Cub Scout Picnic Is Saturday Night

The Memphis Cub Scout Pack No. 35 will have its annual picnic in the Memphis City Park at 8 p. m. Saturday, May 26. The Cub Pack will furnish hot dogs for Cub Scouts and their families and some of the mothers are providing sweets for desserts.

Following the meal, the youngsters will have picnic games, potato races and sack races.

Cubmaster Bill Combs announced that this will be the first of monthly pack meetings through the summer months. "We want to encourage all Cubs and their parents to plan to attend the picnic Saturday evening," he said.

Each den is being responsible for different parts of the picnic spread. The Webelos Den will be making the fire to roast the weiners.

Den 1 is providing cold soft drinks for the picnic, while Den 2 is providing the weiners and mustard. Den 3 is providing the hot dog buns and Den 4 is providing the plates, napkins.

Mothers of Cubs in each den have been asked by Den Leaders to bring sweets, cookies or a cake.

PATHFINDERS AWARDS—Pictured above, Drenda Wiggins and Charles Gregory were named outstanding citizens of the Memphis 6th grade class, an honor given by the Pathfinders each year. Others recognized were Elisa Berry, Paul Ables and Pedro Salinas, perfect attendance students by Principal Neal Hindman.

Memorial weekend is fast approaching, and for Memphis Country Club members, the annual invitational golf tournament will occupy their weekend fully.

The Annual Invitational Golf tournament set for Saturday, Sunday and Monday is expected to attract the largest field of golfers in recent years, and these golfers will be competing on a course of more green grass than the local course has ever had, thanks to Mother Nature and a recently installed irrigation system.

The Club averted a difficulty by a hurried trip to Dallas to pick up a new gang mowing machine to meet the fast growing vegetation.

Bermuda grass was drilled into many of the fairways, and has begun sprouting. Rains this week added to irrigation water to make the course even greener.

The golf tournament will have more than 80 golfers meeting and viewing their skills. It is a weekend of entertainment which attracts top golfers from all over, plus several entertaining side-lights.

Women golfers of the club begin working early to have coffee and other refreshments booths ready for the lower flights who tee off at 9 a. m.

Many of the out-of-town golfers stay in motel rooms during the three-day tournament.

Wednesday, over 45 golfers had already signed up for the tournament. In recent years, there would be just a handful sign up early for the tournament, but the club's tournament committee, even after adding an additional 16-man flight to the tournament, thinks that the entries will have to be limited before filing deadline Friday.

Dennis Ward, chairman of the tournament said, "We just can't take more than 80 golfers and get it all played on our nine-hole course."

To vary the challenge of the course, No. 6, a hard dogleg par four, and No. 8, a 174-yard par three, will have alternate tee boxes to make the holes even more difficult for the back nine.

Also, the committee announced, the first flight has been made into a medal play flight, like the championship, since the caliber of golfers in this flight is expected to be better this year.

Dick Weston, a West Texas State golfer, defending champion, is expected to be back, along with some of the best amateur golfers in the region.

Championship finals will be Monday afternoon, and all other flight finals are Monday morning. Due to the limited number of golfers on the course Monday afternoon, spectators will find that period the best time to watch.

The Memphis Invitational tournament, according to golfers interviewed last year, has become more and more popular because of the hospitality of the local club. Max Hickey, who said last year he wouldn't miss the tournament if he could get here, he said "I play a lot of tournaments, but I have more fun at Memphis than almost all the other tournaments."

Eddie Foxhall Takes An Ace On No. 8 Hole

Eddie Foxhall, a recent MHS graduate, scored, a hole-in-one ace on the Par 3 No. 8 hole yesterday while playing with Len Simpson, Don and David Cofer and Matt Monzingo.

Foxhall used a six iron off the tee box. This was the first hole-in-one for him. His father, E. I. Foxhall, has played many rounds on the local course and he is still waiting for his first hole-in-one. "Eddie was real excited about 'the whole thing,'" his dad said.

Planting Time Is Here!

Hall County farmers have begun their annual contest of matching wits with Mother Nature in the annual battle of trying to plant, raise and harvest another crop. Most county farmers will be planting cotton this year, and possibly in greater amounts than in past years, indications reveal.

