Safe Boating Week!

Texas Governor Dolph Briscoe has proclaimed July 1-7 Safe Boating Week in Texas, joining the Texas Safety Association in urging all boaters in the state to observe safe boating practices.

Texas now has over 400,000 boats registered and when these boats leave home and head for the state's lakes, rivers and the Gulf Coast, the water safety problem is greatly intensified.

Texas is cooperating with the Congress of the United States, in recognition of the importance of such safe boating practices, has requested by joint resolution that the President proclaim annually the week that includes the 4th of July as National Safe Boating Week.

One of the greatest hazards to many recreational boaters in Texas occurs before they ever reach the water. It is that time on the highways when they tow their boats to the waterways.

The Texas Safety Association estimates that 75 per cent or more of the 397,021 boats registered in Texas are trailered to an from recreation areas. Boaters are urged to consider the load weight when towing a boat. Consider the size, power and condition of your car before you attempt to tow a trailer. Only ten to fifteen percent of the trailer weight should rest on the hitch, it is advised. A trailer will fish-tail if weight is not distributed properly.

Much care should be exercised when pulling a trailer, avoiding sudden struts or stops, checking the mirror frequently, swinging wide on curves, and always remembering the added length of the vehicle plus trailer when passing. Backing can be one of the trickiest maneuvers involved in trailer towing. The driver should turn the wheel slightly, then straighten, and steer by a series of slight turns.

When boats are launched on the lake, always remember that a sudden storm can spell tragedy for the boater who does not know the precautions for handling his craft in rough water.

Caught in rough water, all passengers should wear their life jackets, sit in the bottom of the boat near the center line. The boat driver should head into the waves at a slight angle, making for the nearest shelter or harbor. If the motor fails, the driver can trail a sea anchor (a bucket or shirt with the neck and sleeves knotted) from the bow of the boat.

If the boat is swamped or capsized, passengers should not try to swim for shore. It is usually further than it looks, and rough water creates a serious danger. Passengers should stay with the boat, and if no hand holds are found, clasping hands across the hull can provide hand holds for two people or more.

The best thing to practice is to avoid foul weather by heeding storm warnings, if the weather looks bad, head for shore.

Texas should remember regulations by providing Coast Guard approved personal flotation devices (PFD) for every passenger in their boats. Children should be allowed to test their devices and learn not to thrash arms and legs or try to climb out of the water on their devices. These practices may destroy the effectiveness of flotation devices.

Good advice, unheeded is ineffective in saving lives. Responsible adults can make boating fun and safe for everyone.

A Good Sign

Times Are Changing! Young people in America are working harder, looking sharper, and demonstrating less, according to a nationwide survey completed lately in which thousands of young people were interviewed.

Their interest in politics has waned and is classified mostly as cynical. They are interested in making money and having a good life, and they have turned from activism to realism—tired of being too serious and of growing up too early. They want to enjoy the pleasure of life again.

There is renewed interest in joining fraternities and sororities, and college dances and get-togethers are staging a comeback.

With good jobs scarce, the large majority of young people are buckling down in an attempt to get the best grades possible to show on their job application blanks, and educational pursuits are away from the humanities and toward such subjects as law, medicine, business and engineering which promise higher financial rewards.

And the bedraggled look is on the way out, with men's hair styles growing shorter and more girls wearing skirts than jeans. The campus mood is turning more conservative, and there isn't much stir over Watergate, which most young people classify as "just a political thing."

Many of the more radical elements are reassessing the effectiveness of political conformation, stating that "in order to change the system you need facts, not 10,000 people storming the administration building in blind fury."

Applications for college admission to major universities next fall give appearance of being on the decline, though it is not certain if the trend will hold. Educators attribute this trend to the increased cost of tuition, the difficulty of obtaining a job even with a college degree, as well as the end of the draft. But for blue-collar workers there is greater pressure to get classroom training beyond high school, for with Vietnam veterans flooding the labor market blue-collar youths today say jobs are scarcer and they have to be better equipped to get and hold them.

