Memphis Firemen Still Seeking Truck Donations

The Memphis Volunteer Firemen are still seeking contributions to help pay for a 4-wheel drive rural fire engine, which the firemen have already purchased. Contributions have already been received for slightly over 50 per cent of the needed funds for the new piece of equipment. Many, many people have already contributed to the fund, and recently a few of the names or firms and individuals were published as being contributors of over $20 or more. Local firemen this week released additional names of firms and individuals making contributions in this amount or over with appropriate remarks of appreciation being extended.

SENATOR JACK HIGHTOWER

State Senator Jack Hightower, of Vernon, a native of Memphis, will officially kick off his campaign for U. S. Representative of the 13th Congressional District on the Democratic Party ticket at 7 p. m. Tuesday, in the Memphis Community Center.

Senator Hightower selected Memphis, his home town, as the site to make his official announcement and Tuesday, Dec. 11, has been selected as the date. The Official Announcement Party will get underway at 7 p. m. and continue through 9 p. m.

Senator Hightower's friends from all over the Panhandle Area invited to be present for the affair which will be simply a coffee and cookie affair as the Senator has requested.

Dick Fowler is the local chairman planning for the Announcement Party.

Although it is well known over the 13th Congressional District that Senator Hightower would be in the race for U. S. Representative, facing Democrat opponent Ray Ruffin of Amarillo in the Democratic Party primary, and the winner would take on Republican Incumbent Bob Price of Pampa, Tuesday night will be the first time Senator Hightower has officially "thrown his hat into the ring."

Senator Hightower has already been feted at several occasions where tribute was paid to him in Plainview and Wichita Falls for his accomplishments while serving in the State Senate.

Over 600 people were on hand at Wichita Falls at Midwestern's Clark Center ballroom last Friday at one such occasion.

Texas Senator Lloyd Bentsen was to be the speaker but Washington duties prevented him from coming. But Senator Bentsen's telegram to those attending paid high tribute to Senator Hightower.

Among the things Senator Bentsen said were . . . "In these days, it is amazing that the people of our nation have not lost more confidence in government than they have because some of the happenings of the past few years have strained credulity in the effectiveness of representative government. The people have not lost faith because they are basically intelligent, honest and freedom loving.

"They know the difference between good government and bad politics. They know that leadership has its limitations and that the destiny of democracy is somewhere between the demands for instant solutions and the counter demands for caution and resistance to change.

"And another reason people have not lost faith is because there are men in government like Jack Hightower.

"I am proud to be his friend. I congratulate you for selecting a man of his stature to represent your interest and for inspiring him to work as hard and do as much as Jack Hightower does in the Texas Senate.

"I know you appreciate him and I want you to know I join in that appreciation. Jack Hightower sets the standard by which to measure all public servants," Bentsen's statement concluded.

The Vernon lawmaker is the son of Mrs. W. T. Hightower of Memphis. He and his wife, Colleen have three daughters, Ann, Allison and Amy.

Senator Hightower has been most busy as one of five senators on the Constitutional Convention Planning Committee. Representing the 30th District, he has served eight years, and in 1971 he was selected President Pro tem of the senate and was governor for a day.

His work and dedication, and most of his accomplishments, are well known in this area, but he has served on all the Texas Sen. (Continued on Page 10)

County's cotton harvest, harvesting weather permitting, reached 3,511 bales today, a telephone survey of ginners reports. This is an increase of 15,415 bales over last Thursday's report. The report, however, that the weight in bales, not the number of gins have actually been harvested.

81 percent miked in the desirable range of 3.5 to 4.9.

De Rose Industries Plant Here Is Being Temporarily Closed Until March

De Rose Industries, Inc., announced to employees this week that the Memphis Plant will be closed until a possible re-opening date in early March, according to Leonard E. Riley, Vice President and Regional Manager, Southern Region, of De Rose Industries.

Mr. Riley was in Memphis Tuesday and made the announcement.

"Due to the fact that we are in an extremely slow sales period, we find it necessary to close our Memphis, Texas, facilities until further notice. It is our expectation that we will be able to re-open the plant for production in early March," the announcement stated.

"This past year has been most unusual in our industry. The Texas market in recent months has been down some 40 percent from last year. This coupled with the historically slow winter sales period, higher interest rates for consumers, and the unavailability of mortgage money has prompted our decision, the statement said. De Rose Industries has been in the mobile home manufacturing business for the past 28 years. During that period we have seen many ups and downs in the mobile home industry, but no matter how far down it appears the industry is, it always rebounds to greater heights than ever before and we fully expect it to do so in 1974, although we do not expect the early part of the year to be greatly increased over the present time.

"Although it is not our desire to close any of our plants, our decisions have to be made on facts at hand, keeping in mind what is best for the future. We have many loyal employees that we hate to lose and hope that they can return with us when the plant is again reopened," Mr. Riley said.

"In order to retain our dealer organization, our sales force will continue at the Memphis plant, with any orders taken being produced at our Bonham facilities," he said.

"Again, we want to state that this is a temporary closing," Mr. Riley said.

