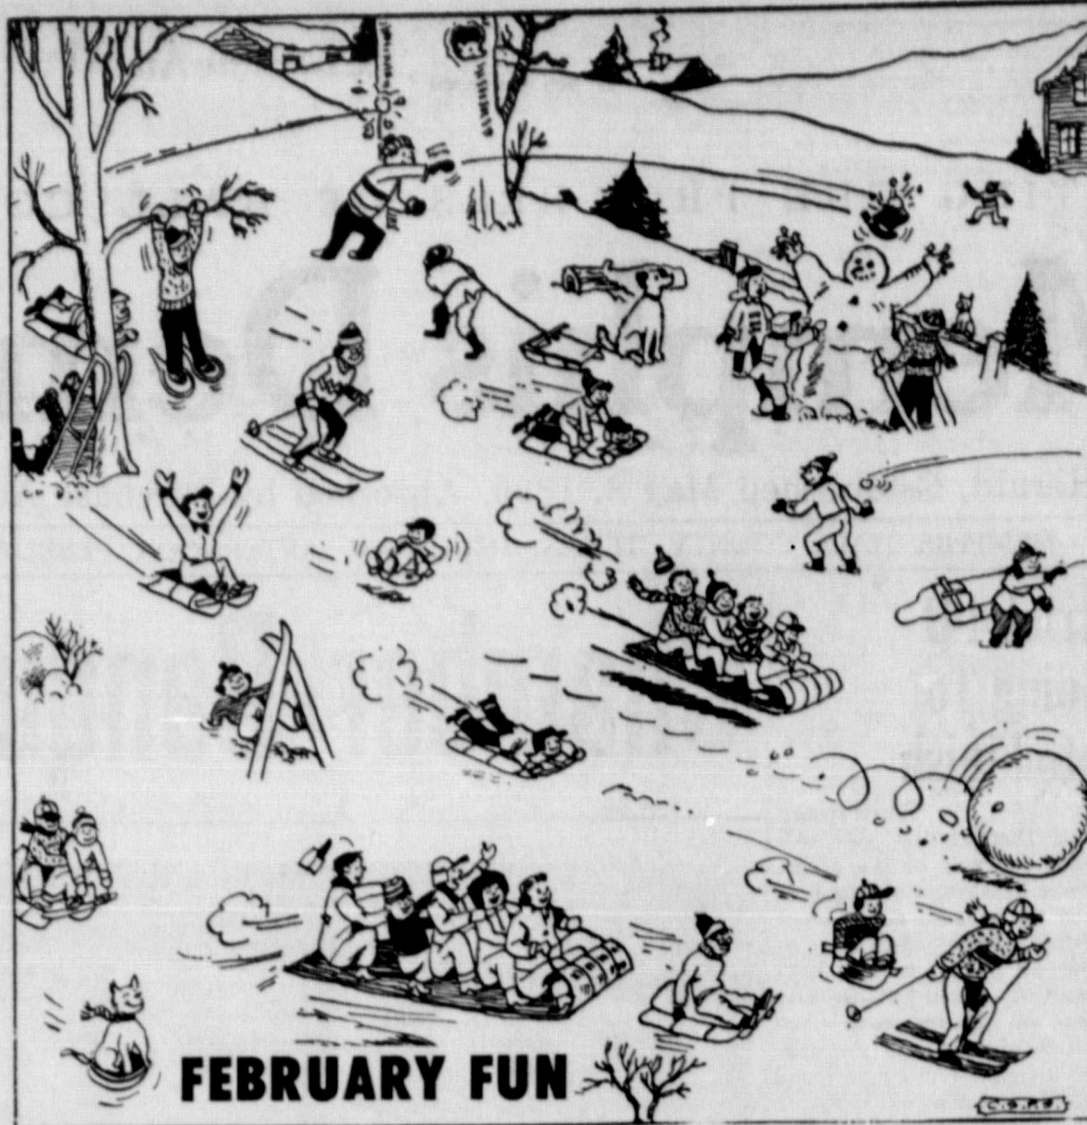

The local chamber's program of work is varied. It sponsors agriculture promotion with awarding prizes for the first cotton bale each year and for the junior livestock show, an annual event in January. At Christmas time the chamber is busy with Santa Claus visits and lighting contests. Then, the chamber has sponsored home beautification projects, clean-up campaigns, road projects, industrial development, and civic improvement projects.