The Texas High Plains is well on its way to planting what is expected to be the highest acreage seeded to cotton in the last 20 years, and the Rolling Plains cotton counties are expected to follow this same trend.

One county farmer said, "we have had a good, wet winter and good sub-moisture, so some are considering planting solid, some two in and one out, depending on the type of land."

It has not been since the early 1950's since this area has considered planting so many acres to cotton. It was in 1949 when all of Hall County was planted to cotton and the county had the highest yield of over 80,000 bales.

Some farmers have cut their land twice since any heavy amounts of moisture have fallen, and these fields are in need of top moisture following two weeks of dry weather. Light rains fell Sunday over portions of the area and the weathermen promised more showers for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

For the most part, county farmers are ready to begin planting their crops. Some have already been able to plant certain fields. Generally, the last of May is the time most farmers like to plant cotton.

The annual battle between Mother Nature and area farmers is one in which we all hope the farmers get at least a split decision. Old Timers have a saying that indicates when the winter is wet, May will be dry. For the most part, this has been true this year. It doesn't take this country long to dry out when the hot winds begin blowing. Farmers have to win the opening round, getting the crop planted and up, or the contest is a short one. Since the drought of 1970, farmers remember that a round one can be a tough one.

Besides the immediate worries of the area farmers about weather and production, there is the uncertainty about future government programs. Talk of 40 plus cent cotton doesn't mean much if a farmer does not have any cotton to sell. Having a good yield at this point is becoming a vital factor.

Oil Production In Texas!

Texas last year produced 1.3-billion barrels of crude oil, an all-time record for the state in face of unprecedented demand for oil. This figure was tops among the nation's oil-producing states and represented some 38-percent of total U. S. production.

This was an increase of more than 67.8-million barrels over the production of 1971. This marked the first time Texas wells had produced all-out since 1948.

Last year's crude oil production, recorded in 203 of the state's 254 counties, was valued at some $4.5 billion, according to figures released this week by Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Assn.

For Hall County, however, the report has a sad note, for this county is one of 51 counties without a producing oil or natural gas well. Neighboring counties of Childress and Collingsworth, according to the report, have oil wells, and Donley County has a gas well.

The leading county in total oil production is Gregg County with 2,345,958,463, where oil was discovered in 1931, but this county last year was not the leading producer as Scurry County has 85,386,766 for its annual production.

In 83 years of recorded production, Texas has produced nearly 37-billion barrels of oil, about 36-percent of total U. S. production.

In light of the oil shortage, circumstances may develop where oil companies may can do more exploration for oil. Will oil be discovered in this area?

What Other Editors Say

The universe and you

I'm amused at times of people and scientists speculating on whether there is intelligent life in other parts of the universe. If you start at the first page of your Bible and read through you will be surprised that the universe is teeming with intelligent life.

There are beings other than just angels as well as the counterpart, i.e., evil beings.

Billy Graham recently wrote on the subject:

The Bible has hundreds of references to angels, both good and bad. In the Old Testament, David promised "He shall give His angels charge over thee to keep thee in all thy ways." (Psalm 91:11). In the New Testament of course, it was an angel who announced Christ's birth (Luke 2:10,11) and even Paul once said, "There stood by me this night the angel of God." (Acts 27:23).

Indeed, angels are a special class of being—created to be sure, yet a notch above us mortals. One thing they have never experienced, the Bible says, is the drama of our redemption. None the less, they do God's bidding, and assist in the operation of His universe.

We don't know why, but as the church age progressed, angels became less evident, at least less visible. Perhaps, in this time of faith and grace, since the incarnation of Christ, the need for the visible operation of angels has decreased.

In any event, don't underestimate their numbers and their activity. Once Christ spoke of twelve legions of angels who could be summoned to His aid (Mat. 26).

Today, I believe we are surrounded by these beings. They facilitate the life of the believer in accordance with God's will, and at death, gently carry the departed to heaven.

One of the pleasant reaches of a Christian's imagination is the vision of life here as part of a great family. A family where through faith, Christ Himself becomes our elder brother and a host of angels our ministering servants—all to bring glory to God and a fruitful, happy life to us.

taxes, and a lot more, with no regard as to whether or not he makes a profit.

