Two Killed, Two Injured In Brice Crash Tuesday

Two persons were killed and two drivers injured when a 1960 Chevrolet 4-door and a 1970 Chevrolet pickup truck slammed head-on about 7 p. m. Tuesday night in the city limits of Brice, on State Hwy. 70.

According to Investigating Highway Patrolman Don Collins, the car was southbound, driven by Adolpho Rosales, 19, of Brice, who was injured.

A passenger in the Rosales car, Ruben Garcia, 20, was pronounced dead at the scene by Memphis Justice of Peace Roy Coleman.

Pronounced dead on arrival at Hall County Hospital was 14-year-old Joycelyn Taylor, whose father, Donald Ray Taylor, 37, was the driver of the pickup truck.

Both Taylor and Rosales are in Hall County Hospital undergoing treatment for injuries received in the wreck.

To complicate matters, a third vehicle, a northbound transport truck of the Grandyke Transport Co. of Amarillo, driven by Allen Dewayne Potter, 27, of 2903 S. Spring, came along and clipped the Rosales car, which came to rest partially blocking the northbound lane of the 2-lane highway.

Patrolman Collins described the head-on crash as occurring near the center strip of the highway and the impact point being the right front side of both vehicles, the passenger side.

Both vehicles were torn apart by the wreck.

Consolidated Ambulance Service rushed the wreck victims to Hall County Hospital.

Services for Garcia, an employee of the Brice Paymaster Gin, were held at 3 p. m. this afternoon (Thursday) in the Sacred Heart Catholic Church here with the Rev. Ladislaus (Continued on Page 10)

Busy Telephone Causes Problems For City Police During Emergencies

By BILL COMBS
Citizens of Memphis are creating a problem for their public servants, and this problem is reaching major proportions and possibly could bring on certain changes.

The problem is one of curiosity primarily. A siren goes off and citizens feel they just must know what is going on so they call the City Police, or the Fire Station. Tuesday night things got out of hand. A wreck in Brice made it necessary for the police dispatcher to contact the ambulance, the Highway Patrol, the wrecker, alert the hospital, and answer radio calls for these vehicles.

As soon as sirens sounded, citizens started calling wanting to know what was happening.

In another part of the town a woman discovered a prowler burglarizing her home. She needed help but couldn't call the Police Station for the telephone lines were tied up.

A car was stalled on the railroad track across the Montgomery Street crossing, needing wrecker service, & they couldn't contact the police station.

Since the police telephone is one of the major lines used to contact ambulance service, if someone had needed this service during that period, the police station couldn't have received the call.

City Police and Fireman report this is a normal occurrence whenever the ambulance runs, the fire trucks go out, or even the tornado warning siren goes off.

What time do these calls stop? This reporter went by the Police Station about 10:30 p. m. Tuesday night, to meet with Highway Patrolman Don Collins. Calls were still coming in. Names of the traffic victims were not being released pending next of kin notification, a kind and necessary service performed by Law Enforcement Officers in this state.

Television newsmen reported the wreck information they had received, minus names, and a new rash of telephone calls began coming into the Police Station.

The telephone was still ringing when this reporter left thirty minutes later.

The problem is obvious. The City Police Station needs to keep its telephone from being tied up by callers not having official business. The only alternative is the establishing of a multi-line telephone system for the Police Station and more dispatchers to operation the system to accommodate the curious.

The Habitual Traffic Offender Act!

It has long been a mystery of modern society in the land of the free, why the American public and elected representatives of the people have continued to tolerate a situation that has blighted our country for decades, as long as the automobile has been the chief method of transportation.

This is the regulation and control of the stream of traffic on our streets and highways and what to do about those drivers who continually disregard the rules and regulations. Historians will look back on the past decades and wonder how generations of Americans could tolerate a situation where more citizens are killed, crippled and maimed, more money spent, more human resources wasted, in transportation accidents than in all the wars, crime and civic disorders during the same period.

One of the new pieces of legislation pending before the State Legislature is a bill entitled: "Habitual Offender Law" which deals with one of the problems, that of the 10,000 drivers in Texas loose on the highways today who have shown such an utter disregard for the safety of others, that their driving records qualify them as habitual traffic law offenders.

Who would be considered an habitual traffic offender? Under the guidelines set out by the new law it would take a driver convicted of four different transactions of any of the following within a five year period: (1) negligent homicide from the operation of a motor vehicle; (2) driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of drugs or alcohol; (3) reckless driving; (4) driving without a license or while his license is suspended; (5) failure to stop, render aid, and disclose his identity at the scene of an accident in which he is involved; (6) perjury committed in a prosecution for a violation of a motor vehicle law; (7) a felony involving a motor vehicle.

Also a person becomes an habitual traffic offender for the purpose of the act if, within a five year period, he is convicted of 12 moving traffic violations required to be reported to the DPS under Section 152, the Uniform Act Regulating Traffic on Highways.

What would the penalty be? If a person is convicted of a sufficient number of traffic violations to be classified as a habitual traffic offender commits a felony, punishable by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than one year, or both. Persons may not be given a probated sentence for the offense of being an habitual traffic offender.

