The Ministerial Alliance will sponsor a Thanksgiving service on Sunday night, Nov. 19, at 7 p. m. in the First United Methodist Church.

Cyclone Travels To Silvertown Fri. Night

The Memphis Cyclone travels to Silvertown Friday night for the final game of the 1972 season for the Owls.

The Owls are ranked No. 5 in the district standings while Memphis is No. 2. The Cyclone, 7 and 2 for the season, could finish the year with a 12-1 record, with a victory over Silvertown. An 8-2 record would be the record of the 1971 team in 10 games, but last season finished 8 and 3 for the season.

The Owls are coming into the season following a 62 to 14 loss to Silvertown last week. The Cyclone, despite cold, unfavorable weather conditions, has not gone into indoor practice sessions. Team and individual have been outdoors all week, preparing for the contest, which is expected to be played in cold conditions.

Coach Clyde McMurray said Sunday night, after another practice session, "I don't know if I have seen our team as well as they did today. They had fine workouts all week, as our team has been preparing to play Silvertown on a Friday night. I think we are all looking forward to the game."

The Cyclone, senior running back Ronald Canida, will more likely not suit out for the game. A knee injury received as he was making a cut up field in the McLean game has had him out of the game.

Otherwise, 11 other seniors will wear their final gridiron uniforms in black and gold jerseys for the Cyclone. FB Paul Fowler, QB Browning, Tackles Terry Brown and Len Simpson, and Robert Snider, Flanker Larry Johnson, Center Matt Johnson, Def. Safety Charlie Brown, are the starters playing their final game. End Ferrel, Tackle Donny Brown, HB James Chappell round out the senior roster.

Coach McMurray indicated that he expected all the varsity players to see action against the Cyclone this year is the largest number of players who have been able to see action. Coach McMurray said that the most pleasant surprise for the coaches this year has been the growth on fine defensive players.

Silvertown Owls

The Owls have QB Ken Wood, a 150-lb. sophomore, who is a passer and likes to hit backs coming out of the backfield. Running backs are No. 25, Craig Culwell (135) and No. 35 David McCow (160), with Scott Hutsell, 135, at wing back. John Minyard also came into the lineup against Valley High in a recent game which the owls won 46 to 6, and scored his first varsity points.

The Owls line averages about 150 pounds per man, and is led by senior squad captains, Terry Culwell, 155 lb. end, and Mark Hutsell, 145 lb. guard.

The Owls start three seniors, four juniors and four sophomores, offensively.

She died at 4:45 p. m. Friday in High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo.

Local Boosters To Meet At 7 On Monday Night

The Memphis Cyclone Booster Club will meet Monday night, Nov. 20, to view the Memphis-Silvertown football film, at 7 p. m., 30 minutes earlier than the regular time, and a day sooner.

The Memphis coaches will not be able to meet with the club since a district meeting has been called for that evening.

The game film will be shown and refreshments will be served. In order to facilitate the business of the boosters and to get a head start on planning for next season, 1973-74 officers were elected Tuesday night.

Lester Campbell was elected to replace President L. B. Snider whose term expires with the closing of school in the spring. Gus Orcutt was elected to serve as vice president and Len Simpson was elected secretary-treasurer.

The boosters voted to go ahead and elect next year's officers while a relatively full quorum of members was present.

The Monday meeting was called due to Tuesday being the first night of basketball.

Funeral services for Bryan B. McMillan, 76, were held Nov. 8 in Mt. Pleasant, Tex.

McMillan was a Memphis resident for many years and was agent for Railway Express here. His wife, Bonnie, taught in the Memphis Public Schools. She preceded him in death on Aug. 25, 1969.

Farmers Union Of Hall County To Meet Nov. 20th

The annual meeting of the Hall County Farmers Union will be held Monday, Nov. 20, in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, according to an announcement early this week by J. J. McDaniel, president. The meeting will be called to order at 7 p. m.

During the session, new officers who will serve for the coming year will be elected, and reports of the Farmers Union of this county will be given. The meeting will be open to full discussion of farming problems and goals which they are striving for in the future.

Pres. McDaniel urged all members of the farm organization to attend this important meeting. Also, all farmers who are interested in agriculture, whether members or not, are invited to (Continued on Page 12)

The harvesting of the 1972 cotton crop could get underway as soon as drying conditions make stripping possible. Approximately one-half inch of moisture which fell over the area Sunday, and cold weather which plunged the mercury to 29 degrees, delayed the harvest still further.

Actually, most farmers are just waiting for a few days of dry weather in order to begin stripping what is expected to be a good crop.

There have been some who have used defoliants on their fields and have already harvested, but for the major part, most fields are still white, awaiting favorable weather.

Due to the fine yields expected this year, the harvest may take several weeks in order to reach the final stage, so it is expected to run into mid or late January, even if conditions remain favorable.

At the peak of harvest each year, it is an unusual seven-day period when more than 10,000 bales are gathered, so with a yield of 65 to 80 thousand bales, it could easily take eight to ten weeks to gather the crop.

Should strippers begin rolling within a few days, The Democrat will take its first survey of ginning points next Wednesday morning, as the newspaper will come out a day early next week due to Thanksgiving.

The rain fell Sunday, measuring .40 in the official weather gauge at the home of Rayford Hutcherson, added more delay days.

Classing Report

The Memphis seasonal Cotton Classing Office classed 2,875 samples last week to bring the season total to 2,900, according to W. E. Cain, in charge of the office.

Grades improved late last week as cotton dried out and ginned better. The predominant grade was strict low middling light spot with 44 per cent. White grades accounted for 40 per cent.

The predominant staple length was 32 with 38 per cent, followed by staple 31 with 35 per cent and staples 30 and 33 each with 11 per cent.

Micronaire readings showed 79 per cent milled in the 3.5 to 4.9 (Continued on Page 12)

Memphis Basketball Teams To Open Season With Paducah

Basketball season for Memphis teams gets underway next Tuesday night when local players are hosts to teams from Paducah. Scheduled are games between B team girls, and varsity girls and boys.