The local chamber also has been called upon to help sponsor numerous conventions and other activities which bring a large group of out-of-town citizens to Memphis. The individual projects sponsored by the chamber over the past 50 years are far too numerous to mention.

The problem of promoting a community or area is a complex one. The chamber brings together the leaders in the community to discuss the problems and make plans for the solving of the problems. Since the chamber relies upon volunteer workers and contributions, it takes time to implement the different projects. On the other hand, due to the versatility of the separate members, representing almost all professions, when each does his part, a considerable amount of work can be accomplished when all contribute of their time, talent and finances.

Next Thursday, Feb. 12, at 7 p. m., the 50th Annual Chamber of Commerce banquet will be held in the Community Center. If you do not have your ticket now, plan to buy one this year. It would be a fitting tribute to this organization if the 50th Anniversary banquet is sold out.

If you are interested in the future of Memphis and this area and you are not a member of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development, you should consider the possibility of joining seriously. The chamber needs you and you need the chamber. We wish this organization another 50 years of success.

What Other Editors Say

Attracting Industry!

White-wrighters interested in building our community and attracting additional industry to insure the future of our town should take a look at the January edition of Texas Parade magazine.

One article in this slick 68-page edition is entitled "Texas Industry . . . Those Surging Small Towns." It outlines the success stories of once dying but now prosperous Texas towns such as Wasknon, Colorado City, Snyder, Jacksonville, Graham, Crosbyton, Mansfield, and others. And the piece tells how these towns turned vacant buildings into busy stores.

All the towns used a basic five-point approach that has proven successful in efforts to attract industry. This approach as outlined in Texas Parade is:

1) Community improvement: Time-tested improvements that are enticing to potential industries include new schools, adequate utilities, modern health services, a well-maintained street system and an appealing business district. If a town falls short in one or more of these areas, the article states citizens must undertake corrective measures such as a paint-up, fix-up, clean-up campaign by local merchants or a paving program by the city.

2) Research and analysis: If a community is to sell itself to industry, it must know what it has to sell and it takes thorough research and analysis to determine this all important element.

3) Sites and Buildings: An inventory of all available industrial floor space or potential site locations will go a long way in helping an area promote itself to industry prospects.

4) Financing: No one travels far in these days and times without money and the community familiar with industrial financing techniques can often save a manufacturer extra expense which can mean the difference in selection of a location.

5) Promotion and Prospect: Communities can no longer wait for industry to call; they must actively seek prospects. It is estimated that more than 25,000 communities in the United States today are actually seeking new industry and communities must be prepared to develop and promote their attractions to the fullest.

As you can tell by the article, competition for industry and even the struggle for survival is tough. White-wright must decide if the results of prosperity are worth the efforts. And if they are, we must pay the price.

— The White-wright Sun

Knock, knock, who's there? Unquestionably the most sensitive issue in the war on crime is the point at which constitutional rights are violated by over-zealous law enforcement agencies. The issue was confirmed again this week when the U. S. Senate authorized "no-knock" raids by officers looking for narcotics and other dangerous drugs. It was a difficult decision to make. And the Senate came within a few votes of defeating the measure as an invasion of privacy.

But if the senators were serious about stamping out the dope traffic in this country, they had no other choice than to go along with the tough tactics proposed by the Nixon administration.

The arguments in favor of the bill were summarized by Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D. Conn., who remarked that a million dollars worth of heroin can be flushed down the drain while a policeman knocks at the door and announces: "Open up. We have a warrant to search the premises."

Instead, the bill makes it possible to "without notice . . . break open an outer or inner door or window" if a federal judge, believing the evidence will be destroyed or the lives of the raiders may be endangered by a knock at the door issues a warrant in advance.

The only requirement is that an officer "as soon as practicable" after breaking into the place shall identify himself and state his authority for being there.

Opponents of the bill, led by Sen. Sam J. Ervin, Jr., D., N. C., cited Article IV of the Bill of Rights, which guarantees "the right of the people . . . against unreasonable searches and seizures."

But the article goes on to state that search warrants may be issued "upon probable cause." And that is the crux of the matter.