Upon conviction the court shall order the habitual traffic offender to surrender any driver's license held by him and shall forward the license to the Dept. of Public Safety, along with a copy of the judgment of conviction. The department shall revoke the license and, except as provided in Subsection (b) of the act, the person may never be issued a driver's license of any type in this state.

Subsection (b) sets out that the habitual traffic offender may petition the court after five years has expired from the time of his conviction and ask for a hearing, which if granted by the judge that the petitioner has been rehabilitated, the DPS is notified by the court that he can be re-tested for a license.

Sec. 6 sets out that a person who drives a motor vehicle on the highways of this state after his license is revoked under the Act commits a felony punishable by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not less than one or more than five years. This section does not apply to a person who has obtained a valid driver's license after a finding by a court that he has been rehabilitated as provided in the Act.

This bill is stern, granted, but very necessary, if states are to make any headway in curbing the ever rising traffic toll. Fifteen states have already passed such legislation and 20 others are considering doing the same.

Nationwide, 50 per cent of all traffic fatalities are alcohol-connected. Many things contribute to traffic accidents, but the biggest problem is the driver himself.

After studying this act carefully, we join with Gov. Dolph Briscoe in requesting the speedy enactment of an Habitual Offender Law for Texas. If you feel the same way, notify your Senator and Representative, now.

Revenue Sharing Not Gravy

Revenue Sharing, greeted with so much joy a month ago, is losing some of its luster.

The Administration's budget for 1973-74 has made it perfectly clear that federal funds that have aided many local services are going to be cut off.

This means that local communities will have a choice. Either they will have to pay for some of these services themselves or they will have to go without them.

Details of the cuts have not yet come through, but it has been announced that funds for aid to education are to be cut, and the revenue sharing regulations prohibit use of that federal money for the cost of operating schools, although they do permit it for capital needs for education.

In Newport, the work-study program, under which many students have gone out to work on real jobs for a few hours a week, while studying how to do those jobs during the hours they spent in school, appears to be in jeopardy. If Newport loses that program, so ably administered in the last two years by Richard Kelly, many students will suffer.

Reading improvement program in Newport, Kearsarge Regional, Sunapee, and Goshen Lempster, funded under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, are under a shadow. If federal funds for those programs disappear, the school districts will have to get the funds from local taxpayers, for it would be unthinkable to wipe out programs that teach pupils to read properly. If they can't read, they can't get much from any other area of their schooling.

Head Start, one of the best programs of the War on Poverty, also may be in peril. In the years since Newport launched Head Start as a summer program and then moved to a year-round project, countless youngsters have been given priceless preparation to help them succeed in school, as their later teachers will attest.

Without Head Start, Newport would face added urgency in its needs for a kindergarten, a proposal that has been repeatedly rejected by the school district, and which would cost in the neighborhood of $30,000.

Just where the federal funds are to be cut remains to be revealed, but each cut diminishes the virtue of revenue sharing.

The Administration giveth, and the Administration taketh away.

Revenue-Sharing Shell Game

Governors and mayors who as recently as last year were beating the drum for revenue sharing are beginning to have some sobering second thoughts in light of President Nixon's new federal budget.

Some of them apparently had the idea that revenue sharing would be a kind of Christmas bonus—a windfall from Washington, with no strings attached and no cutbacks in other federal programs.

It now turns out that dozens of federal programs are being hobbled or eliminated; and in some cases, as Pennsylvania Gov. Milton J. Sharp points out, the local folks would have been better off under the old federal is that revenue sharing has been vastly oversold, or vastly overrated, as a solution to city and state financial problems.

In a sense, revenue sharing is a financial shell game in which the government simply shifts money from one pocket to another. This is particularly true of "special" revenue sharing proposals, which lump dozens of narrow programs into a few broad categories and give local people more discretion in how the money shall be spent.

It's also true of the $6 billion a year the government began doling out to states and communities last fall to be almost without restriction.

The government doesn't have an extra $6 billion a year to give away. In fact, it's running $2 billion a month in debt. So the President is chopping federal programs with one hand while sharing revenue with the other.

This is supposed to be a way of

Because we were the first company to commercially produce hybrid corn and with 17 years of work on sorghum, we know a lot more about hybrids and how to make crosses that really yield. We've had longer to test and re-test our varieties. We've stuck with some of our early crosses, and we keep developing new ones to fit every growing condition imaginable.

For the North Plains we recommend these sorghum, corn and forage varieties...

Pioneer brand 8417—new yellow endosperm sorghum—champion yielder in medium maturity class—large open heads—does well on all types of land.

Pioneer brand 820—good yielder under stress—outstanding with plenty of water and fertility—MDM resistant—full season.

Pioneer brand 846—excellent drought resistance—MDM resistant—medium maturity—our most popular sorghum variety.

Pioneer brand 3369A—champion-class corn favorite—tolerant to northern and southern blight—good ear retention—heavy grain yielder.

Pioneer brand 3306—most popular corn hybrid on the High Plains—tall with outstanding stalks and ear retention—good yielder on dry or wet land.

