Dist. 2A Track Meet Is Here Thurs.

Several Citizens Honored At Chamber Banquet Fri.

Dr. Charles Townsends' presentation of the life and music of Bob Wills, his realistic accounts of the highlights of his life, and presentation of samples of his music, proved to be the highlight of the 55th Annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet here last Friday night.

Although the banquet ran until 10:45 p.m., Dr. Townsends held everyone's attention with his informative and entertaining presentation.

Citizens Honored

Hubert Dennis, one of Memphis' long-time boosters and workers in civic and school activities, was recognized as the "Work Horse of the Year" and presented a wall plaque, a revolving plaque to be used each year for this award.

Dennis was cited for his many hours of work seeking new members and helping raise finances for the chamber.

Don Ferrel was recognized as and Gayle Greene was honored as the businessman of the year by the chamber.

The Amarillo Track and Trail Riders were honored with a plaque, accepted by Milford Davis, for their work with the Cotton Boll Enduro.

Coy Miller was honored for his work with the Booster Club, Bill Leslie for being the FTD Florist honoree, and Lacy Montgomery for being a Pork All-American.

Others recognized for their work with the Enduro or other Chamber activities were Bill Crane, Elmont Branigan, Arnold Cruze, and Larry Parks.

Bicentennial

Leroy Tillery of Amarillo, Asst. Mgr. of the Amarillo Chamber, and President of the Panhandle Bicentennial Organization, presented Judge Loran Denton, with the Bicentennial Flag, and the Judge and Mayors of the four county communities with Bicentennial certificates.

The Chamber and the Bob Wills Foundation of Turkey, presented Mrs. Carolyn Johnson (wife of Bill Johnson) of Fort Worth, daughter of Bob Wills, with an artists proof set of Bob Wills Bicentennial Coins. Lee Vardy of Turkey made the presentation.

The only other set of this kind was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hudlow of Estelina, to give to Jan (Hudlow) Bell, their daughter, who did the artist drawing used to design the coins.

The banquet attracted 235 persons, the lowest number to attend a chamber function since the organization began having its banquets in the Community Center. Prior to this time, no facilities were large enough to seat more than 200 in a banquet in Memphis.

Some citizens don't like fish, and that was the menu for the affair, but those who did attend manage to either eat the 300 lbs. of fresh catfish or they were sold during the evening, to be cooked at home.

Girls Softball Is Planned for Summer

All girls interested in playing softball this summer may fill out registration blanks prior to organization of teams for the summer activity, according to Mrs. Zack Fisher.

Mrs. Fisher stated that she would be at the schools Friday to pass out blanks. Any girl, grades three through six, may participate.

Games will be played on Saturday mornings with the first game set for May 24.

Any person who would like to help with the softball program may contact Mrs. Fisher.

The District 2-A Track Meet will be held in Memphis beginning at 9 a.m. Thursday, April 17, with coaches from all the district schools participating as officials for the meet.

The Cyclone Mothers Club will have the concession stand open for the meet next Thursday. "We want to invite all our fans to attend the meet and support our trackmen, but we will not need any volunteer workers," Coach McMurray said Wednesday.

Track Coach George Berry said Wednesday, "At this point, all our young men are ready for the important district meet. It appears to be a real close race for the district championship at this point and should be a real exciting meet."

The Memphis Track Team and the Golf Team will be traveling to Amarillo Friday and Saturday for the Amarillo Relays. This will be real stiff competition as the Amarillo Relays attracts the top contenders from all over the Region.

The District track meet boils down to a three-team race between Memphis, Shamrock and Clarendon, with Wellington capable of capturing several key points away from the big three in the meet, and Silvertown putting up some tough competition in certain events. McLean, Claude and Wheeler teams have not been impressive in past meets.

The Memphis team won the Childress Meet last Saturday, winning 141 points to Childress' 124, Wellington's 52 1/2.

