HOUSTON STOCKSHOW WINNERS

Houston - March 4, 1987 -- Winning is not new for Cheryl Elledge of Uvalde, Texas. With three first place ribbons from the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo under her belt already, Cheryl today added the banner of Champion Fine Wool Junior Market Lamb to her collection. Cheryl's 138-pound lamb topped the class of 100 entries in the heavyweight division.

Cheryl, the 16-year-old daughter of Robert and Shirley Elledge, has shown lambs for eight years through the Uvalde County 4-H.

The Reserve Champion Fine Wool Cross Lamb was shown by Tate Bannowsky of Junction, Texas.

Tate's 146-pound lamb placed second in the heavyweight division, which was considered by far the best of the three classes of fine wool cross lambs by judge Jack Groff of Kerrville, Texas.

Tate, son of Jim and Kay Bannowsky, is a member of the Kimble County 4-H.

First place in the light weight class went to the lamb shown by Dutch Wardlaw of the Kinney County 4-H in Brackettville, Texas.

Sheri White, also of Brackettville and a Kinney County 4-H member, exhibited the first place medium weight lamb.

Judge Groff said this was the largest group of quality lambs he ever had the pleasure to judge.

PLAY: Read the list of words. Look at the puzzle. You'll find these words in all directions — horizontally, vertically, diagonally, backwards. Draw a circle around each letter of a word found in the puzzle, then strike it off the list. Circling it will show a letter has been used but will leave it visible should it also form part of another word. Find the big words first. When letters of all listed words are circled, you'll have the given number of letters left over. They'll spell out your answer.

SHERIFF'S CORNER

Business picked up considerably over the week-end of March 7th and 8th with several criminal incidents keeping local law enforcement officers busy responding to call for assistance and conducting criminal investigations.

The Ken Phillips residence south of Brackettville was broken into by three illegal aliens Sunday afternoon, March 8th. Entry to the home was gained by breaking a window on the west side of the house. The burglars had prowled around outside and through a storage shed taking tools and other items before entering the house. They were attempting to break into a gun cabinet with an axe when they were surprised inside the house by a visitor to the Phillips residence. Luckily they fled the scene leaving the visitor unharmed.

Two of the suspects were apprehended later by Deputy Sheriff David Luna near the Seminole Cemetery on Las Moras Road west of the Phillips property. The 3rd suspect was trailed southward away from the house by our man-trailing Bloodhound "Dandy" who was brought to the scene by his handler, Uvalde Police Patrolman Carl Kuempel. We were assisted by members of the local U.S. Border Patrol, a Del Rio Highway Patrolman, and our local Game Warden.

The search was called off late Sunday evening because of the time element and the fact that we were running out of daylight. Residents in Spofford and the surrounding area ranchers were notified to be on the lookout for the suspect who remains at large at the time of this writing. It is not anticipated that he will be apprehended.

Shortly after returning to town we received a disturbance call from the Juan "Bear" Sandoval residence reporting that someone had been shot. Upon our arrival at the scene it was determined that though a shot had been fired in the general direction of the group of men in the yard no one had been hit. The shooter was identified by witnesses and arrested a short time later at his home. Walter Wade Salmon, 35, of Brackettville was charged with making a Terroristic Threat, a Class B Misdemeanor. He was disarmed by Deputy Luna and myself and transported to the county jail. He was then transported to the Val Verde Hospital Emergency Room for treatment of injuries he had received earlier in the day from Juan "Bear" Sandoval and Gilbert Martinez, both of Brackettville. Sandoval and Martinez were arrested Monday and charged with Assault Causing Bodily Injury. Salmon was released Monday morning on bond and Sandoval and Martinez were released after paying fines assessed by Justice of the Peace Alvin Hall. Salmon will be tried later in County Court.

