Cyclone Will Do Battle With McLean Here Fri.

After two years of not meeting on the gridiron, old rivals of the Cyclone and the Memphis Tigers will square off Friday night in Cyclone Stadium at 7:30 p. m. in a District 2-A contest.

Memphis fans are invited to see the contest by Cyclone Coach Clyde McMurray who reports there will be several new faces and numbers in the lineup against McLean.

Memphis fans will see platoon-type football for the first time this season, a goal Coach McMurray has been aiming for all year. Although Memphis is not mathematically out of the championship race, the local squad has lost to the two front runners in the district, Silverton and Wheeler, both teams undefeated.

The McLean Tigers lost a close one to Silverton last week, 14 to 12, after a 20 to 6 victory over Claude in the district opener. The Tigers are considered small, quick and tough and have an excellent passing quarterback, Tommy Dunen, who is possibly the best passer Memphis has faced all season.

The Tigers are expected to come into the game with a talented offense mixing running and passing plays which should really test the defense.

J. B. Scott Is Elected WTSC-C Memphis Director

J. B. Scott has been elected a director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, according to F. V. Wallace, Amarillo, president of the regional organization.

Scott will represent his home town in the meetings of the board and speak for the other WTSC members in the city on matters of concern to all West Texas businessmen.

Scott was officially elected at the Board of Directors Meeting in Denton on October 16. Directors serve for three years and during that time work upon membership development, program of work and other matters relating to the local WTSC members. The director also serves as liaison between the local chamber of commerce and the regional organization.

J. B. is manager of West Texas Utilities office here and is a past president of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce.

Funeral Services Held Today For Mrs. J. E. Roper

Funeral services for Mrs. Otta Roper, 73, pioneer resident of Memphis, were held at 2 p. m. Thursday (today) in the First United Methodist Church with Rev. Tom Posey, minister of the First Christian Church, officiating.

Lakeview To Have Halloween Carnival

The annual Halloween Carnival, sponsored by the Lakeview Senior and Junior Classes, will be held on Friday and Saturday nights, Oct. 30 and 31, at the Lakeview School Gym, it was announced this week.

The carnival will get underway at 6:30 each evening with plenty of entertainment and food both evenings. At the concession stand there will be sandwiches, homemade pies, cakes, candy, pops and coffee for sale.

A wide variety of entertainment is being planned. For those who

Public Invited To Lakeview Drug Lecture

The Lakeview Chapter of Young Homemakers cordially invites the public to attend a lecture on the subject, "Danger of Drugs," conducted by Chester Fant of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

The lecture will be held in the Lakeview Grade School Auditorium Wednesday, Nov. 4, and will begin at 8 p. m.

Mr. Fant is a well-known authority on the subject of drugs, members stated. "Since drugs have become a dangerous threat to the welfare of our children, we urge all parents and young people to attend if possible," the announcement stated.

A covered dish supper, also sponsored by the Young Homemakers, will be held preceding the lecture from 7 to 8 p. m. at the Lakeview Methodist Church.

The meat and dessert will be furnished, and those attending are asked to bring a green salad or vegetables and join in the fellowship.

Estelline Bears Open Dist. Play Against Darrouzett

The Estelline Bears open district play Friday night at 7:30 p. m. by playing host to the Darrouzett 8-man squad.

Estelline Coach Jimmie Don Adams reports that Darrouzett defeated Miami in their district opener 28 to 12 and Miami was ranked one of the top teams in the district.

"It's going to be physically a tough ballgame for us," the coach said, "as Darrouzett has several big boys and runs a power-type offense."

"We're going to have to stop them from scoring and hope to get the ball on some breaks in the four-down zone," Coach Adams said.

The Estelline squad lost the services of the team's leading ground gainer Glen Longbine who received a knee injury in the Cotton Center contest.

The Bears played a good first half against Cotton Center, as the score was 14-0 and should have been 8-0 according to Coach Adams. Cotton Center scored with only seconds on the half-time clock.

The Bears lost the game 46 to 10. Scoring for Estelline were Paul Bryant who returned a punt for over 50 yards for a touchdown and ran the two-point conversion and a safety brought about when Jacky Morris downed a Cotton Center back behind their goal-line.

Coach Adams said Bob Collins, a senior, will go into the starting lineup in Longbine's place.

"Our offense is not really outstanding," Coach Adams said, "but we have a lot of boys who can go in a play in a lot of different positions and do a good job."

Joyce Webster, Prominent Farm Leader, Dies

Joyce Webster, 51, life-long resident and prominent Hall County farmer, died early Tuesday morning at Scott and White Memorial Clinic in Temple where he had been undergoing treatment for the past several days. Mr. Webster had been ill for several months.

Funeral services were held at 4 p. m. today from the First Baptist Church with Tom Posey, minister of the First Christian Church, officiating.

Burial was in Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Spicer Funeral Home. Graveside services were conducted by the American Legion Simmons-Noel Post.

Born February 20, 1919, in Memphis, Mr. Webster was a graduate of the Memphis High School and Texas Technological College with the class of 1942.

He was a veteran of World War II and was a member of the local Simmons-Noel Post, having served as a past commander.

Throughout the years, he has been active in civic and community affairs, particularly those pertaining to the agricultural growth of the community.

At the time of his death, he was serving as a district director of the Soil and Water Conservation Service; a director of the High Plains Cotton Council, Lubbock; a director of the Memphis Farmer's Co-op Gin and secretary of the Lakeview Watershed District.

He was a long-time member of the Memphis Lions Club, having held various offices in that organization and is a past president.

Mr. Webster was also serving as Democratic Chairman of Hall County an office he had held for the past two years.

He is survived by his wife, (Continued on Page 12)

Polls Open At 8 A. M. Tues. For General Election

Leon Helm Named County FB President

Leon Helm was elected president of the Hall County Farm Bureau at the organization's annual convention here Saturday evening. The meeting was held in the Community Center, and W. M. Davis, Jr., president, served as master of ceremonies. A chili supper starting the activities, after the invocation by Rev. Elvis Pitts of Estelline.

Other officers elected for the incoming year were: R. B. Phillips, first vice president; Dwain Eller, second vice president; and G. W. Lockhart, secretary-treasurer.

During the business session, Pres. Davis gave a report of the Farm Bureau's activities during the past year. R. B. Phillips read the minutes of the last meeting, and Jerry Montgomery introduced Miss Darlene Proffitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Proffitt, who spoke on her trip to the Youth Seminar at Baylor University. The treasurer's report was given by Mr. Phillips.

From a slate of 14 candidates, the following directors were elected: W. M. Davis, Jr., Linton Gardshire, Jerry Montgomery, G. W. Lockhart, Raymond Whitten, N. W. Altman, Jr., and Arlie Shawhart.

Mayor Kenneth Dale introduced the speaker for the convention, Representative W. S. (Bill) Leath of Paducah.

In his opening remarks, Rep. Healy said that he would vote for Constitutional Amendments No. 3 and No. 6 in the General Election Nov. 3, adding that he would not comment upon the other five propositions. The insurance rates in the state were briefly discussed.

"Agriculture is still the No. 1 industry in the State of Texas," Rep. Healy said. "It is far ahead (Continued on Page 12)

Masons To Hold Special Area Meet In Memphis

Hubert Dennis, Worshipful Master of Memphis Masonic Lodge, has announced that a special meeting of all Masons in this area would be held in the Masonic Temple here Monday evening, Nov. 2 at 7:30 p. m. At this time, two 50-year membership awards, given by the Grand Lodge of Texas, will be presented to two local members.

Also on this occasion the local lodge will recognize all of the Past Masters of the lodge and lodges of the area who may attend.

Guy Smith, District Deputy Grand Master of the 95th Masonic District, will be in attendance and deliver a message to the membership.

All local and area Masons are invited and urged to attend this meeting, Dennis said.

Democrat's Cotton Guessing Contest To Continue Through Sat., Nov. 14

The harvesting of the 1970 cotton crop should get underway on a large scale soon as a killing frost finished off the leaf kill in cotton fields of an earlier light frost.

The Memphis Democrat 1970 cotton guessing contest is now underway and readers are invited to list their guesses at the Democrat office or mail in a card or letter with name, address and guess listed.

As is normally the case in contests like this, this year's guessing has gotten off to a slow start as many readers like to see what others are guessing before listing their guess.

Early guessers are listed below: Neal Hindman, 24,444; E. E. Cudd, 27,999; H. D. Tribble, 22,233; Audrey Tribble, 22,130; Lester Campbell, 18,888; Les Sims, 28,357; David E. Payne, 27,777; Mrs. Gayle Ariola, 23,450.

Also, Zipp Durrett, 17,481; Mrs. Henry Scott, 19,000; H. W. Wolf, 15,530; Mrs. Glynn Thompson, 19,000; P. A. Cowan, 17,821; and Jim Markgraf, 23,142.

The contest will continue through Saturday, Nov. 14.

Hall County voters will go to five voting boxes in the county in the 1970 General Election on Tuesday, Nov. 3. Polls open at 8 a. m. and close at 7 p. m.

Voters will mark a ballot with Democrat and Republican candidates listed and choose between the pro and con of seven constitutional amendments to the Texas Constitution.

Friday, Oct. 30, is the last day to vote absentee or to vote a limited ballot for those voters who have moved into this county and who have a voters registration from another county.

Mrs. Ruby Goodnight, county clerk, explained, "Where a voter moves from one county to another after he (or she) has been issued his (or her) voter registration certificate, he (or she) continues to vote on the certificate issued in the county of his former residence, but he must vote in the county and election precinct in which he resides on election day."

"Art. 5.05c of the Election Code states that during the first six months after removal he may vote only a limited ballot and this must be done in the county clerk's office. After he has lived in the county for six months, he votes a full ballot at the regular polling place."

"Friday is the last day to vote on a limited ballot or to vote absentee in the General Election," the county clerk said.

Election officials are as follows: Precinct No. 1, Memphis—Gordon Gilliam, presiding judge, Thomas Clayton, judge.

Precinct No. 13, Memphis—G. M. Duren, presiding judge, O. M. Cobby, Jr., judge.

Precinct No. 9, Lakeview—W. C. Hignight, presiding judge, Wm. H. Hughes, judge.

Precinct No. 8, Turkey—Elmer Lacy, presiding judge, Bruce Gibson, judge.

Precinct No. 5, Estelline—Frank Hedrick, presiding judge, Gerald Fowler, judge.

Funeral Services For V. G. Byars To Be Friday

Funeral services for Virgil Goen Byars, 73, will be held at 10:30 a. m. Friday, Oct. 30, in the First Baptist Church in Lakeview with the Rev. Harry Morris, pastor, officiating.

Burial will be in the L.O.O.F. Cemetery in Lakeview under the direction of Spicer Funeral Home. Mr. Byars passed away at 12:20 p. m. Wednesday in the Hall County Hospital.

A resident of Hall County since 1907, Mr. Byars resided four miles west of Lakeview. He was born August 26, 1897.