It appears the pendulum is swinging the other way. To say the least, it's a good sign.

How Do You Solve

The Drug Problem?

This month's Reader's Digest tells how Japan has solved their drug problem:

"A decade ago, a heroin epidemic threatened Japan. An estimated 40,000 addicts provided a market for the growing traffic in hard drugs, and users brazenly mainlined on street corners. Today, says Dr. Yoshio Ishikawa, of the Serigayen mental hospital, heroin addiction "has become a subject without a living example for study, like smallpox," and medical students may finish their education without seeing an actual addict. Police face the same triumphant scarcity.

Heroin use in Japan has been virtually eliminated by a 1963 law that provides for harsh handling of both pushers and addicts. A life sentence is meted out for selling butsu (heroin). Mere possession can mean several years in jail. Meanwhile, to cut off demand, the government requires that every user caught be confined for at least 30 days of treatment. And this treatment regularly begins with "cold turkey" withdrawal, unassisted by chemical crutches."

team and fed a lot of people with money and some that had no money.

Hubert Dennis had as his guest in Hall County Heritage Hall, David Cary of Pampa. David is president of the Pampa Genealogical and Historical Society, Inc., chairman of the Gray County Historical Survey Committee, Executive Director of the White Deer Land Museum, Curator of the Pioneer Cottage Museum and Park, Editor of the Coronado Heritage Quarterly. He is also a member of the following organizations: Texas State Genealogical, Amarillo Genealogical Society, the Texas State Society, Sons of the American Revolution, Sons of Confederate Veterans, Panhandle Plains Historical Society, and also, the National Genealogical Society of Washington, D. C. David was in search of Rev. Pyle's photograph in a book that he was writing about Gray County. It seems that the Rev. Pyle helped organize and was first pastor of the First Baptist Church in Pampa. He was very happy to find that we had the picture for him at the First Church here. Geary Brogden, who delivered the picture to him, said this man could really play the organ. I guessed his weight at about 300 pounds and he said I did not miss it much. His favorite song was "How Firm a Foundation". His ancestors first moved to the Panhandle of Texas in 1903. David's grandfather was an M. D. for the FW&DC at Goodnight. His father was a lawyer and a judge in Gray County.

Word came to me a few days ago about one of our early day girls who attended Lakeview schools. She is now Mrs. Edith (Ward) Truttalis, Hilltop Manor, 790 Inwood Dr., San Jose, Calif., 95125. Her father, Frank, was a brother of Matt Ward's father. Her graduating class was 1919 at Lakeview. Some of the people she remembered in Hall County were Tammie McCanne, Mary Lois Bownds, Maude Wells, Ida Dunn, Della Joan McMurry, Vevel Hughes, Cecil Guthrie, Nelma Bailey, Kedron Merrick, the Davenport and Spry families. Edith had three children. One son died at the age of 19. She has one son and one daughter living near her.

Earl Gilchrist was a visitor in Hall County Heritage Hall last Saturday. He was in Memphis at (Continued on Page 9) gins in Dallas County. Mr. and Mrs. Howard both liked Heritage Hall very much and said they would be back and stay for a longer period of time.

Visiting Hall County Heritage Hall the past week John Lamb of Waco and his sister, Mrs. Wesley (Rhea Lamb) Foster of Friona, and her daughter, Raynell (Foster) Lonvick of Memphis, Tenn. John and Mrs. Foster's parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Jake Lamb of Friona. The Lambs moved to Hall County in 1907. John was born on the Ray farm near Plaska in 1918. He attended school at Plaska and graduated from MHS in 1936. He worked two years here in the First National Bank before going to school at A&M for four years and then spent the next 4 years in the Army. He married a Waco girl and was in the farm implement business for several years. His next move was to Friona where he lived three years and moved back to Waco in 1957. He has been in the automobile parts business since that date. He and his wife have one daughter who graduated from George Washington University. She is now a model in San Francisco after traveling around to New York

Wesley Sunday School Class Installs New Officers In Impressive Ceremony

The Daughters of the Wesley Church School Class of the First United Methodist Church met recently in quarterly session for formal installation of officers and teacher for the year 1973-74.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. W. V. Coursey. After necessary business was conducted, Mrs. Coursey closed the meeting with prayer.

