BRACKETT HIGH SCHOOL BLOOD DRIVE

Residents of Brackettville are invited to join the students of Brackett High School in their push to make the town a "Five Percent" blood donor community. In their effort to accomplish this goal, the school will be sponsoring a blood drive on Tuesday, October 16th from 3:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. in the home economics cottage on the school campus. The blood drive is being held in conjunction with the South Texas Regional Blood Bank, a non-profit community oriented blood center serving the people of 35 South Texas Counties.

Patients in South Texas hospitals require an average of 250 units of blood a day, each and every day of the year. Perhaps you have been one of those patients or possibly a member of your family has needed a blood transfusion. Even with the many advances made in medicine and drug technology over the last few years, science has been unable to come up with a way to manufacture human blood. Without voluntary blood donors many lives might be in jeopardy.

Statistics show that it takes approximately five percent of a community's overall population to meet the blood needs of its residents. Current figures indicate that Brackettville needs 85 blood donors a year to meet this five percent objective. So far, in 1984, 28 people from the Brackettville/Kinney county area have donated blood. Sixty more caring people from the community are needed to reach the five percent goal.

Giving blood is an easy and simple process. Anyone between the ages of 17 and 66 years of age (17 year old must have written parental permission) and who is in relatively good health can give blood. A blood donor should also weigh a minimum of 110 pounds.

Plan to become a caring member of the Brackettville community by making plans to donate blood at the Brackett High School blood drive on the 16th. Become a blood donor and help maintain the quality of life you would like your family, friends and neighbors to enjoy.

CITY NEWS

City ordinances, state law, and good common sense dictates that poisoned animal food should not be indiscriminately placed in empty lots or when it is not under the control of reasonable, sensible adults.

Tuesday morning, the city crew found a bowl of dog food containing a substance believed to be poison at a vacant lot corner of Gove and Thorn Streets. 2 dogs, 4 cats, 7 chickens, 1 possum, and 1 skunk were found dead in the immediate area. How many more animals that were not in that immediate area and are dead or sick is not known.

Parents are advised to warn children to report any animal that appears sick to an adult so that positive action can be taken.

Positive steps should be taken to insure animals do not transmit poison into homes where it could easily affect a human life.

Your cooperation is appreciated.

BRACKETT TELEPHONE DIRECTORY

The 1984-85 Brackettville telephone directory is being distributed through the week of October 12, according to Karen O'Neill, manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone.

O'Neill said a total of 10,996 directories will be mailed to area residents. Each residential customer is to receive one directory. For additional copies, customers can call their Southwestern Bell Telephone business office during business hours Monday through Friday, O'Neill said.

O'Neill requested that customers not call right away. "If your friend across town gets his directory before you receive yours, you'll probably get yours within a few days," O'Neill said.

This year 56 white pages and 115 yellow pages make up the Brackettville telephone directory. There are 8,458 white page listings.

Emergency telephone numbers have been placed on the inside front cover of the new directory. In the "Customer Guide" at the front of the directory customers will find tips on how to save money on their phone service and a new map illustrating long distance service areas within Texas.

The directory contains listings for Brackettville, Sabinal and Uvalde.

by Norman H. Hooten, Sheriff

Seems like some of the members of our community who tend to drift outside the legal limits of the law have taken a special interest in Rob's Mini-Mart on Highway 90. The store has been hit twice by burglars in the last month or so. Both incidents have been cleared by the arrests of the violators at the scene of the crime.

The latest incident occurred at approx. 3:00 a.m. Saturday morning, October 6th when Ft. Clark Security Officers reported to the Sheriff's Department that someone had broken out a window in the front door and entered the building. They further reported that the burglar was still inside. Chief of Police Jim Lindeman was dispatched to the scene and upon his arrival arrested Richard Guajardo of Brackettville inside the building. Guajardo has been charged with burglary of a building, a 2nd degree felony. He was released on a $5,000.00 bond set by Justice of the Peace Louis Starzel later the same day.

