Only Six Days Left For Farm Program Sign-up

Pointing out to producers that the sign-up period for the cotton, grain and wheat programs ends on Friday, April 9, Larry B. Rogers, executive director of the Hall County ASCS Office, urged farmers to sign up as soon as possible at the County ASCS Office. To date, approximately 500 farms have signed up out of a total eligible number of about 600 farms. This indicates that we will have a large last-minute rush," he said.

Participation in the cotton, feed grain and wheat programs is voluntary but not automatic. Producers must sign an application by April 9 declaring their intention to participate.

Cyclone Band Captures Class A U.I.L. Sweepstakes Honor Wed.

Dist. 2-A Golf, Tennis, Track To Be Mon., Tues.

Memphis Cyclone spring sport athletes vie in District 2-A competition Monday and Tuesday at Clarendon, and local coaches and students plan to capture their share of honors.

The Memphis High golf and tennis teams compete Monday. Then, Tuesday, the MHS "Flying M" track team hopes to capture enough points to bring home the District 2-A track title.

Coach Clyde McMurray said Wednesday that it appears that Claude is the favorite team to win the district meet, when comparing records of past performances in prior meets.

"But we think we have a dark horse chance of upsetting them, if all goes our way and our boys come through like they hope to do," he said.

A district crown hinges on those valuable points, not only for first place, but all the way down the line. The team with the most total points captures the track title.

Coach McMurray listed the following as competing in various events:

440-yd. relay—T. J. Johnson, Louis Davis, Charlie Slaughter and Otho Rogers. "We're aiming for a time of 45.5 or better. If we get it we think we can beat the other teams," the coach said. He pointed out that other schools in the district have possibly faster men on certain legs in this event, but hopes the MHS quartet makes up valuable time by executing perfect handoffs.

Mile relay team—Mack Miller, Tommy Johnson, Louis Davis and Terry Wynn. At Dumas last week, this team trimmed 8 seconds off previous times, turning in a 3:36.6 with Charlie Slaughter running in place of Louis Davis, hampered by a slight muscle pull. "We have as good kids in this event as anyone and with a good effort we hope to win this event," he said.

"Louis Davis is one of our worries. He pulled a muscle and we're giving it all the time and rest we can. His best individual event is the 330-yd. intermediate hurdles which he runs before he runs in the relays. If he runs well he will compete in the relay events," he said.

Also competing with Louis in the 330 hurdles will be John Carman and Paul Fowler.

In the 220-yd. dash, Tommy Johnson has had a 23.1 this season at Dumas. This is one of the top times in the district. Also Charlie Slaughter and Mack Miller will run this event.

Open quarter sees Mack Miller, Charles Slaughter and Terry Wynn running. Mack led the local pack with a 53.9 at Dumas.

880-yd. run has Chris Liner. (Continued on Page 8)

National Piano Auditions To Be Held April 5, 6; Mrs. Harriet Wood Is Judge

The National Piano Playing Auditions sponsored by the National Guild of Piano Teachers will be held April 5 and 6 at the Community Center in Memphis.

"We are very fortunate in having as our judge this year, Mrs.

Harriett Wood of Tyler," members stated.

Mrs. Wood began the study of piano at the age of four, studying from Mrs. Louis Durst in Tyler as a child and working with Harold Von Mickwitz. She entered the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music at the age of 15; studied with Marcian Thalberg and with Olga Samaroff at Juilliard. She also completed three years of private study with Dr. Edwin Hughes in New York, and with Romar Cramer in Dallas. For 11 years, she has been associated with St. Andrew's Episcopal Day School as principal and also served as organist and choir master for the church. Mrs. Wood has been a judge for the National Guild of Piano Teachers for several years.

During the months of March, April, May and June, over 65,000 piano students of the nation will participate in this annual piano playing event being held in 600 centers. Memphis is the designated "center" of this area.

REV. LLOYD RIDDLES

Travis Baptist To Have Revival This Weekend

The Travis Baptist Church of Memphis will be in revival Friday, Saturday and Sunday, April 2, 3, and 4.