Christmas Season 1973!

The Christmas holiday has undergone many changes over the years, some spiritual leaders have made charges that the season is too commercial, too materialistic. But in this area, little is said about the materialistic side of the holiday, and far more emphasis is placed on the real meaning of the holiday season.

But 1973 the season will be observed a little more differently.

By request of The President of the United States, Christmas lighting activities have been curtailed. This is already noticeable here in Memphis where light stringers have not been put up. The pole decorations are out on the square, but generally, Memphis will not be so attractively light as in past years.

The Memphis Chamber of Commerce is not having its annual home and business lighting and decoration contests this season for the same reason. Some homes in Memphis are lit, and because of this our children still enjoy seeing Christmas trees in the windows, and the colored lights strung on the homes.

Of the spirit of Christmas, the fires are still burning bright as they have always done in the young hearts of our little ones. Whether it is a Christmas when this nation was engaged in warfare, and a few toys and decorations were available, or at a season when this nation is in an economic warfare, Christmas still lives on for our children.

A young three-year old in our home said the other day to one of her grandmothers, when asked if she had Christmas in her heels, "Yes, I've got Christmas in my heels, and in my legs, and in my stomach, and even in my head, and my head hurts with it."

Later, "Mommy, there's the building that Santa will be at to see me when Bubba take me," she said about the Hall County Courthouse, as Santa will be paying his visit to Area Children Friday and Saturday the next two weekends.

Inflation has business leaders believing that Americans won't be spending as much on Christmas this year as in past years, as far as total number of purchases are concerned, but total cost is expected to be up over last year due to inflated prices for almost all items.

Memphis merchants, in order to allow more convenient shopping hours for citizens of this area, are going to stay open later on Friday and Saturday nights from now until Christmas. Local merchants have been making a greater effort to have the type of gifts on hand that shoppers want and at a price that is competitive.

Shortages are making it more and more difficult for merchants to keep their shelves stocked with certain items. Shortages in gasoline could make it more difficult for shoppers to make those trips out-of-town to buy.

Highway Patrolmen in Memphis reported that Sunday evening traffic on U. S. Hwy. 287 was unusually light. "A car about every 30 minutes," said one Patrolman. Truckers, on the other hand, were taking advantage of light traffic to really roll their rigs and some face excessive speed violations now. Service Stations are observing Sunday closing.

The big question coming up is whether or not there will be as many motorists on the highways during the Christmas Holidays this year as in past years. Visiting over the holidays may be curtailed as families may find the fuel shortage hampering their normal visitations.

But children need not worry about Santa Claus making his annual rounds. We suspect that he will be on time with those Christmas gifts when children gather around Christmas Trees this Christmas.

Sharing Shortages

The energy crisis which we are now entering was in no small measure made by political figures from the energy-using Midwest and Northeast states who fell all over themselves a few years ago to grab credit for every proposal which would restrict, hinder or depress any of the industries based on the supplying of energy.

They bragged that they had fought off the plan to build superports offshore which would have enabled tankers to bring oil to Maine and Delaware.

They boasted that they would not allow liquified natural gas ports between Boston and Wilmington. They stalled the Hudson River nuclear plant designed to provide power for New York City.

They have stopped coal mining in West Virginia and Pennsylvania because coal mining disrupts the ecology.

These same political figures also delayed the construction of the Alaskan pipeline for four years, claiming that such a pipeline would alter the environment of the Alaskan wildlife.

The politicians from the East rammed through a cut in the depletion allowance, dampening oil exploration, and have kept a tight ceiling price on natural gas low enough so as to discourage exploration.

Now these politicians are shouting that oil and gas from Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana belong "to everybody" and must be shared. Not only must all states share the shortage, but they must now share the available supplies.

It appears that folks that live in the densely populated East are far removed from the realities of life. They go on their way, blithely assuming that whenever they flip a switch, electricity will come to their light bulb or appliance and they never wonder how it got there.

They also assume that there will be gas and heating oil to warm them, and that food will be delivered in vast quantity to them, and never wonder where it comes from. It is time that the nation's politicians get together, and work together if our crisis is to be solved.

—Perryton Herald

Every person has responsibility

The President's emergency energy conservation program, now operating on a voluntary basis as far as the average citizen is concerned, is due its first real test this weekend. Gasoline stations nationwide have been asked to remain closed today and a huge majority will comply.

But if citizens do not also enter into the spirit of the effort, there is little hope for its success. Simply closing gas stations on Sunday won't contribute much if motorists don't cooperate by staying off the highways, if at all possible.

What's ahead for the nation if there are no emergency actions to ease the fuel crisis? The National Petroleum Council's committee on emergency preparedness has looked into this situation and released these findings:

"Inventories will be depleted early in the first quarter of 1974 and the petroleum industry will no longer be able to provide the supplies needed. Shortages in the three major products — gasoline, distillates and heavy fuel oil — will average 25 per cent during the first quarter of 1974. Heavy fuel oil shortages would average 28 per cent on a U. S. basis and could reach 50 per cent on the East Coast.

