Chamber Banquet Set For Tonight

All things are ready tonight for the 52nd Annual Memphis Chamber of Commerce Banquet, to begin at 7:30 p. m. in the Community Center here.

Dr. Walter Kerr of Tyler, director of the National Youth Foundation, will be the principal speaker for the banquet. Dr. Kerr has had an interesting and varied career as an entertainer, lawyer, Methodist minister, and youth worker.

Today, Dr. Kerr and his family reside in Tyler, which is the National Headquarters of his Youth Foundation.

Lester Campbell will serve as master of ceremonies for the banquet, and new President Danny Scarborough will introduce the speaker.

Decorations for the banquet will be done by the Welcomette Committee of the chamber. The menu calls for roast beef and the trimmings.

Tonight, local citizens attending the banquet will see chamber boosters wearing their newly purchased blazers and serve as official welcomees from the city.

The local chamber is in the process of ordering these blazers for those who want to join this official welcoming group. Not all the blazers which have been ordered have arrived, Chamber Manager Bill Whitten announced this week.

Dr. Kerr is considered an outstanding banquet speaker, and is a leading authority on youth. He holds numerous awards, has sit on several state, national and international youth conferences.

A good crowd is expected to be on hand tonight including numerous out-of-town visitors for the affair.

At a meeting Tuesday afternoon of the Consolidated Ambulance Service directors and E. L. Melin, director of Health Planning of the Panhandle Regional Health Council, final plans were adopted for possible government assistance for the local ambulance service.

Director Melin explained aspects of the proposed Pilot Project for Emergency Ambulance Service System for Rural Areas grant which he will present Friday to the Regional Medical Programs of Texas for action by the board.

Included in the Pilot Project are ambulance service groups for Hall, Donley and Collingsworth counties.

If the project is approved, the budget period would run from Sept. 1, 1972 through Aug. 31, 1975, and during that period financial assistance in many ways would be made to the three ambulance service groups.

Three objectives are sought by the project to include: 1. organizing the mutually cooperative efforts of medical service agencies and personnel into a cohesive reaction plan; 2. establish a medical radio network to enable hospitals and mobile units to have the communications needed to adequately serve mutual emergency needs; 3. intensify training para-medical personnel involved in the rescue and transportation of emergency patients.

Being asked to fund the pilot projects in the three counties are: first year, $82,036; second year, $55,758, and third year, $42,248.

Included would be salaries, per diem for schooling personnel, and purchase of special equipment including radio equipment for establishment of medical nets between hospitals and ambulances.

Included would be money needed to send ambulances personnel to school for 72 hours of intensive training. It is planned to send eight people from each county, in shifts of four at a time, to a special school.

The Panhandle Regional Health Council is under the Office of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission, and covers a scope of some 26 counties.

Mr. Melin said Tuesday at the meeting that he understood from his first meeting in Austin that federal money was available for funding this type of project. He said he was encouraged that the pilot project has a good chance of being approved.

If it was approved as it is being requested, it would be a welcomed assistance for the three (Continued on Page 12)

Cecil Kersey Retires From Career With RR

Cecil Kersey retired recently after 27 years with the Burlington Northern Railroad, after receiving early-day training here under J. McMickin and Ralph J. McMillan. He and the family moved to Memphis in the 20's. He is now a resident of Aurora, at the time of his retirement. He was director of the personnel department at the St. Paul, Minn., office of the railroad. Kersey joined the former Chicago and Quincy Railroad at the age of 16 in Memphis as a utility clerk. He had worked part time basis for about 10 years prior to this. He was a letter to The Democrat on Monday, Mr. Kersey said. Mr. McMickin and Mr. Stroup helped me to telegraph after school and on weekends while I was in the 6th, 7th and 8th grades. They and the other 8 to 10 boys of the Fort Worth & Denver City helped me learn freight work related to transportation. Helping them with work paid for my tuition. Saturday they gave me 50 cents for a bowl of chili and a pie. The first check I got from the railroad was in 1922 when I was paid $1.00 for a stock car. My first job on the railroad was as a "clerk" (utility) for Mr. John. My "clerk" included keeping the depot clean, coal fires going in waiting rooms including the crew portion, trucking freight from box cars to wagons for delivery to wholesale firms and stores, pushing a two-wheeled cart between the post office and the railway mail cars, and some clerical work. In the spring and again in the fall, we would get a large number of mail sacks filled with coins from the big city banks so the farmers could pay choppers and cotton pickers.