The 440 - Relay team ran a 44.8, their best time of the season, for first place, and the mile relay team ran a 3:31.0 for first place in that event.

Pedro Salinas won the 880 with a 2:07.8, his best of the season, and Richie Spruill ran a 10.3 100-yd. dash to win that event.

James Beck won the open quarter with a 50.4, while Eddie Williams took third with a 53.7.

Don Davis won both the high hurdles (16.2) and the intermediate hurdles (43.7).

J. D. Evans took second place in the shot put, 42 ft. 3 1/2 inches and third in the discus 118 feet. Charles Bryley placed fourth in the 220 yd. dash. Spruill placed second in the long jump with a leap of 20 feet 3 inches.

Coach Berry said Tuesday, speaking before Memphis Rotarians about the Memphis Track program, "This year we have had several young men come through for our team. Our relay teams are running better times at this stage this year than we were running last year."

EDITORIAL

A Salute To Hall-Childress SWCD

The Hall-Childress Soil and Water Conservation District has recently been selected the top district in the State of Texas and in our opinion, justly deserves the title for its outstanding work in conservation of natural resources.

Forty years ago, the country faced tremendous problems brought about by erosion, floods, land damage, and violent dust storms.

The new Agency, known as SCS, was created to combat the forces that threatened to lay waste to millions of acres of cropland. When work began, it became apparent that really effective conservation work could be done better when landowners led the job themselves.

In 1937, President Roosevelt recommended that each state legislature enact laws permitting land owners and land occupiers to form units to be called Soil Conservation Districts. All the states rallied to the call and passed such laws.

Now, over 3,000 conservation districts, covering 97 percent of all privately owned lands, have formed in mutual concern to protect, conserve, and improve the world we live in.

The districts elect five supervisors (directors) to work with the Soil Conservation Service District conservationist and other agencies in helping the landowners apply conservation measures to his land.

More than two million landowners are voluntarily planning and applying conservation measures in local soil and water conservation districts. They are helping to control erosion, improve water supplies, prevent floods, curtail pollution, and develop recreational areas.

The principal source of technical assistance to the districts is the Soil Conservation Service. SCS provides a district conservationist for each district to help carry out conservation programs.

The scope of the Soil Conservation Service program has expanded since establishment 40 years ago. And the Soil and Water Conservation Districts have grown beside it, bringing better life and future to everyone.

It doesn't take much imagination to see how effective the conservation program has been, these 40 years. The face of the land in Hall County has been molded and shaped into unbelievable patterns as terracing practices have been applied, creeks diverted, and some dammed up. Years ago, the thought of a bale-to-an-acre of cotton, even under ideal weather conditions, using dry-land farming methods, was undreamed of. Today, it has become a reality.

The old method of running cattle on vast, ranges has been proven as a waste of land, and today the entire cattle business is a scientific application of land use and resources to produce the largest amount of beef as economically as possible. Unsightly creeks have been diverted to lush, grassy waterways; terracing holds valuable rain water on fields to allow deepest penetration, and flood dams have been built, and more are being planned, here in this county.

The value of the work done by the local district, has no dollar and cents tag, but generations upon generations of future citizens may look back and realize that their forefathers loved them enough that they made sacrifices to preserve the only really valuable thing in Hall County, the soil and water.

Let us all be concerned. But let us feel good knowing that those who are seeing after our land are doing an outstanding job, and are receiving recognition for the fine job they are doing.

We add our congratulations to the conservation district and to the SCS technicians for their efforts and dedication. May all their terraces run parallel, their water project clear and pure, and seeding come up green.

PRAISING FARM INSTABILITY

Perhaps It's Asking too much to expect frail humanity not to be selfish, to put first the common good. Perhaps we must learn to live with it when the consumer thinks only of low prices at the food store — to heck with the farmer and his problems.

Perhaps we must not be surprised when the farmer cares little about the problems of labor, when everybody thinks only of his own little world.

