Hall County TSTA Unit Meets In Estelline Monday Night

The Hall County Unit of T. S. T. A. met in Estelline Elementary Cafeteria Monday night, Feb. 15, for the second dinner meeting of the year. The cafeteria was gaily decorated in Valentine motif, carrying out the theme, "broken-hearted Valentine." The Estelline High School Senior Class and their sponsor, Tom Seay, served a delicious dinner to approximately 66 administrators, supervisors, principals, teachers and guests. The welcome was extended by Aubrey Spear, Jr., superintendent of Estelline School. The invocation was given by C. M. Wooten, Elementary School principal. A moment of silent tribute was paid to the memory of Bill Bogan, former High School coach of Turkey and nephew of Mrs. U. F. Coker, Jr., who died Dec. 15, 1970, of motorcycle injuries in Amarillo.

Recognition was extended to Barney Bevers of Lakeview and Wayland's Cheri Rapp of Estelline for their selection by Panhandle Sports Hall of Fame as tennis coach of year and Panhandles basketball selection respectively. The program was presented by O. R. Stark, Jr., banker of First National Bank, Quitaque, and Lee Vardy, banker of Peoples State Bank, Turkey. Mr. Stark discussed "Small Schools and How To Keep Them." He pointed out that Texans and individual citizens should wake up to the need of keeping the small schools and that the "child is not the property of the State." He advised that the schools need to get and keep their house in order, to adapt changes in curriculum, to keep abreast of ways to im-

Lose Bi-District To Lefors Tues.

In what must be considered an action-packed week of basketball, the Lakeview Eaglettes of Coach Cagle Davis, lost a district tournament, won a sudden-death playoff with Hedley for the district crown, and then on Tuesday night lost a Bi-district match to the Lefors Pirates. The Lakeview girls won the District 4-B crown in a sudden death, one game elimination match with the Hedley girls played at Clarendon last Saturday, 48 to 37. This game was made necessary when the Hedley girls upset the Turkey team in the opening round of the District 4-B tournament here last Thursday night, 50 to 38. Then, in the second game, the Quitaque Pantherettes defeated the Lakeview girls in a hotly contested match, 45 to 44. The Lakeview team then played the Turkey girls Friday night for third place and lost the game 59 to 43.

Annual Girl Scout Fund Drive Set For March

Extensive planning and "high hopes" were emphasized at a meeting of captains, kicking off the annual Quivira Girl Scout Fund Drive in Memphis. The meeting was directed by 1971 Drive Chairman Mackie Allen. The official date of beginning the drive will be March 1, 1971. With the cooperation of all volunteer workers, plans to complete the drive should be March 12. The date set for the Memphis Girl Scout Father-Daughter banquet. "Although we are in a depressed condition in our area," Chairman Allen said, "we believe we will be able to attain our goal by making more contacts and assuring every citizen we appreciate any amount of donation, no matter how large or small." Each worker was encouraged to "sell the Scouting program," as local Girl Scouts benefit from all efforts. Some advanced work will begin immediately. The theme is "to help a girl is to help a family."

Hedley vs. Turkey
The Hedley-Turkey game was a hard fought battle as not even a few points separated the two teams for three quarters of play. Then in the fourth quarter, the Hedley forwards began putting the ball through the basket and racked up 18 points while the Turkey girls only managed to score 8 points. Turkey's Debbie Lane was the leading scorer in the contest with 28 points, while Hedley's Renee White had 18. Tanya White had 13 and Gail Holland made 16.

Lakeview vs. Quitaque
The Lakeview-Quitaque game was a close, hard fought affair, with Lakeview leading 13 to 9 at the end of the first quarter, but Quitaque came back in the second period to lead at halftime 24 to 22. Quitaque dominated the third period, and led 36 to 27. In the fourth, however, Lakeview staged a determined come-back, to tie the game up 44 to 44 in the last minute of play. Quitaque scored a one-point free shot to win the game with 23 seconds. Lakeview's chance in the final seconds to tie or win the game was missed, and Quitaque won the contest 45-44.

Two members of the City Council and a mayor will be elected at Estelline Saturday, April 3, according to an announcement this week by Mrs. Joe Bob Nivens, city secretary. The election for city offices will be held in conjunction with the Estelline Independent School District school trustee election. The polling place will be the city office, next door to the post office. To date, no candidate has filed for either the mayor or Council positions. The term of Mayor Joe Allen Ballard will expire, as well as Councilmen O. C. Payne and Jimmy Gibson. Deadline for filing will be March 3, 1971.

Local Cyclists To Sponsor Scramble Races

There will be scramble races at the Red River bridge, on U. S. Highway 287, 12 miles southeast of Memphis (just north of Estelline) beginning at 2 p. m. Sunday, Feb. 28. Entry fee is $2 for each class. There will be four classes: 0-99 cc, 100-125 cc, 126-250 cc, and the open class. Three trophies will be awarded to winners in each class. Motorcycle riders will sign up before the races start, it was explained. Scramble racing is done over a predetermined course. It differs from river bottom racing, where the rider must select his course. It also differs from enduro racing which is decided by the winning riders covering a predetermined course in a specified amount of time. Much of the course to be used in the scramble races Sunday will be within range of spectators vision, it was announced.

