Co. Bank Deposits Set Record High

Mid-year financial reports of the three Hall County banking institutions set a new record high in all departments, with total deposits figure exceeding the 1969 mid-year total by slightly over $100,000.00.

The reports show a recovery from the decline during 1970, and the overall recovery is strong enough to set mid-year records in all categories.

As of June 30, 1971, the combined total assets of the three banks is $689,175.63 above a year ago with the figure standing at $17,333,749.67.

The recovery was made possible by the $1,350,447.67 increase in the total deposits in the three banks over last June 30 report. The new record in total deposits set in the June 30, 1971 call is $15,663,666.82, while the total deposits last year was $14.35 million.

Also showing an increase was the loans and discounts figure which is $9,438,892.54, an increase of $227,003.19 over last year.

The Statements of Condition reports of the First State Bank of Memphis, First National Bank of Memphis and Peoples State Bank of Turkey are published on page 6 of this issue of The Memphis Democrat.

Commissioners Court Calls For Public Hearing On Herbicide Control

The Hall County Commissioners Court received a petition Monday concerning the possibility of placing the county under provisions of V.A.C.S. Art. 135b.

This article provides for the control of spraying of hormone herbicides.

Certain plants, such as cotton, are highly susceptible to damage by any hormone herbicide, which is normally used to control mesquite, etc.

The Commissioners Court passed an order calling for a public hearing to be held on this matter at 10 a. m. Monday, July 26, 1971, at the Commissioners Courtroom in Hall County Courthouse.

All who are interested in this matter are urged to be at that hearing, for it will be determined whether or not there is a crop or vegetation of value that is grown in Hall County susceptible to damage from a hormone herbicide and to decide whether or not Hall County should be under provisions of V.A.C.S. Art. 135b.

Club Champ Decided By Sudden-Death Play

Sudden death play-off was held between Danny Scarbrough and Frank Foxhall for this County Club title Sunday after both golfers took birdie on the Par 4 18th hole and regular play with 67's, Scarbrough par.

Scarbrough, the defending champion, turned the front nine even par, while Foxhall, best challenger posted a 36, even par, on the front nine.

The sudden death, Foxhall Scarbrough, took pars by holing a 40-foot putt on the 19th hole, both golfers bogged the par 4. Foxhall had his best opportunity for a victory if he had holed a four-foot par putt but the ball stopped inches

Scarbrough won the 21st hole, successfully defended his hole when he sunk a 40-inch putt on No. 3 green, after he had allowed a little on break and missed a five-foot hill putt. Scarbrough came out of the right rough on the hole, where his ball lay in his wood shot from the Local golfers gave spectators an opportunity to see a hot match.

Scarbrough hit a turning point which put Scarbrough into sudden-death, when he hit his tee shot over the out-of-bounds. Scarbrough had been three shots up, 14, and was two under the day. On the 15th, Foxhall holed the hole and Scarbrough lost a stroke as he had

On the 16th, Scarbrough hit a shot out-of-bounds, but he took a boggie on the 17th. Foxhall picked up another stroke as Scarbrough hit his iron shot poorly and had a disappointing approach, and could only manage a boggie.

Scarbrough hit a 275-yd. par 4 green, and hit his drive into the fair to the right of the hole. Scarbrough's approach shot short of the cup by four feet. Foxhall's putt was short to the hole by inches.

Scarbrough who had been putting all day, ran his birdie putt back of the cup and Frank sank his putt also. Applause for both golfers was enthusiastic.

Scarbrough won the championship flight and Foxhall took runner-up honors. Other golfers competing were Gayle Monzingo who had a 76 and B. B. Gibson who had a 78.

Welcome, Young Voters!

Eighteen-year-olds can vote in Texas now . . . if they are registered, and if they can find an election to vote in.

Those who didn't register as voters before the registration period closed this spring will have to wait until the new registration period opens on October 1 to qualify . . . but that isn't likely to prove much of a handicap in most areas of Texas, because these aren't going to be many elections in this state between now and October 1.

The probable exceptions will be those areas where local option liquor-by-the-drink elections may be called . . . and 18-year-olds who haven't yet registered won't be able to cast ballots in those elections . . . but few are likely to be affected.