The effect of shortages of this magnitude on the economy are difficult to estimate. On a conservative basis, the effect of a two-million-barrel-per-day cutoff has been estimated to cause an annual loss of $48 billion to the U. S. economy as measured by the Gross National Product. This slowdown in the economy would cause unemployment to increase from the current 4.5 to 5 per cent level to over 6 per cent."

These projections are based on current denial of Middle Eastern crude and petroleum products. U. S. demand for petroleum products averaged 17 million barrels per day during the first 10 months of 1973.

Demand for gasoline is at an all-time high, but the percentage of increase has been slowing down by quarters this year. It must be further reduced, however, if the nation is to avoid suffering and a general economic slowdown.

Whether this can be achieved will be determined to a large extent on an individual basis. There are currently no laws banning unnecessary driving or nonessential use of other energy sources, and if and when statutes are passed, their effectiveness will be decided on a personal basis.

Question:

Will you have enough natural gas for your home this winter?

Answer:

Yes!

Let's lay this question to rest once and for all. Lone Star Gas Company has enough natural gas reserves under contract to adequately supply our residential, commercial and other higher priority customers for many winters.

To be sure we have enough for these consumers, we will make some extensive curtailments of service to our large volume customers during extreme cold weather this winter. In fact, our contracts with large volume customers anticipate the need to curtail up to 100% of their needs during these cold periods. This allows us to assure service to residential, commercial and other higher priority customers.

We're taking major steps to make sure you have gas for the future. New gas we're buying costs more than four times the price we paid just a few years ago. This is an astonishing amount of money! But it's the price all of us must pay for a continuing supply of natural gas energy.

This winter, and in the future, natural gas from Lone Star will continue to be your best method of home heating, water heating and cooking... just as it has been for more than 40 years. But we all must remember to help conserve this precious energy fuel.

Another good motto on Jim Chappell's office sign which gave me a thought. It is as follows: "I'll be here all day, naturally, but I'll be tired all night."

Wednesday I noticed Mr. John Wolf riding a bicycle down the street and singing that old "Bicycle Built For Two". He was very happy, with a smile and a sharp energy crisis.

Johnny Carson telling me out the 50 mile per hour on the freeway in the People in other words that he could not make it. Johnny made the 50 miles per hour and thought a boy could have out-pace him.

Ann Claude has a drop-leaf table bought in Memphis long ago. This table is on the bottom side of M&M Memphis, Texas. It is evidently the name of the store or cabinet any of you remember by that name here in Memphis, notify Ann at Mrs. Louis Foxhall of Texas.

Our local gin yards last week I found trailer cotton parked all over the city and gins going, with each gin turning out 200 bales per-day, close to 3,000 bales being picked up on the County that particular day, we came up with the estimate of 10,000 bales waiting to be ginned. In the early days of hand pulled cotton it would take 6 months to get all of the cotton picked. Now with the strippers they make it a short, fast and furious harvest. We noticed that flat-bed trucks were hauling 60 to 70 bales of cotton from the other gins of the County to the compress. There is quite a difference here than in the early days when 4 bales of cotton were loaded on a heavy wagon, with 4 to 6 mules pulling this load and taking a half day to come from Plaska to Lakeview to get to the Cotton yard. These trucks were only about 25 minutes getting to the Compress with their big load and about 50 men on the ground crew ready to unload these trucks with modern equipment. In the old days the cotton hook and the strength of man was most of the equipment for unloading the bales of cotton. If the farmers can keep their wives driving the pick-ups, pulling the trailers, and get all of this cotton ginned and sold at the present price, Hall County will have the greatest number of rich farmers since the county was organized in 1890.

It looks like we are living in the land of milk and honey, even though there are very few milk cows. I can prove it with Mrs. Ted Earnes that we have honey. She says that when she and Ted rob the bee hives, and bring the honey in the kitchen to put it in containers, she and Ted really get "stuck up", as it seems that honey is everywhere.

Another way to conserve gasoline energy this Christmas is by shopping in our home town. In checking our local stores the past week, it seems that they have exceptionally large stocks of gift merchandise for a town of this size. My observation is that they are making beautiful gift packages. Some of the ribbons and gift paper I noticed they were using would cost you a dollar or two extra in a lot of places. I watched Mildred Brewer wrapping some of these gifts and stretching the paper. Of course this comes from the old school of thought, "get the most out of that high priced paper and ribbon."

In conversation over the coffee table in one of our local restaurants I overheard Mickey Montgomery talking about the truck load of hogs that he, and his dad, and his brother had just hauled a load to Oklahoma City. The Montgomery's are in the hog business on a scientific sanitary program, which causes a big demand for their quality and of course brings a little better price than the average hog. My understanding is that they haul a truck load every other week in the year. There is only about a 24% loss in a hog from the pen to the table, where in beef there is about 40% loss. The processor really has a use for every part of the hog. I think it was Wendell Harrison or Robert Sexaur who gave me the information that gelatine was made out of the hoof of the hog. In figuring a little on this particular load of hogs, and using the whole 76% of this load of hogs. Measuring the length of a 1 lb. package of sausage for retail, you would come up with a link of sausage about 4 miles long; and for the yearly shipment you would have a link of sausage close to 100 miles long. If the hogs marched single file they would make a procession about 2 miles long. The Montgomerys have a large operation and contribute a lot to our local economy. I asked Mike if they put roller skates on their sows that furnished the pigs (as I read about a lady who put skates on her dog that was to have pups, so it would be easier for her dog to get around). Mike said the breed sow did not need any skates as she was not going anywhere after they put her in one of the Motel rooms of this complex and she does not put her feet on the ground.