Whether the "no-knock" provision in the proposed law would be abused depends entirely on the integrity of the judicial system. In 29 states, such tactics are already legal — either by law or custom — and the evidence of abuse is scant indeed.

It may be true, as Senator Dodd conceded, that the proposed "no-knock" statute is "somewhat of a gamble."

But it is a gamble the nation must take if it hopes, in Senator Dodd's words, "to weed out the traffickers in these dreadful drugs."

Legion Auxiliary Has One Million For 1970 Goal

Mrs. John McCauley, Membership Chairman of Unit 175 in Memphis, said that one million members working for the welfare of veterans and their families, serving in their communities and striving for the peace and security of America is not just a dream - it is the goal the American Legion Auxiliary for 1970.

"Why do we need one million members in our organization?" she said. "Because ours is a program not only of service but for keeping alive the ideals for which Americans have sacrificed so much in the past and are defending so bravely in Vietnam today."

"The American Legion Auxiliary is putting special emphasis on enrolling the wives of the Viet - time veterans," Mrs. McCauley explained.

"We are anxious to have these young women join us, not only because we think they would enjoy having the new friends they would make as a member of the Auxiliary but because in an organization like ours, there is always need for volunteer workers."

"Our program of services to the hospital confined veterans," Mrs. McCauley continued, "is an interesting and certainly rewarding program. The men are so appreciative of the attentions they would not otherwise receive were it not for our volunteers. We know that so many V.A. patients are forgotten and neglected in the busy world's rush! Attention from the pretty young wives of Vietnam veterans on hospital could do so much to lift patients morale.

There are so many other projects that the new members could give time to - projects that they would find interesting and worthwhile."

"So," Mrs. McCauley concluded, "we are making a special appeal to any interested eligible woman to join the American Legion Auxiliary in Unity and Service for America."

According to the Veterans Administration, its direct benefits in the form of educational allowances amounted to $270 million in 1969.

Ola Mae Ward Attends Art Seminar in Austin

Ola Mae Ward, owner of Ward Ceramic and Hobby, 213 S. 6th St., Memphis, attended an art seminar held recently in Austin by the famous artists, Roberta and Emmett Wesley.

Wes and Roberta's paintings have been exhibited nationally and hang in collections of many foreign countries, Mrs. Ward stated.

The artists were both university trained and began their art careers with an emphasis on abstraction.

The Wesleys have two sons and currently live in Taos, N. M., better known as the Art Colony of the United States.

Emmett Wesley's painting of Gov. Allen Shivers hangs in the Texas Capitol Rotunda. Wesley's portraits also include one of Gov. John Connally which hangs in the collections of former president, Lyndon B. Johnson, one of Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes and many other notables.

Mrs. Ward attended classes with two of her sisters, Florence Brumley of Austin and Tommie Frank Spence of Corpus Christi and Con Can.

L'Ann Kilgore of Plainview is spending this week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kilgore.

Mrs. Dale Kilgore and daughter, Tracy, of Castle Air Force Base, Atwater, Calif., arrived this week for a two week's visit with her parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kilgore, and in Lubbock with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hadaway.

Recent surveys indicate that Texas bank deposits are keeping pace with bank robber withdrawals.

Arrests for Narcotic Drug Law violations were up 64 percent nationally, 1968 over 1967, and 322 percent over 1960.

Urban Growth Is Cutting Into Farming Lands

Urban growth in Texas is steadily cutting into the state's agricultural lands, a new USDA study indicates.

The conservation needs and land use inventory shows that during the decade of 1958-1967, agricultural land in Texas dropped by some 780,000 acres. This represents an area bigger than an average Texas county.

The report shows that 500,000 acres of this land went into urban and built-up areas; some to federal uses; and a lesser amount went under water in ponds and reservoirs.

For the nation, the 10-year shift from agricultural lands to taled almost 15 million acres. The inventory also reveals that two out of three acres of soil still need some form of soil water conservation treatment. The figures came from county data prepared by state and federal agencies, then summarized by a State committee chaired by the Soil Conservation Service.

This is that time of year when the streets and highways are littered also with broken New Year resolutions.

Conservationists Report Two-Thirds Of Texas Ag. Land Needs Treatment

About two-thirds of our state's land still needs soil and water conservation treatment, the State Conservationist Clyde W. Graham of the USDA Soil Conservation Service revealed this week.