Voting for 18-year-olds became law in all states of the Union when the 26th amendment to the Constitution of the United States was ratified by the 38th state a few days ago.

We welcome the new young voters to join us at the polls in elections of the future, and are cautiously optimistic about the result. We hope that the young people, who have exhibited so much political awareness in other ways in recent years, will translate their concerns into action at the polls in ways which will be for the benefit of the State and Nation, because we stand desperately in need of new and fresh ideas.

Our optimism is tempered with caution because we see no logical reason to expect that these young voters will respond much differently, in the mass, than their elders when they receive the franchise. We expect that they are altogether human, in spite of being young, and that having won the prize many of them will now become as careless and as casual about exercising it as the rest of us have. We expect that from their ranks will develop about the same percentages of liberals, and the same percentages of conservatives, and the same majority of uncommitted and un-caring ones, as have been produced by our over-21 society.

But we hope it isn't so; we'd like to believe that the enthusiasm and idealism of our youth will be translated into the kind of informed and effective political action next year which can shake the rest of us out of our complacency and our government out of its cynicism.

1972 Constitutional Amendments

There will be 14 Constitutional Amendments on the Nov. 7, 1972 ballot. Here are the issues before the Texas voters:

HJR 61, which would authorize the 1973 Legislature to serve as a constitutional revision convention.

Two other (HJR 58 and HJR 95) would provide for raise in salaries of legislators (to $2,400) and lieutenant governor and House speaker (to $22,500).

SJR 1, providing four-year terms for governor and other statewide officials now limited to two-year terms.

SJR 16, guaranteeing that no rights will be abridged because of sex, race, color, creed or national origin.

SJR 7, permitting local governments on popular vote to exempt $3,000 of assessed value of resident homesteads of persons 65 or older from all ad valorem taxes.

HJR 68, providing for advertising (twice) of proposed constitutional amendments in clear, concise language in all legal newspapers in Texas.

HJR 35, authorizing a tax exemption for disabled veterans and a partial exemption for partially disabled veterans.

HJR 57, permitting county commissioners to reduce the county permanent school fund and provide for payment of money to independent and common school districts on a per-scholastic basis.

SJR 29, providing that state employees can serve on non-paying school boards and city governing bodies without forfeiting state pay.

SJR 20, exempting soil and water conservation district directors from dual office-holding prohibitions.

HJR 82, relating to rates of interest to be borne by bonds.

HJR 41, requiring that justices of the peace be compensated on salary basis.

HJR 31, abolishing Lamar County hospital district.

Business Problems

People who are not engaged in business, retail business, can't appreciate the business man's problems. To the outsider it looks like a good deal because about all they see is the clerk at the cash register busily putting money into the drawer.

This country has a farm problem. It has a problem in that a large segment of the population is retired persons attempting to live on a fixed income in a time of rising prices. This country also has a small business problem.

The small businessman has several problems that he has to solve if he remains in business. He has to figure out ways to solve the problem of rising costs and income that is static.

He has to solve the problem of bad debts. He has a problem of hot checks. And he has problem with shoplifting. A combination of these three can force him to the wall in a hurry.

Here in Perryton, every merchant will admit that these three areas cause the most concern. People that charge items, then wait for months to pay for them, stretch the merchant's credit and drain his working capital. For that reason more and more businesses have gone to charging interest each month on accounts that are more than 30 days old.

The people who write hot checks present another problem and this is the biggest headache for the grocery store, discount house, service station and cafe. Every grocery store in Perryton can show a stack of returned checks on any day of the week.

Even if the store finally collects the money on these checks, the time lost and the expense involved makes that transaction a costly one. Service stations who take a check after banking hours are taking a big chance because they are apt to be stuck with it.

In neighboring Liberal, Kansas, merchants have formed an association in cooperation with city police, and have a list of persons who have passed worthless checks. In case of doubt, a merchant may call the police station and see if a person's name is on the list and if it is, he can save money refusing to accept the check.

Shoplifting is a real cause of concern for the average store, and some stores are harder hit than others. The discount stores, the drug stores and supermarkets are fertile fields for shoplifters who carry off an estimated $3 billion each year in this country.

The small business man must also contend with continually rising federal taxes, his property taxes are substantial, poor employees are hard to find and retain, he finds himself working many hours after the doors are closed in order to keep up with the demands of his business.