The investigation into the rape case which occurred on September 27th involving a Brackettville woman is continuing. I have asked for and received valuable assistance from the Del Rio Police Department who assigned an experienced policewoman to work with me on the case. A composite drawing of the rapist and a physical description is being distributed throughout the area. We have picked up a slim lead in the case and that lead is being followed up and investigated. This case will receive top priority until we have located and apprehended the violator or exhausted all means of investigation. Crimes of this sort are among the most brutal and vicious and will not be tolerated in our county and community.

The financial report for the county jail for fiscal year 1983-84 has been completed and we took in gross receipts of $187,00.00-plus in prisoner care fees. The auditor's report shows a net profit over and above total operational costs of $47,000.00-plus. We corrected all violations of the minimum requirements of the Texas Jail Commission this past year and are now certified as in full compliance with all requirements of the Commission. The Kinney County Jail now joins the ranks of approx. 180 jails throughout Texas that are certified by the commission. We are proud of this accomplishment and it could not have been achieved without the full cooperation of a dedicated staff at the County Jail and a concerned Commissioner's Court.

We are looking forward to an even better year coming up and hope to improve all phases of our law enforcement and jail operation.

BURNS TIED TO DRINKING

A study of burn patients by two psychiatrists in San Antonio has found that 46 percent were using alcohol either alone or with illegal drugs when the injury occurred.

"Several studies have found alcohol use to be a significant risk factor" in burns, Dr. Kenneth N. Vogtsberger and Dr. E. Ross Taylor wrote in Texas Medicine.

Their study showed that males tended to be young, drinking, and around vehicles when burned, while females were elderly, had physical or psychiatric illness, and usually were in the kitchen when burned.

"Most of the burns occurred in the home or near vehicles," they said.

Vogtsberger is on the medical school faculty at the University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio, and Taylor is now based at the Naval Regional Medical Center at Camp Lejeune, N.C.

Their article appeared in the October issue of Texas Medicine, the journal of the Texas Medical Association.

The doctors reviewed the records of 70 consecutive burn patients admitted to Medical Center Hospital, the county hospital for Bexar County. Patients included in the study had to be at least 15 years old and were hospitalized between August 1980 and December 1981.

The males burned around cars sometimes were pouring gasoline into a carburetor or removing a cap from a hot radiator, the doctors said. Almost three fourths of male burns in the house occurred in rooms other than the kitchen.

Fifty six percent of patients in the doctors study had psychiatric problems before the accident.

"Two groups at particular risk to be burned were elderly women with physical illness and persons with psychiatric illness who were of low socioeconomic status," Vogtsberger and Taylor said in citing other studies. The reason for this is that their judgment is impaired in potentially dangerous situations or they are unable to respond correctly when a burn is highly likely.

The doctors also cited the "charcoal barbecue and martini syndrome." An intoxicated person tries to light a cookout fire with gasoline, which leads to an explosion and burns.

Vogtsberger and Taylor suggested a public information program to warn "weekend mechanics" of the dangers of automotive repair. In addition, "automobile manufacturers might design a radiator cap that diverts the hot liquid downward or into a reservoir."

The doctors also noted the high rate of psychiatric problems resulting from burns. "Concerns about body image, decreased functional abilities, and depression are common problems among burn patients."

HEAT TREATMENT FOR CANCER

A new medical procedure uses heat generated by microwave energy to combat certain kinds of cancer.

The Texas Medical Assn. says the U.S. Food and Drug Administration earlier this year approved hyperthermia, which has been successful in halting the growth of several cancers but is not a cure.

Hyperthermia is limited to patients with any of these four cancers if standard treatments with radiation, chemotherapy, and surgery are unsuccessful:

MELANOMA; a rare but often fatal skin cancer.

SQUAMOUS CARCINOMA; a less threatening but still dangerous and fairly common skin cancer that can spread beneath the skin.

ADENOCARCINOMA; glandular cancer that can spread rapidly.