Cecil Raymond Ferguson, Jr., 35, of Germantown, Tennessee was arrested and jailed in the early morning hours of Monday, March 9th by local Highway Patrol Troopers on charges of Possession of a Controlled Substance (Cocaine). Ferguson also had in his possession items necessary for a meth lab (methamphetamine of "speed"). He remains in jail at the time of this writing in lieu of $25,000.00 bond set by Justice of the Peace Alvin Hall. Ironically Ferguson is currently on parole from TDC from a prior drug conviction for which he was sentenced to 15 years. He had served only 2 1/2 years of that sentence before being paroled in 1985.

The new immigration law is confusing to both U.S. officials, citizens and residents of Mexico as well. And it is at least partially responsible for the marked decrease in the smuggling of illegal aliens from Mexico over the past few months. No one really knows just exactly what is going to happen or how it will be applied. The decrease in smuggling cases has affected the income in prisoner care fees at the county jail which, of course, has both me and the Commissioners Court concerned.

I have always been eager to report the income we have received at the county jail over the past 5 years since I implemented the federal prisoner program. I find myself not quite so eager to report the drastic decrease in these funds caused by the lack of cases being prosecuted in federal court but I feel you need to be aware of the bitter along with the sweet.

Total prisoner care fees generated by the Sheriff's Department through the County Jail since October 1, 1986 through February 28, 1987 amounts to $46,620.00. The funds generated from this program have shown a marked decrease over the past few months with $14,532.00 being collected for October 1986 and only $2,072.00 being collected for February 1987. For the same time period of a year ago a total of $76,580.00 had been collected. But consider this, the total funds generated for the county for FY 82-83 through February of FY 86-87 by prisoner care fees through the county jail total to $729,839.00, almost 3/4 of a million dollars. These funds have greatly assisted the county in getting out of debt and have even helped provide a cash surplus at the end of the last two fiscal years.

I have talked with representatives of the U.S. Bureau of Prisons and the U.S. Marshal's Service and they seem to think that things will get back to normal within the next couple of months or so. Even at that we will be considerably behind our projected income from prisoner care fees for FY 1986-87. I met with Commissioners Court Monday, March 9th and explained the situation to them and tried to impress on them

GARDENING TIPS

BY THE MORNING
GLORY GARDEN CLUB
DEL RIO, TEXAS

"CHOOSING SHRUBS"

When it comes to choosing shrubs and trees it is important to choose the right size, otherwise you are going to spend endless time pruning to keep the size down. Evergreen shrubs hold their leaves throughout the winter and never have bare branches. One of the pleasant things about shrubs is that they live on in the garden, giving very little trouble and needing very little care. All you have to do is plant them, see that they are thriving, and prune some of them from time to time.

If the garden is just planted in flowers, and no shrubs, your first year of gardening would probably be your last, for a garden with just flowers requires lots of time and energy to maintain. Choose your shrubs with a balance between deciduous and evergreen placing the evergreen where you want year round screening or privacy or a background to a more showy plant. Make sure the soil conditions are right for each plant.

Shrubs bought from the nursery usually have either burlap wrap around the roots and soil, called a balled plant, or in a container. It is important not to disturb roots and to get the balled plant into the ground as soon as possible. Keep your shrubs well watered, making sure that the water thoroughly soaks in and is not just a light sprinkle on the top of the soil. Also fertilize once a year with a good organic fertilizer. Generally speaking, shrubs do not get pests or disease, but they do. Use a good spray.

There are many types of shrubs, so visit your nursery for foliage, flowering or berry bearing shrubs.

FACTS & FIGURES

A company that's really in the driver's seat when it comes to being in the forefront of auto industry trends is celebrating its 75th anniversary this year with sales topping $1.3 billion.

That company, Budd, has been one of American industry's biggest innovators since it opened back in 1912. It introduced the first wire wheel, the first steel disc wheel, the first American-made truck wheel certified for use on tubeless radial-ply tires and the first ten-year wheel and rim warranty.

It's now designing and testing products that reflect the industry's future. Among the company's most promising product developments are an improved bead locking device, a new two-piece military wheel concept, and light-weight hubs. It has invested $8.5 million in a long-term Wheel and Brake expansion plan.

TMA HEALTH TIPS

EARLY DETECTION HELPS PREVENT HEARING LOSS

Do you often ask, "Can you speak louder?" or "Will you repeat that?" If so, you may be missing out on a portion of life, due to hearing loss. Many people tend to ignore or are unaware of gradual hearing loss.

The Texas Medical Association notes that more than 15 million Americans suffer some form of hearing loss. But it often goes undiagnosed because an estimated 75 percent of the hearing-impaired population never has seen a doctor about these problems. As a result, these people may be wrongly labeled dumb, senile, or anti-social.

Hearing loss is one of the most widespread chronic health problems in the United States. It affects young and old alike, but is most common among the elderly. Hearing loss can result from the aging process, certain drugs, and spending too much time around loud noises like chainsaws, jackhammers, and loud music.

Sounds are made up of vibrations that enter the outer ear canal and beat against the eardrum. The eardrum's motion produces vibrations in the three middle-ear bones. These vibrations move through the middle ear to the inner ear, where fluid carries them to the cochlear nerves.

When stimulated by these fluid vibrations, the cochlear nerves generate electrical impulses that the auditory nerve transmits to the brain for interpretation into sound and meaning. Problems along this chain can result in hearing loss.

People with a hearing loss commonly will accuse those around

Anyone with these symptoms should seek medical attention immediately. Early detection and treatment increase the chances of preventing total hearing loss. Fortunately, most hearing impairments can be improved through surgery, hearing aids, or other listening devices. them of mumbling. They may listen to television louder than usual. In conversations, they frequently ask friends to repeat themselves or speak up. Or they may withdraw socially to avoid the embarrassment of not knowing what is said.

"THE NITTY AND THE GRITTY"

BY JOE TOWNSEND

I've always felt the night was for sleeping. When my eyes begin to get heavy I put my head on the pillow and almost as soon as I hit the pillow I am asleep. I very seldom awaken until time to get up. The other night I was awakened by a bird singing. I looked out the window and gracing the top of a high-line pole was a mocking bird. The bird was singing as though he had just learned how and wanted to show the world how it was done. When I contrast that beautiful music with so many sounds of the night I appreciate it even more.

Compared to the yapping of a lot of dogs barking back at one another or the over loud noise of some thoughtless people with band or stereo oppressively loud I wanted to say to the mocking bird, "Thank you little bird for adding some beautiful music to the night". The bird sounded so beautiful I did not notice any of the disagreeable sounds of night.

And so it is with life; there is so much beauty to drown out the disagreeable if we just listen for it. For a good while I lay awake just to enjoy the exhilarating lilt of the singing. The bird didn't know and didn't care that he was entertaining me - he was doing his thing. If each of us does "his thing" well life will be richer for many without our knowing.

March is the third month of the year. Named for Mars, the Roman god of war and originally, of vegetation, March was the first season of the Roman calendar, beginning the season of new military campaigns and renewed agriculture.

Some important events in March include Saint Patrick's Day (17th), and the assassination of Julius Caesar on the Ides of March (15th). The vernal Equinox falls about the twenty-first of March, so the month is part winter and part spring.

Saint Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland, whose special day is celebrated on March 17th, was born in what is now Scotland. When Patrick was sixteen he was carried off by pirates and sold into slavery in Ireland. After he spent six years in Ireland he escaped in a ship bound for France. For a time he lived in France where he became a monk. After a divine revelation Patrick returned to Ireland to begin the work which would one day make him the patron saint of Ireland. He planted the seeds of Christianity firmly in Irish society, establishing churches and monasteries and converting people.

Many legends surround Saint Patrick. Among them is the story of how he drove the snakes and toads from Ireland. It is said that there was no night for twelve days after his death on March 17th, 461.

