The young dancers, which include thirty boys and girls from ages five to eleven, have been taking weekly lessons since September. Beverly Matzig and Janice Foster of Del Rio have taught them combinations of ballet, tap dance, and tumbling at the St. Andrews Episcopal parish hall in Brackettville.

The "Springtime in the Park" recital will be at 7:30 p.m., Friday, May 1. There will be no charge for admission, and everyone is welcome. There will be a reception at the school cafeteria following the recital.

"Nothing does more than information, rightly grasped, to open the doors of the world to a better tomorrow; and no agency does more than the library--in today's new and wider sense to provide the most reliable information, the best thinking on the sweep of human concerns. THE LIBRARY IS THE UNIVERSITY OF THE PEOPLE."

These were the words of Dr. John Archibald Wheeler, internationally acclaimed physicist on the UT Austin Faculty, to the graduating students of the Graduate School of Library and Information Science a few years ago.

Dr. Wheeler said it does not take hammer, fire and dynamite to destroy the nation's libraries and information centers. "Indifference is enough", he said. "Just keep cutting the budget a little every year." Or keep the budget fixed and let inflation do the job of destruction just as effectively and more insiduously. Stay passive. Never think for ourselves. Never learn the art of expressing ourselves with clarity and strength. Never put together a well reasoned statement on anything. Above all, never write. Cure people of that nonsensical idea that we should go to the library to get our own information in our own way on our own questions.

APRIL A BUSY MONTH FOR FORT CLARK SHRINERS

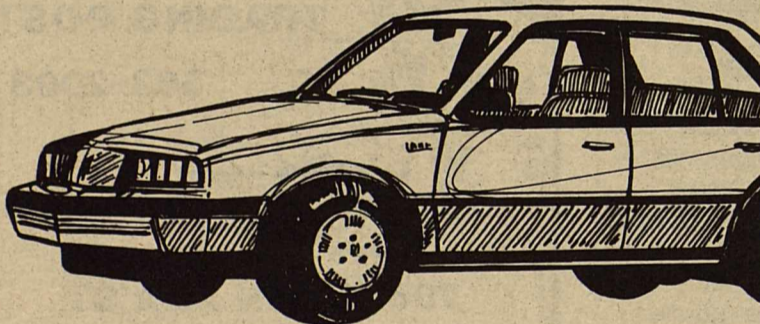

April has been a busy month for the Fort Clark Shrine Club Scooters. It has also been a fun month along with the work. We attended the Poteet Strawberry Festival on the 11th then the San Antonio Flambeau Night Parade on the 25th.

On Saturday morning as we were loading our scooters to go to San Antonio, it began to rain. So instead of being like normal people and unloading our scooters and staying home, our weatherman, Colonel Jack Taunt, said "Don't worry, it isn't going to rain on us during the parade, you have my word on it". So with it coming a downpour, at 11:00 a.m. Jim and Dorothy Haga, Jack and Marge Taunt, Bruce and Dorothea Clements got in my motorhome and headed for San Antonio. None of us believing Jack knew what he was talking about.

When we arrived in San Antonio, to our surprise, we found it had not rained there. We found a place to park the motorhome near the end of the parade route, then before we unloaded our scooters we enjoyed a picnic dinner prepared by our ladies. After unloading we rode our scooters to the parade assembly point. Again our fearless leader said, "follow me". This time he took us through downtown San Antonio by the shortest way possible and without stopping once to ask directions. This was too much for Jim and I for Jack to be

RANCH MANAGEMENT PROGRAM SLATED

A program on total ranch management will be held Tuesday, May 5, for all Kinney County Livestock operators. This program, sponsored by the Kinney County Farm and Ranch Club and the Texas Agriculture Extension Service, will begin at 9:00 a.m. upstairs at the Ft. Clark Springs Restaurant. A dutch treat lunch will be available for all participants.

Today the greatest number one factor in staying in the ranching business is determined by profitability. Agriculture profitability was the number one critical issue identified recently by county producers state-wide. Because of this, our Farm and Ranch Club in Kinney County has developed their program which will allow producers to develop a production plan for Ewe/Lamb enterprise and show an estimated cash flow and gross margin example. This same principle can be applied to any ranching enterprise. Because of the subject matter to be taught, it would be most advantageous for participants to bring a hand calculator for their use.

