Cyclone Band Captures Division I In Marching

The Memphis Cyclone Band captured the Class A UIL Region Marching Contest and captured a Division I, the highest grade awarded. This is the first time the local band has been able to capture a Division I in marching since 1964 when Ronny Wells was the local band director. Miss Carol Blain, local band director, said, "I'm real proud. We had 100 per cent. We're on our way, pointing toward honor band." Miss Blain and other band members were concerned when the contest was postponed a week due to bad weather, and still the weather was bad Tuesday as cold winds made marching difficult at the Canyon contest.

"We were ready last week for the contest, so when it was postponed we took it easy for a few days before getting back up for the contest this week," Miss Blain said.

The local band received Div. I marks on all three judges sheets. The band was one of two bands in Class A receiving a Div. I rating, sharing the honor with Gruver. There were 12 Class A bands competing.

Of all 36 bands at Canyon in all the classes including Junior High, 12 bands were given Div. I ratings.

Following are some of the judges' comments about the local band and its routine:

Tom C. Rhodes, Fredericksburg—"Good spirit and drive... good work drums on dynamics... fine marching sound... well planned and excellent show."

Clyde Wilson—"Beautiful execution of entrance. Knee lift and stride well done in a uniform manner. Nice control of sound and pitch. Balance is good. Am impressed with obvious mental attitude on field. Overall performance, except for occasional malalignment and loss of control in some brass passages, is a fine and enjoyable experience. Excellent teaching evident and hard work

Veterans Day, Wednesday, Nov. 11, will be observed at the American Legion Home in Memphis by the Simmons-Noel Post No. 175, with a 7:30 p. m. dinner and program, on Tuesday night, Nov. 10.

Menu for the dinner will be fried chicken, mashed potatoes, creamed gravy and tossed salad.

Post Commander J. T. Stone in making the announcement reminded Legionnaires that membership dues are now $7.00 but will be $10.00 after November 11.

Also, the American Legion Post is seeking 8x10 pictures of past commanders of the post. Names listed below are those which the post still need pictures to be supplied.

"Some are now deceased and we would certainly appreciate anyone who has a picture to please contact us or Mrs. Bill Ballew on this matter," Cmdr. Stone said.

Needed are: Gordon Gilliam, Frank Van Pelt, Joe Durham, T. D. Weatherby, O. V. Alexander, Claud Ferrel, W. B. McQueen, J. J. Roan, Jr., T. L. (Tommy) Robinson, W. A. Leigon, Jr., A. M. Sims, Robert Philpot, Jack Norman and Kenneth Maddox.

Hall County Judge E. (Gip) McMurry has signed a proclamation setting aside Wednesday, Nov. 11, as a special day to remember and honor Veterans in Hall County. The proclamation is published elsewhere in this issue.

One of the major issues being promoted by The American Legion this Veterans Day is the plight of American servicemen missing in action or prisoners-of-war in Southeast Asia as a result of the war in Indochina.

Local churches are being asked to say a special prayer in behalf of these servicemen.

The National American Legion is making this issue its main concern this year and are giving it the highest priority. The common goal is identification of our MIA and POW personnel, better treatment for them and impartial inspection by the Red Cross or other neutral agency of their prison facilities, the immediate repatriation of the sick and wounded prisoners, and the right of communication between prisoners and their families.

Estelline Travels To Miami Fri. Nite

The Estelline Bears, with a district victory over Darrouzett, travel to Miami for the second district contest of the season against the Warriors at 7:30 p. m. Friday.

Coach Jimmie Don Adams of Estelline is expecting a hard fought game at Miami. "Our boys want to even the score with Miami after last year's defeat. We thought we ought to have won the game last year but Miami won it," Coach Adams said.

Miami has lost to Guthrie, 38 to 12, and to Darrouzett, 26 to 12, in district play this year.

Coach Adams said the Bears played good football against Darrouzett last Friday defeating the visitors 42 to 8. "We jumped on them early and didn't make any mistakes until after we had the ballgame won," he said.

"QB Paul Bryant and HB Doug Fowler had about the best night of their careers against Darrouzett on offense," the Estelline coach said.

Adams cited Gene Bruce, Roland Trevino and Ricky Pierce as outstanding on offense against Darrouzett.

Estelline jumped to a 16-0 first quarter lead as Jackie Morris caught a 24-yd. pass from QB Bryant and Richard Holland caught a 2-point conversion pass.

Then HB Bob Collins, who came into the lineup when Glen Longbine was sidelined with a knee injury, carried over from the 4-yd. line for the second TD. Doug Fowler carried on the two-point conversion.

Coach Adams said he was real pleased with Collins' play in the Darrouzett game.

Ricky Pierce caught a Bryant pass for a 35-yd. TD in the final minute of the second quarter and Estelline enjoyed a 22-0 halftime lead.

After the half, Bob Collins caught a 16-yd. pass from Bryant for another TD but the attempt for points failed.