Estelline Calls School Election For April 3rd

Members of the board of trustees of the Estelline Independent School District have called for an election of trustees for April 3, 1971, and with the cooperation of the City of Estelline, the election will be a joint one. The polls will open on Saturday, April 3, in the city offices, located next to the Post Office. Voters will be able to cast ballots for both the city candidates and school trustee candidates at the same time and place. Estelline Superintendent Aubrey Spear announced that deadline for filing names on the ballot is Wednesday, March 3. Filing should be done with the Hall County judge in the courthouse in Memphis, regulations require. The three-year terms of Gerald Fowler and Ted Bruce are expiring this year, and the two-year term of Leon Helm is open, due to Mr. Helm's resignation since he no longer lives in the Estelline School district. Estelline voters will be electing three individuals to serve on the school board in the April 3 election. In other action by the Estelline School Board at their February meeting, one-year contracts were offered to Principal C. M. Wooten of Elementary School and Principal Albert Molsenbocker of High School. The board, in January, had offered a two-year contract to Supt. Aubrey Spear. Other teachers and coaches contracts come up next month, it was explained.

DISTRICT AWARD—Comanche District Chairman Bob Dwight of Samnorwood is shown above displaying the Boy Scouts of America District Plaque awarded to the Comanche District for meeting all the objectives of scouting during 1970. He praised the scouting program in Memphis for making the award possible, speaking at a banquet of Troop 35 here recently. This district was the top district in the Adobe Walls Council, and will keep the plaque this year. If another district accomplishes more during 1971 than this district they will get the plaque next year, he reported.

Memphis Couple Injured In Two-Car Wreck

Mr. and Mrs. Jim McMurtry were injured in a two-car accident on U. S. Hwy. 287 approximately 4 miles northwest of Memphis Monday morning. They have been hospitalized in Hall County Hospital for treatment of injuries received in the accident. Two Colorado Springs people, occupants of the other car, were examined and released from the local hospital following the accident. They are Joseph Crowder and Joan Veall. Another accident occurred Monday, this one at 3 p. m. at the intersection of U. S. 287 and State 256. A Chevrolet driven by Dennis Taylor of Memphis was involved in an accident with a 1968 Plymouth of a Denver, Colo. couple. No one was injured in this accident, although the Plymouth of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Broud was heavily damaged.

Motorists Warned Of Stop Light Changed On Hwy.

Local and area residents should pay close attention to the change in stop signs at the intersection of U. S. Hwy. 287 and State 256 in Memphis. Highway Dept. crews this week have changed the stop lights to stop traffic on State 256, and motorists on U. S. 287 have only a caution light (yellow) now instead of a stop light. Traffic on Hwy. 287 has had a stop light in past years to allow traffic to State 256 to clear the railroad track. Hwy. 287 traffic now does not have a stop light through Memphis.

The Ignored Rural Plight!

It's amazing how the big and dramatic can capture the imagination and aid of the federal government, while a similar situation on a smaller scale can be ignored.

Out in Seattle, Wash., unemployment is at the 18 per cent level, store aisles are vacant during the Christmas shopping season, and gloom and doom hangs over the city. Some 20,000 are reported out of work and the figures could rise to 30,000.

It's all due to the fact that the supersonic transport project has fallen into disfavor with members of the House and Senate, including our own Senator Percy.

The situation is so bad in Seattle that revolutionary groups are reported thriving.

So while the ecologists, and those who believe the SST expense is unwarranted, battle appropriation of funds for the project, the other side shed tears for 150,000 lost jobs and economic bleakness in Seattle and other large cities with plants depending upon SST contracts. Many of these same communities have been hit by reduction in aero-space projects.

Seattle's plight is sad—even to persons living two-thousand miles away in the midwest.

But, the federal government operates as it usually does, we are sure that either the SST project will go forward, or some other type of government contract will be provided to put most of the unemployed back to work.

Sharing space in the same newspapers that carried the Seattle-Boeing-SST dilemma were less graphic reports of the economic loss suffered by farmers and small communities throughout the midwest from corn blight.

The income of most farmers will be seriously reduced by the blight. In many areas income from the corn crop will be chopped 15 to 50 per cent. In isolated spots it will be nil.

This comes on top of a four to five dollar reduction in hog prices during recent months.

Business in the small towns serving rural areas is already feeling the effects. Sales are down, layoffs have occurred—or are contemplated—in service industries. The outlook in many rural areas is as bleak as it is in Seattle.

But the tale of woe is not nearly as dramatic as the Seattle story, or the plight of the aerospace industry. Other than the offer of low interest loans to farmers in certain counties, the situation appears to stimulate little concern among federal officials.