But We Are Puzzled when we note a suicide tendency when a segment of the economy is so altruistic that it literally advocates "laying" down its life" for the other fellow.

Kenneth Frick, administrator of the ASCS, recently told the USDA's grain advisory committee that "a few of us going broke each year is one of the most healthy things there is." He was speaking of course, of farmers and other agriculturists.

When queried about his statement Frick not only admitted saying it but elaborated, saying, "bankruptcies tend to keep the remaining farmers efficient to the benefit of consumers."

There Is No Reason why we should be shaken up over Frick's attitude. This has been the outspoken philosophy of the USDA ever since Earl Butz took charge, and the unspoken philosophy prior to that when Clifford Hardin was in charge.

More than a decade ago, when a new administration at USDA was attempting to clear away the wreckage and dispose of the surpluses built up by the Ezra Benson Administration, the same basic philosophy was espoused by Charlie Shuman who was fighting the federal farm programs.

Shuman said, "Economic laws... are as truly God-given as are the great truths that have been recorded and demonstrated in the Bible... When we turn to government to negate economic truth, and to avoid adjustments that are demanded by changing conditions, we are, in reality, rejecting God's law in favor of man's law."

Frick, Butz and Shuman were all saying the same thing — that farmers must "adapt or die."

The Same Basic philosophy — that instability in the market place is a great thing because it forces adjustments on farmers, which always includes a few bankruptcies, was also expounded by Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Clayton Yeuter at an ASCS conference at Lake Tahoe in February.

Yeuter didn't praise bankruptcies. But he charged past farm programs with having been "a source of stability — and highly expensive rigidity — for 40 years." And he defended instability of markets as the best governor or guide for production, saying that "market incentives are likely to be much more cost-effective" in getting adjustments of production.

Yeuter didn't praise bankruptcies. But he charged past farm programs with having been "a source of stability — and highly expensive rigidity — for 40 years." And he defended instability of markets as the best governor or guide for production, saying that "market incentives are likely to be much more cost-effective" in getting adjustments of production.

"Instability plays an important role in encouraging efficiency throughout the economy," he said. He opposed even trying to put limits on instability, contending that it would have to be done worldwide and no one has power to do so. (U. S. program in the past shielded the domestic markets with import quotas and export subsidies).

It Just Happens that, contrary to Yeuter's advice and the Frick-Butz view that instability and bankruptcies are a good thing, the big steel industry, auto manufacturers, the oil industry, the farm machinery industry and numerous others have found ways to achieve some stability of prices and income and defy what Shuman contended was "God's law."

They price their production. Their prices skyrocket sometimes, but no one can remember when their prices fell 50 per cent in a few months, like cattle have fallen, or even 25 per cent to 40 per cent like grains have fallen.

A Recent Editorial in the Wall Street Journal castigated Congress for passage of the emergency farm bill which is a gesture in the right direction but is far from what agriculture needs.

It lauded Butz and Company for killing the farm program. It opposed the principle of reserves and was bitter towards subsidizing farmers to keep them solvent. (As we have instated before, it is the public being subsidized and not the farmer; however, that is an issue to be discussed on some other occasion).

We Fail To See the consistency. There are those perfectly willing to accept a tax rebate on 1974 taxes, a cut in 1975 taxes, to stimulate buying and pull us out of a slump when there is no revenue to share, when admittedly such acts could boost the budget deficit from $50 to $100 million... but they are unalterably opposed to paying a just obligation to the farmer!

In the first place, no one argues that the people necessarily deserve a tax rebate, a tax cut, or a handout from Washington in the form of revenue sharing. Such proposals aren't an attempt to play Santa Claus, they're attempts to stimulate the economy.

But in the second instance, bring the farmer's income up to cost of production through a subsidy is nothing more than simple justice, good business, placing agriculture on a par with common laborers, garbage collectors! A farm subsidy and a tax rebate shouldn't even be mentioned in the same breath. The only justification for a tax rebate is the overall effect it may have on the economy, in avoiding a depression.