Fowler got loose on a 20-yd. TD scamper to give Estelline a 34 to 0 lead before Darrouzett could get on the scoreboard.

Estelline's final score came on a 3-yd. pass from QB Bryant to Doug Fowler, and Tommy Williams carried over for the final two-point conversion.

Friday night week, Estelline will travel to Patton Springs for a

Cyclone To Go To Claude Friday Night

The Memphis Cyclone worked this week on defensive problems and on polishing a promising offense to prepare for the last road game of the season when Memphis travels to Claude to tangle with the Mustangs.

Local fans who make the trip to Claude Friday night for the 7:30 p. m. game will see the local team with pretty much the same offense, personnel-wise, as was used against McLean last Friday night. Coach Clyde McMurray reported Wednesday.

Defensively, the local coach said, several changes have occurred which he is quite pleased with this week. "I am pleased with the overall results of what we're trying to do with our defensively alignment," he said.

"We will have four boys down, Larry Jeffers, E. L. Kirkland, Junior Kennon and John Orr, with inside linebackers Terry Wynn and Chris Liner, outside backs Paul Fowler and Mark Stevenson and safety backs John Carmen, Louis Davis and Larry Johnson.

Offensively, Coach McMurray said, "against McLean last Friday we were able to mount several sustained drives, which is the first time in several games we have been able to do so. I was pleased with this but disappointed that we let these drives die fruitless deep in McLean's end of the field."

"Our punting game let McLean have two touchdowns early, but at halftime I felt confident we could win the game because our offense was capable of moving the ball against McLean," the Memphis coach said.

