"As a fourth generation rancher and businessman, I am convinced that we must get government out of the lives of our citizens and reinstall the spirit of individual initiative which made this the greatest nation in the history of the world.

"With my wife Marty and my children, Grant, Carl and Janice at my side, I am totally committed to this task and together we will face the challenge before us. With the guidance of Divine Providence and your active support I am convinced we will succeed.

"Today, because of big labor, big bureaucracy and big business we are all committed to maintaining the status quo, I must count entirely on the support of individual citizens across our District. I invite and ask your support and need citizen volunteer participation so that we can again have an active voice in the Congress, working full time for our District, Price concluded.

EDITORIAL

Attitude's The Key ... Discipline Essential!

What would be the essential ingredients to capture success? Editorials in the Intercollegiate League this past month answer this question quite clearly and the recipe would apply for all walks of life, and is an excellent lesson for all of us to learn, young and old alike.

Says Dr. Roger D. Cox, Dept. of Schools at Victoria: "The chief ingredient in any recipe for success is attitude. Through effort, interest, enthusiasm—even talent and training cannot achieve success if proper attitude is missing."

"Unfortunately, the attitude of so many people is: That's good enough—That'll do—Who will know the difference? It is an attitude that says mediocrity is acceptable. It shows no drive, no pride, no sense of value. It is contemptible attitude spawning a lack of loyalty to self and to others."

"This is another attitude which brings cataclysm of disaster from the 'mediocre' bunch. It is seen in those who strive to do a better job—to render better service—to improve working relationships—to increase the quality of everything they do. It is the attitude of excellence."

"Athletic teams never win championships until they produce excellence. Music or drama groups cannot thrill an audience with mediocrity. Scholarship is not obtained with a 'get by' attitude."

"Mediocrity bores. Excellence in any field, excites. The choice belongs to each of us."

However, attitude is not all that is necessary for success. With it must come discipline and dedication of purpose. The U. S. L. second editorial opens with this: "You have to go a long way these days to find a job as difficult as the one of the high school coach."

"There was a day when there was a particular and unique kind of glamor attached to the position—even if you weren't always a winner, and even if there was little if any extra pay. You were the coach, and you were something special in your school and community."

"Today the pay by comparison is terrific but the challenge of the times has clouded the profession—or the vocation—of the coach. He is no longer something special because the basic principles of athletics have changed—and he is characterized as being out of step with the world of today."

"Coaching high school athletics, first of all and above all, demands discipline. You are not going to get the job done in sports without discipline. Only if your boys are willing to give themselves for a cause greater than their individual and personal feelings and attitudes—which is what discipline is all about—will an athletic venture succeed."

"But 'discipline' is a naughty word in today's society. It doesn't belong because it prevents, they say, the full appreciation of the individual's freedom and rights. And there is no denying that it does. Nor can it be any other way!"

"But how do you sell discipline in today's world? This is the question which makes the job of the coach so difficult."

"The coach isn't always getting the support of the parents in his efforts largely because so many parents either think they aren't able to cope with the boy's attitudes or because they simply haven't cared through his growing years to try to cope and to try to lead and guide him."

"The coach isn't getting the kind of support he needs from his fellow teachers largely because the field is infiltrated with the younger generation instructors who preach the doctrine of individual freedom by word and deed."

"The coach isn't getting the support of his administration largely because the administration is directly responsible to the school board and the school board in our democratic society is the people—and the people by and large look at athletics as not important enough to sacrifice the easy way of freedom for the hard road of discipline."

"And so the coach must look elsewhere for help, and that's exactly what he is doing. He is looking to former athletes, to the members of the news media, to those parents and people who still care enough and who know that the only real freedom is a disciplined and responsible freedom."

"The coach knows and believes in athletics as a builder or boys into men. And the good coach won't sacrifice discipline as the foundation on which to do his building. He'd rather forget about coaching than forget about discipline. And he may as well because without discipline there is no athletics worth teaching to the high school boy."

If this bit of advice strikes a note, the reader should realize it was written for a Bulletin of the Maine Association of Principals of Secondary Schools.

What Other Editors Say

SIMPLE SOLUTION TO COMPLEX PROBLEM

Most everyone, in a general sort of way, would like to see government spending reduced. . . .

With so change in spending level, the simple continuation of existing Federal programs in fiscal year 1977 will cost $404.5 billion.