Over the past several decades, the United States has seen a trend which displays an ever-growing concentration of economic power with big business getting even bigger by gobbling up competitors.

Yet Americans have to realize that this country's economic and political future depends upon maintaining a healthy small business sector.

The independent merchant is beset by rising prices, increased costs of doing business, a shortage of trained help, and a lot of other problems. i.e., because he is a free enterprise disciple, he wants no advantages other than to be left alone in the marketplace. When the small businessmen is dead, we feel that free enterprise in this country will be mighty sick.

PIONEER SEEDS

We're proud our seeds have earned the trust of farmers like these...

H.P. Lambert

recorded a yield of 3500 pounds with Pioneer brand 846 on 35 non-irrigated acres. "It's extra good... easy to thresh and turns out a good yield," says H. P. Lambert, Memphis, Texas.

Because we were the first company to commercially produce hybrid corn and with 17 years of work on sorghum, we know a lot more about hybrids and how to make crosses that really yield. We've had longer to test and re-test our varieties. We've stuck with some of our early crosses, and we keep developing new ones to fit every growing condition imaginable.

For the North Plains we recommend these sorghum, corn and forage varieties...

- Pioneer brand 8417—new yellow endosperm sorghum—champion yielder in medium maturity class—large open heads—does well on all types of land.
- Pioneer brand 820—good yielder under stress—outstanding with plenty of water and fertility—MDM resistant—full season.
- Pioneer brand 846—excellent drought resistance—MDM resistant—medium maturity—our most popular sorghum variety.
- Pioneer brand 3369A—champion-class corn favorite—tolerant to northern and southern blight—good ear retention—heavy grain yielder.
- Pioneer brand 3306—most popular corn hybrid on the High Plains—tall with outstanding stalks and ear retention—good yielder on dry or wet land.
- Pioneer brand 988—sorghum sudangrass hybrid for pasture, greenchop, hay or haylage—ready to cut or graze in a little more than a month—regrows again and again all summer with adequate moisture and fertilizer.

When you choose a hybrid for your land, choose one from the company that started it all...

Silva Ayers, W. D. Goodwin Repeat Vows Here Sunday

Vows solemnized Sunday afternoon in the First Baptist Church of Memphis united in marriage Miss Silva K. Ayers and Mr. William Dwight Goodwin. The Rev. C. H. Murphy, Jr., pastor, was the officiant.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Bob Ayers and the late Mr. Ayers. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Ross Goodwin of Muleshoe.

The double ring ceremony was performed before an altar decorated with two overlapped arches covered with white and orchid carnations. There were three arched candelabra amid leather leaf, the center one of which held a Christ candle that was lighted by the bride and groom at the end of the ceremony. Two baskets of orchid and white mums flanked the altar.

Mrs. George Ferris, organist, played traditional wedding marches and accompanied Geary Brogden, soloist, who sang "Twelfth of Never", "One Hand, One Heart" and "The Wedding Prayer".

The Bride

Given in marriage by her great-uncle, Odies L. Hughes of Houston, the bride wore a formal floor-length wedding gown of Angolismat peau de soie and Chantilly lace over bridal taffeta designed with high v-shaped neckline, Empire waist, long tapered sleeves and semi-A-line silhouette. Insets of Chantilly lace enhanced the neckline, bodice, sleeves and skirt of the gown. Her detachable chapel length train of peau de soie and lace complimented the gown. Her veil of imported illusion fell from a coil of satin and seed pearls. She carried a formal cascade of miniature carnations centered with two white Cattleya orchids.

Carrying out the tradition of something old, new, borrowed and blue, the bride wore her maternal grandmother's wedding band. The gold band dates back to 1913 when her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Kennedy were married exactly sixty years ago. She wore a blue garter and borrowed a sapphire for her shoe from a college roommate, Miss Diane Covey of Pueblo, Colo. A gold watch, a present from the groom, was something new.

Attendants

Miss Elaine Phillips was maid of honor and Mrs. Gerald Floyd, sister of the groom, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Carolyn Sparks and Miss Claudia Corley.

