ETC Project To Upgrade Phone Serv. Is Underway

Construction is nearing completion on a major outside plant rehaul project in Memphis according to Sherron T. Lee, division manager for General Telephone Company.

The project when completed will allow for more private lines within the city limits of Memphis as well as upgrade the service of existing customers. Also several damaged cables will be replaced eliminating service interruptions during severe storms.

A cable has been placed between Memphis and Estelline for use in making extended area calls between Estelline and Memphis as well as Lakeview as long distance calls from Estelline. It is estimated the cable will be in service within 45 days.

Telephone company crews have been in Memphis several weeks working to complete the project.

Memphis Grocery Changes Owners

Jackie Blum and Don Van Ausdall this week announced that they had purchased Memphis Grocery from Orville Goodpasture and Herbert Curry. The new owners took over active management of the store Monday. It is located at 120 North 10th Street, and will operate under the name of B&V Grocery and Market.

Both men are well known here, and have been associated with Blum & Scott Super Market for the past two years.

Blum was born and reared in Memphis, and has resided in the Lakeview area since 1947. He is married to the former Ella Marshall and they are the parents of three children, two sons, Jackie and Jimmy, and a daughter, Patricia. He has 20 years of experience in the grocery business.

Van Ausdall was reared in Amarillo, and has been in the food merchandising business for the past 25 years, and has specialized as a butcher. He is married to the former Mary Lou Byars, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Byars of Lakeview. They are the parents of two children, Brian and Gary, who will be enrolled in the local schools. They reside at 1420 Brice St.

No change in operating the store is contemplated, although the hours when it is opened has been changed, they announced. Opening is scheduled for 7 a. m. and closing at 10 p. m. on week days. Sunday hours will be from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Curry and Goodpasture stated that they will be associated with B&V Grocery and Market for several weeks. As to their future plans, no definite announcement was made.

Both men have been in the grocery business since 1926. Goodpasture, in partnership with G. M. Duren and Eli Dennis, established Memphis Grocery in 1931. In 1934 he purchased interest, and operated the store, located on the south side of the square until April, 1959, at which time he and Curry established a joint operation combining their two stores under the name of Memphis Grocery.

Herb Curry purchased the store, located at 120 N. 10th, from Gene Corley in January, 1951. It was known as Herb's Grocery until the partnership was formed with Goodpasture in 1959.

Hooser Attending Conference At A&M University

"Shaping Our Environment in the 1970's" is the theme for the August 10-14, biennial conference of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The conference and related activities was held on the campus of Texas A&M University and all county, area and state staff members, including Hall County's Agent, W. B. Hooser.

Extension Director John E. Hutchison said the conference program had been developed around three phases of environment: physical, economic and social. Outstanding authorities in their fields are featured speakers at the morning general sessions, and during the afternoons, conferences will dig deeper in to the different aspects of the environmental program by participating in one of the five special sessions.

The five sessions on Tuesday afternoon have to do with physical environment and carry such titles as "Natural Resources—Who Needs them?; Move Over! I Need Elbow Room; Who's Calling Your Plays?; Mind Over Matter and Environment Pollution—A Reasonable View." Each special group features a program dealing with the problem of problems relating to their assigned segment of physical environment.

Wednesday's special sessions dealt with such problems as "Cost of Living High; Render Unto Caesar; Loving Care for Legal Tender; Fate of the Family Farm and Ill's Bells," all important aspects of economic environment.

Mr. Hooser is expected to return on Saturday and will be in his office next week.

Drivers License School To Begin Here Next Monday

Sheriff Elmer Neel, urged today that all local residents desirous of obtaining a Texas drivers license attend the special School opening Monday evening in the City Hall here in Memphis.

The School, which is open to area residents without charge, will be conducted by the Texas Department of Public Safety in co-operation with the Hall County Sheriffs Department.

Sheriff Neel arranged for the School with the Department of Public Safety officials in an effort to lower the number of unlicensed drivers operating motor vehicles on streets and highways throughout the County.

Statistics on file with the Department of Public Safety show a high portion of unlicensed drivers involved in traffic accidents in this part of the state.

"The only way we find these unlicensed drivers is when they are caught in a traffic accident, or some other traffic violation, or at a roadblock," Sheriff Neel said, "so it is apparent that for every unlicensed driver we find, there are many we do not know about. The purpose of the school next week is to put safer drivers on the road, drivers who know the rules of the road and how to drive safely," the Sheriff added.

The school will be taught in a manner to assist those persons who have difficulty reading or writing and will also allow for those persons to take the examination orally.

