CELEBRATES

120th Anniversary

Saint Andrew's Episcopal Church would like to invite everyone to help celebrate its 120th anniversary on July 18 and 19, 1987. The Rt. Rev. John H. MacNaton, Bishop of West Texas, will be preacher and celebrant.

Registration will be held on Saturday, July 18th, in Saint Andrew's Parish Hall where displays, films and memorabilia of the church will be on view. At 6:00 p.m. there will be an ecumenical service followed by a barbecue with mariachis performing at the new picnic area at Fort Clark Springs.

On Sunday, July 19th, at 9:30 a.m., a continental breakfast will be served at the Parish Hall, and at 10:30 a.m. a confirmation service and celebration of the Holy Eucharist will be held. Luncheon will follow the service.

Everyone is invited to attend all, or any part of the celebration. Those wishing to attend all events are encouraged to donate $10.00 per adult and $5.00 for children 12 years and under to defray costs. If you wish to attend the barbecue only, tickets may be purchased from parishoners of Saint Andrew's, adults $5.00, children 12 or under, $2.50.

Please join us for this joyful occasion.

COWBOYS WIN CHAMPIONSHIP

Despite weeks of rain (which prevented practices, much less games), damaged playing field, flooded practice fields, lack of lighting and general confusion, the Kinney County Brackettville Bambino League has completed their season and is now ready to participate in the All Star Games to be held in Del Rio at Laughlin Air Force Base on the 16th and 17th of July.

The Championship was decided in an exciting game Thursday night between the LIONS and the COWBOYS. The final score at the end of six innings was: Cowboys 2, Lions 0. Both teams were an example of the potential available in a well disciplined environment. Members of the winning team are: Josh Crumley, Monchie Falcon, Chris Garza, Moses Hernandez, Saul Hidalgo, Becky Payne, Joey Pena, Anthony Rubino, Victor Sanchez, Marty Schermerhorn, Rumaldo Serrano, Jared Shahan, Wil Shahan, Dale Smith, and Raymond Talamantez. The coaches of the Cowboys are Manuel Pena and Tully Shahan; assistant coaches are Junior Pena, Robert Salmon and Henry Salmon.

The final standings for the league are:

| TEAM | WINS | LOSSES | STANDING |
|---------|------|--------|----------|
| COWBOYS | 8 | 2 | 1 |
| LIONS | 7 | 3 | 2 |
| ASTROS | 6 | 4 | 3 |
| RAMS | 0 | 10 | 4 |

Executive Producer George McAlister congratulates Art Director Roger Ragland (left), builder Bill Bizzell of Bizzell Construction Company in Brackettville, and Associate Producer Ray Herbeck (right) on completion of the Alamo set at Alamo Village for the first giant-screen portrayal of the true history of the Alamo battle. McAlister and his wife, Lavonia, flew in by helicopter last Friday from their ranch near San Antonio to see the set before filming starts on Monday, July 13. Hundreds of battle re-enactors from across the nation have started setting up their camps at Alamo Village for the big battle scenes, which will be filmed during the first few weeks of the 6-week shooting schedule.

OBITUARY

VERA W. LOOS, 93, entered into rest, Wednesday, July 8, 1987.

Loos was a long-time resident of Brackettville and a member of the Christian Science Church.

She is survived by son George Loos of Brackettville and four granddaughters.

Graveside services and interment will be held at 10:00 a.m., Friday at the Kinney County Cemetary with Reverand Phillip Bell officiating. Arrangements by Rice Funeral Chapel.

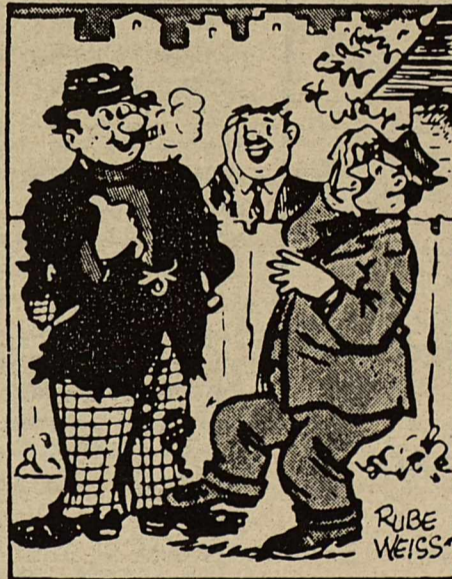

A SINCERE THANK YOU

We gratefully acknowledge the expressions of sympathy for the Charles Stafford family. The gifts of food, cards, flowers, calls, prayers and monetary donations to the church were deeply appreciated.

