STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT UPDATE

The Texas Capitol is seven feet taller than the U.S. Capitol in Washington. Its roof is made of copper. and the cornerstone weighed eight tons in the rough.

These facts, and dozens more, are good news to Texas school-children, who every year about this time, are assigned the task of writing themes.

Perhaps, because of public ity surrounding the conveying of the new Legislative, lots of teachers have been inspired to assign the topic of the Texas Capitol.

Somehow, students know that the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation can be counted on in time of need, and they write to Austin for help.

The colorful folder they receive is one that's printed for distribution to tourists at the department's Visitor Information Center in the Capitol.

More than 20 excellent pictures are featured in the folder, from antique cannons to the modern Senate and House chambers. There 's a locator aerial view of the whole Capitol complex, floor plans of the Capitol itself, and that all-important (for theme) list of architect and historical facts about the majestic building.

To earn at least a 90 on a theme(or just for fun), write for a free copy of the Texas Capiol Guide, P.O.Box 5064, Austin,Texas 78763,

IDEAS

Helpful Information

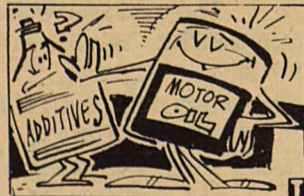

Q. Motor oil cans bear inscriptions such as SAE 10W, 20W/20, 30, 10W/40. What do these terms mean? How do I know what to buy?

A. Numbers such as SAE 10W, 20W/20, 30 or 10W/40 are Society of Automotive Engineers designations directly relating to the viscosity of a particular lubricant. The lower the viscosity, the easier the oil will flow, so you'll want, generally, a low number for cold operation, higher for warm. A "W" simply means, say experts at Gulf Oil, that the product has been tested at low temperature and is a "winter grade". A product with two designations such as 10W/40 indicates that the product is multi-viscosity. That means that when cold, the product performs like a 10W fluid, and when warmed as the engine operating temperature increases, performs like an SAE 40 product.

The Active
Consumer

Q. The little cans of motor oil additives one sees: What's in them? What do they do? Do I really need them?

A. Motor oil additives sold to be added independently to the crankcase are generally a throw-back to days when motor oil contained no additives and supplements were offered to the motoring public. Experts at Gulf Oil say that today, most well-known brands are fully fortified to perform the functions required of them within the service classification designated on the container, and additional additives should not be needed.

Information about your changing telephone service from Doyle Bebee, Community Relations Manager.

Industry changes will affect us all

The new year brings us significant changes for Southwestern Bell and the entire telecommunications industry.

As a result of a ruling by the Federal Communications Commission to introduce more competition into our industry, we are reorganizing how we provide your telephone service.

Helping you keep pace with change

As Southwestern Bell restructures and adapts to these new industry changes, you will want to know their impact on you and your telephone service. That's part of my job: keeping you informed about our plans. My duties also include recommending areas for service improvement, monitoring service problems in our area, and serving as the company's representative to our community.

While I've had the opportunity to visit with some of you about these telephone issues, it's impossible for me to speak personally to everyone. That's why I will be using this column to communicate with you. My address is listed at the end of the column. Please feel free to drop me a note anytime—I'll be glad to hear from you.

I can't guarantee that I will have all the answers or instant solutions. But I can promise that I will listen to you and help you in whatever way I can.

Most importantly, I will keep you posted on changes—local and national—that affect your telephone service.

Today's changes in telecommunications

For most customers, the FCC changes effective January 1 will have little impact. In fact, you probably won't be affected immediately unless you move, disconnect or change your service in some way. If you plan to alter your phone service, here are some areas of change you should know about.

Bell PhoneCenters

Bell PhoneCenters are no longer a part of Southwestern Bell. Now the Southwestern Bell business office is the place to call for starting, stopping, moving or changing your service. Residence customers may call (toll-free) 1+951-1100 for billing questions or orders. Business customers may call (toll-free) 1+951-7181 to place orders or 1+951-2700 for billing questions.

Telephones

Southwestern Bell will continue to lease phones to our customers. However, during this year, we will not be permitted to add new phones to our inventory.

When you order phones from us, we will direct you to the nearest Southwestern Bell Service Center to pick up your phones. If you cannot go to the Center, we will deliver the phones. There will be a charge for this service.