Leading in this effort will be the Rev. Lloyd Riddles, pastor of Flint Avenue Baptist Church in Lubbock, where he has pastored for the past two years.

Rev. Riddles was born in Wauka, Okla., and later moved to Wichita Falls where he attended elementary and high school. He attended Midwestern University and Texas Technological University, of which he is a graduate.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Riddles of Wichita Falls. Having served three years in the Marine Corps, Rev. Riddles attended the rank of sergeant. He is married to the former Shirley Samson and they have four children: Wayne, age 13, Shawn, 10, Kevin, 7, and Corey, 2.

Rev. Riddles is now serving as president of the Pastors Conference of the Lubbock Baptist Association, a member of the Youth Activities Committee, the Resolutions Committee, and a past member of the Evangelism Committee. Raymond Foster will be in charge of the music.

The membership of Travis Baptist Church extends a cordial invitation to attend revival services.

Friday and Saturday evening services will begin at 7:30. Sunday services will be held at the regular time; Sunday School, 9:45 a. m., worship service, 11 a. m., and evening service at 7 o'clock.

The Memphis Cyclone Band under the direction of Carol Blain, returned to former glory Wednesday at Amarillo by capturing six Division I ratings in concert and sight reading to go with a Division I marching rating, making it a Class A Sweepstakes Band.

This qualifies the band to vie for the Class A Honor Band title, the highest recognition a band can receive. Band Director Blain said, "we will cut a tape of our concert number to go to our Region. If our Region selects our tape, it will go to Austin to compete with other sweepstake tapes, one from each Region. From these, the Honor Band will be selected."

If the Cyclone Band is selected in competition between Memphis and Gruver, the two Sweepstakes band in this region, then it is possible that the members could earn a trip to the Texas Music Educators Convention next February, since Class A and Class AAA honor bands will put on a concert.

The competition at Amarillo was stiff, and the local band's victory over the judges is one of the true classics of determined work by director and musicians which began last August.

Miss Blain said, "The band has come a long way since last August. They went with the belief they were best and would not settle for less than six I's, and played a very musical and exciting program. I could not be prouder of any band for such an accomplishment."

The Sweepstakes trophy at Memphis High School did not come easy for the local group of musicians. Long hours of hard practice sessions, difficult music passages had to be worked out, weaknesses in marching, instrumentation and enthusiasm had to be solved.

But it all paid off as members of the band felt the Sweepstakes is well worth the effort.

A group of band boosters and other citizens met the local band buses last night as they approached Memphis and escorted the band into town. Signs congratulating the band appeared on downtown business houses.

Judges Comments

Former Memphis director Bill Bradley was one of the sight reading judges. He is now at Big Spring. Bradley stated: "I enjoy seeing the MHS band again . . . all in all, a fairly nice job."

Don Eiring said about sight reading, "good band, good conducting, nice style and usually good pitch."

Charles E. Nail said, "very good teaching evident, you really pay attention to what your director says."

On the concert performance, W. A. Tony Anderson of Abilene H. S. said, "this is a very difficult program. Band has a lot of flash and plays really well."

Dan Gibbs of Monahans said, "beautiful sound, mature quality sound and many fine musical contrasts."

Oland Butler said, "seldom do I get to make this statement: the breath support is good, fine work . . . I enjoyed this performance."

All the concert judges commented on the difficult music the local band played and the alertness of the musicians. Criticisms were of a technical nature.

Director Blain said she appreciated the band's hard work preparing for the concert and especially cited the efforts of the senior members.

The Cyclone Band this year returned to Sweepstakes ranks the first time since 1967. Beginning in 1964, under Director Bill Bradley, the band began winning the top rating, continuing four consecutive years. In 1965 the director was Ronnie Wells, and in 1966 and 1967 the director was Darryl Phillips.