Local eager coaches, Joe Bain and Jimmy Pope, are looking forward to the season. "We want our fans to know, however, that some basketball rules have been changed this year," they said. Coach Bain said, "Girls rules have been changed to conform with rules governing boys games, with the major exception that the court is still divided into forward and guard ends and the mid-stripe is the dividing line."

Coach Pope said, "The major rule change for basketball is in the rules governing when teams are awarded free shots following certain type fouls. Players fouled in the act of shooting the basketball will continue to receive free shots regardless of when the fouls occur. Other type fouls will only draw free shots when the allotted team total fouls reach five, then the one and one situation goes into effect. The ball is given to the other team out-of-bounds instead of the one-shot foul being taken."

Another rule change in girls basketball stipulated that the game clock is stopped when the ball goes out-of-bounds.

Cyclonettes

The Cyclonettes have two returning starters from last year, Forwards Mary Beck and Kathy Carmen. They will be joined on the forward end by Kay Murdoch, who saw a lot of action last season. Kay and Kathy are seniors. Mary is a junior.

On the guard end, Coach Bain said that three of the four girls listed here will start against Paducah. They are Marion Walker, Thelma Wright, Karen Smith and Jamie Moss. Thelma is a senior transfer student from Lakeview, where she was a starting guard in past years.

Five other girls make up the 12-member varsity squad for the Cyclonettes, and Coach Bain said (Continued on Page 12)

EDITORIAL

What's The Matter With November 11?

The flags of this nation are on display in Memphis today, Nov. 11, as this editorial is being written. Members of Simmons-Noel Post of the American Legion erected them early this morning, and they are showing the stars and stripes in this West Texas wind.

The Legionnaires held their annual Armistice Supper last evening, and are observing Armistice Day ("Veterans Day") today. To show how many veterans feel about November 11, the following editorial is reproduced below from the November issue of The American Legion Magazine:

"THIS YEAR, as last year, 'Veterans Day' is federally recognized as falling on 'the fourth Monday in October,' which was the 23rd of October in 1972. Out of respect for the federal recognition, the National Commander of the American Legion agreed to participate in Oct. 23 observations in Birmingham, Ala., to which he was kindly invited by Raymond Weeks, director of Birmingham's Veterans Day Observances.

"Let us hope this is the last time that the fourth Monday in October, a perfectly meaningless date, will be recognized as Veterans Day anywhere. Let us hope that every state, and the federal government, will speedily act to restore November 11 as Veterans Day. It was on November 11, 1918, that the First World War ended.

"At 11 a. m. of that day (the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month) all firing ceased, following the signing of the Armistice. Never was the number eleven so firmly stamped on an important moment.

"Until 1953, this country celebrated November 11th as Armistice Day. By then another world war had ended and the Korean cease-fire had occurred, without the nation marking in any special way the dates that ended the hostilities of these savage wars.

"Business pressures opposed adding two more holidays, so, in 1953, the name of Armistice Day was changed to Veterans Day, with the declared intent of making WWI war-end date stand symbolically for the celebration marking the end of the next two wars also.

"We all know the subsequent sorry history. There was no dollar sign in front of all those elevens. Thirty years of pressure by the travel and resort business to create long weekends so that it could make more money ended in Congress capitulating to create Monday holidays out of Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day, Columbus Day and Veterans Day. And in the juggling, Veterans Day was even moved into October, for no reason that had anything to do with what it celebrates. Thus do the almighty buck and the passion for a few long weekends trample on tradition and ignore meaning.

"Certainly if we are going to ignore VE Day and VJ Day and the Korean cease-fire, and the hoped Vietnam war-end, one is entitled to ask what is wrong with November 11th as the single day upon which to lump together their symbolic meaning. A war did not end on that day, but no war we were ever in ended on the fourth Monday in October.

"In at least six states, nobody sees anything wrong with November 11. Oklahoma and Mississippi refused to go along with the Monday holiday, and never moved Veterans Day off of Nov. 11. This year, at least four more states thought better of going along with the federal dollar reverence. They abandoned the fourth Monday in October to restore Nov. 11 as Veterans Day. They are Georgia, Illinois, Indiana and West Virginia.

"At the Legion's National Convention this year, no less than 26 of our state organizations presented resolutions calling for the restoration of Veterans Day to Nov. 11, and of Memorial Day to May 30. Combined into one resolution, they passed the convention by a vote of 3,081 to nothing. The Legion will seek federal restoration of both dates, and one would hope that if Congress will not go along it will at least make clear what it is about Nov. 11 that it finds wrong. And May 30, too, for that matter."

Noise From Trucks May Be Reduced!

Those heavy-duty diesel trucks that businesses will be operating a few years from now may be as quiet as today's passenger cars because of a government-industry program.

The Department of Transportation has awarded $1 million in development contracts to companies that manufacture 45 per cent of such trucks.

They in turn will provide $650,000 in goods and services in hopes of solving what Transportation Secretary John Volpe calls "one of the most disturbing highway problems we face today."

With the Department of Transportation confident that the solution to the tire noise problem has been found, the new focus is on engine noise. Under terms of the nonprofit, cost-sharing contracts, Freightliner Corp., International Harvester and White Motor Corp. will identify significant noise sources on their vehicles and design "noise reduction fixes" during the next 12 months. Then trucks will be tested by customers in regular commercial service for a year.

The goal is to halve the noise level of today's big diesels, so that they will generate no more noise than a passenger auto now does at 65 miles per hour on a freeway.

What Other Editors Say

Status Symbol

Hair may take on new meanings to reflect status as a result of action taken by union barbers over the country. Haircuts are $2.25 in Perryton, but in Oklahoma City they have gone to $2.50 and in Kansas City they are $3.50.

Haircuts in New York are $5 and hair styling goes on to $12.50. Over the country, barbers, faced with fewer patrons, respond by raising prices. A father of several small boys may balk at the price rise, may invest in a home barber kit, or look more kindly at the trend toward long hair on young males.

This country has been preoccupied with hair for several years now, and while the trend toward long hair on young men has changed somewhat, it still a mark of the younger generation.

Around the college campuses the long fad seems to be fading, and upperclassmen who face an immediate prospect of a job interview can be distinguished on the campus because they have trimmed their hair.

The shoulder length, unkempt appearance is still associated with hippies, and even on the campuses the hippie look is fading out.

Hair has been a style of dress for a long time. In early days of this country, men wore longer hair, and facial hair, and it wasn't until a couple of decades ago that the shorn, crew cut styles came in.

Length of hair has been the subject of heated family arguments.

Courts and schools have had to rule upon it, and the military services have made concessions toward longer hair.

No longer is long hair for men regarded as eccentric or associated with fiddle players. An entire generation of men still regard long hair as sissy or repulsive, but most people are used to it by now.

It may be that in the future, considering the trend in prices, the fellow with a crew cut will be regarded not only as eccentric, but certainly as a financial wizard as well.

Value Of Texas Cotton Decreased; Production Cost Increased By Bark

By Kermit E. Voelkel
(Editor's Note: The writer of this report is a retired United States Department of Agriculture employee having been with the Cotton Division for 38 years (1931-68). Since 1968, he has been a staff member of Natural Fibers Economic Research, University of Texas, Austin. He served many years as officer in charge of the Memphis Cotton Classing Office.)

The harvesting of cotton by hand is out-moded as the Model T Ford because of speed needed in harvesting and in an effort to reduce the cost of producing cotton. At the present time, practically all the cotton in Texas is harvested mechanically. Only a negligible amount is harvested by hand in a few isolated areas of the state, and chiefly in the sections where farmers wanted to produce the first bale of the season.

Twenty-five (25) years ago there were less than 20 spindle pickers and slightly over 3,000 stripper harvesters in operation in Texas. However, today the harvesting units increased to about 5,000 spindle pickers and 38,000 stripper harvesters.

It was significant to note that during the past 10 years, as the percentage of cotton harvested by mechanical means increased, the percentage of cotton reduced in grade because of bark also increased. Records reflected that in the counties where the largest number of stripper harvesters were in operation, the largest percentage of reduction or "bark cotton" also appeared.

Through Friday, October 27, 1972, the 14 USDA cotton classing offices handling Texas Cotton under the Smith-Doxey Act had all classed some cotton. The quality report showed that of the 1,089,558 samples classed, an estimated 108,620 samples, or about 10 per cent of the total classed, were reduced one or more grades because of bark. Of the offices that have completed or are practically completed classing the 1972 crop cotton, the Harlingen office showed the lowest percentage of bark with 3 per cent and the Austin office the highest percentage with 23 per cent.

Based on the 50 points ($2.50) per bale discount, generally assessed under normal marketing conditions, for cotton containing bark and allowing the usual price differential for the one (1) grade (in some instances two (2) or more grades reduction), the loss on the 108,620 bales of the 1972 crop cotton through October 27, was conservatively estimated at over one million ($1,086,200) dollars.

The 1972 crop has been about 35 per cent harvested up to this point. With several factors entering into the reasons for bark in cotton, and which will be given later in this report, it is predicted that a large percentage of the crop will be reduced in grade because of bark as the harvesting and ginning season progresses into the western portion of the state. This portion of the state (the Rolling and High Plains) has 60 per cent of the state's stripper harvesters.

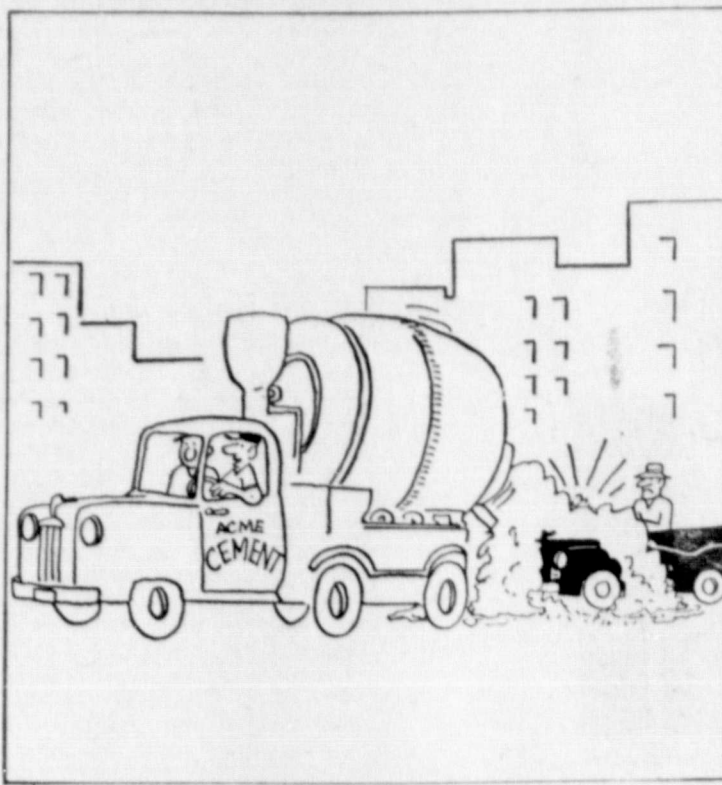

Last year (1971), the 14 USDA classing offices that handled Texas cotton under the Smith-Doxey Act showed in the weekly quality reports that forty-six (46) percent of the state's total production was reduced in grade because of bark. This figure reflected that the 1971 crop had the most number of samples and the largest percentage of samples affected by the bark factor in the state's production history.

