Five Swimmers Complete Red Cross Water Safety Course Here Sunday

Five Memphis teenagers successfully completed the Red Cross Water Safety No. 1 course and the senior life saving course under Instructor Jim Woody of Childress.

Instructor Moody said he is attempting to get enough swimming students through this course so that next summer, possibly in August, he will be able to have enough students to take the Red Cross Water Safety No. 2 course, the advanced course which qualifies an individual to teach Red Cross swimming, life saving and the beginning course in water safety.

The five Memphis swimmers who successfully completed this course are Billy David Ballew (who took the course as a refresher, having already completed it once), Spencer Gilliam, Kay Murdock, Pernina Martin and David Wiggins.

Instructor Moody had high praise for the skill and ability of his students in the water. "You don't develop swimming skills like this without spending many hours in the water," he said.

One night as part of the course of instruction, the class had to jump into the water fully clothed, remove their shoes, then remove the outer garments and use them to catch air to form waterwings to aid in floating.

The students were instructed to tie knots in the legs of their pants and trap air in them to make waterwings. This is an important aid to staying afloat in large bodies of water it was explained.

The students took their final examination during the eight-day class last Sunday and all five successfully completed the course and final. They were awarded patches and cards for completion.

The class was conducted at the City Park Pool in the evening hours all last week. Instructor Moody said the students were most cooperative and showed evidence of practicing the skills which were taught in the class.

Committee chairmen of the Hall County Picnic Association met at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday in the Community Center, and ironed out several difficulties which have come up.

The annual picnic will be held Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 19-20. A group of volunteers from Memphis and Estelline have indicated they will assist Pete Land of near Clarendon cook and prepare the barbecue and trimmings for the Sunday feed, President Carl Hill announced at the meeting. Mr. Land met with the committee chairmen.

It was decided that the association would sponsor a community singing Saturday evening, at 7:30 p. m. in the Community Center. Plans for this singing were announced last week.

The American Legion announced they will sponsor a parade Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m. during the two-day celebration.

It is possible that the Memphis Volunteer Firemen will be able to negotiate for a carnival to be in Memphis that weekend.

Several members of the finance committee and the beef committee, the two money raising committees of the association, were present and indicated that work would begin immediately on raising the money to finance the affair this year, celebrating the 80th birthday of the founding of Hall County.

Citizens of Hall County interested in helping with the annual affair are urged to contact President Carl Hill of Estelline or any of the committee chairmen.

In order for the county to have the annual celebration the third weekend in September, a lot of work has to be done, Hill said.

The Hall County Picnic is one of the few celebrations which is financed entirely by volunteer donations of county citizens and business institutions. These donations pay for food and supplies to put on the affair, and volunteer workers contribute their time and talents to making the celebration what it is each year.

Workers pitch in to haul wood to provide a fire to cook the beef and beans at the City Park on Saturday. Other workers begin the fire early Saturday morning, haul coals to the cookers, turn the meat, carry the beans and assist Mr. Land in handling the cooking chores.

The meat has to be sliced before it is served and many pitch in to serve the food at noon Sunday. The ladies help by preparing the tea and coffee, serving the drinks, cookies and other sweets.

Registration tables are used to secure names and addresses so invitation cards may be mailed the next year.

On Saturday, many are involved in preparing the floats for the parade. This is an activity that the children all enjoy as they decorate floats, decorate their bicycles, ride their ponies, ride on fire trucks and in general, enjoy the afternoon either as a spectator or as a participant.

It is noted that entertainment on Saturday evening has varied over the years of the celebration. Over the years, many former residents of Hall County have returned to visit during the annual celebration. One of the permanent results of the celebration is the establishment of Hall County Heritage Hall, which was begun initially as a temporary show for one of the celebrations, and has grown into a permanent museum for Hall County artifacts. The Memphis City Park has many wooden tables due to former residents' generosity.

One of the remarkable things about the Hall County Picnic is the cooperative spirit which goes into the affair each year. Without this cooperation, the picnic would be a failure; but, since its beginning, nothing has dampened the spirit of the occasion. Over the years, residents and guests have stayed through rain storms to eat the picnic meal and visit.