For any further information, call the County Extension Agents office at our number, 563-2442.

There Are Wolves All Around Us

"Behold, I send you out as sheep in the midst of wolves."

— Matthew 10:16

Among the instructions Jesus gave his disciples when he sent them on their missions was a warning to beware the evils that non-believers and men who opposed his teachings might impose on them. "A sheep among wolves" was as apt a descriptive then as it is today. We all are confronted daily with the wickedness that exists in life and we are surrounded by the sinners who would entice us to do likewise. Jesus armed his disciples with the spirit of God and a belief that the message they carried to the world would protect them. We, too, have our faith in God as a refuge and the words of Jesus as a comfort when the predators who assail us become too threatening.

Quanah Parker is a figure who has been written about ever since the famous battle of Adobe Walls. He was the last chief of the Comanche, Born sometime between 1845 and 1852, in an Indian village on the shores of Laguna Sabinas known now as Cedar Lake on the plains which is in the present Gaines County Texas.

Cynthia Anne Parker, mother of Quanah was captured along with her brother John in a raid on Fort Parker, a private Fort near the headwaters of the Navasota River in present Limestone County. She lived with the Comanches for almost twenty-five years, at the time of her capture she was nine years old while John was six. Cynthia married a comanche chief, Pete Nacona, of this union were two sons, Quanah and Pecos, and a baby girl named Prairie Flower. In later years Pecos went to Mexico, and Prairie Flower died when just a child. Cynthia Ann was captured after the battle of Adobe Walls along with the baby Prairie Flower and taken back to Oklahoma near Fort Sill where the baby died because she and her mother didn't adjust to civilization and led a lonely and sad existence.

When the death of his father came about at Adobe Walls, where he was shot, Quanah became chief of the Comanche tribe, in 1867, and for the next eight years had an alliance of Comanche, Kiowa, Apache and Southern Comanche raids.

In 1883 Quanah surrendered to the army and decided to join them if he couldn't whip them. So he learned English, studied English, became fluent in Spanish, studied Agriculture and became a "white mans Indian".

He leased to cattlemen the surplus tribal pasture lands and with the money built Indian schools and educated his own children well. He became general manager of his own tribe and the Kiowas and Apaches as well. He traveled and was at the inaugural of Teddy Roosevelt in Washington.

When the buffalo were no more, the Indian turned to Peyote, as the only thing left to an disorganized people.

The Missionaries have fought its use to use but to the Indian it was God sent and would open the door to a paradise on earth, causing visions, some even in techni-color. In parts of Europe it is used as a patient medicine, but hasn't any commercial value in this country. There are no ill effects and is not considered habit forming.

The ceremony of Peyote varies slightly from tribe to tribe, but in general the buttons are eaten after a ceremonial cleansing and preparation concluded at sun-up. The morning is greeted with four morning prayers. Then a ritual breakfast is eaten, followed by relaxation until noon when a tribal dinner is eaten, thus ending the ceremony.

Later day religious influence include the prayers which are addressed to Jehovah through Christ. A few tribes place the Bible on the altar during the ritual.

With the infiltration of the white man's ways, the younger members of the tribes are drawing away from the use of Peyote, causing it to used more for a medicinal cure at the present time.

Quanah seemed to accept reservation even if he sometimes longed for the old days. The Indians were allowed to hunt the few remaining buffalo in the Texas Panhandle in the summer.

Quanah was allowed to leave the reservation to make several trips to Texas to visit. He was married seven times and became the father of several children.

One of the amusing incidents concerning his many wives was the time the government sent a representative to inform Quanah he must choose one of his seven wives because he could only keep one wife under the white mans law. Quanah suggested the government official choose which wife Quanah should keep, the arguement ended in a stalemate.

Quanah Parker died on February 23, 1911, and was buried in the Post Oak, Oklahoma Cemetery near his mother and Prairie Flower, his baby sister.

This man, half white, half Comanche, was a great warrior and leader of his people, who somehow seemed to escape the pitfalls of mixed blood, probably because he chose to remain what he was.