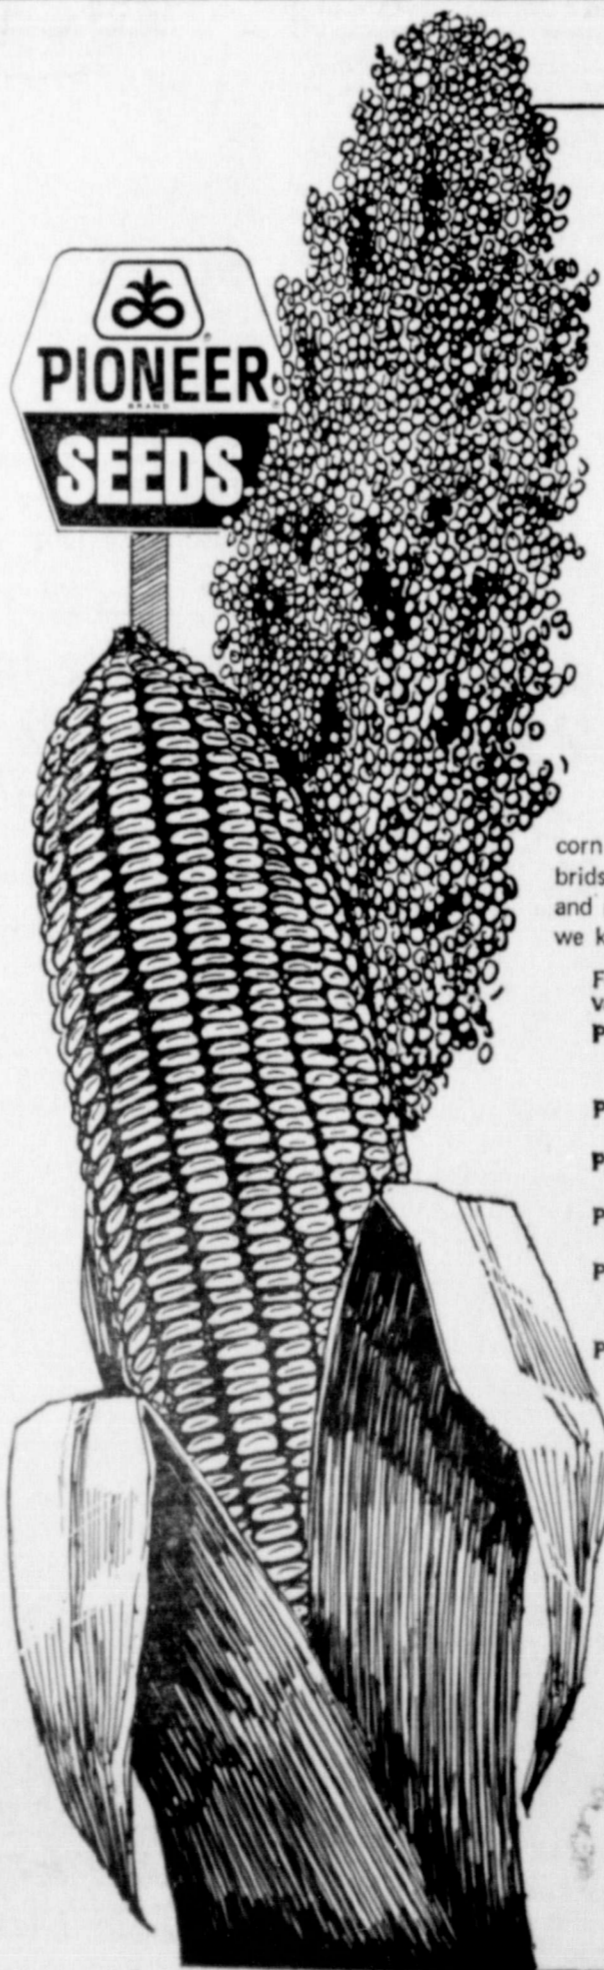

Pioneer brand 988—sorghum sudangrass hybrid for pasture, greenchop, hay or haylage—ready to cut or graze in a little more than a month—regrows again and again all summer with adequate moisture and fertilizer.

When you choose a hybrid for your land, choose one from the company that started it all...

SIX FLAGS ON THE GROW—Six Flags Over Texas will feature Good Time Square, an all-new section for 1973. Shown in the artist's rendering above, the five acres include two major rides, a miniature circus, a games area and new restaurant facilities. Built at a cost of some one and one-half million dollars, it is Six Flags' largest expansion program in several years. Good Time Square reflects the architecture of a Texas town at the turn of the century.

EXCITING NEW ATTRACTIONS ADDED TO SIX FLAGS LINEUP

Arlington, Texas—SIX FLAGS Over Texas' biggest expansion program in several years has added a completely new entertainment area and two major rides to the theme park's growing list of attractions.

The new section—Good Time Square—covers nearly five acres adjacent to the Park's Boomtown area.

Largest of the new rides is The Infernal Electrical Bumping Machines, a "giant size" version of the traditionally popular "Bumper cars." The SIX FLAGS installation boasts fifty cars, which is approximately double the number usually found on such rides.

Another new ride, Crazy Legs, has seats which spin on the tips of long, arching arms that rise and fall as the entire ride turns in a huge circle.

Across the Square is Doc Snooker's Magnificent Main Street Exposition, featuring sixteen games of the type which have been the most popular attraction at major fairs through the years.

General Manager Robert W. Freeman said,

"We spent several years working on the concept and design for the games area. The whole project reflects the wholesome style of entertainment which has become a SIX FLAGS trademark."