Business customers with a single line or two lines with non-key equipment can pick up telephones from these Centers, too.

Repair Service

We will continue to repair Southwestern Bell phones as always. If you have trouble with your phone, you still should call the repair service number listed in the front of your phone book. If the problem is in your Southwestern Bell set, we'll direct you to a Service Center where you can pick up a replacement.

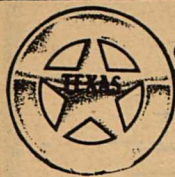

For more information about the changes, write me for a copy of our booklet, "Telecommunications in Transition." Address requests to: Transition Booklet, Southwestern Bell, P.O. Box 225265, Dallas, Texas 75265.

If you have any questions or comments to pass along, don't hesitate to contact me at the address below:

SHERIFF'S CORNER

By Norman H. Hooten

Maxie "BOBO" Morgan pled guilty to Theft charges in County Court last week and was fined $750.00 plus $69.00 Court Costs. He also received a 90 day County Jail sentence and was ordered by County Judge Albert Postel to pay $97.50 restitution to the City of Brackettville for property stolen, damaged, or destroyed by him during the commission of the crime. Morgan was recently apprehended by Chief of Police Donnie Nance and yours truly after he broke a lock off a gas storage tank behind City Hall and attempted the theft of gasoline.

A Del Rio man received a 3 day jail sentence after he was arrested by me in Del Rio on a warrant issued by Justice of the Peace, PCT. 1, Raymond Talamantez. Charges of Disorderly Conduct were filed against the man after he made vulgar, profane and improper advances to a local woman. He was released Saturday, January 22.

A San Angelo man was arrested and placed in jail last Saturday night by Highway Patrolman Buddy Burgess. The man was arrested on a Felony Theft Warrant issued by Tom Green County. He was held under $10,000.00 bond. San Angelo officers picked him up Monday and transported him back to Tom Green County to answer the charges.

The usual run of weekend DWI and Public Intoxication cases were filed and the persons charges released on bond or after they paid fines.

Wallace Morgan, retired U.S. Air Force, was recently appointed to the position of Chief of Security at Ft. Clark. Wallace is also a Reserve Deputy Sheriff with this Department and will act as liason officer between Fr. Clark Security and the Kinney County Sheriff's Department. We will work closely on incidents such as burglaries, theft cases, and other illegal activities that might occur on Ft. Clark.

I feel that this is a step in the right direction for increased law enforcement protection for our citizens who live on the Fort, and will strengthen the relations between the two departments. Mr.

Morgan has been authorized by me to use his authority as Deputy Sheriff in conjunction with his position as Chief of Security to provide faster, more efficient law enforcement protection to Ft. Clark residents.

SWTJC

Southwest Texas Junior College employed three new instructors this semester to keep pace with expanding programs and enrollment.

Joining the Licensed Vocational Nursing Program instructional staff is Marguerite Bevis of Uvalde. A 1971 graduate of Uvalde High School, Bevis holds the Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree from the University of Texas at Austin and has extensive professional experience in nursing.

She has been a nurse at St. Vincents Hospital and Bernalillo Co. Medical Center in New Mexico, and house supervisor at Uvalde Memorial Hospita.

Mrs. Carrie Nolen of San Antonio will begin teaching in SWTJC's business administration division this semester. Nolen educational background includes a B.B.A. and M.S. from Texas A&I University.

Nolen's professional experience includes a stint in real estate sales in Zionsville, Indiana from 1977 to 1980, and instructional positions at Alaska Business College in Anchorage; Eagle Union Community School in Zionsville; American Prep. Institute in Killeen, Texas; Copperas Cove I.S.D. in Copperas Cove, Texas; Perry Business College in Columbus, Georgia; and Kingsville I.S.D.

Laura A. Nester was also employed by the local college board. She will teach in the SWTJC science and math division. She graduated from D'Hanis High School in 1976, completed 33 hours credit at SWTJC, and received her bachelor's degree from Sam Houston State University, where she is currently completing a masters degree.