Fundamental Baptist Holds Services Here On Fridays

It was announced this week that the Fundamental Baptist Church has held services on Friday night at 7 p. m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Barbee, 600 N. 12th Street, for the past two weeks.

The Rev. J. E. Young of Wellington comes each Friday night to bring the message.

The public is cordially invited to attend the services, which will be held each Friday evening.

An effort is being made to establish a Fundamental Baptist Church in Memphis.

Childress B 51 to 41 Tuesday night.

Next Tuesday the B team boys go to Shamrock for a contest.

Fans are invited to the B team tournament next weekend.

Graham said that although many critical conservation problems have been solved in Texas in the last 30 years, some 103 million acres of the state's 160 million acres of rural lands still need conservation treatment. The figures came from county data prepared by state and federal agencies, then summarized by a state committee chaired by SCS.

"Much of this 103 million acres has had some conservation treatment, yet it still needs one or more conservation measures," Graham pointed out. "And most of this land needs treatment every year—especially cropland."

Graham said that in terms of acres, grassland improvement is still the state's biggest conservation problem. He cited these grassland needs: About 60.6 million acres need brush control; followed by careful management, including periodic rests. Some 22.3 million acres of this land has deteriorated to the extent that reseeding is needed after the brush is controlled. Graham stressed, however, that when brush is controlled on grassland, wildlife needs should be considered carefully. He said strips or motts of brush should usually be left for wildlife food and cover.

Some 19 million acres of grazing lands need only improved grazing use. This is land that has been grazed too closely but still has a stand of desirable grasses; all it needs for improvement is better management.

About 13.2 million acres need both rest and better grazing use to let the base grasses improve in vigor and increase soil cover.

In addition to the 22.3 million acres of land that need seeding after brush control, there are some 4.3 million acres of other grassland that need seeding or sodding. There are also 1.1 million acres of cropland and 1.3 million acres of former cropland that need to be planted to permanent vegetation. This totals 29 million acres of land in Texas that need planting to grass or trees.

The inventory breaks the 35 million acres in the state of cropland down into dry cropland; irrigated cropland, such as orchards and land formerly cropped. Some 22.3 million acres of cropland needs treatment.

The state has 25 million acres of dry cropland, 7 million acres of which need protection with cover crops or crop residues. Also, some 5 million acres are in need of terraces, diversions, or waterways as well as cover from residues or growing crops.

Out of 8.3 million acres of irrigated land, 3.7 million acres need an improved irrigation system to prevent erosion or water loss.

The survey shows Texas has 22.7 million acres of forest land of which 9.2 million acres need conservation treatment for soil protection and to improve forest stands.

The study also shows that pressure for urban growth is steadily cutting into the state's rural lands. During the 1958-1967 decade, agricultural land in Texas dropped by some 780,000 acres, or an area bigger than an average Texas county. About 500,000 acres of this went to urban areas, some went to federal uses, and lesser amounts went under water in ponds and reservoirs.

Summaries of the state study are available from SCS offices, soil and water conservation districts, and from most other state and federal resource agencies. Local county reports are also being prepared by county inventory committees. The complete state inventory showing major land uses and conservation treatment needs by land capability classes for the state as well as each county will be published later this year, Graham said.

Eighty-two percent of a sample of offenders arrested in 1967-1968 had a prior arrest, 70 percent had a prior conviction, and 46 percent had been imprisoned on a prior sentence.

Saturday morning play begins at 9 a. m. Girls finals is set for 6:30 p. m. Saturday, and boys finals at 8 p. m.

Coach Harold Gouge who coaches the local boys team, said the Memphis lads have a chance but Childress B team will be considered favorite in the tournament.

Coach Denzil Lacy reports that the girls B team has two forwards out of action due to injuries.

"We've moved two guards to forward to help out but they will have little time to adjust before the tournament," he said.

In action this past week, the Memphis freshmen played Quanah and defeated them 71 to 44. Larry Johnson scored 39 points in the game, his highest effort of the year. He has had two 32-point games this year, and Coach Gouge said he is averaging about 24 points a game.