Another highlight of the new section is the Dragon Bros. Circus, a fascinating miniature circus representing more than 10,000 hours of meticulous work by the late P. K. Schmitter of Irving, Texas.

Mr. Schmitter, a technical illustrator who passed away in July, 1972, built the elaborate model as a hobby. The project occupied his spare time for more than eleven years.

The circus, with more than 4,000 tiny performers and spectators and nearly 2,000 miniature animals, fills a large building.

Still another entertainment feature is Doc Snooker's Medicine Show, a re-enactment of the humorous, razzle-dazzle sales pitch of the old time patent medicine peddler.

The entire section is designed to reflect the architecture and charm of a Texas town at the turn of the century.

Senator Bentsen To Be Briefed On Mail Service Today

Washington, D. C.—Senator Bentsen today said he will be briefed this week on the results of a General Accounting Office investigation into mail service in Texas.

"The GAO is to give us preliminary results of their investigation at the briefing," Bentsen said. "A written report will follow soon after."

The briefing is scheduled for Thursday, March 15.

Senator Bentsen requested the GAO investigation last September after receiving numerous complaints from Texas about a deterioration of mail service, and after conducting a preliminary test.

"The complaints have intensified within recent weeks," Bentsen said today. "And I am hopeful that the results of this investigation will give us some indication as to where the problems are, and pinpoint areas where we can improve service."

Bentsen pointed out that the Senate Post Office Committee begins an investigation into mail service today, and said he will make the results of his Texas study by the GAO available to the Committee.

He also noted that a constituent in Brady, Texas, is so concerned about understaffing at his post office, and the resulting mail delays, that he has offered to form a temporary volunteer corps to help out until the crisis eases.

"The person told me that 15 volunteers, working one hour a week, could help out with the sorting, sacking and moving of mail, thereby clearing the small number of remaining dedicated postal workers for other jobs," Bentsen said.

"He said he realizes this is not a permanent solution. But he offered it in all seriousness, as a stop-gap answer to the problem," Senator Bentsen concluded.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

If you sneeze and sniffle during the ragweed season, if you have cramps, diarrhea, or rash after eating a particular food or drug, if you wheeze or itch when around a cat, a horse, chicken feathers, or some other substance—then you may be suffering from an allergy.

An allergy is an unusual reaction to a substance, an abnormal behavior of the body to it. Half of the people in the world sneeze or sniffle, wheeze or itch, suffer intestinal disturbances or other uncomfortable symptoms because of their allergies. Half of the adult populations in Texas and one third of our children are afflicted, say state health officials.

In some it occurs only at certain seasons of the year, in others at fairly long intervals, while in many it is a daily problem.

When the allergy-producing substance enters your system and comes in contact with the antibodies in the cell, that union produces dramatic effects. The best known of the results of these miniature explosions is the release of the chemical histamine from the cell. Normally, presence of histamine stimulates production of adequate amounts of antihistamine which would of course cause no symptoms to develop. Sometimes enough antihistamine is not produced to counter the levels of histamine.

Histamine is perfectly harmless when inside the cell, but once released outside the cell it produces undesirable changes. It dilates and congests blood vessels so that fluids from your blood stream leak out into the tissue, causing swelling.

If this change takes place in the skin the result is hives. If this reaction occurs in the nose, the membrane swells and you have a condition known as hay fever or "sinus." Another action of histamine is to contract or put into spasm involuntary muscle fibers—muscles not controlled by your own will, such as stomach, intestine, urinary bladder, or the uterus. If this muscle effect takes in the muscle fibers around the bronchial tubes, asthma is the result; if in the intestine, cramps and diarrhea may be the effect.

At least one in three Texans who have untreated hay fever will develop asthma, say state health officials. In many cases, seasonal asthma may fail to subside with the end of the season and may become chronic.

Among the most common forms of respiratory allergy is "pollinosis"—a respiratory reaction to pollens. Tree pollens cause trouble from about the middle of March to the middle of May, grass pollens from May to August, and ragweed pollen from approximately the middle of August to October. Because they come in direct contact with the tissues, only small amounts of pollen are required to produce symptoms.

The severity of hay fever varies in different parts of the country, from season to season and day to day. It is largely dependent on the weather conditions during the growth of the plant, and the temperature, humidity, sunshine and wind velocity during pollination time.

Molds commonly grow on plant life, and the seeds (or spores) are microscopic in size, many of them being even smaller than pollen. The kinds of molds which produce hay fever and asthma are particularly prevalent on grains, such as wheat, oats, rye and corn. Next to pollen, molds are the most common causes of seasonal hay fever and asthma.

Then there is contact dermatitis. If you go for a hike in the woods you may suffer an inflammation of the upper layers of the skin, varying from redness to blisters and also accompanied by itching. It is an allergy caused by direct contact of the causative substance. Poison ivy dermatitis is one of the best known examples of this kind. Poison ivy is not a poisonous plant. No one is affected by it the first time he touches it. Only on subsequent exposure does an allergy show up in about half or more of the persons. But many other plants and common substances in use in the house can produce this disease.