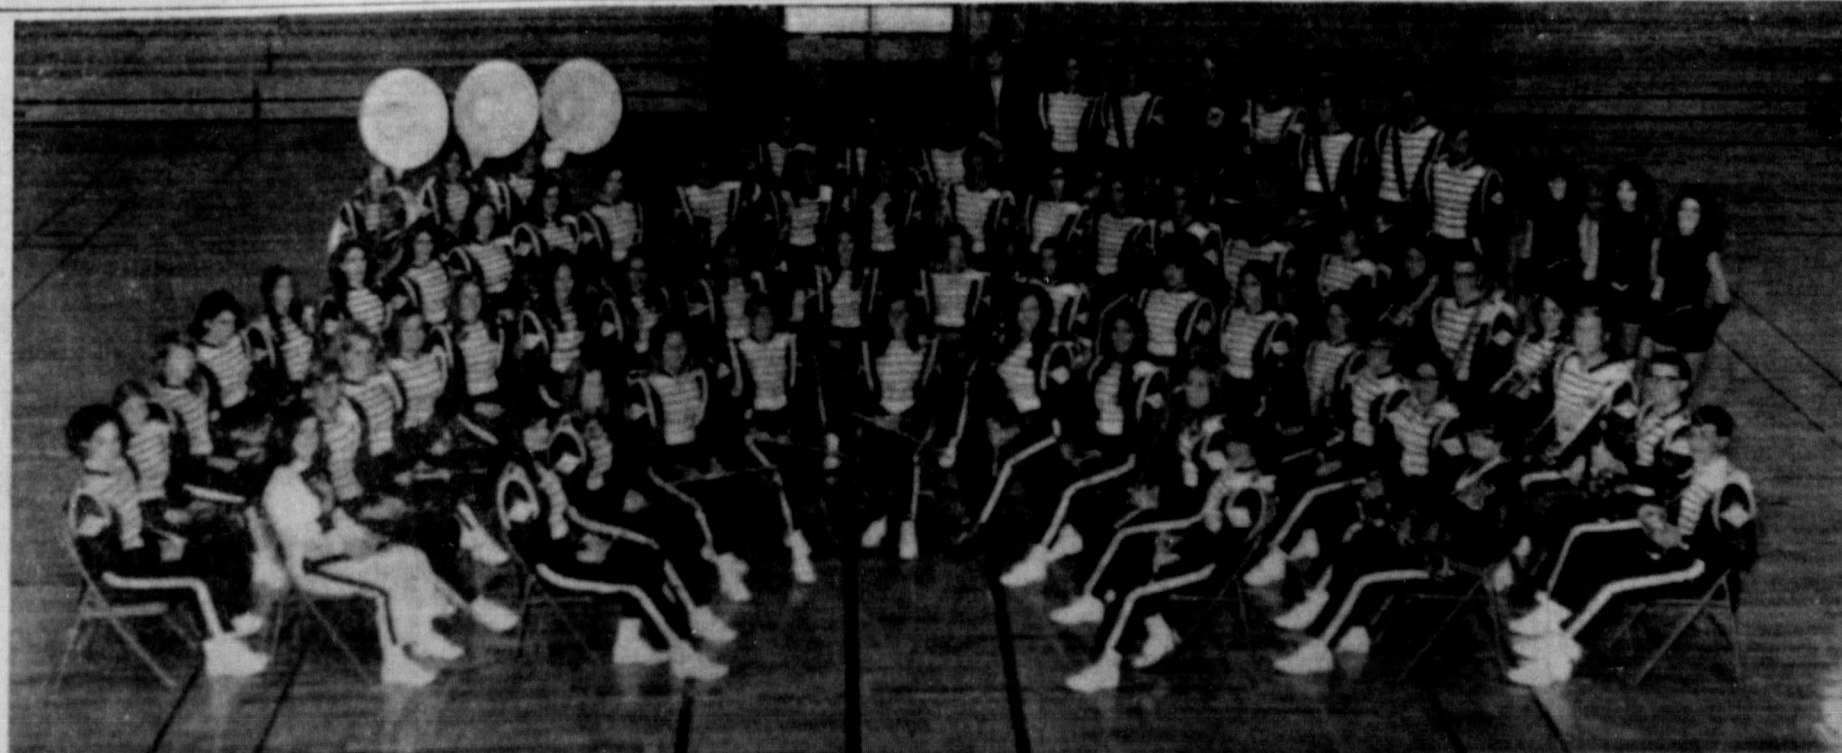

About Claude Coach McMurray said that Claude has a senior ball club and one of the biggest clubs Memphis has played, and the toughest since Memphis played White Deer.

"It wasn't any accident last Friday when they defeated Wheeler 39 to 15," Coach McMurray said. "Claude rattled Wheeler's defense in big chunks."

"They lost two district games because they were without the services of their quarterback, Terry Knox, who against Wheeler scored three touchdowns himself and passed for another to David Mitchell," the Memphis coach said.

Claude also has two all-state candidates in Mike Crowell, 190 lb. senior tackle and Richard Berg, 190 lb. senior fullback. Other key backs are Bruce Merrill, senior, DIVISION I MARCHING BAND—Pictured above is the Memphis Cyclone Band, under direction of Miss Carol Blain, which took a Division I at U. I. L. Class A Marching contest Tuesday at Canyon. This is the first year the local band has made a Division I in marching since 1964. Director Blain said the band members worked hard and gave a 100 per cent effort to make the top grade at the contest. Gruver was the only other band to make a Division I in Class A at Canyon. The band is under field direction of Drum Major Lu Gay Godfrey.

Is A Revolution In Progress in the U. S.?

Members of Memphis' civic clubs Wed., Oct. 22 viewed a 40-minute film entitled "Communists on Campus" brought by Linton Estes of Wichita Falls, who was born in Newlin, which is billed as a frightening, shattering documentary of the movement to overthrow law and mobilize for U. S. takeover.

Mr. Estes is retired now and is trying to show the film to as many citizens as he can. Following the film he urged local citizens to join the fight against radical terrorists dedicated to the destruction "of our society and our governmental institutions."

U. S. Attorney General John Mitchell said week before last that the United States will never invoke emergency war powers against radical terrorists as Canada has done. But he said private citizens might become so upset by riots and bombings that they would take the law into their own hands.

"If there be any danger, it might be that the society itself might take it upon itself to defend itself against some of these attacks," Mr. Mitchell said at an Indianapolis news conference. "That would be an area of danger that I do not see at the present time but could possibly come about."

The Attorney General said the Government was taking precautions against the possibility that Government officials or foreign diplomats might be kidnaped by radicals dedicated to the destruction "of our society and our governmental institutions."

"If that is a definition of revolution, then a revolution is in process," the U. S. Attorney General said.

The film which was shown here, identified and described Black Panther leaders, SDS officials, and Andy Stapp, national Chairman of American Servicemen's Union. Those interviewed were Mike Klonsky, Mark Rudd, Jeff Jones, Bobby Seale, and Soviet Communist Party Chief Brezhnev. Eldridge Cleaver, Black Panther leader "in exile" declares in a message to his mobilizing Panther hordes: "We are a Marxist-Leninist Party, and implicit in Marxism-Leninism is proletarian internationalism, and solidarity with all people who are struggling. We have to destroy the present structure of power in the United States; we have to overthrow the government . . . and the only means possible is the violent overthrow of the machinery of the oppressive ruling class."

Chairman Mao is the popular quote of these groups and many profess the "Red Book" as their "Bible" and the gun as their staff.

If you were one who saw the film, there would be little doubt in your mind who is behind the trouble American's are having on college and university campuses, and who was behind the demonstrations at political party conventions, and who is financing such figures as Angela Davis, arrested recently in Manhattan for flight to avoid prosecution on kidnaping and murder charges in California.

The appeal being made is to the young have nots with promises of receiving that which the haves have when the revolution comes if they will support the violent overthrow of the U. S. institutions and government.

American laws, as supported by the FBI and the police are sneered at by these militant groups. A peaceful approach in the battle of ideals is being completely ignored and it appears that more and more violence will be forthcoming.