That is too large a figure for any of us even to comprehend, especially when we remember that there are only 225 million of us!

While we can't comprehend the magnitude of this amount, perhaps we do have a sense of proportion. If we whack off the nose, we will have $404.59, a figure which perhaps we can understand.

Of the amount, $160.29 would be spent for "income security" which includes social security benefits, $84.59; Federal employee retirement and disability, $33.39; unemployment insurance, $13.40; supplemental security income, $5.36; public assistance, $1.29; food stamps, $7.39; and child nutrition and other food programs, $5.19.

National defense, including military personnel, $24, retired military personnel, $7.59, operation and maintenance and development, $18.19, military construction and assistance, $1.10, totals $49.17 to become the second largest item in the budget.

Health, including medicine, medical, research, totals $27.79.

Education, manpower and social services, including elementary, secondary, vocational and higher education, totals $12.41.

Commerce and transportation, which includes Federal aid to highways, mass transit, air transportation, and the postal service, comes in for $18.19.

Veterans benefits and services total $18.

Natural resources, environment and energy, which includes energy development, pollution control, TVA, takes a $24.29 bite.

Revenue sharing accounts for $7.39.

International affairs, Food For Peace, foreign affairs, export-import bank, international development takes $4.41.

Community and regional development, including urban renewal, community development, takes $4.29.

General science, space and technology, including space research, manned space flights, general science and basic research, accounts for $4.91.

General government, including legislative functions and central fiscal operations, accounts for $2.59.

Law enforcement and Justice cost $1.39.

And agriculture accounts for $1.29.

About 84% of the $404.59 represents deficit spending which means that it must be borrowed and at a rather high rate of interest.

Almost all of the largest expenditures, income security, is non-productive. It contributes nothing to the GNP. Workers chip in so much each week or month to pay a pension to retired workers, hoping that other workers will do the same for them when they too reach retirement age. Unemployment insurance in a sense is also sound, although non-productive.

Second major item is national defense with principal items the rather high income which is the price of a volunteer army, operation and maintenance of the war machine, and, of all things, Procurement!

Most all of the items have merit — so far as those affected are concerned.

To the aged, medicine and medical care is important.

To the veterans, particularly the disabled, veterans benefits must be kept in the budget.

To those concerned with education at all levels, Federal assistance is a must.

All are concerned with the problems of transportation and the postal service.

All are concerned with law enforcement and crime prevention.

Research in the area of space and energy are important.

We cut all cite specific items which we would reduce or delete altogether—but in most instances, if we deleted them altogether, it wouldn't be a drop in the bucket so far as the total picture is concerned.

This is one of the last museums in the nation, probably is at the top of the list for museums his side, yet there are many Panhandle residents who have never been there.

We stopped last year at the Helium Monument in Amarillo for the first time. It is a big tourist attraction on interstate 40 and there is a visitors center there with lots of interesting information.

We have never been to the Allhates Quarry near Burger but plan to make that trip this summer.

The people who live here don't think we have much to see and we all drive a long distance for ordinary events. But we could spend some interesting time in visiting things like the museum in Canadian, the Adobe Walls site in Hutchinson county, even the Buried City site in our own Ochiltree county.

There are more things to visit right around home than most of us think there are.

out of Estelline to Plainview when the F.W. & D.C. built this branch to the Plains. On this particular day, riding the train, he met a good looking young school teacher of Estelline to whom he was immediately attracted. He was introduced to this Miss Ernestine Davis and the next week, he dated Ernestine from Tuesday night through Saturday. When he fell, he fell hard, as she has been Harry. Harry Delaney for a number of years. They have one daughter, Carol Jean, who is in the music department teaching in the University of California in Sacramento, Calif. Ernestine taught school in Estelline for 4 years, two years of this time, she was thinking about taking Harry for a life companion. Before making up her mind, while Harry was courting Ernestine, she asked Mrs. Ben Prewitt if she had ever met Harry. Mrs. Prewitt replied, "Yes, I met him before Dr. Vardy got there to deliver him." I guess Dr. Vardy's horse was traveling a little slow on that sandstormy day when Harry was born. Harry has now retired from active work in the insurance business in Lubbock, but he still has a downtown desk.