"THE NITTY AND THE GRITTY"
BY JOE TOWNSEND

Nature is truly a fascinating lady. As was anticipated, I've seen a very wide panorama of wild flowers this spring. Many have not been seen for several years.

Among the rare ones this year is the Texas version of the California poppy. The California poppy is to California, what the bluebonnet is to Texas. In the spring you often see a hill covered with the rich orange of the poppy as though it were a blanket. The Texas variety looks somewhat anemic in comparison but it's delicate beauty is a marvelous addition to the wild flora of the Texas roadside and pasture. It is not seen every year, but patiently awaits the right moisture and temperature to venture forth.

How wonderful if all humanity were endued with patience to await the right time and condition to make impact. The poppy seed may lie dormant for years but never dies. It just patiently waits the right opportunity. Then when the opportunity comes, the poppy comes forth in its regal fragility to bless all who see it. If man could only have such persistence and move when the time is right, he too could be a greater blessing.

The poppy in Texas does not demand a perfect environment as the California poppy finds in its native state, but it takes things as they are and blooms its best. How great if all mankind were to take things as they are, and doing the best there is, under the conditions, make the world a better place. Yes, man could learn some valuable lessons from the California poppy strayed to Texas.

ALL I EVER REALLY NEEDED TO KNOW, I LEARNED IN KINDERGARTEN

by

Robert Fulghum
Kansas City Times, Sept. 1986

Most of what I really need to know about how to live, and what to do, and how to be, I learned in Kindergarten. Wisdom was not at the top of the graduate school mountain, but there in the sandbox at nursery school.

These are the things I learned: Share everything. Play fair. Don't hit people. Put things back where you found them. Clean up your own mess. Don't take things that aren't yours. Say you're sorry when you hurt somebody. Wash your hands before you eat. Flush. Warm cookies and cold milk are good for you. Live a balanced life. Learn some and think some and draw and paint and sing and dance and play and work every day some.

Take a nap every afternoon. When you go out into the world, watch for traffic, hold hands, and stick together. Be aware of wonder. Remember the little seed in the plastic cup. The roots go down and the plants go up and nobody really knows how or why, but we are all like that.

Goldfish and hamsters and white mice and even the little seed in the plastic cup--they all die. So do we.

And then remember the book about Dick and Jane and the first word you learned, the biggest word of all: LOOK.

FACTS FROM OUR COUNTY JUDGE

Dear Fellow Citizens,

As the Countys Chief Financial Officer, I feel it is time to make you aware of certain financial problems we are experiencing in the current fiscal year and will be facing as we begin to make a new budget for the upcoming fiscal year-10/1/87-88.

The present budget is for $988,008.43, and has a deficit income of $148,949.98 which comes out of our cash reserve of $325,804.73. The tax rate was lowered from 61 1/2 cents to 55 cents in keeping commitments made in 1983 that taxes would be lowered when we paid our debts and had a fund surplus. Also, the current budget has been amended numerous times totalling $60,698.94 in disbursements.

Many things, including repairs and re-arrangement of space use in the Courthouse and Annex, the new indigent health care program, soaring insurance and workmans compensation insurance cost due to claims, and our participation in the time/purchase of a computer for the tax appraisal office, have increased our expenditures.

Most of the budgeted department receipts and disbursements are in perspective, but the jail, with budgeted receipts of $200,000.00 anticipated has year to date (Y.T.D.) receipts of only $46,592.00, plus total receipts outstanding for March of $728.00. This is due to the lack of need for prisoner care space by the Border Patrol and U.S. Marshall's office. With 56% of the year gone, we are $64,408.00 short of receipts and with a not too bright outlook for the years remaining budgeted receipts of $88,000.00.

When presented with these facts by the County Auditor, the Commissioners Court voted in a special meeting on March 31st to impose a hiring and purchasing freeze on all departments. On April 10th, in another special meeting, we went over the budgeted disbursements and reduced same $29,998.64 with the cooperation of department heads.

At my request, the County Auditor has prepared a summary of the jails receipts and disbursements from the last five annual outside audits (this does not include any payroll burden cost and related insurance cost), and a tentative year to date summary in order to better evaluate the jails operation. It is listed below.

We will be working toward a balanced budget for you.