RANCH-STYLE CORDUROY—Cone's cotton corduroy creates Western duds for a costume party or just play-ground fun. To go with their plaid shirts and embroidered vests, the young cowgirl chooses a fringed skirt while her dude companion opts for chaps. Both outfits were designed by Herman Iskin.

This brings back memories of neighbors having hog killing day. They met together and all worked processing the hogs and making the lard in the cast iron pots. They ground the sausage, cleaned the casings to stuff the sausage, trimmed the hams and sides, stuffed the sausage, and got everything ready to hang in the smokehouse with a dirt floor. A fire was then started with hickory wood, that would fill the Smokehouse with a thick blanket of smoke. This was kept up several days until the meat was fully cured. Back in the early days we did not have balloons for the kids. The first balloon I ever saw was a hog bladder, and these balloons came in only one color, until played with several days, then it was so dirty it was a dark brown. They were very substantial even for a football. I think the first scrap my brother Bill and I ever had was over a hog bladder!

All of us cannot go to foreign countries to eat the fancy cooked foods in other nations.

In shopping around in one of our local drug stores a few days ago, I found a gift item that contained foods from 10 foreign countries as given: Holland, Denmark, France, Norway, Iceland, Scotland, Hamburg, Japan, West Germany, and England. The price of this gift was marked $19.95. So, I guess you could buy a small package of incense from each of these countries eat the food of these nations, and with the atmosphere of the incense and with your imagination have a very economical trip to these foreign countries.

In conversation with Don Cockrell a few days ago I found out that he is taking the energy crisis very seriously and to offset some of the wasted energy he is building a fire-place in his home. He saved up a bunch of mesquite on his farm and gathered up the cow chips and laid them out to dry. This way he will be creating his own gas.

We received a note the past week from some of our friends in California who were early day residents of Hall County. They are Mr. and Mrs. Jet R. Fore (Continued on Page 11)

Home Economist Presents Program To Delphian Club

The Delphian Club met at the Bronze Room on December 4, with Mrs. Clyde Lee Smith and Mrs. Geary Brogden as co-hostesses. The meeting was brought to order by the President, Mrs. Kenneth Dale, leading in a salute to the American Flag.

Each member introduced her guest after the business meeting. A short meditation was given by Mrs. Neal Hindman, and the program was turned over to Mrs. Helen Gribble, West Texas Home Economist. Mrs. Gribble used as her subject "using what you have."

She said that due to our economic crisis, we may need to revert to using materials we have on hand. She distributed recipes and colorfully described each recipe, giving specific instructions for making and wrapping baked goods.

For each recipe she had a sample attractively displayed and wrapped festively for Christmas Giving Suggestions, saying that "Gifts made by your hands express love more than the things we buy."

The samples of baked goods were given as door prizes.

Holiday Thoughts Turn to Little Things in Life

COLLEGE STATION—A spirit of thanksgiving really extends throughout the holiday season—even in this land of abundance, now reaping the harvest of an inflationary economy, according to Lynn Bourand.

The home management specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service Texas A&M University System, contends that now—more than ever—people should include life's "little things" in their thoughts of thankfulness.

"The biggest events in life depend on the smallest—and long-term goals are reached by tackling several short-term ones," she said.

"For example, few families can buy an automobile or house with a lump-sum payment. Only through small, manageable payments are such luxuries possible."

Money is only one family resource to be thankful for, the specialist continued.

"Human resources—individual family member's ideas, talents, knowledge and interests—often help solve family money puzzles otherwise thought impossible.

"Time—probably the most obvious resource—slips away from everyone in small amounts," she added.