SWEETSTAKES BAND—Pictured above, are members of the 1970-71 HS Cyclone Band and their director Carol Blain (center back) hold up a finger indicating they're No. 1. The picture was poised last fall when the band went after a Div. I in marching but the sign is more fitting now as the band captured Div. I ratings in marching, sight reading and concert to take the UIL Region Sweepstakes trophy. Miss Blain said the band will prepare a tape to enter into the State Class A Honor Band Competition, open only to sweepstakes bands every other year. Next year Class A and Class AAA will be honored.

About Sexually Oriented Ad Mailing

The Texas Panhandle area has begun to get letters post-marked from Brooklyn, N. Y., labeled "Sexually Oriented Ad". In view of an apparent upswing in obscene mailing, Memphis area citizens are reminded that they can ask to be placed on a restricted list to which "sexually oriented" advertisements cannot be sent to them.

Application for such listing is available at the Memphis post office, and includes not only the applying adult, but also all minor children who have not attained the age of 19 years.

Instances of extremely obscene mail receipts are being reported here in the past few days, advertising books, movies and illustrated sexual encyclopedias and marriage manuals.

On the outside of the envelope, the following message gives some indication as to the contents: "This envelope contains written and/or photographically illustrated sexually oriented advertisement(s). As defined by Section 3010 (d) of the Postal Reorganization Act of 1970, a sexually oriented advertisement means any advertisement that depicts in actual or simulated form, or explicitly describes, in a predominantly sexual context, human genitalia, any act of natural or unnatural sexual intercourse, any act of sadism or masochism, or any other erotic subject directly related to the foregoing."

"If you do not wish this mail, please return it to sender or destroy its contents without opening. Thank You."

The contents of these envelopes portray everything which is defined in Section 3010 (d) of the Postal Reorganization Act of 1970.

Through the use of the application for listing with the Postal Service, mailers can be prosecuted for mailing material to persons on the taboo list. Here is the way the application pursuant to 39 U. S. Code 3010 works:

"You list your name with the Postal Service, stating that you wish not to receive any sexually oriented advertisements through the mails.

"You may also list the names of your children under 19 years old who live with you or who are under your care, custody or supervision.

"The Postal Service compiles a reference list of such names and makes the list available, at a fee, to mailers. The law prohibits any commercial solicitation of names on the reference list.

"After 30 days from the date your name is added to the reference list, any mailer who sends you a sexually oriented advertisement subjects himself to both civil and criminal legal action by the United States government.

Each adult must file a separate application, and an adult may file applications on varying forms of his name. On address change, a new application must be filed, and a person must also file a new application each five years.

Procedures are also established when sexually oriented mail is received in the mail after an individual has been on the list for 30 days. In this case, the post office says "you should print on the envelope (or other cover) of the sexually oriented advertisement, the date on which you received it and a fix your signature immediately below that statement.

"Since the law generally prohibits opening of first class mail by someone other than an addressee, make certain you open the mail piece that you believe has been mailed to you in violation of this law prior to turning it over to the Postal Service.

"Take the violative mail piece to any post office for further action."

A person can also mail the objectionable piece back to the sender requesting the sender to refrain from making any further mailing to him.

Postal patrons have long been protected from receiving obscene mail by postal regulations. Now the fence is down.

Postal Reform—Less Service

If the telephone companies, airlines, railroads, or other privately owned—but government-regulated—businesses were to close down completely even for one day a year, it's a safe bet that the federal government would act.

That action probably would come in the form of a warning that any future shutdown would be met quickly with penalties or even take-overs in order to guard the public welfare.

Yet the federal government itself is just as guilty of tying up the nation and adversely affecting the public welfare when it authorizes an ever-increasing number of postal holidays, such as Feb. 15, which was called (take your pick) Washington's birthday or President's Day.

The memory of similar postal holidays on Christmas and New Year's Day are still fresh enough in our memory. They came during a peak postal season, and it seemed to require two or three days (in some cases longer) for mail service to get back to normal.

Feb. 15, however, was not part of a peak postal season. Yet the results were the same: No mail service on Monday and late mail for most of the rest of the week. We just can't believe that this is what Americans—including the members of Congress—had in mind when they gave their approval last year to something called "postal reform."