"I found time for some other jobs: When the Hall County courthouse was built, I was water boy for the construction crew, took up tickets at the theatre and swept out after the show, made ice cream on Saturday for the confectionery (ate plenty) and later made chili and worked the counter on Saturdays saved 25 cents.

"H. B. Bryan and I learned to type, doing documents for Miss Edna Bryan at the courthouse."

Later, Mr. Kersey worked as station agent, telegrapher, dispatcher, freight and passenger salesman, general passenger agent, manager of mail baggage and express traffic, executive assistant and executive vice president of Burlington Truck Lines, and assistant to the chairman and training director for Burlington Lines and subsidiaries.

While with the railroad he completed his education, obtaining a bachelor's degree in business administration and a master's degree in economics. He did additional graduate work in transportation, sales, marketing, and business management subjects at Texas Tech University, Texas A & M College, Northwestern University, University of Chicago, University of Illinois, and the Sales Analysis Institute.

He has been a speaker and Lecturer at American University, Washington, D. C., the American Management Association, the University of Minnesota, and various other institutions.

For two years he taught managerial skills at the University of Chicago Industrial Relations Center, and recently submitted a paper to the Pan American Railway Congress in Buenos Aires. "Right now I'm studying the real estate business and helping our family foundation develop and build a community of about 1,000 homes here in this Chicago suburb where we have lived for about 10 years." The $22 million Housing development would provide attached single family housing units. It will be constructed on 100 acres of land owned by Mr. Kersey.

Tony Holtermann Speaks To Local Cancer Society

A meeting of the Hall County Unit of the American Cancer Society was called for Wednesday evening, Feb. 16, for the primary purpose of hearing Tony Holtermann, staff representative for Lubbock.

Mrs. Hart, campaign chairman, reported that the income from the bazaar is now $110.10. The treasurer's report listed $510.15 in the research fund and $152.00 in the memorial fund.

Mr. Holtermann explained that the philosophy of the Cancer Society includes four objectives: research, education, service, and fund raising—in that order. He insisted that, although money is necessary, it is not of primary importance. The main objective is to make people aware of the sinister danger of cancer and the assurance that it can be checked if it is discovered in time. Then, he believes, contributions will be forthcoming. He was pleased to announce that only eight cents of each dollar is used for expenses.

Tuesday, April 18, was designated "C" Day. During a meeting of all volunteer workers to be held at 7:30 p. m. that evening in the Bronze Room of the First National Bank, Hall County will be divided into zones, each zone assigned to a worker, literature distributed, and instructions for procedure explained.

The goal for Hall County is $2,500.00 for 1972—the same figure assigned to this county in 1971.

By BILL COMBS
The Texas History Class of Turkey High is engaged in a detailed, difficult, but very rewarding project, collecting and writing a history on their community and town, Turkey, Texas.
Teacher U. F. Coker, Jr., notified this newspaper last week that the class would be in Memphis collecting data for the history. Members of the class were back again Tuesday, doing further research work.
Much of the work is being done in the Hall County Courthouse, using records of the County Clerk and the County Tax Assessor-Collector, while the county's Heritage Hall was also visited.
Byron Baldwin took the group through Heritage Hall last Tuesday to find what information they could concerning the early days of Turkey history.
Those who have not engaged in trying to turn up factual data concerning early day events in West Texas may not understand or appreciate the difficulties which do arise.
Actually, Hall County is blessed with having one factual source of early history, in Inez Baker's "Yesterday in Hall County." Students of the class found this work interesting and valuable as they read the book here in The Democrat office.