SARCOMA; a bone and organ cancer that spreads and is deadly.

Hyperthermia devices radiate energy much like that of a microwave oven. This energy enters body tissue and silently bombards cell molecules, causing the tissue to heat up. In living tissue, heat is carried away by blood that flows through the tissue.

Solid malignant tumors have less blood than normal tissue does and therefore less ability to have heat carried away. When hyperthermia is applied, tumors reach a higher temperature than surrounding normal tissue and this destroys the tumor cells.

The physician administers hyperthermia by directing a beam of microwave energy from a small, horn like applicator to the tumor. The beam heats the cancer cells to 108 to 113 degrees Fahrenheit, which kills them. Repeatedly heating such tumors for up to an hour can cause the tumor to shrink, or regress.

The hyperthermia device continually monitors the temperature of the tumor and the surrounding tissue through needle like probes inserted into the body. The device automatically adjusts the power to maintain the temperature set by the operator. This ensures that the tumor receives the right dose of heat and that surrounding healthy tissue is not overheated.

During testing, hyperthermia resulted in full to partial regression 83 percent of the tumors.

DISTRICT PLAY BEGINS

The Brackettville Tigers beat the D'Hanis Cowboys 24-3 in Brackett. The Tigers had their best offense effort scoring all 24 points in the second half. The rain and cold weather hampered both teams from throwing the ball very much even through the Tigers scored on two touchdowns passes.

The Sanderson Eagles blanked the Tigers 26-0 Friday in Sanderson. The Eagle offense dominated the Tiger defense on quick pitches and counters. The Tiger offense had one sustained drive of about 60 yards when they failed to get a first down on fourth and inches at the Eagle 15 yard line.

CUBS DEFENSE GOOD

The cubs tied the Leakey Eagles 8-8 in a defensive ball game on Sept. 27 in Leakey. The first half was scoreless. Joe Chavez scored a touchdown that was called back because of a clipping penalty. The Cubs scored came in the fourth quarter on a run by Jesus Aguirre. The two point conversion was also on a run by Jesus. The offensive lineman did a good job for the backs who scored, according to coach Stoney Burks.

FROM MR. McCALL

The first six weeks ended on Friday, October 5. Students who scored lower than 70 in any course will be able to attend tutorial classes in the afternoon from 3:45-4:30 beginning Monday, October 15.

The fifth annual Space Shuttle Student Involvement Program (SSIP) is open to all regularly enrolled students in grades nine through 12. Students propose experiments suitable for possible flight aboard the Space Shuttle, some of which may be performed by the astronauts during the mission. The contest, sponsored by the National Science Teachers Association and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), stresses creativity over sophisticated techniques.

Winners travel to NASA where they meet with our nation's leading space experts and receive awards. The deadline for submitting proposals is February 1, 1985. For free registration materials, write: Space Shuttle Pro-

Wanted Girl Scout Leaders

Assistant Leaders Wanted, Too.

Why be a Girl Scout Leader?
Because you care about girls, and girls care about you. You want to share good things with them.

If you are a Leader, what do you do? You work with girls—little girls and big girls. You show them the many things you know. They learn from you, and you learn from them.

You have ideas. The girls have ideas. You make plans, and the girls make plans. The plans turn into action. You work on projects. You go places and see things. You have troop meetings and meetings with other Leaders. You make friends. And you receive help whenever you need it.

Thousands of men and women have brightened their lives as well as the lives of others by becoming Girl Scout Leaders. Be a Leader, and make some girls happy. It will make you happy, too.

About the Girl Scout Movement

The Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. is the largest voluntary organization for girls in the world. It is open to all girls 7 through 17 who subscribe to its ideals as expressed in the Girl Scout Promise and Law. Founded in 1912 and incorporated in Washington, D.C., in 1915, it was chartered by the Congress of the United States in 1950. Girl Scouts is a growing organization. But in order to continue to grow, it needs Leaders—like YOU.