Guaranteeing a farmer cost of production also tends to stimulate the economy as does the tax rebate. But more important, it pays the farmer what any man deserves and is another way of compelling

There is always hope," State Representative Phil Cates said in a message to the 10 county district. Notaries Public To Apply With County Clerk

Texas Secretary of State Mark White today announced that all presently commissioned Notaries Public desiring re-appointment for the new term which begins June 1, 1975 and ends June 1, 1977, must pay the required fee and file a new oath and bond with the County Clerk between May 1, 1975 and May 15, 1975, inclusive.

Secretary White further stated that any person not now a Notary Public who desires appointment for the beginning of the new term on June 1, 1975, should apply to the County Clerk before April 30, 1975. The required application forms may be obtained from the County Clerk.

Mr. White emphasized that Notaries Public should not send requests for appointment or for commissions directly to the Secretary of State as the new specifically provides that the County Clerk approve Notary Bonds and forward copies of the application to the Secretary of State.

Sam Putts Makes Hole-In-One . . . Unbelievable?

Sam Putts of Dalhart, was in Memphis Saturday, and during his visit here he decided to play a round of golf. He didn't bring his sticks or his shoes, so he borrowed some.

Shod with golf shoes borrowed from John Lemons, and playing with Club Manager Doug Wards clubs, he attacked the Memphis Country Club golf course with three other fellows, Mutt Wansley, Darryl Collins, and Clyde Smith.

Sam was having his usual luck on the course, things just were not going his way, until he came to the No. 8, par 3 hole, playing about 160 yards.

He teed up for a five-iron shot to the green. He swung at the ball, and according to men playing with him, he hit a "worm burner" shot (real low) and the ball rolled and bounced its way toward the green.

To the amazement of everyone, the ball rolled onto the green straight for the cup and in it went for a hole-in-one. This was a first for Sam Putts. He was so thrilled he made plans to attend the Club's Invitational Tournament set for Memorial Weekend, the last of May.

The ace didn't particularly help his overall score on the round, but it gave him a golfing tale we are sure he is telling residents of Dalhart this week. They probably aren't believing it though.

Mrs. Barbara Stuart and children, Larry Allen, Jr., Rhonda and Danny and Mrs. Vera Stuart and granddaughter, Paveyn Harris, all of Lamar, Colo., came on March 28 for the Easter holidays with Dorothy Boren and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Stuart and sons, Jim and Timothy of Hale Center also visited with his cousins, Mrs. Dorothy Boren and Robert Allen Hodges and family and aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hodges until April 2. First National Of Memphis IS Having A "Penny - Hunt"

Prizes For The Winners

There is no shortage of the pesky little things . . . In the past 16 years 70 billion ordinary Lincoln head pennies (none of them collectors items) have been minted . . . but some people in this vast land of ours are holding out over 30 BILLION PENNIES.

The U. S. Treasury Department will, of course, continue minting more and more to replace the coins thrown into dresser drawers, shoe boxes, piggy banks, cookie jars, and wishing wells, but that takes extra energy, precious natural resources, and costs "US" all in useless inflation.

But . . . If we could just get you to get your children to get on the trail of those hidden coins . . . (like Detectives out of the Missing Pennies Bureau) and release those 30 billions of kidnapped coppers . . . well, then!

It's only the plain common cents we're after, and it only makes plain common sense to find them. Recirculating the old coppers saves U. S. from digging new copper . . . and it's been our experience that the best of copper-diggers have been the youngest generation.

If your children would become our official retrievers, pennywise, and bring in those unused and usually unwanted coins, the government will save YOU millions of dollars. (How's that for a switch?)

All pennies should be turned in to Jo Morris or Phyllis Dale along with the age and address of the entrant. The contest will start April 14th and will continue through May 16th. Three prizes will be awarded to the children that have brought in the most pennies: FIRST PRIZE will be a Series E Bond; SECOND PRIZE will be a $10.00 Savings Account; and THIRD PRIZE will be a $5.00 Savings Account.