Yours sincerely,

SS/ Tommy Seargeant
County Judge

Everything you need to know is in there somewhere...the Golden Rule and love and basic sanitation, ecology and politics and sane living.

Think of what a better world it would be if we all--the whole world--had cookies and milk about 3 o'clock every afternoon and they lay down with our blankets for a nap.

Or if we had a basic policy in our nation and other nations to always put things back where we found them and clean up our own messes.

And it is still true, no matter how old you are, when you go out into the world, it is best to hold hands and stick together.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BANQUET HELD

The Brackettville Chamber of Commerce Banquet was held April 24 in the Members Lounge of Fort Clark Springs. There were 117 people in attendance who enjoyed a talk given by Tom McGlathery of The Texas Parks & Wildlife Commission. McGlathery spoke briefly about the Kickapoo Caves located on The Seargeant Ranch. McGlathery stated that in 5 to 7 years the Park would be ready as a tourist attraction. According to McGlathery, statistics show that a community such as Brackettville can expect approximately 50,000 tourists to visit the Park annually. He estimated that each person spends between $13.00 and $15.00 which would mean an area increase in income of $650,000.00 to $750,000.00 per year. McGlathery also made a slide presentation featuring scenes from various State Parks in Texas.

Tim Ward was presented The Citizen of The Year Award. In making the presentation, President Gene Britton, cited Wards' many years of community service. In particular, his recent efforts to bring the dream of a new Kinney County Clinic to completion.

Maria Carmen Lozano was chosen The Student of The Year. She was one of three outstanding young people in our community nominated for this honor. Maria plans to attend San Angelo State College.

The other two contenders were Kenneth Mulligan, Jr. and Anita Diaz.

JUST BETWEEN YOU & ME

BY WANDA SCHWANDNER

The Brackett Chamber Banquet is over and was a roaring success. The decorations were wonderful. Susan Harrison, Nelda Archer and Joy Ralston gathered cactus and flowers from many Kinney County sites. The arrangements were all from natural ingredients except for a few silk blooms and some tiny stuffed birds and forest animals. Beautiful!!!

There were 117 people there and I'm sorry that I didn't have time to visit with every one of them. Such a nice group. The food was supplied by Las Moras Inn and was wonderful. Of course an ol foodaholic such as myself would enjoy a good steak.

Sondra and J.E. Meil were telling me about their recent mishaps. He had leg surgery and she had a wreck on her scooter. She injured her arm and was banged up pretty good. With her good legs and his good arms, she said they made one pretty good person. They were expecting all their children in last weekend. Haven't checked to see how that went, but I'll bet they managed very well to enjoy those grandkids, even with their sore body parts.

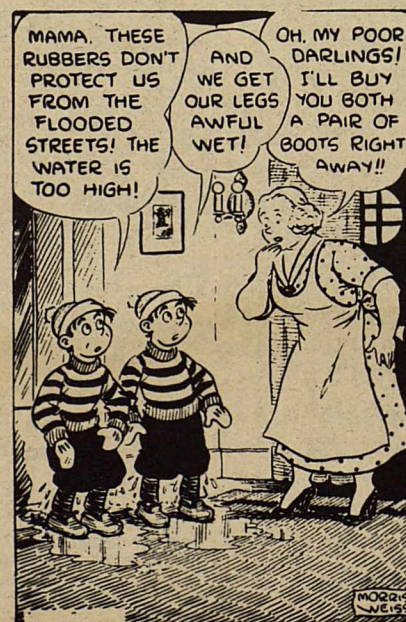

Jason visited with me Saturday night and we had a good time. He talked to every one at the pool, Sunday. Went by Sharon and Russ Whites' house. He was so excited about feeding their Camels. Well now, that what Jason called them. I mostly call them lambs, but if Jason wants to call them Camels, its alright by me. Check out that silly grin on Dennis Slubars' face. Happens every time that pretty granddaughter comes to visit. Of course Dennis generally has a grandkid somewhere in evidence. Dustin and Bryan love to go to grandmas and grandpas. Richard is home from the Navy, so Rosemary and Dennis had all their kids home this week. I know how that feels. I always feel better when all my chicks are in pocket.

Dawn and little Brittany left Wednesday.