Enrolling Period For Medicare Will End March 31

The annual period for enrolling in the supplemental medical insurance program under Medicare will end on March 31, 1970, according to Travis C. Briggs, manager of the Amarillo social security office. This will be the last opportunity for many persons over 65 to become eligible for the doctor bill part of Medicare. Those enrolling during this period will have this coverage effective July 1, 1970.

This part of Medicare helps pay for doctor bills and other related medical services and is separate from the hospital part of the law. The medical part is paid for by the participants paying $4 a month — which will increase to $5.30 in July — with the government matching the costs from general revenues.

Each year, January through March, there is a general enrollment period giving those over age 65 who are still eligible to enroll another chance. One must enroll with in three years after his first opportunity to enroll at age 65. Persons born October 1, 1901, or earlier who have never enrolled are no longer eligible. Those born after October 1, 1901, are still eligible during this period.

The general enrollment period does not apply to persons just becoming 65, or to those already enrolled. It is just for those over 65 who have never enrolled in the doctor bill part of Medicare, or for those who were enrolled and dropped out in 1967 or later.

Additional information about the enrollment and the forms to enroll can be secured from the Amarillo or any social security office.

A representative of the Amarillo office will be at the American Legion Hall in Memphis on Feb. 11, 18, and 25 between 8:30 a. m. and 11:30 a. m.

The cake was served with punch, nuts and mints by Mrs. Johnny Jennings, Mrs. Ron Kernery, both of Texhoma and Miss Sharon Martensen of Stratford.

Susan Craig, niece of the bridegroom, handed out the rice bags. For a wedding trip to Taos, N. M. the bride chose for travel a white fitted wool coat over a navy blue knit dress. Her accessories were navy and she wore the rose corsage from her bridal bouquet.

American Legion Auxiliary to Honor Junior Girls with Tea Thursday

A get-acquainted tea honoring junior members of the American Legion Auxiliary and special guests, girls of the high school junior class, will be held Thursday, Feb. 12, from 4:30 to 5:30 p. m. at the American Legion Home, according to Mrs. Henry Gregory, president. Irene Foxhall and Nancy Voyles, last year's representatives to Girls State, will present a program on their experiences to carry out the Americanism theme, Mrs. Bill Ballew, Girls State chairman, announced.

"We are planning an enjoyable afternoon for the girls," Mrs. Gregory said, "and know that all of our members will turn out to make them welcome. Girls State is one of the most important projects of the Auxiliary and we are extremely proud of all the delegates that we have sponsored. We want to acquaint all the junior girls with the program and feel this tea will provide the opportunity, as well as to include our junior members in our activities."

Legion Auxiliary To Hold Work Day Thursday

A work day for the American Legion Auxiliary will be held next Thursday, Feb. 12, at the American Legion Home beginning at 9:30 a. m., Mrs. Henry Gregory, president, has announced.

Members will work on decorations for the get-acquainted tea slated the same afternoon at 4:30 p. m. for junior members and girls of the junior class. Members will also assist Mrs. Milton Ellis, finance chairman, in preparing placards advertising a box supper set for March 5.

Mrs. Gregory urged each member to bring a covered dish and invited their families to come for the noon meal. "These work days were held last year on Thursdays with great success," the president said. "We completed many worthwhile projects and our families enjoyed the good fellowship we had with our meals."

Ag. Chemicals Confab Slated In Lubbock Soon

One of the "hottest" subjects in agriculture to come around in the past few years, "agricultural chemicals and their use," will be highlighted at the 17th Annual Agricultural Chemicals Conference in Lubbock Feb. 11-12.

Theme of the conference is "Impact of Recent Agricultural Changes on Chemical Usage," reports County Agricultural Agent W. B. Hooser.

The program should be of interest to all farmers, agricultural chemical dealers and others in the county who are interested in heavy cruiser USS Boston (CA-69).

While serving aboard the USS Boston he participated in two cruises to Southeast Asia. He served as legal officer on both the USS Wright and the USS Boston and was administrative officer on the Boston at the time of his separation.

Mr. Foxhall has accepted a position as an attorney in Clear Lake City, near Houston.

He has been in Memphis for a short visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lesley Foxhall, and returned to Houston Tuesday.

the use of chemicals in the agricultural industry.