AN INFORMAL HISTORY OF SAINT ANDREW'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH, BRACKETTVILLE, TEXAS

1852 - Fort Clark is established as a cavalry post.

1854 - Chaplain T.C. Stanley reports that the military has been holding church services for civilians who have settled nearby and use San Felipe Del Rio Springs for irrigation.

1867 - St. Andrew's Church is informally organized.
Services are held in a hospital tent on the fort, in the open air, and in various places.

1867 - St. Andrew's Episcopal Church of Brackettville is the oldest extant church in the Western convocation having been informally organized in 1867 with services held by military chaplains stationed at the frontier cavalry post of Ft. Clark. The post was established in 1852. Civilians settled nearby and used the San Felipe Del Rio Springs for irrigation, and they attended services at the post. The first written records appeared in 1864, and in 1867 Chaplain T. C.

Stanley described services as being held in a hospital tent for the Brackettville people, and this was called St. Andrew's. Regular services were also held in a store across from the San Felipe ford in Del Rio.

1870 - In 1870 Chaplain D. Eglinton Barr, an ordained Episcopal priest came to Ft. Clark and reported the following year that services had been regularly held "in the open air, in a store house, in hospital tents, and more frequently, in places less convenient". One of those locations was an old picket building with grass roof located near the present courthouse of Brackettville. Barr described services held against "annoying background noises of business in full operation and horseracing".

1871 - In July, 1871, services began being held in an old stone building, Brackett store and post office, just west of the San Felipe crossing. Besides "striving for the education of the troops", which was his "duty by law", Barr devoted his "leisure time" to educating children. Since there was no school in the area, he organized one with the help of the Supervisor of Education and Mrs. Agnes Ballantyne, a member of the church, and in 1872 there were 62 pupils in attendance with 58 attending Sunday School.

1872 - Chaplain D. Eglinton Barr, an Episcopal priest, establishes a school with the help of Mrs.
Agnes Ballantyne. Sixty two pupils attend, and fifty eight children attend the Episcopal Sunday School.
Church meets in Brackett store and post office.

1874 - In 1874 Episcopal General Convention created the Missionary District of Western Texas. This consisted roughly of the southern portion of Texas west of the Colorado river. The Plains Indians resided there, and Army escorts were needed to travel in the region.

1880 - In the 1880s Bishop Stephen Elliot, who headed this district, made numerous visits into this rugged area, and Saint Andrews was formally and permanently organized with mention of it first appearing in Diocesan journals in 1880.

1883 - In 1883 records show that Chaplains carried on at Ft. Clark and Brackettville while Rev. James T.
Hutchinson was in charge of, and divided his time, between Uvalde, Eagle Pass and Del Rio Texas. From 1886 to 1889, the Reverends A.W. Burroughs, F.B.
Thicknor and Arthur Koll served here. At that time the little band of workers was augmented by the arrival of the J.E. Wickham family, and Mrs. Wickham worked tirelessly for the Church until her death in 1924.

1884 - Sunday School is now under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Ballantyne, mother of Bob Ballantyne.
Among the active members are Mrs. Josephine Dudley,
Mrs. Helen Himes, Mrs. Agnes Windus, and Mrs. Annie Patrick. Later the Kitsch and Wickham families were among the leaders in this group.

1889 - In November, 1889, Rev. Q.A. Rose began work at Brackettville and reported the Sunday School building seated 50 to 60 people and rented for $75.00 a year, later for $50.00. Rev. Rose took $200.00 contributed by the people of Brackettville and members of the garrison at Fort Clark and added these funds to $400.00 which had been subscribed by a Sunday School in Philadelphia, Pa. as a result of a visit by Bishop J.S. Johnson. A meeting was held on October 9, 1890, and the decision made to erect a church to be known as Saint Andrew's Church. The cornerstone was laid the same year. On May 10, 1891, Bishop Johnston and the Rev. Rose held services to consecrate the building, an occasion which was also notable because St. Andrew's was the first Protestant Church in town.

1890 - The Rev. Q.A. Rose and parishoners of St. Andrew's decide to erect a building with $200.00 contributed by the people of Brackettville and Ft. Clark and $400.00 subscribed by a Sunday School in Philadelphia, Pa. as a result of a visit by Bishop J.S. Johnston. The cornerstone is laid.

