LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

APPLICATION FOR DAMS ON NUECES RIVER AND SPRING BRANCH CREEK

Dear Editor:

An application has been filed with the texas Water Commission in Austin by U.S. Companies, Inc. for the construction of five dams, and for the irrigation of 60 acres, out of the West Nueces River watershed. U.S. Companies, Inc., is a Dallas based oil company owned by Max Williams and it is the owner of a 908 acre ranach 19 miles northeast of Brackettville at the end of Tularosa Road. The ranch was formerly owned by R.W.Sheppard and on it is located the Schwandner Spring, which is listed in the Major andHistorical Springs of Texas published by the Texas Water Development Board. The Springs were the basis for an Indian Village in prehistoric times, and the discharge rate has been measured as early as 1931. More recently,it was a watering spot on the trail between Fort McKavett and Fort Clark.

It is on this Spring Branch Creek which is a source of the West Nueces that U.S. Companies proposes to have approved the construction of four dames, and out of which to pump sufficient water for the irrigation of 60 acres. The other dam would be on the West Nueces itself.

A hearing on the application will be September 9,at 10:00 in Austin, and it is being opposed by six downstream Kinney County Landowners who have engaged an attorney and engineer to help defeat the proposal. Although these landowners are located close to the U.S.Companies' property, and are attempting to protect the surface water that flows into the Nueces, some of the facts which have been uncovered as a result of the engineering evaluation of the proposal suggest that taking water from the Spring Branch could affect landowners miles away from the U.S. Companies' property. this is because most of the flow of the spring disappears in a fault south of the U.S. Companies' land to feed underground water flow which may be reappearing in downstream springs on the surface, or in u;nderground gravel beds from which downstream landowners are taking well water to water livestock and homes. The application for irrigation which take between 60 to 100% of the spring flow when the pumps were actually irrigating. Some of the plans for the dams showed no low-flow outlet, which means that in the dry months, when the spring flow could be diminished, virtually no water would be allowed to pass the the fault zone (as under ground water flow) or on the surface to nearby property owners.

If the application is approved in austin, it could set a prededent and notify every company with enough connections in Austin and money to spend that water that has been flowing for hundreds of years can bae stopped and pumped out on the ground for irrigation. If in this instance the spring flow is feeding wells and springs far downstream, the approval of the application would affect many more landowners than the six who are now opposing it.

SCHOOL NURSE
UPDATE
KATHLEEN MIEARS, LVN

Dear Parents:

We've started the School Year and I have found a case or two of "Ringworm". Please let me give you some Health Department information about this contagious skin problem.
RINGWORM: (Dermatophytosis)

Ringworm is a general term applied to fungal disease of hair, skin or nails. Various species of fungi are causative agents and are subdivided according to site of infection (e.g. Athlete's Foot).
What To Look For: Symptoms include dry and scaly or moist and crusted ring-like lesions on the skin and scaly, bald patches on the scalp. Ringworm of the nails is not recognized as a public health problem.

How Disease is Spread: It is spread by direct and indirect contact with skin and scalp lesions of infected persons, with lesions of animals and contaminated floors, benches, shower stalls, personal articles, caps, combs and towels.

How To Prevent: Cases must receive medical treatment, including wearing a cap, if the ringworm is on the scalp. Contaminated caps should be boiled after use. When ringworm is present in a family or in school, children should be examined frequently for signs so that treatment can be started early. Properly laundering of towels, clothing, personal articles; general cleanliness in showers and dressing rooms of gymnasiums; and use of fungicidal agents for disinfecting benches and floors serve to effect control and prevention.

Domestic animals, both large and small affected with the fungus, should be kept away from contact with humans and other animals and not handled until a cure has been effected.

Regulations:
Case: Exclude from school until under treatment. Local School Board ruling effective 80-81. May return only if the lesions are completely covered and remain so during school hours. Excluded from P.E. Please be sure your child returns to school with a note from the doctor stating he/she is under treatment.

STOP GUM DISEASE TO KEEP YOUR TEETH

A Public Service From American Academy of Periodontology

More than 90% of Americans suffer from gum disease which causes 70% of all tooth loss.

Bacteria in your mouth form a gummy coating on your teeth, known as plaque. This plaque hardens into what dentists call calculus. The body fights the infection of the bacterial products and your gums become inflamed.