The flower girl was Stephanie Goodwin, niece of the groom. Jason Floyd, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer.

The bride's attendants wore identical floor-length gowns of orchid crepe featuring Empire waistline and sheer puffed sleeves of organza. They wore white bread-brimmed hats accented with a band and waistlength streamers of orchid tulle. They carried colonial bouquets of white miniature carnations centered with orchid carnations.

Don Heathington of Muleshoe served as best man and groomsmen were Gerald Hale of Madill, Okla., Jim Spoon of Miami, Okla., and Jim Putman of Muleshoe.

Wedding guests were registered by Miss Jane Dunbar at a small table covered with a carpet-length satin slip of white and accented with a bud vase of orchid carnations.

The bride's mother was attired in a sky blue and white knit dress with white accessories. Mrs. Goodwin, mother of the groom, chose a pink two piece suit with a crepe long-sleeved dress and a cotton lace sleeveless jacket. She wore matching accessories of pink. Both wore corsages of purple orchids.

Reception

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church fellowship hall. The table was covered with white satin and net with orchid accents. Orchid and white carnations centered the table and appointments were of crystal and silver. The four-tiered wedding cake was topped with miniature bride and groom and trimmed with orchid flowers. Cake and punch were served by Mrs. Richard Goodwin, sister-in-law of the groom, Mrs. Kelly Shaffer of Elmer, Okla., Miss Kittie Meberly of Altus, Okla., Miss Dana Beyer of Weatherford, Okla., and Miss Carmen Niehwonger of Alva, Okla. Other members of the houseparty were Mmes. R. B. Phillips, Gene Lindsey and L. F. Jones.

For a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N. M., the bride departed in a knit dress with purple skirt and sash and bodice of orchid and white. She wore white accessories. Her corsage of two Cattleya orchids was lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a 1971 graduate of Memphis High School and is a sophomore student in Southwestern State College's School of Pharmacy. She is a member of Tau Beta Sigma honorary music sorority.

The groom graduated from Muleshoe High School in 1970 and is a junior in Southwestern's School of Pharmacy. He is a member of Phi Delta Chi professional pharmacy fraternity.

The couple will be at home at 1024 N. Bradley Street, Weatherford, Okla., where they both plan to continue their education.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Kennedy, maternal grandparents of the bride. A yellow cymbidium orchid was presented to Mrs. Kennedy.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Chester Mitchell of Lockney; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Floyd and Jason of Elkhart, Kans.; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Spoon, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hale, Weatherford, Okla.; Mrs. Mona Blanton and Mrs. Iva Robinson of Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. James Parr, Nancy Parr, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. Tenys Parr and Mrs. Fannie Parr, all of Lindsay, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Goodwin, Stephanie and Dwight of Richardson; Mrs. Doris Maltbie, Independence, Kans.; Mrs. O. After which, she gave a devotional entitled "Why I Believe in God". The devotional was written by a student from New Zealand who attended school at the University of Texas at Austin. She closed the devotion with a prayer of thanks for the club year.

Mrs. Ward Gurley, historian, gave the highlights of the club programs and other activities the club had engaged in during 1972-73.

The installation of officers for the 1973-74 club year was conducted by Mrs. Nat Bradley. She stated that the new year was really starting as the new officers were installed. The theme for the installation service was "Letters". Mrs. Bradley gave an interesting talk on the important factors of letter writing in the development of our country-how people were hired to do certain types of letter writing, how circumstances made letter writing a necessity in order to keep in touch with each other and how a lot of letters were written as poetry, especially love letters.

By BYRON BALDWIN

The camels are coming, Ho! Ho! I remember this in a poem or song several years ago. I was reminded of this when I received a letter from Mrs. H. L. (Elzina) Shafer of De Soto who reminded me that the "Shafers are coming, Ho! Ho!" This year they are having the annual "Shafer" reunion at the Legion Hall and City Park on Saturday, May 26, and Sunday, May 27. She said this family would enjoy seeing their friends and former neighbors. This family is also looking forward to a visit in Hall County Heritage Hall. Mrs. Shafer stated in her letter that she had visited with Mrs. Elsie Guthrie in Baylor Hospital and she was doing fine and had enjoyed hearing from her friends here. We will be looking forward to this Shafer family reunion in Memphis Saturday and Sunday.