Will the picnic celebration last for another 20 years? If it does, it is predictable that this will be (Continued on Page 12)

Inflation — Our Sagging Economy!

We don't think there are many left in this country who aren't aware of the state of economic affairs. It appears that business is not going to take off on a new boom any time soon. Families are uneasy about the future. Price hikes seem to outrace incomes. Auto sales are mushy, home building is slow, rising unemployment is causing more jitters.

A local woman remembers when dress lengths dropped at the end of the 1920's, followed shortly by the collapse of the Stock Market. This time the Stock Market decline preceded the plunge in the hemlines. Local women just don't know whether to buy long dresses or not. They still remember the problem in 1929 when dress lengths dropped and money disappeared and there was no money available to buy stylish clothes.

Some are predicting that on the longterm outlook a long, slow improvement throughout the rest of the year will come. Latest figures for output, sales, income point that way.

Locally, the 1970 crop prospects for field crops and cattle and swine production do not appear profitable due to drought, poor pasture land and high overhead and operation.

Not all areas of the economy are behind in the race with inflation, a recent tabulation published in U. S. News & World Report indicates.

Those who are ahead of inflation are lead by federal government workers who are up $9.43 after adjustments for higher costs and changes in federal taxes are figured. The weekly pay is figured at $178.35 which is up $20.45 over a year ago.

Up $6.63 are veterans on full-disability compensation, $6.48 meat-packers, $5.36 construction workers, $4.50 oil refinery workers and $3.81 school teachers. In descending order are: retired federal workers, local bus drivers, electric, gas-utility workers, social security pensioners, ordnance workers, cigarette-factory workers, farm laborers, laundry workers, chemical workers, stone, clay, glass workers, wholesale-trade employees, sort-coal miners, metal miners and retail-trade employees.

The list of those who are losers in the race against inflation list: steelworkers, down $8.00, telephone employees $5.67, furniture makers $4.79, textile-mill workers, $3.67, oil, gas-field workers, $3.57, and farmers, $3.26.

Farmers weekly pay now, before taxes, is figured at $107.50, a gain of $3.00 over last year but are still $3.26 shy of breaking even with the race against inflation. Farm laborers weekly pay now, before taxes, on a national average, is listed at $81.75, a gain of $6.00 over last year which puts farm laborers $1.84 ahead of inflation.

The article indicates that paychecks are bigger than a year ago for most Americans but with prices still rising at a rapid rate, it appears that everyone will have to run harder to keep from dropping behind.

It used to be that everyone was trying to keep up with the Jones'. Now, it seems, that a new yardstick has been introduced into the game—keeping up with inflation.

What Other Editors Say

Enterprise, Not Angels
 The Pennsylvania Central Railroad is not the first big business in this nation to be in financial difficulty, and it won't be the last. It seems more personal to most people, perhaps, because of the romantic aura that surrounds railroading.

To those who traveled to any extent, there is a strong feeling of nostalgia when a passenger train rattles by. There is no less an attraction for the stay-at-homes at the thought of the adventures toward which the briefly-glimpsed passengers may be heading.

Unfortunately, railroading is a sick industry—as far as human travel is concerned, at least—and the number of thundering iron monsters is growing less year by year. There is wide disagreement as to the cause of the sickness; but whatever the cause, federal officials made a wise decision in refusing to advance the money needed by Penn Central to pull itself out of its present financial jam.

A nationally-known economist put it well on the NBC Meet the Press program Sunday:

"If the government were to rescue every private business that got into financial trouble, there would still be stage coaches running between Philadelphia and Washington."

It would be a comforting feeling for every businessman, large or small, if he knew that there would be a federal angel standing by with buckets of gold to solve all his money problems. But that isn't the way the free enterprise system works.

And for this nation to maintain its internal strength, private business must continue to count on free enterprise—not federal angels—for its own salvation.

What They Think

What do consumers think of farmers?
 This question was asked of about 1100 people in Delaware and Missouri. Of two surveys that were taken, it was shown that consumers have a kindly outlook toward farmers.

In the Missouri survey, nearly 1,000 state residents were polled by University of Missouri in the latter part of 1968. In the Delaware survey conducted in February of the same year, 100 consumers were polled.

Both surveys indicated that the great majority of consumers don't blame the farmer for high prices. Other indications from the surveys follow.

