TEXAS BINGO

AUSTIN, Texas-- State Comptroller Bob Bullock Tuesday predicted the Texas Legislature will produce "a major piece of reform legislation to get proceeds from Texas bingo where they belong-- in the hands and bank accounts of real charities."

Bullock praised the bingo reform measure by Senator O.H. "Ike" Harris of Dallas approved by the Senate Monday and pointed out both the Harris bill and a similar measure approved by the House would require bingo games to contribute 35% of their adjusted gross receipts to charity.

"When we sat down last year with the Attorney General and the original sponsors of legal bingo in Texas to put some teeth into the bingo law, we all agreed more bingo profits ought to be going to charity. When this bingo bill gets to the governor's desk, we'll accomplish that goal," Bullock said.

Bullock said both House and Senate measures contain about 40 changes recommended by the Comptroller's office as the result of four years working with the original law legalizing bingo.

"The House and Senate reform measures are the result of the lessons we've learned over the past four years. Once the law is changed to establish a minimum amount for charity, the keeping of proper records we can audit, the clear authority to close down violators and check criminal records, we'll have the tools we need to regulate bingo," Bullock said.

"The rest, as they say, is poetry."

MEDICARE DRGS

The "Social Security Rescue Plan" enacted April 19, 1983, made significant changes in the Medicare system since Medicare began in 1965. In the past, hospitals received reimbursement from Medicare patients based on their "costs". Under the new law, hospitals will be paid a flat fee for services. Hospitals and institutions have been directly affected by the change in Medicare reimbursement.

Under the new prospective payment plan, hospitals will receive a lump sum payment for the services they render to Medicare patients. The amount of payment received for each Medicare patient is determined by the physician's discharge summary. The payment received generally will not vary with the length of patient stay, the severity of illness suffered by the patient, or the number of ancillary services necessary to provide medical or nursing care to the patient. The amount of payment to the hospital will depend on the principal discharge diagnosis, and payment may be modified by up to four additional diagnoses. The entire payment to hospitals will be made on the basis of 467 diagnosis related groups (DRGs), which have been formulated by the Department of Health and Human Services.

A prospective payment will be phased in over a three-year period. By the end of the phase-in period, DRG rates will be based on a national rate calculated separately for urban and rural hospitals.

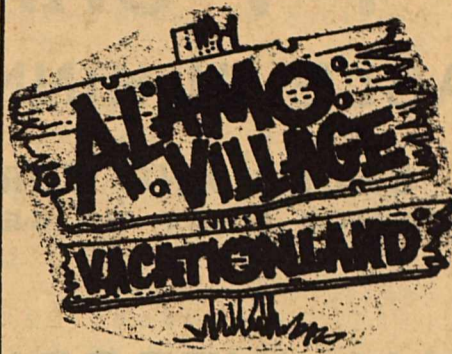

Patients who require more services than the average patient with a similar diagnosis will be allowed, to some degree, extra reimbursement funds under Medicare. Under the act, such "outliers" can only amount to 5 to 6 percent of the hospital's Medicare population. Extra payments allowed for outliers, however, will not result in any increase in total funds paid by the government for Medicare, as the new legislation is budget controlled.

Some institutions may request exception from coverage under the new law. Institutions that provide long term care may be granted relief. Few hospitals will, however, receive exceptions.

Under this new system, the hospitals are "at risk" and may either lose money or make a profit on Medicare patients, depending on how many resources are used and how long each patient stays in the facility.

LEGISLATURE GIVES APPROVAL TO $500 MILLION BOND PROPOSAL FOR VHAP.

AUSTIN-- Representative Dudley Harrison joined other co-sponsors in getting approval of a proposal to renew bonding authority for the highly successful Texas Veterans Housing Assistance Program.

"The Texas Veterans Housing Assistance Program has not cost the taxpayers of the state one penny", Rep. Harrison said. "I wholeheartedly supported the legislation that provides Texas' 1.8 million Veterans with a low-cost solution to the housing dilemma in the state, especially for the Vietnam-era Veterans".

The bill would put the question of an additional $500 million in bonding authority for the VHAP to the voters on next November's constitutional amendment ballot.