Rose Bizzell and daughter, Angie are in Las Vegas this week. Hope you bring back more $ than you took, Rose. We used to have those one armed bandits in the Elks and VFW Clubs in Kansas and I really loved those machines. Have you tried Tropical Sno? Its addictive, or so I hear. SHERIFF'S CORNER

We recently received two Motorola 32 channel mobile radios from U.S. Customs to be installed in our two Sheriff's Department patrol cars as part of the two-pronged attack aimed at drug smugglers along the U.S. - Mexico border. The two operations (actually a two-pronged, coordinated operation) have been code named Operation Alliance and Operation Blue Fire. The U.S. Customs Service will pay for installation and maintenance of the radios and we have dramatically increased our communications capabilities with several law enforcement agencies that are involved in the war on drugs and drug dealers along the border. Some of these agencies are: U.S. Customs Service, the Department of the Treasury, the Secret Service, the U.S. Marshals Service, the Texas Department of Public Safety Narcotics Division, the U.S. Border Patrol, the Texas Parks & Wildlife Department Law Enforcement Division (Game Wardens), and several Sheriff's Departments and Police Departments in our area. The coordinated efforts of the various law enforcement agencies have already led to the arrests of several drug users and dealers in our county and we anticipate many more arrests before the year is out. We may never stop drug dealing altogether, but we're sure as heck gonna try.

One portion of the war on drugs that has already paid off with the arrests of some big time drug smugglers is the U.S. Customs Anti-Drug Hotline. The U.S. Customs Service Drug Awareness Program Hotline, 1-800-BE-ALERT, will pay an anonymous tipster $2,500.00, according to William Von Raab, U.S. Commissioner of Customs.

An anonymous tip last December led to the biggest success yet of the new anti-smuggling hotline when officers confiscated more than 1 ton of marijuana on an 18-wheel truck at Falfurrias, Texas. The street value of the marijuana was about $1 million dollars.

The 1-800-BE-ALERT number is designed to solicit citizen support against drug smuggling and to enhance U.S. Customs Service interdiction capabilities through the receipt of intelligence from concerned citizens. Customs will pay cash awards ranging from $250.00 to $2,500.00 for anonymous information leading to the arrest and conviction of drug smugglers. The size of the award depends on the circumstances of the case and the results.

Activated in September 1986 in the Southwest, the 1-800-BE-ALERT number has already resulted in more than 350 calls. The hotline serves all U.S. - Mexico border states.

VIDEO VIEWER

BY RORY WOODSON

Hi!

This week I'll review "Quiet Cool" and "Nothing In Common".

In the first movie "Quiet Cool", there are three types of people: (1) those who illegally grow marijuana in a small out-of-the-way mountain community; (2) those who stumble on to this illegal garden and become severely dead; and (3) last but not least, the ever-present good guy who comes to avenge the severely dead.

The good guy, played by James Remar, plays a better bad guy as you might remember from "48 Hours". (He was the one who made Eddie Murphy and Nick Nolte's life miserable.)

I thought this to be a fairly good movie. It has plenty of action to keep you interested. It also has a good ending. On a scale of one to ten, I'd say a strong seven.

"Nothing In Common" teams up an upcoming new star, Tom Hanks and a couple of veterans, Jackie Gleason and Eva Marie Saint.

The movie has Tom Hanks portraying a very successful advertising executive whose life is turned upside down by the separation of his parents. It's the first time Tom Hanks has been in a semi-serious roll. I think he pulls it off nicely. I'll give this one about an eight.

'Till next week, Happy Viewing!

NUTRITION & AGING SERVICES

BY TENCHA

Senior Olympics will be held in Crystal City this year. Senior Citizen's at the Nutrition Center are preparing for these events which will take place on Friday, May 1st. In case of rain, the trip will be cancelled. May is also Senior Citizen's Month. You are encouraged to recognize your elders, shower your grandma and grandpa with gifts, dinners or do something special for them during May and of course, throughout the year, as Senior Citizen's are special people.

Let's not forget May 10th is Mothers Day. A celebration will also be held at the center for all mothers participating at the center.

May 8th, Volunteers and Older Texans will be given certificates for services provided by these volunteers and also to recognize the Older Texan during our May celebration.