Two-thirds of large-city Missourians thought farmers had been under-rewarded for their work and investment.

In Delaware, 56 percent thought farmers had not received a fair return on their investment, labor and knowledge, but 75 percent said they and their families would not be satisfied with what they believed the farmer's income to be.

Some interesting figures came out of the Delaware survey. Of those polled, 81 percent said food prices were too high.

"If you believe food prices are too high, what is responsible?" This question was answered as follows: 59 percent general inflation, 14 percent store profits, 25 percent farmers prices, 25 percent convenience food costs.

Congratulations to the consumers of this survey. They seem to have a pretty good understanding to see that only 2 percent thought the farmer was causing the prices to soar.

Mr. Farmer knows otherwise. He knows what a struggle it is to get a decent price for his commodities. He has been struggling to get a decent price ever since the first produce was taken to market centuries and worlds ago.

Today is yesterday's future, and today, whether we want to admit it or not, Mr. Farmer is living more comfortably than he did in years past. Many conveniences which were usually thought of as only being available in the city are in common use today in the country, and country living gets better and better.

There is no doubt about it, everyone in the world complains, including producers, all of the middlemen, and finally the consumer, those good old days aren't really as good as we like to think they were; now are they?

Moratorium Needed

Editors of a recent College Edition of the Random House Dictionary says it was necessary to add 7,000 new words to keep abreast of the changing English language.

What they ought to do now in concert with the other publishers, is declare a moratorium on new words until people learn how to spell more of the old ones.

LETTERS To The Editor

Anchorage, Alaska 99504

Alaskan Village Sp. 357

Dear Editor:

I would like to renew my Democrat for one year. I have really enjoyed my paper every where we have lived. There is so much to read in it. It has been most enjoyable since we have moved so far from home.

Anchorage is a real modern town and we just love it up here. But I will always like Memphis. There is nothing like your home town.

We get the Anchorage Times and it has Texas news in it almost every day. It really doesn't seem like we are so far away. There are quite a few Texas people up here. The Alaskans say the reason Texans come to Alaska, they aren't the largest state any more.

Thank you,
JoAnn Hooten

Since 1960 daytime burglaries of residences have increased 286 percent while all burglary offenses have increased 286 percent while all burglary offenses during the same period have risen 117 percent. During 1969 residential burglary losses amounted to $363 million and nonresidential losses totaled $257 million.

Growers Asked To Consider Alfalfa Offer

MEMPHIS—Hall and Donley County growers seeking a stabilized price for 1971 crops are being offered an assured market of $16 per ton for alfalfa from irrigated acreage.

Hap Kensing of Memphis, Panhandle District General Manager for Western Alfalfa Corporation, pointed out that it is unusual to be making a price offer a year in advance for alfalfa. Western Alfalfa is seeking contracts with growers for alfalfa from a minimum of 5,000 acres of irrigated land in the two counties in order to set its 1971 ground alfalfa program.

"While we are anxious to serve the huge Panhandle feedlots with the ground alfalfa they are so eager to purchase, we also see extension of irrigation as a requirement for more profitable farming and for introduction of other crops such as alfalfa which can do much to break the area's dependence upon one crop and rainfall.

"Growers need have no fear that production of ground alfalfa in this area will exceed demand. We can sell all of the product we can get and the Panhandle beef belt will be increasing its requirements as it grows," Kensing said.

Two Donley County bankers also are urging crop diversification in the area. President Emmett Simmons of the Farmers State Bank and Trust Co. at Clarendon said that "alfalfa is a crop which helps to rebuild the soil. Much of our land here is badly worn out and needs revitalization, just as our agricultural community needs the plasma afforded by a contracted cash crop for which there is close-at-hand volume demand."

Farmers State Vice President Billy R. Jones commented: "It is apparent that cotton alone no longer can support our farms. The lack of rain and the resulting crop losses year after year also make it clear that irrigation is the only way to assure profitable quality production."

Western Alfalfa is seeking contracts for alfalfa from irrigated fields of 30 acres or larger which should be fall-planted this year to assure early productivity next spring. The firm cuts and grinds the alfalfa and delivers it to Panhandle feedlots.