Each depositor insured to $40,000

BYRON BALDWIN

Richard Ellis had as his guests in Hall County Heritage Hall the past week, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Ellis from Thayne, Wyoming, and Mildred (Ellis) Cook of Shallowater. Clifford is the son of the late Tommy Ellis who was a brother of Sil, father of Richard, and Mildred Cook, the sister of Richard. The J. T. Ellis family moved to the Plaska Community in the early 1920's. J. T. passed away in 1946. There were 7 children in this family. The ones now living are: Nannie Bell, Ruth and Charlie. The Tommy Ellis family moved from Hall County to California in 1934 and Clifford lived in California until 1972. He has lived in Wyoming the past three years. He has one son and one daughter. Clifford's mother (now deceased) was Lara Alford. Clifford's wife, Hemen, was reared in Iowa. Clifford attended school at Indian Creek and Lodge. Mildred (Ellis) Cook was born on the D. S. Peden farm in 1924 and she remembered that Dr. Stidham brought her into this world. She attended school at Lodge and graduated from MHS in 1941. She attended a business college in Lubbock where she met and married Jack Cook. They have two daughters and four grandchildren. She remembered one of her teachers who taught her mother, Clara Reagan, at Pleasant Valley and taught her at Plaska and then taught Richmond in the Memphis schools. Mildred and Richard have a sister, Oleta, who married Robert L. Barnett of Lakeview and they are living in Lubbock. This was Clifford's wife's first trip to Texas from Iowa. She made the comment that Texas was very interesting and awful wide. They all were very complimentary of Hall County Heritage Hall.

I met Russell McClure a few days ago at the post office with his dad. The first time I had seen this young fellow in several years, and I could think back many years when he was a soda fountain operator where he served several thousand Cokes to Hall County people. He has lived in Midland for the past several years, and he is still just 20 years younger than I am!

I noticed some of the directors of the First State Bank walking around the lobby. I found out the past week what they were up to. With a lot of new paneling and glass, they now have the president and vice president behind glass. They looked good behind glass! They are not as pretty as hot house plants, but they need to be taken care of so they can take care of us.

Mrs. Jean Lamb had as her guest in Heritage Hall, her daughter, Mrs. Wm. A. Buchanan of Las Cruces, N. M. Mrs. Buchanan will be remembered by her schoolmates as Evelyn Lamb who graduated from MHS in 1935. She married William Buchanan in 1938. He was with the Soil Conservation office here. They moved from here to Montana and have lived in Deming, Tucumcari and Las Cruces. They have three sons and one daughter. Two of their children have married, and they have two grandchildren. Mrs. Lamb moved with her parents, the late G. H. Jeffersons, to Hall County in 1907. The other children of Mrs. Lamb all graduated from MHS and all are now living. Two of them are now living in Memphis, Mildred, who graduated in 1931, who is Mrs. Joe Morthershed (they have two children) and Mrs. Jo Carmen, who graduated in 1943. She has two children and she is County Tax Assessor - Collector for Hall County. Creed Lamb graduated from MHS in 1949 and is now living in McLean where he is a mortician. He and his wife have four children. The other daughter is Imogene who graduated from MHS in 1938. She is now Mrs. A. L. Dewlin. They are now living in South Africa after living in Amarillo for a number of years.

Al Dewlin has been a very successful writer, and I imagine he finds plenty to write about in Africa. There are plans in the making for an all-out Bicentennial MHS Homecoming of all graduates. Contact Hubert Dennis and Mildred Stephens for this occasion on Saturday before Easter in 1976. Start early and make your plans.