A Birthday Party will be held on May 21st, which is on Thursday.

The schedule for medical transportation is as follows:

Del Rio - Tuesday May 5
Del Rio - Tuesday May 19
Laughlin trip is open

The driver asks that you be patient on these trips as we have other people to consider. Pack a small snack when you go on these trips as sometimes we cannot eat right at noon. This will hold you over until we get to a restaurant. Be considerate and think of the other passengers and not just yourself.

The center will be closed on Monday, May 25th, to observe Memorial Day.

Contributions

(Let's talk about them)

Unlike most federally funded programs, The Older Americans Act accepts and encourages contributions, rather than requiring a fee, from older persons who receive its services.

Nutrition sites must provide participants with the opportunity to contribute. In times of rising costs, contributions can enable nutrition providers to keep up with food costs and perhaps expand services. Being encouraged to contribute also helps participants feel that the site is theirs and that they are partially responsible for its support.

1. Explaining Contributions

During a participant's initial visit, you should make the person aware of the opportunity to contribute and answer any questions about contributions that might arise. In discussing contributions, it is important to:

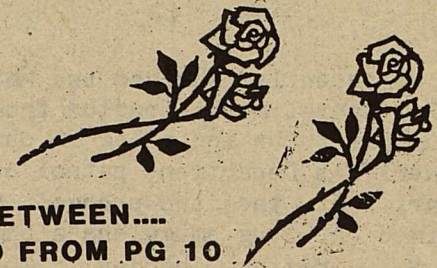

- * Set a positive tone. Communicate the idea that contributions are an opportunity for individuals to support their program.
- * Explain use. Make the person aware that contributions are used to expand services to those who cannot currently be reached due to limited funds.
- * Counsel participants about suggested contributions. Make sure people understand that there is no mandatory fee but rather a suggested contribution. The regulations allow nutrition service providers to develop a suggested schedule of contributions which considers the income ranges of older persons in the community and the nutrition provider's other sources of income. The schedule is useful for helping older persons determine what their "fair share" might be, depending on their income. It is an excellent idea to involve participants in the development and adoption of the schedule.
- * Explain use of food stamps. Make participants aware that USDA food stamps are accepted as contributions for meals. (This does not apply to Kinney County)
- * Explain how contributions are collected.
- * Stress confidentiality. Participants will feel much more comfortable about contributing knowing it is confidential. A discussion can alleviate fear of embarrassment.

2. Collecting Contributions

Whatever method of receiving is adopted, it is essential that the privacy of the contributors be protected. Some suggestions for receiving contributions include:

- * Placing a blank contribution envelope at each person's place or having envelopes available in the cafeteria line and providing a box where envelopes can be deposited at the person's convenience.

- * Providing a locked, slotted container in an easily accessible location out of the mainstream of site activities so that contributions can be dropped in anonymously. Some sites place the contribution box on a card table behind a screen so privacy is assured.

Utilizing a character dress-up theme for recently read books, Janelle Senne's fifth grade class had a dress-up day for book characters on April 10. All students dressed in a costume as defined in recent book reports. Oral reports were given and written before reading groups. Students participating were from two reading sections. The morning session found Manuel Ramon as Houdini; Karla Hall, Mary Lou Retton; Ida Aguilar, Clara Barton; Sarah Kelley, Dorothy Hamill; Jennifer Terrazas, Nadia Comaneci; Sean Burks, Louis Pasteur; and Michael Munoz as Fernando Valenzuela.

The afternoon session had Hannah Reschman as Amelia Earhart; Melissa Javens, Chris Evert; Edmundo Martinez, Jim Bowie; Matthew Rocha, Prince Charles; Christian Cabana, Buffalo Bill; Robert Gonzalez, John Wayne; Josi Talamantez, Princess Diana; Maria Terrazas, Jim Thorp; Willie Allemeier, Robert F. right twice in the same day, so we just ignored the questionable look on his face. Finally Jack could stand it no longer and he said, "Don't you two owe me an apology"? We both played innocent that we didn't know what he was talking about, but later had to admit he knew his way around San Antonio, even though he was guessing about the weather.