If you can spare the time, you can become a Girl Scout Leader or an Assistant Leader. Helpers are also needed. To find out more, just Opened Sept. 7 — "150 Years of Fort Worth." The state's first Sesquicentennial exhibit, created by the Fort Worth Museum of Science and History, will be permanently displayed in the vintage turn-of-the-century Fire Station No. 1, located downtown at Second and Commerce Streets. More than 200 objects, ranging from Plains Indian artifacts to cowboy equipment and period costumes, trace the city's development from its beginning as a frontier outpost in 1849 through its rowdy youth as a cattle town in the 1880s to its maturity first as a railroad and meatpacking center and later as the oil and aerospace capital of West Texas. Hours: 9 a.m. - 7 p.m. Free admission. For more information contact Mary Ann Schoening, Fort Worth Museum of Science and History, 1501 Montgomery Street, Fort Worth 76107. (817-732-1631).

Do-It-Yourself Home Entertainment Center

More and more homeowners these days are discovering a way to save money while adding beauty to their homes. It's easier than you might think, say experts, to custom design your own home entertainment storage unit to hold your electronic equipment, books, records, games, everything you need—and have it look just built-in.

All you'll need for the job are various pieces of plywood—fir or hardwood is recommended, because both give you the option of choosing a light or dark finish, stain or paint to enhance your work—and some basic tools, such as a tape rule, combination square, claw hammer, rip and crosscut hand saw and screwdriver.

Before constructing, say the experts at The Stanley Works, a major manufacturer of quality hand tools, consider the size of your equipment. There should be enough space so you can remove it easily for service and cleaning. The space you have will determine the size of the unit.

PHROG

By George

BY GEORGE

10-4-84

There is one mile of railroad track in Belgium for every one and a half square miles of land.

William Howard Taft was the only president of the United States to serve as a Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. His term ran from 1921 to 1930.

"Everyone is a genius at least once a year. The real geniuses simply have their bright ideas closer together." G.C. Lichtenberg

Our neighbor gave us the good word about heat pumps.

Old George next door has done a lot of favors for us over the years. He took the kids to the circus, let us borrow his tools, even helped out when we repainted the house.

But the best thing he ever did for us was advise us to get an electric heat pump when we had to replace our central air conditioning unit. Now that was neighborly. Buying that heat pump was one of the smartest moves we ever made.