Property valued at almost $2 billion stolen as a result of 297,600 robberies, 1,949,800 burglaries, 3,812,000 larcenies and 871,900 auto thefts. These losses were reduced by 47 percent due to police recoveries.

California claims the world's oldest trees (bristlecone pines), tallest (coast redwoods), and largest, (Sequoia gigantea).

Texas Is Leader In Exportation Of Hogs, Cattle

AUSTIN—Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has announced that not only is Texas No. 1 in exports of breeding cattle but now is also No. 1 in exports of breeding swine.

Figures released by the U. S. Department of Agriculture confirm that Texas leads the nation in exporting breeding swine, the Texas Department of Agriculture chief said.

The figures show that 48 percent of U. S. Breeding swine exports were provided by Texas producers. Total U. S. exports were 23,724 and Texas provided 11,399 of those. Indiana ranked second with exports of 1,540 head of hogs.

Commissioner White said Texas swine producers deserve considerable credit for achieving a high level of quality in their breeding stock, and he praised swine breeders for the cooperation they have given the Texas Department of Agriculture's Marketing Division in carrying out programs to promote increased sales both domestically and abroad.

The swine industry currently is one of the most rapidly growing segments of Texas agriculture, Commissioner White said, and export sales of breeding swine will stimulate even greater growth.

Rainmaking is becoming an accepted industry, though many questions remain unanswered. Weather modification programs have been carried out in Japan, Mexico, Columbia, Russia, Israel, Australia, and the United States.

Vehicle Sticker With "9" Must Be Reinspected

AUSTIN—Colonel Wilson E. Spair, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, today advised Texas motorists that vehicles bearing red motor vehicle inspection stickers with the numeral "9" must be reinspected before midnight Sept. 30. Texas now operates on a 12-month inspection system. The inspection sticker in the lower left-hand corner of the windshield contains a large numeral showing the month of inspection and expiration.

Spair said vehicles with red stickers and the number "10" will require reinspection before midnight on the last day of October. Those with an "11" must be reinspected before the end of November, with a December 31 deadline for red stickers numbered "12".

All motor vehicles and certain classes of trailers are subject to the mandatory inspection which includes brakes, lighting equipment, horns and warning devices, mirrors, windshield wipers, front seat belts in vehicles where seat belt anchorages were part of the manufacturer's original equipment on the vehicle, steering (including power steering), wheels and rims, exhaust system, and exhaust emission system.

State law requires that inspections be made at privately owned official inspection stations which have been appointed and regulated by the Department of Public Safety. The statutory inspection fee is $2.00, with adjustments or repairs extra if required.

Social Security Sends Mrs. Davenport Check For 12 Months Back Payment

Back in 1905 Lakeview Postmaster D. H. Davenport got a special delivery package—an eight-pound bundle that writhed and kicked and squaled. Papa and Mrs. Davenport named her Lolo Kathryn. The town hurrahed, for she was the first child born in Lakeview.

Now Mrs. Lolo K. DuVall, she will celebrate her birthday on November 30. She recently got her first social security check totaling more than $1,000. The check represented back payments for 12 months. Mrs. DuVall's husband was the late Horace J. DuVall who died July 5, 1965.

Mrs. DuVall could have started receiving her checks in November,

Dove Season To Begin In County Sept. 1

Dove hunting in Hall County and the entire Panhandle of Texas begins at 12 noon on Tuesday, Sept. 1, with shooting hours each day from noon until sunset, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The season will remain open until October 30 in what is named the north zone of the state. Daily bag limit is 10 and possession limit is 20. Both mourning and white-winged dove can be taken.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept. reminds hunters that no hunting is permitted in game refuges, state and federal parks, game reserves, within corporate city limits or from public roads or road rights of way.

In counties having a white-winged dove season the retention of one fully-feathered wing on dressed doves is required.

Shotguns must be plugged permanently to three-shell capacity and may not be larger than ten gauge. Since dove is a migratory bird, laws prohibit hunting dove with rifles.

As in the past, there will be an abundance of dove in the immediate area until the first cool, wet spell. When the weather is hot and dry in this area, the best hunting is along waterways or around stock ponds in the evening when dove usually fly in for water.