Classes will meet nightly beginning Monday, August 17, at 8 p. m. through Wednesday, with classes running two hours each. The only expense to persons is the actual cost of the drivers license that they can obtain upon successfully passing the test at a later date.

Serious Crime In The United States!

You hear the promise on national television airwaves daily of having total protection, you can rest assured that you will be totally safe and free from worry or doubt when you walk the streets, find yourself in the crowd or you are in close contact with other humans.
 We could go on and on describing the "no worry" appeal if you use brand X mouthwash, or the right brand underarm deodorant, or use this soap or that soap. The surprising truth is that you may be made safe from body odors but in dire danger of losing your life as this nation's violent crime rate continues to increase.

The increase in 1969 in violent crime as set by FBI figures is 11 percent as compared to a 19 percent increase in 1968. In the nation's largest cities, those with more than 250,000 people, serious crime increased in 1969 by nine percent as compared to 18 percent increase in 1968.

These latest figures were contained in the FBI's Uniform Crime Reports—1969, released by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover the first of this week.

Considering all serious crimes, 1969 was over 1968 by 12 percent while 1968 was over 1967 by 17 percent. Serious crimes since 1960 have risen 148 percent.

Violent crimes since 1960 increased by 130 percent and property crimes increased by 151 percent during the past decade.

Despite whatever encouragement can be found in the fact that crime increased in 1969 at a much slower rate than in 1968, it is more important to remember that the total number of serious crimes continued to increase in all categories.

This must be a matter of continuing concern to all Department of Justice and to law enforcement agencies at all levels of federal, state and local governments.

In actual figures, the total number of serious crimes during 1969 as reported to the FBI by local and state law enforcement officials was almost 5,000,000. There were more than 655,000 violent crimes and more than 4,334,000 property crimes.

This figures to 2,471 serious crimes per 100,000 population in the United States during 1969 which is an 11 per cent increase in the crime rate over 1968. The rate for violent crime in 1969 was 324 victims per 100,000 population, up 10 percent, while property crimes had a rate of 2,147 offenses per 100,000 inhabitants which is an increase of 11 percent over 1968.

What does this mean to the average, law abiding citizen? Well, it means that the risk you face of becoming a victim of crime, since 1960, has increased 120 percent, and that's more than doubled.

Let us examine the cost. Citizens of the United States lost $86 million in 291,600 robberies in the U. S. last year. The average loss per robbery was $288. Burglary losses were in excess of $628 million as a total of 1,949,800 were reported and the average loss was $318.

There were 3,812,000 thefts with an average loss of $111 for a total in excess of $420 million. Vehicle thefts totaled $865 million but this loss was reduced by recovery to $140 million.

Nationwide, law enforcement agencies solved 20 percent of the serious crimes which came to their attention last year. Police solved 86 percent of the murders, 56 percent of the reported forcible rapes, 65 percent of the aggravated assaults, 27 percent of the robberies, 19 percent of the burglaries and 18 percent of the larcenies and auto thefts. As more crimes are committed, police solution rate has continued to decline.

Crime, major and minor, has been a plague to mankind since the beginning of history. It is a problem which cannot be cured entirely, but it is one which can be suppressed by a concerned citizenry, willing to offer support and valuable assistance to law enforcement officers.

The United States has by far the fairest system of protection for suspected criminals. It is therefore even more important that the general public cooperate with law enforcement officials in apprehension and prosecution of law breakers. The largest deterrent in the mind of the criminal is the fear of apprehension and conviction and the resulting punishment involved.

What Other Editors Say

What's To Be Done About It?

This is a question that has been asked many times and is being asked more and more now. What is to be done about inflation?

Seems that prices continue to rise each day and the situation is becoming critical with many people. There are dozens and dozens of people living in Childress on fixed incomes who have stood the pinch about as long as they could.

The Government says they are trying to curb inflation, and there is plenty of propaganda from Government officials who say they are succeeding and the upward spiral has been broken. So far it seems to be all talk.

Workers the nation over are seeking higher pay. Higher pay means higher prices, but it's much like the chicken and the egg, which came first. Certainly with higher prices workers need more money, but when they get more money the prices go higher. What's to be done about it?

Recent survey says the cost of living advanced 5 percent in 1969, and so far in 1970 has continued at the same fast clip. In the past year, the survey said, onions increased 30 percent, carrots 27 percent, bacon 22 percent, eggs 21 percent, pork chops 14 percent, and hamburger 13 percent. In nonfood items bus fare was up 16 percent, woman's wool skirt 15.9 percent, air fare 13.6 percent, auto insurance 13 percent, hospital room 12.3 percent, and women's casual shoes 10.9 percent.