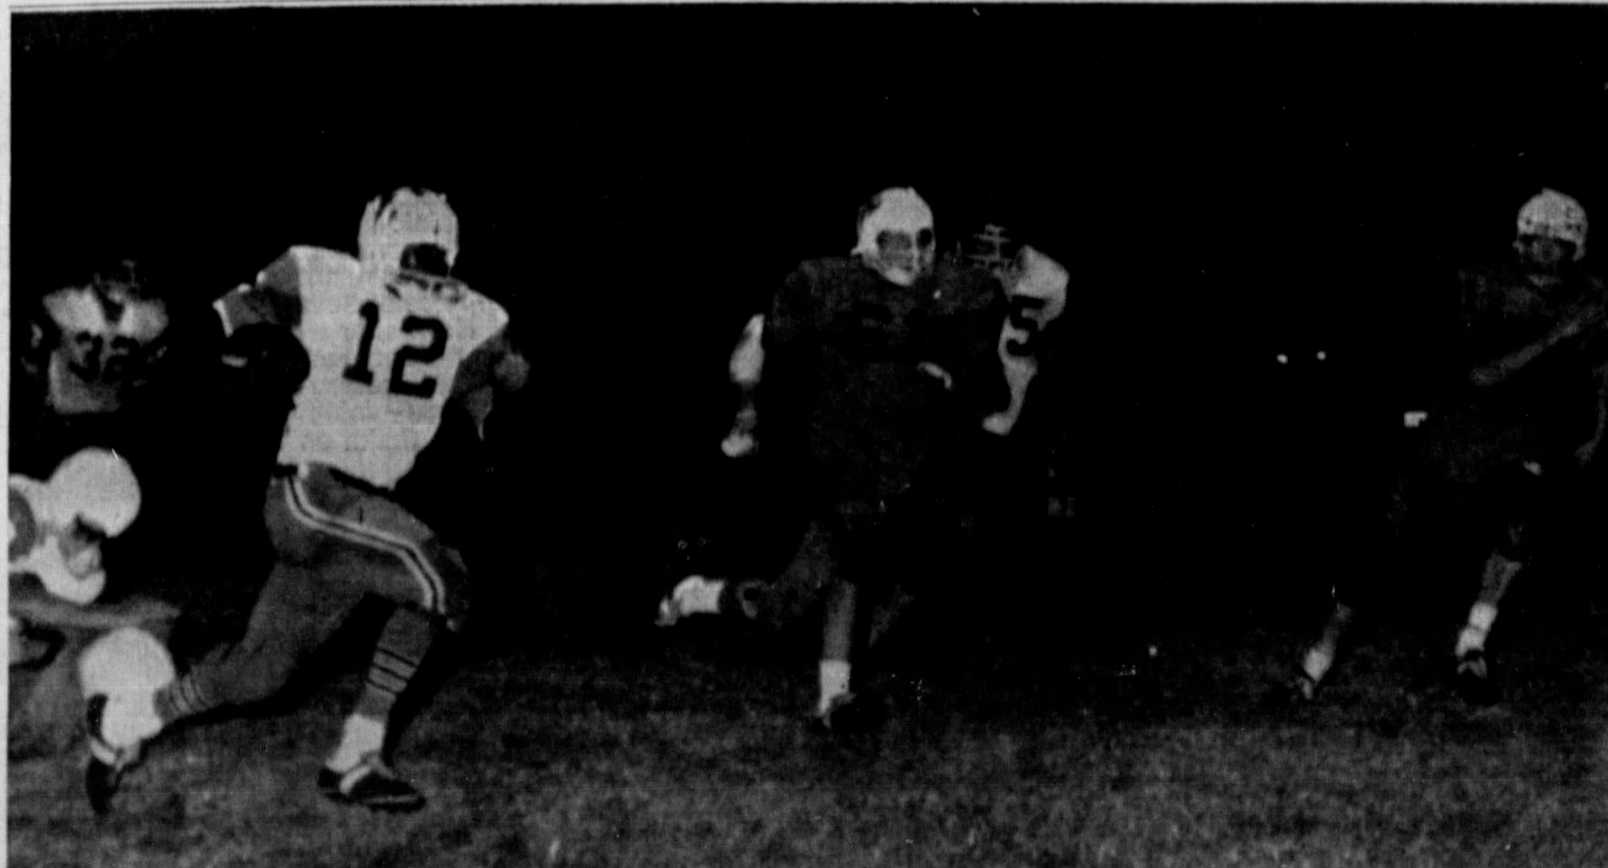

Mr. Byars was united in marriage to Miss Marion Badgett Sept. 14, 1919 at Lakeview.

He was a member of the Lakeview Baptist Church.

Classing Office Here Benefits Economy!

Some 34 years ago the U. S. Congress passed the Smith-Doxey Act, which provides for the free cotton classification and market news service which cotton producers are receiving today. Many of the younger farmers do not recognize the value of this service, but their older relatives can describe the situation back in other years.

This cotton quality and statistics bill was sponsored by Senator "Cotton Ed" Smith of South Carolina, and Congressman Doxey of Mississippi. Both were staunch Democrats, and represented the cotton farmers in Congress.

When the time came to establish a seasonal Classing Office in Memphis about 12 years ago, farm leaders organized the Greenbelt Cotton Producers, and began working for the office to be established here. The organization had the backing of Rep. W. S. (Bill) Heatly, another staunch Democrat in state politics. At the national level, Congressman Walter Rogers was instrumental in influencing USDA to authorize the office here.

The classing office and facility has meant much benefit to farmers of Hall County and the wide area it serves. Producers began immediately to get prompt and constant classification. Besides benefitting growers and ginners, this well-operated office was a direct advantage to the warehouses, cotton buyers and other segments of the cotton industry of this area.

The economy of Hall County and other counties has benefited during the past 11 years of operation in that the classing office remained open for three to four months each season. As many as 25 people living in the county and at Brice, Esteline, Memphis and Turkey were employed each season in order to operate the facility efficiently.

Since the office was established here, Rep. Heatly has continued support of the office but also other worthwhile programs for agriculture. He was reared in a "cotton" county, and has always worked for bills in the Legislature to obtain an ever-increasing cotton research program, which is vital to cotton which has strong competition from man-made (synthetic) fibers. Through his committees, Rep. Heatly has provided funds for cotton research to be carried on at Texas Tech University, Lubbock, A&M University, College Station; Texas University, Austin, and Texas Woman's University, Denton.

The record shows that he was instrumental with Speaker of the House Gus Mutscher, and the House of Representatives in passing an anti-pollution law that permitted cotton gins to operate at a lower cost than originally proposed by the federal government.

We need men like Bill Heatly along with friends of agriculture to remain in the House. As explained recently by a learned individual, "We need people down there who know the difference between a bale of cotton and a bale of hay."

The voting Deals People Make!

With election only a few days away, we urge our readers to beware of failing to go to the polls because of some deal of cancelling out votes with someone else.

We overheard a story the other day where a strong supporter of one party was concluding arguments with those of the other party with, "I don't guess there is any reason for you and I going to the polls, we'll just cancel out each other's vote."

It seems that he had influenced over 10 people not to go to the polls with this same argument and his conscience was beginning to bother him, so the story goes.

A person who fails to vote takes his vote away for his candidates. A person who decides to vote one way, over the other way, actually adds two votes to his favorite's column; the vote he gave his candidate and the vote he didn't give by choosing not to vote for the other side.

Go to the polls Tuesday, Nov. 3, and vote your own convictions. That's your privilege as a citizen, as a taxpayer, as an American and Texan. Don't let anybody or anything keep you from voting.

VOTE TEXAN

Don't let the politicians take your vote for granted on a blind party appeal, look at the man and the issues.

Environ Of a Small Town

A grocer moves his goods to a larger store, a firm adds a high radio antenna, a home town friend graduates from college, the city votes in a higher tax levy, a business celebrates its 75th anniversary . . . each a component in the metamorphosis of the small community.

These news events do not appear on the front pages of the metropolitan dailies. They are buried by stories of ghetto violence and war.

But the hometown paper was created for such happenings. They dwell on the news of home and friends.

The small town weekly is geared to report the many changes that comprise a community's evolution. Its goal is to cover objectively, each transformation proposed or being carried out in the community.

During the search for this news, one fact keeps reappearing. Although a town's features change, its personality remains relatively stable, unmarred by the effects of pollution and automation.

The town's foundation of people and buildings come and go, are born and wither away. Yet, its pattern of friendliness and an easy life is not altered by time.

The newspaper considers the modifications of born in the community as important events. The coverage is aimed at a target of understanding whereby each resident knows the direction his community is heading.

The small town's character is generated by its people. That desired component of warmth and care is radiated from generation to generation, family to family, and neighbor to neighbor.

Take Time To Vote

Political office seekers are giving the appearance of almost reaching the panic stage because of the apparent lack of interest in the election Nov. 3.

Democrats claim to be afraid the Republicans will go into office because all the Democrats stay home. And, Republicans claim they have to have every voter out if they are to win because there are too many Democrats in the state.

We do not know how the Democrats figure only their party will stay home or how the Republicans think that all the voters going to the polls will give them a victory if there are more Democrats.

Really, the people who should be pushing the panic button is we poor residents who are going to have to live under laws made by people elected by the minority of the voters.

It is beyond us how people can become so indifferent to their own fates that they will neglect becoming qualified voters and going to the polls and voting.

satisfy the voters. Then, they can forget that large segment that is too disinterested to vote.

Why Preston Smith ?

Preston Smith believes in working hard. For you. And that's why he's doing such a good job as Governor of Texas.

When Preston Smith entered public service, he didn't start by asking Texans to elect him Governor. That would have been foolish, because being Governor carries great responsibilities. And it demands the clear, steady judgement that comes only from experience.

Preston Smith had the good common sense to work his way up—gaining insight into how our state government functions.

He served six years each—as State Representative . . . as State Senator . . . and as Lieutenant Governor. Only then, when he felt fully qualified, did he seek the Office of Governor.

Now, after two years he has expanded the duties of the Governor's Office to better serve all the people of our State.

Yes, Preston Smith believes in hard work. For 20 years, he's been working for Texas—doing a good job. You can help keep him as Governor. Vote. Vote for Preston Smith on Tuesday, Nov. 3.

Preston Smith

is doing a good job. Let's keep him working for Texas.

I need to apologize to Vena (Molloy) Kulp for not acknowledging a letter I received from her several weeks ago. I wanted to share with me this letter with all the folders she mailed along with this letter. She is along with the land of "milk and honey" when it comes to historical places. The folders will be in Heritage Hall if any of you would like to look them over. I appreciated this letter and invitation very much and it gives me an inspiration to want to go visit this part of the U. S. where she and her family are now living in West Chester, Pa. Vena Kulp, as most of you will remember as Vena Molloy, was married to Karl Kulp here in Memphis. I think Karl is now helping build some of the log jet planes.