From all indications, the "reform" won't be that at all. It will instead be a system to make the postal service less responsive to the people it serves, charging them higher rates and giving them even more inferior service.

The "postal reform" advocates contend that the new policies will make the postal service "more efficient" and "more businesslike."

They note with pride that the higher rates (up one-third for first class letters sometime in May, according to one prediction) will make the service "self-supporting."

It just doesn't ring true, however. The fact is that few business—outside of monopolies (which, of course, the postal service is)—could get by for long with raising prices and reducing services. In due time, their customers would rebel and seek the services of a rival.

And we can't accept the contention that higher efficiency is in evidence now—or will be in the future—as more holidays are added and Saturday service eliminated.

We're not against holidays for postal employees, although we doubt if spending "President's Day" with the family is really a meaningful tradition—any more than Columbus Day or Groundhog Day are.

Most essential private industries (power and water companies, for example) are able to function seven days a week, 52 weeks a year, and still permit their employees to spend some holidays at home. And those who have to work on holidays are paid extra for it.

This is what the postal service should do.

And, more importantly, it should be made (through public outcry, if elected representatives cannot do the job) to expand its services instead of cutting them back. Won't that cost more?

Of course. But it would be a far better investment for the federal government than many functions which are supported by it and not controlled "to operate at a profit" or "break even."

What's more, it would benefit all Americans, something which many federal programs do not do now.

Dust Storms In Texas May Get Worse Warns U. S. Soil Conservation Service

Dust storms that have ravaged Texas in recent weeks may get worse before they get better is the warning of the head of the state's U. S. Soil Conservation Service.

Clyde W. Graham, SCS state conservationist, says Texas dust storms have reached alarming intensity.

"Acres damaged by wind erosion this blow season are already higher than any year since 1965," Graham reports. "If we do not get widespread rains soon, wind erosion damages may reach mid-1950 levels."

Graham said the record-breaking drouth is a major cause of the problem. Many areas report winter rainfall to be the lowest since records were started.

"Dry weather last fall kept many farmers from planting cover crops," Graham continued. "The drouth has also reduced the effectiveness of emergency tillage which some farmers rely on to prevent wind erosion. And high wind velocities in the December to May blow season always seem to accompany a severe drouth."

He said the combination of the drouth, high winds and lack of cover was causing serious land damage across a wide section of the state. The storms are also creating health problems for the people with respiratory ailments. Reports from SCS offices tell of roads and streets blocked with sand and six-foot drifts against houses. And it is not just a farm problem. Sandy land being stripped bare for urban developments is blowing, too.

About two million acres of land in Texas has been damaged by wind erosion this year, which is about the same as 1965. This compares to only 126,000 damaged last year. The most wind erosion in the past 20 years occurred during the 1956 blow season when 2.7 million acres were damaged.

Graham expressed concern that the two million figure for 1971 may double unless it rains soon.

He pointed out, however, that conservation programs pushed by his agency and by local soil and water conservation districts have been extremely valuable in curtailing wind damages this year.

While the two million acre figure is high, it is not close to the 15 million acres damaged during the Dust Bowl days of the 1930's.

"It's remarkable how land covered with a good surface mulch of crop residue is being protected from wind erosion," Graham said. "Farms and ranches covered with conservation measures installed under the Great Plains Conservation Program are weathering the wind storms especially well."

Graham said that in the last 15 years some 500,000 acres of cropland subject to wind damage in Northwest Texas have been planted to protective grasses. All so nearly a million acres of depleted rangeland have also been seeded. Better grassland management is holding down wind erosion on range and pasture land.

"But two million acres of land being damaged by wind this year is simply intolerable," Graham said, "especially when you realize it could have been prevented. It is easy to blame it all on the drouth but that is only part of the cause. We've been urging people for years to do a better job of leaving crop residue on the soil surface. Many listen but some do not."