Small businesses are under pressure and retail sales are being taken over by the giant concerns. Those that think the small business has a grave train ought to give it a try. You don't even need a license to get this kind of experience.

form and jig fishing have been in popularity during the several years, but there are anglers who still like to use water lures for bass. Today there is a lake especially for topwater users. It is located—created by a dam across Rio Grande 18 miles north of Rio. There you can fish in Texas or Old Mexico. This is one of the fine new lakes which is a product of the International Boundary Commission.

Lost Lots of Lures
Each of the area cannot be reached with lures that run very fast. That is if you expect to retrieve the lures back.

This lake covers thousands of acres of mesquite, catclaws, huisache and black brush, to say nothing of yucca, prickly pear and tough vegetation. When you are in a stiff like that it is not easy to retrieve the lures. Amistad has come along fast and has a bass lake. This mainly because at the lower end where the Rio flows into it, there are two older lakes—Lake and Devil's Lake. Both had been stocked with bass for years. When the new Amistad Lake Amistad formed, it encompassed both of them, and the bass were already man-size.

Boys Aid Boaters
Amistad also has other unusual features for a Texas impoundment. It is a lake where the stream beds all are marked with boys. This makes it possible for a boater to keep on course in going upstream on the body of water or going downstream. Also, they help in locating and pinpointing good coves and inlets. Not only do these boys mark the stream, but they also serve as boundary markers between the United States and Mexico.

Another feature of Amistad is its beautiful high-walled canyons in the upper reaches.

Amistad is now only about two-thirds filled, but when it reaches conservation level it will have some 300 feet of water around those canyon walls.

Since these walls have been standing for a million years more or less, they have become weathered, split and eroded resulting in many chasms where fish can hide.

Pictographs Visible
On some of these walls, Indian pictographs can still be seen. Many other landmarks of its ancient history, however, have been covered. Fortunately, these areas were fully explored by archeologists before the dam was completed and the artifacts were removed.

There are two main access points on the Texas side of the lake—Diablo East and Rough Canyon. Both of these have quality concessions, but they are very crowded. To get down to the launching spit it is necessary to wait in line on most any day.

National Park Service, which is administering the area, says it is without funds to complete other launching sites at this time. Unless new money is forthcoming, it will be several years before more can be built.

Area Developing Fast
Del Rio has gone ahead with its development program. There are already a number of fine motels.

Numerous boat barns have been constructed along the highway enroute to the lake. Here boats and motors of all sizes can be stored. Also, there are efficient boat and motor shops and plenty of places to buy tackle.

Since Del Rio is an old established town, its prices are in line with what you'd pay anywhere else. There are also several good guides available and good bass fishing boats.

Del Rio offers tourists more than just fishing in Amistad. There's also that international flavor. You can fish either in Texas or Old Mexico and go across the border for your night out. Cuidad Acuna is on the other side of the Rio Grande and it provides some of the best night spots along the entire Mexican border.

Mrs. L. Clarke Has Interesting Project At NTSU

Mrs. Louise Clark, Lakeview Homemaking teacher who is doing graduate work at North Texas State University this summer, is one of five students spending the summer semester as interior design advisors to Mrs. C. C. Nolen, wife of the university's new president.

The Nolen family will move into the new four-bedroom Colonial house on campus at North Texas State University that goes with the position of university president.

Working under Dr. Mary Evans, dean of the home economics department, the five students have each been assigned a specific area of the home to redesign, although they are also working together to present a unified appearance to the whole. Copies of the original blue prints for the house, drafted around 1955, were given each student as an aid in drawing up floor plans and specifications.

At least two of the regular class sessions have been moved from the Denton campus to the Nolen's Fort Worth home. Here, the students have had an opportunity to meet the president's family, discuss the habits and preferences inherent to their home life and note Mrs. Nolen's tastes in color furnishings and accessories.

The Nolen's life style centers around traditional furniture for the living-dining room and Early American styling for the family room and kitchen.

Baylor College of Medicine has graduated 3,711 physicians in its 70-year history, and since 1955 has trained 718 interns and 1,420 residents.

Miss Lavender Is Shower Honoree

The Bronze Room of the First National Bank was the setting for a lovely shower tea on Saturday evening, July 10, given in honor of Miss Tresea Lavender, bride-elect of Jerry Beasley.

Guests calling between the hours of 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock were greeted by Mrs. M. A. Beasley, Sr., who introduced them to Miss Lavender and to her mother, Mrs. Darvey Lavender, Sr., both of Lubbock.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

BY VERN SANFORD

Regardless of how many warning reports you get about the weather, there are times when a sudden, unexpected, unpredictable squall hits while you are on the water. And it can upset the best fishing plans.

Sudden storms strike whether you're on the Gulf, on a lake, on a stream, even on a pond. You're likely to be caught while fishing the Gulf, more frequently than anywhere . . . probably because you are farther from shore. Isn't that natural?

Anyway, sometime back a group of us went to Freeport. We had plans for going out to the snapper banks early the next morning. When we retired for the evening everything looked fine. We had listened to the weather reports and everything was "g". But when we stuck our head out the door at 2 a. m. there was a storm blowing. We went back to bed and tried again at 6 o'clock.

Despite the fact the wind was still high, we got on one of Raymond Muchowich's boats and headed out. We hadn't gone five miles until practically every man on the boat was sick from bouncing on the high waves. So we turned around and headed back.

Another time four of us left Austin for Gree's Ferry lake near Little Rock Arkansas. When we boarded the plane in Austin it was a beautiful spring day.

We drove the 70 miles from Little Rock to our fishing area under a star-filling heaven. But at 4 a. m. we were awakened by wind cracking through the tall pine trees and thunder and lightning that made us wonder if the world was coming to an end.

I could go on and on reporting dozens of such incidents. Each time conditions seemed fine, but turned out different. Sudden weather changes call for more than just having a weather eye out. You need to be prepared for such emergencies.

Always be sure to have good rain gear along, not just some flimsy something, but real gear that not only will keep you dry but warm.

Then have either a tarp or some plastic material to protect your fishing equipment and other paraphernalia aboard. This especially if you're fishing salt water.

Those who carry cameras will do well to keep them tightly closed in plastic bags. In fact, every tackle box should have a few of these large-size plastic bags just for emergencies.

Naturally, life jackets or other safety equipment is a must. Under existing laws in most states, and certainly those covering boats that go out into the Gulf, there are legal requirements about life jackets. This is something every individual should carefully check for his own protection.

Coast-guard approved safety cushions offer some security but they are far from adequate under certain conditions. If all go overboard who's left to toss you a cushion? Or even a life-saving ring. If you can't swim, wear a life jacket at all times. It's better to be called a sissy than a corpse.

There's another good idea, too. When you are on the water and see indications of an approaching storm, crank up that motor and head back to shore. Or, if you are too far away from your camp, head into the nearest land and make your boat fast. Be sure all your gas tanks are closed well, and that your motor gets protection. Without either of them you may be grounded for quite a spell.

Out of Orbit

MAY I SEE YOUR INVITATION PLEASE!

For boat equipment it is well to always have with you a large tarp or several painter drop cloths made of plastic. They take up practically no space, yet they furnish good, one-time protection against the elements.

If you must fight out a storm, try to head into the waves and keep the passenger load weight low. The heavy rain may beat into your face, but it also tends to hold down the force of the waves.

Sudden squalls are very frequent during the hot summer months, especially on the Gulf. Most of them give only a short notice of their approach, so be ready and keep a weather eye out for signs of any disturbance of the elements.

TST Institute Offers Several Useful Programs

New technology programs in printing, interior design, automotive and avionics will be offered at the Mid-Continent Campus of Texas State Technical Institute at Amarillo beginning September 1.

Also being offered at TSTI for the first time will be a one-year program in Meat Processing and Marketing, says Dr. J. N. Baker, General Manager of the Mid-Continent Campus at State Tech. The five new classes will bring to 12 the number of programs to be taught at State Tech when school begins September 1.

Other programs being taught at State Tech include: Agricultural and Industrial Equipment Mechanics; Aircraft and Powerplant Mechanics; Construction Technology; Commercial Art and Advertising; Drafting and Design; Livestock and Ranch Operations and Technical Office Training.