Which brings us down to the whole cockeyed government philosophy on economic stimulation.

The government is quick to divert contracts to industries in metropolitan areas where unemployment exists. It is quick to create subsidized programs to train unskilled workers and find jobs for them.

Why can't rural areas share in this same kind of income development?

Why can't government incentives be used to stimulate the location of industries in small towns to provide part-time labor for people relying on farm income? Why can't government controlled contracts be diverted to factories in rural communities—forcing an expansion in the labor force?

The economic problems of rural America are no longer solved solely by farm programs—they are rural problems.

The rural businessman—whether he be farmer or merchant—is forced to play the game by national rules. He pays the same social security and unemployment taxes, is subject to the same income tax rates, and must acquire his goods and services for resale at prices determined by wages set by unions in major cities.

He must suffer some fringe benefits to employes comparable to those paid in large cities and his wages must be competitive, or he loses his help.

Then he must turn around and recover his money and—if possible—a legitimate profit from a market that receives the short end of the economic stick.

The populations of small towns in rural America are made up of people too. They are not gathered in tremendous numbers, nor do they have dramatic problems.

But they are citizens of this same nation and entitled to the same considerations given the metropolitan areas.

What Other Editors Say

'Rights' for What?

We have long been concerned about efforts to separate "human rights" from "property rights", and the ultimate results of such thinking.

A case in point is the recent decision by the Iowa Supreme Court that defense of property does not warrant the infliction of serious injury or death and the subsequent awarding of a $30,000 damage judgement to an admitted burglar.

The owners of the property, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Briney, had been plagued with a series of burglaries at their farm home. The Brineys did not live in the house, but had left it fully furnished. In a desperate effort to ward off intruders, the Brineys had rigged a shotgun booby trap and Marvin Katko, an Eddyville service station attendant was struck in the right leg by the resultant blast as he attempted to enter the house. Katko readily admitted that he was trespassing and pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny in the nighttime, but he then sued the Brineys for compensation for his injuries.

The Brineys lost the case, and ultimately the appeal. This past week the Iowa Supreme Court ruled against the Brineys, holding that defense of the property did not warrant the infliction of serious injury. The Brineys will have to pay, and we understand that the farm has been placed on the market to raise the necessary cash.

We have given much thought to this case since it first came to our attention several months ago and have wondered what the final decision would be. Realizing the seriousness of the action taken by the Brineys to protect abandoned property, we cannot help but feel that the decision of the court will open a legal "Pandora's Box". As always, the loser will be the average citizen who wishes only to be left alone to carry out his daily endeavors without fear of molestation either to his person or his property.

Fear of punishment has always been a deterrent against wrongdoing, and we simply cannot understand the thinking of those who try to tell us that all will be well if we only turn the other cheek. And we also feel that when property rights have been violated, then surely human rights have also been defiled.

Man's Seven Mistakes

Man's imperfections lead him to make many mistakes in life, and the pointing out of these frailties has engaged the attention of philosophers and reformers in all ages. One such writer enumerates the seven greatest mistakes of man:

1. The delusion that individual advancement is made by crushing others down.
2. The tendency to worry about things that cannot be changed or corrected.
3. Insisting that a thing is impossible because we ourselves can not accomplish it.
4. Refusing to set aside trivial preferences in order that important things may be accomplished.
5. Neglecting development and refinement of the mind by not acquiring the habit of reading.
6. Attempting to compel other

An Odyssey

Three men have returned from a journey of over a million miles in trackless space and arrived within minutes at their exact destination. On a far less pretentious Odyssey I failed to make the left-hand Jacksboro road turn from the Wichita Falls to Ft. Worth freeway. Recognizing my error in judgement, I got off the freeway. When I finally got back I was going in the wrong direction.

Urban Garbage Material May Become Bricks And Cement For Builders

Incinerator ashes have been made into good quality bricks and cement by a relatively simple and inexpensive laboratory process, the American Chemical Society was told recently.

"Last year an estimated 7 billion dollars was spent to dispose of 150 million tons of urban garbage," said Dr. P. E. D. Morgan of the Penn State Institute Research Laboratories, Philadelphia. "Between 1965 and 1969 New York alone will produce enough to cover Manhattan Island to a depth of 18 feet."

Slugging sites for the six incinerators at Philadelphia have been filled up, and building the ashes by railroad would require 1,200 gondola cars each year, Dr. Morgan estimated. With such quantities involved, only very large-scale use of municipal incinerator ash can be of much help, he pointed out.

Attractive-looking bricks with greater tensile strength than that of average bricks can be formed from incinerator residue which has been ground into powder, oxidized completely, and compressed into bricks by heating, he reported. Little modification of existing brick works would be necessary to produce these new building products, he indicated.

Cement of greater strength than Portland cement has been produced by mixing the completely oxidized incinerator powder with the proper proportions of lime and water, he said.