Many local hunters find dove hunting an excellent sport due to the challenge of hitting the fast flying birds. As a food, there are those who object to the dove's dark meat and strong taste when compared to chicken and quail. Others, however, find dove meat a tasty change from the milder domesticated flavors.

Local Sons Of The American Legion Squadron Is Organized Here Tuesday

Thirteen boys have signed the application for charter of a local Sons of the American Legion Squadron, according to Dist. Cmdr. Dennis Holland who spoke Tuesday night at a family night for the Memphis American Legion Post and Auxiliary Unit.

Those signing include Charles Gregory, Brent Barbee, Val J. Stone, Dane Sherry, Paul Ables, Cody Williams, Aaron Williams, Buddy Ballew, Stephen Chick, Gary Spruill, Fidel Rocha, Jr., Dan Crawford and Carrol Crawford.

Cmdr. Holland explained that all male descendants, adopted sons and stepsons of members of the American Legion, and such male descendants of veterans who died in service during World War I, World War II, the Korean War, or the period of the Vietnam hostilities, as defined in the Constitution of the American Legion, or who died subsequent to their honorable discharge from such service, shall be eligible for membership in the Sons of the American Legion. There is no maximum age limit and the minimum age is eight years.

Henry Gregory, district chair man, announced that the application will be held for two weeks in order that all interested boys can sign. Interested persons should contact Gregory, local Cmdr. Jay Stone, or one of the boys whose name is on the application.

After receiving the charter, regular organized meetings will be held. The ten ideals stressed in the organization are patriotism, health, knowledge, training, honor, faith, helpfulness, courtesy, reverence and comradeship. Gregory stated that recreation will be planned for the group, and a drill unit will be organized.

Mrs. Henry Gregory, auxiliary president, introduced three delegates from Girls State, including Mitzie Lindsey, Pamela Watson and Carol Godfrey. The fourth delegate, Vickie Clifton, was unable to attend due to illness.

The delegates expressed their appreciation to members of the auxiliary and to those who contributed toward sending them to Girls State. Each girl stressed she had learned a greater respect for the function of government on the local, state and national levels. They reported that the spirit of Girls State was one of patriotism and concentrated study, mixed with fun and fellowship.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM your CAPITOL

ASTIN—Soaring state budget requests led the legislative board to urge all agencies to reduce spending in 1972-73 to $1.5 billion.

Gov. Ben Barnes, Board
man, sounded the warning
of "critical financial conditions which demands
"pragmatic" government."
A letter directed to state agencies, Board advises that they should make suggestions at an early stage where fat can be trimmed
without their appropriations reduced.

"Pragmatic" fat trimmers should be backed for a second year
before the Board, Barnes said.
Requests already submitted really exceed the expected increase for the 1972-73 biennium by more than $1 billion.

Estimates of the amount of the tax bill which will be needed to support adequate services
in the face of rising demands still range from $350 to $700 million.

Some ranking legislators fear
a revenue bill of that magnitude
is virtually impossible to pass
because of the fact that lawmakers are not likely to vote for a budget Board's recommendations unless they are more conservative than those finally adopted by the Legislature. However, they are take-off points for the Appropriations Committee
considerations.

Auto Insurance Delay
As motorists got a hint of news that they may escape a rate increase in auto insurance premiums
later this year.

Charles D. Matthews, a member of the State Board of Insurance, expressed hopes of that in testimony
before the interim Senate committee studying rates.

Matthews also predicted the Insurance Board will come up with a formula that includes compensation from investments, and endorsed a proposal that Welfare longstanding point of debate.

"I think the companies may be sorely disappointed in the Board,"
said Matthews. "We may not get around to an auto rate adjustment in 1970. There are just so many hours in a day."

Company spokesmen earlier indicated they were hoping for a 15 to 20 percent rate hike this year. A delay in Insurance Board hearings dates made postponement
of any increase until after November 1 virtually inevitable. A 9.9 percent hike was granted last year.

Critics of a further increase told the Senate Committee that rates went up twice as high as the general cost of living in the last decade. Some recommended group coverage on auto insurance.

Welfare Overhaul Proposed
Senate Welfare Reform Committee has recommended a sweeping overhaul of the system, including responsibility for Public Welfare Department administration
in the hands of the governor.