Poisons produced by the battle dissolve the tissue around the tooth, forming pockets in which more bacteria thrive, producing more poisons. Dentists call this periodontal disease. If not treated, it causes the bone in which the teeth are moored to deteriorate so the teeth loosen and must be extracted.

Gum disease is the least treated of all dental diseases. Yet periodontists, the dentists who specialize in treating gum disease, believe that most cases can be prevented if calculus is removed by your dentist and you brush and floss your teeth properly every day. The American Academy of Periodontology says that even if you already have gum disease, prompt treatment will control it.

One thing is certain. Ignored, gum disease becomes more severe. That is why regular checkups by your dentist are so important. Always ask your dentist to check for symptoms of gum disease.

MAURO OFFERS LAND OFFICE RESOURCES TO VICTIMS OF HURRICANE ALICIA

Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro responded to the devastation of the Texas Gulf Coast and the suffering of its residents in the wake of Hurricane Alicia by offering the expertise and resources of the General Land Office to individuals affected by the storm and other state agencies.

"I'm extending the full resources of this agency to help persevere and rebuild our fragile Texas Gulf Coast. Texans are blessed with a beautiful and unique natural heritage in our coastal area and our agency will do everything under its authority to maintain and restore this beautiful and productive resource," Mauro pledged.

The General Land Office is responsible for managing the state's coastal lands and waterways and monitoring and protecting environmentally sensitive areas.

Mauro said his agency will provide aerial photo surveillance of the entire Texas Gulf Coast affected by the hurricane to other state agencies and that other agencies are invited to participate in the flights as observers.

Mauro, who serves as Chairman of the School Land Board, said he will request that the board waive for one year the normal permits fee required for the rebuilding of privately-owned cabins, piers and docks destroyed by the storm. Structures must be rebuilt at the same location and to the same dimensions.

The same waiver will also be requested for counties that administer fishing piers that were damaged or destroyed.

Mauro said his agency will lend its expertise and technical assistance to local governments to aid in rebuilding and revegetating damaged sand dunes along the coast.

Mauro will also request a grace period on dredging fees associated with maintenance necessary to unclog migratory channels for fish or to re-open clogged channels associated with the oil and gas drilling industry and other commercial endeavors.

Carlton Bell, Deputy Commissioner for Land Management, said that the hurricane's 115-mile-an-hour winds altered numerous coastal boundary lines, creating unintentional violations of the Open Beaches Act. Bell said his staff will work with the Attorney General's Office "to resolve questions brought about by the realignment of these property lines."

MAURO ANNOUNCES IMPROVED INSURANCE POLICY FOR TEXAS VETERANS

Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro announced the Veterans Land Board will provide an improved group credit life insurance program to veterans who have obtained loans through the Veterans Land Program.

The Veterans Land Board in its August 15 meeting awarded a contract to Pruco Life Insurance of Texas for the group credit life insurance policy for the Veterans Land Program.

"This is a dramatic improvement in our insurance program which Texas veterans will be happy to see," commented board member Jack Rains of Houston. "This continues our policy of running the Veterans Land Program like a business."

Of the seven bids submitted, the board felt Pruco provided rates that benefited most veterans. The new rates will lower premiums as much as 65 percent for many age groups who participate in the insurance program. For the first time ever, veterans over the age of 65 will be able to obtain coverage.

The current average age of all contract holders presently participating in the optional insurance program is 53.9 years of age. Veterans under the age of 49 will get a decrease in their present rate.

Participating; participating veterans can expect to be provided with competitive rates with potential premium reductions based on actual claim experience.

"The benefit derived from this coverage will allow us to continue operating on a sound, business-like basis without any additional cost to the taxpayer," stated Veterans Land Board Chairman Mauro.

"This policy will not only attract more veterans to the program but also encourage participation by lending institutions and sellers."

In other action by the board a non-refundable fee of $75 will be charged for each bid submitted on tracts offered in the forfeited land sale on September 30. Forfeited land information brochures containing descriptions and locations of approximately 100 tracts in the sale will be issued at no charge on August 31. Prior contract holders of the forfeited tracts failed to comply with a July 22 deadline to bring payments to a current basis for reinstatement and the tracts were ordered for sale.