Dear Mr. Baldwin:
Everytime I tour an old house, museum, historical society, etc., I think of you and what you have started in Memphis. I have had the opportunity this past spring and summer to visit many places that I had not been before, so I picked up literature extra to send to you. Naturally, I can not keep from adding something from Chester County. I think Chester County is one of the loveliest places in the whole world. I wonder where else you can walk a country road; see God's beauty unmarred by man and industry; step into buildings over two hundred years old—and then get into your car and in thirty minutes be in one of the largest cities in the US, dirty and busy as only Philadelphia or maybe New York can be.

I feel that we, the Kulp's, are most fortunate to have picked the spot we did. We are near the entrance to the peaceful Brandywine Battlefield, on the banks of the Brandywine; near beautiful Longwood Gardens, smack in the middle of Hunt country. It is not at all unusual for a deer to run across our back yard, and pheasants come to find food in the fall; and I still, after 10 years here, get a thrill of hearing the hunter's horn and watching the hunt pass through our woods in back of our house. Fall here is so beautiful with all the woods and trees every shade and hue—I never want to miss a minute of it. This is why I couldn't help but add a few things about Chester County to this envelope.

If ever you are this way, please come to see us. This is a special invitation—I'll show you all the special places of Chester County.

I never tire of visiting the historical places. I cannot even drive through Valley Forge without getting out of my car and standing on that hallowed ground. I can almost see Washington and his men. I never get tired of going into Philly when we have out of towners come to see Independence Hall and the Bell—and Betsy Ross house and all of those even though I have seen them many times. I hope some day Memphis will have a Historical Society as we have here in West Chester and what have started will continue to grow. If ever you have a chance to visit William Penn Memorial Museum in Harrisburg, don't miss it. It is new—and unfinished—but much the same as you are doing for Hall County. Bless You.

Sincerely,
Vena (Molloy) Kulp

Willie Mae and I spent last week in Dallas and it was the first time for me to just walk and take in the town as far as I could get around. Dallas is a very interesting city to me as I have watched it grow all of these years. Forty years ago I thought when they finished covering up those big holes they would have the town complete, but not so, as they are still digging deeper and rebuilding. The same thing is happening with highways as I thought when the town was circled above and below that would be enough, but no they are now building that second story of highways over the town, and also going underneath some of the buildings with underground streets. They have made a very neat park place at number one main. In walking through there I sat down on one of the benches with the other Hippies and people of different walks of life. It is very interesting to sit there and study people and look at the surrounding over with beautiful shrubs and flowers along with the neat places of business and then looking skyward and see the 52 story bank building, but it may not be there too long the way progress tears down and builds again and this may be a 100 story building the next time. I noticed in the paper that this particular bank has offices in four foreign countries — London, Bahamas, Tokyo and France. Texas is really reaching out in the business world!

I have found out if you go to the city shopping your relatives and friends take you 20 miles out in the country to that new Six Flags Mall which is really something that for out as it covers a good many acres of land with business houses and parking lots. It is a sight to see if you have the opportunity and have not already been there ahead of me; but I will tell you I found out there were only two rest rooms in this large place and you have to have a map to find them! It takes about three of the employees to read the map to you. Everything is in this place from soup to nuts and I found a can of sardines for $2.95 but did not buy them. The same thing happens if you think you are going to eat in the city, your friends take you out 15 miles to eat a special dinner that was being served. It is surprising to know what a bunch of people we have in Dallas from Hall County.

In talking over the telephone to C. B. Harrison a few nights ago he called my attention to the fact that he remembered Buster Brown with his dog Tige was in Memphis when he was a kid and Buster Brown gave him a souvenir. We notice in the daily paper where Edmond Ansley of Hugo, Okla., (now 82 years old) but many will remember him as a midget, and he became Buster Brown at the age of 22, and he appeared on the road all over the United States before kid groups for 27 years. Others I visited with over telephone in Dallas were Rev. David M. Gardner and wife Sadie Ray. He was pastor of the First Baptist Church about 1917. In fact he tied our knot of wedded life 53 years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Massey who had just returned from a week's trip in Ireland, from the name I would guess they were looking up the O'Neils as that was her family name.

I also talked to Dr. Milford Rouse, who has been in bad health for past year, but says he is gradually getting stronger. He is a former Memphis boy and is past president of the American Medical Society. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Flannery are now in Dallas and they gave a good report on their family. Charlie was express agent here for a number of years in the 1920's. I talked to Mary Helen (McNeely) Sensabaugh and she is sending me a report on her family soon.

We used to have some entertainment in the way of contests in the early days for picnics and special occasions . . . would have climbing a greased slick pole, riding a greased hog, but times have changed. I noticed that they had a kissing contest at the Rose Festival in Tyler and two couples held out 9 hours and 17 minutes which was three hours more than the previous record. Both couples were awarded a trophy and I guess a jar of mentholatum. I think if they had used a little peanut butter between them in this contest they would have lasted a few more hours; as it must have been a very warm out dry occasion. Will give you more next week as short of time and space.

LETTERS

To The Editor

Spearman, Texas
October 21, 1970

Dear Editor:

I have been sent a clipping from the Houston Chronicle wherein, W. S. Heatly, is quoted as saying, at the opening of the Democratic Headquarters in Vernon, that Zack Fisher's challenge, among others was just "carpet-bagging" since Zack Fisher is a native of Ohio.

If it is important to go back to the Civil War for terminology, I will mention that my people were Southern Democrats as far back as there has been a Democratic Party. My father was Democratic Chairman of Hansford County. My brother was a Democratic State Representative.

For the public's information (which I am sure will never reach your readers, since apparently your idea of a free press is freedom to limit published information to that with which you agree) here are the facts:

Zack's father was killed in an accident in Ohio shortly before his birth; I waited until he was born, then returned to Hansford County, Texas, with his when he was three weeks old. He lived in Hansford County until he moved to Hall County.

Should a three weeks old baby be branded as a "carpet-bagger"?
Very truly yours,
Mrs. Helen Fisher
(Mother of Zack)

To the Editor:

For the past several weeks, I have heard pros and cons concerning the race for representative in our district, and I would like to take this opportunity to give recognition and express thanks to our present representative, Mr. W. S. "Bill" Heatly. I had heard that Mr. Heatly had helped many students in our area to obtain a college education, so I contacted Mr. Heatly and requested that he attempt to help me so that I could go to college.

Mr. Heatly did help me, for it was through his efforts that I obtained a job at Texas A&M University. The job is worth more than a scholarship or a grant. The money I make, if properly saved will enable me to finance my entire education. The experience that I will gain from my work will make my degree worth more. The old saying "experience is the best education" is certainly true. The job is through the College's Cooperative Education Program. It is with the Texas Transportation Institute in Civil Engineering for work of the research program.

Without the help of Mr. Heatly, I would have never received this chance, and I wanted the citizens of Childress to know what value Mr. Heatly is to this District.

Respectfully yours,
Donald R. Hatcher

Altman-Adams Nuptials Read In Pretty Church Rites At Hedley

The First United Methodist Church in Hedley was the setting Oct. 17 for the marriage of Miss Lana Mayre Altman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Altman of Hedley, and George Williams Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Adams of Round Rock.

The Rev. Billy Wilson, pastor, read the double ring ceremony at 8 p. m. before a candelabra arch flanked by floor baskets of white gladioli. Pairs of lighted white candles in the church windows completed the decor.

Mrs. Letha Springer of Hedley, organist played the traditional wedding marches for the processional and recessional and accompanied Mrs. Sharon Stafford, soloist, as she sang "One Hand One Heart" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Attendants

Mrs. Lura Helm of Clarendon served as matron of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Marlene Altman of Dallas and Mrs. Linda Wortham of Round Rock.

The attendants wore identical floor-length gowns of green peau de soie satin, fashioned with empire waists, A-line skirts trimmed with avocado green lace and ribbon. Their headpieces were of green tulle with large avocado velvet bows and they carried nosegays of white carnations tied with white ribbon streamers.

Miss Karen Helms of Clarendon was flower girl and ring bearer was James Wortham of Round Rock.

Pete Lee of Austin served as best man and groomsmen were Malcolm Wortham of Round Rock and Ronnie Stried of Austin. Ushers were Larry Altman of Dallas and W. R. Helge of Austin.

The Bride

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal wedding gown of white peau de soie styled with empire waist and A-line skirt, trimmed with imported lace applied roses studded with pearls.

Her full-length veil of tulle was also trimmed with imported lace appliques roses and pearls and she carried a bouquet of white carnations, centered with a single white orchid.

She observed the traditional bridal custom of wearing "something old, new, borrowed and blue." The something old was her grandmother's handkerchief and something new were earrings, a gift from the groom.

Mrs. Altman chose for her daughter's wedding a two-piece pink double knit dress accented with matching accessories and a corsage of pink gladiolus. Mrs. Adams, the groom's mother, was wearing a green crepe dress with matching lace coat and accessories. Her corsage was green and white mums.

Delphian Club Features Study On Pollution

Mrs. J. B. Browning was hostess to members of the Delphian Club for the Oct. 20 meeting at 4 p. m. in the Bronze Room of the First National Bank.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. B. A. Combs.

Mrs. F. A. Finch gave a report on the Santa Rosa District workshop which she attended recently in Burkburnett.

Mrs. Jack B. Boone, program chairman, introduced the program for the afternoon. Mrs. C. L. Smith brought the inspirational thought.

Mrs. L. F. Jones discussed "Control Water Pollution." She stated quality, not quantity is the greatest problem of our water today. We must clean up the water we already have available. The individual can help by not littering the landscape and waterways.

Mrs. Mildred Stephens discussed "Pollution Is Now Ubiquitous." To enable us to feed the nation, we must use chemicals and pesticides on the crops which add to the pollution. To raise meats and fowls we are creating a serious sewage disposal problem. To prevent erosion of the soil, a better conservation program will be needed. These are the problems the nation faces in order to help clean our water.

The hostess, Mrs. Browning, served refreshments to Meses J. L. Barnes, W. C. Dickey, J. S. McMurry, Sim Reeves, Robert Duncan, E. A. Combs, Kenneth Dale, C. L. Smith, John Deaver, H. L. F. Jones, G. Ariola, F. A. Finch, J. B. Boone, C. L. Chambers and two guests, Mrs. R. Brumley and Mrs. Spence.

The next meeting will be Guest Evening at the community center at 7 p. m.

Reception

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held for members of the wedding party and guests.

The table was laid with an imported linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of white carnations and green and white mums.

The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with white roses and green leaves and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Punch was served with the cake. Presiding at the serving table were Mrs. Sarah Park of Round Rock, Miss Joan Montgomery of Austin and Miss Linda Daniell of Round Rock.

Miss Cheryl Woodridge of Lubbock presided at the bride's guest book to secure signatures of the guests.

For a wedding trip to Acapulco, Mexico, the bride chose for travel a two-piece lime green dress with black patent accessories. She wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will make their home in Round Rock.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Adams, parents of the groom, were hosts for a rehearsal dinner on Friday evening, Oct. 16, at the De Ville Restaurant in Memphis.