Mrs. Ruby Compton, program chairman, introduced the program. Ira Hammond gave a very inspiring devotion using "Behold I Make All things New," reading as background scripture Rev. 21:1-5A.

She liked the theme to the early pioneers who left the "known and old" to go to the "unknown and new." They had to take only the things they knew they would need in the new place. So, too, each member of the class needs very special things for success in the new church year. All need Faith to make a new start, the steady Faith in God's goodness, the Faith in those who are to be with us, and above all the Faith that Jesus Christ is the Lord and Master of our lives.

Miss Hammond closed with a prayer by Peter Marshall.

Mrs. Velmon Payne used a platter of many fruits to emphasize her installation theme of "By their fruits ye shall know them." In Romans 7:4 we are told "Bring forth fruits unto God." She likened the duties of each officer and teacher to a specific quality of a fruit as follows: Plum—president, Mrs. W. V. Coursey—you will be "plum" smart to attach a "plum" line to our heavenly father as you plan and work this year.

Lemon: vice president, Mrs. D. A. Neeley—the extra touch, the tartness that pleases which comes from much prayer, study and preparation to make our program inspiring and exciting.

Orange: secretary, Mrs. Bess Crump—work needs to be done in segments with vitamin C of consistency for class records.

Nectarine: treasurer, Mrs. George Greenhaw—a special fruit of a combination, so you, too, must be a combination of accuracy and dependability.

Pineapple: reporter, Neville Wrenn—an attention getting fruit . . . so your reporting of class happenings must be attention getting.

Peach: teacher, Neville Wrenn—a favorite fruit of many. Class lessons must be prepared and presented in such a manner that they are favorites of the hearers. "Herein is my Father glorified that ye bear much fruit." John 15:18.

After the program hour, the hostesses Mmes. Compton and Coursey invited the group into the Fellowship Hall for delightful social hour.

Tasty refreshments were served from an attractive table decorated with flowers.

Present were Mmes. Crump, Erwin, Gerlach, Gidden, Greenhaw, Gunstream, Hampton, Jarrell, Miller, Montgomery, Misses Hammond and Wrenn and one guest, Mrs. Valmon Payne.

Let's Talk Memphis

Robert and Lucille Dennis like the weather and the Panhandle. Gerry grew up here believing weather was the worst, but our scenery was really nice. The fierce sand-lashed ever-threatening winds in the spring, the cold blizzards of winter, the hot, dry winds and the heat of summer. We had rolling plans as monotonous as the weather. This was because our had migrated here from the Panhandle, and we had heard about woods, and rivers that really had fled to the hills and fever, and the out soils of downstate. Left Hall Co. to live down for twenty years, most of in East Texas. There are many things to enjoy in Texas so different from the year round dark pine forests where the shy pipped through the shadows; the stupid armadillos skit across the trails; wildlife and, seen and unseen; thick of pine straw decorated the cones making a carpet of the trees. Spring there were the dog-red buds, the magnolia riotous in bloom; yards of azaleas, daffodils, and night of the year we went in the generations of country style. This was around a campfire (of knots), drinking coffee, to the "Voices" of the woods as they deliriously

Locals

Mrs. Leon Helm and John Paul returned recently after visiting in California. While there, they spent two days visiting in San Francisco and then went to Ukiah and Lake Port for three days where they visited with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Howe, Jr. and family, former Memphis residents. On to Sacramento and Los Angeles for five days, they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Arb Hull and family of West Covina, and Hank and Lou Cleveland of Glendale. Lou Cleveland is a cousin of Mrs. Helm and will be remembered as Minnie Lou Rudy of Memphis.

Clyde Smith and son Scott were in Amarillo Sunday to attend the Senith Show.

trailed the wily fox for hours. When eventually the fox outwitted the hounds by running up a leaning tree, he was pronounced "Treed", and the hunt was over for that night.