5/10/1891 - The first building is consecrated by Bishop Johnston and becomes Saint Andrew's Church, the first protestant church in Brackettville. Among the families involved in the church at that time were the Kitsch, Ballantyne, Stadler, Sheets, and Rivers. The first baptism was Edith Minerva Dudley, the first marriage, Miss Mamie E. Quintle and John T. Skipper, the first funeral was that of Mrs. Margaret Ballantyne. Mrs. Martha Peterson Bartberger was a member of the girl's Sunday School Class which gave the baptism fountain to the church, and she remained active in the church during the years to come.

1927 - The building that housed St. Andrew's was blown from its foundation in a storm, and Church members decided to build a multi-purpose parish house.

9/28/1930 - Bishop Wm. T. Capers dedicates the new building and de-consecrates the old church. Mrs. Josephine Ballantyne Dudley laid the cornerstone, and Mr. Niels P. Petersen matched money given by the members to pay for the new building. The last baptism in the old church was Catherine Jane Golemon. Her aunt, Edith Dudley Bursey, was the first to be baptised in the old one. Catherine was the great granddaughter of one of the original founders, Mrs. Margaret Ballantyne. The first funeral in the new church was Mrs. Helen Himes, a daughter of Mrs. Ballantyne's. On November 5, 1933, Charlotte Mary Golemon was baptised.

1945 - Memorial services were held by the Reverend Fordyce E. Eastburn for veterans of World War II killed in action. They were Charles F. Kartes, Jr., Tom Perry Hybarger, Lloyd Nance Riley, and Ernest Villarreal.

1949 - Mrs. Mattie Hybarger gave a new organ and prayer desk to the church in memory of her son, Tom Perry Hybarger, who's body was returned home and buried from the church.

1950 - Funeral services for Capt. Tom C. Wadsworth, killed in the Korean War, were held by priest in charge, O.W. Nickle.

1951 - A Memorial Service was held for his brother, Capt. Joe Wadsworth, lost at sea during the Korean War. Capt. Joe Wadsworth and Tom Perry Hybarger were our first acolytes.

1951-1961 - A dedicated group of people worked at St. Andrew's over these years. Among them were A.E. Bartberger, F.T. Higgins, O.D. Dooley, Mrs. Edith Dudley, Albert Postell, Louis E. Hobbs, Oscar Neuman, Frank T. Higgins, R.E. Mark, Si Moravits, Tully Pratt, Else Sauer, Bud Conoly.

1962 - The decision was made to construct a church building.

3/15/64 - The new St. Andrew's Episcopal Church at Brackettville was dedicated. Services were conducted by the Rt. Rev. Everett H. Jones of San Antonio, Bishop of the Dioces of West Texas. The contractor was Albert Vasbinder, the plans were drawn by noted church architect, Henry Steinbomer. The structure was completely air conditioned and featured beautiful stained glass windows. The Rector Emeritus was H. Conger Jones, the Warden Emeritus was A.E. Bartberger. Wardens were Colonel Louis E. Hobbs, 1963, and Tully Pratt, 1964. Frank Higgins was Vestry Clerk, Albert Postell, Treasurer. Oscar Neuman and William Tubbs were committeemen. The Book of Remembrance was in charge of Mrs. Charlotte Golemon, the organists were Mrs. A.E. Bartberger, Mrs. Edith Bursey, and Miss Sarah Higgins. The Offertory anthem by St. James' choir was translated from Seventh Century Latin and set to music adapted by the Choir Director, Donald Boyd.

Rev. Lee Block of Refugio, Texas and Dev. Dyson Nickle of Menard took part in the service. Both were in charge of St. Andrew's prior to their ordination. W.O. Nickle, rector of St. James' Episcopal Church in Del Rio was in charge of the Brackettville work and gave technical supervision for the building of St. Andrew's.

The present church of Saint Andrew's is served by the Reverend Raymond Turner, Assistant to the Vicar of St. James' Episcopal Church in Del Rio, The Reverend Wm. Koons. We are indebted to Rev. Koons and to his wife, Betty, for their continuing support.

This history is necessarily incomplete. The names of many dedicated people who contributed to Saint Andrew's Episcopal Church are not listed due to the limitations of space or of our knowledge. This 120th Anniversary Celebration pays tribute to the memory of all those individuals who have been part of the life of this church.