Since the housing program began a little over a year ago, the Veterans Land Board has certified more than 16,500 applications for loans to Texas Veterans. Providing $20,000 to each Veteran to apply toward the purchase of a home, this program has already put $330 million into the Texas economy. As a result, the housing program stimulates the homebuilding industry as well as creating jobs so that this program benefits not only Texas Veterans but all Texans.

"The funding for the program comes from the selling of bonds, repaid by the Veterans who participate," Land Commissioner Garry Mauro said.

"Based on the overwhelming acceptance of this program by Texas Veterans, real estate professionals and the financial community, I feel confident in saying that the Texas VHAP is far and away the most attractive home loan program in the country."

The VHAP has been called the greatest single Veterans benefits program to be enacted by a state since WW II. It enables eligible Texas Veterans to borrow $20,000 at less than 10% interest to apply toward the purchase of a home. That rate is currently 9.97%. When the current program is combined with a VA home loan, the Veteran can purchase a home with not down payment.

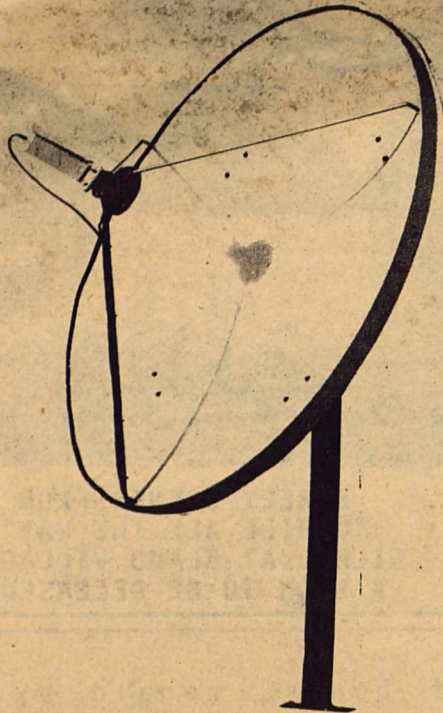

The legislation follows the recommendation of the Sunset Advisory Commission to provide additional bonding authority. The last time Texans were asked to approve similar bonding authority, 71% voted to allow the VLB to have that $500 million in bonding authority to help provide housing for Texas Veterans.

The first woman to be admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court was Belva Ann Bennett Lockwood in 1879. Her admittance was enabled by a Congressional action titled "an act to relieve certain legal disabilities of women."

THE SHERIFF'S CORNER

BY NORMAN H. HOOTEN

The theft of a pickup on the Anacacho Ranch May 21st led to charges of Unauthorized Use of A Motor Vehicle being filed against three illegal aliens.

Ramon Vela, a ranch hand, was working near a dirt tank on the south side of the 22,000 acre ranch and had parked the pickup near a road. When he returned to get the pickup, it was gone.

The three Mexican Nationals drove the pickup to near the ranch headquarters and walked to one of the houses to ask directions to Uvalde. The incident was reported to me and the Border Patrol and the three aliens were apprehended when they returned to the vehicle.

Eugenio Hidalgo-Munoz, 19, and his two cousins, Elidio Hernandez-Hidalgo, 17, and Pompeyo Garcia-Hidalgo, 18, all of Vera Cruz, Mexico are being held in the county jail in lieu of $10,000 bond each.

Don Nance reported a break-in on the Hayfork Ranch near Pinto Creek west of Brackettville last Saturday. Evidence at the scene indicates that at least one, and possibly more, illegal aliens entered the residence through a rear window after breaking it out with a boat oar. It was first believed that a .22 caliber rifle had been taken, but further investigation proved that the owner had removed the rifle prior to the break-in. Various food items were taken, though no other personal property had been disturbed. The incident occurred prior to the heavy rains last week and any tracks or other evidence outside the structure was destroyed.

A fire reported in the early morning hours Sunday, May 26th, completely destroyed the old Lampkin house in Spofford. At approx. 2:00 a.m., J. B. Herndon of Spofford called me to report the fire. The fire department was notified but by the time we arrived at the scene high winds had fanned the fire into an inferno which burned the house to the ground. The house was vacant and had been recently purchased by the W.W. Martin Family of Spofford. The Martins were recent victims of a burglary in which over $900 worth of personal property was taken. It is believed that the fire was set by an arsonist and arson investigators will have been called in to assist in the investigation by the time you read this. Several incidents of criminal activity have occurred in the small community of Spofford in the last few months including arson, burglary, theft, and vandalism.