As far as newspaper files are concerned, The Democrat's files only go back as far as the 1910-1919 period, with more complete files in the 1920's and later.
Now that the county has a Heritage Hall, this is an excellent place to store and record historical data about the early history.
The information and final draft of the Turkey class's project will be valuable to the school, community and to the county as factual historical data.
Those visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Crisler during his recent illness were Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Crisler, Gus Rasco, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Cherry, all of Amarillo, and Mr. and Mrs. Royce Crisler of Midland.
Mrs. Henry Tweedle of San Angelo is visiting here this week with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lee, Mrs. Roy Guthrie, Mrs. Lilly Bagwell in Estelline and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Phillips.
The first known literary account of a trip to the moon was written by Syrian retorian Lucian of Samostia in 150 A. D., who described going to the moon via a boat blown off course by a whirlwind.

Study Estimates Parenthood Cost In Local Area

NEW YORK—The general figures on the cost of rearing children in the United States, released recently by a presidential commission, raises the question: "What does it cost in Hall County?"

How much does the average local family spend in raising a child from birth to age 18?

The report, based on a study made by the Commission on Population and the American Future, estimates what it would cost the typical family. It notes that the cost varies widely from area to area and from family to family. The chief controlling factor, in most cases, is income.

In Hall County, as well as in every other part of the country, it takes considerably more than it did in earlier years to provide children with their basic needs.

For example, according to the Health Insurance Institute, the current cost of food alone for a youngster, from birth to age 18, averages 8,500. It breaks down to $8,700 for boys and $8,100 for girls.

That is more money than was necessary 25 years ago for their food, clothing, education and medical care combined.

Today, based on the government report and on other findings, the amount spent in raising a child to age 18 ranges from 2.9 to 3.6 times the net earnings of a family in one year.

In Hall County, where the average net income is between $7,000 and $8,000 per household, the outlay comes to an estimated $26,200 per child. Local families whose incomes are larger than this spend more and others, less.

The figures show that the first year is usually the most expensive. A family may incur bills of over $3,000 in that year, including birth costs. After that, the heaviest demand comes in the teen years.

Also, it is noted, children growing up on farms cost $3,400 less, on average, than those in urban areas.

On the basis of the local figures, the 100 or so boys and girls in Hall County who reach 18 annually represent a total outlay on the part of their parents of nearly $2,620,000 during the growing up period.

The Lonely Heart

Now Is Time To Check Bare Trees For Bagworms

This winter while trees are bare, homeowners should be on the alert for bagworms, advises Dr. Weldon Newton, entomologist with Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Although bagworms are exposed when broad-leaved trees drop their leaves, they may be overlooked until a damaging infestation occurs. Complete defoliation can result next season when large numbers are present. In addition to broad-leaved trees, bagworms also feed on arborvitae, cypress and other evergreens.

Though fall webworms and tent caterpillars are often mistakenly called bagworms, they are really markedly different, Newton says.

Bagworms make individual cocoons from tightly woven leaves and twigs are attached to the outside of the 1 1/2 to 2 inch long bag so that the bag looks like dried leaves.

The larval and pupal stages begin in early May to late July, depending which time the insects are in their bags. In the pupal stage in July and August the change to moths with only male having wings. After mating the female lays 150 to 200 eggs in the bag, then drops to the ground and dies.

The bags will remain on the trees all winter, explains the entomologist. Some will be empty, but only the pupal skin of the bag protruding from the bottom. Others will have the skin full of eggs. In areas where they do not pupate until spring, a grown worm will be found in the bag.

Newton recommends destroying any bags that may be found. Hand picking is very effective on small trees and those with a few bags. Diazinon, carbaryl, trichlorfon can be sprayed in May or June on large trees with large numbers of bags in the branches, adds the entomologist.

Peter Minit purchased Manhattan Island from the Indians.

Mrs. Hutcherson Reviews Book At 1913 Study Club

Mrs. Joe Allen Ballard was hostess to the second February meeting of the 1913 Study Club the afternoon of Feb. 2. Nineteen members were present to enjoy the brief business session and the review by Mrs. Ed Hutcherson.

Mrs. Paul Montgomery as president conducted a short bit of business during which time several members promised the chairman of the Red Cross First Aid course, Mrs. Gayle Greene, to attend the classes to be conducted by Bob Douthit in April. Some of the departmental counselors reported before Mrs. Hutcherson presented her review.

"Wit's End" by Erma Bombeck was the delightfully humorous book reviewed. Mrs. Bombeck treated everyday trials and tribulations of the busy housewife and mother in a light vein and kept the listeners chuckling with laughter and bemused by Mrs. Hutcherson's able presentation.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, and the meeting was adjourned.