Mrs. Blackmon, Malcolm Glass Marry Oct. 23

Mrs. Lovell Blackmon of Memphis and Malcolm Glass of Hedley were united in marriage Friday, Oct. 23, at 11:30 a. m. in the Church of Christ in Hall's, Okla., with the Minister, Albert Trent, officiating.

The couple's only attendants were Mrs. Irene Frisbie and Mrs. Cordia Levi, cousins of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Glass are at home in Memphis. Mrs. Glass is employed as a nurse at the Hall County Hospital while Mr. Glass has farming interests near Giles.

The energy of a single tornado has been estimated at a hundred million kilowatts, or one-third as much as the total electrical generating capacity in the United States.

MISS LINDA KAY MOORE

Linda Moore, Harold Knox to Marry Nov. 26

Mr. and Mrs. Glen D. Coleman of Memphis announce the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Linda Kay Moore, to Harold Loyd Knox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Knox of Estelline.

The wedding will be an event of Nov. 26 in the Church of Christ in Memphis.

Culture Club Features Program On Halloween

Mrs. Jim Lange was hostess to the Women's Culture Club at her home Oct. 21 at 4 p. m.

The president, Mrs. David May, presided at the business meeting. The meditation, "Taming of the Tongue," was given by Mrs. Ward Gurley with scripture reading from Phillipians 4:8 and James 3:4-5.

The program, "History of Halloween," was given by Mrs. Nat Bradley, who began with a quotation from E. H. Barham: "Ghosts, like ladies, never speak till spoken to."

Mrs. Bradley stated that Halloween, meaning "holy or hallowed evening" came on Oct. 31 and it was so named because it came the day before all Hallowes and All Saints' Day, Nov. 1.

The Celts, who occupied Northern and Western Europe (what is now France and the British Isles) had Druidism as their religion. Druid priests performed mystic ceremonies to the sun god. They would have great bonfires lighted on hilltops to honor the sun god and to frighten away evil spirits who had been released on that special night.

It was believed that witches rode through the skies on their broomsticks, for the idea that there were women who had sold themselves to the Devil was prevalent among the Druids as it had been among the early Egyptians and Romans.

Halloween was the night of the full yellow moon when black cats, bats, elves, and fairies were abroad.

After the spread of Christianity, enemies of the church made fun of the Christians; and on Halloween they worshiped the Devil, set skulls on pretended altars, or painted profane crosses on church walls.

Today when children wear ghost costumes, false faces or witches' hats, carry pumpkin lanterns and use black cats or bats as decorations, they are following very ancient customs. "Trick or treat" comes from the old practice of poor people going to homes and begging for "soul cake."

One very worthwhile practice now at Halloween is the children collecting funds for UNICEF. Mrs. Bradley concluded. These funds are used not only for milk but to fight disease in underdeveloped countries. Best of all, this idea of the youngsters taking part in this movement is an excellent way to turn youthful energy into a really worthwhile pastime, one that is truly characteristic of America.

A surprise guest, Madama Zorba (Jeanette Irons), in gay costume and mask suddenly appeared with her crystal ball and glibly told the fortune of each member.

Carrying out the Halloween motif the hostess served refreshments from an attractively decorated table to the following: Miss Sybil Gurley and Meses Theodore Swift, A. W. Howard, David May, Pat Lewis, Grover Moss, Frank Ellis, Ward Gurley, Clifford Farmer, Alvin Pyerrit, Nat Bradley and L. A. Stillwell.

1913 Study Club Members Treated To Iberian Tour

By VIRGINIA BROWDER

Sixteen members of the 1913 Study Club and one guest, Mildred Myers of Lexington, Mo., were treated to a delightful armchair tour of the Iberian Peninsula and outlying islands Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 21, in the country home of Mrs. Mack Richards. Mrs. Bill Prince set the mood for the journey by reading a poem by Santayana.

Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard, with narration and colored slides, entertained those present with an interesting account of her flight to Portugal and subsequent side trips to the Madeira and Canary Islands and Morocco in Northern Africa, and a tour of Spain.

So far, those countries across the sea are not overrun with tourist traffic which makes for a more pleasant sojourn thereabouts. The scenery, the people and their customs combined to make a wonderful trip for our globe-trotting member, Mrs. Kinard, and her presentation was beautifully handled.

During the business session of the afternoon's program, directed by the president, Mrs. Bray Cook, a report by Meses Gayle Greene and Bill Prince as chairman for the UNICEF Trick or Treat campaign Halloween night was given.

This project, sponsored by the 1913 Study Club each fall, garners a tidy sum to be sent overseas for food and medicines for needy children. Don't forget to contribute to this worthwhile cause when the youngsters ring your door bell the night of Oct. 31. Prizes of $2 each will be given to the boy and girl who collect the most monies.

Cards were to be sent to Mrs. James Nelson, wife of the pastor of the First Methodist Church, who has had surgery in Galveston and to Mrs. Gary Tarver who suffered a farm injury.

After the imaginary travels abroad, the group settled down to tasty refreshments and visiting in the Richards lovely country home. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard.

Shower Honors Dallas Bride-To-Be

The Bronze Room of the First National Bank was the setting Saturday evening, Oct. 24, for a lovely bridal shower complimenting Miss Marilyn Leonard of Dallas, bride-elect of Jerry A. Moss of Dallas, formerly of Memphis and son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moss.

Guests, who called between the hours of 7:30 to 9:00 o'clock were greeted by Mrs. Gene Lindsey and presented to the groom's mother, Mrs. Robert Moss and the honoree. The refreshment table was laid with a lovely white dotted swiss and lace cloth with brass and crystal appointments. The table was centered with an epergne holding apricot baby mums interspersed with white tapers.

The bride-elect's chosen colors of apricot and white were noted in the refreshments.

Miss Susan Clark, Laura Sue Moss, Jamie Moss and Mrs. David May, cousins of the groom-to-be presided at the refreshment table.

Guests were registered by Miss Holly Clark, cousin of the groom-to-be.

A lovely array of gifts were displayed in the party room. Hostesses for the courtesy were Meses Gene Lindsey, Wendell Harrison, Hubert Jones, Nat Bradley, Les Sims, Frank Ellis, L. A. Stiwell, Jack Rose, L. F. Jones, R. B. Phillips, Billy Ray Jones, Clifford Bradshaw, E. R. Daugherty, Frank Goffinet, W. R. Scott, D. G. Miller, Kenneth Dale and Henry Foster.

Christian CWF Members Enjoy 'Pot-Luck' Supper

The Christian Women's Fellowship of the Christian Church met in the fellowship hall for a "pot-luck" supper Monday evening, Oct. 26.

The tables were lain with white covers with orange runners and colorful floral arrangements and napkins further carried out a Halloween theme. Susie Kesterson and Lucile Randal acted as hostesses.

Susie Coleman offered the invocation and a bountiful array of food was enjoyed during the dinner hour.

The program consisted of group singing of several hymns with Louise Fowler, the accompanist, Lucile Randal gave three humorous readings, "Girls," "Aging" and "As It Was." Susie Kesterson gave "The Refugee" Psalm 137 and a poem "Burial of Moses." A song, "Now the Day is Over" concluded the program.

Attending were guests Bess Sterling and Wilma Leslie, and members: Mary Sue Stotts, Du Odom, Genevieve Murdock, Susie Coleman, Opal Curry, Doris Widener, Dorothy Stargel, Faye Posey, Mable Roberts, Faye Maddox, Louise Fowler, Lucile Randal, Susie Kesterson and Lucie Aspgrren.

Geo. W. Sexauer Is Party Honoree On 90th Birthday

George W. Sexauer, who celebrated his 90th birthday, Sunday, Oct. 25, was honored with a reception by Mr. and Mrs. Ira Phelps, his daughter, of Corpus Christi, Tex. The gala affair was held in the Rainbow Room of the Wesley Manor, Weslaco, Texas, where Mr. Sexauer presently resides.

Decorated with an arrangement of red carnations sent by his son, Robert Sexauer, and wife of Memphis, the tea table also held the birthday cake, which was a replica of the ranch where the nonagenarian spent most of his life in Hall County.

Grandchildren and great grandchildren attending the party were Georgene Phelps; Mr. and Mrs. George Clover, Jr., and children, Scott and Cathy, of Corpus Christi; and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Cole and children, Qua, Paige and Greg from Harlingen, Tex.

Approximately 75 residents of the home were on hand to congratulate Mr. Sexauer and to partake of the punch and cake.

Salvation

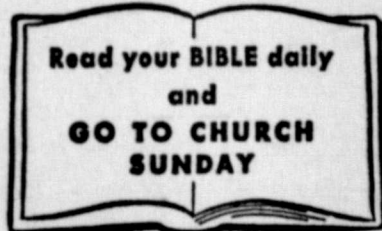

"But may all who seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee; may those who love thy salvation say continually, "Great is the Lord!" —Psalms 40-16

Each man must seek salvation. One cannot wait for God to appear in the heavens, for some miracle to suddenly bring the blessings of faith.

Search for the goodness in life. Meet your responsibilities with honesty and determine the purpose of your thoughts and your actions.

Search for your salvation. You will come to know God and you will find the strength to live a life that is pleasing and fruitful.

F. U. Pres. Says Administration Farm Bill Could Cost Texas Farmers Billions

The insistence of the Nixon Administration on dropping meaningful parity from the farm bill could cost Texas feed grain producers a total of $50.4 million in the next three years if it becomes law, Jay Naman, president of Texas Farmers Union said in a speech recently.

Naman said the bill's provision to limit the support for corn to $1.35 per bushel, and comparable levels for grain sorghum and barley, will cost Texas farmers $10 million the first year, $16.8 million the second year, and $23.6 million the third year—a total of $50.4 million. These figures represent the difference between the flat ($1.35 per bushel for corn) support and 75 per cent of parity which was provided in the farm bill passed by the Senate.

"At a time when the farmers of our state are already hurting as a result of low prices and rising costs, this reduction in income is an extremely serious matter," Naman said.

"The Farmers Union fought hard for higher income protection for feed grains producers," naman said. "And in the Senate, the bill was amended to provide for 75 per cent of parity or $1.35 per bushel, whichever was higher. The House had passed the flat $1.35 per bushel support. It was our hope that the House and Senate Conferees would adopt the improved Senate version. Unfortunately, they did not."

Naman said, "The effect of the Nixon Administration farm bill is to set a rigid ceiling on income for feed grain producers. In this time when inflation continues to cause costs to spiral upward, I think this is not only unfair to farmers, it is unwise. A farm depression could plunge the rest of the economy into a general depression."

Mrs. Joe Rasco Celebrates 93rd Birthday Sunday

On Sunday Foster and Gertrude Rasco gave a surprise birthday dinner for their mother, Mrs. Joe Rasco, who was 93 years "young" on October 28.

Present for the happy occasion were Mrs. J. B. Pickett of Hedley, sister of Mrs. Rasco; Mrs. Zack (June Rasco) White, daughter of Foster Rasco, Mike and Cindy and Mrs. Boles (sister-in-law of Mrs. White) and Richard, all of Wichita Falls. Also, Mrs. Wanda Pickett and Beth and Robert Pickett and son, John, of Amarillo.

Department Says Pesticide User Ultimate Loser

AUSTIN — Man could conceivably lose his wear with insects because of his method of doing battle with them, according to J. R. Singleton, executive director of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

This point was recently illustrated in an article on the garden page of one of Texas' major dailies, said Singleton.

The article reported that grubs seemed to be worse this year than in previous years and were killing off large patches of lawns. Several chemicals, the article said, including Spectracide and Heptachlor, have been used for control in the past, but now these preparations apparently are not as effective as they once were.

In fact, landowners were getting better results with Heptachlor by using two to three times as much as previously, and even this heavy dosage does not always work.

The grubs are not the first insecticide-resistant insect according to Singleton, and most probably will not be the last.

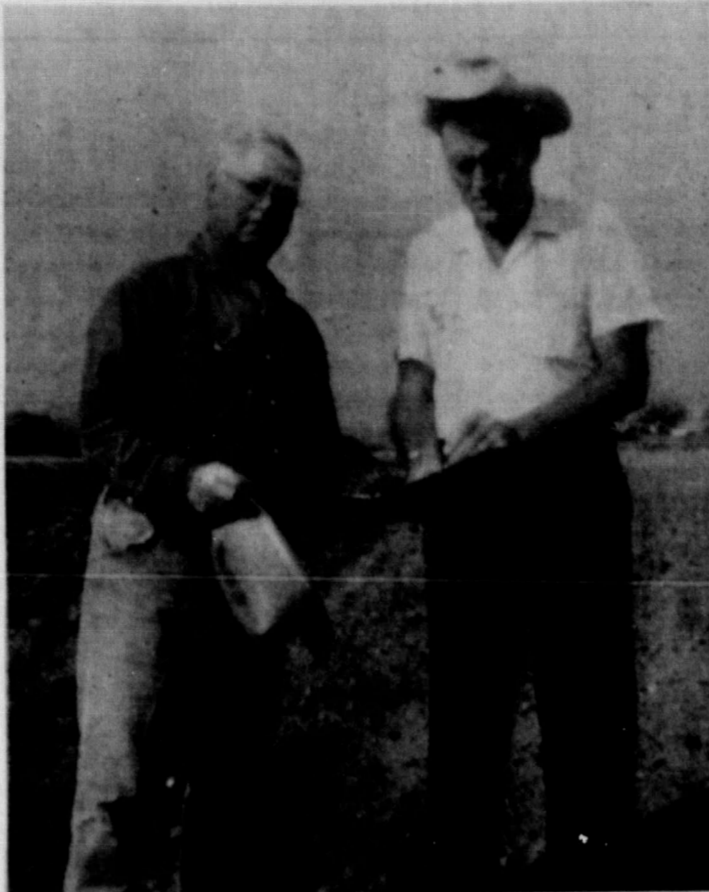

"With the insect's fantastic breeding potential it takes them only a few generations to adapt to adverse situations," said Singleton. "Out of millions of insects in a species, only a few may be resistant to a pesticide, but these few survive a spraying, reproduce and pass this resistance to their offspring."

According to Singleton, by the process of natural selection, the insects will become almost totally immune to pesticides, necessitating a change in pesticides and larger doses.

Because of this, insects may eventually win out, and man will have dangerously polluted his environment while helping the insects to win, said Singleton. And, since pesticides adversely affect the natural enemies of insects, the predators which have kept insects in check for millions of years may cease to exist.

Of all the trout species the German brown is the heartiest. It can withstand pollution much better than its many cousins.

ASCS Employee Honored

Miss Patsy Jarrell Is Granted High Quality Performance Award

Miss Patsy Jarrell, chief program assistant of the Hall County ASCS office, has been granted a high quality performance award which provides for a yearly increase in salary. The award is in recognition of Miss Jarrell's unusual meritorious service as acting county executive director of the Hall County ASCS office during the period of October 1969 through January 1970.

Miss Jarrell's normal job requirements provides for assisting in supervising office employees engaged in various programs and participating in organizing office work under the direction of a county executive director. As acting county executive director, Miss Jarrell was also called upon to be directly responsible to the Hall County ASCS Committee for the effective management and administration of assigned programs and activities for which the county office was responsible. It was necessary for her to furnish advice and assistance to farmers, to explain the various programs offered and to interpret policies, regulations and procedures. Miss Jarrell accomplished her task as acting county executive director in an exceptional manner while continuing to perform as chief program assistant. Program deadlines were met, and high quality work was performed.

The award was presented to Miss Jarrell by J. Robert Hanvey, Jr., chairman of the Hall County ASCS Committee.

Miss Jarrell has also been extended the appreciation of the Texas State ASCS Office for the excellent service she is rendering to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

CRADLE ROLL CALL

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Young of Midland announce the arrival of a son, Michael Collins, born Oct. 14. He weighed 7 pounds, 3 1/2 ounces. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Young of Memphis and the maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Lee Brownfield of Brownfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Bailey of Memphis are the parents of a daughter, born Oct. 27 in Hall County Hospital. She weighed 6 pounds, 8 ounces and has been named Kristi Ann.

One of the few spices which grow below the ground, ginger is the root of a herbaceous perennial plant that flourishes in tropical and semi-tropical climates.

County Farmers Are Planning New Terraces

Now is the time to plan farm operations to include parallel terraces for next year's crop, according to Royce Frisbie, Conservation technician.

Many farmers in the Hall-Childress Soil and Water Conservation District have already made these plans with assistance from the Soil Conservation Service of Hall County.

The parallel terrace construction season is already underway with completion of seven miles on the Mack Richards farm seven miles west of Memphis; 4.4 miles completed and three miles planned for construction on the Bill Miller farm two miles southwest of Memphis; and 2.1 miles on the J. B. Byars farm four miles northwest of Lakeview.

Parallel terraces can increase crop yields and reduce farming operation cost. This is done as the new parallel terraces are designed to eliminate unnecessary point rows and to allow for an even distribution of water for plant use. As a result, farming operation costs are cut, moisture is more evenly distributed, and stream and air pollution is reduced to a minimum.

Kara Dee Anderson Honored On Her Fourth Birthday

USDA Sec. Hardin Speaks On Cotton Future To Int'l. Advisory Committee

At the opening session of the 29th Planary Meeting of the International Cotton Advisory Committee in Washington, D. C., in mid-October, Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin underlined the importance of cotton to farm livelihood in this country, according to Larry B. Rogers, county executive director, Hall County ASCS.

Believing that Secretary Hardin's remarks on the cotton industry will be of interest to local cotton growers and others associated with the industry, the ASCS director provided the following excerpts from Hardin's speech:

"While cotton may not bulk as large in total U. S. agricultural production as in some countries, cotton is just as important to farm livelihood and to regional economies in the United States as it is in other sections of the world.

"Cotton is an important crop in 12 of our 50 states. In four of them it provides one-fourth or more of total receipts from the marketing of farm crops.

"In the central part of the cotton belt—where 60 per cent of the crop is produced—one-third of the crop production work force is employed in cotton.

"The estimated investment in the U. S. cotton industry—in land, machinery, equipment, supplies—is in the neighborhood of $20 billion.

"So it is natural—and proper—that the United States is concerned about the cotton farmer and his ability to make a living—just as every other cotton growing country represented on this committee.

"We are concerned that cotton has been in trouble and continues to be in trouble—worldwide as well as in the U. S. We all know that cotton is not sharing in the impressive growth of the textile market.

"The hard fact is that cotton's share of this expanding market has dropped from 65 per cent to less than 50 per cent in the recent past.

"In simple terms, cotton—a fiber unmatched by any other, natural or man-made—has been out-researched, out-promoted, and outsold by man-made fibers.

"It is unrealistic, I think, to expect that cotton can ever match the huge sums spent by man-made on research and promotion. But it is realistic to expect that by working together, with wise use of the resources available, and with a sharing of problems and burdens, the cotton family can reduce the widening gap between synthetics and cotton, on which so many millions depend for a living.

"Price, of course, is a crucial factor—not only in the market place, where it largely determines sales, but in the cotton field where the farmer must meet his expenses and feed his family with the return he gets from his farming operation.

"This means that supplies must be balanced to provide the producer with a fair return for his cotton at a price that will move it on the markets of the world. This is no easy challenge, as all of us here can testify.

"From the producer's standpoint, world cotton prices the last year or two have not been attractive, although the recent upturn has improved the situation. However, with competition from man-made fibers, there is no future for cotton at a high price—either in the short run or the long run. Cotton pays a penalty for high prices in shifts to man-made—markets do not seem to come back no matter what the subsequent price.

"This suggests to me that the future of cotton, while it depends on research and promotion, yes, depends even more on the ability of the producing countries to shift their thinking from gross production to efficient low cost production.

"The key question should be: How can we have a prosperous domestic cotton economy at prices that are competitive with the world over?

"No matter how important cotton may be to a national economy, the basic planners must think first not of how to grow more cotton, but rather how to grow and market cotton more efficiently and sell it in competition with other fibers.

"You will be discussing these problems this week, and next. The United States is pleased to participate once again, because we intend to continue to produce cotton, and to continue to work within the cotton family as a reliable producer for world markets."

Methodist WSCS Meets For Study in Brown Home

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the First United Methodist Church met Monday, Oct. 26, at 3 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Lee Brown with Mrs. M. Tarver as co-hostess.

Mrs. Tarver led in prayer for the ill of the church.

Mrs. W. J. McMaster continued her Latin American study with an informative report on the burning issues for the Christian Community. She stated that the Christian community should be Roman Catholic or Evangelical, will contribute to the renewal of his church and will break precepts and join hands as he walks the treacherous paths of a revolutionary age with God's help.

Mrs. Clent Srygley told an interesting human interest story about "Guidesposts" about Juan Lopez, a Bolivian boy, deformed from birth who was constructed artificial limbs by an American doctor who brought him to this country. In gratitude, the vice-president of Bolivia established a rehabilitation hospital for children there.

Mrs. Ed Hutcherson gave a comprehensive discussion of the concluding chapters of Liggett's book, "Where Tomorrow Struggles to be Born" concerning the challenge to the world church. The Christian churches in North America must comprehend the relationship between their internal struggles for justice and the same struggles in Latin America. She quoted, from a Spanish philosopher, important words for our times, "Man, in these circumstances, can ask of God not peace but glory."

Mrs. F. W. Foxhall gave a report on the Dozier sub-district meeting held recently. The hostesses served tasty refreshments to the ones already mentioned and Mmes. W. V. Courty, J. J. McDaniel, J. P. Montgomery, Mary Lou Erwin.

Four Local Women Attend WSCS Meet

Mmes. Ed Hutcherson, Carl Morris, Clent Srygley and F. W. Foxhall attended the Women's Society sub-district meeting in Dozier at the First United Methodist Church on Tuesday, Oct. 20.

Atalantean Club Meets in Home of Mrs. Bryan Adams

The Atalantean Club met Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 21, in the home of Mrs. Bryan Adams with Mrs. Hulda Wilson serving as co-hostess.

The convocation was given by Mrs. Parker. Pledge to the flags were given. Mrs. Foster, president, called the meeting to order.

Mrs. Montgomery called the roll and read the minutes of the previous meeting, which were approved as read. In calling for reports from the various committees, Mrs. Douthit gave the plans on the upcoming Gentlemen's evening program on November 3. Mrs. Parker gave request for the Christmas box to be given to the Vernon center and also reported that several of the club women were serving as hostesses during the week for Heritage Hall.

Mrs. McCollum gave a report on the book sale for the Friends of the Library and Mrs. Foxhall gave a report on the L.V.N. scholarship fund.

Miss Imogene King, program chairman, gave the theme of the program for the day as "International Affairs" and introduced Mrs. Scott who gave "United Nations, What it Means to Us." Mrs. Douthit followed with the next part "United Nations 25th Birthday—What Progress?"

Mrs. Wilson talked on "Accomplishments International Clubs," and Mrs. Montgomery closed the program by reading a poem entitled "The Foot Path to Peace."

Using the Halloween motif, the hostess served the following club members: Mmes. E. E. Cudd, W. C. Dickey, Robert Spicer, Cecil McCollum, Eddie Foxhall, Harold Gouge, Henry Foster, H. B. Estes, Jerry Montgomery, Minnie Kinslow, Robert Sexauer, Burl Smith, Glynis Thompson, W. E. Scott, Dub Parker, Bob Douthit, Miss Imogene King, Mrs. Hulda Wilson and Mrs. Bryan Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. Glynn Thompson Enjoy Vacation in Northern States, Canada

(Editor's Note: Mr. and Mrs. Thompson recently returned from a vacation trip to the northern states and Canada. Below is an account of the trip written by Mrs. Thompson for publication at the request of the editor.)

On October 8th, Glynn and I left Amarillo for a vacation trip to the northern states and Canada. We were met at Rapid Rapids, Iowa, where we met Mr. Eldon and his wife, Mrs. Tressie. Eldon is National Park Superintendent of Effigy National Monument at Rapid Rapids, Iowa, which is just across the Mississippi River from the historic Old French town of De la Poudre, Wisconsin.

The fall color season or foliage was out in all its gorgeous shades of yellows to deep golden yellow, many shades of red, green pine and Juniper trees were in full, the saying "Only God can make a Tree", I believe only nature can dress the trees in such lovely fall colors, as we went out to change to a new scene every day. One day at the National Park Center at Effigy National Park, Wisconsin, we saw about 4,000 people registered, many were from every state in the U.S.A. and had made a special trip to see the colorful foliage.

About 60 miles up the Wisconsin River from McGregor is a lovely valley called Kickapoo Valley. The miles and miles of trees in every direction were apple trees with lush ripe red and yellow apples. As this is apple harvesting time, they pick the apples in hand the same as we pick apples and plums around here. The picker or truck takes them to an apple sorting shed where they are run out on a conveyor, first through a washing barrel, (its a law that apples must be well washed before going to market), second through a grading for size by, third—to basket containers to markets all over the world. Apple Cider, Apple Juice, and Jellies are also prepared up and down this valley.

Our tour took us to Minneapolis, Minnesota, and Duluth Minn., Lake Superior. I could write about this Industrial, busy city on Lake Superior. The Large Iron Ore mine is here and Iron from this mine is used and shipped over the world. Big ships and smaller boats are going and coming at times to the loading docks and other boats are having fun and racing amid the big ships, you wonder sometimes if they will collide. Lake Superior is one of the Great Lakes that has not become contaminated by waste from factories, and the Duluth people are very hard to keep it clean. We entered Canada at International Falls and drove by car along the Canadian border, by "The House in the Woods". It was snowed this entire day, but it only added to the beauty of the foliage. This lake is not "little", you could fit plenty water all around it. The lake is a deep clear sky blue surrounded by huge forests of trees. It is breath-takingly beautiful. We browsed the shops of Minneapolis and enjoyed the "ole" English quaintness of the City and were impressed with their leisurely mode of living and dining. We re-entered the United States and the car was thoroughly checked and we each had to show drivers licenses to prove that we were U.S. citizens.

Brainerd, Minn., near Cass Lake is the head waters of the Mississippi River. This was our second stop there, but it is still an interesting and lively little city. Brainerd, Minn., has a paper mill and this point miles and miles of logs were floating down the river at this factory. Another sight to remember on the Mississippi was Delta Queen, the ole Mississippi show boat that came up the river sounding the deep whistle of a steamboat, with passengers aboard waving, shouting and singing on its final trip to be in permanent anchorage at St. Paul. It made us sad to see this beautiful boat stop forever just because it was old and Interstate Commerce said so.

At St. Paul we had a glimpse of Tricia Nixon as she was there the day we were on our way back from Canada. Then by chance we had a three hour delay between planes at Kansas City Air terminal and saw the Presidents Plane Air Force Number One, land and a brief glimpse of President Nixon as he came down the plane ramp to enter a waiting limousine, where he went to the City Hall to speak in behalf of some Republican Senator from Kansas. Kansas City is so beautiful after dark with millions of twinkling lights in every direction. Not only the trees and glittering lights of town at night are showy but the wild life such as Otter, Beaver, Deer, Canadian Geese, Squirrels, and Chipmunks were seen all along the rivers and streams working and preparing for the long cold winter by rebuilding their houses and storing forest nuts and corn for their winter food. Many birds stay the year around along the rivers and one may see the Cardinal, Blue Jay, Red Headed Woodpecker, Chick-a-dee and several varieties of Sparrows and many other birds that I did not recognize.

Needless to say this color tour was fascinating to us from the Air and along the beautiful highways of the Good Ole U.S.A. If you want to see our beautiful Country take a trip through Kansas, Minnesota and Wisconsin in color season and you will be rewarded by its spectacular beauty.

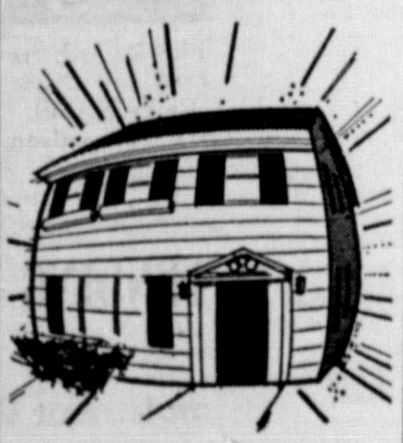

LETTERS FROM READERS

To the Editor: Two days were entirely too short for the many things I had hoped to do and too short to meet the many Relatives, Friends and Acquaintances that I had hoped for.

Coming to Memphis, it to me like coming Home. The fickle Finger of Fate has during my lifetime, pointed many ways for me to follow. Some have been smooth and many have been rough and disastrous. But my Guardian Angel has walked beside me and showed me the way during the years since my Father took me to Memphis and I reached Manhood and chose from many types of livelihood, what has been my form of life for more than Sixty years. That life has been; Automotive Transportation. Every Day, Every Month, Every Year since that time has a story to tell. Personal aggrandisement has not been my Goal.

The all Brick Paving in Memphis to get us out of the MUD. The Farm to Market Roads to get the Farmers out of the MUD. This was also to get the Doctors to the Farms when sickness struck. These things were accomplished by showing the People that the Automobile could do the Job. That the Automobile in the form of a Tractor could help the Farmer cultivate his land and as a Truck the Automobile could help him get his Crop to Market. And above all, it was necessary to demonstrate that the Automobile could be maintained in operating condition by the Farmers and his Boys. To that end I have Dedicated the past Sixty years of my life from the Streets of Memphis to How things have grown!

Be it ever so humble, that home of yours—and what's inside—represent values you may not have dreamed of. Market prices of everything are up and going higher. What would it cost to replace your home and the contents you have accumulated over the years? If you know, you're the exception. We can help you find out. That's part of our business. the Trails of the Great Southwest. Returning to Amarillo late Sunday evening with my Life long Friend; Ernest Hembree; also a Memphis Boy; it was with great satisfaction that I mentioned to him that the Automobiles and Trucks; although they were passing us by? They were still following in our Footsteps.

Pardon Me but what I started out to say was; Enclosed is Bank Money Order No. 83477 at $5.50 for subscription to the Democrat. I want to keep in touch now in preparation for my next visit Home which I hope to be soon. I had intended to leave this with Byron Baldwin but as I said Time passed too quick. I would appreciate an Issue covering the Picnic if you have one available.

Yours truly,

Dear Sir: You have just taken your seat on a 747 and the intercom projects. "Ladies and Gentlemen, we have two pilots for this flight. One is a flashy individual who has no experience in flying airplanes, but he has read many aviation magazines and has several friends who are pilots. He says he believes he can pilot the 747 right through the skies. We also have here a veteran pilot with over 20 years experience, flying all types of planes and is presently flying the 747. He too is confident he can give us a safe and sure flight. Which pilot do you prefer?"

Granted; most beginners would like to start at the top, but I doubt if Texas can afford any Governor who does not understand the complicated legislative procedures, and you don't learn it unless you've been there.

To borrow the Farrell Royal phrase, Preston Smith didn't arrive at the statehouse on a load of wood.

R. B. (Mac) McAlister

Dear Mr. Combs: I am sending a map of Texas which will show rather graphically the comparative voting strength of Harris County as compared to Northwest Texas.

It is my estimate, based on the unofficial census figures now available, that our Northwest Texas area will have sixteen (16) House Members and Harris County will have at least twenty-two (22) House Members after the redistricting that will occur in 1971. As you can see, we will lose two members and Harris County will gain at least three or more.

This loss of members means that our area and all other agricultural areas will have a smaller voice at voting time when the Legislature convenes in 1973.

We in agriculture will then be almost totally dependent on our seniority and Committee Chairmanships for our strength. This is why that I feel it is important to have people like Bill Heatly re-elected. It is because of his seniority and position as Appropriations Committee Chairman that we from this area are able to have a dominant role in the House of Representatives. He is our "anchor man".

It was surely nice getting to visit with you on the phone, and I am pleased to send the information concerning the 1971 redistrict data which you requested.

Sincerely,
Delwin L. Jones

Wheeler Mustangs Top Cyclone 28-7

The Memphis Cyclone held the favored Wheeler Mustangs to a 7-0 first half score but saw the Mustangs open with almost a flawless passing attack to go with their steady ground game in the second half to lose the contest 28 to 7 at Wheeler Friday night.

Coach Clyde McMurray's Cyclone defense staged one of the best game plans of the season against the Mustangs in the second quarter which gave Memphis the football on the one-foot line.

Prior to this, Wheeler's offense had totally dominated the first part of the contest as the Mustangs drove following the opening kickoff to the home 20; where, on a third down and five needed, a fumble resulted and Memphis' No. 12 Louis Davis recovering for the Cyclone.

Memphis first series of downs saw two passes go incomplete and Roger Kehr stepped for only a one-yard gain. Punter Bill Oslin booted the ball into the arms of Dale Stevens who with a good runback set Wheeler up on the Memphis 32-yd. line.

and raced to the Memphis 5 setting up the Mustangs' first TD. Roy Don Chick carried over for the first TD two plays later and Stevens kicked the point after.

Memphis received the kickoff and returned it to the home 20. TB Louis Davis made two yards on the first play. Then two more passes went incomplete and Oslin punted the ball to the Wheeler 39.

Carries by Chick, Jimmie Cole, a 170 pounder, and QB Fischer moved the ball to the Memphis 15, but here this drive was stopped on a measurement and Memphis took over on the home 5. Chick tried for a first on fourth-and-1 but was stopped short.

Carries by Davis for one yard and Kehr for nine yards left Memphis needing only inches, but a third down carry by Kehr failed to net first down yardage so Oslin punted to the Wheeler 40.

The Mustangs again drove into Memphis territory. A key play was a pass from Fischer to HB Cole which, along with a piling on penalty against Memphis gave Wheeler the ball on the Memphis 4.

It looked like a sure score as Chick knifed for three yards to the one. Then, the Cyclone defensive line charged across on the three consecutive plays, stopping Chick on two plays and Cole on the last play giving Memphis the ball on the one-foot line.

The Cyclone made two first downs, one when Davis was hit after the play ended after he made a five-yard gain, and the other on a series of carries by Davis, Kehr and Davis to the home 35. Here Memphis was penalized and held and Oslin punted the ball, but the Mustang who tried to field it fumbled the catch and Terry Wynn recovered for the Cyclone on the Wheeler 37. QB John Carmen passed the ball to Larry Jeffers for a first to the Mustangs 26. Then, Louis Davis added eight more.

With only seconds on the clock before halftime, Memphis went to the airways and a pass into the endzone to Mark Hundley was a little high as Hundley and the defenders actually disappeared into a ditch behind the goal post on the north end of the field.

On the next pass play, Cole intercepted the pass for Wheeler. The second half opened with Davis, on two consecutive carries making a first down to the Memphis 43. But Cole again grabbed off a Memphis pass and returned it to the Memphis 40.

The Mustangs marched in for their second TD of the night with the scoring play a 10-yd. carry by Cole on the second down. Stevens booted the point after and the Cyclone trailed 14-0.

Memphis came into possession of the football on the Wheeler 47 as Louis Davis recovered a fumble, and the Cyclone scored five plays later.

Davis carried for three yards, then Kehr made one yard. Davis carried for three more and Kehr kept the drive alive with a hard three-yard gain. The chain came out but Memphis had a first down on the Mustangs' 37.

On the next play, TB Davis skirted right end, got good blocks and broke into the clear and won the foothold to the goal line. Roger Kehr kicked the point after and the score was 14 to 7.

The Mustangs came back after the kickoff and drove 75 yards for a touchdown. Cole carried over from the two-yard line and Stevens booted the PAT.

Memphis fumbled the kickoff and Wheeler recovered on the home 33, but the Cyclone defense stopped the Mustangs, forcing them to punt.

QB Mark Stevenson completed a pass to Mark Hundley for a first down to the home 42. But here, three consecutive passes went wide and the local team gave up the football. The Mustangs were held near mid-field and punted to the home 23.

The Cyclone couldn't get going and punted the ball to the Mustangs' 48. The Wheeler squad marched down the field for a touchdown with Jimmie Cole carrying over from the nine-yd. line. Stevens added the PAT.

In the final minutes of the game Memphis moved for a first down but had to give the ball up on downs to Wheeler with only seconds on the clock.

Louis Davis carried the ball 17 times for 112 yards for a 6.6-yd. per carry average. Davis in the Wheeler game broke the 1,000-yd. mark. He has carried the ball 131 times this season, in seven football games and has made 1017 yards averaging seven and three-quarters yards per carry for the season. Davis is well on his way of setting a new season offensive rushing record for the Cyclone.

Roger Kehr carried eight times for 24 yards and a three-yard average. John Carmen carried twice for minus two yards on pass plays and Mark Stevenson carried twice on pass plays from a minus 8.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE 80TH DISTRICT

... Are you sure you know how your state representative works behind the scenes in Austin. The copy below will call to your attention what actually happened and what the record reflects. W. S. Heatly, as a member of the House conference committee, recommended that the State Sales Tax be extended to apply to groceries and farm machinery. Notice the conspicuous absence of Senator Kennard's signature. He was opposed to the recommendation and refused to sign it . . . Why didn't Mr. Heatly do the same? Is it because he has lost touch with the people he represents? We submit to you that we as voters of the 80th District are being led down the primrose path to lopsided state government because we lack the facilities to check on our elected representatives as the years go by. These very same officials fail to keep us informed except on issues that might help re-elect them. We know that competition is the only tool we have to keep our public servants honest. Vote for Zack Fisher Tuesday, and take advantage of the use of this tool.

Grocery Levy Threat To Proposal

By BOB BYERS
Chief, Chronicle Austin Bureau
Austin—A $505 million tax bill $412 million more for the state and $71 million more for the city sales tax cities—came under heavy attack today as the House met for the do-or-die vote on approval.

House Speaker Gus F. Mutscher, Jr. of Brenham, who worked all day Sunday pressuring members to vote for the bill, acknowledged the measure might be defeated mainly because it would impose the state sales tax on groceries.

If the bill passes, groceries also will be subject to the local option city sales tax, and food stores will ring up a total state-local sales tax of approximately $40 million on groceries bought during the 20 months beginning Jan. 1, 1970.

Mutscher predicted "about an even break" on the House vote, which will come approximately 6 hours before the 30-day special session ends at midnight Wednesday.

"We've got an uphill battle still," Mutscher conceded. "We're pretty close to the margin (a simple majority of those voting), but I couldn't say we definitely have the votes at this time."

The tax compromise was worked out by a 10-man House-Senate conference committee Friday.

It squeaked by the Senate, 15 to 14, at 12:33 a. m. Sunday after a 23 and one-half hour filibuster by a band of opposition liberals.

Tax Bill Blackmail Charged In House

Austin (UPI) — Angry legislators accused House leaders today of "appropriations bill blackmail" and said they are being threatened with spending cuts in their districts unless they vote for the tax bill.

Rep. Bob Thomas, D-Waco, said he was threatened with loss of a $90,000 appropriation for an institution in his district.

Rep. Burke Musgrove, D-Breckinridge, said the chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, Rep. W. S. Heatly, D-Paducah, called me in and reminded me that I have a high percentage of elderly people in my district who will be getting a 5 per cent pension raise" if the tax bill passes.

Musgrove said he considered this "appropriations bill blackmail."

"This is the first time in at least 10 years that we've had to vote on a tax bill before the appropriations bill was passed," he said.

Musgrove and Thomas both said they will vote against the tax bill anyway.

"The leadership can threaten me all they want because I am not going to vote for a tax on food," Thomas said. A key provision in the bill extends the sales tax to groceries.

Thomas declined to name the person who made the alleged threat, but said, "The pressure is on and the thumbscrews are being tightened by the House leadership in an attempt to round up votes for the food tax."

Thomas said the appropriation in question was for repair of wind damage at James Connally Technical Institute at Waco.

Rep. Joe Allen, D-Baytown, released a statement calling the tax bill "a thoughtless, immature and ridiculous answer" to the problems of state financing.

He said it would be "inconceivable and inhumane" to tax food to pay for every legislator's "petty little pet (project) in the appropriations bill."

The expansion of the sales tax to cover groceries, repair and maintenance services on everything except homes and buildings, and to add alcoholic beverages and farm machinery will far exceed the amount involved in the rate reduction on items now taxed.

ELECT FISHER

STATE REPRESENTATIVE 80TH DISTRICT

Integrity Is The Issue!

(Fisher for Legislature Committee, Johnny Farnsworth, Chair.)

AMENDMENT TO: JUCAH POST, DAY TIMES, TARRANT COUNTY HERALD, TARRANT TRIBUNE, TARRANT TRIBUNE, ADDRESS REPORT, PHOENIX DEMOCRAT, TARRANT COUNTY NEWS, TARRANT TEXAN

Proposed Constitutional Amendments

authorizing the legislature to provide for consolidating offices and functions of governmental subdivisions by contract between political subdivisions in any county.

The proposed amendment to Article III, Section 64, Subsection (b), of the Texas Constitution, authorizes the legislature, by special statute, to provide for consolidation of governmental offices and functions of political subdivisions within any county in the state, provided such consolidation is approved by the voters in the political subdivisions involved. It also authorizes such political subdivisions involved to contract with each other to perform governmental functions under terms and conditions as may be prescribed by the legislature.

Background: During the past 25 years the population increase and industrial growth of Texas have resulted in more and more demands for governmental services. Because of constitutional limitations that often barred extending political subdivisions from providing assistance, a legislative program of creating "special districts" was established. As the creation of special districts increased, and it became evident that many of them had overlapping jurisdictions and tax assessments, the legislature sought to provide densely populated areas with a means of consolidating many of the services and functions. In 1933 the County Home-Rule Amendment was adopted by the voters. It allowed counties to provide additional services on a countywide basis. The amendment was extremely long and detailed, and at present no county has adopted a home-rule charter. In 1966 the voters adopted an amendment which would permit Harris County to facilitate consolidation of governmental services. In 1968 the voters approved a similar amendment for Tarrant and El Paso counties.

The 1933 Home-Rule Amendment called for a charter and possible consolidation of all governmental functions and all political subdivisions. The amendments adopted by the voters in 1966 and 1968 permit the consolidation of offices and functions but do not permit the abolition of any local government.

Arguments For
Adoption of the proposed amendment would permit counties to do away with costly duplication of services by consolidation, under which one governmental unit could be authorized to make assessments for all political subdivisions through an equal and fair assessment ratio, thereby providing more equitable apportionment of ad valorem taxes. Such consolidation would also result in coordinated planning to meet the demands of growing metropolitan areas.

Under the proposed amendment enabling legislation would be permissive and subject to approval of voters in the political subdivisions involved.

Arguments Against
Adoption of the proposed amendment would be the first step toward evercentralization of government at the county level. It could result in too much authority resting in the hands of a few.

The countywide area could assume expensive responsibilities in providing various services primarily or exclusively to the cities, thus increasing unfairly the countywide tax burden.

OUR COUNTY AGENT SAYS

Rear-View Mirror Is A Necessity On Tractor

A rear-view mirror on the farm tractor can save lives on the highway and help the operator do more and better work in the field.

Many motorists, points out County Agent W. B. Hooser, have found themselves in a difficult spot because a tractor driver did not know what was happening behind him. The addition of a rear view mirror can change this situation, enabling the tractor driver to know at all times of approaching traffic from the rear.

The county agent believes every farm tractor should be equipped with a rear view mirror, not only for safety purposes, but also as an aid to field work. And, he adds, if the tractor and/or equipment must be moved on highways that one of the slow moving emblems be installed.

A rear view mirror aids in viewing the operation of a trailing machine or equipment in the field. It makes the work easier and permits the driver to face forward at all times. This makes for a better job and greater safety.