What Other Editors Say

It won't work

Another example of the futility of passing laws that don't work is contained in an AP dispatch from Washington. The AP story described the Gun Control Act of 1968 as an attempt to keep tabs on guns in the hands of private citizens. It tells how, after passage of this legislation, output of cheap handguns, known as "Saturday Night Specials" multiplied astronomically. Reportedly, gun manufacturers spring up overnight and "sometimes they close down the next day."

The Gun Control Act is reminiscent of the days of prohibition. Virtually anyone can manufacture a gun or learn how to make bootleg whiskey. However, there is a world of difference between a law that seeks to repress legitimate ownership of firearms and that statutory farce known as prohibition. Ownership of firearms by law-abiding citizens is a fundamental right under the U. S. Constitutional government. Any law abridging that right strikes at the elementary principle of individual responsibility under self-government rather than at the criminal element. Such a law is unworkable because every law-abiding citizen in the country could be disarmed and the perpetrators of crime would go merrily on their way.

Representative A. Ullman of the State of Oregon put the proposition in a nutshell when he said, "In my judgement, the answer to crimes committed with guns is stricter penalties for criminals not undue restrictions on law-abiding citizens." The Gun Control Act of 1968 lumped the law abiding and the criminal in one pot. It won't work.

If not you, who?

This item which appeared a few days ago in a national newspaper publication was directed at newspaper editors and publishers, but we think it applies equally to any citizens who are concerned about their communities. This is from The Publishers' Auxiliary:

A speaker told of the question his father asked after he had been complaining of all of the various voluntary duties he had assumed. There just did not appear to be enough time to devote to one additional cause in which he had been requested to serve.

"If Not You, Who?; if not now, when?" the father asked.

It probably doesn't need to be added that the speaker ended up accepting the new post after thinking about his father's question.

Many times editors and publishers are first among those asked in a community to head local drives or otherwise participate in various voluntary causes.

It always seems that there are too many tasks to devote your time to on a worthwhile basis, but the next time you're asked to serve, it is well to remember—"If not you, who? if not now, when?"

Tax Man Sam Sez—

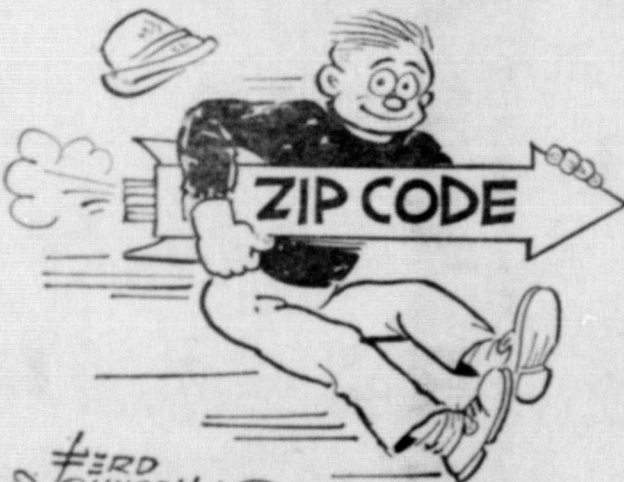

It is a pretty good idea to sit down now, before the end of the year, and figure out whether your income tax withholding is going to cover you an April 15. The good tax folks say that most taxpayers prefer for the government to owe them, rather than take any chances on having to pay extra. Many families are faced with a real tragedy when they find that both Mom and Dad claimed the same dependent on their form W-4. On the other hand, it is not too late to cut down the excess refund by reducing your withholding now. If you have had a major increase in your itemized deductions, if you have already had a hurricane or tornado loss, paid for a major medical expense, or paid an unusually large contribution to your church, you may want to reduce your withholding by seeing your payroll clerk and getting a Form W-4 Schedule A.

Tea is a popular beverage. In this country, an estimated 12 billion glasses of iced tea are consumed each year.

By BYRON BALDWIN

Well, I did not get through with my visit in Dallas so will give you a little more as there is a lot to see and do in our own state. One of the outstanding things they did was what we would call a "Tasting Party" put on by the Dallas Restaurant Association in the Sheraton Dallas ballroom Oct.

Decorations were done by four different companies and consisted of floral arts and fruit displays, appetizers and salads by six different restaurants and foreign dishes from two different dishes from eating places. All American favorites from four different places and two different bakeries furnished the French bread and garnished cheese bread. One company furnished the imported and domestic cheeses. Seven different kinds of deserts by that many companies and eleven different distributors furnished a total of 20 different kinds of beverages. Then after dinner mints! Besides the above places represented there were 15 individuals who generously contributed to the support of the 1970 "Taste of Dallas". This would have been an all night feed with that much food, and a week in the hospital if you had tried to eat and drink some of all of it. He did not attend this "Taste Party" but son James and his wife went for this food in a big way. This was the third annual "Taste Party" in Dallas and again this year proceeds were given to charity. It will provide breakfast for school day for 2500 children in West Dallas, who otherwise would have to go to school without an important meal. The tickets were $10.00 per person and a good investment for humanity. The old Merry-go-round is still going. Mr. Henson says he has been "horsing around" the past 20 years and it has kept him spinning in circles, as he operates the merry-go-round at the state fair, and his horses romp all day without getting fatigued. Henson purchased this merry-go-round in 1953 for 25,000 dollars and put another seven or eight thousand taping up the horses. This was originally built in 1889 in Germany. So it is as old as the State fair. In the 20 years, Mr. Henson says they bring new fangled rides but the merry-go-round is a favorite. More than 10,000 youngsters and adults climb aboard the merry-go-round for a ride each year during the fair. Some of his best customers are some people in the medical field.