Road aggregate has been made from incinerator residue by partial melting or "slagging" in an iron furnace, Dr. Morgan stated. Because municipal waste supplies contain much glass, the slagging process can be performed directly on incinerator residue without treating it further or adding extraneous material. About 40 per cent of the iron present in municipal waste is separated in the slagging process and can be recovered.

The economics of the process is under study at this time, said Dr. Morgan, who is working on a pilot-plant model. More than enough energy is produced in the burning of municipal waste supplies to power the slagging process. This estimate takes into consideration heat losses and losses involved in electrical power generation.

Present costs of adding equipment to the incinerators for slagging would about balance the costs of getting rid of incinerator residue and buying new road aggregate. But in five or ten years, the economics of the process is expected to become highly favorable, Dr. Morgan said.

"One possibility is to convert the ash to a material that can be employed for road asphalt and also as a fill for concrete," he commented. "Philadelphia uses such aggregate to the extent of 250,000 tons per year, which compares well with the present production of 245,000 tons of ash, as mentioned. Of the eight largest cities in the U. S., only New York produces more ash than could be used for a road aggregate within the city."

AUSTIN—The Legislature has cleared major emergency finance hurdles and are moving to other fronts to hold down the size of the tax bill.

A $34.3 million appropriation bill to avert reduction in aid to needy families with dependent children passed both houses and went to Comptroller Robert E. Calvert for certification.

Before he would accept the bill, Calvert advised passage of another which would re-align priorities in the state's massive omnibus tax clearance fund. In effect, this would permit turning over to welfare some $35 million that normally would go to the teacher retirement fund between April and August.

Teachers association and retirement fund leaders had no formal objection to the latter, although it would cost the retirement fund an estimated $190,000 to $600,000 in short-term interest. However, the fund will be repaid in full when the ultimate new tax bill goes into effect on Sept. 1.

While these measures were moving methodically through the House and Senate, the House passed a bill to establish a $185 million bond plan to finance construction on eight new college campuses. Bonds would be repaid from tuitions, and would cost taxpayers little. Final approval of the plan in the Senate would relieve the tax bill of a heavy load in order to build new institutions already authorized by the 1969 Legislature.

Still another potentially important money bill was quick Senate approval. It would require all cities and counties, population 10,000 and above, to report to the state all welfare spending for the medically needy. If federal officials will agree, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes proposes subsequent legislation to require all these local funds be routed through the state treasury, where hopefully they would attract an extra $100 million in two-to-one matching federal aid.

Appointments
Gov. Preston Smith nominated Lester Clark of Breckenridge to succeed David E. Clements of Mineral Wells on the Texas Water Quality Board.

Dr. Charles Max Cole of Dallas was named to succeed the late Dr. Noble Price of Lamesa on the State Board of Health.

Smith also sent these additional appointments to the Senate for confirmation:

Stephen Willis Simmons of El Paso to succeed Jamie C. Boyd as 35th District attorney.
Elo J. Urbanovsky of Lubbock and Gene Ray Hendryx of Alpine to the Texas Conservation Foundation.

Dr. Denver Fred Wendorf of Dallas, Dr. William Curry Holden of Lubbock and Dr. William W. Newsom Jr. of Austin to Texas Antiquities Committee.

J. Wayne Hand of Dallas, James K. Ray of Austin and Dr. Bobby Gene Smith of Arlington to the Crime and Narcotics Advisory Commission.

Erwin A. Pfleger of Floresville to the San Antonio River Authority board of directors.

Warren Woodward of Dallas and Truett Smith of Wylie were selected Texas Industrial Commission vice chairmen and secretary-treasurer.

"People's Lobby" Forms
A new liberal group—including representatives of labor, ethnic and environmental interests—has organized an "issues-oriented" people's lobby.

About 300 attended the organizational meeting. Former U. S. Senator Ralph Yarborough and former U. S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark were the main speakers. Congressman Bob Eckhardt of Houston was named temporary chairman and State Sen. Barbara Jordan of Houston and Joe Bernal of San Antonio, temporary vice chairmen. Twelve steering committee members were chosen to work with them.

By a divided vote, the group decided to steer clear of candidate endorsements (although there was plenty of speculation at the meeting that Yarborough may run for governor in 1972) and concentrate on specific legislative goals.

Houston's Kirkwood Civic Club, which insures enforcement of dead restrictions and sponsors lawn beautification contests, is not exempt from the state franchise tax, says the State Supreme Court.

A letter terming a woman an "undesirable" rater (filed with an apartment association) was a privileged communication and not libelous, High Court ruled in another Harris County case.

Third Court agreed that Martin Independent School District had the right to annex Baurharts ISD.

Attorney General Opinions
State Comptroller is required to pay counties 25 cents for registration of voters under 21, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:
Comptroller does not have the affirmative duty to withhold issuing state warrants to agencies of the state where a complaint had been lodged for employment-discrimination.

Open Meetings Amendment
Proposed

A bill to require notice before and posting of minutes afterward concerning closed-door meetings of public agencies was heard by the House State Affairs Committee.

Closed meetings now can be held legally to discuss personnel, real estate or security matters.

Bill by Sen. Dono Alford of Wichita Falls would not let these meetings, but would require notice in advance that they are to be held. Within three days, under the bill, minutes including the action which took place in the closed meeting would have to be made public. Bill went to subcommittee for study.

Meanwhile, Sen. Mike McLeod of Dallas introduced a bill (SB 114) to require publishers, broadcasters and billboard concerns to charge their "lowest" rate for political advertising. Bill proposes $300 fine and recovery action for "excess charge."

First Bill Signed

First bill of the legislative session—requiring voter registration through February—was signed into law by Governor Smith.

Voters who register this month cannot take part in elections before April 1. Those who registered before the close of the old deadline, in January, can vote by March 1.

Good guys keep to the right!

How would you classify a slow-poke driver who always stayed in the lefthand lane? You're right if you have listed him as a bad driver.

How would you classify a driver who moves into the righthand lane to let faster drivers go by? Again you're right if you called this motorist a good driver... a good guy.

Texas law now requires vehicles moving slower than the normal flow of traffic to stay in the righthand lane of multi-lane highways. What part of the roadway do you drive on?

Be a good guy on the highway. Use the left lane for passing and do your driving in the right hand lane. Do this and be recognized for what you are... a much better than average driver. One of the few who really know how to handle their automobile.

Adrian Combs Conducts Ill. Youth Questionnaire

Adrian Combs, former editor of the Democrat, was recently featured in an article in a Southern Illinois daily newspaper in connection with a program to promote better youth activities.

The project was undertaken by public relations class at Southern Illinois University where Combs is a graduate student in a School of Journalism.

The class is preparing a complete study of Carbondale, Ill., minor sports, a group which sponsors Little League baseball, similar basketball program and touch football program.

The organization hopes to expand into activities for girls next summer. Combs headed a five-man fact-finding committee which compiled information the rest of the class will use in preparing their recommendations.

The committee sent questionnaires to 150 parents to see how they felt about the youth program. They also polled 49 boys who had participated in the program and 63 boys who had not, to find out the strong and weak points of the present set-up.

In addition, they surveyed 107 girls to see what activities they might like best. Another part of the information collecting dealt with the history of the program, the budget, the goals and problems the people who work with the program think they have.

At the end of March the class will present to the directors of the program three different plans for improvement. They will include suggestions on a complete

MRS. DANNY DAVIS JOUETT

Finchum-Jouett Nuptials Solemnized in Pretty Church Service In Childress

Marriage vows for Miss Patsy Sue Finchum of Childress and Billy Davis Jouett of Estelline were solemnized Jan. 30 in a double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock in the First United Methodist Church in Childress. Dr. J. E. Whert, pastor, officiated. Parents of the couple are Mrs. Fred Duggins of Childress and Mrs. Gene Jouett of Estelline. Mr. and Mrs. Jo Jouett Estelline and Mr. and Mrs. T. Davis of Memphis are the groom's grandparents. Bridesmaids of emerald green in gold and white tapers in gold and white decorated the altar. White ribbons marked the bridal aisle. Candles were lighted by Billy and Allen Prentice, nephews of the bride.

Mrs. Jack Burrus, organist, led the wedding music and accompanied Miss Pam Mills of Lawton, Okla., cousin of the bridegroom, as she sang "The Gift of Never" and "Wedding Bells."

The Bride
Given in marriage by her brother Bobby Finchum of Lubbock, the bride was gowned in a formal gown of white silk organza and tulle lace. The frock was fashioned with a scalloped neckline and a A-line skirt accented by a motif and sequins. The long sleeves of chastilly lace ended in al points and the bodice gleamed with pearls and iridescent sequins. The chapel train of matching lace was attached by a white bow. Petals of pearls, sequins and crystals secured the garter veil of silk illusion.

In observing the old-new tradition, the bride carried a family heirloom that had been a gift to her mother and had been carried by her sister in her wedding. Her veil included a necklace given by the bridegroom and pearl earrings borrowed from her aunt, Mrs. Ruth Palmer of Amarillo. She wore a blue garter and a six-inch lace shoe.

She carried a bouquet of white butterfly roses and garland of white feathered carnations tied with white picot ribbon streamers. The love knots and lily of the valley atop a lace covered Bible.

Attendants
Mrs. Bobby Holtzclaw, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a cap-length gown of pink peau de soie with empire waist and rounded neckline accented with silver sequins. Her veil of hot pink lace was attached to a matching pink bow, and she carried a crescent bouquet of white feathered carnations and white satin streamers. Bridesmaids were Misses Sandra Aaron, Janet West and Debbie Jouett, sister of the bridegroom. Their gowns were of hot pink peau de soie with lace sleeves matching their veils. Each carried a long stemmed white carnation with white satin streamers. Flower girls were Leah Jouett, sister of the bridegroom, and Lisa Holtzclaw, niece of the bride. Their dresses were similar to the bridesmaids and their headpieces were matching pink Dior

Steve Diggs, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man. The groomsmen were Paul Bryant and Doug Fowler, both of Estelline, and Bobby Holtzclaw. Ushers were Joe Jouett, brother of the bridegroom, Benny Davis, uncle of the bridegroom and Donald Miller, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Duggin chose for her daughter's wedding an apricot knit dress with pleated skirt and accented with brown accessories. Mrs. Jouett wore a light green dress fashioned with A-line skirt and complemented with bone accessories. Both wore corsages of yellow cymbidium orchids.