JUST BETWEEN

YOU & ME

BY WANDA SCHWANDNER

I want to thank all the nice people in the community who called, came by, or dropped a note commending me for my letter to the Editor. I didn't write the letter in order to win an election or anything and I certainly don't intend to get in a mud-slinging contest with anyone. I wrote as a concerned parent. I stated my opinion and hope that everyone read it as I wrote it and not as some people interpreted it.

Lily Schwandner reports that her grandson, Sam Pat Ferguson, son of Emily Honeycutt, Del Rio and Sam Ferguson, Brackettville, has finished his one year probation and has been accepted as an Agent in The Border Patrol. Sam Pat is married to Sheri Scott, daughter of Doreen Tollett, Uvalde, and granddaughter of Mr. & Mrs. Elmer Truesdall, Spofford. Sam Pat will be stationed for 2 years in Chula Vista, California. Sam Pat and Sheri have 2 children, Brandon and Kristen.

Brenda Morelli along with baby Ashley and big brother, Chase are here visiting with proud grandparents, Ginger Dodson and The B.E. Sweets.

Ralph Gonzales reports that the Housing Authority is making giant strides in getting reorganized. They are paying their bills and doing some fixing up and cleaning up. Ralph works at the Conoco Station. Wife, Candy is employed at The Burger Shake. Ralph and Candy have lived in Brackettville for 2 years and have 4 children, Lorene 14, Robert 11, Veronica 6, and Jesse, two years of age. Ralph was recently appointed to the Child Welfare Board. Glad to see newcomers getting involved in the community.

COME OUT THURSDAY, MARCH 12, and root for your favorite teacher or Rotarian. There will be a womens' basketball game at 6:30 to be followed by a mens game. Should be lots of fun to watch. This is an annual affair sponsored by The Rotary Club of Brackettville, The proceeds are divided between The Rotary Club and The Brackett School Athletics Fund. Admission is $1.50 for adults and $.50 for students. COME JOIN THE FUN!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

From all accounts, the Junior-Senior Prom was a roaring success. I saw some beautiful young ladies and gentlemen. Couldn't believe these were the same jeans-clad kids that hang around the house all the time. A breakfast was held afterwards at Carl & Courtney Schwandners by some Junior mothers.

Lois Forbes has moved to San Antonio, only a few blocks from daughter, Barb and Trish. Lois attended Uvalde Junior College several years ago and received an Associates Degree Magna Cum Laude. She also was Valedictorian of her graduating class. I understand her Valedictorian speech was one of the most moving that had been given at the College in some time.

It takes a lot of courage to start a new life when tragedy strikes, but Lois is that kind of person. She is taking courses in word processing, C.R.T., and new office machines, sponsored by AARP. She will be employed part-time at IBM upon completion of her 7 day course. Good luck Lois!!!

Nancy Forbes says that Fluff had 2 kittens a couple of weeks ago. Sorry, theres only two and not enough to go around. Somebody is going to be disappointed. Anyway, if you just can't bear the thought of being without a little fuzz-ball, come stand in line at her house, you just might get lucky!!!!

ZAFFIRINI FILES BILLS

AUSTIN -- Adults convicted of selling drugs to minors would face mandatory prison sentences without qualifying for probation or for early release, if two bills filed by Sen. Judith Zaffirini (D-Laredo) Tuesday pass the legislature.

"We must ensure that criminals who sell drugs to children go to jail and stay in jail," Zaffirini said. "There is nothing more obnoxious than an adult who preys on our children, ruining their future and our hopes for a better world."

Senate Bill 628 by Zaffirini would prohibit juries from granting probation to an adult convicted of selling drugs to minors. Senate bill 629 by Zaffirini would forbid good time credit for adults convicted of the crime and would place the offense in the same category as capital murder, aggravated kidnapping, aggravated sexual assault and other heinous crimes for sentencing purposes. This category prescribes the stiffest sentence--save for execution--allowable be law.