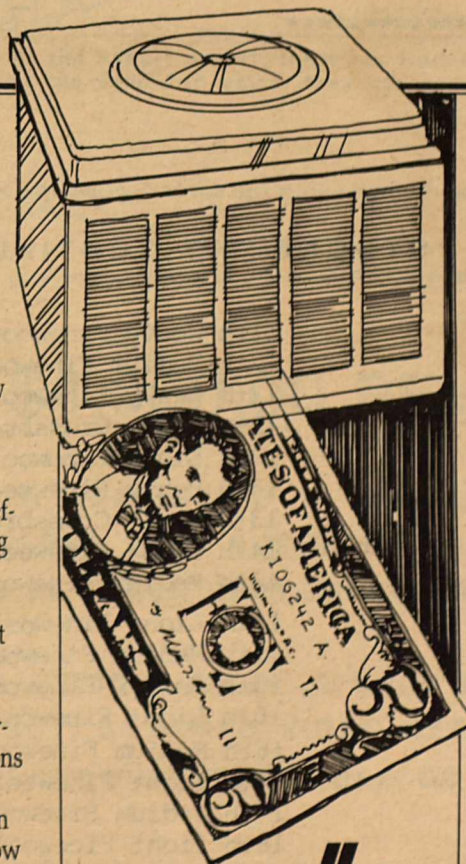

She has been an instructor at SHSU and in Uvalde C.I.S.D.

Save money with a heat pump for heating and air conditioning

You can lower your utility bills substantially by using an electric heat pump to provide the heating and cooling that account for as much as 65 to 70 percent of the electricity consumed in your home. It's a super-efficient device that should be included in any new house you build or buy. Or maybe you'll want to consider adding a heat pump to your present home to increase the efficiency of your heating/cooling system.

Although its name is somewhat misleading, the heat pump actually is designed to keep you comfortable all year long. It warms your house during the winter and air conditions it during the summer - and does both more efficiently than any other combination unit now available.

What makes it so efficient? the heat pump simply moves heat - a less expensive process than making heat, as gas and other conventional systems must do.

In cold weather, the heat pump absorbs the heat always present in outside air and transfers it inside. In hot weather, it removes heat from the interior to air condition and dehumidify your home.

The heat pump is an especially good choice for South Texas because it performs most economically in places with a relatively mild climate. In the area served by Central Power and Light Company, a properly installed heat pump can produce at least 2½ units of heat for every unit of energy needed to run it.

If you'd like more details, just inquire at your CPL office. We'll be happy to give you information about heat pumps and other devices that help you use energy wisely.

CDBG DENIAL BY HUD

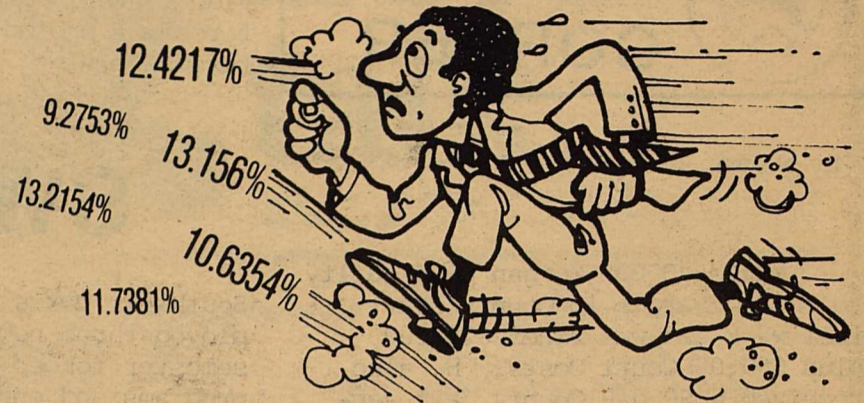

The City of Brackettville's request for funding for 5 miles of paving and three small bridges crossing the drainage ditch in the eastern part of the City was denied. A courteous letter received from the HUD director stated that 90 applicants had applied for funding and a board selected 15 for funding.

The request for funds to pave Sheedy street, those east/west roads in the northern portion of the City,, access roads from Hwy. 90 top Spring and the area behind the high school football field, as well as the bridge, are still highly needed and the City Council will consider every avenue open to the City to accomplish this task - a task required and deserved by the residents of the City.

Friday morning, Southwest Texas Junior College officials were certain that, unless some unforeseen and unusual circumstance develops before the 12th class day, enrollment for the spring semester of 1983 will reach an all-time record.

"Students who drop out before the 12th class day are subtracted from the enrollment total, but we would have to lose over 150 students to dip below the record total," said Dean of Admissions/Registrar John Allen Davis.