Three factors may play a part in the production of allergic illness. Susceptibility is one. Only certain people have the ability or the background to become allergic. Granting you have this background, you still must become sensitized to a special substance and then be re-exposed to it. If you avoid either of these steps, you will have no allergic illness. A third factor is what might be called contributing factors. Various conditions—temperature, chemical irritants, dust, emotional disturbances, etc.—may aggravate allergies or trigger their attacks. But by themselves they do not cause allergic symptoms.

If there is a family history of an allergy either on the father's or mother's side, then the disease frequently manifests itself in the offspring. But the allergy they develop will not necessarily be the same type as their parents'.

Specific allergy tests can be given by your doctor to discover the substances to which you are reacting. Specific desensitizing treatments may be given to build up immunity gradually. Prevention and avoidance of the offending substance, if possible, is the most effective means of dealing with an allergy. Weekend visitors in the home of Mrs. Herschel Combs were her mother, Mrs. L. A. Disney of Wellington, her sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Doherty of Fort Worth, and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Lowrie and Kenneth and David of Seminole, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Combs and Brent and Jill.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Moore and son of Lubbock spent the weekend here with his mother, Mrs. Glen Coleman and family.

the Senate to vent their hostility against the press," said Brooks.

Sen. A. M. Aikin of Paris is the sponsor of the broader shield bill which provides that no newspaper can be forced to disclose any information received or any source of information obtained in the course of news-related activities. The privilege would be of no protection in action for libel, slander or invasion of privacy.

Ethics Conference Set
Former State Sen. Jack Strong of Longview was designated by Hobby as chairman of a March 20-21 Citizens Conference on Ethics in Government here.

About 150 citizens have been invited to attend the Austin session and provide a "grass-roots" input into the legislative process.

"To be meaningful," said Strong of the conference, "it must explore not only the ethics of legislators, but the ethics of the citizens as well, since the legislature is merely a reflection of the mores of our society."

Courts Speak
The Supreme Court declined to overturn San Patricio County land claims involving thousands of acres and millions of dollars in spite of an attorney general's contention that the case may deprive the permanent school fund of all unsurveyed public school land.

In other recent rulings, the Court held:
The Fort Worth Court of Civil Appeals was right in ordering uninsured motorist benefits paid to a man injured when his brother's car, on which he was working, was struck by an uninsured driver.

Lower courts should be reversed in holding that a Corsicana district judge is qualified to hold his office although he has not practiced law or been a judge for four years before election. The High Court itself refused to decide.

Appointments
Governor Briscoe named Frank G. Evans III of Houston associate justice of the First Court of Civil Appeals, to succeed Tom F. Coleman who resigned. The Senate promptly confirmed Evans, who was a Briscoe campaign aide.

Briscoe reappointed Brig. Gen. Willie L. Scott of Austin and Col. Belisario D. J. Flores of San Antonio as assistant adjutants general for the Army and Air National Guard, respectively.

Lease Sale Nets $7.4 Million
An oil and gas lease sale on state-owned land-largest since 1966-brought the state $7,451,278 in bonus payments for the permanent school fund.

Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong said renewed interest in oil and gas production on state lands is due largely to increased demands for energy fuels.

A total of 113,737 acres were leased at an average per acre price of $65.51.
For the first time in recent years, the highest bid was over one million dollars. Houston Oil and Minerals Corporation bid $1.5 million for 394 acres in a Galveston County submerged tract.

Constitutional Revision Begins
The 37-member State Constitutional Revision Commission held its first meeting Saturday after legislators failed to register enough protests to block appointments.

The Commission was bombarded with criticism because its ranks did not include more women, blacks, Mexican-Americans and youth. Several areas of the state also felt they were insufficiently represented on the blue ribbon body.

First task of the Commission will be selection of a staff, choosing quarter and dividing into subcommittees to split up work which must be completed January, and a 10-member legislative committee has been authorized to plan that historic session.

Pollution Hearings Set
Hearings are scheduled in Houston, Dallas and San Antonio April 4, to consider state controls on autos and trucks in the drive against air pollution.

Texas Air Control Board will conduct the hearings and weigh advisability of transportation controls to meet national ambient air standards. Further hearings may be held.

Short Snorts
Too few poor are receiving any benefits from millions of dollars spent on welfare, a House interim committee reported.

Texas Water Rights Commission reaffirmed its position that the plan for navigation of the Trinity River is feasible.

Justices of the peace and constables served notice they plan to "zap" a proposed constitutional amendment to overhaul the court system . . . and abolish their jobs.

Hunting and fishing license fees would be increased under a bill given House committee approval.

Lacy Montgomery To Be On Swine Producers Program At Stamford

Swine production in the Panhandle has this advantage going for it; the farmer who diversifies his operation so as to include such production has a chance to increase his income.

For those in the business and for those thinking on it, the 1973 R-REP Swine Shortcourse is scheduled this month, in two parts; at 8:45 a. m. March 27, in the City Hall at Stamford, and at 8:45 a. m. March 28, in the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Vernon. The programs, the same at both places, end at 3:15 p. m.

The selection of good breeding stock and some approaches to problems of breeding, crossbreeding and reproduction, of farrowing houses, and feeding health of the herd, are among subjects to be discussed for the producers.