There were other things not to be enjoyed. The weather was as disagreeable as it had been in the Panhandle. In fact it could be miserable. Cold wet winters-hot humid subtropical summers with no escape from the wetness in sun or shade. Year around the moon and the stars were obscured by the vapor in the skies.

In summer we were deviled by little irritations in the shape of small creatures-big wood ticks, dog ticks, poisonous little seed ticks, redbugs, voracious huge mosquitoes, wood roaches, and their smaller cousins who preferred the suburban life.

At long last we came back to Memphis. We discovered that our own Panhandle climate is one of the best in Texas; that our scenery is unique. We came to appreciate the high, dry, invigorating air, and the pleasure of a good, bracing draft of it into the lungs. We found the colors in all directions: the broad expanses of the green, gold, red, and brown fields of grain; the beauty of the white cotton fields; the pastures polka-dotted with black and red cattle grazing contentedly; even the beauty to be found in the variously colored soils of the region.

Here we have marvelous sunsets; then out come the moon and the stars shining like jewels in the dark sky. Here nothing stands in the way of vision and, as the song says: "you can see forever—and ever!"

Joe David McWhorter, who recently returned after serving four years with the U. S. Navy, visited with his mother Mrs. John McWhorter over the weekend. He is presently employed on a ranch in Higgins. Also visiting in the McWhorter home was a grandson, John Robert New of Amarillo.

Hearing the Word

“... Never man spake like this man.”—John 7:46

Wherever Jesus preached upon earth, multitudes drew near. Many who heard him were amazed. “Is this not the Son of Joseph, the carpenter?” some asked. And, others wondered aloud: “How does this man know so much?”

Certainly, were we to hear Jesus preach today, we too would marvel, For no man ever spoke like Jesus. No one ever brought such a message, so clear and truth-filled, so powerful in love and understanding for all mankind.

No man ever spoke like Jesus — and that one devoted life has left an indelible mark upon the earth.

The after dinner show was interesting with Indians dancing and cowboys singing.

From there they drove to Denver where they visited the museum of Natural History, went through the U. S. Mint and Coors Brewery. They visited Red Rocks, the world's largest amphitheater which seats 10,000 people. They also visited Buffalo Bill's grave atop Look Out Peak and went up on Mt. Evans.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Bill Boykin
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin, Texas
Experts offer little hope for an early easing of the energy crisis, and Railroad Commission Chairman Jim Langdon warns a lot more oil and gas is being used than is being found.

A House committee studying the crisis heard a national authority's grim opinion that "there is no way out."

Dr. John McKetta, past chairman of the National Energy Policy Committee, said President Nixon should declare a national emergency, since it's too late for problem studies in the area.

Langdon told the same committee legislative efforts to cope with the problem will be frustrating because solutions must be sought at the national level.

Although the state regulatory agency has been permitting 100 per cent production for more than a year, Langdon said Texas producers are still falling short of demand for oil by 400,000 barrels a day, or roughly 1-0 per cent.

Atty. Gen. John Hill termed the situation "extremely critical," and said no other matter should receive more attention today.

As the commission set the July oil allowable at 100 per cent for the 16th straight month (with buyers seeking a record 3.8 million barrels a day), Langdon issued a new warning that only nine million barrels of oil a month are being added to Texas supplies while 105 million barrels are consumed in the same period.

"Unless this trend is reversed, the Texas oil and gas industry is in the process of self-liquidation," said Langdon.

Texas crude oil stocks as of June 8, were 94.7 million barrels, a decline of 7.2 million from 1972.

Langdon asked for reports at the July commission meeting on the amount of oil companies discovered in 1972, and "somewhere along the line," he said, he will want to know "what it will take to find more"—and whether the industry will really be "able to stay in business."

Future Highway Needs

Mass transit needs should be financed from its own funds, not from highway funds, Roy D. Chapin Jr., Board Chairman of American Motors Corporation, told Texas Good Roads Association members and the Texas Highway Users Conference here last week.