These price increases are just a sample. The increases have been noted in all kinds of goods and products. To compensate workers need more money, but then that keeps the spiral of higher prices going. What's to be done about it?

We don't know but it seems something has got to give. We don't know when or where, but it has got to happen. People cannot continue in the squeeze they are in. There must be a stopping place. True it is, of course, that inflationary prices are beneficial to some. There are those who profit from inflation and doubtless they are satisfied as things are. There are others, however, who may be tying their last knot. They have hoped against hope that the change would come—it has not.

We once believed there would never be another depression. We felt the government could control the economy by pumping in money to stop any threatened depression. Now we are worried about how to stop runaway inflation. Can government stop it? So far it has not.

There are different views on Capitol Hill in Washington. Some say price and wage controls, others say no. Congress has given the President the authority to institute the controls, but Mr. Nixon says he is opposed. In other words, inflation is a political game. Some favor, some oppose. The question seems to be, who has the most votes?

As far as John Q. Public is concerned, he hopes inflation will be stopped. He's tired of seeing his dollars squeezed when no more are in sight.

LBJ Continues To Look Taller

Early last year, Newspaper Enterprise Association (NEA), which services newspapers nationwide with many authoritative and widely used compendiums, distributed a cartoon of the immediate past President of the United States standing atop a history book. A historian with a tape measure was recording the stature of Lyndon Baines Johnson.

The caption on the cartoon read, "All of a sudden, he looks taller."

There are comments in the current issue of U. S. News and World Report, some 18 months later, to substantially support the merit of this editorial cartoon.

House Speaker John McCormack, soon to retire at the close of the current session of Congress after 42 years in Capitol Hill, told the reputable news magazine in an interview he has been in the U. S. House of Representatives during all or part of the Administrations of eight Presidents of the United States.

Evaluating all the Presidents under whom he has served, from Coolidge to Nixon, the Speaker has this to say about Johnson:

President Johnson carried through extraordinarily the Kennedy-Johnson programs in civil rights, education, conservation—showing vision and leadership in cooperation with Congress. In the field of foreign affairs, he indicated great courage and leadership, which place him as one of our outstanding Presidents."

Not suddenly now, but consistently, LBJ continues to look taller.

Postal service is getting progressively worse. Last week I heard of a letter which required 10 days to get from one Amarillo address

Little towns are raising a fuss about losing their post mark. Mail goes to central locations to be sorted and post marked. This may be economical but it does not speed the mail.

Efforts to economize in handling the mail are almost frenzied. The Canyon post office has lost 2,000 man hours of labor in the past year. Services here have been cut to the bone at the behest of those on high.

Canyon Postmaster Lee Roy Moreland said the post office is making an effort to handle the mail so that the people who use the postal system will pay for it. There's not much argument against this approach.

This might mean that people who want to read them might have to pay more for their newspapers but it's only right. Yes, I think newspapers should pay their share of the freight too.

Another blessing in this approach is the almost certain cut in junk mail. The Canyon postmaster said he thinks that circulars entered third class bulk rates will be going for a minimum of a little more than 5 cents per mailing piece with the upcoming postal reform bill.

MRS. WINFRED H. McQUEEN

Spruill-McQueen Vows Read Aug. 8

Miss Susan Spruill, daughter of Mrs. W. L. Williams of Mineola and Elmer Spruill of Amarillo became the bride of Winfred Henry McQueen of Memphis, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McQueen of Lamesa, at 8:30 p. m. Saturday, Aug. 8, in the Travis Baptist Church.

Winston Mason Jones of Lubbock, uncle of the bride, read the double ring ceremony before a background of leatherleaf fern and white gladioli and candelabra holding white cathedral tapers.

Mrs. Jim Hansard, organist, played for the processional the "Bridal Chorus" by Lohengrin. The "Wedding March" by Mendelssohn was also used. During the ceremony, she played "Liebestraum" by Liszt and accompanied Mrs. James E. Chappell as she sang "Till" by Sigman and Danvers and "The Lord's Prayer" by

The Bride

Given in marriage by her grandfather, Lynn B. Jones of Lubbock, the bride wore a formal length gown of Venetian lace over antique satin with petal point sleeves. The tiered lace skirt extended to a chapel train. A bandeau of flowerettes held a tiered shoulder veil of bridal illusion. She carries a white lace covered Bible belonging to Mrs. David May with a cascade of feathered white carnations flowing from it.