Upon arrival at the assembly point, at 5:45 p.m., the long wait for the parade to start began. However, we spent the time visiting with other shrine units and proudly showing off our scooters to the public as they wandered around looking and asking questions about the various types of TOYS. After all the only difference between a man and a boy is the price of the toy. The parade began at 7:30 p.m., however, it was 8:45 before we started to perform. Soon the waiting time was forgotten. This was the largest crowd of young and young at heart people I have seen at a parade since early 1986 while I was riding with the Wagon Train around Texas. About 10:00 p.m. we reached the end of the route, loaded our scooters and got ready for the trip home. A policeman told us it would be at least 1 1/2 hours wait before we could get out in the direction we wanted to go. He gave us an alternate route that would take us out of town without a hitch. He failed to tell us that one of the streets we were to travel on was blocked off. Upon arriving at I-10 West, we took it out to Loop 410, there turned south and was homeward bound. We arrived home about 3:30 a.m., tired and worn out, but happy we could be a part in promoting the real purpose of the Shrine.

If it wasn't for our ladies we could never accomplish our goal. They see to it that we have all our equipment before leaving home. Serve delicious picnic dinners and give us refreshments again after finishing the parades. I don't think we really appreciate just how much they do for us. We leave them at places where they have to walk 6 or 8 blocks to the parade route, then they have the long wait just to give us a minute or two of cheering as we pass them. They then hurry back to the vehicle to be there when we arrive, to tell us how good we looked and that we were the best unit in the parade. Thanks again ladies, we depend on you.

Our next parade will be in Jourdanton on May 16th. One of our members, Lenny Mahefky, has been down with his back, but we pray he will be back riding with us in the very near future.

FT. CLARK TROOPERS REMINISCE

The old refrain "Old Soldiers Never Die: They Merely Fade Away" was brought to life last weekend. About 60 former servicemen and their families met at Fort Clark on April 24-26 in a Troopers Reunion.

The reunion was sponsored by the Fort Clark Historical Society. Registration began Friday afternoon at the Old Guardhouse Museum, which was the focal meeting place for the former Fort Clark Troopers of the 5th and 112th Cavalry Regiments.

Stories of Army barracks life in the 1930's were swapped and told. It truly seemed that Old Fort Clark had come back to life.

A bus tour of Fort Clark was made on Saturday morning, conducted by Charles Downing. A buffet luncheon was held at Dickman Hall with brief historical talks by Don Swanson, Ron Buckles and Charles Downing. An afternoon bus tour of Brackettville and the Black Seminole Indian Cemetery was conducted by Agnes Vondy.

The highlight of the reunions was the dinner at the NCO Club hosted by the Fort Clark Art Club, with hilarious skits for entertainment afterwards.

This was the second reunion sponsored by the Fort Clark Historical Society, who hopes to continue it as an annual affair.

GOLF SEASON OVER

VICTORIA - The golf season came to an end Tuesday afternoon in Victoria as the Tigers and Tigerettes were denied an opportunity to play in the state tournament. Of the 16 boys teams entered in the regional tournament, 10 proved to be a bit sharper than the Tigers., but 5 felt our claws. This was the first year of interscholastic golf competition for all but 1 of the boys, so we have something to be proud of and something to look forward to as there is only one senior on the boys team.

Considering there were no experienced players on our girls team this year, their 7th place finish was a great effort, and talk about something to look forward to, they are all sophmores!

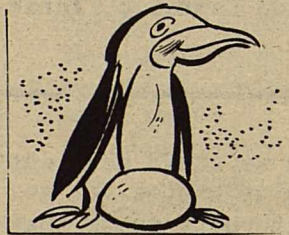

Once again, thanks to Bill Humrickhouse and his staff at the country club and all the members of the club for their support and patience!

GREEN TIPS

BY KATHY BADER

If you were lucky enough to escape the freeze 3 weeks ago, and your tomatoes, peppers, and green beans survived...congratulations! Now is the time to make your "second crop" planting for succession harvesting. If you're like me you've just put in your tomatoes for the 3rd time!

Now is also a good time to plant the squash. The soil is finally warm enough to bring up the seed in about 7 days. Some local favorites are the grey zucchini, the calavasa (Mexican Squash), Kuta (which can be harvested small like calavasa or, allowed to grow like a butternut squash or winter squash), yellow prolific straightneck, and the white scallop.