Tuition at State Tech is $50 per trimester (a trimester is 15 weeks in length) with a school year consisting of three trimesters. Dormitory housing is available for single students and two-bedroom homes are available for married students. Meals are served in the student cafeteria three times each day—7 days each week.

Persons interested in enrolling in any of the 12 programs being offered at TSTI should write to the Registrar's Office at Box 4228 in Amarillo for complete information.

WTSU, Texas Tech To Cooperate In Master's Degree

CANON—West Texas State University and Texas Tech University announced Saturday a cooperative program leading to a Master of Science Degree in Animal Science.

The degree will be awarded by Texas Tech. The announcement was made by Dr. Thomas A. Langford, interim dean of the Texas Tech Graduate College, and Dr. James B. Roberts, dean of the West Texas State Graduate School.

The purpose of the cooperative agreement is to "offer a superior program of graduate study in agriculture by bringing together the faculties and facilities of these two universities," they said.

The joint program, approved by the West Texas State Board of Regents May 28, goes into effect at WTSU in the fall of 1972, said Dr. Charles M. Smallwood, dean of the School of Agriculture at West Texas.

"The primary thing it does is it initiates graduate course offerings in agriculture at West Texas State for the first time," he said. "It will allow people in the agriculture profession in the region to continue their education and professional preparations on a parttime or fulltime basis at West Texas State," he added.

Dr. Langford said the requirements for the degree as set forth in the Graduate College Bulletin of Texas Tech will apply "except where modification is necessary to implement the intent of the program."

However, a student may undertake course work at both institutions and his advisory committee will consist of members of both faculties.

by BYRON BALDWIN

received a letter the past week from Miss Myrtle Hembree of Dallas, whose mother, Mrs. J. Hembree, celebrated her 100th birthday on June 5. They were grateful for all the cards and letters that were sent from Dallas and there were over 500 of them. They had open house for the occasion on the 5th and 6th of June. They were there from other parts of Texas. We will forward to that 101 party year.

attended the funeral July 3 of the last member of my father's family. This was Chas. Baldwin of Lamesa, Texas, who was 97 years old and his wife, Pearl, is living. If Chas. had lived two days and four days longer, they would have celebrated their 77th wedding anniversary. He had been a merchant in Lamesa since 1925 and at one time, he was at Lodge, where I saw old friends and neighbors at this funeral from Spring. They were the two girls, Thelma and Zola, also little Bill Gerlach who had Zola. They seem to be in the race of life well.

received a copy of the "Cotton Review" of 1970-71 by Mr. Kermit Voelkel, who is with the "Cotton Economic Research" at the State University of Texas at Austin. Mr. Voelkel was former resident of Memphis and was in charge of the cotton office here. This review covers cotton varieties, gins, fiber prices, and other cotton facts which are facts that are interesting to know. Thanks to Mr. Voelkel for all this information. This book will be on in the Hall County Heritage Hall any information you might want to know about Texas cotton. It gives some of this information in a small amount at one time. This book contains 155 pages of research work. It is very interesting to note how cotton industry has changed in a few years. I noticed that the number of gins in Texas in 1930 was 11 and they have steadily declined until 1970 there were only 5 active gins. The greatest number of gins in one county was back with 40. Another thing I noticed was in 1970 there were 6,684 spindle pickers and 40,033 strippers. The harvest cotton has changed a lot in a few years.

Nat Bradley had as her home in Heritage Hall her grand-Bradd Sammann of Lubbock, Texas. Others looking Heritage Hall were J. Cahral of Maricopa, Calif., April Linda of Walnut Creek, Colo., Peggy Sparks of Rock, J. T. Hoffman and Mrs. G. White of Childress and the Bolds of Amarillo.

Robert Allen of Ontario, Calif., lived in Heritage Hall. He was son of Mr. and Mrs. Reese. There were three boys and girls in this family and Robert is the only survivor. He gave this story that at one time grandfather in 1890 traded a team and a 45 pistol for a section of land that Altus, Okla., is now built on. Robert lived in Austin and George in Texas, worked for the Ft. Worth Railroad in Oklahoma. He was retiring, he was a trucker and has lived in California since 1945. He remembered when they crossed the river from Snyder, Okla., when it was blown away. Said it took two days to get over to Snyder. Robert was a family as his dad's sister and Jerry. I could not give much lead on this family but did refer him to others who might put him in touch with this family.