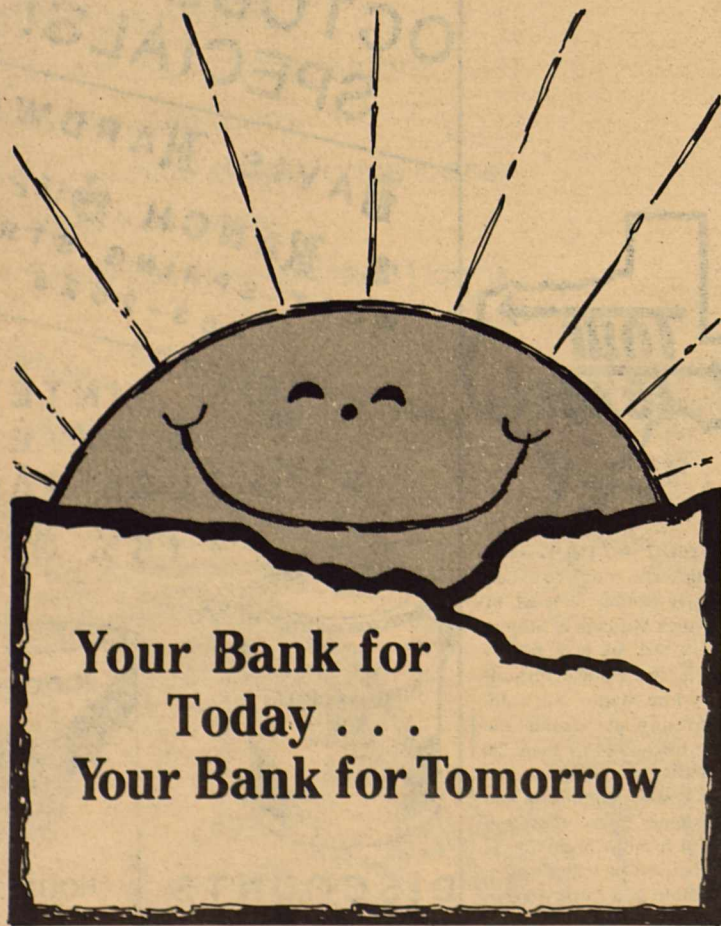

Until George told me better, I always assumed that a heat pump was just a heating system. Well, it's that, of course—but it's also an air conditioner that does a great job of cooling and dehumidifying our home every summer.

So what we have now is this neat all-in-one system that keeps the house comfortable all year round—and does it efficiently, too, so that we save money on utility bills. You see, a heat pump uses less energy because it doesn't have to make heat; it simply moves it. In the winter, it removes heat from the outside air and transfers it inside. When the weather is warm, it collects heat and moisture from inside the house and moves it outside.

I'm convinced a heat pump is the best heating/cooling unit you can choose—especially in our part of the country, where the winters are mild. In South Texas, a properly installed heat pump produces at least 2½ units of heat for every unit of energy needed to run it.

The more I think about it, the more grateful I am to old George for being such a good neighbor. Maybe I ought to do something nice for him today. Like return his hedge clippers.

Understanding Your Insurance

Update II — What It May Mean To You

If you're a policy owner who has not borrowed heavily on your policy and do not intend to do so, a new insurance program can now bring you significantly higher dividends.

If a policyholder elects the program, called Update II, two things will occur: the guaranteed loan interest rate will become eight percent (this means no change in loan interest rate for those contracts already on eight percent) and direct recognition of policy loans. In general, the smaller your loan balance, the greater the improvement you will see in your dividend.

If you have an outstanding loan and accept Update II, you can expect your dividend to go up as your loan balance comes down. To the extent you repay your loan, you will also restore the amount payable on death.

Your insurance agent may soon tell you about a quick way to increase your dividends.

Update II is available to policy-holders with Phoenix Mutual, a company that keeps updating its policies in order to continually provide the lowest costs for its policy-holders. It's a company that was rated A+ by A.M. Best Company, an independent industry analyst.

Milk has been routinely packaged in plastic bottles for twenty years with the approval of the Food and Drug Administration (FDA). Dr. John Bruhn, food scientist at the University of California, Davis, finds that milk sold in plastic containers is just as nutritious as ever. Today, the use of modern plastics has increased until 90 percent of all milk sold in gallons comes in plastic containers.

ainers has never wavered and an increasing proportion of milk sold in half-gallon containers is sold in plastic.

Milk is a major source for such important nutrients as calcium, protein and Vitamin D, which are not affected by exposure to light. The recommended intake is four glasses per day for teenagers and two glasses per day for adults, or the equivalent in other dairy products. All in all, most experts on milk agree that any milk sold in retail stores is a highly nutritious product.

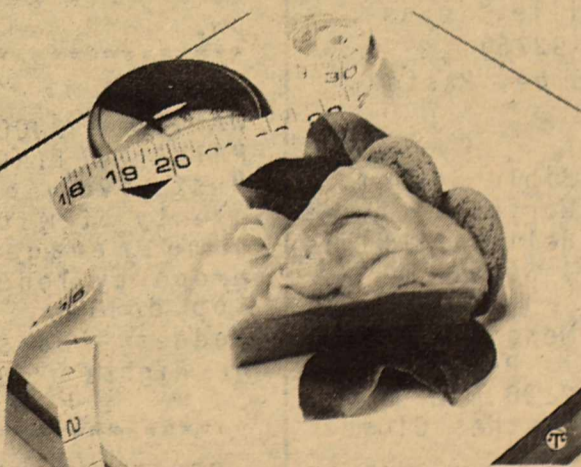

Moreover, according to experts at Hoover Universal, a leading supplier to the dairy industry, the growing acceptance of milk in plastic con-

Pumpkin Pie with the Middle in Mind

People who are watching their waistslines have generally had two choices when the year rolled around to holiday festivities and feasting.