Beets, carrots, onion sets, lettuce can all be planted now, too. Give fruit trees a good application of 21-0-0 and watch for yellowing of leaves. This sign is iron deficiency.

Also thin out your peach trees if you have an excessive amount of peaches. They should be spaced about 6 inches.

Give pecan trees a good spray of zinc, and apply 21-0-0 along drip line for healthier green leaves. Watch all vegetables for these problems:

- 1) Powdery mildew on leaves (apply fungicide)
- 2) Spider mites (sulfer spray or insecticide)
- 3) Aphids (spray/water-get some ladybugs.

Remember, containerized plants can be planted all year long.

This ought to keep you busy till next week!

FORT CLARK SPRINGS
LADIES AUXILIARY
V.F.W. POST 8360

The Fort Clark Springs Ladies Auxiliary to the V.F.W. Post 8360 held their regular meeting April 22, 1987 at the N.C.O. Club.

Loyalty Day has been designated as May 1st, the Auxiliary voted to celebrate the day by having a Patriotic Program at the Elementary School and also will have a flag-coloring contest. Participants in this event will be students from the Kindergarten, 1st, 2nd and 3rd grades. A prize will be awarded for the best flag colored at each grade level. The Ladies Auxiliary will serve cup cakes decorated with miniature flags to the students. The teachers will also be honored that day with a red poppy corsage. Due to a conflict of schedule, the program is being held on Thursday, April 30th.

New officers for the Auxiliary were elected, they are due to take their respective offices at an installation meeting in July. They are as follows:

- President: Rose Mary Cervantes
- Senior Vice President: Marge Geeze
- Junior Vice President: Frances Outlaw
- Treasurer: Dorothy Haga
- Secretary: Wilma Lewis
- Trustees: 3 year-Martha Ward, 2 year-Carlotta De La Rosa, 1 year-Margarette Neuman.
- Chaplain: Enemencia Starzell
- Conductress: Dot Fithian
- Asst. Conductress: Marcie Lancelle
- Guard: Bea Kauffman
- Historian: Katherine Gallion
- Patriotic Instructor: Jonnie Salmon
- Musician: Cathy Conrey

The F.C.S. VFW & Ladies Auxiliary Post #8360 is participating in the "Adopt-A-Highway" program as a community service project. Walter Fithian commander of the VFW Post #8360 said, "We have been looking forward to working with the Highway Department on this project. It is a good service project and benefits everyone." The VFW Post #8360 adopted the two miles of US 90 from the east city limits of Brackettville to two miles east. Walter Fithian is project chairman for the VFW Post #8360. "It is great, the Highway Department furnished everything but the manpower," said Mr. Fithian.

The "Adopt-A-Highway" program began when the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation saw the cost of litter pick-up skyrocket to $24 million in 1985. Thus the statewide program began.

"Everyone benefits from the program. The Department is able to better utilize the tax dollars to maintain or improve the highways, individuals in the adopting organization become aware of the magnitude of the problem, and the State Right of Way is cleaner," said Ben W. Bohuslav, District Engineer in San Angelo.

ENERGY EFFICIENT APPLIANCES ARE A GOOD INVESTMENT

A "bargain" price on new appliances may not always be a good deal. Increased operating costs due to less efficient use of electricity will usually exceed the additional cost of purchasing a more energy-efficient model. Money "saved" at the time of purchase is actually paid out several times over in later years. At this time of year, when many Texans are contemplating replacing worn-out or inefficient air conditioners, it is important to make energy-wise purchase decisions.

For many types of appliances, including hot water heaters, refrigerators and room air conditioners, helpful information may be found in the familiar black and yellow Energy Guide labels attached to each model. These labels show how the energy consumption of a particular model compares to similar models. Many consumers feel intimidated by these labels, but most appliances sales representatives are more than willing to explain what the labels mean. And some utility companies will provide customers with information that will help in selecting new appliances.

For more information about energy efficient appliances and other energy conservation opportunities, call the Texas Public Utility Commission's toll-free Energy Hotline: 1-800-643-SAVE.