By wasting just five minutes a day looking for misplaced articles, a person "throws away" some 30 hours each year, Miss Bourlost to Hedley. The girls game was a real close one, until several Cyclonette guards fouled out of the contest, and Hedley managed to increase its lead to a 58 to 45 victory. Shauna White of Hedley had 37 points and created a real problem for the local team's guards. On the other end of the court, Mickey Henderson with 27 and Ruthie Butler with 11 led the scoring for Memphis. In the boys game, neither team seemed to be playing up to potential as the Cyclone was without the services of center Ben Smith who had dental work done that day. The Owls lead all the way, 9-5, 21-14, 43-24, and 55-32. Daniel Bolin with 19 and Tony Rieken with 14 were the Owls high men. Sophomore Earl Wright had 10 points for the Cyclone, while James Beck had 7 and Jimmy Melton had 6. After the game, Coach Pope said, "we just couldn't seem to get the ball to go in, regardless of how many times we put it up there." Observing the game, it seemed that the Owls were more successful hitting the baskets, especially from outside, but the game was full of turnovers on both sides, and the first half was almost totally a defensive affair. Paducah Games The Cyclonettes Monday night lost a 7-point decision, 48-41, to the Dragonettes of Paducah, a team they previously defeated in the season opener. Coach Pope said the girls played real hard on both ends of the court. The Paducah boys, coming off a cold night against Silverton, were red hot in the first half against Memphis and led the local lads 52-33 at halftime. Paducah won the contest 88-58. Coach Pope said, "they were so hot they were hitting about everything they put up. We played good basketball but just couldn't stay with them." Ben Smith had 18 points, while Beck had 14, Ronnie Browning 8, Don Davis 7, Jim Melton 5 and Earl Wright 4 against Paducah. The Memphis B team boys won over Paducah 61-46. Last Friday, Memphis boys defeated Groom 85-24. Beck had 18, Browning 14, Smith 12, Wright 10, Melton 8, Wayne Davis 8, Charles Bryley 6, Don Davis 4, Bobby Hall 3 and Audie Moore 2.

Lakeview Eagles, Eaglettes To Go To Samnorwood Tourney Today

Lakeview varsity teams travel to Samnorwood Thursday Dec. 6 to compete in the annual Samnorwood Basketball tourney. The Eagles will meet Allison at 10:30 a. m. Thursday, and the Eaglettes and Samnorwood girls will tangle at 12:30. The leading scorer for Memphis was Davis with 13 points. Cannon racked up 8, and Austin had 2 points. The final game of the night saw the Eagles take a victory over Memphis Jr. Varsity. The final score was 73 to 59. Ronnie Proby led the Eagles in scoring with an impressive 27 points. Richburg ripped off 18 points, and Gilbreth added 11. Watson was good for 10 points and pulled down many rebounds for Lakeview, and Freshman Brad Byars added 7 points to the Eagles score. For Memphis, Fulton Wright put in 20 points, and Johnson was close behind with 16. Alexander and Norton each had 8 points, Deary 5, and Douthit added 2 to the Memphis scoring drive. The first game ended in a 36 to 26 victory by the Memphis Freshman team. Anthony Johnson scored 18 points for the Memphis lads. Galloway added 12, and Orcutt scored 6 for Memphis. Adam Rodriguez, Eddie Rodriguez, and Chapman had 6 points each for the Eagle Freshman team. Gregory, and Clark added 4 points each to the Eagle score. The Eaglettes defeated the Cyclonettes Jr. Varsity 39 to 23. Lakeview's Connie Fowler with 19 points, Sherry Proffitt with 15, and Donita Byars with 5 points rounded out the Eaglettes scoring drive, while a fine defensive effort by the Lakeview guards held the Memphis girls to only 12 points in the first half.

The Memphis Band Booster Club held its regular meeting on Monday evening December 3, at 7:30 p. m. Booster President, Mrs. Raymond E. Martin, was in charge of the business session. Secretary, Mrs. Marion E. Posey, read the minutes of the previous meeting. A current financial report was given by the treasurer, Mrs. Alvin Phillips. A final report was given concerning the calendar campaign. It was reported that the community calendars have arrived from the printer and they will be distributed soon. A report was given concerning the bake sale sponsored by the Booster Club. The organization would like to thank all those who participated in the bake sale, and those who purchased home baked goods from the club. To these truly dedicated and generous people the booster club owes a debt of gratitude. It is these people who help the club raise funds to aid all the band students. Miss Carol Blain, director of bands, gave a report on All-Region Band tryouts held last Saturday Dec. 1. Nineteen band students traveled to Canyon High School where the tryouts were held. Eight students made the band with one alternate and possibly two. Those who will go to Canyon on January 11 and 12 for All-Region Band rehearsals and concert are: Meredith Douthit and Sherita McKay on cornets, Boycene Bruce and Cherryl Messick on Clarinets, Denise Boggs on ball clarinet, Shari Posey on Alto Saxophone, Scooter Smith in Trombone, and Bruce Boggs on percussion. Dedria Evans is an alternate on flute and possibly Jay Spry is an alternate on percussion. This is a good representation of the Memphis Cyclone Band. We are extremely proud of these students who will represent our town in this band. The club discussed plans for the Band Booster luncheon to be held at Sunday noon after church services on December 16, at the Community Center. The annual Christmas concert, including all three school bands, will be on the same afternoon at 3:00 p. m. in the high school auditorium. It is hoped that everyone will attend church services of their choice, attend the luncheon and the concert. This will enable families to be together and enjoy each other, good food, and good music. Tickets will be on sale next week from any band booster member. Tickets for adults will be $2.00 and children under 12 will be $1.25. The next regular booster meeting will be held on Monday evening, January 7, at 7:30 p. m. in the Cyclone Band Hall. All members are urged to be present. Recent Veterans Administration statistics reveal that more than 1,200 Vietnam Era veterans, comprising nearly 7 percent of Vietnam Era veterans working for the agency, are women.

Dolph Briscoe Calls For 90-Day Program For Energy Conservation

The fact that Dolph Briscoe this morning called for a 90-day emergency program for energy conservation is a sign of the health of the state, he said. Briscoe called on all Texans "to save jobs."

Briscoe, who ordered energy-saving steps for government, said that savings by private citizens are absolutely essential in two critical areas: automobiles and energy in homes and buildings.

That all Texans reduce energy consumption by 20 percent is recommended: speed limits to 55 mph for all vehicles except those involved in emergency operations. Set thermostats in all state buildings throughout Texas (except schools and hospitals) at 65 degrees for heating and 78 degrees for cooling. In areas of high humidity, the cooling setting will ings:

By turning out all unnecessary lights;
By turning off display lights and advertising signs after midnight;
And most important, by setting thermostats at 68 degrees to heat and 78 degrees to cool.

The Governor ordered all State agencies to take the following steps:
Reduce the use of motor fuel by state agencies by 25 percent, including fuel used by state airplanes.
Reduce speed limits to 55 mph for all state vehicles except those involved in emergency operations.
Set thermostats in all state buildings throughout Texas (except schools and hospitals) at 65 degrees for heating and 78 degrees for cooling. In areas of high humidity, the cooling setting will be 76.

Begin a car-pooling plan for state employees and provide parking incentives for those who participate.
Readjust cleanup schedule in state offices so that only one floor will be lighted at a time and all offices will be dark after midnight.
Purchase smallest cars possible for state use.
Reduce the use of fuel by the National Guard by 25 percent.
For Public Schools the Texas Education Agency will coordinate an energy saving program in the 1,133 school districts. The goal is to reduce energy consumption by 15 percent.
Each school district is to file a plan with the TEA which includes the following steps:
Set all thermostats at 68 degrees during cold weather and at 78 degrees during warm weather, with the 76 degree variation for areas of high humidity.
Reduce the setting of all thermostats to 65 degrees a half hour prior to the departure of students from a building and reset the thermostats to 68 degrees one hour prior to the arrival of students in the morning.
Schedule, for the months of January, February and March classes to end at 2:30 p. m. for all students;
Schedule all student activities, including athletic events, in the afternoons during the months of January, February and March.
Turn off all unnecessary lights:
Close off and reduce heat to the minimum in all portions of buildings not necessary to the instructional program;
Where possible, plan maintenance and custodial work to be done during the day rather than at night.
Prepare a plan that will allow that district, during extreme cold weather, to either close the school during that period or start up the school day at mid-morning.
It is conservatively estimated that the implementation of these plans during January, February and March of 1974 will result in a total saving of over one billion cubic feet of gas within the public school rooms alone—enough gas to heat 20,000 Texas homes for one year.

Brenda New and Margaret and Stanley King of Amarillo visited here Sunday with Mrs. John McWhorter. Also visiting here with his mother was Joe David McWhorter of Wellington.

DOUBLE STAMP DAY - WEDNESDAYS

Woman's Culture Club Meets With Alma Bruce

The Woman's Culture Club met November 21 in the home of Miss Alma Bruce for the program "Federation Today." Mrs. Jim Lange conducted the business after Miss Esta McElrath led in prayer. Mrs. Alvin Fyeatt read Psalms 8 and 100 for her devotional thoughts.

Mrs. R. E. Clark brought to the club a discussion on Federation. Some of the highlights of her discussion were: The Big Thicket had been saved, 84,000 acres of it, mainly because of the work club women in Tex. have done over the past few years. Beaumont clubs have training programs, in which they instill in members to be better citizens and to urge members to try to interest other in club work. They also have training programs on health, drugs, and how to work with youth. She stressed that club members should be informed about current programs in our state and nation and help in the revival of high standards that our country was built on.

She went on to say that we should be interested and inform ourselves about international affairs and what the clubs are doing in other countries. She closed her discussion by saying apathy was one of the worst things to happen to us. Freedom is not free. It is kept only at the cost of courage and eternal vigilance.

Each member answered roll call by telling what federation means to me.

Refreshments were served by Miss Bruce and her mother to one guest, Mrs. S. G. Sanders of Oklahoma City, sister of Mrs. Bruce, and the following members: Mmes. R. E. Clark, Frank Ellis, Nat Bradley, Robert Moss, Jeanette Irons, Ward Gurley, Fat Lewis, Jim Lange, L. A. Stilwell, Alvin Fyeatt, and Misses Sybil Gurley and Esta McElrath.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

Eastern Long Island two bold boys stood at the edge of a small bridge which crossed a creek. They had with them fishing outfits rigged with longshanked hooks, bait bucket held several shiners. But the boys were fishing. They were waiting for a shimmering flat in south known to be one of the best fishing spots in the world, bonefish was swimming. The weather and season were perfect. The bonefish were off in the water... waiting.

A quality sportsman was fly-fishing across the Pacific to the U. S. A. He was a distinguished man. His quest for an elusive black marlin had been a trip that had been two years in the planning had failed because the moon had not been in its first quarter.