There are a number of reasons that cause bark in cotton. The weather is one of the chief reasons in that after a rainy or icy period, many farmers return to the fields before the plant has had time to completely dry out; 2) the use of acid not only causes leaves to drop but it also stops plant growth, causing the bark to peel when machine strippers are used in harvesting; 3) due to the shortage of labor in most all segments of the cotton industry, there also existed a shortage of experienced harvesting machine operators. Therefore, carelessness and inefficiency could have been contributing factors to the amount of cotton reduced in grade, as well as the type of strippers used.

In a recent gin survey conducted by Natural Fibers Economic Research, ginner's indicated that the cost of ginning could be reduced by improving the efficiency of the stripper harvesters, as well as by the delivery of cleaner stripper cotton to the gin.

The delivery of each additional 100 pounds of bark, grass, trash, etc., to the gin, costs the farmer an average of 72 cents a CWT not to mention the wear and tear caused to the gin machinery.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

"What's that guy blowing his horn about...?"

Thus, the increase of this extraneous matter of 1,000 pounds in the seed cotton, required to produce a normal bale of lint cotton, would mean an increased cost to the farmer of $7.29 per bale. Surprisingly, many leaders in the cotton industry were not aware that such a large percentage of cotton last season was reduced in grade—46 per cent.

According to official records, currently 10 per cent of the Texas crop has been reduced in grade because of bark, but less than .5 per cent (1/2 of 1 per cent) was so reduced in the Southeastern and South Central areas of the Cotton Belt. It is significant to note that the cotton in these areas is harvested chiefly by mechanical pickers, and/or by hand.

The large volume of "bark cotton" and the heavy loss associated with it, should be reasons for the cotton industry to take a long, hard look at this annual problem. This is particularly true under the harvesting and marketing conditions of the current season.

The Memphis Cyclone took a victory over Valley High on Friday night, extending its season record to 7 and 2 at Cyclone Stadium.

Mike Browning went to the quickly, to take advantage of the field position, hitting first Johnson for a quick six-gain, and then passed to halfback Jim Melton in the right flat. Melton caught the pass on the sidestepped one defender, evade Scotty Settling, and his way down the east line until he was brought down on the six-yard line by Larry Settling.

The Cyclone offense, stayed on the ground on the next play, and sweep to the left with FB Fowler carrying was good the remaining distance. Larry booted the point after the score was 7-0 with 11:17 remaining on the clock. Only 43 seconds had expired in the ball-

Agri. Sec. Butz Says Gov't To Trim $100 Million From Cotton Subsidies

According to an Associated Press release with a Washington dateline, published in the Wednesday, Nov. 15 issue of The Fort Worth Star-Telegram, the Nixon administration hopes to trim more than $100 million from subsidies to cotton farmers next year. This is part of an acreage plan aimed at cutting back on cotton while boosting soybean production.

Sentiment among local cotton farmers was developing against the plan as the information was being discussed, according to reports coming to The Democrat late Wednesday.

The following is quoted from the news story:

Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz said Tuesday that the 1973 program, which planners hope will reduce cotton output by one-fifth from this year's crop, will give cotton farmers more freedom to adjust to market requirements.

The plan includes: —A reduction of the national allotment of cotton from 11.5 million acres from 1972 to 10 million next year. This is the amount of land farmers are allocated to produce cotton for domestic requirements.

—Direct subsidy payments, which are in addition to basic price-support loans, are based on cotton grown on the national acreage allotment. Growers, however, are not restricted on total plantings, only on the amount used to compute the direct payments.

—Elimination of the set-aside where growers have had to take 20 per cent out of production to match the set-aside, in order to qualify for government benefits.

—The program should provide farmers with broader opportunities to diversify their operations by raising other crops, such as soybeans, or grain sorghum or formerly what would have been set-aside land or land in cotton," Butz said in a statement.

Officials estimated that under the program growers will plant about 12 million acres of cotton next year, compared with 13.7 million for 1972.

The Gobbler Is Back

The Highway Gobbler is the driver who acts like he's the only one on the road. He always drives a little faster than the speed limit, passes to get a little further ahead or tailgates when he can't pass.

This Thanksgiving weekend, the Highway Gobbler is back. He really hasn't been gone. He's been there all along making his generous contribution to the toll of death and injury and property damage on our highways. But he's recognizable for what he is during the Thanksgiving holiday season.

There's no room for the Highway Gobbler—this Thanksgiving or any time of the year.

The Memphis Cub Scout Pack, No. 35, will have its November pack meeting at 7 p. m., Monday, Nov. 27, at the Travis School Cafeteria, according to Cubmaster Bill Combs.

Last month, the Cubs enjoyed a spirited Halloween Party. The Pack now has three Cub dens meeting regularly plus a Webelos den.

Den 1 leaders are Mrs. Jo Ann Shields, den mother, and Mrs. Sharon Rogers, assistant den mother. This den will soon have a Boy Scout den chief working with it, since it meets after 4 p. m.

Den 2 has Mrs. Bill Combs as den mother and Mrs. Violet Walker as assistant.

Den 3 has Mrs. Bea Levy as den mother and Mrs. Robert L. Clark as assistant.

The Webelos den is under Lee Levy's direction, and a Boy Scout will be working with this den.

Recently, Mr. and Mrs. Combs and Mr. and Mrs. Levy spent all day Saturday in Pampa attending a Cub Scout leaders workshop. "The workshop was most helpful and informative," Cubmaster Combs said.

In January, a Pow Wow is being planned for Borger for Cub Scout leaders.

Mrs. Johnnie Bice this week accepted the position as den mother coach for the Cub Pack. The den mother coach helps coordinate the efforts of all the den mothers and also helps train new den mothers.

"We have several younger Scout prospects and hope to form another new den for these boys in a month or two," Cubmaster Combs said.

A meeting of all adult cub leaders has been called for 5 p. m. Monday, Nov. 20 at The Memphis Democrat office, to draft final plans for the Nov. 27 pack meeting, and especially to make plans for the December meeting, it was announced.