In addition, producers recognized for their knowledge and success will describe the management of their swine operations—in Stamford; Albert Maberry, Shelby Bozman and Frank Blair; in Vernon, Lacy Montgomery, Gary Thomas and Charles Graf.

The presentations of swine specialists Dr. Gilbert R. Hollis and Dr. William B. (Bill) Thomas, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, will stem partly from research by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and partly from results of on-the-farm demonstrations by the Extension and producers.

Installment Buying For Hall County Is Up

NEW YORK, Mar. 9—How much does the average family in Hall County owe in the form of installment debt?

To what extent are local residents using the buy-now, pay-later plan in their purchases of big ticket items?

More than they did a year ago, according to the findings. There has been a steady increase in recent months, locally and elsewhere, in the use of installment credit.

What it means is that consumers have finally loosened their purse strings, after a period of restrained buying, to purchase the cars, dishwashers, furniture, hi-fi equipment and other expensive articles that they have long been wanting. And, as spending for such items picks up, so does the demand for credit.

The net result, nationally, is that installment debt at the beginning of this year reached approximately $129 billion, or about $19 billion more than in January, 1972.

It was equivalent, on the average, to about 16 cents out of every dollar of family income, after taxes.

In Hall County, based upon the latest local income and spending figures and upon national studies by the Federal Reserve Board and others, the amount of installment debt outstanding is estimated at $2,010 per family.

That is the average. It ranges from no debt at all, in some families, to considerably more than average in others.

For the local population as a whole, the amount of installment debt at the end of the last fiscal year was close to $4,171,000.

The largest part of it consisted of loans for automobile purchases. The remainder was for other installment buying, for personal loans and loans for home repair and modernization. Not in this category are mortgage debt, charge accounts and single payment loans.

Making repayments at a regular rate takes nearly $1 out of every $6 that a family has left after taxes.

In Hall County, that amounts to $179 per month per family, on average.

The big question among bankers and credit men is whether the American public is taking on more debt than it can carry.

Their experience has been that most people use their credit with discretion and do not go overboard.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Helm and John Paul and Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Harris visited in Pampa Sunday in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Swindell and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Helm.

Mrs. W. M. Kilpatrick, Jr. was in Canyon on Monday and visited Merle Kilpatrick at West Texas State University.

Heart Disease Is Responsible For 55.2 Per Cent Of Deaths In County

NEW YORK, Feb. 10—Heart disease is found to be responsible for no less than 55.2 per cent of all deaths among residents of Hall County.

That is the local average, based upon figures compiled by the U. S. Public Health Service and released in its last three annual reports.

The extent of the problem, locally and elsewhere, has been brought into sharp focus by the recent death of President Johnson and by the fact that this is National Heart Month.

Heart disease, comprising all ailments of the cardiovascular system, continues to be the major hazard to life in the United States, dwarfing all other diseases by a wide margin.

Although there have been important gains made in the fight to control it—through new anticoagulants, pacemakers, open heart surgery and various other techniques—the dramatic cures for which medical scientists have been searching still elude them.

The 55.2 per cent mortality among Hall County residents is somewhat higher than the United States average, 53.9 per cent.

It is higher, also, than the West South Central States rate of 52.5 per cent.

A series of major endeavors to reduce the heart toll has been undertaken by the National Institutes of Health and others.

The big push is to find out how to prevent arteriosclerosis, or hardening of the arteries, which was the cause of President Johnson's death. It is the primary culprit in heart disease.

Doctors know that it is something that begins early in life and progresses steadily as deposits of fat form in the walls of the body's arteries, destroying their flexibility. Eventually, the passageway becomes too small for blood to flow through freely. Trouble follows.

To counteract this, doctors are advising people to cut down on fatty meats, shell fish and fat-rich baked goods and candies and to substitute, wherever possible, products prepared with unsaturated fats.

Among residents of Hall County

Hall County Cancer Unit Makes Plans For House-To-House Drive

The Hall County Crusade unit of the American Cancer Society is engaged in organizing the county into areas for a house-to-house campaign, the chief purpose of which are to dispense educational literature, which will enlighten people concerning the dangers of cancer and the hope of cure; and to collect contributions to further research.

Of the $4,000,000 contributed by Texans in 1972, the state was granted $1.10 for every dollar collected. This tremendous grant came because of such centers as M. D. Anderson, Scott and White, Baylor University, and scores of others, where vital research is most faithfully being conducted.

By BYRON BALDWIN

Feb. 3, 1971. Some of you old-timers will remember the Fort-berry sisters who operated a millinery shop here. The other sister was Lota who married Shade Sweatman who, I think, was employed in one of our local banks in the early days. If my memory tells me right, the Fort-berry sisters operated a millinery shop in the T. R. Garrett store when we first moved to Hall County.

We had a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Jones of Dallas the past week. Mrs. Jones will be remembered as Myrtle Hembree, daughter of the late J. W. and Mrs. Membrée of Dallas, who will be 102 years old June 6. She is now in a convalescent home in Dallas and her mind is still perking good. She asks about her old-time friends in Memphis. Her husband, J. W., was a Baptist missionary preacher in this area in the early days. Their home was on 8th St. where Mrs. Katie Clark's home is now located. Myrtle and Marvin were en route to Amarillo to see her brother, Orrie, who has been seriously ill. Myrtle taught 48 years in the Dallas public schools before retiring and getting married. She is now president-elect of the Retired Teachers' Assn. of Dallas County. There are over 1,000 members in this group.

