Know Your Rights

Knowing your rights can help you get more of what you should than you otherwise might. For example, any one who moves from one state to another should give thought to his voting rights. You can't lose your right to vote just by moving, but you do have to be properly registered in your new community to be able to vote there.

Anyone who moves should look into registration requirements to keep his right to vote in his new community.

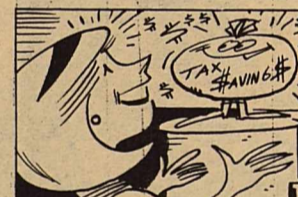

Most likely, your right to vote in your new hometown depends on the date of your move and the state's specific residency requirements. You may find you have not lived in the new state long enough to exercise your right to vote. If so, you can inquire about voting by absentee ballot through the state where you previously lived. Keep in mind there are deadlines for requesting an absentee ballot.

You can get a free leaflet about each state's voter registration requirement from United Van Lines, Public Relations Dept., One United Drive, Fenton, MO 63026.

TIPS ON TAXES

You can deposit money in a financial plan that will save your estate some taxes.

You can save yourself some tax money now and your estate some tax money later in three different ways.

One way is with a Missions Agreement Savings Plan. You deposit money with World Vision, Inc., a Christian humanitarian and service agency. Like a bank, the plan pays you interest and you are free to withdraw your money whenever you wish. When you die the amount you have on deposit will go toward Christian work so none of it is subject to estate tax.

Another way is to set up a trust that will pay you and a survivor a regular income for the rest of your lives. Part of that income will be tax-free. Afterwards, the trust fund will be used to help the poor and tell them about Christ. It, too, will require no estate tax.

The third way is to donate your home, farm or other

You can set up a trust that will generate tax-free income.

You can avoid paying taxes on your home—legally.

property, yet retain the right to use it for as long as you live. This is called a Life Estate. When you die your gift will be used to God's glory—and because you are making a charitable gift, you will also save a large amount in taxes now. What's more, you'll know your property will be used as you want it to be.

For free booklets on these programs, write to; Booklets Dept., Attention: Miss Jill Ungar, World Vision, Inc., 919 West Huntington Drive, Monrovia, CA 91016.

TEXANS RATE DOCTORS UP-TO-DATE AND ETHICAL

Texans think doctors are usually up-to-date on the latest advances in medicine, but that they keep patients waiting too long for their appointment, according to a survey conducted for the Texas Medical Association.

The survey also reveals that most Texans believe the professional liability situation has reached crisis proportions and that the tort system needs reform. These and other findings are featured in the January issue of the official TMA journal, Texas Medicine.

Doctors also were rated as having very high or high ethical standards by 58 percent of the respondents. Nine out of ten said it is important to have a personal physician. These findings come from a survey conducted in July by V. Lance Tarrance & Associates, Houston. "We feel we can better serve patients by knowing what they like and dislike about their doctor," according to Dr. Joel Reed, Houston, chairman of the TMA Council on Communication. "That's why we asked that this survey be done."

While 58 percent of Texans said doctors keep them waiting too long, a nearly equal number think doctors take a genuine interest in them and are up-to-date on medical advances.

The article points out that Tarrant, Bexar, and Dallas county folks and those 55 and older have consistently favorable opinions about doctors. Persons with a family income of more than $50,000 a year are slightly more negative about physicians than the average Texan.

On the broader issue of health care, 76 percent agree government should provide better health care for the poor and elderly. Increased confidence in medicines shown by the 94 percent who said medical science now routinely saves many people who would have died five or 10 years ago.

Seventy-five percent of Texans are keenly aware of the growing crisis with malpractice suits and awards in this country. More respondents said persons are not usually justified when they sue doctors, but are looking for an easy way to make money. The amount awarded to patients by juries in malpractice suits is usually too much, said 44 percent of the respondents. More than half said there should be a limit on the amount of money that can be awarded to someone suing a doctor.

The telephone survey included 700 adults 18 years of age and older in Texas.

SEXUAL REHABILITATION KEY TO RECOVERY AFTER PELVIC CANCER TREATMENT

Education and counseling can have a great impact on a patient's motivation to resume sexual activity after pelvic cancer therapy, according to Texas Medicine, the official journal of the Texas Medical Association.

The article in the journal's January issue states that treatment of pelvic tumors often hinder a persons ability to function sexually because the tumors are close to the genital area. Authors Andrew C. von Eschenbach, MD and Leslie R. Schover, PhD, need intensive sex therapy. Instead, information on water-based lubricants, penile implants, hormone therapy, and other appropriate facts can help patients cope with the stress of cancer treatment.

The authors state that education and counseling often can clear up any myths about cancer that may deter patients from resuming sexual activity. Contrary to what some patients may think, cancer cannot be spread through sexual contact.