Investigations into the incidents lead us to believe that the acts have possibly been committed by the same person or persons. We do have a suspect and various times of evidence. The cases are under investigation and every effort will be made to bring the person or persons responsible to justice.

A 1971 Ford van which was impounded by local DPS Troopers on April 18th after the driver was arrested for possession of marijuana has been identified as one stolen from a Florida resident. The details concerning the vehicle were confusing as information first received indicated it was an Arizona vehicle with no wants on it. When checking through the National Crime

Information Center computer on the license plates, it showed clear. A later check using the Vehicle Identification Number (VIN) only a "hit" was discovered out of Florida. The driver was released after serving out his fine for the drug possession and it has not yet been determined if he is a suspect in the vehicle theft though it is likely he will be. No disposition with Florida concerning the vehicle has been made at the time of this writing.

HELPFUL TIPS TO SAVE YOU MONEY

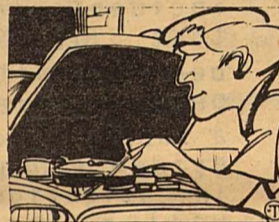

WARM WEATHER DRIVING

A brief inspection of your car and a little preventive maintenance guards against an expensive breakdown that could ruin your day or a well-deserved vacation.

If you are not sure your car's ready for warm weather driving, these tips from the Service Professionals at Chrysler Corporation can save you time and money:

FLUIDS

Change the engine oil and filter every 7,500 miles or at least once a year. Check fluid levels in the transmission, power steering and brake master cylinder to insure your safety. Replace the engine coolant every two years to prevent overheating.

BELTS

Inspect drive belts for the water pump and alternator for signs of cracking or wear. Adjust belt tension to prevent slipping. Loose belts can drain a battery or cause your car to overheat.

Check the battery for signs

MISSING HEROES

Our Pharmacists

Our pharmacists: These dedicated and caring members of our community prepare and dispense the medications that make us well, answer questions about health care and do much more. Now America's pharmacists are helping to battle another sickness in our society: the epidemic of abused and missing children.

The more than 55,000 pharmacies in the United States are forming a nationwide network to help locate missing children and prevent future tragedies. Neighborhood pharmacists will display posters and bulletin boards with pictures of and information about missing children, along with a special hot-line number to call if you recognize a child. This bulletin board will be frequently updated. You'll also see a display of booklets for parents and children with tips on how to avoid child abuse or kidnapping.

America's pharmacists are reaching out to help missing and abused children through the Child Care program, created by The Society For Young Victims and sponsored by the Parke-Davis division of Warner-Lambert Company. Pharmacists agree more missing children could be found if the general public were made aware of who they are.

Most of us visit a pharmacy fairly frequently. The next time you are there, check out the Child Care display. Ask your pharmacist about the problem of missing children. Your pharmacist is aiding in the search, and wants to help you, the customer, become more knowledgeable about the hazards your children are facing.

of corrosion at the terminals. Disconnect the cables. Clean the terminals and battery posts with a wire brush. Put a light film of petroleum jelly on the terminals to prevent formation of corrosion. If the battery has filler caps, add water to the level indicated on the battery.

FUEL ECONOMY

The best way to restore performance and fuel economy is to get a tune-up and replace spark plugs every 20,000 miles or every two years, according to Ray Bollman, manager-serviceability, Chrysler Service and Parts Operations. Bollman also suggests replacing air and fuel filters every two years. Check your tire pressure. Under-inflation affects fuel economy and causes rapid tire wear.

A little planning and maintenance can help assure that your car won't wind up behind a tow truck this summer. And remember to "Buckle up". If everyone wore their safety belts, 12,000 lives could be saved and millions of injuries prevented.