Speaking of food makes me think of my neighbor, Mrs. D. M. Arrell, who recently visited her daughter June in Florida. She said she and her husband invited her to eat at a steak house one day, and they had on the menu two different steaks, Adam and Eve. She did not know which to order, but after much deliberating, she ordered Adam and she said she had ordered right as there was no rib bone in it.

of these large helpy-self laundries with washer and dryer all up and down and all over the building, and we happened to notice one lady who kept filling one washer after another until she finally had 16 washers filled, and we thought it might be for an orphanage or boarding house, but not so, as after tactful questions, we learned this washing was for her and her three children and the reason for such a big washing for that size family, she said she had been a widow for three years and she was going to marry again the next week and she wanted everything clean. It took a lot of soap and water to make a clean, fresh start in her life.

I will go now to the Texas State Fair. Old Big Tex had his shirt on again, but looked like it was straining on the buttons. Every year for the past several we have wanted to go to the wax museum and would put it off until last and was too tired to make it, so this year we made the circle in the little cars and took off for the museum, and missed a lot of other things this year. It is very interesting and historical, do not fail to go to see this if you are in Dallas and have the time, it is open the year round. You see characters of early history and on up to modern history of our last two presidents and their wives. The first hearse in this country hand-carved and made in Holland. George Washington Carver was very out-standing to me as he was the first to extract peanut butter from peanuts. In fact he gave us a number of foods from this product. He was the son of a slave who was very remarkable in his day with a higher education. He did a lot of work for humanity and not for the money. I believe he must have been one of the first scientific agricultural agents in our states.

A very interesting person at the state fair this year was Abe Goldstein who was one of the Keystone Kops back in the 1900's days of silent pictures when everyone seemed to like the Keystone Komedies, along with the Friday night serials. Some of us can still remember Abe as a Kop; he tumbled from moving vehicles, chased the wrong man after the bank robbery, ripped the steering wheel off the car while it was running down the street. Abe turned his Keystone badge in in 1919. He worked with Buster Keaton, Chas. Chaplin and others. His pay was $3.50 a day at that time, and Chas. Chaplin earned $75.00 a week, as there was no actors guild at that time. Abe (I believe he stated) is now the only one of the Keystone Kops living. After leaving Keystone, he was with a traveling circus. At the age of 75 he is still clowning around. Abe says, "To be a good clown you have to love kids."

It looks like women with stubborn husbands might have a chance yet. Don't give up, as I noticed in the daily paper where a man in Oak Cliff, Dallas, had trained a donkey to jump off a 45 foot tower into a tank of water, 6-foot deep. I never could get a donkey to do anything you wanted him to do. If you wanted to go forward, he would go backward. It may be there is a pill.

A picture sent down to Heritage Hall by Chief Gardner shows the first meat market he and D. H. Arnold operated here in Memphis. Picture shows Chief and Joe Bell behind counter with the meat block in front of the refrigerator. They must have had a great deal of business over the telephone as we see two telephones in the picture, but outstanding in the picture was the sign on the front of their refrigerator which said "Cash".

One of our M.H.S. graduates was visiting Heritage Hall the past week. She was one of our school beauty girls, cheerleader and football queen in 1934. This is none other than Tommie Frank Jones Spence. It does not seem possible that this little girl (as I knew her) had been out of school that long. She attended Texas Tech after graduating here, married B. J. Spence and moved to Corpus Christi in 1937. Some of her school mates she remembered were Roberta Esterling, Faye Baskerville, Dot Danbar and Winifred Prater. Tommie and her husband have two children and 5 grandchildren. Tommie is the daughter of Mrs. A. B. Jones and she has four sisters living, Ethel Jones Johnson of Garland, Florence Jones Brumley of Austin, Ola Mae Jones Ward and Mildred Jones Stephens of Memphis. Asked what she thought of Heritage

Hall, she said, "This is great, could not possibly see all of these treasures in two hours, so I will be back again and again." Best wishes to this family of girls. Tommie Frank made donation to Heritage Hall. Thanks.