Other areas of discussion between patient and physician should include advice on how to resume sexual activity in a non-pressured way, and explanation how cancer therapy will affect sexual desire, arousal, and orgasm, and information on treatments, such as hormone therapy. According to the article, patients with a history of marital conflict or individual psychological problems may need to be referred to a mental health professional for more intensive evaluation early in the cancer treatment process.

FOSTER PARENTING ORIENTATION OFFERED

Persons interested in becoming foster parents are invited to orientation meeting on Thursday, Jan 23, 7 p.m., at the San Felipe Neighborhood Facility, 200 Bridge St. in Del Rio.

The Texas Department of Human Services trains and certifies foster families to provide temporary homes for children who have been abused or neglected. The goal of the program is to return the children home to a safer environment.

Foster parents may be single, married (at least two years), working couples, military, or retirees. No minimum income is required and financial assistance is provided to defray expenses.

Darrell ZumMallen, Foster Home Development Worker for Val Verde, Maverick, and Kinney counties, said the number of foster homes in the area has not kept up with the rising number of children needing placement in the past year.

"We have only 4 foster families in Del Rio, 2 in Eagle Pass, and 1 in Brackettville. This is not nearly enough to meet our needs," ZumMallen said.

For information, call 774-5675 in Del Rio, 773-0350 in Eagle Pass, or 563-2473 in Brackettville.

DIET CHECKLIST

Are you thinking about going on a diet? Before you spend your money for a particular diet book, class or plan, here are some questions to ask:

Is the effectiveness of the program well-documented or is it based on testimonials by "successful" clients.

Does the program make sensational claims that you can "eat all you want," or "lose ten pounds over night"? If so, what's the scientific evidence for these claims.

Is the program supervised by qualified personnel, such as a medical doctor or registered dietitian?

Does the program focus on diet alone, or does it also include behavior and lifestyle modification for permanent weight control? Does the staff have any expertise in these areas.

Are the diets nutritionally balanced to include foods from the major food groups of protein foods like meat, poultry and fish; fruits and vegetables; dairy products; grains and cereals?

Does the program suggest unreasonably rapid weight loss over a short period of time?

Does the program require the purchase of special foods, devices, supplements, books or other extras, and can the purchase be justified?

AGRICULTURE JOINS IN FOOD AND FITNESS CAMPAIGN

For a second year the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) is sponsoring a "Food and Fitness" campaign which extends clear into Kinney, LaSalle and Zavala Counties.

"Some people have trouble seeing the connection between agriculture and diet and fitness," say county Extension agent Sylvia Baker.

"But the health and well-being of the American public is largely determined by the nutrition provided from our agricultural products," she explains.

What people choose to eat - or not to eat - has an important influence on the market for various commodities. And their food choices are often influenced by fad diets and misinformation about the nutritional value, health effects or safety of particular foods, says the home economist.

Also, the more scientists have studied nutrition and weight problems, the clearer it becomes that food is only half the story, remarks Baker. Maintaining a healthful weight is a matter of balancing the calories you take in from food against the energy expended through exercise.

Baker notes that Agriculture Secretary John Block recently announced the theme of the 1986 USDA campaign as "Food and Fitness: An Every Day Event."

In Texas, the Extension Service is carrying out this program to provide the public with reliable information about the total food system - production, consumption, nutrition and exercise, she notes.

No matter where you live in Texas you have to face the barren wastes and tumbling tumbleweed before you reach the majestic beauty of Big Bend and the hauntingly beautiful Chisos Mountains. But all of the endless miles are well worth the effort, for here in the remotest area of Texas is unsurpassed scenery. You can hike Big Bend, ride a horse, grapple with your dirt bike, and raft languidly through the impressive canyons. All are wonderful ways to experience this splendid isolation.

Holiday Inn hasn't arrived, nor has Best Western, but the Cavalry Post offers modern accommodations in a modern motel. Back in the days of Mexican bandits and when Pancho Villa was a household word, General John J. "Black Jack" Pershing chased the infamous cutthroat all along this part of the border. Pershing never bagged his prey, but he did give him a good chase. The Cavalry Post is built on the foundations of one of Pershing's camps. Pickups and jeeps have replaced horses, and the cool blue water of a swimming pool is infinitely more refreshing than a swim in the muddy Rio Grande, but the wonderful climate and stark scenery are still as impressive as they were long long ago.

A wonderful trend in hotels is sweeping Texas. Rather than all the fanfare and hoopla of a Hilton or Marriott, now there are small intimate European-type accommodations, elegant in every detail. Austin has its Stephen F. Austin, Dallas has its Melrose, and Houston has its Lancaster. No more than 9 rooms are on each floor, each with gorgeous custom-designed carpets, drapes, and wallpaper. Fresh flowers and candy and even an umbrella welcome every guest. And, the Lancaster Grill is a gourmet's delight. Ah, yes, The Lancaster would be right at home tucked away off of Hyde Park in London or the Place de la Concord in Paris.