In observance of the traditional old-new-blue bridal custom, she wore a blue garter and carried a hand-drawn handkerchief which belonged to her great-grandmother, Mrs. Lawrence (Alexander) Kennon, pioneer Hall County resident. She wore a single strand of pearls borrowed from her cousin, Mrs. Donald Stewart, Jr.

Attendants
Miss Dee Chappell of Memphis was maid of honor. Matron of honor was Mrs. Donald Stewart, Jr. of Lubbock, cousin of the bride. Serving as bridesmaids were Misses Alice Gilchrist of Memphis and Miss Karen Crisman of Lubbock, cousin of the bride.

They wore identical formal length dresses of blue dotted swiss polyester over dacron styled with short flared sleeves and empire waistline. Their headpieces were matching blue voile flowerettes with lillies of the valley, gift of the bride, and they carried white and blue carnation nosegays.

Dale Ward of Memphis, brother-in-law of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Neal Hughes, Michael Widener and Dickie Braddock.

Donald R. Stewart Jr. of Lubbock and Johnny McQueen, brother of the groom of Lamesa, served as ushers.

Miss Kathy Jones, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a dress identical to those of the other attendants and carried a white lace basket of roses.

Ring bearers were Ricky Mason Jones of Lubbock, cousin of the bride, and John Kilgore of Plainview, cousin of the groom.

Lighting the candles were Robbie and Tracy Galloway of Memphis.

Mrs. Lynn B. Jones chose for her granddaughter's wedding a light blue bonded dress with black accessories and white carnation corsage.

Mrs. McQueen, mother of the groom, wore a pink knit dress with white accessories and white carnation corsage.

Reception
Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Mrs. Jimmy Nelson of Lubbock registered the guests.

The bride's table was covered with a blue cloth overlaid with white lace. Frosted pineapple punch was served from a crystal punch bowl. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom against a heart floweret arch and was decorated with blue roses.

Mrs. Fred Crisman of Lubbock, aunt of the bride, served as reception hostess. Mrs. Dale Ward, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Robert Galloway presided at the serving table.

Other members of the house party included Misses Raye and Gaye Maddox of Memphis and Vivian McQueen of Lamesa, sister of the groom.

Music for the reception was furnished by Mrs. Jim Hansard who played favorite selections of the bride.

For travel, the bride chose a dress of blue and white whipped cream with white accessories. Upon their return to Memphis, the couple will make their home at 1220 1/2 Brice.

The bride is a graduate of Memphis High School while the groom attended Smyer High School and is employed at Hall County Electric Co-op.

On Friday night, Aug. 7, following the rehearsal, the groom and his sister, Mrs. Dale Ward and Miss Vivian McQueen, entertained the wedding party with cold cuts, sandwiches, tea and German chocolate cake.

THANKS

To Our Friends and Customers

We take this means of expressing our sincere thanks and appreciation to each and everyone of you for your patronage and friendship during the years we have been in the grocery business in Memphis. This goes back to 1926 when each of us started in the food retailing business.

We have sold Memphis Grocery to Jackie Blum and Don Van Ausdall, who took over active operation Monday, Aug. 10. Both men are experienced grocers, and both are well known to the citizens of Memphis and this area.

It is our hope that our former customers will continue to come to the store for their food and other items which will be sold. Very few changes will be made in the store under their management, and the delivery service will be continued.

Again we say "Thank You" for all past favors. We value the friendships we have made, and are looking forward to taking things at an easier pace in the years to come. It is our intention to be associated with the new owners for a limited time in the future, and will see you at the store occasionally.

American Legion To Have Family Night Tues., Holland To Speak

District Cmdr. Dennis Holland of Dodson will be the honored guest at a family night covered dish supper slated Tuesday, Aug. 18, at 7:30 p. m. by American Legion Post and Auxiliary Unit 175 in the local American Legion Home.

Cmdr. Holland will discuss the organization of a Memphis squadron of the Sons of the American Legion. Work is already underway on the project by Post Cmdr. Jay Stone and Henry Gregory, chairman. All Legion families are invited to attend and are urged to bring their sons. Eight years of age is the minimum age for membership, Gregory said.

According to Stone and Gregory, all male descendants, adoptive sons and stepsons of members of the American Legion, and such male descendants of veterans who died in service during World War I, World War II, the Korean War, or the period of the Vietnam hostilities, as defined in the Constitution of the American Legion, or who died subsequent to their honorable discharge from such service, shall be eligible for membership in the Sons of the American Legion.

When such a squadron is formed, Memphis will hold the distinction of having the first such organization in the Legion's 18th District.