"If we are going to continue to offer generous terms and low interest rates to our Texas veterans, we must maintain a strong delinquency collection policy. If we want to continue to close loans within 90 days, veterans will have to make their payments on time," Mauro said.

the hole on No. 11 was Dorothy Woods' 13 feet for the women and Bill Bizzell also at 13 feet for the men. Runners up were Flo Stafford at 23 feet and Don Ralston at 16 at the 165-yard green.

The longest drives on the 620-yard No. 12 hole went to Pat McKelly at 220 yards with Shirley Webster's 175 yards as runner up.

Horace Wood Smith and his wife, Delia, directed the event. They also played in the tournament.

The Smiths have set up a special rate package for golf and tennis club memberships through October 1. Information is available at the Pro-Shop.

Smith said that green fees for 18-holes, starting October 1, will be $10 for Fort Clark Springs members and $12 for non-members. He added that beginning with October admission to the Clubhouse and Snack Bar will be limited to members and guests.

NOTICE OF CALCULATION OF EFFECTIVE TAX RATE AND PUBLICATION OF ESTIMATED UNENCUMBERED FUND BALANCES

I, Norman H. Hooten, Tax Assessor-Collector for Kinney County, in accordance with the provisions of Sec. 26.04, Property Tax Code, have calculated the tax rate which may not be exceeded by more than three percent by the Commissioner's Court of the Kinney County without holding a public hearing as required by the code. That rate is as follows:

- $ 0.03 per $100 for farm-to-market/flood control tax;
$ 0.53 per $100 for the general fund, permanent improvement fund and road and bridge fund tax;
+ $ 0.05 per $100 for public road maintenance tax; thus
$ 0.03 per $100 for interest & debt
0.01 per $100 for jury Total County Effective Tax Rate is 65c

The estimated unencumbered fund balances are as follows:

money making ideas

Every shopper wants a bargain, but when quality is sacrificed for a low price, there's no real cost savings to the consumer.

Value-sensitive shoppers who want quality and savings should follow these dollar-wise tips:

• If you're a coupon clipper, shop at stores that offer double coupon redemptions several times a year. You'll save twice as much money.

• Don't forget quality. Generic brands in items such as food staples and paper goods appear to be a bargain but often skimp on quality. If the generic items you buy don't match the standards of your usual branded purchases, paying less is no bargain.

• If you smoke, buy Century, the new cigarette in the money-saving 25 pack. Century offers 25 more cigarettes per carton at the same price as traditional cartons. You'll get quality and value with every purchase. Century comes in both filter and "low tar" styles.

• Outlet stores such as T.J. Maxx often provide designer clothing and elegant household items at mark-down prices. The items are usually first-quality products that are inventory closeouts from major manufacturers.

SWTC NEWS

According to college officials, enrollment at Southwest Texas Junior College will exceed the all-time high fall total set last year and may even surpass the all-time record enrollment set in the spring of 1983.

At the end of regular registration last Friday 2,198 students had registered for classes offered by SWTJC.

"Last year at this time we had 2,030 students and then ended up with a record total for fall semesters at 2,217 by the time late registration was over," said dean of admissions John Allen Davis. "So I feel sure we will set a new fall record, and could possibly break the all-time record of 2,467."

While the enrollment figures include those students registered for SWTJC's off-campus programs, the Uvalde campus total is also showing an increase.

1,004 students are signed up for day classes in Uvalde and 234 at night, more than ever before in both programs even before late registration begins.

In the fall of 1982, 945 day students and 207 evening students had registered at this point in the process.

Total for the other areas served by SWTJC were 490 in Del Rio; 250, Eagle Pass; 57, Crystal City; 42, Carrizo Springs; 37, Dilley; 68, Devine; and 16, Leakey.

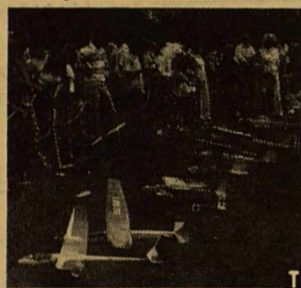

Late registration continues at the college through September 1. For information on courses still available, visit the registrar's office or call 278-4401, ext. 255. Del Rio students should call 775-1612. Information on Eagle Pass courses is available at 773-9238.