They could say simply, "I'll make up for it after the holidays, but I'm just going to eat everything now!" Or they could look longingly at the goodies and forsake them all—not much fun!

This year, conscientious weight-watchers have a third option—at least where that perennial dessert favorite, pumpkin pie, is concerned. They can have their pie—its delightful aroma, its marvelous taste—and still keep the calories under control. The answer to a waistline-watcher's prayer is Calorie-Trimmed Pumpkin Pie—Only 207 calories for 1/6 of a pie. Here's the recipe:

A special treat for calorie-counters—and everyone else, too—is this delicious calorie-trimming pumpkin pie.

CALORIE-TRIMMED PUMPKIN PIE

1 can (30oz.) LIBBY'S Pumpkin Pie Mix

1 egg, slightly beaten
4 teaspoons unflavored gelatin
1/8 teaspoon ground nutmeg

- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1 cup whipped topping
- Vegetable cooking spray
- 1/4 cup graham cracker crumbs
- 8 gingersnap cookies, cut in half (optional)

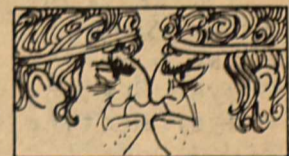

In medium saucepan, combine pumpkin pie mix, egg, gelatin and nutmeg; mix well. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture boils. Chill until partially set, about 1 to 2 hours. Add vanilla. Fold in whipped topping. Spoon into 9-inch pie plate generously coated with vegetable cooking spray and sprinkle evenly with graham cracker crumbs. Chill until firm. Before serving, insert overlapping cookie halves at intervals around the edge of pie plate, if desired. Yields one 9-inch pie, cut into 6 servings. 207 calories per serving.

VARIATION:

For a calorie-trimmed pie with a crumb crust omit last three ingredients. Combine 1 cup graham cracker crumbs with 1/4 cup melted butter or margarine; mix well. Press firmly into bottom and sides of 9-inch pie plate. Chill. Spoon pie filling into crust, chill until firm. Cut into 6 servings. 285 calories per serving.

This recipe is one of the more than 140 favorite pumpkin recipes found in Libby's new "The Great Pumpkin Cookbook." Pumpkin—so much more than pie.

In ancient Greece, a boxing match began with two boxers standing face to face, their noses touching.

NEWS

By Nicholas J. Bush, President, Natural Gas Supply Association

How will partial decontrol of natural gas prices affect you when it goes into effect on January 1? Studies by the Department of Energy have found that gas prices will not rise significantly, or "fly up," due to partial decontrol. That's because markets, unlike regulations, will encourage producers and pipeline companies to adjust prices in response to competitive forces.

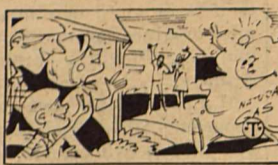

Bush

Current federal regulations have inhibited the natural gas market from responding efficiently to changing market conditions. Recent government research has found that the entire nation would benefit from comprehensive deregulation legislation in the following ways:

- Economic benefits of $33.6 billion to $48.7 billion as a result of greater efficiency, higher domestic gas production and lower payments for gas and oil imports.
- Recovery of an additional 27 trillion to 48 trillion cubic feet of domestic low-cost, old gas supplies that would not be produced under the National Gas Policy Act (NGPA).
- Lower consumer prices for natural gas — 56 cents per thousand cubic feet lower in 1985 than under the NGPA, and 27 cents to 45 cents per thousand cubic feet lower from 1986 to 1995 than under the NGPA.
- Higher levels of both domestic gas consumption and domestic gas production than under the NGPA.
- Greater flexibility in the gas market to adjust to changing circumstances, thereby preventing the recurrence of shortages and surpluses.