So when the "Honey Do" jobs get to heavy for him, he tells his wife he has to go to the office. Harry is now doing research on his family history in different locations, in court house records and cemeteries. He found a record made by one of his great-uncles who had married twice and had 19 children and when his second wife passed away, he had a neighbor who had lost her husband and she had 8 children who needed a father. His children needed a mother, so they married and that made this great-uncle the father of 27. That was the highest record he had found so far. We missed Harry a lot as if you needed someone to sing or be on a committee or sit on a jury, he was always available.

The only jury for a murder case in district court in Hall County I can remember, Harry Delaney, Floyd Springer and Wade Hill served with me and 8 others. We enjoyed our short visit with Harry with a piece of cake and a cup of coffee. Several years ago he told me of a trick one of the Foxhall boys pulled on him in his courtin days.

I guess one reason I am not too crazy about bananas now was an incident that happened in the J. L. Barnes Grocery store on the east side of the square in the 30's. One Saturday night with a new stalk of bananas hanging in the store, Harry's father, Tom C., made me a proposition on eating bananas. The one that could eat the most did not have to pay, but the one who was in the low count would have to pay for what both ate. Anyway, Tom was eating on his 11th and I was on my 12th when he mumbled to me, "This is all I can hold. You go ahead and eat the 13th and it will make the even two dozen and I will pay off." I did eat the 13th and Tom paid off the 30c, but he never challenged me again and I am glad he did not.

The resignation of C. H. Murphy of the First Baptist Church brought many memories back since I enrolled in this church Sunday School 68 years ago in the frame building on South 7th Street. This church was organized in 1890 in the A. L. Thrasher Blacksmith Shop on the corner of 7th and Main Streets by Bro. J. W. Brice and 14 other charter members. Bro. Brice was the first pastor 1891 - 1894. There have been 23 pastors of this church since it was organized in 1890. I have known 17 of the 23. The first pastor I remember was S. R. Garruth who was here from 1905 to 1908. Fern Miller served here for almost 12 years, which was almost twice as long as any other pastor in the 86 years of the church. C. H. Murphy, the 23rd pastor, has served over 5 years. When I met each of the 17 pastors, I would think this one looks like he should be a merchant. Another would have the appearance of a senator and on down the line sliding them up as an undertaker, musician, artist, traveling salesman, promoter, public relations man or doctor or lawyer, but they all turned out to be preachers. I have told a few of them my thoughts, but I have not mentioned to C. H. what I sized him up for (besides a preacher). Anyway, we hate to lose this family from our community. They have been a blessing to so many people in all denominations. May the Good Lord bless and keep this family in Friona and every place they make their home in God's work.

PARTIAL MAP OF HALL COUNTY

In memories of the first frame building that was our meeting place at the corner of Cleveland and 7th Street, with the hitching posts where we hitched our horse that gave power to the fringe top surrey — At that time, you could hear the wolves howling on the edge of our city Sunday mornings, but the sound of the church bells ringing over town would drown out the wolves' howl.

I remember that we were really up-to-date. The contract was let to Courtney Denny and Rufus Randal to wire the church for electric lights for the contract price of $25. This expansion job did not take so very much electric energy as there were just a few drop cords with one light globe on each drop, and that was when the church quit buying large boxes of matches. I think Courtney Denny was the first young man from Memphis to go away to college to study electrical engineering.

In the passing away of Oscar Maddox a few days ago, I thought of when he was operating the Miller and Miller freight line in Memphis. He was a man who with big sons handled freight very careful as if it belonged to him in checking the cartons and for damages with prompt delivery. He was a hard worker and taught his sons to work.

Well, the humming bird has been flying around again and telling what he knew. The big bird is going to make a delivery in Richardson, Texas in the spring for the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs.

NOTICE OF INFORMAL PUBLIC MEETING TO CONSIDER IMPROVEMENTS OF U. S. HIGHWAY 287 THROUGH THE CITY OF ESTELLINE HALL COUNTY

The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation is planning the improvement of U. S. Highway 287, extending from 1.0 mile Northwest of the Childress County Line to 2.0 miles Northwest, through the City of Estelline in Hall County.

An informal public meeting will be held in the Estelline High School Auditorium at 7:00 p.m., on Tuesday, March 2, 1976, in Estelline. The purpose of this meeting is to discuss the need and requirements for the construction of two additional travel lanes on the above described section of highway to provide a 4-lane facility.