SHERIFF'S CORNER

NORMAN HOOTEN
SHERIFF

The holidays are finally over and hunting season is closed once again so maybe things will slow down and get back to normal for awhile.

All in all things went smoothly as far as law enforcement problems were concerned. We had the usual rise in numbers of DWI cases, Public Intoxication arrests and civil disturbances that always come with the holiday and hunting seasons each year.

Game Warden, Bill Lindeman advised me that he had filed 23 cases in J.P. Court this hunting season, most of the cases filed were night hunting cases. The violators paid stiff fines assessed by the respective J.P.'s involved.

Criminal Mischief cases on Fort Clark have increased dramatically over the past few months and though we have increased patrol time on the Fort we have not as yet been able to obtain sufficient evidence that will enable us to make an arrest.

The primary target of the vandals seem to be attacks on vehicles such as tire slashings, broken windows, hood ornaments, etc. Lee Herron has been the victim of several attacks on his property near the old parade ground and Genell Hobbs had two tires slashed on her vehicle as well as a tire cover slashed. The damage in that case amounted to over $200.00. Tires on seven golf carts were slashed during the same incident which occurred on the night of Jan 5th. Also on the same night two golf carts were pushed into Las Moras Creek by vandals and damage was done to a house under construction in The Oaks section on Ft. Clark.

We do have at least two suspects in the case and with the assistance of Ft. Clark Security and citizens watching out for their neighbors we will eventually get a break in this costly, unnecessary crime spree and be able to make arrests. Be assured that when the break does come the violators will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law. It is time that the offenders involved have to pay for their crimes against the law-abiding citizens of our community.

Those of you who live on Ft. Clark are asked to watch out for suspicious persons in areas where they should not be and to make reports of these sightings to Ft. Clark Security and/or the Sheriff's Department as soon as possible. Try to obtain physical descriptions of the persons and vehicles, scooters, etc. as well as the time, place, direction of travel and include this information in your report. With all of us working together we will eventually be able to put these vicious vandals out of business.

Burglars hit two locations in Brackettville on successive nights. The first burglary occurred at the Memories Lounge on Hwy. 90, Sunday night, Jan 5th. The burglar entered the building by breaking out a window of the front door and crawling through the opening. Several cases of beer and a German Beer Mug were taken in the crime. The incident was investigated by Chief of Police Jim Lindeman and myself on Monday, and a suspect, Juan R. Martinez, 31, of Brackettville, has been arrested in the case and is in jail at the time of this writing awaiting trial.

Good solid criminal investigation and follow up on evidence by Chief of Police Jim Lindeman led to the quick arrest of Martinez.

The 2nd burglary occurred at the residence of Buster Jamail on Fort Street during the night of Jan 6th. Burglars entered the residence by force and were evidently frightened away before being able to complete the crime, as several guns were found stacked near a rear window. One firearm, a Revolver, was taken by the criminals and the case is under investigation at this time.

We received a tragic phone call at 1:30 am Tuesday morning, Jan 7th from Zapata, Texas. A DPS Trooper called us to advise of the death of a longtime friend and a lifetime resident of Brackettville. Gilbert Meyer was fatally injured in a car accident near Zapata. Our heartfelt sympathy is extended to his family and friends during their time of sorrow and loss.

Francisco "Frankie" Martinez, 21, was transported to San Antonio Friday morning, Jan 10th to catch the "chain bus" from the Texas Department of Corrections (TDC). Martinez was convicted of Burglary of a Building in 1983 and received probation in the case. He violated the terms of his probation several times and was arrested on a warrant in October 1985 and went before Judge George Thurmond for a hearing on his case the latter part of December 1985. At that time Judge Thurmond ordered him to TDC for a four (4) year term.

U.S. POSTAL SERVICE

Mr. Joe Ortiz, Jr., was appointed the new Postmaster at Brackettville, Tx, effective Saturday, December 21, 1985. Sectional Center/Postmaster John J. Saldana of San Antonio announced.

Ortiz, age 44, a native of San Antonio, Tx, since May 1983.

Postmaster selections are made on the basis of merit from a list of qualified candidates submitted to the Sectional Center Manager by a Review Committee. The Review Committee, composed of a sectional center director from the same sectional center, a postmaster from the same sectional center, and a sectional center director or postmaster from a different sectional center, reviews the applicants for the position and recommends to the sectional center manager the candidates for interview. The sectional center manager then selects and recommends to the Regional Postmaster General for appointment the candidate who best meets the position requirements.