"Highway construction and maintenance needs during the next 20 years will be $6000,000,000,000 in the United States," he explained. "Mass transit needs will total $50,000,000,000 for rail construction and development and $13,000,000,000 for bus transportation."

"Highways are still the basic answers for urban transportation needs. The Department of Transportation says by 1990 that 92 per cent of transportation will be on roads and streets—with only 8 per cent on bus and railroad facilities."

Chapin, who is chairman of the board of the National Highway Users Federation, spoke to a partisan audience, but his statistics impressed neutral observers about the need for political unity in the current struggle between eastern states and the rest of the nation for current highway user funds.

"HUD says that population density will continue to drop in urban areas," Chapin concluded. "Travel patterns will be from suburban home to suburban jobs. Buses and car pools can start lowering congestion—but highways are still important to those methods of transportation."

He spoke against "crisis" legislation because of the "current misunderstanding and misinformation on the so-called energy crisis. Some restrictive actions may be taken in the name of crisis, increased tax on gas, excise taxes and personal property taxes on automobiles, Chapin added.

Amendments Proposed

Nine more proposed constitutional amendments will appear on the November 6, general election ballot—just a couple of months before the Legislature sits as a constitutional convention.

The amendments for the Nov. ballot are:

SJR 8—proposing a $15,000 a year salary for legislators and annual legislative sessions.

SJR 13—extending the $3,000 property tax exemption to homesteads of unmarried adults.

SJR 29—authorizing cities to levy ad valorem taxes sufficient to pay the principle and interest on general obligation bonds.

HJR 6—providing an additional $100 million for the Veterans Land Program.

SJR 1—establishing new requirements for conservation and reclamation districts.

SJR 25—exempting water supply cooperative property from taxes.

SJR 26—giving district courts concurrently with county courts general jurisdiction of probate courts.

SJR 12—providing for financing of seawalls by bonds.

HJR 7—similar to SJR 13, plus exemption of property from forced sale.

Disaster Aid Sought

Extensive property damage due to floods in eight Southeast Texas counties led Governor Briscoe to ask that they be designated as disaster areas.

Counties were Harris, Galveston, Brazoria, Jasper, Hardin, Liberty, Montgomery and San Jacinto.

Briscoe's request to President Nixon was backed by U. S. Sen. John Tower. Designation would make the food victims eligible for long-term loans from the Small Business Administration.

Appointments

House Speaker Price Daniel Jr., leaving on a Caribbean vacation, named Rep. Carl Parker of Port Arthur as speaker pro tempore to preside over the House during his absence.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby appointed Sen. Nelson W. Wolff of San Antonio chairman of the Senate planning committee for the 1974 constitutional convention.

Governor Briscoe selected Sam Callan of El Paso as judge of the new 210th district court effective

Roy Mays Jr. of Port Arthur is new special assistant to the executive director for public affairs of the Texas Criminal Justice Council.

AG Opinions

University authorities and courts must determine if student service fees are used properly to benefit students, Attorney General Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

A new law designed to prevent conflicts of interest among water control district directors is probably unconstitutional, but part of it is valid and will stand court test.

The legislature may add as a condition to tax exemption that a corporation have a current exemption from the federal income tax.

A proposal to grant the 43rd district court of Parker County overall supervision of the dockets of the Parker County court and allow it to assign to the county bench a suit filed in district court would be unconstitutional.

Courts Speak

The State Supreme Court upheld lower courts that owners of 73.7 acres in Wylie school district should have their land annexed to the Abilene district.

High court also agreed a Lubbock metal shop owner should get a jury trial to determine the amount of insurance he was entitled to collect for repairs of tornado damage.

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed a Dallas County conviction for flag desecration due to improper prosecution arguments and use of inflammatory words. The Supreme Court upheld lower court findings that a Carizo Springs store clerk was entitled to no punitive damage due to being slapped by retired Texas Ranger Capt. A. Y. Allee.

Rights Bill Signed

Young Texans 18-20 will get full majority rights under new legislation which takes effect August 27.