All interested persons are urged to attend and express their views concerning this improvement project. Social, economic and environmental aspects will be considered. Right of way requirements and the State's relocation assistance programs and relocation plans, services for displaced, and information concerning the relocation assistance office will be discussed.

Any questions concerning this informal meeting may be directed to the office of Mr. Arville Coyle, Supv. Resident Engineer, or Mr. Lewis H. White, District Engineer, State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, P. O. Box 909, Childress, Texas 79201. 39-2c

Adrian Odom and Mr. and Mrs. Coy Beckham.

The past week Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Odom gave me a clipping from the Denver, Colo., Post, mailed them by their daughter, Jo Ann, who has been teaching in Colorado for several years. This clipping gave the account of the death of Ex-Governor of Colorado Dan Thornton. Dan, a relative of Ruby Thornton and Ed Hutcherson, was born in Hall County in 1911, the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Thornton who lived on the Lee Thornton farm southeast of Memphis. Ed remembered when he visited in this home. Dan's first education started at Salisbury, where he made the daily walk (no school buses then). Hall County has been blessed in our schools of starting a number of young men to help solve the problems of the world and Dan is one of them. He attended Texas Tech 1932-34. He worked his way through U.C.L.A. as a day movie extra and an attendant at a service station at much lower wages. He served as state senator and two terms as governor of Colorado. He also was a large ranch operator near Gunnison, Colo. His Hereford cattle were called the "Triumph Type." At one time, Dan was 4-H Club President of Texas. We never know what and who will come out of our Hall County schools. Thanks to Jo Ann for the information.

Maudie Whitley had as visitors the past Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Watters Fain of Canyon. Mrs. Fain will be remembered by her schoolmates as Hilgen Feld, who graduated from MHS in 1935. Hilgen is a niece of Mrs. Whitley and was reared in Wellington and she married Watters Fain in 1936. He was reared in Wellington, also. They have three daughters and nine grandchildren. They have lived in Canyon the past 28 years.

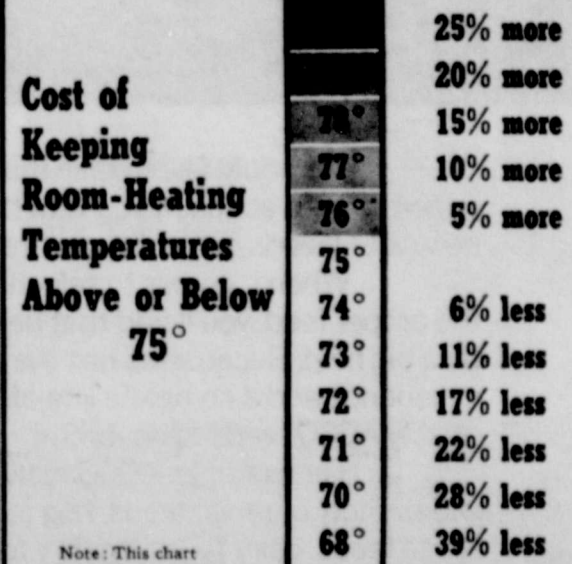

(Quote) "Thank God every morning that you have something to do, whether you want to or not."

Had a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Candler Hawkins a few days ago of Houston, where their three children and families live. They opened my eyes on what a big town they were living in. With these four families, they live on a straight line on the map in Houston of 35 miles from No. 1 to No. 4. In other words, the ones on the end of this line would have to travel 35 miles to make the visit in the same town. That is a lot of city!

MHS Ex-Student Assn. Makes Plans For Annual Reunion and Banquet in April

After several years of being inactive, the Memphis High School Ex-Student Association was re-organized last year at the annual banquet in the spring. Plans are being made to hold the annual festivities this year on April 16 and 17, it was announced this week.

State Comptroller Releases Names Of Delinquents

AUSTIN — Comptroller Bob Bullock released the names Wednesday of 283 delinquents in his Amarillo district against whom the state has court judgments for back sales taxes totaling $435,292.21.

"This isn't a debt to a bureaucracy," said Bullock. "This is money these delinquents owe the taxpayers of this state. Every penny of it was collected from taxpayers who thought it was going to their state and city government. Instead, it went into somebody's pocket."

Statewide, he said, there are 6,500 persons with sales tax judgments against them totaling $12.5 million.

The Comptroller said he is sending every newspaper, television and radio station in the state a list of those delinquents in their area who have state judgments against them. The information is all public record, he said.