A remembered quote: "Youth looks ahead, old age looks back, middle age looks worried."

As quoted from Maryln Schwartz in our daily news, "Raise in celery and shopping for onions? It's a crying shame, as quoted from a customer in the food store in Dallas who handed the checkout girls an onion and a stalk of celery. "That will be 96c," said the checker. The customer told her she must have something else added in her bill, as she only had an onion and stalk of celery, and it turned out that was right for the present day inflation. In the checkup of Maryln Schwartz, she says our everyday items have advanced in price 50 to 200 percent in the last two years and that, when we used to say we were being nickled and dimed to death, said one woman, "Now I am afraid we are being quartered and half-dollared to death." It seems that pennies and nickles have had their day.

A remembered quote: "We don't stop laughing because we grow old—we grow old because we stop laughing."

From Earl's Pearls: "The dollar may be dropping in value, but (says-Bill Gold), the time to start worrying is when some country turns down our foreign aid money."

I read in the daily paper where the lady in Delaware had her 100th birthday, and was reminded of the fact when she was a child she was very sick and doctors did not think she would live through her teens. Her regret was that the doctors were not living so she could tell them a thing or two!

A quote: "Nothing has done as much to bring husbands and wives together as the dress that zips up the back."

We can see why we have early second marriages with people. It seems like to a lady with her wardrobe full of zip down the back dresses, that it is a convenient deal, as she would not want to discard these good dresses since that would be pretty expensive.

A few days ago in looking over the cars that drove up and parked on the square about the middle of the morning, I noticed one of the cars was from Louisiana and in conversation with the young couple, they told me they were on their way to Colorado. I asked them why they had stopped in Memphis, Texas, and the man replied, "It looked like a nice small town and we needed to buy some sunglasses." They bought the sunglasses after visiting awhile in our town.

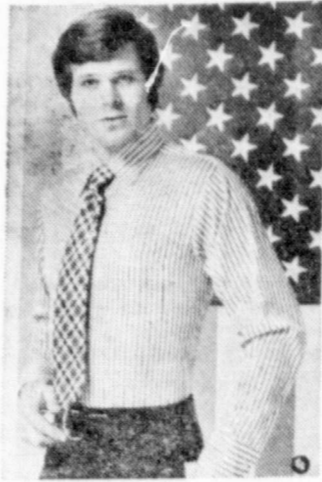

Another car I checked with the passenger was from Arizona and found out the reason these two ladies were in Memphis. They were both former Hall County girls who attended school at Estelline. Their schoolmates would remember them as Grace and Gladys McClendon. Grace is now Mrs. C. T. King and Gladys is now Mrs. George Pagels, both of Scottsdale, Ariz. They were on one of their regular trips to see their mother, Lou McClendon of Estelline. Gladys has one daughter living in Houston.

Another license plate I checked was from California. The occupants of this car with their camper trailer were SP6 of the United States Army Charles W. Hall and wife on their way to Hattiesburg, Miss., where he and his father have a computer service. Charles was in this business in Louisville, Ky., before entering the Army for four years. He served one year in Vietnam. Charles tells me that the north and the south met and married in the west as he was reared in Mississippi and his wife was reared in South Dakota and they married in California. I asked the couple why they stopped in Memphis and he replied that they had been reading their maps and found out that Memphis was here and he remembered his mother was born in Memphis, Tenn., and he wanted to tell her about the same name town in Texas. The other reason they gave was that his name was Hall and he wanted to have a visit in Hall County. I left them taking pictures of local scenes and getting post cards to send home from our town.

A quote from one of our leading actors: "I'd still like to take Liz Taylor out, even if it means catching the measles."