The annual confab will be held at the KoKo Palace, 50th St. and Ave. Q, and registration will get underway at 6 p. m. on Wednesday, Feb. 11. Registration will resume at 8 a. m. Thursday and the opening session of the conference will start at 9 a. m.

Hooser points out that a number of important topics will be discussed at the day-long gathering. Speakers during the morning session will delve into trends that are presently taking place as they affect chemical usage. These include trends in pesticide marketing and plant food marketing, trends in insect problems, cropping trends as they affect agricultural chemical needs, and recent development in remote sensing in agriculture.

The afternoon session will deal mainly with chemicals and environmental problems plus a discussion of new agricultural chemical products by various chemical company representatives. Featured presentations will include the effects of agricultural chemicals in the environment, insecticides in the environment, nitrate residue problems and the value of feedlot manure as a source of plant nutrients.

According to the county agent, the following chemical company representatives will be on the program: Bill Hopkins, Joe Pafford and A. M. Hillis, Elanco; Bill Johnson, Estes; Charles Cybert, Geigy; Dr. W. M. Lynch, Dow; H. L. McMenemy, Ciba; and Dr. C. W. McBeth, Shell.

Texas Agricultural Extension Service Specialists Dr. Don Rummel and Dr. Robert E. Mizer will be among the featured speakers.

Texas Tech University officials who will present keynote presentations include Dr. James Osborn, Dr. Ellis W. Huddleston, Dr. Harold E. Wrenge and William F. Berneth.

Other keynote speakers include Edwin M. Wheeler, president of the National Plant Food Institute; Dr. Victor Meyers, director of the Remote Sensing Institute, South Dakota State University; and Charles Chapman, deputy commissioner of the Texas Department of Agriculture.

had an appointment with Jean Crawford last Thursday morning at 10 o'clock to show kindergarten class through Heritage Hall. They were there on time and did their homework on time going through. So things they had never seen. They spent a full hour on things over and asking questions. Their teacher has them under control. Mrs. Robert was along with them and answered some questions. One of the nicest behaved bunch I have ever had in Heritage Hall. They must have been born to write as each of them wrote in the registration book. A from the class follows: The kindergarten really liked Heritage Hall and we thank you for everything. We can't say what we liked best, but 'Three-Toes' and the two calves are about tied. We send you some pictures of things we enjoyed seeing. Thank you for having us. — This Kindergarten Class. — by 18 of them and their teacher. The art work we will be and keep in Heritage Hall when you get big, come in look it over.

had a surprise package for Heritage Hall the past week. Mrs. Davis of Arlington, Texas, (her of Jack) sent us the 1902 Sears-Roebuck catalogue. It is very interesting to go 68 years and see prices and they have changed. But, of course, it was just about as hard to pay for them as we do in a real low income bracket. Some of these items listed were:

100 piece set of semi-velrose china, dinner set of dishes, $4.98; baby go-carts, $2.28; coal burning heater, $2.98; men's white shirt, 60c; 3 gallon wood churn and dasher, 53c; kerosene lantern, 47c; coal shuttle, 22c; tin water dipper, 7c; mouse traps, 3c; electric ring for rheumatism, 95c; special long range shot gun, $3.98; wrinkle eradicator, 25c; Daisy fly killer, 15c; hearing horn, $1.29; 475 lb. high shelf combination wood and coal cook stove range with oven and reservoir, $13.95; toilet sets, 10 piece, consisting of washbowl and pitcher, covered chamber, covered soap dish, hot water pitcher, brush, vase and mug, semi-porcelain ware from $2.98 to $4.95 set. We could go on giving some of what sounds like wonderful values for 1902 and they were good values, if you had the money. But people had just as hard a time then as we do now, when we have some money, but it's hard to satisfy our wants. Come in and look this catalogue over and thanks to Mrs. Davis for sending this in.

Cindy Cockrell brought Mr. Montgomery and Mr. and Mrs. Buckley with Montgomery Homes were in Heritage Hall and were very much pleased with our displays. On seeing the picture of the wagon, the Don Reeves gave us, Mr. Montgomery said, "That is the Conestoga wagon, we use that as our emblem for our homes". One of the men with him showed his belt with his insignia on it. This wagon was the first mobile home. Webster says Conestoga is a town in Pennsylvania where this first broad-wheel wagon used by pioneers traveling over the prairies was manufactured and was called "The Conestoga wagon". Conestoga is still noted for this wagon.