"THE NITTY AND THE GRITTY"

BY JOE TOWNSEND

I was driving to Del Rio at my normal rate of speed, 55 to 57 m.p.h. when a blacked out sports car went by me like I was standing still.

I continued at my regular speed and sure enough, when I drove up to the signal light at Bedell I pulled up beside the speedster. As I left Del Rio another driver passed me going towards to base about the same way. Sure enough as I approached the gate at the base, I passed the speedster as she turned into the base.

I thought, "How like life this was". Some people are always in a hurry to out do the rest. When the accounts are settled, more often than not, the steady plodder who keeps his pace will accomplish more. There is nothing wrong with a competitive spirit, but the competitive spirit that pays the best dividends is the competition of a person with himself.

The true measure of a winner is not whether he beats others, but whether he does his own very best. Even though one may beat another if he has not done his best, he is to that degree a loser. A hound may out run a rabbit, but that won't make him a winner because there is no real challenge. When he out runs another, that's a more accurate measure when he is "pushed" by another hound to do his best, he is truly a winner.

After all it's not the winner of the lap in the race who is victorious, but the one who finishes first when the race is over.

TDH Tracks Spread of AIDS

No other modern health threat has so captured the public's concern as has the spread of AIDS.

Almost daily, officials at the Texas Department of Health (TDH) answer inquiries from the media and the public at large. Christie Reed, AIDS Surveillance Coordinator in the TDH Bureau of Epidemiology, answers many of those questions.

"Despite all the publicity about AIDS," Reed said, "many people still need to know the basics."

In laymen's terms, AIDS (acquired immune deficiency syndrome) is a disease caused by the human immunodeficiency virus (HIV), which attacks the body's ability to resist a wide variety of infections and cancers. The virus is found in blood and semen, and can be transmitted to others through sexual contact. Even without showing AIDS symptoms, a person who has been infected with HIV can transmit the virus to others.

The majority of infections produce no symptoms for the first year or two and in many cases much longer. And not all infected persons develop AIDS. However, in one study, 36 percent of infected persons developed AIDS after more than seven years (88 months) from the time they were infected.

"The risk of infection increases according to the number of sexual partners one has, male or female," Reed said. "Unless it is possible to know with absolute certainty that neither sexual partner is infected, protective measures, such as condoms, should be used."

In little more than six years since it was first identified, AIDS has been reported in all parts of the world. No vaccine, or consistently effective treatment for AIDS, has been found.

"A person can contract the virus through sex, or by sharing dirty drug syringes or needles. Also, an infected woman can pass the virus onto her unborn child. Although the majority of cases to date have occurred among homosexual and bisexual men, the virus can be spread through heterosexual contact," Reed explained.

Some 112 countries have reported nearly 52,000 AIDS cases to the World Health Organization (WHO) in Geneva. Among them, the United States is the leader, reporting more than 36,000 cases, 20,000 of whom already have died.

Meanwhile, medical researchers around the globe are intent on finding vaccines and treatments for AIDS. At the Third International Conference on AIDS held recently in Washington, health and medical officials from 50 countries exchanged their latest research and methods of preventing HIV transmission. Controlling AIDS also has become one of the most urgent issues for government leaders.

Reed said that Texas, with 2,500 cases of AIDS reported, has the fourth largest number of cases among the states. Sixty percent of those cases already have died. Presently, as many as 90,000 Texans may be infected with the virus.

Working primarily through local health departments, Reed and others at TDH monitor the number and distribution of confirmed AIDS cases.

TDH is the statewide agency which coordinates efforts to provide AIDS counseling and testing, and for educating the public to control AIDS' spread. Scores of other organizations and individuals have joined in the effort.

LIBRARY NOTES

BOOKS

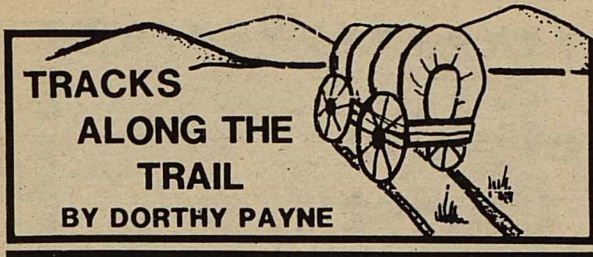

BY:
FRANCES HERNANDEZ

ATTENTION MOMS!!! Could you use a few free minutes for yourself? Do you need to run a quick errand? The Kinney County Library has just the thing for you. Grab a pencil and circle Tuesday, July 28, 1987 on your calendar. We will be showing a short film from 10:00 a.m. until 10:20 a.m. for your three to five year olds. The film we will be showing is "Tillie the Unhappy Hippopotamus". "Tillie" is unhappy with her looks and wishes she could look like almost any other animal in the woods. Her fairy godmother helps her to learn that it is best to be ones self. There is no pre-registration. However, prompt pickup is encouraged.