Hunting Guides Are Available At Courthouse

Certain changes have been noted in the hunting seasons throughout this area, and county sportsmen might want to stop by the County Clerk's office in the courthouse and pick up the most recent copy of Texas Hunting and Fishing Guide, 1972-73.

Copies of the guide arrived here recently.

The next season opening up is the turkey and deer season in Hall County; however, for those hunters who go in for the sport of shooting squirrel, a season is now open until Dec. 1.

As far as turkey and deer seasons, Hall County seasons open Nov. 18 and close Dec. 3 on both seasons. Bag limits for turkey are one bird, either sex. Shooting hours are one-half hour before sunset until one-half hour after sunset.

For deer, bag limit is two animals, no more than one mule deer, buck or antlerless—and no more than one white-tail deer, buck or antlerless.

Both deer and turkey have been reported in certain isolated areas of this county in recent years, and, as for turkey, probably more of these birds were killed last year than any time in recent history.

Hunters, however, should, when hunting turkey, pay strict attention to bag limits and hunting dates, so birds can continue to populate this area and provide future hunters good sport.

For a number of years there were very few wild turkey in the Rolling Plains country.

Quail hunters will have to wait until Dec. 1 for the season to be open anywhere within several hundred miles of here. Collingsworth and Wheeler counties have seasons opening Dec. 1 and closing Jan. 31, while Hall, Childress, Donley, Briscoe, Cottle, Motley, and all the other Panhandle counties have a Dec. 1 through Feb. 15 season.

In talking with game wardens this week, it was reported that quail this year are in a more plentiful supply and a good harvest is expected. However, ground cover is also reported to be heavy, but with more birds, hunters should have successful hunts.

Sec. Of State Proposes Changes In Election Laws

Secretary of State Bob Bullock recently presented to the Senate Interim Committee on Elections a multiple part report on Proposed Election Law Changes. These recommendations for the members of the 63rd Legislature represent areas of weakness in Texas' present statutes pertaining to elections.

"The major thrust of my report," Bullock stated, "relates to the adoption of a unitary primary system. The present dual primary system is inefficient, costly and chaotic."

The report chronicles a history of the litigation which thwarted legislative attempts to retain a system of assessments and filing fees for candidates in order to finance the party primary elections.

"The emergency primary financing act passed in March in order to avoid a complete collapse of the impending May Primaries salvaged one more primary election," Bullock asserted. "But the $2.8 million price tag dramatically points up the need for a more economical primary operation. The unitary primary fulfills this need."

In other portions of the report, Bullock praises the new voter registration system but points some inconsistencies which need to be eliminated to facilitate its administration. He also reveals that his staff is presently studying the feasibility of a centralized registration system.

The final recommendations include strengthening present provisions requiring candidates to report campaign contributions and expenditures, State regulation of the sale of new and used voting machines and devices, and a re-codification of the present election laws.

Rebekah Lodge To Serve Monday Thanksgiving Dinner

Members of the Rebekah Lodge will serve their annual Thanksgiving supper Monday night, Nov.

The meal will be served starting at 6:30 o'clock in the Lodge Hall at a cost of $1.50 per plate.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to come and enjoy the dinner with them.

News About Insurance And...

If you have a home owners insurance policy, are you aware that under the Form A policy depreciation is not waived? If you have a Form B Homeowners, and provided you carry as much as 80% of replacement cost, depreciation is waived. The Form B policy provides broader coverage and is more expensive. For example, if you carry $15,000 on a brick veneer home, the annual difference in premium between the A and B Forms is $50.00. We suggest that you check with your agent for complete information on the differences in the two forms, including coverage and cost.

Our good friend Hubert Dennis has shown a lot of talent through the years as an athlete, teacher, civic leader, Legionnaire, and Mason, but he seems to show even more talent as a retired person — relaxed actively doing things, and far from being bored with life. A great many people could take a lesson from Hubert.

Cyclone note—a considerable number of seniors who have represented their school on the gridiron in outstanding manner will pay their final game Friday night in Silverton. It will be a nostalgic occasion for them. Commend them and let them know you appreciate them before and after the game. I certainly do.

The only persons you should try to get even with are the ones who have helped you.

The election is over, cotton prices are ridiculously low, the football season is almost over—aside from plain gossip, what is there left to talk about?

A Happy Thanksgiving to all!

JUNIOR HIGH 7th GRADE TEAM—Pictured above are the members of the Memphis Junior High 7th grade football team which has been under the guidance of Coach Clyde McMurray this season. The 7th graders were to play Wellington this afternoon for their final game of the season here, however, Wellington school officials have requested the game not be played so the contest has been cancelled. The Memphis team already has a 28-0 victory over the Wellington team. Wellington and Clarendon are the only Class A schools supporting a complete 7th grade program in this area, so Memphis schedules games with Childress and Quanah 7th grade, and also with Hollis. The Memphis team can be proud of its record, 5-2-1, and can look forward to making a strong bid for the championship next season. Pictured left to right, first row, are: Mgr. Sonny Morris, Tim Widener, Chris Richardson, Stephen Henry, Kenneth Bachman, Kenneth Martin, Mgr. Dan Curl. Second row from the left are: Mike Autman, Jesse Hernandez, Joe Foster, Jody Dixon, Rodney Hall, Tom Johnson, Brent Barbee, and Mark Gilbert. Third row from the left are: Cody Williams, Tim Nelson, Randall Shahan, Kenneth Wilks, Jay McKay, Ricky Guy, Mark Guffey, Dewayne Phelps and Eddie Williams. Not pictured is Keith Barnett.

Harmony Club Meets In Home Of Mrs. Theo. Swift

The Harmony Club met in the home of Mrs. Theodore Swift on Nov. 8.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Edna Lee Cook, Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard presided over a short business session. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Miss Gertrude Rasco introduced the program. Mrs. Gordon Gilliam gave an interesting history of country music, blues and western. She said that Tin Pan Alley of the "Birth of the Blues" hasn't much to do with how the melancholy music began. The seed was planted among the negroes in the South; maybe—nobody knows for sure—around the time of the Civil War.