"Teachers, parents and even students have expressed their disgust with the many lenient sentences handed down in cases involving the sale of drugs to minors," Zaffirini said.

"These two bills reflect my tough stance on drug abuse and often indicate most minors who use drugs get them from other minors, somewhere early in this illegal distribution system, those drugs were obtained from an adult.

"If we can ensure that those adults go to jail and stay there, we can decrease, and in some cases prevent, drug use among children by cutting off their supply source."

Zaffirini said the Texas Legislature is addressing the related problem of overcrowded prisons, and that legislators are committed to ensuring that perpetrators of heinous crimes do not qualify for early release programs.

SB 628 and SB 629 have been referred to the Senate Committee on Criminal Justice.

VISIONS of the VIRGIN MARY

No mystery within Catholicism is more relevant to scientists and other observers interested in unexplained or paranormal phenomena than the eight major sightings or "visions" of the Virgin Mary that have been chronicled between 1846 and 1965. Experts have been eager to prove or disprove a link between these religious experiences with contemporary concepts of UFO sightings, entity encounters, abductions, ghosts, poltergeists, apparitions, lucid dreams and out-of-body experiences.

That's why author Kevin McClure has assembled the evidence, providing full coverage of each "Marian" sighting starting with La Salette, France and including the "visions" at Lourdes and Fatima where after several apparitions by the Virgin Mary a crowd of thirty thousand assembled to witness the event.

The author provides testimony offered by objective witnesses:

- "I saw, clearly and distinctly, a luminous glow coming from the east..." (Fatima)
- "Her face was luminous. It looked as if she had an electric bulb inside." (Beauraing, Belgium)
- "I saw an altar there; it was surrounded with a bright light, nay, with a light at times sparkling, and so too were all the other figures..." (Knock, Ireland) plus dozens of candid photographs (including the "solar miracle" at Fatima) and other illustrations, together with lucid criticism as the evidence is finally assessed.

But decide for yourself—every shred of evidence is here for your personal evaluation. 158 pages, 5 x 7 1/4, 20 illustrations, bibliography and reading list, index.

BY DORTHY PAYNE

Will Rogers was born in 1879 in Oologah, Oklahoma in what was then Oklahoma Territory. Rogers was one quarter Cherokee. His early years were spent on his parents ranch where he worked as a ranch hand.

His mother wanted him to be a minister, but he always wanted to be an actor. His father on the other hand, wanted him to be a lawyer because it was a profession that paid more money.

Most of Will's early life was spent riding the range and always he was handling a rope in some way.

He had a hard time staying in school, he wanted to be on the prairie and in the hills. He finally stayed in school long enough to complete the fifth grade, then he was off to the outdoors, either working on the home ranch or some other ranch.

He soon joined a Wild West Show where he was so skillful at roping. There he was known as the Cherokee Kid.

In 1905 Rogers appeared on the vaudeville stage in New York and became a star on the Zeigfeld Follies. From there he went in radio and show business. Later he became a newspaper reporter and writer. And in 1928, Reinhold Neibeht, the great theologian in his sermon as a faculty member of the Union Theological Seminary in

New York said, "Will Rogers speaks greater truth than more pretentious prophets dare to utter".

Rogers was the first to recognize the danger of the Communist revolution in Russia, because he didn't believe a system could stand the denial of Gods existence.

His humor was known all over the world. He was considered Americas "Ambassador of Good Will". Rogers was actively supported as the 1932 Democratic nominee at the National Convention.

He was a great friend of the artist Charles Russel, Charles Lindberg, and Billy Mitchell, among others. Will was the only humorist whose statue stands in the hall of the rotunda in Washington.

He starred in seventy movies and was a success at the box office without the benefit of scenes of sex or violence. He was the voice for the Disney Corp. for its EPCOT exhibit in Florida.

He wrote six books, and many feature articles in magazines and newspapers, and was the most widely read columnist of his day and a popular after dinner speaker.

Will once said "you couldn't do anything about legislators except stand and watch 'em like animals in a zoo".

He also said "Streets that used to be lighted up at nights, and thousands of people are now used for robbing purposes only".

But my favorite quote Rogers said was, "Something ought to be done about "Primitive" people who live in various parts of the world and don't know a thing but to live off what nature provides. You would think they would get civilized and learn to live off each other like us civilized folks do."

On August 15, 1935 at 8:18 p.m., Will Rogers and Wiley Post crashed their plane in Alaska near Point Barrow, killing both.

Post had flown two flights around the world, was rated as one of the greatest pilots that ever lived. An airlock in the gasoline fuel line or freezing of the carburetor was supposed to be the cause of the wreck. They were buried at the same time, Rogers in California and Post in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, his home town.

In a speech made in Boston in 1930, Rogers said he wanted the following epitaph on his grave. "I joked about every prominent man of my time, but I never met a man I didn't like".

VIDEO VIEWER

BY RORY WOODSON

Hi! again. This week I got to watch the movie "The Boy Who Could Fly". I'm glad I did, it was one of the best movies I've seen this year, and one of the most uplifting and touching films made. It's a story about a new girl in town (Lucy Deakins) and a deaf mute boy (Jay Underwood) who dreams of flying. Between the two they learn if you wish long enough and love hard enough, anything is possible.

The next video is "Shanghai Surprise" which to me was no surprise at all! If anyone wants to know about any good Madonna albums I could recommend three! But if you want to know about any good Madonna movies, I'm sorry there aren't any! I watched the whole movie and it left me with the feeling, "is that all?"

And last but not least, there is "Top Gun". A well put together film with some superb flying sequences that alone makes the film worth watching. Tom Cruise puts on an excellent performance as "the best, of the best, pilots", named Nick Maverick. Kelly McGillis also hands in a good performance as a civilian instructor who falls in love with Maverick. It is easy to understand why this movie was such a box office smash. Well, until next week, Happy Viewing!

MOM'S KITCHEN

Everyone is Irish on St. Patrick's Day! There are parades in the Nation's largest cities--the biggest, most famous one in New York. Wherever you stand along the parade route, you're likely to catch a whiff of corned beef and cabbage--the traditional offering of the city's famous Irish pubs.

Why not celebrate with a Blarney feast around your own table on March 17? Add a round loaf of Irish soda bread. Be sure to pass zippy horseradish sauce and end the meal on a heavenly note with goblets of Irish coffee.

*Perfect Corned Beef

1 corned beef, 4-5 lbs.
1 lg. clove garlic slivered
1 lg. onion
6-8 med. round red potatoes
6-8 med. carrots peeled
6-8 med. white onions
1 med. green cabbage cut into 6-8 wedges
minced parsley (optional)

Rinse corned beef under cold running water; pat dry with paper towel. With knife cut small slits in beef inserting garlic sliver in each as you go. In large kettle, place corned beef; add large onion cover with water and bring to boil over high heat. Skim solid that rises to top; reduce heat. Cover and simmer about 3 hours, or until meat is almost tender when pierced with fork. Remove and discard large onion. Add potatoes, carrots, and white onions. Increase heat to medium; cover and cook 15 mins. Remove corned beef to large platter or cutting board; cover with foil; keep warm. Add cabbage to kettle of vegetables, cover and cook 10 to 15 mins. or until cabbage is crisp and tender and potatoes, carrots, and onions are tender. With slotted spoon, remove vegetables and arrange around corned beef. If desired, sprinkle with parsley. Slice corned beef in thin slices across grain.

*Horseradish sauce

8 oz. sour cream
1/3 C. white horseradish

combine and serve along side corned beef.

*Irish Soda Bread

3 C. unbleached flour
3 T. sugar
1 T. baking powder
1 t. baking soda
1/2 t. salt
1/3 C. margarine softened
1 1/2 C. buttermilk

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Lightly grease large cookie sheet, set aside. In large bowl, sift flour, sugar, baking powder, baking soda, and salt. With pastry blender or fork, cut in butter until mixture is crumbly. Add buttermilk all at once. With fork mix lightly until thoroughly moistened. Turn dough on to floured surface; knead 1 minute. Shape into ball. Place on prepared cookie sheet; flatten to 9-inch round about 1 1/2 inches thick. Score center top of dough with floured knife, about 1/8 inch deep; repeat at right angle to divide loaf in quarters. Bake 45 mins. or until loaf sounds hollow when tapped with fingertips. Serve warm with sweet butter.

*Irish Coffee

6 t. light brown sugar
1/2 C. Irish whiskey
4 C. hot strong black coffee
1/4 C. heavy cream, whipped

Into four 6 or 8 oz. Irish Coffee goblets or mugs, place 1 1/2 t. brown sugar and 2 T. whiskey. Stir in just enough hot coffee to dissolve sugar, then fill each goblet with hot coffee to 1/2 inch of rim. Top with dollop of whipped cream. Do not stir. Serve at once.

HOW NOT TO RAISE MONEY!

A FABLE FOR OUR TIME

"Once upon a time the Worth-while Club decided to hold a fundraiser to raise money for the local town. The members wanted to put up a sign at the edge of town that proclaimed it "Countryside, U.S.A. the friendliest little town in these here parts".

They decided they would hold a dinner and play some games and give away some prizes. Now they wanted to raise lots of money, so they decided to mimeograph their tickets at the school instead of at the local newspaper print shop and asked for a free story in the newspaper, and a free story to tell who had won what. The newspaper man looked a little bit disgruntled, but said he would print their story.

Then they discovered they could buy the chickens they were serving at the supper for ten cents a pound less at a store in town 45 miles down the road. One of the Worth-while Club members was going there anyway to do her Christmas shopping, so she agreed to pick them up for the club at no travel cost to them. She bought the prizes out of town too, while she was at it.

Of course they used napkins and cups from the local bank, and the other paper products they needed they bought at a discount store just 70 miles up the highway.

The wives of the local grocer, local hardware store man and the local banker all worked on the supper with the other Worth-while Club members so there were no labor costs.

Well, the event was a huge success and the club raised $500 for the sign.

But it never got put up. Why?

Three of the town's local businesses went under that year shortly before Christmas. It was thought by many that perhaps the fellows hadn't run their businesses as well as they should have. Of course, without any businesses to serve, the newspaper and the bank soon followed suit.

The Worth-while Club has decided not to hold its dinner again this year, even though last year's was such a barnstormer. With the bank gone, they would have to purchase all the paper products. The Club membership had dropped about a third, and the ladies felt there weren't enough of them to do the work.

And the grocer and the banker and the candlestick maker? Well, they're all members of the Jolly Good Time Club in that town 70 miles down the road now.

FOSTER PARENTS NEEDED

The Texas Department of Human Services needs foster parents to give abused and neglected children temporary homes. A training orientation for people interested in becoming foster parents will be held Tuesday evening (March 31, 1987) from 6:30 - 9:00 p.m. at the Texas Department of Human Services located at 891 Florence St. in Eagle Pass.

WHO can be a foster parent? Singles, couples, working people, retirees, military personnel, people with or without children. You do not have to be wealthy or own a home. Most of all, foster parents need to be caring people willing to make the commitment required to help children and their troubled families.

If you think that you might be interested in becoming a foster parent, please call the Texas Department of Human Services at 773-0350.

the fact that we will just have to ride this out and that there is no need to push the panic button just yet. This situation seems to be a prime example of getting used to unexpected income over a period of time and then suddenly having it cut off. Our budget has been planned with expected income from the prisoner care fees and we will just have to tighten our belts and watch our expenditures until things get back on even keel. I will keep you posted on the developments and hopefully things will look brighter soon.