Marvin Jones will be remembered as the son of Mrs. Carrie Jones, who moved from Wellington to Memphis in the early days with her 8 children. Mrs. Jones did nursing for Dr. Wilson and families while living here. Marvin said he remembered times were pretty hard when they moved here, but said Mr. Geo. Thompson trusted them a cook stove on credit, and he went to work at the oil mill to help pay for it. He attended MHS in 1914 and 1915 and remembered Mr. Sam Lowe (deceased) was their coach in football. He also remembered that he enrolled in Goodnight College the year that the late Ottilie Jones graduated. They still have Goodnight College reunions even though that college has been a banded many years. Marvin's sister, Lura Jones, taught English in MHS and when she retired, she was teaching in Honolulu. Mrs. Carris Jones moved to Amarillo from Memphis and operated a boarding house where Marvin remembered that Tom Ballew, Temple Deaver and Billie Baker lived while working for the Amarillo National Bank. Other members of the Jones family now living are Myrtle, who is a twin to Marvin and is now Mrs. Carl Vorgt of Washington, D. C., Beryl, now living at Collie, Wash., Utoke Jones Parker of Bakersfield, Calif. Mrs. Jones lived a full life as she was one hundred years and four months when she passed away. Marvin Jones retired after working for Amarillo Hdwe. for 47 years. Myrtle and Marvin have only been married for the past two years. Myrtle was Marvin's first sweetheart over 60 years ago. They met in Dallas while Marvin's brother, Cecil, was sick and he was visiting him when he dialed a number that he thought might be Myrtle and sure enough it was as she answered the telephone. From then on, his visits were more frequent to Dallas until they married and are now living in Dallas. The only other member of their family along with them was "Skeeter Boy", their dog. In reminiscing of his school days, Marvin asked about several of his schoolmates and paid special tribute to Sam Lowe who was one of the first football coaches in the Memphis schools.

One of my friends, B. E. (Bascom) Davenport, that I have visited several times in the past two years, seems to have new ambitions in life, as I did get the information by grapevine that he was buying garden seed a few days ago and was going into the business of raising fresh vegetables. If he goes into this business wholesale, he will be in the market for a lot of crates and baskets. Best wishes to him on this venture!

The past weekend I had a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ted Musgrove of Fort Worth. They are former residents here. Mrs. Musgrove will be remembered as Etta Mae Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hill and sister of Ed and Albert. Good to see these former residents.

Mrs. A. G. Alexander has as her guest in Heritage Hall the past week, her daughter, Sue, who is now Mrs. T. J. Sanders of San Francisco, Calif. Sue is the granddaughter of the late John Alexander who served as sheriff of Hall County. Her great grandfather, S. G. Alexander, was county clerk as I remember when arriving in Memphis in 1907. A. G., the father of Sue, helped construct the first bridge for highway travel between Memphis and Estelline. There are now surviving of the S. G. Alexander family, Allis and Tess of Crisco. Bess of Wichita Falls and Frances Burleson of Channing. Mrs. A. G. Alexander, or Billie as she is called by her friends, helped open Postex plant in Memphis and she has been employed with them the past 11 years. She is now one of the supervisors in the sewing operations. A good many yards of sheeting have passed through the plant in the past 11 years, with a lot of stitches.

I met Mr. and Mrs. Gene Tension of Arlington the past weekend in Memphis where they were visiting Gloria's mother, Mrs. Henry Scott. Gloria changed her name to Tension several years ago when Gene's brother, Clifton, was pastor of the First

OL' TOBE SEZ HE CANT WORK- BEIN' THE TOWN DRUNK IS A FULL TIME JOB ITSELF.

Baptist Church here when Gloria and Gene met. Ministers never know what will result from a move.

This day and time there are a lot of opportunities to make investments for good returns on your capital. I found an unusual opportunity in Dick Hitt's column a few days ago that I will ass on before the stock is all sold. It is as follows: "It is our purpose to start rather small, with one million cats; each cat averaging 12 kittens per year. The skins can be sold for 20c apiece for the white ones and up to 40c for the black ones. This will give us 12 million skins to sell for an average of 32c, making our revenue 3 million a year. This averages out to about 10 thousand dollars a day excluding Sundays and holidays. A good cat man can skin 50 cats per day for a wage of $3.15 a day. It will take about 663 men to operate the ranch, so the net profit will be 8200 per day. The cats will be fed rats exclusively. Rats will multiply 4 times as fast as cats. And we will start a rat ranch adjacent to our cat farm. This is where the tax break comes in and since we will be utilizing the rats to feed the cats, we can deduct expenses for the first batch of cats in 1973. If we start with one million rats at 5c each, four rats per cat, we will have a whopping 50 thousand dollar tax deduction. The rats will be fed on the carcasses of the cats we skinned in 1973 and successive years. This will give each rat one quarter of a cat.

"You can see that this is a clean, self-supporting and automatic operation throughout. The cats will eat the rats and the rats will eat the cats and we will get skins and tax benefits. Eventually, we hope to cross the cats with snakes. Snakes skin themselves twice a year. This will save labor costs of skinning and will give us a yield of 2 skins for one cat". After looking this operation over, I imagine the stock in this corporation will be sold before this is printed!

Word came to me the past week that Burns Stephens pas-ed away during February of this year in Oklahoma City where he had made his home for about 30 years. He will be remembered as the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stephens who operated a hotel here in the early days. Mr. Stephens was also sheriff of Hall County at one time. With the passing away of Burns, the three survivors of the 11 children are Lilly, Briece and Elbert of Dallas. Burns has been attending our Hall County picnics and visiting Hall County Heritage Hall the past several years. He will be missed.

Thelma Wright, Marla Gregory To Play In All-Star Basketball Game

Two Hall County senior girls have been selected to play in the Third Annual Panhandle Girls' High School All-Star Basketball Game, March 24, in Amarillo.

Miss Thelma Wright of Memphis High and Miss Marla Gregory of Lakeview High have been selected to play in the All-Star game, according to an announcement by sponsors of the promotion.

Miss Wright, a 5-6 guard, will represent the East Team. A four-year letterman, Miss Wright was an All-District selection in 1972. She played three of her four high school years from the Lakeview Eaglettes and transferred to Memphis High her senior year and was a starter for the Cyclonettes. She was an all-tournament selection her senior year.

Miss Gregory, 5-5, plays both forward and guard. She averaged 20 points per game, and took an average of 10 rebounds and six steals each contest her senior year for the Eaglettes of Lakeview. She will also play on the East team.

Only seniors are eligible for the all-star game which matches 14-members teams representing the East and West of the Texas Panhandle.

Coaches of the West team are brothers, Jim Crabb of Sayre, Okla., and James Crabb of Mangum, Okla.

Johnny Ethridge, former Amarillo High School basketball coach, and Dub Malaise, a former coach at South Plains College, will lead the East squad. Both men are from Lubbock.

The All-Star game preceded the championship contest of the Fifth Annual Amarillo National Women's Invitational Tournament. Game time is 7:05 p. m. in the Amarillo Civic Center Coliseum.

The eight teams making up the field for the Women's Invitational Tournament are four-time defending champion Wayland Baptist College, John F. Keady of Wahoo, Neb., Ranger Junior College, Northwestern Louisiana and Parson of Fairfield, Iowa.

From The Chamber Corner

A delegation of the chamber met this past Friday for the purpose of planning a Public Relations program for Memphis. Discussion of this delegation were: involving the Highway businesses in a Community meeting for the purpose of boosting Memphis to their customers. Other discussions centered around the possible annual award for the best Memphis Booster and also for name tags for the employees of the business district. The members of the delegation are made up of Ben Parks, J. B. Scott, Haulby Dean, Don Cockrell, Ace Gailey, Dick Fowler, Bob Douthitt, D. H. Pope, M. G. Alewine, Coy Miller, Lester Campbell and Jim Beeson.

The delegation elected Jim Beeson and Lester Campbell to work on the planning of this project which will go before the chamber board of directors for approval.

The membership and finance committee met last week and will present a letter to the board for approval to ask chamber members on a volunteer basis for a raise in dues. At present, the Memphis Chamber of Commerce is greatly hampered by insufficient funds to carry out a desired program of work. The committee has also drafted plans to attract new members.

Spring is in the air and also at The Lady Fair. John and Inez Shadid have really dressed up their store with grass green shag carpet, pretty patio table and chairs topped with daisies. The Lady Fair and other Memphis merchants are beginning to decorate their windows with new spring and summer fashions.

Henry Gregory, Lee McDonald, Jack Williams, Soil Scientist from Pampa, & Jim Wines met in the Memphis City Park last week. Mr. Williams is on the area staff and works in conjunction with the Hall-Childress Soil and Water Conservation Service here in Memphis. Soil samples were taken and will be tested and analyzed by Mr. Williams and the results will be sent to Henry Gregory for the report of our City Park which is under study.

Don Curl, Dick Fowler, Dub Parker, John Kehr, Jim Markgraf and Jim Wines met in an informal session with County Judge E. Gip McMurry and Commissioner Ed Hutcherson. The discussion of that meeting was presented at the County Commissioners Court and the court expressed interest and willingness to cooperate with the proposal plans for the new development of recreation facilities on the old fair-grounds which is owned by Hall County.

The Chamber board of directors held an executive session Wednesday afternoon. The business of that session will appear in next week's column.

Danry Scarborough and Don Collins are working on setting up the dates for a Defensive Driving course in Memphis. This course is taught by the Texas Department of Public Safety and benefits from the course include a reduction in Auto Insurance.

Two baskets of flowers (banquet decorations) are still on sale at the chamber office for $2.50 without the basket.

Lee Vardy of the People's State Bank in Turkey asked the Chamber to help in the Bob Wills Reunion April 28. Anyone or organization wanting to enter a float in the Parade in Turkey can contact either Lee Vardy in Turkey or the Memphis Chamber of Commerce.

The Lakeview P-TO will have a fried chicken salad supper Monday, March 19, at 7:30 p. m. in the school lunchroom at Lakeview, according to Jerry Dyess, president.

A business meeting will be held and all members are urged to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Harper of Haskell visited here last week with his mother, Mrs. B. E. Harper, and sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Dunbar.