One great Blues player was Eck Robertson whose fast-fingered playing laid musical foundation over the nation. He is an Arkansas native, who spent much of his life in Amarillo. He once owned a music store in Clarendon.

Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard told the story of Jazz. She stated, "Jazz is an exciting form of music, perhaps the only true American Art." Its origin goes back to the old negro work songs. The classic jazz forms originated in the Negro quarters of New Orleans. Then during World War I the cabarets and sporting houses of New Orleans were closed and the bands moved to Chicago. For that time on it became popular here and throughout the world. The great individualists in Chicago developed the swing bop, progressive and coal jazz. The degradation of slave race gave birth to the new folk music. Work songs played an integral part in fashioning modern jazz. "Old Man River" is an example. Jazz will endure so long as people hear it with their feet instead of their brains, the speaker said.

Miss Gertrude Rasco played the following jazz numbers: "New Orleans Blues," "Mr. Trumpet Man" by William Billock from a book of Jazz Styles; "Am I Blue" by Eddie Duchin. Delicious refreshments were served to the following members: Mmes. D. L. C. Kinard, Bill Wood, Gordon Gilliam, W. L. Sanders, A. L. McKay, R. S. Greene and Misses Esta McElrath and Gertrude Rasco and the hostess, Mrs. Swift.

Little Theatre Meets In Home Of Mrs. R. S. Greene

Presiding at the meeting was the president, Mrs. Hubert Jones. After a brief business session, a most entertaining program was presented.

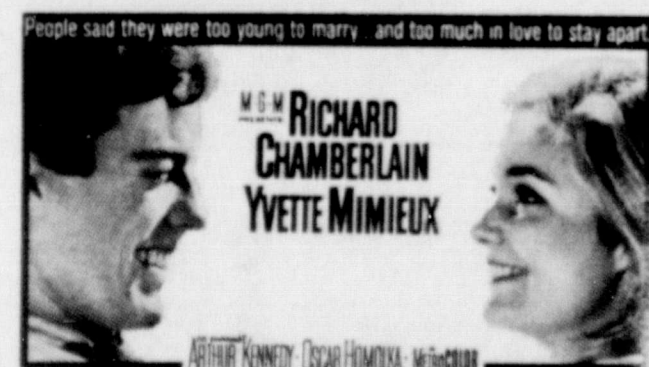

Virginia Browder, dressed in costume, introduced the numbers

Lydia Class Has Thanksgiving Prog. In Hutcherson Home

The Lydia Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church met Thursday afternoon, Nov. 9, in the home of Mrs. Ida Hutcherson with Mrs. Estelle Barber as co-hostess.

Mrs. Nettie Adams led in prayer and Miss Sybil Gurley brought a beautiful devotional reading, 1 Thess. 15 on Thanks and read a poem, "A Thanksgiving Prayer." Prayer was also led by Mrs. Grace Foxhall.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved, and each member told what she was thankful for. Mrs. Ernest Clark told of her recent trip to Grand Rapids, Mich., when she which was a member participation program with each member "Doing Her Thing."

Tasty refreshments were served during the social hour to the following members: Nell Beeson, Virginia Browder, Annette Boswell, Helen Combs, Emma Deaver, Charlene Douthit, Charlene Greene, Tomacile Greene, Peaches Harrison, Kathryn Jones, Lottie Kinard, Janet McMurray, Mary Helen Sexauer, and Wilma Voyles.

Delphian Club Enjoys Cultural Art Presentation

The Delphian Club met Nov. 7 in the Bronze Room of the First National Bank for a very interesting fine arts program.

Club President Mrs. Kenneth Dale called the meeting to order, led the pledge to the flag and welcomed guests, Mrs. E. L. Kilgore and Mrs. Edna Smith.

Mrs. C. D. Morris introduced the program, "Steps To Support Cultural Ventures." The meditation, "Shades of November," was given by Mrs. Leon Davis. Mrs. Morris then introduced the special guest speaker, Mrs. Eda Smith. Mrs. Smith gave a most interesting lecture concerning art. A few of the many things she pointed out were: that art should have creative imagination; art is a form of communication; a child's first art teacher is his parent. Children's art expresses the child's world; art is a human experience. Mrs. Smith also displayed a large number of paintings, some done by herself and some by other artists.

Mrs. Smith has studied with a number of well-known artists and teachers and has won many awards and honors the last 10 years. She experiments with all media and subjects and all forms of painting interest her, it was pointed out.

She began teaching art and painting classes during the summer of 1963 for children and adults and at the present time, teaches second grade in the Childress school system.

Club members also brought gifts to prepare a box for the Vernon Center at Vernon.

Mrs. Clyde Smith and Mrs. Geary Brogden were hostesses, and served refreshments to Mmes. Kenneth Dale, L. F. Jones, Neal Hindman, W. C. Dickey, L. L. McKown, C. D. Morris, Sim Reeves, Henry Hays, F. Perry's Opens Two New Stores During Past Week

Bill Hall, manager of the local Perry's, announced this week that Perry's Variety Store in Nacogdoches, for more than 50 years in the downtown area, observed another milestone Thursday morning, Nov. 9, in a cutting ceremony in its relocation in the 500 Block of Street.

Mrs. Mattie Perry, wife of late Roscoe Perry, was to cut the ribbon for the store. Mr. Perry was one of five brothers who founded the company over 55 years ago and managed the store there time.

Walter Atwell, president, pressed his appreciation to Henley, who has managed Nacogdoches store since and all the customers who had made the new store possible. The new store contains more than 12,000 feet of floor space and opened a new department decoupage and other crafts.

Perry's also re-located a store in the same week at A. Tex., also containing more than 12,000 feet of floor space for new department shoes, discount drugs, and crafts.