Governor Briscoe signed the bill, in spite of speculation he would veto it.

It permits the 18-20-year-olds to "enjoy all the privileges and responsibilities of adult citizenship," according to Briscoe's statement.

Among adult privileges which the new youth group will be able to indulge in is purchase, consumption and sale of alcoholic beverages.

Other bills signed near the deadline for approval or veto included family code revision, free kindergarten for all five-year-olds, primary election proceedings for 1974 and bail bond reform.

Altogether, Briscoe signed or allowed to become law without signature 659 bills passed by the Legislature this year and vetoed

Short Snorts

U. S. Department of Labor has awarded Texas a $1.4 million grant for an 18-month manpower program under the Criminal Justice Council.

Outcries for a special legislative session on public school finance increased during a House education committee hearing.

Texas will receive $3,562,143 in additional grants for 16 Texas school districts participating in an emergency aid program to prevent minority group isolation.

Former Lubbock Mayor Jim Granberry, a Republican, is the early-bird candidate for governor, although former Houston Sen. Hank Grover has made clear he will run too.

Former Secretary of State Bob Bullock jumped into the 1974 Democratic primary race first—as a candidate for state comptroller.

Rep. Joe Allen of Bayton asked for an attorney general's opinion on whether the House has an obligation to provide free space in the capitol for news reporters.

The motto, "In God We Trust," first appeared on some U. S. coins in 1864, disappeared and reappeared on various coins until 1955, when Congress ordered it placed on all paper money and coins.

The 1973 Community Audit for Memphis is now available at both West Texas Utilities Company and Memphis Chamber of Commerce. The 8-page study contains facts and figures on Memphis and Hall County that would be of interest to any new business or industry looking for a possible site here. The study is broken into several main divisions which range from population, taxation, recreation, climate, community service, industrial development program, transportation, schools, recreation, economic factors, manufacturers, labor, utilities, finance, county government, and city government. This study is prepared by the Area Development Department, West Texas Utilities Company. We are very proud of W. T. U. and especially WTU Manager J. B. Scott who has played an important role in the development of the Hall County Industrial Foundation, Inc. J. B. is a long-time member and full-time supporter of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and is a past president.

Each week this column will state various information from the Community audit prepared by West Texas Utilities. Memphis is in the Panhandle Region Planning Area and located in Region 16 of the Region Education Center. With an elevation of 2,067 feet above sea level and population of 3,227 people in the 1970 census: Hall County, 7,322, Memphis, 3,332; 1970 census, Hall County 6,015. Racial Composition: Anglo-Saxon — 4,599, 76.4 per cent of the county population; Mexican American—744, 12.4 per cent of the county population; Negro—832, 10.5 per cent of the County population; others, 40, 0.7 per cent of the county population.

It's Rodeo season again and JL's Western Wear has a corral full of duds for the cowgirl and cowboy. From top to bottom that's from Hats to Boots and everything in between to make you the sharpest cowpoke west of the Red. Before you saddle-up for the trail stop by and see Janice at JL's Western Wear, a member of the Chamber of Commerce.

Chamber members Monty Alewine and Zeno Lemons are always teaming up at the DeVille during coffee-break time to "talk Memphis." We appreciate their support and membership in the Memphis Chamber.

Jimmy Sprull's Used Furniture has got a new paint job on his store front. If you can't read his sign then you can see by the pictures that he is selling furniture.

The Memphis Chamber of Commerce is asking that all businesses in Memphis close to observe our nation's birthday this next Wednesday, July 4th. Spend a day with your family and enjoy the holiday but remember to play it safe and "Drive Friendly". This is a reminder from Jim Beeson, Texaco consignee, O. R. "Doc" Saye, Mobil consignee, and Raymond Martin, Williams Oil and Gas, all members of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce.

Ward Motor Company, as a member of the Memphis chamber has erected a new sign advertising their dealership of Chevrolet and Oldsmobile. We appreciate the pride and improvements that the Memphis citizens have done for the business district.