MAKING FAMILY LIFE MORE FUN

One such is building—and flying—model airplanes. Once regarded as an activity primarily for youngsters, the average age for a model aviator today is 37. The planes they fly can be scale models of full-size aircraft or original creations. They can be sailplanes, powered, or fly indoors or outdoors.

Many families are finding that a really down-to-earth way to get together for fun is to get into an uplifting hobby.

The Academy of Model Aeronautics has a membership of more than 85,000. It is a non-profit organization dedicated to serving the modelers and acts as liaison between members and government agencies. It also offers low cost insurance, publications, and other member benefits.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER

By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

One of the most striking phrases in the Bible is "but God." It occurs frequently and forcefully, bringing glory out of gloom.

There is the "but God" of salvation from sin in Romans 5:8, the "but God" of security from seduction in 1 Corinthians 10:13, the "but God" of sustenance in Philippians 4:19, and the "but God" of safety from slanderers in Psalm 64:7.

The Psalmist was in danger. The wicked met in secret to set their traps. They sharpened their tongues like swords. They aimed their deadly words like arrows straight at his heart and shot from am-

"But God," said the Psalmist, "shall shoot them with an arrow; suddenly shall they be wounded." The blows the godless thought to give to the godly were turned by God to come back on themselves.

Haman died on the gallows he had made for Mordecai. Judas committed suicide before Jesus was crucified. They, like others, were slain by their own schemes.

No one can ignore God and get away with it. There is nothing truer than the word of God that declares, "Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap."

DRUG LAWS NOT TOUGH ENOUGH, TEXANS SAY

Three-out-of-four Texans believe the state's drug laws are not tough enough, Dick Collins, President of the Texas Foundation for Conserving Studies, said today.

Collins announced the results of a statewide poll commissioned by the Texas Foundation for Conservation Studies (TFCS) in which one of the questions sought to find out what Texans think about the state's drug laws.

"A clear majority of texans--74.6%--said that our drug laws are not tough enough. Only 6.9% felt that the drug laws were too tough.

"This indicates to me that Texans want stronger anti-drug laws from our state government. The overwhelming consensus in the state is that our laws are not tough enough on drug abusers." Collins said.

The poll was conducted by Arthur J. Finkelstein and Associates, a nationally recognized polling firm, and is accurate within +/-4% at the 95% confidence level.

"the view that Texas' drug laws are too weak increase among conservative Texans, women, hispanics, and older Texans.

"By geographical area, Texans along the Border, by the largest of those residents wanting the drug law are not tough enough with 89.4% of those residents wanting the drug laws strengthened and no one answering that the states' dru laws are too tough," Collins said.

the clear support for stronger drug laws is evident in every part of the state, and cuts across ideological and party lines, Collins noted.

The question on the state's drug laws was one of a series of questions on the TFCS's poll that sought Texans' opinions on various crime related issues.

According to Collins, the pol results showed very srtrong concerns among Texans regarding specific issues relating to crime and law enforcement.

"Our survey showed that overwhelming majorities of Texans favor capitol punishment, mandatory prison sentences, crime victims' bill of rights, stiffer penalties for drunk driving, as well as tougher drug laws," collins said.

TEXANS WANT DRUNK DRIVING LAWS TOUGHENED

a majority of Texans want mandatory jail sentences for drunk drivers, texas Foundation for Conservative Studies' President Dick collins said today when he announced the results of a statewide poll question on texas' drunk driving laws.

"Our poll showed that a clear majority of Texans--56.6%-- want mandatory jail sentences for drunk drivers. Another 31.5% want higher fines imposed on drunk drivers. Only 8.3% felt that our current laws are okay as they are," Collins said.

The Texas Foundation for Conservative Studies (TFCS) commissioned Arthur J. Finkelstein and Associates, a nationally recognized polling firm, to conduct the survey and ask Texans what they thin about the state's drunk driving laws. The poll of 606 adult Texans is accurate to within +/-4% at the 95% confidence level.

"While 88% of the texans want the drunk driving laws stiffened, the majority of them want the strengthening of laws dome by having mandatory jail sentences for drunk drivers rather than by imposing higher fines.