Reception
Mrs. Duggins was hostess for the reception in the church parlor.

Guests were registered by Miss Mandy Hedrick of Estelline. The registration table was covered with a white lace cloth over satin and centered with a milk glass bud vase holding hot pink roses. The bride's table was covered with white satin draped in net and overlaid with white lace. The centerpiece was an arrangement of hot pink roses between white candles in brass holders. The three-tiered cake of white was decorated with hot pink roses and topped with a miniature bridal couple beneath an arch of matching roses. Mrs. James Cameron and Mrs. Bobby Finchum served the cake. Mrs. Donald Miller and Mrs. Billy Prentice served the punch.

For a wedding trip, the bride chose for travel a green and white pantsuit with black accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The newlyweds will reside at 207 Avenue E, Northwest, in Childress. The bride graduated from Childress High School in 1970 and the bridegroom attended Estelline High School. He is employed with Golden Spread Irrigation Co. in Memphis.

Mr. and Mrs. Jouett were hosts for the rehearsal dinner in a Childress restaurant. The bride-elect's chosen colors of hot pink and white were used to decorate the tables. ### Baptist Hear Study On Home Mission Book

The Home Mission study book, "The Diakonic Task," was taught by Mrs. O. H. Murphy Tuesday, Feb. 16, in the choir room of the First Baptist Church.

These principles for helping were brought out: to help as a mature Christian is to understand the feelings of those who are receiving help; one must be real in his helping relationship with others; if one is to be an adequate helper, his relationships must demonstrate understanding; the necessity to practice acceptance in all relationships; one can only be a Christian helper as he realizes that Christ and Christian love are the very essence of helping to heal; creative listening is a must in successful helping relationships; effective Christian helping will eventually result in the ministry of the proclaimed word of God.

The study opened and closed with prayer.

Attending were Mmes. C. H. Murphy, Frank Ellis, Hulda Wil-

SPORTS CORNER

By HILL COMBS
I've been thinking of writing a column for several months; I thought I'd try my fingers, off and on for a while.

It's only fitting to report that the famous golfer of our city, who is giving us a new ball into the cup, is not only a member of the Memphis Country Club but also a member of the Memphis Country Club. The ace went to hit the ball and he did it. The score was 18 holes in one. This is a record for the Memphis golfer. You will remember that several years ago he killed a pecker on a hole in one. He made a hole in one. He is a golfer and a real gentleman, and I speak from experience when I say he is hard to beat on the golf course.

Congratulations to the Lakeview Eaglettes. They did it again. For the third straight year the Lakeview girls team has won district honors. Coach Davis and the players can be proud of their victories.

I haven't gone into depth concerning individual players in the news columns, but would like to do so here. Brenda Smith certainly deserves a little recognition.

Brenda is a senior this year and her high school basketball career is near end. She has been a star for the Eaglettes in many respects. Brenda, a 5'4" forward, is an all around player. She rebounds and jumps so well that she sometimes jumps center for her team. She has so many different shots it is difficult for guards to stay with her.

In scoring, she has made approximately 2,890 points in her three-year career at Lakeview. This year, through Saturday's game, she has scored 1,050 points in 30 contests, averaging about 35 points per game. She did not get to play even a full half in several games this year.

Brenda is deadly at the free throw line as she hit 18 of 18 in one game this year. She shoots both left hand and right hand hook shots, shoots a good jump shot, and is all over the court in her quick and aggressive way.

Brenda has now played on three district championship teams for Lakeview, the 1969 team which went to region, the 1970 team which went to bi-district, and the 1971 team.

I want to say that teamwork is most important to any team, whether it's volleyball, basketball or football. I do not want to be misunderstood in citing some of Miss Smith's outstanding credentials and accomplishments that I am slighting the other girls on the Lakeview squad. It takes six girls on the basketball court at all times playing their best for a team to be successful. All of the Lakeview girls deserve congratulations for their successful season.

All you volleyball players: the season is getting underway with a tournament at Estelline this weekend. Memphis has one scheduled for March 4-5-6, and Lakeview has one March 11-12-13, and Hedley has announced for March 18-19-20.

Motorcyclists are racing on the river sand each weekend, it seems. This sport has certainly caught on in this area the past two years. We have a story where local riders won three firsts, two seconds and a fourth at Vernon last Sunday. Barry Ward said he has had eye trouble. "I don't have any trouble getting in the lead," he said. "I just have trouble getting to the finish line." Barry fouled a plug in Sunday's race at Vernon.