The opening of the stores climaxes Perry's expansion program for 1972. Several stores and remodelings are planned for the future.

Perry's now has 111 stores including the store in Hall said.

By BYRON BALDWIN

they had their room in Goodwin Hall. On this card with the other message was "that he did not know that there were that many boys in the world as were in this college. Sam Harle III is now in Phoenix, Ariz."

After the election and the votes were counted, I heard Senator McGovern say he had traveled 200 thousand miles in his campaign, and I came to the conclusion that he made a lot of trips to Mass. and Washington, D. C. to make that many miles.

From Brass Tacks: "There are only two things in the world to worry over. The things you can control and the things you can't control. Fix the first and forget the second."

Jamie Moss had as her guests in Hall County Heritage Hall the past weekend, Shirley Nichols, Gwendolyn Lasseter and Lee Harrell of Irving. These three young ladies are students at Texas Tech. Lee will be remembered as that little girl of Curtiss and Frances (Gillreath) Harrell who have made their home in Irving for the past several years. Other visitors in Heritage Hall were Mr. and Mrs. Truett White of Childress, Estelle Stone of Lubbock and Mrs. R. V. Sweat of Fort Worth. Mrs. Sweat, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Bell, moved to Collingsworth County in 1908 where they first lived in a half dug-out. She and the late R. V. Sweat moved to Newlin in 1937 and moved to Fort Worth in 1959. R. V. passed away in 1961. They had one daughter, Belle Hughes of Newlin, and three sons, Don and Bob of Fort Worth and Tom of Memphis.

A quote from Girl Talk: "The best way to surprise your husband on your anniversary is to mention it to him."

John Alex Rowell of Childress had as his guest in Hall County Heritage Hall the past week, Dr. James Tinkle of Portland, Oregon. James and John graduated from Estelline High School in 1938. Some of the other classmates he was trying to locate were Harlan Hood, Mary Nell (Davis)

Diggs, D-Alice Eddins and one of the Price girls. Two of the teachers he remembered were Joe Allen Ballard and Carl Bailey. He missed seeing Joe Allen who was not at home. Dr. Tinkle is the son of the late James N. and Mrs. Tinkle who now lives in Arkansas. Rev. James Tinkle was pastor of the First Methodist Church in Newlin in 1937-38. James has been practicing dentistry in Portland, Oregon, for the past 26 years. He has three sons and one granddaughter. John Alex made a visit to see this old schoolmate in Portland a few months ago which he enjoyed very much and insisted that James pay him a visit here. They left Heritage Hall together on their way to Abilene to renew acquaintances at McMurry College.

I had a coffee table visit with three Davis girls the past week who were former residents of Hall County, Cressie (Davis) Nectter, Opal (Davis) Rothwell of Arizona and Louise (Davis) Hodge of Arkansas. They are the daughters of the late W. M. Davis and Mrs. (Davis) Smith of Memphis. They remembered going to school at Salisbury at an early age and their teachers they remembered were Frank Garrett and Lila Neal. They also remembered that in the 1930's they came to town on Saturday and saw how hard it was for them to get a nickel to spend on the weekend.

Copied from "Life Styles", J. K. Young—"A Secretary we know is all for women's lib. But she draws the line at having the boss sit on her lap."

"Kids marry young these days. At our school, a boy who had been absent brought an excuse written by his wife."

We read in our daily paper an article from New York City that the food editor of the New York Times had widened the range of consumer research by tasting and rating 11 types of dog food and some of this smelled so bad he would not dare taste it. The research was prompted, the editor said, by the realization that 32 million dogs and 20 million cats in the United States eat something daily and increasingly it is commercially prepared pet food. He did give the report that 15 billion dollars are spent annually on Pet food! Only 390 million annually is spent for baby food. Some of you can remember when we only had fish food for the gold fish and bird seed for the canary birds. The scraps from the table were for the cats and dogs and slop for the pigs.

A quote from Earl's Pearls: "These days saving money is harder than playing a trumpet from the wrong end."

As copied from "The Texas Clubwoman": "The good old days were: when you left your front door open; when you went to church and the preacher preached from the Bible; when a girl was a girl, when a boy was a boy, and you could tell them apart. When even the word 'Socialism' was a dirty word; when the poor were too proud to take charity; when a nickel was worth five cents, when you bragged about your hometown, your state and your nation; when the flag was a sacred symbol; when this government stood up for Americans; when everyone knew right from wrong; when things were not perfect and you did not expect them to be; when people still had the capacity for indignation. When 'Sick' meant that you were not feeling well; when people expected less and valued more what they had; when everyone was not entitled to an annual wage whether he worked or not; when a man's word was his bond; when America was the land of the free and the home of the brave."

A remembered quote: "A woman will starve herself to get into an evening gown and her husband will starve himself to pay for it."

I noticed on television a few days ago that Ed McMahon first started out as a salesman selling peanuts, popcorn and soda pop. Now he is a super salesman on TV. We never know what a young man will accomplish in life watching his beginning as a small business executive. Some time ago John Deaver II brought in for Heritage Hall for display a covered wagon that he constructed when he was 9 years old, which was very good for a young fellow that age to have ambition of building prairie schooners or mobile homes. Another business of this small young fellow was to raise hogs. Someone gave him a small pig at school and he rushed home with it. His mother told him he had to get it out of the house, as she did not want a pig pen there. Well, he had to leave and build a hog pen several blocks from home and that got to be a pretty good chore. I am sure he had other ventures in business but decided he had rather sit in an office chair.

Hall County Cancer Soc. To Hold Bake Sale

On Saturday, Nov. 18, beginning at 9 o'clock the Hall County Unit of the American Cancer Society will hold a bake sale in the office of the West Texas Utilities Company, according to Mrs. Floyd McIntush, campaign chairman.