"They didn't start owing this yesterday, either," he said. "This is money we spent months trying to collect before going to court."

"Sure, it's going to embarrass some folks and make them mad", Bullock said. "But I'd rather have 6,500 red-faced delinquents coming into our district offices to pay up, grumbling all the while, than to have the other 11 million citizens of this state mad at me for letting this debt to them continue to gather dust."

He said many of the judgments are more than a decade old, and the delinquents named may have left the state. "But many of them are still living in their communities, ignoring our demands for payment, confident nothing will happen," he said.

Bullock reported only a few of the delinquents paid up in response to a recent mailing, and their names were deleted from the list. Others, he said, responded by sending in partial payments, which were deducted.

"But some of those partial payments were paltry — like $20 on an $11,000 judgment," he said. "That's not going to cut it. We want it all back."

Those in this county according to the State Comptroller are: Farmers Butane Co-Op, Lakeview ($565.29); Ruben Lopez, Memphis ($334.17); Winnie Ruth Harper, Memphis ($318.40); Pat McGinty, Turkey ($456.76).

This Family Feels Happy

COLLEGE STATION — Families have feelings and show them, Roberta Dix, a family life education specialist, points out.

"Like individual people, a family's emotional climate reflects the day's ups and downs. A bad day for one person may affect everyone. And an exceptionally good day for another member can change the dismal mood of the whole family," she explained.

Miss Dix is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

She said that children and adults alike reflect the moods, attitudes and feelings of the family members. These reflections are good. They keep individuals in tune with their own feelings and help live up situations that have turned sour.

"Walking into a room where you can feel a lot of tension, try catching someone's eye and smiling. Shortly you will see your reflection — the person you smiled at is smiling too," she said.

Family security strengthens when members use emotions in a positive way. Reach out to sisters, brothers and parents with emotional energy.

"For example, if you feel very good, share your good feelings by complementing your mother's fantastic meal, your sister's sweet

Elliott-Browning Nuptial Vows Read In Pretty Church Service

On January 17, 1976 at 7:00 p.m. the chapel of the First Baptist Church, Memphis, was the setting for the candlelight service uniting in marriage Brenda Jane Elliott and Michael Lee Browning.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Elliott, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Browning, all of Memphis.

Rev. C. H. Murphy, Jr. officiated at the double ring ceremony before an arched candelabra with white cathedral tapers and greenery and baskets of white mums. The aisle was marked with votive candles, white satin bows and greenery.

Mrs. Jerry Montgomery played pre-nuptial selections and the traditional wedding march. She also accompanied Mrs. C. H. Murphy, Jr. as she sang "If", "The Wedding Song", and "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Suzanne Elliott, sister of the bride was the only attendant. She wore a lilac polyester crepe dress fashioned with a V-neckline and empire waist. The dress was accented with white lace entwined with lilac ribbon. To complete her outfit, she wore a large picture hat of deep lilac around which was tied a lilac ribbon. She carried a nosegay of white and lilac daisies.

Serving as best man was Pablo Reyes of Weatherford, Oklahoma. Ushers were Randy Davis, Memphis, and Terry Wynn of Lubbock.

The Bride

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of silk organza with a full skirt with lace appliques scattered over the skirt. The empire waist featured a round yoke edged in lace. The sheer full sleeves had fitted lace cuffs with small button closure.

The bride wore a Juliet cap from which fell her long mantilla veil bordered with wide lace. She carried a bouquet of white roses with carnations and baby's breath atop a white Bible.

She carried out the traditional custom of "something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue with a sixpence in her shoe. The something old was a gold necklace belonging to her mother as a child; something new her bridal outfit; something borrowed was diamond stud earrings; and something blue was her blue garter. The penny in her shoe was the penny used by her mother on her wedding day.

Mrs. Elliott chose for her daughter's wedding a dress and jacket of coral polyester accented with a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Browning, the groom's mother, wore a tan dress and jacket with a corsage of white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church.

The bride's table was covered with a white satin and net cloth. The cake was a beautifully decorated three-tier cake featuring the bride's chosen colors of lilac and white, adorned with bride and groom on the top layer. The second layer featured a small fountain with cupids and wedding bells. The center piece was a large bouquet of white mums in a crystal vase. To complete the table was the crystal bunch bowl.

The reception guests were greeted by a receiving line consisting of the bride and groom and the parents of the couple.