Members attending were Meses. Byron Baldwin, Virginia Browder, Herschel Combs, Bray Cook, B. H. Cook, F. W. Foxhall, Gayle Greene, R. S. Greene, T. M. Harrison, Bob Hutcherson, Edwin Hutcherson, D. L. C. Kinard, Paul Montgomery, Clyde McMurray, Mack Richards, Howard Richardson, M. G. Tarver, A. D. Britt, Miss Neville Wrenn and hostess, Mrs. Ballard.

Parallel Terrace Work Receives Top Priority In Memphis SCS Work Unit

Conservation work taking up top priority at the Soil Conservation Service office in Memphis is the design and layout of parallel terraces, Bill Watson, soil conservationist, reports.

Although late cotton stripping has delayed construction somewhat, Watson said, several systems are currently being built.

Parallel terraces are constructed to conserve moisture and to prevent water erosion. They are constructed parallel where practicable to permit efficient operations with modern farming equipment.

Farmers currently constructing parallel terraces or planning construction in the near future in the Hall-Childress SWCD are A. L. Gailey, Ross Gentry, Nettie Adams, J. T. Mullin, O. C. Newbrough, Tommy Proffitt, Howard Richardson, Mack Richards, Lee M. Robertson and Melvin Srygley.

Persons interested in information about parallel terraces should contact the Soil Conservation Service office in Memphis.

De Rose Industries Reports Year End Earnings For 1971

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 18—De Rose Industries, Inc., today reported a net earning decline for the year ended Dec. 31, 1971, to $888,894, equal to 61 cents per share, from $1,114,403, or 77 cents per share, in 1970. Sales were $26,082,627 compared with $26,235,071.

Robert A. De Rose, president of the mobile home manufacturer, said start-up charges for new production facilities in Memphis, Texas, and Kings Mountain, N. C., reduced profits.

"In addition, we incurred higher administration costs during the year as part of our program to add other factories to our operations, to enable us to regain our growth momentum."

An eighth De Rose plant under construction at Owatonna, Minn., is scheduled to begin shipping mobile homes by mid-year, and marketing studies to select suitable sites for other locations have been initiated, he said.

"Also," De Rose stated, "we are strengthening our dealer organization, broadening product lines, and stepping up production of our larger and more profitable 14-ft. wide and double-wide models, for which the demand is growing."

He said another factor responsible for the downturn last year was the General Motors strike, which adversely affected first quarter sales and profits from the three northern plants. "However, each had increased sales over the prior year and made good contributions to profits."

The De Rose plant in Bonham, Tex., which had record shipments in 1970, recorded lower sales and earnings because of labor and production problems. "These difficulties are being solved," he said, "and this operation still is one of our most profitable."

De Rose manufactures a broad line of mobile homes and other factory-built dwellings and special purpose units from plants located in Texas, Georgia, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Indiana, and North Carolina.

GRASS IDENTIFICATION—Pictured above, left to right are Lee Scrivner, SWCD Board Chairman, Ronnie Morris, Memphis Vo. Ag. Teacher, and David Seitz, SCS Conservationist, examining the grass identification plot at Memphis High. The plot is described as an outdoor classroom and environmental plot, and has markers to identify the various types of grass. Plots have been established at Memphis and Turkey High Schools.

Grass Identification Plots Prove To Be Ideal Outdoor Classrooms

County Soil Conservation Service personnel have worked with Memphis and Memphis High Schools in planning and establishing grass identification Environmental Class plots.

The plots were planned, cleared and seeded to 54 varieties of grass, during the spring of 1971.

Plot locations are on a suitable site and are located so as to help identify the school grounds. Each plot is arranged so as to give the best possible site for various grasses and to provide natural habitat for various types of insects and soil organisms for additional outdoor classroom study.

Results have been good, SCS technicians report, as many of the grasses have come up in established rows. Plots which were developed as a R.D.P. project, were sponsored by the Hall-Childress Conservation District, in cooperation with local Schools, Soil Conservation Service, along with the Plant Materials Center, and the Miller Seed Company who generously furnished the seed.