A mysterious factor that has caused these three incidents to be known as "tide." Tom Saltwater Editor of Sports explains in an article entitled "How Tide Affects Fishing" in the magazine's November issue. In each case the fish was not right for good fishing. Saltwater Editor Paugh explains in great detail about the rise and fall of tides, how the tides affect tides and how tides affect fish.

A point that is made is that a man tends to eat by the fish feed by the tides. This is as simple as it sounds and does not mean that all fish feed at particular stages of any given tide. But taking our beginning of the bonefish flat, shallow areas are nearly or completely out of water at low tide as the tide turns and the

Punch Line of the Week

In business, as in life, it's not always the big wheel that keeps things running.

There are various gimmicks for sale, like a portable range-finder, but it is found unsatisfactory because at 400, 500, 600 and 700 yards, where you need it, it fails. Other gadgets are those reticles from which the range can be determined—somewhat as an engineer does by sighting through his transit at a known height—only you use the animal instead of the surveyor's pole. Great, except some mature mule deer, for example, are twice as big as others.

What is long range? This sounds silly, but some shooters are more comfortable with a reasonable explanation. It's way beyond the "point-blank, sure-hitting" range of your rifle's sighting, which is the .270 sighted zero at 275 yards would be 325 yards. It is when you must hold so high that daylight shows between the animal's withers and the bottom of the cross hair.

now of 1621 Barry Ave. Los Angeles, Calif. 90025. Mrs. Fore will be remembered as Dora Read, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Read. Jet is now confined to a wheel chair. He has been a composer of short rhymes and poems for several years. Dora especially likes one he wrote several years ago, and wanted us to have a copy of it, as given below. Dora added the last line.

"Thoughts of Tomorrow" by Jet R. Fore

Maybe there will be no tomorrow, So let's do our living today. We are here so briefly with our loved ones, So let's be happy and gay. Let's forget about tomorrow, That may bring with it sorrow. Let's let today be all our tomorrows, Let's just keep it that way. (Until we meet in our Heavenly home)

Boys Ranch Begins Drive For New Suits

The goal to provide each of the 368 boys at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch with a new suit or clothing package for Christmas began today.

The annual Christmas Suit Fund has become a favorite way of giving for friends of the boys who contribute $25.00 for this purpose.

"Although costs for new suits will exceed $25.00, some of the Ranch's boys receive clothing packages for less than that amount." Virgil Patterson, Ranch president, said, "Amarillo merchants also help by making it possible for the boys to have suits at discounts. Suits and clothing packages will average about $25.00 per boy."

The suits replace those that have been worn out or outgrown, and in many cases, they are the first new suits some of the boys have ever owned. The boys get to select their own suits from Amarillo department stores.

"A new suit is the best Christmas present a boy can receive because it is a year-round reminder of those who care." Mr.

Patterson said. Contributions to the Boys Ranch Christmas Suit Fund may be mailed to the Boys Ranch Office, P. O. Box 1890, Amarillo, Texas, 79105, or taken to the administrative office at 600 West 11th Street in Amarillo.

water rises to cover the bottom, fish which like to feed on this bottom will move in. However, after high water is reached and the tide turns, they may quickly leave to avoid getting trapped by water too shallow for swimming. Then again, some flats have excellent fishing on the ebb tide. The angler must know his area and the local behavior of the fish before knowledge of the state of the tide can be any good to him.

The best bet for the average fisherman who only gets out on weekends (or even less often) is to keep up with the local fishing columns and tide tables in the paper and to ask questions of the people who were out the day before. However, when you can't pick the ideal fishing time on your own—don't despair. Outstanding catches have been made when everything, tide included, pointed to a dead time on the water. Overall, however, a man with a knowledge of tides and other factors vital to fishing will out-fish the guy who is relying on luck alone.

"As a matter of common sense, a person should never take a long range shot if he can stalk closer", John Jobson, Camping Editor of Sports Afield, declares. Backwoods guides, outfitters, cowboys and white hunters particularly are highly skeptical of long-range shooting. Generally, as a class, they are short-range shooters themselves, and it's human to disbelieve what you've not experienced yourself. These people shoot lots of game, because they're in game country all the time and can pick their shots.

The long-range skills should be confined to occasions when it is impossible to commando to within normal game range. Most often, the sportsman can finagle his way closer. Rarely, he cannot—and that is where knowing how to hit 'em at long range pays off. You should never take a long-range shot at herbivorous game that can duck out of sight. The animal should be well out in the open (not on the edge of cover) where you can, if necessary, shoot again and even again. Above timberline and on the desert and plains, this is the rule rather than the exception. A person would be a fool to shoot long-range at dangerous game near cover.

If you are in a position where you must shoot long range, the most important thing to remember is to have a Gilraiter-solid rifle rest. Paradoxically, it must be immovable yet resilient, for if you place the forearm of your precision rifle on something unyielding (like wood or stone) it will shoot wide of the mark. Hence, the aspiring long-range marksman should accrue plenty of homeside field-shooting experience with improvised "emergency" rifle rests. Shooting at chucks and certain other varmint is ideal for this. Possibly the very best rest is your rolled-up down jacket, placed on a rock, stump or log.