Take care when you're boating:
Power lines could be there

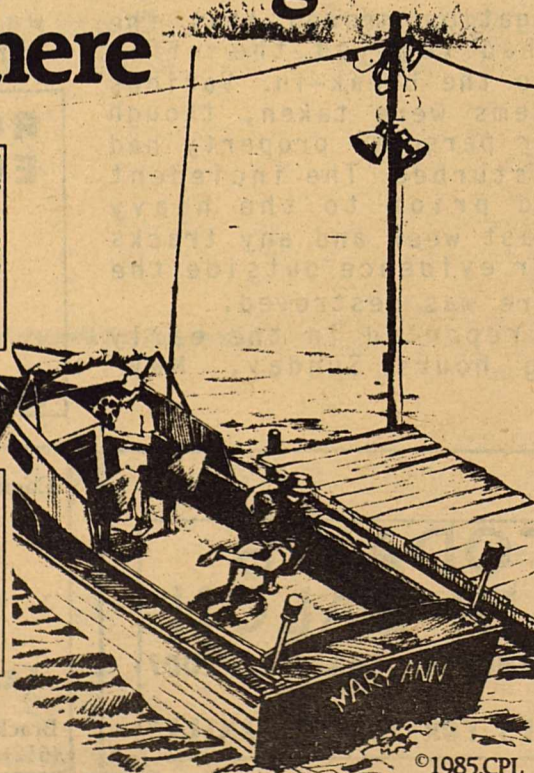

Anytime you're launching your boat or transporting it over land, check carefully to make sure you avoid all electrical facilities.

Metal sailboat masts, outriggers, power boat antennas and other high-rising equipment become deadly conductors of electricity the moment they come in contact with overhead lines. Careless handling of a boat near a power line can endanger your life—and the lives of everyone else nearby.

- Play it safe, too, when you're handling chores around the house.
- Don't trim or fell trees near power lines. This is work best left to experts.
- Keep ladders and other tall devices away from overhead lines.
- Don't install an outside antenna unless you have the proper knowledge and equipment; have a qualified technician handle the job.

And remember that fallen power lines are extremely dangerous. If you see a downed line, call Central Power and Light Company, then stay away from the line and keep others away.

VARIETY OF TOPICS COVERED IN IRR WILDLIFE SESSIONS

LAREDO, Texas--- With current economic crisis in ranching, wildlife enterprises are being given greater attention. This is reflected in the subjects addressed during the wildlife sessions of the International Ranchers Roundup, according to Dwight Guynn of Uvalde, Extension wildlife specialist.

This year's IRR is being held by July 29-August 2 at the Laredo Civic Center. Topics covered during the wildlife sessions will include quail management on the 6666 Ranch in North Texas and big game hunt management on the Deseret Land and Cattle Co. lands in Utah. In addition, biologist Val Lehman of Kingsville will discuss quail management in the Rio Grande Plain, the subject of his latest book.

The impact of wildlife on land values will be the subject discussed by Garvis Marsh, who is retired from the Federal Land Bank.

Albert Ward, a rancher from Sonora, will talk about the impact of hunting leases on rural economies. Guynn will discuss the importance of wildlife enterprises and management techniques to maximize profits.

The "nuts and bolts" of deer biology will also be covered in the wildlife sessions. Bill Morrill, a biologist from Boerne, Steve Nelle of Gonzales, who is with the Soil Conservation Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, and David Guynn, Clemson University, South Carolina, will talk about what constitutes good deer forage and how to analyze census data to determine harvest rates.

Management of hunters and other recreationists often present a myriad of problems for landowners. Henry Welge, rancher from Doss, and Ben Swendson, Lykes Bros. Ranch, Palmdale, Fl., will cover the approaches to managing hunter-recreational problems and how non-consumptive wildlife uses can put money in the bank.

Sessions on ultralight aircraft usage in ranching were first presented at the 1982 IRR in Del Rio. This year in Laredo, new information on the use of ultralight aircraft in coyote control will be presented. Dr. Jim Knight, from New Mexico State University, will give his latest research finding on the subject.

All in all, the wildlife sessions at this year's IRR will provide information that ranchers cannot afford to miss, Dwight Guynn said. For more information, contact local county Extension Agents; or George Gonzales, Webb County Extension Agent, 600 Sandman, Building 979, LASB, Laredo, Texas 78040, telephone (512)727-0801; the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center, 2401 East Highway 83, Westlaco, Texas 78596, telephone (512)968-5581; or the Texas Research and Extension Center, P.O. Museum Shows Children's Art Reveals Their Thinking