"no where in the state is support for higher fines greater than support for mandatory jail sentences. And the strong support for mandatory jail sentences. And thestrong support formandatory jail sentences cuts across party lines.

"Ideologically, moderate and conservative texans more strongly favor mandatory sentences--59.9% and 59% respectively Liberals are more than evenly divided with 47.2% in favor of mandatory sentences and 43.4% in favor of higher fines," Collins said.

"There is a clear concensus that drunk driving laws need to be toughened."

The TFCS is a policy research and education organization that seeks to define critical problems facing Texans, to develop practical conservative solutions and to articulate these solutions to the public.

NO CAMPING IN ROADSIDE PARKS MAINTAINED BY STATE

Signs informing travelers and tourists that is is now against the law to camp in state-maintained roadside parks and rest areas soon will be appearing at these locations.

House Bill 675, spawned as a result of flagrant abuse of rest areas, comfort stations or picnic areas for more than 24 hours. Fines ranging up to $200 can be assessed violators. Permits will be granted only in the instance of rest area "travelers' breaks" sponsored by approved civic or community service organizations.

State Department of highways and Public transportation maintenance forces have begun erecting signs apprising the public of the new law which went into effect August 29. Signs are expected to be in place by the last of September.

Mark Goode, engineer-director for the department, said the use of roadside parks "is intended to provide a welcome respite from the rigors of driving." He said the facilities are "not designed for long term use by motorists, but primarily are designed as a safety measure and as convenience to the traveling public."

The new sign will enable law enforcement personnel to warn travelers that the new law prohibits camping and the penalties will be enforced. Prior to 1983, Texas law made no provision for prohibition of unauthorized use of these roadside facilities. several instances of abuse have been cited as precedents for getting the legislation in force.

Safety Tips

Sharing The Road

The rules of the road were written with all types of motor vehicles in mind. Whether you're driving an 18-wheel truck or a two-wheeled motorcycle, it is important to respect the rules of the road. Here, from the Motorcycle Safety Foundation, are some tips for motorcyclists on how to share the road safely with others.

- Avoid riding the gap or slot between lanes of traffic since a maneuver by another vehicle may suddenly block your path.
- Always leave room when passing parked cars. A door that is opened suddenly may become a hazard in your path.
- Avoid crowding other vehicles and demanding contested space.
- Refrain from riding on the shoulder to avoid traffic slow ups.

Remember you are sharing the road with many other highway users. Courtesy is important if you want others to safely share the road with you.

BEWARE OF A HOUSE THAT'LL HAUNT YOU.

The haunting starts just after you settle into a home that doesn't have built-in energy savers. Like insulated walls, windows, doors, ducts, water heater and attic—and an efficient heating and air conditioning system. Without them, ghostly heating and cooling bills appear. Every month. Invisible energy leaks begin to lurk.

Eerie drafts wander here and there. A terrifying tale—one that goes on and on. Unless, of course, you build or buy a Good Cents Home. The home that's designed with energy-conserving features that cut your heating, cooling and water heating energy usage up to 50%.

Now. Isn't that reason enough to ask your builder or Central Power and Light Company about a Good Cents Home?

A GOOD CENTS HOME WON'T HAUNT YOU MONTH AFTER MONTH.

SHERIFF'S CORNER

BY NORMAN HOOTEN

The Kinney County Grand Jury and the 63rd Judicial District Court convened Monday, August 29. The results are listed below:

GRAND JURY CASES

Miguel Guerrero, 41 year-old Mexican National--indicted for ESCAPE. This escape occurred on August 19, 1982. Guerrero was being held in the County Jail on charges of Possession of Marijuana with Intent to Deliver. He escaped from jail in the early morning hours of the date noted above. Arrest Warrants have been issued. Guerrero is believed to be living in Mexico.

Gregorio M. Velasquez, 21 year-old Mexican National--indicted on charges of Burglary of a habitation. Velasquez was arrested by this officer after burglarizing the residence of Charles "Ford" Dodson, approximately 12 miles east of Brackettville, on July 22, 1983. he remains in County jail in lieu of $15,000.00 bond.

Salvador Hernandez, 57 year-old Brackettville resident--NO BILLED on felony theft charges.