At home you must take the time to accurately estimate range.

Stanley Story To Be Broadcast On British Radio

Dorian Cooke, producer of the British Broadcasting Corporation program "World Service Short Story" announced in London, England, last week that a short story written by George Edward Stanley will be broadcast by the BBC on the program on three different dates in March.

The story, "The Reclassified Child" is set in South Africa. It is about the racial reclassification of an adopted child from Coloured (racially mixed) to Bantu (one of the tribal groupings in southern Africa). The story narrates the tragedy which occurs when a child must be removed from his foster family home when the government decides that the child is actually a different race from his original classification. South African law does not permit different racial groups to live in the same areas.

The program is broadcast from London on short wave service all over the world. The times for the broadcast of the Stanley story will be Tuesday, March 5, at 1330 GMT, Wednesday, March 6, at 0215 GMT, and Friday, March 8, at 0815 GMT. There is a difference of seven hours between Greenwich Mean Time and Central Standard Time.

LETTERS To The Editor

(The following is a letter written recently to the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal by Don and Mary Montgomery and sent to the Democrat for publication by Don's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Montgomery of Lubbock. Don is the grandson of the late J. P. Montgomery of Memphis. The letter follows:

Editor, Lubbock Avalanche-Journal:

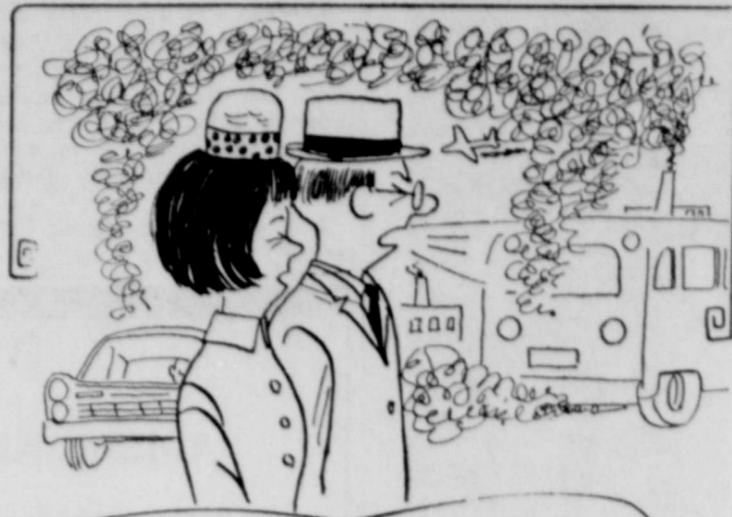

We would like to say thank you to our President and fellow citizens for the help you have given this wonderful country of Israel.

We write this on the part of our Israeli neighbors and other American Jewish friends now living in Israel. We are a Christian family living here since September 1967. Many times our Israeli friends have told us even before this war that American friendship is very important to Israel.

All of the Americans here have said many times "Thank God we were born Americans". None of our Jewish friends left America because they were dissatisfied there. They are here in Israel, even as we are, because God brought them here and since there is an Israel they cannot be anywhere else. They are working to inculcate in the Israeli society the best principles of American society and to build their land upon the ideals given in the Holy Scriptures.

We live in a moshav (a farming cooperative of over 100 families about 10 miles from Asdod) and we saw a nation go to war from our living room windows. We watched the tank trucks, the troop carriers, the halftracks, and all go by with the best of Israel's young men. Our neighbors and our young men left within 24 hours. Yes, we cried with them too when news came from the fronts of our dead and missing. But these people are marvelous, the spirit of work and cooperation is as it must have been in America's frontier days. We've asked no one to send their sons to die on Israel's soil. All we ask is your help and your prayers for a just settlement.

These people have no hate for the Arab people. In our six years we've never heard one word expressed against the Arabs. As a neighbor said who lost his son-in-law, "I don't hate the Arabs, but the Russians I hate and distrust". Israel is ready for a just peace settlement, but we cannot give back land and then have Sem-3 missiles in Gaza—50 miles from Tel Aviv, or over-looking settlements by the Sea of Galilee.

God has brought these people back. Israel is here to stay though it shall be "a time of Jacob's trouble, but he shall be saved out of it", God said to Abraham, "I will bless those who bless you and curse those who curse you". May America always stand for the right as she is doing this time. God has blessed America as He has blessed no other nation in history. If you don't believe it—ask your friends or people who have traveled outside America. Yes, America has its problems, but with your work and God's help you can solve them.

The people from all walks of life here in Israel say thank you from their hearts and ask that you pray with us that there will be a time of Shalom (peace) for all nations in the Middle East.

We are graduates of Texas Tech, Classes 1948-49. Don's parents are Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Montgomery of 4923 12th St. I am the former Mary Tettlers and lived at Levelland many years. Don and Mary Montgomery Mishav Beer Tuvia, Israel.