"When you have good moisture, as we have had in recent years, wind velocity drops. And emerare really living in a fast can remember when to go to the horse and buggy to spend the day visiting. I accomplished a good deal for the day over ridge pole, and mud highways. The other day I asked for Wendell Harris' place of business and he said that he was spending the day in Waterloo, Iowa. I left here at 5 a. m., caught a bus in Amarillo, made the day which was almost 400 miles and was back home at night. It may be my age makes it seem like from one day until the next is only two days and it seems like that Christmas comes every month when in the early part of the year it seemed like two years one Christmas until the her incident showed how his age is now. I was visiting the local hospital a few days ago, and saw a young lady in her room in her robe. I asked her if she was sick, and she said, "No, I just had a cold." I told her that I was different now than it was 50 years ago. When a woman gave birth to a baby she had to stay in bed for four weeks before she could get up on her feet. I thought I was a lady that had just given birth to a baby and she said to the nurse that she had a cold and she had given the nurse the name. If all of the babies were named after her, there would be a lot more babies named after her than Mary and John.

conversation with Mrs. Elmer a few days ago, she did not know how many copies of The Democrat were published now, but had two or three hundred and forty about her broken ankle. I thought I was a lady that had just given birth to a baby and she said to the nurse that she had a cold and she had given the nurse the name. If all of the babies were named after her, there would be a lot more babies named after her than Mary and John.

visiting at Hall County a few days ago and met only County people just out. They were Mr. and Mrs. Den Bagby, who are from families of that county. George's brother, George, died in April of 1966. Her and mother moved to London in 1904. There is a nephew living to carry on the name. Asked Selma if they liked our hospital treatment they received. She said, "We find the room here better than we found of the larger hospitals." I met a man at the hospital named Danny Scarborough with a label on the wall. "It's a Girl!" Consists to them. The mother named the new daughter, DaNeve, born March 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham the square a few days ago were on their way to here they are now living. I had with them their son, Cliff—a fine boy.

33 registrations the day. Among them were wives of early day farmers to Hall County. Cleo Baker, now of Childress was one. Her father, the late W. H. (Will) Grundy, moved from Kentucky to near Newlin in 1902. There were four boys, Ike, Luther, Jess and Adla; three girls, the late Mrs. J. B. Grady, Mrs. T. Kittinger and Cleo Baker. She is the only survivor of this family. Cleo attended school at Newlin in her early days and later attended Memphis schools where she graduated in 1912. She attended the Music Conservatory in Cincinnati, Ohio, afterwards taught music. She married Mr. Baker in 1920 and moved to Childress in 1921 where she has lived the past 49 years. Cleo has one daughter and one son living in Childress and one son living in Houston. She has 11 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren now living. There were eight boys and one girl in her father's family who moved from Kentucky to Hall County. The other member of this family moved here before her father did. The one sister was the late Mrs. Joe McIntire of Estelline. We would like to have a complete history of the Grundy brothers who pioneered in Hall County.

Another pioneer family represented Saturday in Heritage Hall was of the late Fred Swift's family. Mrs. Alma (Swift) Decker of Childress represented this family. The Fred Swift family moved from Wise County to Hall County near Newlin in 1902. There were 10 children in this family, three boys and seven girls. Mr. Swift passed away in 1930 and Mrs. Swift, the mother, died in 1944. The three sons, Theodore, Jim and Grover, are now deceased. The seven girls all now living, are: Esther Ingram, Ruth Stanley and Irene Combs of Amarillo, Margaret Meadows of San Angelo, Agness Tunnell of Farwell, Mary Bartlett of Clarendon and Alma Decker of Childress. Alma said her first school was at Newlin. She remembered the first morning she attended school in Newlin. The teacher told her to draw a straight line on the board and she was so nervous she drew a good crooked line. She later attended Memphis schools when her family moved here and graduated from M.H.S. in 1914. She graduated from West Texas State in 1917, married Frank Decker of Clarendon in 1921 and they moved to Childress in 1932. Frank passed away in 1965. They have one daughter living in Lawton, Okla., one son, Don, living in Temple and another son, Dean, who lives at Silvertown. There are six grandsons and two granddaughters in this family. I did get a little information from Cleo Baker and Alma Decker on their school-day romance, but I won't quote it. Alma was in my class and she was very studious and always came up with the right answers for the teacher. These two ladies remembered one of the first school teachers they had in Newlin, a Mr. Wall. Some of their classmates were Allie Gresham, Lula and Myrtle Nelson. If my memory serves me right, I think all of the seven Swift girls graduated from M.H.S. Cleo and Alma were very pleased with Hall County Heritage Hall; said they made this special trip to Memphis to look it over and were coming back. Mrs. H. L. Couch of Childress was a guest of Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Decker.