Miss Judy Tate of Abilene and Miss Connie Miller of Memphis presided at the bride's table. Other members of the house party were Mrs. Lenis Simpson, Mrs. Ben Moss, Mrs. Les Sims, Mrs. Gaylen Ariola, Mrs. Kenneth Dale, Mrs. W. R. Scott, and Mrs. L.

Memphis Little Theatre Entertains With Guest Day: Attends Amarillo Play Sun.

By VIRGINIA BROWDER

The Members of the Memphis Little Theatre and their guests met in the Bronze Room the afternoon of January 28th. with Mmes. Bob Sexaur, Roddy Bice, and D.L.C. Kinard as hostesses for the occasion.

Each member had invited a guest to enjoy viewing a series of colored slides put together by The Smithsonian Institution of "First Ladies Gowns". The slides depicted mannikins wearing inaugural or wedding gowns which had belonged to the wives of past presidents or their near relatives. Beginning with Martha Washington the series was completed with Pat Nixon's inaugural gown.

Miss Helen Madden was gracious enough to bring her carousel projector and screen for the showing and it proved to be a delightful program apparently enjoyed by all present.

The hostesses chose to serve refreshments before the program and had used patriotic red, white, and blue paper plates on which to serve ginger bread squares and spiced apple cider. The festivities were well attended by some thirty ladies.

Another treat for fourteen members of The Little Theatre was a trip to Amarillo this past Sunday afternoon for the matinee showing of Theatre Amarillo's musical production of "George M.", the story of George M. Cohan's life in the theatre. After the show the group drove to the Rhett Butler Restaurant for dinner. The beautiful old Anderson mansion has been converted into a charming and very plush series of dining rooms with decor reminiscent of Rhett Butler and Scarlett O'-

F. Jones.

Miss Kim Wynn presided at the register to secure the names of the guests.

For a honeymoon trip to Lubbock, the bride chose for travel a blue knit pant suit by Nardis. She wore the roses from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will reside in Memphis where the groom is employed by Penny Construction Co. and the bride is employed by the First National Bank.

Rehearsal Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Browning, parents of the groom hosted the rehearsal dinner in their home on Friday evening. Those attending were members of the wedding party.

Hara in 'Gone With The Wind'. Those making up the Memphis group were: Mmes. T. M. Harrison, D. L. C. Kinard, Jim Beeson, R. S. Greene, John Deaver, Bobby Carrol, Jim Wakefield, Andy Gardenhire, Leon Helm, Harry Boswell, Clinton Voyles, and Mildred Stephens, Helen Madden, and Virginia Browder.

Mrs. Morris Davis Named President Band Booster

The Memphis Band Booster Organization held its regular monthly meeting last Monday evening, Feb. 2 at 7 p.m. The group met as usual in the Cyclone Band Hall.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Gus Orcutt. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Marion E. Posey, secretary. The treasurer, Mrs. James Chappell, gave a report of the club's current finances.

Totem containers were shown and its uses demonstrated by the director of bands, Miss Carol Blain. These are round containers with an attached lid and will hold a large or small band hat, music and some small instruments. These Totems can be stacked, nest style, and are made of extremely strong plastic type materials.

These would be used to store and transfer band hats, music and small items on band trips to cut down on equipment loss and damage especially from wind and rain. It was decided and voted upon by the booster members to purchase seventy of these totem containers for the band students use.

It was voted by the organization to schedule the Annual Band banquet to be held on Saturday evening, April 24. funds to help finance this trip. The contest there is scheduled for April 30, 31 and May 1.

The booster club also voted to pay the fee for the clinician who will come to Memphis to help prepare for ULL concert contest. This contest will be held on March 23 and 24. It is hoped that Mr. and Mrs. Fred Printess, Miss Barbara Spurberg will be able to clinic the Cyclone Band.

A TRIBUTE TO MR. TOMIE POTTS FROM A FRIEND

"A MAN'S CREED"

To live as gentle as I can,
To be, no matter where, a man;
To take whatever comes of good or ill;
To cling to faith and honor still.

To do my best and let that stand
The record of my brain and hand;
And then, should failure come to me
Still work and hope for victory.

To have no secret place wherein
To stoop unseen to shame or sin;
To be the same when I'm alone
As when my every deed is known.

To live undaunted, unafraid
Of any step that I have made.
To be without pretense or sham,
Exactly what men think I am.