Aubrey Robertson had his guest in Heritage Hall last Saturday, his nephew, Ernie Robertson of Germany, where he is now serving in the Army for Uncle Sam. He was on leave to the States for a short time. Ernie is the son of the late Dewitt, who passed away in California in 1965. Dewitt was the son of the late Loyd Robertson and Mrs. Robertson. He had four children living in Oklahoma, Miss. and in West Germany. Ernie attended school in Lakeview in 1936 and 1964. He was very complimentary of the Heritage Hall displays. He plans to start back to school to complete his education after he serves his time in the Army. Thanks to Aubrey for his contribution to Heritage Hall. The Robertson family I have known includes five generations over the last 68 years.

W. S. McQueen had as his guests in Hall County Heritage Hall, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Selle of Tecumseh, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. Van McGuire of Dallas. Mrs. Selle will be remembered as Ruth Lee McQueen, daughter of the late John and Mrs. McQueen of Memphis. Ruth was born in Hall County where Dr. Ballew brought her into this world. She attended school at Harrell Chapel, Newlin and Memphis. She was married to T. R. Selle by Rev. L. J. Crawford in 1935. They have one son and three daughters and 10 grandchildren. Mrs. Van McGuire will be remembered as Imogene McQueen who was named for Imogene King. She was born in Clarendon where Dr. Jenkins brought her into the world. She attended school at Harrell Chappell, Newlin and Memphis and married Van in 1943 with Rev. Sid Martin officiating. They have four daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. McQuire's home is in Lamesa but they have spent the past two years at Buckner Orphans Home parents where there are about 500 children and adults living. Iris Smith, daughter of Felix Smith who lived East of Memphis, married John McQueen who moved to Hall County in 1896. They have three sons and three daughters, all now living. John passed away in 1949. I have known 5 generations of the McQueen family also. The first generation I knew lived on South 7th Street in 1907. In my many years of working in a retail dry goods store, I sold several hundred diapers for the McQueen babies as they arrived. I think there are now 3 generations of this family living in Memphis.

These college kids come and go and grow whiskers, long hair and have Clark Gable upper lips; and sometimes, I do not recognize them. I did not recognize Dale Coleman from Hardin-Simmons in Abilene the past week. Dale has matured into manhood very quickly. Another one of our youngsters I recognized the past week was Mark Bradshaw who left here about 10 weeks ago for the Coast Guard assignment in California. After his training in California, he is on his way to Cape May, New Jersey, where he will board a search and rescue ship. In that new uniform he had the appearance of a high Coast Guardsman. Best wishes to him.

One of our former Hall County boys, R. Keith Parks, is the Baptist Board's secretary for missions in Southeast Asia and his relief work is centered in Saigon and Nhatrang. Even with extra $250,000 turned to him, he is having a hard time trying to direct the food travel for missionaries and refugees. Keith will be remembered here by many of you as the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Parks who moved to Arkansas from here several years ago. Keith is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lofland and he is a cousin of Mrs. O. M. Gunstream. Keith's father is now deceased and his mother lives in Dandville, Ark. Hall County boys have covered a lot of territory to help the world to be a better place to live.

Well, guess regardless to age you can still have hope. I noticed an article in last Sunday's Dallas News about Frisky Walter C. Jones who celebrated his 103rd birthday last Saturday in Tacoma, Washington. He climbed a tree despite protests, just to "prove" you are never too old to do what you want. Later this month, he will begin a tour of the United States in his motor home, earning his way by giving magic shows. He did not give me ambition to climb a tree or put on a show. I noticed that the tallest free standing structure in the world now is Toronto's Canadian National tower, which is 1815 ft. and 5 inches. The man climbing to the top of this without safety belt must have been real steady and sure-footed.

You can get in some of the coffee breaks in Memphis and get wise just listening. A few days ago I heard this fish story from Mrs. J. M. Ferrel about she and J. M. and also Mr. and Mrs. Davis which was a really good story and sounded like they had real good luck with yo yo's. Anyway, this fish story kept getting bigger and bigger until the last time I heard it, (I am not sure who told it) that they caught a 24 lb. channel cat on 2 yo yo's. I did not know you could catch with a yo yo, but I heard J. M. say it took 3 yo yo's to bring this fish in. But anyway, I heard Minnie say this fish was too large for her frying pan and J. M. and his Sunday School class would have to fry their own fish.