Others visiting in Heritage Hall were Mr. and Mrs. Travis McGuire of Wellington; James W. Sutton of Amarillo, and he was a former school teacher at Newlin and Salisbury; also Mrs. Clois (Pat Anthony) Cobb with her two children, Tracy and Dee Ann Cobb, of Shallowater. Mrs. Cobb is the daughter of Odell Anthony and was born in Hall County, and graduated from M.H.S. She married Clois Cobb in 1961 and left Memphis the same year. She reported that some of the former teachers in our schools were now living in Shallowater—Mr. and Mrs. Weldon McCreary. He is now superintendent of schools, and Mrs. McCreary is teaching there. Also, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Thomson are in the schools there.

Mrs. Loyd (Louise Melton) Sutton visited Heritage Hall. In fact, she made the rounds two days, taking snapshots of the displays. She was born here in 1921, and said Dr. J. M. Ballew was the doctor who brought her into this world. She is now living in Tracy, Calif., where her husband is in Civil Service defense where he has served almost 30 years. This is the first time back here in 21 years. She has two sons, Chas., age 32, and Clarence, age 30. She said Dr. Odom was her doctor when the two sons were born. Louise is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jim Melton and in this family there were born 15 children, with 10 of them still living. She was here for the funeral of one of the brothers. Her statement in regard to Heritage Hall was, "I think it is wonderful and I am coming back again."

Mrs. B. H. Michael and sons, Steve and Gregory, of Norman, Okla., were guests of Mrs. Jay Griffith in Heritage Hall. In fact, they made two visits in two days. Mrs. Michael is a sister of Mrs. Griffith and this was their first trip to Hall County.

I met Mrs. Jean (Stiles) Rowell on the street a few days ago. She said she worked in Memphis in the early 1960's. She and her husband had just returned from Hawaii where they had lived the past four months. They were in Anchorage, Alaska, in 1968. They are going back to Alaska in May, but said Hedley would always be her home town.

I missed getting a card off to Dr. Odom last week for his 88th birthday. He is now at the "Golden Age Home," 1601 Kirkland Drive, Amarillo. Congratulations to him on another birthday.

I regret very much that we did not get the bus load to go to Austin to help our friend, Sen. Jack Hightower, celebrate his day as Governor on April 3. Also was in hopes we would get a bus for our

High School Band to be in the parade like they are doing in some other towns. Hope we have good representation in Austin by the ones traveling by air and in private cars. I do not know how the bus would have worked out as Jim Beeson had been self-appointed boss of the tour and said he would tell them when to make stops and I don't know how a young man 39 years old would know when to make a stop for a 75-year-old!

Memphis Junior High Teams Are Victorious

The Memphis Junior High students had a lot to be proud of as the Pee Wee (6th) girls and boys won first place in the Turkey Tournament last weekend, and the Whirlwind (8th) grade track team won first at the Clarendon meet.

The 7th grade track team also showed up well at the Clarendon meet, taking second place.

For the 6th grade girls, the tournament victory at Turkey kept a perfect past-season record alive and gave the team its third tournament trophy.

Mrs. Cherry Ourett, sponsor of the 6th grade girls, said, "we had 14 good girls playing on the team."

The 6th graders defeated Matador in the first game, downed Flomot, then took a 26 to 18 victory over Lockney, in a game that was not decided until the last minute of play.

The 6th grade boys also won at Turkey, giving them their second tournament trophy. Memphis met Turkey in the finals after downing Silverton, Matador and Flomot.

For the Memphis Junior High track team, District 2-A competition will be held in Clarendon, Tuesday, April 6.