DISTRICT COURT CASES

Domingo Montoya, 32 year-old Brackettville resident--was convicted on a plea of guilty and received a five (5) year sentence in the Texas Department of Corrections for the burglary of Pop's Doughnut Shop on March 15, 1983. He will be transported to TDC as soon as commitment papers are received from the Court.

Patricio Gomez, 26 year-old Brackettville resident, was convicted on a plea of guilty to Aggravated Assault on a Police Officer. He received a Two (2) year probated sentence and a thirty (30) day "work release" sentence in County Jail. This conviction and sentences was the result of a plea bargain agreement between Prosecution and Defense.

This completes the report on the activity of the Grand Jury and District Court.

I must comment on my opinion of the "work release" sentence given to convicted violators. This is the result of a new law passed that allows judges to sentence convicted violators to County Jail under the condition that they spend only nights and weekends in jail. They are released every morning to go to work and turn themselves in at a certain time every evening. In my opinion, this is a half-way measure that benefits no one but the violator. Paperwork at the jail is increased and law enforcement officers must be on standby in case the violator fails to show. A cell must be reserved for the violator and meals must be fed to him at special times and jealousy from other prisoners is a factor to be considered. They wonder why special considerations are given one and not all. I have to agree! In effect we are babysitting a convicted violator who has been allowed special privileges. If I were a prisoner in jail for being drunk and I saw a prisoner come and go on a special "work release" sentence for assaulting a police officer, I might begin to wonder about our system of justice.

The "work release" sentence is, in my opinion, a half-way measure of punishment for a criminal conviction. Half-way measures do not work with criminals and law violators. Punishment is supposed to assist as a deterrent to crime. Our prosecution and courts are weak enough as is without further half-way measures that make things hard on everyone BUT the violator.

That's all for this week, "Old George" has asked me not to be so long-winded, he needs room for the rest of the news. 'til next week, TRY to keep smiling, USUALLY makes you feel better!

BRACKETT MAN FINED

At Municipal Court, on September , a jury trial was held to hear the case of Mr. Jerry Lira who was charged with theft.

Mr. Lira was found guilty and fined $25.00 plus court costs by City Judge Louis Starzel.

Showcase Seasonal Fruits On A Chocolate Cake

Here's a cake that takes advantage of the abundance of the season's fresh fruits—strawberries, blueberries, grapes and peaches. Use this combination or mix and match your favorite fruits to make this colorful, easy-on-the-cook dessert that looks like you fussed.

Start with velvety, chocolate cake layers made with versatile unsweetened cocoa. These can be made ahead and frozen until ready to use. Using cocoa ensures a fine-textured, moist cake that freezes well, and because cocoa is the most concentrated kind of chocolate, the flavor will be extra rich and chocolatey. You'll also save preparation time since you measure cocoa right from the can—no time-consuming melting as with solid chocolate squares and no messy, scorched pan to clean.

Spoon a tangy citrus sauce and sweetened fresh fruit between the layers and on top and you've got an easy but impressive dessert to serve family and guests.

SUMMER FRUITCAKE

1/2 cup sugar	1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup water	2/3 cup milk
1/4 cup shortening	Citrus Filling (recipe below)
1/2 cup butter or margarine	Sweetened fresh fruit:
1-1/4 cups sugar	1-1/4 cups each: straw-
1 teaspoon vanilla	berries, sliced peaches,
3 eggs	blueberries or cherries
1-1/3 cups unsifted all-	1/2 cup green grapes purpose flour

Combine flour, baking soda and salt; add alternately with milk to creamed mixture. Pour into two greased and floured 9-inch cake pans. Bake at 350° for 35 to 40 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cool 10 minutes; remove from pans. Cool completely. With serrated knife, carefully slice each cake layer in half horizontally to make four thin layers. Place 1 layer on serving plate; spoon about 1/3 cup citrus filling onto layer. Top with 1 cup sliced sweetened fruit. Reserve remaining for top layer. Top with second layer; repeat with filling and fruit until all layers are stacked. Arrange remaining 3/4 cup of fruit in decorative design on top layer. Top with any remaining glaze. Garnish with grapes.

Citrus Filling

1 cup sugar	1/4 cup water
1/4 teaspoon salt	1 tablespoon butter
3 tablespoons cornstarch	1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1 cup orange juice	1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind