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Richards of Clarendon were visitors in Hall County Heritage Hall the past week. They recently moved from Amarillo where they had lived the past 25 years. Ted will be remembered as the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Richards who moved to Hall County in 1928, first lived near Plaska, and later on moved to the Eli Dennis place near Eli. There were 8 boys and three girls in this family, and all now are living. They attended school at Eli and Lakeview. Some of the teachers that Ted could remember were W. A. Thompson, Edna and Maggie Bryan, Mr. Holt and Mrs. Grover Roden. The Richards family moved from here about 30 years ago. Mrs. Ted Richards will be remembered by her schoolmates as Eula Nixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Nixon who first moved to Giles in about 1927 where they lived for two years and moved to Hall County in the Salisbury Community. There were 9 children in the Nixon family and 8 are now living. Eula attended school at Salisbury and Memphis. Some of the teachers she could remember at Salisbury were Mrs. Roy Guthrie, Mr. Neely, J. W. Chappell and Mrs. Hardy. Ted and Eula have one son who is an intelligence agent for the state and is living in Lubbock. They have three sons. Ted and Eula's mothers are now living in Amarillo. Eula worked for Sears for 25 years and retired about three weeks ago.

Last Friday morning during a regular, post office visit, I met a couple from Orlando, Fla. I gave them a Texas tourist sticker and a ball point pen and they volunteered the statement that they had really enjoyed the friendly people and hospitality in Texas the past two weeks and just kept traveling in Texas and skipping other states they meant to see.

Others visiting in Hall County

Heritage Hall were Kody and Kyle Hardin of Matador. They were guests of their grandmother, Mrs. Wilma Voyles. Tom Naylor and Jim Wurse of Hedley, Ima Lee Pepper of Estelline and Richard Stotts of Tell were other visitors. Another visitor was the past Saturday was Matt Ward, father of Mrs. Billy Thompson. Matt has been a resident of the "Rose Capital" of the world (Tyler, Texas) for the past several years. He was in Memphis at this time for the special occasion of the grandson, Matt Allen Thompson's graduation from M. H. S. I always remember Matt Ward as the most daredevil car racer in the early days. He had a good reputation all over the states as a race car driver. I believe it was in the year of 1950 that he was selected by Rod Shaffer as his second driver in the Indianapolis 500 race. This particular year Eddie Arnold came in first, Jimmy Murphy second and Rod Shaffer came in third. In this early day the drivers qualified with 130 to 140 mile per hour tryouts. Now they have to get near the 200 miles per hour and they almost take to the air.

The past Saturday night we witnessed another beauty and talent contest to select the Miss USA of 1973. I was very much disappointed when the judges did not see fit to give number one place to "Miss Texas" of Fort Worth as she was very outstanding in beauty and poise. Of course, I may have been a little partial in this contest. The "Miss Teenager" Contest was held in Birmingham, Ala., a few weeks ago and "Miss USA" was held in New York City. Another "Miss" contest I believe was given by Johnny Carson on television and was "Missappropriation" of Washington, D. C.

I heard this story a few days ago that is true and not a cat story. Two of our local who are traveling salesmen working the state of New Mexico. They both happened to be both were waiting to be operator of this store. They sitting at the coffee table, Harrell asked his acquaintance Mr. Chas. Broussard, what he lived in and he replied the

GET YOUR MONEY'S WORTH....

ASK FOR THE STARSTEP POLICY

Chances are you will purchase crop-hail insurance this year, but before you purchase this year's crop protection, be sure to check on TWO IMPORTANT FEATURES:

No. 1: Is the policy written so that your coverage is reduced by dollars paid instead of per-cent of loss on the first loss:

 EXAMPLE ON FEATURE NO. 1
OUR POLICY REDUCED BY DOLLARS PAID:

$100.00 per acre of insurance at 60% in effect equals $60.00 per acre of insurance times a 50% loss equals $30.00 per acre of insurance paid on the first loss - leaves $70.00 per acre of insurance still in effect. .

OTHER POLICY REDUCED BY PER-CENT OF LOSS:

$100.00 per acre of insurance at 60% in effect equals $60.00 per acre of insurance times a 50% loss equals $30.00 per acre of insurance paid on the first loss - Leaves $50.00 per acre of insurance still in effect. .

IF YOU DON'T HAVE OUR POLICY, YOU HAVE LOST $20.00 per acre. Can you afford to lose this much money ????????

No. 2:

Make sure your policy has the "Extra Harvest Expense Allowance" Endorsement. This endorsement can mean as much as $1,000.00 more per loss to you.

EXAMPLE ON FEATURE NO. 2:

Endorsement on an excess over 10% policy will pay the following:

1. 75% LOSS -|- 2½ EXTRA harvest expense, LESS 10% DEDUCTIBLE-PAYS 67½ 0/0
2. 90% LOSS -|-10% EXTRA harvest expense, LESS 10% DEDUCTIBLE-PAYS 90 0/0
3. 95% LOSS -|-10% EXTRA harvest expense, LESS 10% DEDUCTIBLE-PAYS 95 0/0
4. 100% LOSS -|-10% EXTRA harvest expense, LESS 10% DEDUCTIBLE-PAYS 100%

In other words, if you have a $10,000. policy with 100% hail loss, the policy will pay the full $10,000 even with the 10% deductible loss clause. This is an extra $1,000 more than a policy without the "Extra Harvest Expense" would pay.

We would also, like to point out that we will not charge interest on notes this year, and we can have your crop 100% insured no later than June 15th, with ½ Price coverage July 1st.

We represent Nationwide and St. Paul Crop Insurance Companies, both proven companies who have been providing the best crop hail insurance for years.

If you have any questions call: 259-3430 or 259-2856

* Feature 31 figures based on stepladder policy 60% in force - all policies basically identical on reduction of coverage pertaining to losses after June 15th.

Mrs. Mack Richards was hostess to 16 members of the 1913 Study Club for their meeting, May 2 at The De Ville Motel. Mrs. T. M. Because of the spiritual awakening thereby engendered, this erstwhile astronaut is now a minister of God.

The various matters of business were dispensed with under the able guidance of the president, Mrs. F. W. Foxhall. Everyone was urged to assist with the tuberculin clinic which was held at The Am. TID BITS
By Earldine Hudlow

How many times have you purchased a popular brand (because it was popular) in clothing or household items only to find a lesser known brand to be superior?

I found this true in the area of oil paints. Though there are several good brands of oil paints on the market, I discovered after much testing that the Shiva paints offer a larger variety and superior quality. The Shiva Signature line consists of fifty-seven colors, several of which are not available in any other brand. If you have not tried the Shiva Non-yellowing Ultra White you have missed using the whitest neutral white whose consistency is just right.

It reflects the true hue of each color with which it is mixed. What impressed me most was their complete palette of transparent oils called Permasol, which is also exclusive with Shiva. They add a new dimension to painting.

As you know if you paint, it is possible to thin any oil color down to make it transparent, but unfortunately as the color is diluted so is its intensity.

The Permasols are formulated to enable the artist to build up many transparent layers without diluting their intense color. They may be toned down if desired and are completely compatible with all other oil colors.

They are also a beautiful answer to photo tinting.

I have found the necessary "accessory" products such as mediums, varnishes and turpeneid

Thompson Gives Account Of Vacation Trip To Hawaiian Islands

Mrs. Glenn Thompson of the 50th State of Hawaii and I on April 26th joined a party of 176 people sponsored by the Shrine of Amarillo, Texas, for a trip to Hawaii. The trip was made in two ways...

entertaining with good meals, Champagne and new color movies with a stop over in San Francisco going and returning. Upon arrival at Honolulu International Airport, the largest in the Pacific, we were greeted by a group of beautiful young Hawaiian greeters with a kiss and a flower lei for everyone. Our hostess, a beautiful young native very charming Hawaiian girl named Donnie, gave us a briefing on things to see and do while in Honolulu on the island of Oahu. She also told us a few words we should quickly learn—some were: Wahine meaning women, Kane meaning men, aloha meaning Hello or goodbye or I love you, Koeua meaning help, mahalo meaning thanks, pau meaning finished. Some of the local cocktails that were served were: Tropical Itch, a tall colorful drink stirred with a long wooden back scratcher; The scorpion, a pink lady type drink very tasty; Blue Hawaii a soft blue almost the color of the beautiful Pacific Mai Tai; The Chi Chi and the Navy Grog and others.

Briefly let me review the history of the Hawaiian Islands. Hawaii joined the United States by an act of congress in 1959 and is a chain of 132 islands near the center of the Pacific Ocean about 2,400 miles from San Francisco. The islands were formed by volcano's erupting from the ocean floor. There are some still active volcano's at the easterly chain of the island. Honolulu, capitol and principal city of the islands, is on the island of Oahu at the cross roads of the Pacific. Honolulu is technically the largest city in the United States with boundaries extending officially 1,381 miles northwest to Kure Island. The name Honolulu is Hawaiian for "Sheltered Harbor." The islands are divided into three groups—the sand and coral islands of the north west—Rock Islands in the center and the eight major islands at the southeast end, of these eight islands only one island is un-inhabited. Cooling trade winds make for a pleasantly mild climate all year around. Rainfall varies from hundred of inches in the mountains to less than 10 inches in the lowlands.

A melting pot of nationalities and racial groups, Hawaii was first settled by sea going Polynesians, during the eight century. The early Hawaiians, who practiced a religion that included human sacrifice and idolatry, developed a feudal form of government. During the 19th century American and European whalers and sandalwood traders came to Honolulu and it was occupied successively by Russians, British and French forces. It developed into a commercial city after U. S. annexation of Hawaii in 1898. Missions were active on the islands in the 1800's. In 1940 the Kingdom of Hawaii adopted its first constitution. The growth of the vital sugar and pineapple industries increased the business and political involvement, leading to the establishment about 1900 of Hawaii as a territory following annexation about 1898. The present population is 769,913 and the present population includes many numbers of Polynesians, Chinese, Filipinos, Japanese as well as Caucasians. In the 20th century the U. S. Navy established its famous base at Pearl Harbor, now the headquarters for the entire Pacific Fleet. We all remember that Honolulu was bombed during Japan's surprise attack on Pearl Harbor—that date will live in infamy "December 7, 1941" and during World War II became a major staging area for U. S. Air Forces in the Pacific. The military, with all its branches represented in Honolulu continues to maintain its position as the States, biggest industry. But tourism continues to increase with 1 1/2 million visitors to the islands in 1971. High rise hotels at Waikiki Beach have mushroomed providing 21,000 rooms for visitors. Numberless high rise office buildings also have changed the sky-line in downtown Honolulu. Harbor facilities have recently expanded and of course the International Air Port is the newest and largest in the Pacific and is ultra modern. In addition to such pleasures as swimming, boating, surfing, shopping on the islands we saw many of these interesting places: National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific which is called Punch Bowl Crater where one may view half of the island from the landscaped floor of an extinct volcano. Many military men of World War II, Korea and Vietnam are buried here. The boat ride to Pearl Harbor was revealing and a trip to always remember. The beautiful Mormon Temple with landscaped gardens, Chinatown, Ala Moana, the worlds most interesting shopping center includes fifty acres, houses 155 shops individually designed, each with cool tree planted malls, singing fountains and stunning Pacific Art, has parking space for 8,000 cars. Fantastic! Most of the cars on the island are small Japanese or small German make, one may see a few small Ford's. The small cars use less gasoline and gasoline is shipped in by boat and is 52.9c per gallon. There is another International Market which is an open mall that has shops from every nation in the world. AND FOOD! for breakfast—1/2 fresh pineapple, papaya, bananas, pancakes, bacon, sausage, eggs, grits, hash browned potatoes, French coffee rolls, blue berry muffins, champagne bloody mary's, and coffee. Lunch—buffet style at some Chinese, Italian Japanese, India or Polynesian restaurant.

The dinners begin with a cocktail party, then dinner anywhere along Waikiki Beach where you have made a reservation then a two hour entertainment program or one may take an ocean cruise—have dinner on board a ship with a view of a gorgeous Hawaiian sunset. All this was exciting and colorful. We visited Iolani Palace in Honolulu, it is the only royal place in the United States. The active Kilauea volcano crater, the Waimea Canyon, the orchid fields, the Parker Ranch all on the Garden Island of Kauai. The famous Hula Football Bowl and the Hawaiian University, the two hour Kodak show, Factory