In April of each year the Cancer Society makes a concerted drive to collect funds for research. Mrs. McIntush stated that the Hall County board plans to hold several fund raising projects before April in an effort to build a part of the quota.

"We are delighted with the response we have had thus far," Mrs. McIntush said. "However, we need many more cakes and pies to make the sale a big success. People who are willing to help are urged to bring their pies or cakes to the West Texas Utilities office or to call me at 259-2318. We shall be glad to pick up any contribution."

Memphis Democrat To Be Published On Wednesday

The Thursday, Nov. 23, issue of The Memphis Democrat will be mailed Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 22, Publisher Herschel Combs announced this week.

This has been a customary procedure of the newspaper for many years, as well as weekly newspapers over this area. The one-day earlier publication is being made in order that the staff may observe Thanksgiving Day in the traditional manner.

All news copy as well as that from advertisers must be handled by the office staff and printers one day earlier than usual. The cooperation of everyone is solicited.

DPS Intensifies Effort To Prevent Highway Littering

AUSTIN—An intensified effort to prevent littering on the highways of Texas was announced recently by Col. Wilson E. Spier, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

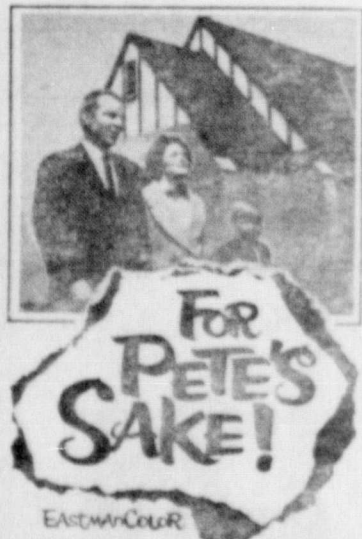

Spier said DPS patrolmen in all uniformed services have been ordered to watch closely for motorists or other persons throwing litter on the highways or rights-of-way, and to take appropriate enforcement action.

State law prohibits the dumping or depositing of refuse, garbage, rubbish or junk on public streets, roads or highways. It is also unlawful to dump any sort of waste on rights-of-way, beaches, parking areas, or in inland streams or coastal waters.

Fines for littering offenses may be as high as $200, and minimum fines of $25 are provided in some instances.

Spier said the DPS made 841 littering arrests in 1971 as compared to 225 in 1960. Total pollution oriented arrests by the Department of Public Safety last year totaled almost 7,000 including such offenses as loose material, material spillage and faulty mufflers and exhaust emission systems.

Coach Jimmy Pope's 1972-73 team will be built around a nucleus of two returning All-District players, Mike Browning and Larry Johnson. Johnson, at 6-4, led the team in scoring and rebounding last year, while Browning was the out-side shooter, play maker and court general of a team which lost the district crown to Claude last year in a game which will live many years in the minds of those attending.

With these, Coach Pope will be looking over lettermen Donny Scott, Len Simpson and Charlie Slaughter, and outstanding material from the B team last year in Wayne Davis and Ronnie Browning. Ronald Canida has indicated he will be out for baseball, the coach indicated.

Coaches feel that District 2-A has some of the finest basketball talent in both boys and girls brackets of any Class A district in the state, and the deciding of district representatives this year should be a real exciting prospect. Whether or not the Memphis teams make a strong bid depends to some extent on how quickly the teams fell into effective units, for district play begins Dec. 12, only 21 days after the opening game next Tuesday.

Memphis teams are open the Friday night of the Thanksgiving holidays, then play Quannah (boys) and Esteline teams on Nov. 28.

Fans are reminded that the Memphis Invitational Tournament is set for Nov. 30, Dec. 1 and 2, weekend after next.

Local Families Now Have Higher Income Levels

NEW YORK, Nov. 11—Thanks to the income gains they have chalked up in the last few years, many Hall County families find themselves in higher income brackets than before.

Some of them, whose earnings had been below $8,000, have graduated to the $10,000 and up level. Their former positions on the income ladder have been taken over, in turn, by families that had been receiving less than $8,000.

The upward shift has been taking place all across the board, with the result that the middle and upper brackets contain a larger proportion of the local population than ever, leaving a smaller segment in the lower brackets.

The findings are brought out in a special report, covering every area of the country, released by Sales Management.

What was sought through the study was a better understanding of the purchasing power of each community than was afforded by its "average income" alone.

Is that average made up of a small proportion of families with big incomes counterbalancing a very large proportion with small incomes or are earnings more evenly spread?

In Hall County, it is shown, no less than 50.7 percent of the households had disposable cash incomes, after payment of their income taxes, of $5,000 or more.

This was a greater proportion than was recorded locally three years ago, when a similar study was made. It was then $4.6 percent.

The increase, 10.1 percent, compares with a 5.7 percent rise in the United States and with 7.9 percent in the State of Texas.

Since the report is concerned solely with money income, it understates somewhat the standing of farm communities, where lower living costs and the availability of home-grown products are valuable considerations.

The findings reveal, through a breakdown, just what proportion of Hall County's population lies within each income bracket.

The figures list 24.3 percent of the local households in the group with net earnings of $5,000 to $8,000 and another 9.5 percent in the $8,000 to $10,000 category. Those with incomes above $10,000 constitute 16.9 percent. The remainder have net earnings of $5,000 or less.

However, although more money is being made, a sizable part of the gain is being wiped out by rising living costs.

Avoiding Electrical Accidents

Most electrical accidents can be avoided by using common sense.

Nearly all electrical accidents are a result of individual carelessness and continued worn or defective equipment.

1. Don't use a "cube" outlet to make circuits. This usually leads to overloaded circuit and trouble. Have additional installed.

2. Frayed or damaged should be discarded. Do not cord under a rug or in room to another.

3. Pull cords from receptacles by the plug, not by the cord. Do not use radios in bathrooms or damp places.

It's a good idea to check electrical appliances and equipment regularly for work that could eventually cause serious electrical accident, and ser.