Special Oil Meeting Ordered
World oil crisis and Hurricane Celia prompted a special meeting of the Railroad Commission this week (Aug. 10) to reassess August oil allowance.

Commission earlier had set the market demand factor at 62.9 percent for August, which would produce about 3,220,518 barrels of oil daily.

Since that action, Commission Chairman Ben Ramsey said, some companies have indicated a desire to buy additional Texas crude. On the other hand, said Ramsey, Hurricane Celia complicated movement of crude from South Texas and some West Texas fields to tidewater.

Commission invited crude purchasers and transportation executives to its Monday (Aug. 10)
meeting "to assess effects of Hurricane Celia on the movement of crude, as well as the logistical problems of moving crude from other Texas areas to Gulf Coast
and to markets elsewhere."

Closing of Tapline, a major oil line from the Middle East to the Mediterranean, plus high tanker rates for transporting oil around the southern tip of Africa to Western European and East Coast markets substantially raised the need for Texas crude, Ramsey noted.

Land Recovery Sought
School Land Board requested Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin to see if a lawsuit is feasible to recover state land from the Calhoun County Navigation District.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler estimated that the district bought for $1 an acre as much as 20,000 acres in state land it does not need for its functions as a navigation district.

Some of the land was resold to private developers, including the Key Allegro subdivision near Rockport, and is valued at $33-098 an acre now.

Land Board also agreed to recommend that the law be changed to limit the amount of state land available to navigation districts at $1 an acre. Legislature in 1969 voted a temporary stop in transactions pending a study. About 16 districts have purchased 130-000 acres of school land in bays for $1 an acre. A lot of that went to the Calhoun district.

Texas Challenges 18-Year-Old Vote
Though Texas will begin registering 18-year-olds in October Attorney General Martin is challenging the constitutionality of the congressional act which extends the vote to youngsters.

Texas became the second state
to challenge the new federal law.
Oregon was first (decided by the flip of a coin in the court clerk's office).

State's complaint notes that the U. S. Constitution gives the states power to set qualifications for voting and that 45 others besides Texas now set 21 as the minimum qualifying age. Present states' limitation is reasonable exercise of constitutionally-granted power,
Martin maintains.

Texas Draft Call
For September
Set At 704 Men

AUSTIN—The September draft
call for Texas is 704, and no man will be selected and ordered for induction with a random sequence number higher than 195. It appears that the ceiling will go no higher than 195 for the remainder of 1970, Colonel Charles M.
Duncan, deputy state Selective Service director, said Monday.

Colonel Duncan explained that an influx of new manpower, mostly formerly deferred students, has helped to keep the ceiling on sequence numbers at 195.

The September quota is up from 560 in August, which is also being filled with men having random sequence numbers no higher than 195.

The state quota for pre-induction physical and mental examinations in September is 7,171, up from 1,490 in August. Men sent for these examinations will be limited to those with random sequence numbers 1 through 215
from the drawing in December 1969 and men born in 1951, numbers 1 through 100, from the July 1970 drawing. Colonel Duncan said that approximately 6,100 men of the 1951 age group will be examined along with 1,071 older men.

Deferred or exempt men, such as teachers, college students, and vocational or trade school students with random sequence numbers 1 through 215 may be forwarded for these examinations if they are likely to lose their deferred or exempt status during the next five months, Colonel Duncan said.

All volunteers at the draft boards must be inducted ahead of the non-volunteers selected and ordered to report for induction
by random sequence number.

The Texas induction quota of 704 for September is the state's share of a national call for 12,000 men, all for the army.

Boys Ranch To Have Annual Rodeo Sept. 6-7

One of the most unusual events in the nation will take place at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch over the Labor Day weekend, when the 350 residents of the Ranch put on their 26th annual rodeo.

Professional rodeo stock and hard-riding, determined boys will combine to fill the arena with an unforgettable rodeo. Boys from 4 to 18 will compete for honors during the two performances, Sunday, September 6, and Monday, September 7. There will be brahma bull riding, bareback bronc and trick-riding, and the youngest boys will capture the hearts of the audience in the special stickhorse races.