"It is rather difficult to do a good job of tractor driving while looking backwards. The addition of a rear view mirror can correct this situation and it could save a life—maybe yours," Hooser said.

Selective Service To Call 450 Men During November

AUSTIN, Oct. 9.—The November draft call for Texas is 450, and local boards will fill the call with men with random sequence numbers 1 through 145, insofar as possible, Colonel Charles M. Duncan, acting state Selective Service director, said Friday. He stated, however, that this does not mean that registrants with numbers higher than 145 may not be needed for future calls.

Colonel Duncan stressed that under the new Executive Order signed by the President September 26, 1970, all men in I-A, I-A-O or I-O on December 31, 1970, with numbers lower than the high number reached this calendar year by their own local boards will be assigned to the Extended Priority Selection Group to be called during the first quarter of 1971. Those with a higher number than the high number reached will be assigned to the Second Priority Group in 1971.

The Texas November draft quota of 450 is the state's share of a national quota for 8,000 men, all for the army.

The state quota for pre-induction physical and mental examinations in November is 1,310. Men sent for these examinations will be limited to those with random sequence numbers 1 through 195 from the drawing in December 1969 and numbers 1 through 100, from the July 1970 drawing for those born in 1951.

All volunteers at the draft boards must be inducted ahead of the non-volunteers selected and ordered to report for induction by random sequence number.

Local board quotas for induction and pre-induction examination in November were mailed to the state's 159 boards Friday, Oct. 9.

receives Ponce Training Grant

An action grant of $17,850 to the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission to support its regional police training program was approved today by the Texas Criminal Justice Council.

It was one of 21 action grants, totaling $436,399 approved at the Council's regular monthly meeting.

Judge Joe Frazier Brown, executive director of the Criminal Justice Council, said the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission is contracting with Amarillo Junior College to give basic training for 75 men and specialized training to 60 officers during the next year. The courses are approved by the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education.

An in-kind match of $39,600 will be provided by the grantee for the program to begin immediately.

Counties in the Panhandle State Planning Region are Collingsworth, Lipscomb, Potter, Randall, Armstrong, Briscoe, Carson, Cas-

Farmer, Roberts, Sherman, Swisher, and Wheeler.

The Criminal Justice Council, responsible for statewide planning, administers grants to units of state and local government to assist them in carrying out projects for improving the criminal justice system. The funds come from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, U. S. Department of Justice, under provision of the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968.

Tax Man Sam Sez—

Contrary to what most taxpayers think, the law definitely prescribes a dual responsibility for the Internal Revenue Service employee. Their first task is to secure fair and impartial compliance with our Nation's tax laws. This does not simply mean that they round up all the tax cheaters and put them in jail. It means that the tax men have to work both sides of the street. Thousands of taxpayers make mistakes in favor of the government. The Internal Revenue Service employees try to get this money back to the tax-hundred million each year. They probably cannot find all of the taxpayers' mistakes.

When a taxpayer is audited, the Internal Revenue Agent is obligated to find and report any overpayment of tax on the same basis as he does on the underpayment of tax. Eight percent of the taxpayers audited during a recent year received refunds and almost a bill.

Memphis Junior Teams To See Action Against Chillicothe, Shamrock, McLean

The Memphis Junior High teams will all play away tonight but the Memphis J-V Freshmen will play hosts to Chillicothe at 7 p. m. in Cyclone Stadium.

The 8th grade Whirlwinds still involved in district play travel to McLean for a 6:30 p. m. football game tonight. The second 8th grade unit and the seventh graders travel to Shamrock for football games over there.

The Memphis J-V team was split up this week and six of these players and two freshmen players were moved to the varsity squad. The remaining players on the J-V team join with the remaining players on the freshman squad and will compose the B team against Chillicothe.

Coach Clyde McMurray said that this composite team will possibly play the old J-V schedule for the remainder of the season, but the schedule will have to be agreed upon by schools concerned.

The Whirlwinds with ranks swelled with the seventh graders, handed Claude's 8th grade team a 52 to 6 defeat last Thursday night.

Scoring for the 8th graders against Claude were McKay with three touchdowns, Don Davis with one touchdown, Davis added a two-point conversion, and Jimmy Melton had a conversion.

Scoring for the seventh graders who saw action the second half of the contest were: Charles Bley one touchdown, Ricky Douthitt one touchdown, and Ricky Miller a conversion.

The Memphis J-Vs played Clarendon last Thursday and defeated the Clarendon team for the second time this season, this time with a score of 40 to 5.

Mike Beaudry passed to Vernon Busby for one touchdown and carried over for another. Mark Bradshaw carried for one TD and a two-point conversion and Paul Fowler carried for three touch-

Tower Drive In Ends Season With Sat. Night Show

John Wolfe, owner of the Tower Drive In and Capitol Theatre in Memphis, this week announced that the drive in theatre would be closed for the season after the Saturday night double-feature was shown to the public.

The closing of the Tower Drive In will follow the special show for Halloween, "Devil's Kiss As From The Grave," and "Frankenstein Must Be Destroyed."

No movies will be shown here Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 1-4, Mr. Wolfe stated. During this period, the Capitol Theatre downtown in Memphis will be made ready for the late Fall and Winter run of pictures.

The Capitol will open for the season with a double feature "Kugel 'Dachau'" and "The 100th Hour." Show time will be at 7:30 p. m.

downs. Mack Miller carried for a two-point conversion. The freshmen squad played Chillicothe at Chillicothe last Thursday and lost a close game 28 to 22.

Scoring were Raul Ruiz for one TD, QB Bobby Hall for one TD and passing to Jimmy Booth for another. Jim Dixon carried for one two-point conversion and Coach Joe Rain said Dixon has several fine carries during the contest.

Cyclone—

defensive line and secondary of the Cyclone.

The big news around Memphis this week is the complete shake-up in the Cyclone camp as Coach Clyde McMurray Monday brought up six new sophomores to go with the one already on the varsity and added two freshmen to the Cyclone varsity roster.

"We will be playing in black uniforms since we have more of them than our gold uniforms," the coach said Wednesday.

Workouts this week have been lively in the Cyclone camp as Sophomores Robert Snider, Lenix Simpson and Terry Wheeler moved into starting offensive line positions and Sophomore fullback Paul Fowler and Freshman fullback Mark Bradshaw moved into the backfield in starting positions.

Regulars HE Louis Davis, who against Wheeler broke the 1,000-yd. season rushing mark, QB John Carman, Center Terry Wynn, Tackle Glen Miller and Ends Larry Jeffers and Donnie Carroll round out the starting offensive unit.

A complete set of running backs are also expected to shift in and out of the Cyclone backfield as a unit during the game. These include halfbacks Larry Don Johnson and Ronald Caridis, both sophomores and Freshman fullback Jim Dixon.

Sophomore center Matt Thompson has also been moved up to the varsity squad, Coach McMurray said.

The Cyclone defensive unit has fewer changes with Jeffers and Carroll at defensive ends, Billy Bulew and E. L. Kirkland at tackles, Janice Kannon and John (Ike) at defensive guards, Chris Luter is middle linebacker as Terry Wynn moved out to a safety position along with John Carman, Mark Stevenson and Louis Davis.

Coach McMurray announced that in moving the right boys to the varsity squad, the junior varsity squad will be broken up and the remaining freshmen and sophomores will be playing Chillicothe Thursday night at 7 p. m.

Coach McMurray, in discussing the upcoming game with McLean, said the Tigers are capable of scoring whenever they have possession of the football. "We must play ball control football against them if we see to win the game," he coach said.

The Cyclone will go on the field "vital night with the top running acts of the freshman, sophomore and varsity squads behind a line composed of sophomores and juniors."

"McLean has an experienced defensive line which is small and quick," Coach McMurray said. "We must be sure to control the ball well we're going to have to block them, even though this will be a difficult chore due to their quickness."

The Memphis coach is producing a high scoring, hard fought contest against McLean.

Memphis YH To Hold Chili Sinner Friday

And Group Form Army Band

Private David Douthitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Douthitt of Memphis, joined with 12 other soldiers to form a marching band of his company while taking basic training at Fort Ord, Calif., according to information received here.

Douthitt, who was inducted into the army July 14, completed basic training on Sept. 18 and is now attending a clerical school at Fort Ord.

Douthitt is a member of the Headquarters Company, 2nd Battalion, 3rd BCT Brigade. The trumpet player from Memphis and his group were featured in a news story with accompanying picture in the Sept. 4th issue of "Fort Ord Panorama", the U. S. Army Training Center's weekly newspaper.

The band plays for special occasions and were also featured musicians at the exercises upon completion of basic training.

Mrs. Douthitt and daughter Stacy are making their home in Memphis where Mrs. Douthitt is employed as a teacher's aid at Travis School.

Migrant Health Nurse Attends Plainview Meet

Rita Anderson, nurse of the Migrant Health Project here, attended a 3-day workshop in Plainview, Oct. 20-22.

The workshop included three "Communities of Solution" inhabited by migrants: 1. urban community, 2. rural community, and 3. migrant camps.

A tour was conducted through the migrant housing and camps in the Plainview area.

The Place To Feature House Of Horrors Sat.

On Halloween night, Oct. 31, a House of Horrors will be featured at "The Place," located on the corner of 7th and Brice Streets.

The special activities will be for both the young and old alike, and will begin at 8:30 p. m. Admission fees of 50 cents will be charged for those 10 years of age or older, and 25 cents for 10 years of age and under.

Refreshments and other things will be sold during the evening, and the House of Horrors will furnish entertainment to those attending.

Sponsors for the special activity will be Mr. and Mrs. Mackie Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Gallow and Coach Joe Rain.

The seasons reported, "horror and fright will be guaranteed on Halloween night."

By giving figures, he compared the time it took workers to earn money to buy food in 1920 against the time of 1970, adding, "Now a family in this nation spends only 17 per cent of its income for food."

The speaker outlined cost of farm operating, citing the ever-increasing demand for more capital if the farmers remain in business.

"Water is becoming more of a problem as we face the future," Healy stated. "Also our marketing problems are on the increase, and there is more output for the input of money coming our way as we produce food and fiber."

The speaker stated that agricultural research is on the increase, citing places where experts are devoting their efforts to aid farmers and ranchers. "If we continue to grow, appropriations are necessary. We must spend more money on the research which is presently going on."

After the election of officers which concluded the convention, whatever action necessary to always represent the views of our members, and to render any service we can, especially in endorsement of our current farm programs, insurance, and other related service activities. We further pledge our continued cooperation with all other county organizations for the promotion and growth of our county. We appreciate the support of our many good friends and hope that we may continue to merit that support.

Loss This Week

The Memphis TOPS Chapter met in regular session Monday morning, October 26, in the American Legion Hall. Nine members weighed in with 10 1/2 pounds and 2 pounds gained.

Eula Belle Hall was the winner of the fruit basket for the month of October and Edna Lee won the crown for the most pounds lost for the past week.

Bill Healy has earned gratitude for countless services rendered to Hall County and its citizens, especially in matters involving agriculture and conservation water resources.