LETTERS

To The Editor

H. A. Combs, Editor
Memphis Democrat
Memphis, Texas

Dear Sir:
Many times I have been asked the question, "Why does the funds collected on the Annual Finance Drive for Scouting have to be sent to our Council Headquarters in Pampa?" This covers the two Scouting Organizations in Memphis, boys and girls.

Although I do not know all the proper answers to the satisfaction of everyone, but I would like to explain those I understand. We would not be able to have Scouting in Memphis without a central headquarters to provide training for leaders; secure such methods as Cookie and Calendar Sales to raise funds for each local troop according to the amount of effort each makes as to the amount they receive as there are no limits as to the number each of the scouts sell with the exception of Brownies; accept applications from the older troops regarding "Out-of-Council Opportunities" in which Girl Scouts have the opportunity to visit with other Councils and Camps in all parts of the United States; make it possible for us to have a voice in the National organization by sending delegates to conference annually; and, of course, securing the marvelous grounds we now own as our very own Girl Scout Campsite north of Clarendon.

Without headquarters, we would have none of these things. But, to maintain these offices, we must have an Executive Director, Field Advisors, bookkeepers who occupy offices and have travel expenses to service the many troops in the Council, which covers ten (10) counties. Our Council owns a bus to transport troops on various occasions. The Memphis Scouts will be using this vehicle in conjunction with the Clarendon Scouts this summer for Day Camp. Maintaining the bus and providing proper insurance takes a portion of our funds. Most of the work being done at the Clarendon Campsite is volunteer work, a great deal is done by adults who do not have any children and they use their large equipment and fuel to help get the camp in shape. To these folks, I am grateful. We used money raised over the past years to pay the $27,000.00 for this property. Now, we expect to pay $10,000.00 for a filter system on the swimming pool from monies on this year's cookie sales, plus some certificates of deposit accumulated for this purpose. We couldn't do these things without our office in Pampa.

According to expenses of the Council, divided by the number of girls we service, the amount spent on each girl is approximately $27 for the year. Memphis has 98 Girl Scouts, but our average Fund Drive falls much under the amount of benefit we receive. We do appreciate every effort our community makes on these drives and certainly thank those who have headed these drives through out the years, as well as all other volunteer workers taking their time to assist the Chairman. Volunteer workers make up the principle staff of Scouting. There are nurses, doctors, lawyers, bankers, school teachers, just to name a few, who take the time to attend out-of-town meetings at their own expense to keep the Council operation going. The president, first and second vice presidents, secretary, treasurer are volunteers as well as the members-at-large who work on committees.

Scouting takes professional personnel, volunteer workers, hardworking Neighborhood Chairmen who keep the local troops going, those unsung heroes who are "troop leaders" and money.

With Mackie Allen as Chairman, we look for a most successful Drive which will be made soon. Every contribution, large or small, will be appreciated and used for the most worthy cause we have, "giving our youth opportunities in many fields" through Scouting.

Yours very truly,
Mrs. Elmont Branigan

Many anglers remain seated while they are boat fishing for bass. It's more comfortable. But it has its disadvantages!

In the first place, most anglers don't cast as accurately while seated. In the second place, they can't set the hook as hard and therefore lose some of their finest catches, especially the wily tough-mouthed lunkers.

One has far greater freedom of movement while standing. This gives more agile footwork and greater freedom of the arms, hands and wrists.

So, if you sit and fish, arise the moment you get a strike. Set the hook hard and pull the arms high, the better to take up all slack in the line instantly. Keep the rod tip up so you'll get the full benefit of all the give that's in the upper part of the rod.

Above all don't point the rod at the fish, for then you lose the benefit of all the action there is in the rod, which is designed to "give and take" . . . and tire the fish.

Don't attempt to "horse him in." Tire him out, then lift him in, preferably by net.

There are exceptions of course. In thick, brushy areas you'd better land him as soon as you can, even if you have to immediately boost him over the side of the boat and flip him aboard in one and the same motion. It's a dangerous method but sometimes it's the one and only. Trouble here is that in your haste to land the critter you may hang him against the side of the boat and knock him off the hook.

In brush areas you need a stiff rod with very little give or flexibility.

Specialist Says Demand May Call For More Cotton

COLLEGE STATION—A supply shortage could endanger the best outlook for expanding cotton markets in a decade was a commonly heard statement at the recently held National Cotton Council meeting in Dallas.

Fred C. Elliott, Extension Service cotton specialist, said the need for more cotton production was pointed out by several conference speakers, including Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Clarence D. Palmbly and Dr. M. K. Horne, Jr., consulting economist for the Cotton Council.

Horne noted that domestic mill usage in 1970 was 8 million bales and that exports at the crop year ending next August 1 are projected to rise to 1.5 million bales, up from 900,000 in 1969. There is some feeling that actual exports will go to 4 million bales or more, Horne said. Domestic use of 8 million bales and exports of 1.5 million would reduce the carryover stock of cotton to the lowest level since 1952 and bring the nation to the brink of a supply crisis, the economist said.