The pictures that Harry Delaney of Lubbock left us for Heritage Hall are very interesting. Pictures of Estelline School in early 1900 with Prof. Elmer Timmons, teacher, wearing standing collar and tie. Soil Conservationist Cites Figures From '70 Needs Inventory

Texas has 25,369,600 acres of land being used as non-irrigated cropland, David Seitz, soil conservationist, said this week. According to the 1970 Conservation Needs Inventory, about 60 percent of this needs conservation treatment to prevent erosion and thus reduce sediment in public lakes and reservoirs, he reported. Texas has 8,252,173 acres of irrigated cropland. About 72 percent of this land needs some conservation treatment.

I guess men have more faith and confidence than they used to have. I noticed in the newspaper where a manufacturer made 250 thousand in suspenders in 1969 and 50 years ago he made 59 million pair.

McLean Tigers Bop Cyclone 27-0 Friday

By taking advantage of two of three good scoring opportunities in the first quarter of the Memphis-McLean game, the McLean Tigers jumped out to a 14-0 half-time lead and went on to score twice more in the final stanza to defeat the local team 27-0.

The Memphis team had punting difficulties in the early portion of the game as punts on the first three series went for 10 yards, five yards and three yards giving McLean the football on the Memphis 36, the Memphis 25, and the Memphis 28. The Tigers marched in for two TDs and missed an attempted field goal.

The Tigers' quarterback, Tommy Dunivan, 182 lbs., set up the first McLean TD with a 38-yd. scamper in the first series around right end. FB Ricky Evans carried over from the one-yd. line and David Haynes booted the point after.

The second time McLean got the football, after a short Memphis punt, Haynes missed a place kick for a field goal from the Memphis 23-yd. line.

The Tigers QB Dunivan passed for seven yards and a first down to the Memphis 16, and carried over for the Tigers' second TD from the 2-yd. line giving McLean 13 points. Haynes added the 14th point with a place kick.

The Cyclone offense got rolling after this and maintained possession of the football much of the remaining first half.

Several younger lads were moved in and out of the Cyclone backfield, and several sophomore linemen handled blocking duties in the offensive front wall for the local team.

Couch Clyde McMurray had a large group of Memphis lads suited out for the game and played all of them.

After the kickoff, which Louis Davis returned to the Memphis 23, Mark Bradshaw carried on the first down but McLean was penalized 5 yards for off-sides. Then, on the next play, Larry Johnson made seven yards and a first down to the home 25. Johnson carried again for six yards, but on the next play a fumble was recovered by McLean.

The Tigers went to the airways, and on the second down, alert defensive play by Louis Davis resulted in an interception and a fine runback to the home 40-yd. line.

From here, Larry Johnson racked up 11 yards to the Tigers' 49-yd. line and another first down. Johnson carried for seven yards on the power play and HB Mark Bradshaw carried for four more and a first to the visitor's 38.

Then, Johnson made four yards as the sophomore-junior line continued to open holes, and FB Paul Fowler plowed his way for seven more yards and a first to the McLean 27.

But as was the case all night, the McLean defense rose to the occasion and stopped the Cyclone's first drive, taking over the ball on their own 30.

Memphis held McLean to one first down, then forced the punt. Ronald Canida carried for a big gain, but it was nullified by a penalty. Other plays failed to net needed yardage and Memphis punted to the visitors' 33.

McLean quarterback rolled out for a 12-yd. gain up to the 45-yd. line.

From here, however, two plays were stopped by the Cyclone defense. On the third down, the Tigers tried a screen pass which was completed to FB Ricky Evans, and the 180-lb. power back of the Tigers was dropped by a crushing tackle by Defensive tackle Junior Kennon of the Cyclone for a 4-yd. loss. The Tigers punted the next play.

Again the Cyclone got a drive going, as Louis Davis made six yards and Larry Johnson made five yards. Ronald Canida netted four yards and Johnson carried for 5 more, plus a 15-yd. hitting after the whistle penalty moved the ball to the visitors' 40-yd. line.

Carries by Fowler, Johnson and Davis netted four yards, and QB John Carmen tried to make a first down, but lacked two yards.

The half ended shortly thereafter.

The Tigers came back after receiving the opening kickoff and marched for their third TD of the night. The drive covered 60 yards in 12 plays. A faked punt-run by Dunivan kept the drive alive. Ricky Evans scored from the one yard line on a third down. Haynes punt was good and the score was 21-0.

Carries by Johnson for 8 yards, Bill Oslin for one, and Louis Davis for five gave Memphis a first down on the home 43 after this kickoff.

Fowler and Davis carried for another first in the next series to the opponents' 45-yd. line. A 4th down pass from QB Carmen to FB Jim Dixon netted a first to the visitors' 34-yd. line. But again the drive fizzled giving McLean the ball on the 30-yd. line.

The Tigers again marched for another TD, covering 70 yards.

The big play for McLean was a break away run by Ricky Evans who was pulled down from behind by Safety back Louis Davis on the home 12. But the Tigers went on in to score with Fred Lowder carrying into the endzone. Dunivan's run for points was stopped shy and the score was 27-0.

In the final stanza, Memphis mixed up running and passing plays pretty well. One passing play was intercepted by Dunivan who returned it to the home 20. But the Cyclone defense stopped the Tigers on a fourth down a two play to take over.

Then, on the next play, Memphis fumbled the ball back to McLean on the home nine yd. line. The Tigers attempted three pass plays, two going incomplete and the third was intercepted by John Carmen in the Memphis endzone.

From the Memphis 20, on the first play, the ball got loose again in the Cyclone backfield but it was recovered on the Memphis 10 by Memphis. Then, on the next play, QB Mark Stevenson passed to Paul Fowler for a 15-yd. gain. Louis Davis added five more yards for a first to the 30-yd. line.

This started another drive which ended on the McLean 16-yd. line.

Highlighting the drive was a 20-yd. pass from QB Carmen to End Donnie Carroll to the McLean 22-yd. line.

Late in the game, Memphis got another drive going which was stopped by the final buzzer. A pass from QB Stevenson to End Larry Jeffers for 25 yards gave Memphis a first down on the McLean 26.

Although the Cyclone was shut out on the scoreboard, the home team offense moved the football most of the night as Memphis made 15 first downs, 161 yards rushing and 68 yards passing, as compared to McLean's 16 first downs, 218 yards rushing and 33 yards passing.

Each team intercepted two passes from the other team but Memphis gave up the football twice on fumbles as compared to zero for McLean. Memphis had four punts averaging 9 yards while McLean punted four times averaging 30 yards per punt.

In passing, Memphis completed four of 15 passes while McLean completed four of 15 passes. Memphis was penalized 15 yards and McLean was penalized 55 yards.

In The World Of Science—

Spectroscopy Devices May Be Used In Prevention And Detection Of Crime

The last of the more than 250 passengers have boarded the 717 and the plane will soon begin taxi to the end of the runway. The pilot adjusts cabin pressure, pushes a button to activate the small infrared detector units mounted in the cabins and then radios the tower to send the airport police.

Quietly and before disaster can strike, the officers remove the young couple so actively discussing The New York Times editorial section—with a sheet of plastic explosive in the lining of the suitcase under her seat. The officers also remove three men sitting in widely scattered locations who have guns in their clothes or luggage. And finally they take the tourist type sitting in 14F with two pounds of high grade marijuana in his fake movie camera.

This science-of-tomorrow use of the science we already know today has been proposed by Alvin Bober as a backup to the airport inspection systems which have done such a good job—but not quite a perfect job—of catching people who would carry weapons, bombs, marijuana, or other contraband onto commercial aircraft.

Written in the Sept.-Oct. issue of Applied Spectroscopy, official publication of the Society for Applied Spectroscopy devices and techniques in criminalistics. In this case, the cabin-mounted detectors would evaluate the vapors from everything in the cabin and respond to those for which it had been programmed, signalling the pilot that there were certain problem areas in the plane.

This system was first developed for the Defense Department and Public Health Service to monitor atmospheres. The Defense Department is interested in detecting from a distance anti-personnel, chemical warfare agents. The Public Health Service is interested in air pollution in our atmosphere. These devices are available now and Bober suggests that they could be used in the cabin detection system.

Drawing on his experience in the U. S. Customs laboratory at Baltimore, Bober cites a number of examples of the use of spectroscopy in detection. Customs officials are interested in controlling the shipment of gold into and out of the country. When an inspector faces 1,000 to 100,000 packages, how does he know which one to open? With a portable x-ray spectrometer, which was designed to detect gold, he can quickly check all of the packages and pass those which contain no contraband.

And emission spectroscopy has been used to detect land mines, reacting to the vapors from the TNT of the buried explosive.

Spectroscopy, in general, requires a very small sized sample, Bober points out. In some applications, the spectro-chemical analysis is nondestructive. X-ray spectroscopy is especially applicable to samples that cannot be—or should not be destroyed or altered.

Spectroscopy is a vital tool that can be applied to a variety of endeavors, points out Bober. Criminalistics is one field where its application is proving very successful.

Mr. and Mrs. Mahone are the parents of four children all of whom were present for the occasion.

Quarterback Doesn't Lead Bad Life,
Says Tony Pounds To Sports Writer

(Editor's Note: Following is feature story written by an Oklahoma State Uni. sports writer on Memphis' Tony Pounds, the Cowboys' junior quarterback, leading passer in the Big Eight conference. The story was written before the OSU's 19-7 victory over Kansas at Saturday. Tony completed 21 passes, one for a TD. Amarillo's Dick Graham.)

"I've been down to 159 pounds for a game but usually I peak at 164," laughs Oklahoma State's quarterback, the Cowboys' junior leading passer in the Big Eight conference. The story was written before the OSU's 19-7 victory over Kansas at Saturday. Tony completed 21 passes, one for a TD. Amarillo's Dick Graham.)

13'6 1/2" saved the team championship for Memphis and he was all-district in football and basketball, too.