We have two new fictional titles for your enjoyment. "Windmills of the Gods" by Sidney Sheldon. The nightmarish experiences that befall a woman and her family after she is appointed ambassador to Romania. "Texasville" by Larry McMurtry. A sequel to "The Last Picture Show" takes a look at Thalia, Texas from the fifties through the eighties.

The Chincoteague pony, which runs wild on the islands off the Virginia Coast, is said to have descended from horses that swam ashore from a wrecked Spanish galleon.

James B. Fraser used four models for the symbols of his design of the Buffalo nickel. Minted in 1913, this coin issue ran for twenty-five years until 1938 and still attracts more attention, especially coin collectors, than any other except the Lincoln cent. This is the only coin collected, bought, sold and recorded by the name of the reverse rather than the obverse side like other coins.

About the only possible reason (and thats a weak one) is that the reverse side of this coin was changed twice in design in 1913 when the name "Buffalo Nickel" was probably picked up. The head or obverse side of this nickel is a composite of three Indian Chiefs; John Big Tree, Two Moons and Iron Tail. The buffalo or bison, was modeled from "Black Diamond", a resident of Central Park Zoo in New York City.

Perhaps the most interesting of the three chiefs was Big Tree. He was a war chief of the Kiowas, captured on a raid and sent to prison. On the way he struck down a guard and escaped, but was recaptured and sentenced to hang. His sentence was finally changed to life in Huntsville, Texas. Petitions for his release poured into Washington. After two years of imprisonment he was released in 1873 and warned to stay on the reservation. Big Tree eventually left the reservation and headed north where he kept three quarters of the Kiowas from going on the warpath. Later he settled in the Wichita Mountains and became a deacon and Sunday school teacher in the Rainy Baptist Church.

Of all the minor coins struck in the 20th century, the 1916 over 1917 issue struck in Denver, now commands the highest premium. As far back as the 1960's this coin listed at $200 for very good condition to $4,200 uncirculated.

There were 8,362,000 nickels minted in Denver in 1918 and just how many were struck over the 1917 issue is anyones guess. If you have one, hang onto it, the value is rising everyday.

This situation came up again in striking the 1938-D nickel. This was the last year the Buffalo nickel was minted and dyes prepared in San Francisco were sent to Denver to be used. A mint employee tried to save a little time by dropping a "D" over the letter "S" in one of the working dyes, but it was not discovered until a few years later. In 1967 a coin with a "D" over the "S" would bring six dollars in good condition and thirty-five dollars for uncirculated. No one knows how many are around, if any.

LAS MORAS LODGE NO. 444

Thursday night, July 2nd, Las Moras Lodge No. 444, A.F. & A.M. held an open installation for the officers of the ensuing masonic year. The installation was well attended by Master Masons and their wives.

The lodge was opened by the outgoing Worshipful Master Richard Ward. It was then called from labor to refreshment; and all Masons and guests were invited into the lodge room for the installation ceremony.

Past Master Joe York, Jr. presided as the Installing Officer and Past Master Ray Kurtz as Installing Marshall.

The following officers were installed for the ensuing masonic year: Larry Cupps, Worshipful Master; Richard Mountain, Senior Warden; Robert Thompson, Junior Warden; Joe York, Jr., Treasurer; Ray Kurtz, Secretary; Richard Schafer, Senior Deacon; James Foreman, Senior Steward; Richard Ward, Jr., Junior Steward; and James Haga, Tyler. Henry Robertson, Chaplain elect and James Stafford, Junior Deacon, were unable to attend and will be duly installed at a later date. The Installing Officer did a beautiful job in installing each officer in their respective stations and places. After the installation ceremony was completed the Installing Marshall proclaimed the officers of Las Moras Lodge No. 444, A.F. & A.M. duly and constitutionally installed.

The newly installed Worshipful Master then announced that the Ladies had prepared refreshments, and everyone retired to the Anti-room where it was being served.