"We have 2,391 students enrolled now with another day of late registration left in Uvalde, Del Rio and Eagle Pass plus the special drama class at the Opera House that registers next Wednesday," he continued. "We could easily surpass 2,400 since we usually only have about 30 drop-outs. The old record was 2,234."

ENrollment in the many different areas served by SWTJC was 954 for Uvalde day; 284 for Uvalde evening; 569 for Del Rio; 297 for Eagle Pass; 119 for the Asherton, Carrizp Springs and Crystal City area; 59 in Dilley and Pearsall; 29 for Leakey; 41 for Devine; 7 for Hondo; and 32 for Sabinall.

GROWERS NEEDED FOR SOIL FERTILITY DEMONSTRATIONS

Proper fertilization helps insure a respectable crop yield while increasing resistance to drought, disease, and insects. But how much fertilizer is sufficient?

Soil Testing has long been recognized as the best barometer for determining nutrient needs of any cropland. According to a Texas Agricultural Extension Service agronomist, soil testing is even more important in this time of rising costs and uncertain prices.

"We must test soils prior to fertilization to determine what is already in the soil and what nutrients should be added, based on our yield expectations," points out Dr. Noble Kearney. "Soil testing is a reliable means of predicting nutrient needs of crops."

However, Kearney says different soil testing labs may show different results and recommendations since they use three different concepts. These include the cation saturation ratio, nutrient maintenance, and sufficiency level.

Most university soil testing labs make recommendations based on the sufficiency level, or soil test calibrations that reveal no yield response to an applied nutrient when the soil tests above a certain level.

In an eight-year study that concluded in 1982, a Nebraska researcher found no significant yield differences for corn by following the recommendations of different soil testing labs. Yet, large differences existed in the cost per acre for the amount of fertilizer, amounting to over 100 percent in some cases. The lowest fertilizer cost per acre was from the University of Nebraska lab which made its recommendations based on the sufficiency level concept. Texas A&M's lab follows the same procedure.

Kearney stresses that grower's assistance is very critical in developing certain soil test recommendations for crop fertilization.

"In order for the Texas A&M soil testing laboratory to generate recommendations using the sufficiency level concept, information on yield responses from producers is essential," he emphasizes.

"Some of this information is derived from Experiment Station test plots, county result demonstrations and production unit yields. But the bulk of this information eventually comes from producers in different parts of the state."

Kearney says producers can help fine tune soil test recommendations by taking representative soil samples, fertilizing according to those recommendations and reporting results (yields, fertilizer amounts and costs) to county Extension agents of the lab.

Kearney is anxious to discuss soil testing and soil fertility with South west Texas growers. He's also looking forward to initiating fertility demonstrations on farms throughout the region which can help increase profits by controlling input costs.

Southwest Texas Farmers desiring to cooperate with Kearney in developing these soil fertility tests and demonstrations are urged to contact their county Extension agent of Kearney directly (278-9151).

Career Opportunities
Wanted: Direct Salespeople

Being your own boss—selling into your personal working your own hours—life can make it either a directly relating effort to reward—these are among the benefits of working in direct selling, an industry which last year offered income-earning opportunities to more than four million Americans, true entrepreneurial spirits believing in self-reliance, and the challenge of owning and running their own small businesses.

For ten years these small-business people weren't certain whether the IRS would challenge their independent status. The issue was, however, resolved under the guidance of Senator Robert Dole (R-KS) and Representative Richard Gephardt (D-MO) when Congress passed the major tax bill in August and direct salespeople were declared independent contractors; clarifying by statute the fact that they are small-business owners as opposed to being employees.

Being able to make money right away, without an investment, can be helpful in these difficult economic times, when more than 11 million Americans are out of work and many more are unable to make their pay checks stretch to cover necessary living expenses.

The flexibility of working when and where you want to and fitting direct Direct selling is an opportunity to be your own boss, to set your own pace and work your own hours. It's the earning opportunity that can help now and can become a career choice that fits comfortably into your lifestyle later.

Some 130 of the country's leading direct selling companies are members of the Direct Selling Association and a listing of these firms with addresses and telephone numbers can be obtained free by writing to the Direct Selling Association at Dept. NS, 1730 M Street, N.W., Suite 610, Washington, DC 20036; please enclose a self-addressed, stamped, business-size envelope.