Mrs. Albert Ivy had as her guests in Hall County Heritage Hall her sister, Mrs. Carl Nelson of Coosebay, Ore., and her daughter, Mrs. Don Smith, and children, also of Coosebay. Mrs. Carl Nelson was the daughter of the W. C. Grissoms and the father of Carl was the late H. G. Nelson. Other members of the Carl Nelson family were Mary Lou, Jean, Carl Jr., and Grady who was killed in Vietnam in 1968.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Pritchard and daughter, List, of Justin, Calif., were visitors for the first time in Hall County Heritage Hall. They liked our displays very much. Jim is the grandson of Maudie Whitley.

Floyd Houdashell of Amarillo visited us. His mother was Emma Stallings and lived in the Estelline area in the early days and married in 1903. Floyd's dad and uncle moved to Matador from Virginia in 1891 and this uncle carried the mail from Childress to Matador. Floyd married Edith Driver in 1949, daughter of Johnnie Driver of Lesley. They have one son, Floyd, 20, daughters Karen, 18, and Melinda, 13. Edith was a graduate of Lakeview and West Texas State. Floyd a graduate of Clarendon High and also Clarendon College.

Sherron Lee brought into Hall County Heritage Hall for display 4 different sized telephone cables used now in our telephone system. One cable containing 50 pair of 24 gauge wires, another cable containing 100 pair of 24 gauge wires and still another cable containing 400 pair of 19 gauge is plastic insulated. The larger cable contains 1515 pair of 20 gauge which is paper insulated. This is quite different wiring from what it was 50 years ago with that old single strand galvanized wire; but with this old time wire you had to turn the crank on your box and sometimes you would wear yourself down and be too tired to talk after you finally got through on this line that has been so busy. Which reminded me of the last time I mowed my lawn, I pulled that rope so many times trying to get the motor started and finally when I did get it started, I was too tired to mow as my motor had played out.

Floyd and Bernice McIntush had as their guests in Hall County Heritage Hall the past week Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wilson of Tulsa, Okla., Mrs. Wilson and Bernice are first cousins. Mr. Wilson has been with the post office department of Tulsa for the past 27 years. He is one of 2,200 employees in the Tulsa Post Office. Mr. Wilson stated that the floors and the docks are two blocks long and one block wide. He says that most of their work is mechanical and they handle mail for 277 destinations. I asked him about how they handled the zip codes and he said 43 thousand and zips were handled per hour by 12 operators and there are 2 operations like this. That is a lot of zip in an hour.

While in Lamesa a few days ago, I met Wallis M. Smith now of 3705 Kennelwood, Austin, Texas 78703. In 1933-34, he said he was a member of the "Rockdale Tigers" and their coach was Hubert Dennis and wanted to know all about him. He remembered that in 1934 Frank Phelan, Sr., and Horace Tarver wanted Hubert to bring the Tigers and play the Memphis Cyclone, but it seems that the suits had all been packed up and they could not have the game, but they went ahead and invited them here for a party and they enjoyed it very much. Wallis and his wife, Doris (Sherman), have two sons, Gary, age 20, in second year at N.T.S.U. and Wally, age 22, in his fourth year at University of Texas.

Store-Front Funnies

I see a report that Floyd County has elected a board of directors for a museum to be started in their county. We are wishing them much success in their project.

Some of our young grandmothers were on a coffee break in a local dry store and were discussing styles of today of teenagers and comparing today with when they were teenagers of the 1930's. They were on the subject of bathing suits and said in their day, they went in the water to swim. I tried to get a report of exactly what they said from Hattie Dem Thompson and Katherine Jones, but all they would say was "that fabric people should be grateful to their age for using more material."

I noticed a statement in the daily paper that there were more weddings in 1946 than there had ever been in history. There were 2,291,045 weddings and that makes a lot of silver anniversaries in 1971.

CARD OF THANKS
Our many thanks to the Fire Department for their fast response to our fire, 7 minutes and 40 seconds time, saving our truck and home. Who says we don't have a fire department in Memphis.

Respectfully yours,
Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Fitzgerald Baker