Additional plans are to improve grass stands this spring by additional seeding, and the planting of a variety of trees along outside of grass plot and around adjacent buildings. All Plants are identified by placing of identification markers made by school children.

The presence of these Identification and Environmental plots will enhance various classroom study programs as well as help beautify the school grounds.

"We are working with school officials at the Lakeview School on a similar project. The School board at Lakeview is very interested and a plot for this seeding has been prepared for development this Spring" James L. McDonald, SCS Conservationist, said.

*We see the happy world of children at play, but we know, too, there exists at the same time a world of alienation and rejection. Troubled by these harsh contrasts, we ask the question "Why?"
 Why poverty in a land of plenty? Why loneliness in a world that would join hands? Why war when the impulse of the heart is to love?
 The aching chasm between the real and the ideal everywhere provokes the question . . .*

WHY?

In a world looking for answers maybe God is the place to start.
 God is hope. God is now..

Culture Club Enjoys Program On Federation

Mrs. Nat Bradley was hostess at 4 p. m. for the Feb. 16 meeting of the Woman's Culture Club. The program on "Federation" was introduced by Mrs. Theodore Swift. Mrs. Ward Gurley brought the devotional, "Strength in Humility." She contrasted humility with pride and said that the greatest tragedy of pride is that it keeps man from God. She further stated that pride is a fence and a smokescreen if a person has excessive self-esteem. Mrs. Clifford Farmer brought an interesting discussion on the progress since the first federated clubs were organized until the present time. Her discussion was centered around the differences and progress made in the homes, clothing, foods, transportation, education, medicine and entertainment. During her discussion of clothing, Mrs. Ellis displayed dolls dressed in the costumes of 1890 until the present time, using 10-year intervals. After the discussion, Mrs. Swift, program chairman, said that she would not want to belong to a club that was not federated because of what the combined clubs have and can accomplish. Refreshments were served to Mrs. R. E. Clark, Frank Ellis, Pat Lewis, L. A. Stilwell, Ward Gurley, Jeanette Irons, Robert Moss, Clifford Farmer, David May, Theo. Swift, Misses Esta McElrath and Alma Bruce, and the hostess, Mrs. Nat Bradley. It was announced that the next meeting would be held Wednesday, March 1, at 4 p. m.

Delphian Club Meets In Home Of Mrs. W. C. Dickey

Mrs. W. C. Dickey entertained members of the Delphian Club Tuesday, Feb. 15, in her home. Upon arrival the ladies were served delicious refreshments which included pound cake, canapes, chips and coffee or punch.

During the meeting Mrs. G. Ariola presided in the absence of the president.

Mrs. F. A. Finch gave the meditation entitled "An American," which concluded with these words: "Each obligation that comes to me as a true American, I will discharge with honor! My heart is in America and America is in my heart! I am an American!"

The program was a symposium, "The Cooling of America."

Mrs. K. E. Dale in her talk, "All Is Quiet on the Campus Front," said: "The violence of the past few years was unacceptable, but the student movement has called the nation's attention to some of its weaknesses—a hide-bound educational establishment, inequitable draft laws, unrepresentative political procedures, to mention some of the most legitimate targets of protest."

Mrs. L. F. Jones followed with "Out of Tune and Lost in the Counterculture," saying, "surrounded, ensnared by a modern industrialized economic system, the movement has become fragmented, confused, and there seems no way out."

Mrs. J. B. Browning continued the symposium with "The Usage of Economic Adversity," stating that "Recession has finally restored a certain amount of realism."

"How Do Strangers See America" was Mrs. Robert L. Duncan's topic. She said, "this is a great country and it will be greater."

Mrs. G. Ariola concluded the program by urging a solution through using woman power.

Members attending and thoroughly enjoying the meeting were Mes. L. F. Jones, Wayne Sweatt, John M. Deaver, II, G. Ariola, J. L. Barnes, F. A. Finch, Robert L. Duncan, Mildred Stephens, C. L. Smith, Leon Davis, C. D. Morris, Sim Reeves, J. S. McMurry, L. L. McKown, Jim Markgraf, J. B. Browning, K. E. Dale, Robert Clark and the hostess, Mrs. W. C. Dickey.