Comfortable reserved box seats are available in advance at regular prices from the Boys Ranch office at 600 West 11th Street in Amarillo, for $2.50. General admission is $1.50 for adults and 75c for children and servicemen in uniform.

The performances will begin at 2 p. m. both Sunday and Monday. Delicious barbeque beef sandwiches with all the trimmings will be prepared by the boys and sold to the rodeo visitors for only $1. Every boy at the Ranch will have some part in the rodeo, either as a contestant or working at the many behind-the-scenes jobs that make the rodeo a big success each year. The traditional rodeo is also an annual homecoming for the more than 2,500 boys who have lived at the Ranch since its founding by Cal Farley in 1939.

President Explains Extensive Program In Evening School At Phillips College

An important part, purpose, and objective of Frank Phillips College is the Evening School. Adults, high school dropouts, high school graduates, mothers, professional people and hobbyists study by night to perform better on the job, to learn a new hobby or to earn a college degree. Frank Phillips College in Borger provides an extensive evening school program for the benefit of young men and women, and for interested adults as well. J. W. Dillard, president, announced last week.

Four nights a week the modern facilities of the college plant do double duty, serving the needs of a second student body, opening the doors of education and cultural activity to the community. The college offers an exceptional opportunity to those who are determined to continue their formal education, develop a hobby, or learn a skill which they have coveted through the years.

The versatile, highly flexible Evening School offers five different programs to accommodate a wide range of interests:

1. College Credit Courses leading to an Associate of Arts Degree and transferable to a baccalaureate degree program at a senior college. These courses cover a broad range of subjects in the same fields of study offered in the regular daytime curriculum. Any college credit course will be offered if eight or more persons register for it.

tions on the team are open. "Moral is good and the boys are showing a lot of enthusiasm," Coach McMurray said about the early workout sessions. "But we are lacking basic fundamentals as this is our weakest point and the major concern of our workout program at this time," he said. The coach indicated that if the boys did not respond quickly to the drills and improve in the basic fundamentals, then workout sessions through the season would be geared to overcoming this weakness. "Fundamentally, we are weak at blocking and tackling and our kids must improve on these if we are going to have a good season," he said. "Our younger boys, sophomores and juniors have got to come along quickly for our team to be effective," he said. The coach explained that he was going to use a platoon type system which will allow a lot of boys to play. "We're not going to just concentrate on a few boys and neglect the others. That's why fundamentals are so important," he said. The Cyclone camp is working out for two hours in the morning and evening and has an early afternoon specialty session where the boys are working on the punting game in shorts and helmets. In general, the coach said the 1970 edition of the Memphis Cyclone will have average size, with a longer than average line and a smaller than average backfield. Speedwise, the team is considered by the coach to be slow. Unit wise, he said, the defense is showing up slightly better than the offense at this point. Moral is good, enthusiasm is good and the kids are improving, the coach said. A listing of players by positions will be announced as soon as coaches have determined this. "For right now, we're looking at a lot of boys in different positions to get an overall picture of capabilities," he said.

YOUR COUNTY AGENT SAYS

Extra Care of Roses in August Pays Off

Extra care of roses during August and early September when the weather is hot and dry can mean more beautiful blooms this fall, reminds County Agent W. B. Hooser.

Check the mulch applied in the spring. Make certain it is still at least an inch or two thick. Water the rose garden thoroughly every 10 days or more often if needed. Soak the soil to a depth of 8 to 10 inches. Frequent light waterings encourage shallow roots and make the plants more susceptible to disease.

It is also essential to continue the preventive spray program for the control of blackspot. Heavy dew in the morning will encourage this disease just as is the case with frequent showers in the spring, says the county agent.

The rose plants should be sprayed with a fungicide containing maneb or folpet every 10 to 14 days until the first killing frost. It is essential to keep as many leaves on the plants as possible to build up food reserves and promote larger flowers and more intense color for the fall bloom. Good food reserves will also help the plants as possible to build up food reserves and promote larger flowers and more intense color for the fall bloom. Good food reserves will also help the plants withstand severe winter weather.

The county agent suggests a close examination of the plants at this time to determine if re-plantments are needed. Many excellent rose varieties are now available and it's a waste of time and effort to keep plants which do not live up to your expectations. Mark those selected for removal so they can be easily located when planting time around.