Mrs. Arthur Gidden, one of the hostesses for Heritage Hall Saturday, found our 1902 Sears catalogue and she said she wondered if a saddle was listed like her 6 brothers bought her in 1902 for $13.25 a side saddle with white buck seat. Sure enough, we turned over to the ladies' saddle section and there it was listed. I imagine these 6 brothers went broke right there buying the saddle. Mrs. Gidden's nephew now has this saddle in Tulsa and she hopes to get it on display here. Would not give age, but said she was old enough to wear shoes.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Moran of Tell, Texas, were in Heritage Hall looking things over, also Mr. and Mrs. Russell wooten of Borger were in along with Mrs. D. M. Jarrell and Ida Mae Long. Mrs. Wooten is the former Wilma Jarrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Jarrell. She was a graduate of Clarendon College Academy and is now teaching in Borger schools. Mrs. Jarrell brought in the old-fashioned stone churn and dasher, also one of the first electric churns that were used here. They were all very complimentary of Heritage Hall and liked the displays.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Lindsey of Hereford were in Memphis the past weekend. Bob's wife is the former Doris Stillwell, looks like she is still going to the fountain of youth. I believe you would call Bob and Doris family planners as they have two younger ones at home and the two older ones off at college and I believe one married. This planning will give them time to get a breathing spell between the time the older ones get out of college before the other two start college before they get on medicare.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Rogers of Dalhart in looking Heritage Hall over and thought we had a real good display. Mike Kilgore of Los Alamos, N. M., was in looking Heritage Hall over (little Mike as I remember him) is now grown and attending Eastern New Mexico University. He is a nephew of Mrs. Chuck Jones. Mike is the son of the late Buster and Elna Faye Kilgore. He is the only grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gardenhire. They all enjoyed looking over the displays.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Pyeatt of Amarillo were in Heritage Hall Saturday and said they had been looking over a good many of the museums in the Panhandle and thought we had one of the best displays they had seen in the arrangement of it. Both of them are former Hall County residents, moved to Clarendon in 1941. Mary Morrison Pyeatt, the daughter of the late P. E. Morrison of the Indian Creek community. She and Owen both attended Indian Creek school. Some of the teachers that taught in this school they remembered were Miss Stella Kimbrough, now Mrs. W. W. Burnett of Dumas; Lissie Joe Smith Anderson, now our county tax collector, Kate Thomas, Viola King, Vera Taylor, Miss Beck, Louie E. Thompson and W. J. Bragg. Owen Pyeatt, son of B. A. Pyeatt, was mail carrier on Rt. 1 for four years in the early 1920s. I asked him what made of travel was used then for the mail and he said it took two kinds, ear and horse and buggy as part of the time the dirt roads were so bad the only way you could go was with horses. Think they enjoyed their trip through Heritage Hall which brought back a lot of memories.

We have two ladies here in Memphis working in the same office. Their desks are just alike, their telephones are the same color and they both have a nice pleasant answering voice when the receiver is taken off the hook. And when you go into the office, they both greet you with a smile and at about the same time, say, "Can I help you?" If one takes a coffee break, the other one has to have one, too. They are both about the same age, both married tall men and both are brunettes and both have brunette daughters that married men in the service. In fact, they do so many things alike that I thought of the advertisement that used to run called "The Gold Dust Twins", but that cleansing powder must be out-of-date. So, I guess we should call them the "Redi-Watt Twins", as that is in their line of business. Now to show you how they work together in all that they do, the old bird comes around and tells me that Peggy and Katherine are liable to be married to a grandpa about next June and the old bird usually knows what he is talking about.

I had word from Geo. Sexauer through his son, Robert, that he was getting along good with his "Arthur-write-us" He is now down in South Texas. If I were guessing I don't think it is th climate so much that is helping him as the environment. With this disease when you just have your mind on yourself, it more painful but I have noticed on television lately that in the valley they have these models on a ladder filling up these tall glasses with orange juice. Now who would think of their pains with surroundings like these? In fact, I would guess George is going around through the orchards humming a song or two, such as, "I am going where the orange blossoms bloom" or "Down by the Old Mill Stream". He might even pucker up to whistle whether he put it over or not. Anyway, we are glad George is feeling better.