A very interesting article by Nene Foxhall last week was her interview with Liz Ollis, children's librarian at the Jefferson Branch of the Dallas Public Library. The heading of this article was "Patty Cake Gets Left at the School Door." "Patty had never had a book to play with as she might tear the pages." Liz Ollis advocates that even babies need books to play with and they will know how to open a book when they arrive at school, as a lot of them just know "Pat-a-Cake" when they start to school.

I talked to our Congressman Jack Hightower last Friday night and he reported that he would be flying from Vernon to Washington, D. C. Sunday afternoon, April 6. He said he was still weak and found it hard to gain strength. I talked to his mother on Sunday and she had a weak spell Saturday night when Laura Mae's daughter gave her grandmother a surprise call to tell her she was going to get married soon.

Jim Edd Wines Guest Speaker At 1913 Study Club

Members of the 1913 Study Club were entertained in the home of Mrs. Edd Hutcherson the afternoon of April 2. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Gayle Greene. While awaiting the arrival of the guest speaker, Jim Edd Wines, executive Vice-president of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce, two poems were read.

The poems, "Soliloquy" and "Autumn Fragrance" by Virginia Browder received second place ratings in the Santa Rosa poem contest. Following the poetry, Mr. Wines conducted a most interesting program by way of bringing his audience up to date as to Memphis participation in the state beautification contest.

Also, our projects to celebrate the Bicentennial Year of 1976 were explained in detail by Jim Edd. The expansion and improvement of the City Park, the promotional featuring of Bob Wills as 'King of Western Swing' and a Hall County boy who made good in the music world, and other projects were given due explanation. Series and individual Bob Wills medals were displayed.

All in all, it was a delightful afternoon topped with delicious refreshments served by the hostess to the following members: Mmes. Bill Wood, Gayle Greene, R. S. Greene, D. L. C. Kinard, F. W. Foxhall, Joe Allen Ballard, Paul Montgomery, Mac Tarver, Bray Cook, Miss Neville Wren, Helen Maddox, and Virginia Browder.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Carbell visited in the George Pierce home last Friday.

Autograph Party For Donley County History Is Slated for April 20

By Virginia Browder

At long last, the history of Donley County, several years in the making, will come off the press this month. Cleverly titled, "Donley County: Land O' Promise" will be published on the threshold of this country's Bicentennial celebration upcoming in 1976.

Authorized by Virginia Browder, a member of a pioneer Donley Co., family, this county history will be presented at an autograph party sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Simmons, Sunday afternoon, April 20th, in the lobby of The Farmers State Bank in Clarendon from 2 to 5 p.m.

The publication of this book by the Nortex Press of Quannah has been unavoidably delayed. Both the publisher and author hope it will prove worth the waiting. This collector's first edition of the Donley County History will have a dark green and gold cloth hard-back binding with a clear milar dust jacket.

Numbering some 328 pages with scores of unpublished early-day photographs, pen-and-ink sketches by the late Harold Bugbee, Otho Stubbs of Turkey, and 'Butch' Hancock of Clarendon, it promises to make interesting reading. The colorful story cover the days of the Comanche and Comanchero, the rancher, and later the farmer and settlers, towns, and communities that were part and parcel of the makings of Donley County. Ranch families, circuit-riders, school teachers, and merchants all play a part in this saga of yesterday.

"Donley County: Land O' Promise" is number 14 in a series of county histories published by the Nortex Press. However, this edition will be the first to contain the new Nortex Press emblem identifying it as a Bicentennial Publication. Copies of this book can be had for the pre-publication price of $12 from the Clarendon Press through Friday, April 18. However, on the day of the autograph party it will be sold for the regular retail price of $15.00

Scout Pageant To Be April 12 In Pampa, Texas

The Adobe Walls Council of the Boy Scouts of America will present a Bicentennial Pageant in the form of a Scout Circus.