Despite these accolades the only athletic grant he found came from New Mexico Military Institute, where he operated NMMI's prototype attack with efficiency. There were a few feelers after junior college but his first thoughts were toward Texas Tech. In fact, he and his father sat in the Tech athletic department lobby in a fruitless hour long wait to see the football coach before going to the Lubbock airport and a visit with OSU aide Bob Burris.

"I guess I kinda wanted to go to Tech," Pounds admits. "But, I'm glad I signed with Coach Burris at the airport."

"I like it up here. My roommate (co-captain Joe Coyle) is hilarious, he keeps something happening all the time. And, where else could I have gone and thrown to receivers like Herman (Eben, Dick (Graham) and Tom (Dearinger)?"

He admits he's never passed to a receiver as capable as Eben, but he quickly added, "We'll be better next week, next year and really tough in the future."

Pounds calls the waterfall-like rush from Missouri the toughest he has faced but his hardest blow came in the Nebraska game. Still, practice and playing is fun and he enjoys it.

"A quarterback doesn't lead a bad life," he claims, "especially if he's skinny because they can't afford to knock him around much in practice!"

Den No. 5 Cubs
Receive Awards
At Pack Meeting

Den No. 5 of Memphis Cub Scouts, Pack 35, received several awards at a meeting of the Pack Monday night, Oct. 26, at the Travis Cafeteria.

Three 9-year-old Bob Cats received pins after meeting requirements which included the promise, the motto, law of the Pack, sign and handshake and meaning of Webelos. These cubs were James Clark, Alex Rocha and Jimmy Vargas.

Terry Lindsey received a Wolf badge and a gold arrow, completing his first year's requirements.

Miles Farnsworth, who has completed Bear achievements, was presented another silver arrow for 10 elective projects. He also earned an assistant denner bar as did Bob Kehr.

Mark Simmons and Allen Beasley were presented denner bars. Steve Becker and Ronny Wilson participated with other Den 5 cubs in the skit "Protection" in displaying magicians top hats made by them and in creating the illusion of a "Floating Body".

The pack attendance banner was captured with 100 per cent attendance of Den members and the largest percentage of parents present at the pack meeting.

'Package' Applications For Rural Housing Loans From FHA Available

The supply of modern housing in Hall County may be expanded by a new cooperative effort with private industry announced today by James E. Chappell, county supervisor for the farmers Home Administration, rural credit service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"From now on, builders, developers and others in the home building and financing fields can work directly with prospective borrowers to 'package' applications for rural housing loans," Chappell said.

"Participation in the packaging program," he added, "will be limited to those who can provide all the necessary information about the home, assume its delivery at a specified price, and can work directly with the applicant family."

He explained that the packager will assemble reliable information on the applicant and the home he wants to buy, build or improve. They will submit the data on forms supplied through the local Farmers Home Administration office at 517A Main St. in Memphis, Texas. When information about the building and applicant is complete, the loan can be approved and funds made available by the F.H.A.

Families residing in communities of 5,500 population or under are eligible to apply for F.H.A. loans. They must be unable to obtain credit from private sources. Approved borrowers receive direct financing through F.H.A.

"The first step for a prospective package is to meet with the F.H.A. county supervisor to obtain detailed information about eligibility requirements for a loan and the type and cost of homes the agency can appropriately finance," Chappell said.

In general, he explained, the family must lack decent, safe and sanitary housing, must be unable to obtain credit from other sources and must have sufficient income to repay the loan, pay taxes and insurance, maintain the house and meet other living expenses. Family income, however, may not exceed limits established by F.H.A.

The county supervisor said loans may be made to farmowners, non-farm tract owners, rural residents or nonrural residents with low to moderate incomes who work in a rural area. The home may be on a farm, in open country or in towns under 5,500 population that are rural in character and not adjacent to an urban area.

"Each packager should understand that final action cannot be taken on applications until all required information has been submitted to F.H.A., the applicant is interviewed by the county supervisor and any required supplementary information has been obtained," Chappell pointed out.

A 36-page manual explaining the program is now available at the local office.

The Farmers Home Administration rural housing program totals $1.5 billion in fiscal 1971, and will finance about 125,000 units. The total in 1972 is expected to reach 200,000 units.

The county supervisor noted that James V. Smith, Administrator of the Farmers Home Administration has expressed confidence that this new program will help smooth the way for applicants and move us more rapidly toward the national goal of adequate housing for every family in rural America."

Thanks to you and the people of Memphis on behalf of the Track and Trail Riders Club, all the contestants and myself for your cooperation, understanding and many helpful suggestions in helping to make our annual "Cotton Boll" Endurance Run such an outstanding success. We would also like to express our appreciation to the newspaper for the publicity given us, and to the many people who so willingly gave us permission to cross their farms.

We had 87 more riders to enter this year than last year and we are already getting inquiries as to when the next run will be held. I too am looking forward to next years contest and working with you again.