Well, I finally got in the Buckeye Club with Clyde Smith. Mrs. Doyle Hall came by last Friday and said she had something for me, and she sure did. It was a buckeye and found out this one came from our National Capitol, Washington, D. C., on the ground near the Washington monument. Thanks to Mrs. Hall.

Morgan Express Holds Sales Meet Here Wednesday

Morgan Express Service held the firm's annual sales meeting for agents in this area Wednesday evening at the De Ville Restaurant in Memphis.

J. C. Hill, vice president of Morgan Express, from Dallas, conducted the meeting. Also in attendance was Walter Morgan, Jr., president of the company, and agents in the area from Quannah to Amarillo. A special guest at the meeting was Jerry Smith of Lubbock, representing Mistletoe Transit, the newest Morgan Express affiliated carrier.

The theme of the meeting centered around the idea that Morgan Express is going "all out" this year to improve their services to and from the 1,626 cities they serve in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri and Arkansas, according to W. E. Leslie, local agent.

Hill outlined ways the local agents can help in this effort and urged them to enlist the help of shippers in their towns to accomplish this end. Both Hill and Morgan stressed the idea that the growth and development of any community is directly related to the quality of the transportation available, and stated, "Morgan Express is going to do everything in their power to help Memphis and the other cities they serve to grow and progress by providing the kind of express service the people want and are entitled to expect."

Prior to the meeting, Morgan and Hill visited the Buckley of Texas, Inc., plant, and were favorably impressed with this new industry in Memphis.

At the conclusion of the meeting, each local agent was given a goal for the volume of business in his city for 1970, and a bonus plan was outlined for those agents who are able to exceed this goal.

Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Crisler had as their weekend guests Mr. and Mrs. Royce Crisler of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. Lanny Crisler of Pecos and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Crisler of Lubbock.

Coach Lacy said. Against Electra Monday night, the local girls ran into foul trouble in an over-time period, and lost 55 to 48. The score was tied 42 to 42 at the end of the game. "Our girls showed real competitive spirit coming back from a 10-point deficit to lead the game late in the final regulation period," Coach Lacy said. "Then we had an enormous amount of fouls which beat us."

Susan Spruill had 18 points, Walker 16, and Devorce 14.

The Cyclone played the two toughest games in the district. Quannah won 85 to 59, and Childress won 72 to 39. Ronnie McFalls was the high scorer in both games for Memphis with a total of 18 against Childress and 25 against Quannah. Texas Hereford—

Prince Domino and Anxiety 4th (breeding) were transferred to the present ranch near Hedley. His Hereford operation, begun more or less as a hobby, developed into a business involving a breeding herd of more than 100 cows. Careful selection and culling resulted in the formation of a nationally known reputation Hereford herd.

"The Potts show herd was entered in competition at Dallas, Fort Worth, Kansas City, Denver, Amarillo, Pampa, and other smaller shows. There were champions and top selling individuals among them.

"In 1968 the Potts registered herd was sold at private treaty to Lee McLean of Springfield, Missouri. He still continues the operation of the Hedley Ranch, breeding commercial Herefords.

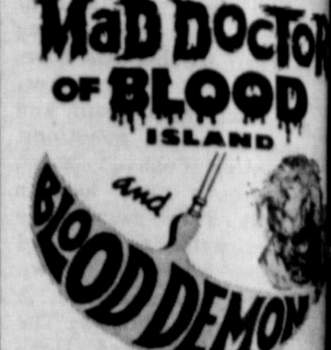

"A long time member of the Texas Hereford Association, Mr. Potts has served as a director, as a member of the executive committee, and served two consecutive terms as president of the Association in 1958 and 1959. A major accomplishment during his tenure as president was the establishment of a retirement program for THA employees. Another of his contributions was his monthly column published in "The Texas Hereford" (titled "Prexy's Paragraphs"), a pleasing combination of sound thinking and humor.

"A former president of the Panhandle and Top O' Texas Hereford Associations, and of the Rolling Plains Registered Beef Cattle Association, Potts has been extremely active in phases of the Hereford industry. He has been active in civic and church activities as well, and served as a steward in the Methodist Church of Memphis for the past 40 years."