It will be held at the M. K. Brown Auditorium in Pampa, Texas at 7:15 p.m. on April 12.

Scouts from all over the Oklahoma Panhandle and the Eastern half of the Texas Panhandle will be included.

Costumed scouts will present simultaneous demonstrations of historical events, frontier crafts, scouting skills, and youth development activities.

Tickets are $1.00 and may be purchased from any scout. Local scouts in your area will be competing for a multitude of prizes plus a percentage of each ticket sold goes to the local unit.

Support scouting by purchasing a ticket and attending this pageant, on Saturday.

Internal Revenue Service Says Deadline Is Here

Amarillo — About the time the New Year's Day football games are entertaining us on TV, April seems to be a long way off. But like everything else, that day has crept up on us and is now only a week away. Ronald Archer, administrative officer in charge of the Amarillo office of the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) is probably as aware of this as anyone in the state right now.

"The time for filing tax returns is now," Archer said today. "Most taxpayers have long since sent in their returns, and in fact almost one half million North Texans have already received refunds due them. But quite a few still have to file, and I'd just like to remind them about the deadline.

To help those last-minute filers the IRS will be extending its taxpayer service hours during the closing days of the filing season. The Amarillo IRS office, which is normally open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., will be staying open an additional two hours, until 6:30 p.m., on April 15, the last day of the filing season. In addition, the IRS toll-free phone lines will be open all day Saturday, April 12, until 6 p.m. on April 14 and until 9 p.m. on April 15. The toll-free tax assistance phone number is 800-482-4830.

Archer said the IRS is confident that the great majority of people will file on time. He said, however, that the later in the filing season a return is filed the greater the chance of delay-causing errors. The extended taxpayer service hours, he hopes, will help people avoid the last-minute guesses and inaccuracies that will cost them time and possibly money.

Primary Bill Advanced

A presidential preference primary bill won Senate approval—but as a one-time-only measure, to expire in March 1977.

The bill (HB 679) went back to the House and into conference committee for certain revision.

COURTS SPEAK

The Third Court of Civil Appeals took under consideration (after hearing oral arguments) Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's appeal from an injunction blocking a $45 million long distance rate increase.

Court of Criminal Appeals reversed a murder conviction of a man who claimed a five-year-old boy left in his care died of an accidental head injury while doing "flips."

An Abilene man won a new trial on burglary charges because the trial judge refused to instruct jurors on possible probation.

AG OPINIONS

Atty. Gen. John Hill held the Texas Constitution permits a statute providing for abolition of county school superintendent's offices on a local option basis.

In the same opinion, Hill said a school superintendent may not resign his position and terminate the operation of his office.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

A bill providing for cancellation of Texas Opportunity Plan Loans of students who work for certain agencies after getting doctorate degrees in medicine or psychology is constitutional.

Welfare Department files on child abuse investigations are not subject to disclosure under the Open Records Act.

Information on teachers and their numbers of children in high and average high math and reading groups should be made public on demand.

A state university's group insurance contract is also public.

REDDY'S HELPFUL FREEZER TIPS

Lock in flavors: Use moisture and vapor-proof materials especially designed for freezers to wrap your foods. Tightly sealed, these lock in flavor and moisture and prevent "freezer burn" (surface drying) on foods. Don't use wax paper, bread paper or regular cellophane for freezer foods.

Label packages: Date and identify freezer packages so (1) you don't accumulate a lot of mysterious shapes and (2) you'll be able to pick out foods that have been in the freezer longest.

Take advantage of sales: Avoid overstocking with commercially frozen food that's always available; use your freezer as your own bargain counter and store foods you can buy on sale. But do allow space for short-time baked goods, leftovers and special party foods.