Elliott said Dr. Horne emphasized that cotton could not survive such a situation when cotton farmers are competing with synthetic fibers which are produced on dependable schedules every day of the year. Therefore, a larger crop in 1971 is a must, he said.

Palmbly also emphasized the need for more cotton production in 1971 and outlined how the Agricultural Act of 1970 could give a new direction for cotton. The new program offers the cotton industry the opportunity to be more competitive in terms of production costs and to produce what the market will take—quantities and varieties needed, he said.

In order to expand the nation's market opportunities, larger supplies along with a greater variety of staple lengths and other quality factors are necessary.

"We must have cotton available if we hope to regain cotton's rightful share of market growth here and around the world," the assistant secretary said.

Elliott said on Texas cotton producers to take a realistic view of the current situation and take advantage of the opportunities of 1971.

908 Men From Texas Listed In March Call

AUSTIN—The March draft call for Texas was announced Tuesday by Colonel Melvin N. Gantz, the state director of Selective Service for Texas. Gantz said Texas will induct 908 men from the Extended Priority Selection Group and from the First Priority Selection Group for 1971.

Gantz emphasized that men in the first priority group would be called only if the March call cannot be filled with men in the extended group.

The Extended Priority Selection Group is made up of men whose lottery number was reached by their local board in 1970, and who would have been inducted earlier had there not been delays in the issuance of their induction orders due to procedural or other delays.

"The March pre-induction physical examination call is for 2,800 men," Gantz added.

Local Board No. 29, Childress, has received a call for four for induction into the Armed Forces for March 9, 1971. A physical examination call was also received for the same date.

Survivors include: her husband, J. L. Downs, of the home; one son, Wilson of Houston; her stepmother, Mrs. Winfred Wilson of Memphis; and two grandchildren.

held Friday night, and the important game was between Hedley and Quitaque.

The Hedley team took a 9 to 3 first quarter lead and stretched it to 17 to 6 at halftime.

In the third period, Quitaque managed to out-score Hedley 11 points to 8 and pull to within 8 points. In the final quarter, the Hedley girls managed 9 points to Quitaque's 10, and the Owlettes won the tournament crown and the right to a district showdown with Lakeview.

District Finals Meeting in Clarendon College gym Saturday night, the Lakeview girls were certainly ready, after resting during the game with Turkey the night before. The Hedley team entered their third pressure contest in three days. Hedley had also lost to Lakeview every time the two teams have met this season.

Possibly the most crucial part of this contest came in the opening quarter of this game.

It became obvious, in the early minutes that Lakeview forwards were accurate, as they scored 17 points in the first quarter while Hedley could only manage 5. The Owlettes just could not manage a come-back and lost the contest 48 to 37.

Brenda Smith scored 30 for Lakeview while Call Holland had 17 for Hedley. This gave Lakeview girls their third district win in a row.

Bi-District Match

The Class B Bi-District game was played Tuesday night at Clarendon College gym between the Lakeview girls and the Lefors girls. This was the second bi-district contest between these two teams in the past two years.

The game featured the well-balanced Piratettes with four seniors, and four girls 5'7" or taller, against the Eaglettes, with two seniors and one girl 5'7", senior Cynthia Moore.

The game got under way, and in the first quarter, Lefors jumped out to a 15 to 8 lead. Susan Klein, 5'8", and two 5'6" senior forwards, Sue Bates and Sandra Cain, made the chore of Lakeview's guards most difficult all during the contest.

On the other end of the court, Brenda Smith turned in a fine performance, scoring 31 points. Mary Ann Gilbreth and Carolyn Hughes scored 7 and 2 respectively, accounting for the team's 48 points.

The Lakeview girls did a fine job in the final stages of the fourth quarter in closing the gap on Lefors, after trailing by 14 at the end of the third period. Lakeview got within 6 points at one time. The final score was 49 to 46.

Klein had 23 points for Lefors, Bates had 16 and Cain 8.

Coach Davis of Lakeview, in his second year there, has coached three district championship teams. This year's girls team finished 26-7 for the season. Last year, both Lakeview teams won district titles.

The Lakeview girls team this year is composed of two seniors, Brenda Smith and Cynthia Moore, five sophomores, Carolyn Hughes, Marla Gregory, Mary Ann Gilbreth, Janie Gomez, and Thelma Wright, and five freshmen, Dunita Byars, Carol Gomez, Sherry Pruffitt, Betty Sanders and Mary Wright.

"Large school systems are not as good as they have been. Teaching in small schools can be effective," Vardy said.

He pointed out that teachers in small schools should begin to look and study; try non-graded school system; develop grading system for this sort of system; develop good library; get added science equipment; and develop close relationship between teacher and student.

He closed his remarks by stating, "School is center of small towns. Studies show most of the children in these kind of schools