Cmdr. Stone explained that the organization is based on ten ideals: patriotism, health, knowledge, training, honor, faith, helpfulness, courtesy, reverence and comradeship. He said that a drill unit is planned and will be used in parades with the American Legion color guard. Special uniforms are available for members of the Sons of the American Legion. Regular meetings will be held and recreational activities for the youngsters are planned. "We believe this organization will be a source of pride for its young members, the American Legion and for Hall County. Our young men hold the keys to America's future and this group teaches the finest ideals and traditions," Cmdr. Stone said.

Auxiliary members are asked to bring a covered dish. Tentative plans have been made to have Girls State delegates' reports on the evening's program.

was going to a picnic or some kind of celebration and they were out of bread and asked them to bake that night with fast yeast. So they had their dough all worked up and put in the pans to wait for it to rise to put in the ovens, and they lay down on the floor to rest, and were there when Dr. came down the next morning early. He found them on the floor asleep and the dough had risen and was all over the floor around them. They had to wake up and start another batch to bake. Ralph and his brothers operated one of the first motor truck freight lines in this area. The total age of these four Womack kids run over 300 years. I will only tell the age of one and that is Della Womack Frazier who was 88 years old August 10.

Their mother lived to be 94. They all liked Heritage Hall very much, and brought in some good items for display. Will tell about them later.

I noticed in a daily column that a man stated the war would be over in 60 days, and he was asked why he knew, and he replied "My son-in-law has just gone over to Vietnam and he has never held a job over 60 days."

Rev. and Mrs. Wm. A. Cockrell of Bantontville, Ark., were visiting in Heritage Hall. Mrs. Cockrell was Mozelle (Mrs. Guy Wright) when a resident of Memphis for several years. She has three children (Frances) now Mrs. Dave Corley of Canyon; (Priscilla) now Mrs. Robert Sims of Lubbock and son Perry of Dallas with EDS computers. Mrs. Cockrell says she thinks Heritage Hall was wonderful and keep it up! She and her husband were both wearing shoes and said a lot of people in Arkansas were wearing them now. Rev. Cockrell is pastor of a rural Presbyterian church at Vaughn, Ark. They both seemed very happy. Good to see them.

Kay Stilwell Blackmon with Kim and Kindra visited here recently. Kay was a graduate of the 1959 MHS Class. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Stilwell and is married to Steve Blackmon, also former Memphis resident. They are now living in Fort Worth. Kay made this statement, "I like Memphis."

The girl who said she wanted to quit work and get married is in for a surprise.

Mary Sue Huckaby Albright and sons, Tomy, 5, Dan, 18, and Jeff, 21, visited us. Mary Sue, the daughter of Angus Huckaby, graduated here in the 1941 class, married to John Albright. They now live in Doland, S. D. the home town of Hubert Humphrey. John is holding down two jobs, mail carrier and farming. Mary Sue said she had a good visit with her first grade teacher, Carrie Belle Lee King. Visiting in our home

Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Thompson and their sons of Breckenridge, Texas, on their way home from a cool climate, and we gave them a warm reception as I thing it was 104 here in the shade. Chauncey and Peggy are doing their part in keeping the name going with these three sons making a happy family. Seems like such a short time since this papa was in the first grade here.

Just received word from my baby brother, Russell E., that he is now grandpa. Time marches on. I noticed a statement the other day in the daily paper from T.V. star Walter Brennan, "I read the obituaries each morning and if I am not in this column, I shave and go to work." Walter is 76. Had a letter from Kermit Voelkel of Austin a few days ago. He addressed the letter to the "Tumble Weed" of Memphis. Inside the letter he explained it as rolling around so fast, but I think that is too fast for me as when the wind hits these tumble weeds they really travel fast. Thanks for the compliment!

Kermit is now serving on a committee of Texas Cotton Research which now includes wool and mohair. He sent me a lot of good information on cotton and wool, that we will try to give you along from time to time. I made some statements a few weeks ago how wool and cotton had slipped, when I did not have proper information. My apologies to all for what I said was wrong. We do have two beautiful wool and mohair queens, Miss Judy Womack of Hillsboro is the Miss Wool and Mohair of Texas. The national Miss Wool and Mohair queen for 1970 is Miss Gail Heinzman of Carlyle, Ill. They will make you stop, look and listen, it will also make you be more careful in your buying. Be sure it is wool.

Sportsmen are said to be the cleanest when it comes to littering, with the least number of offenders. They are responsible for only 5 percent of the litter. Picnickers are blamed for 25 percent and passing motorists for 70 percent.

Hunting Exotic Game

Exotic game hunting is increasing in the United States. There are at least five areas in this country where native game of Africa, India, Germany and even Russia can be hunted on private property for a fee.