After the delicious repast all Master Masons were called back into the Lodge Room and Worshipful Master Cupps assumed his seat in the east and called the lodge to order, then closed it in due form. This was his first official act as Worshipful Master. However, there will be many more as Las Moras Lodge is growing at a greater pace than any other lodge in Texas. It has just completed the greatest year in the history of the lodge. Thanks to all the officers and brethern who gave so generously of their time.

On July 14, at our 1st Slated Meeting this year, several brethern from the Scottish Rite Body in San Antonio plan to be here and present Las Moras Lodge with an award for having the most candidates at the Spring Reunion of any lodge in the Valley of San Antonio. All Master Masons are urged to attend this meeting. Visiting Masons are always welcome. In Las Moras Lodge, you are a stranger only once.

"LISTEN TO YOUR PLANTS"

You've heard that talking to your plants makes them grow? Well, actually listening to your plants will be more helpful. Learn to recognize the signs they are giving you. Plants suffer shock when moved from one environment to another. The oldest leaves may turn from green to yellow to dead. Our first reaction is to over water or fertilize. DON'T! Just keep the soil moist and withhold fertilizer until new growth appears.

When a plant stretches in one direction, seems too weak to stand up and shows frail new growth, it may be saying "I need a vacation in the sun," please move me out of this dark corner. If a plant with dark green leaves begins to yellow, interpret this as "I am turning yellow because I have indigestion." My soil is too alkaline, I want a dose of acid-type food. A healthy plant that does not flower may be saying "I need to go on a diet, then I will have many blossoms, feed me with a blossom booster fertilizer.

The Coleus goes into an obvious droop when thirsty, but many other plants suffer silently. Be careful of the size of pot your plant is in. A small plant in a large pot is usually over-watered. Also remember a plant in a decorative container that has no drainage hole can't swim. A growing medium of sphagnum peat moss, vermiculite and perlite helps in a drainless pot. Keep your eyes out for insects and feed regularly. Once you start listening to your plants you will discover a useful world of communication.

FFA OFFICERS ATTEND CAMP

By Bonnie Frerich
FFA Reporter

Last month, Mr. Chap Traylor accompanied local chapter FFA officers to Officers Training Camp in Leakey, Texas. During the two day camp, the officers participated in contests related to different areas in agriculture and parliamentary procedure. They also elected District Officers for the 1987-88 school year. This year each chapter was allowed one candidate for District office. Manuel Pena, Sentinel for the Brackett FFA Chapter, was elected District FFA Sentinel.

Manuel is a Junior at Brackett High, and he has been active in the FFA for the last two years. He was also Chapter Sentinel last year. The duties for this office include, caring for the meeting room and paraphernalia, assisting with special features and refreshments, and assisting the president in maintaining order. Manuel will be attending District FFA meetings throughout the coming year.

Other Brackett FFA Chapter

Officers attending Officers Training Camp were: Patricia Palacios, Elva Perez, and Bonnie Frerich.

INSURANCE PREMIUM SALES TAX

On Monday, June 29, 1987, Representative Stan Schlueter (D), of Killeen, Texas, introduced a Bill (H.B. 90), into the Texas House of Representatives which will affect the checks you write out for your insurance.

House Bill 90 will place a six percent (6%) State sales tax on every insurance premium you pay. Not only will this proposed tax cover the life and/or health insurance you have with your Insurance Company, it will increase any premiums you might also pay on auto and property insurance.

Six percent is only the beginning. Because insurance companies will have greater costs to collect, pay and report these taxes, these costs will also be passed along to you. One estimate predicts a fifteen percent (15%) overall increase in total premium payments. While we hope this estimate is high, the cost of the tax paid by you plus the increased collection costs will definitely raise your total premium by more than six percent.

Will this be House Bill 90's only impact?

No. Increased premiums will make insurance less affordable or not at all affordable for many people. This means the person who runs into your car is even less likely to have insurance; families will have to rely more on public health care paid for with your local taxes; and the tornado victims will have their homes replaced by government aid rather than a private insurance carrier.

The passage of this Bill is imminent and we are about out of time to fight it. We urge you to telegram, call or write your local Senator, the Lt. Governor and the Governor immediately.

UNSUNG HEROES

The world and the city need men and women who shine out as leaders. Without such, there would be little accomplished.

However, were it not for lesser lights in a community, there still would be little accomplished. These unsung heroes are of tremendous importance.

One of the unsung heroes in our community is Bud Breen. The first time I saw Bud he was at an easel in a room of the Alamo at Alamo Village soon after John Wayne's epic was finished. At that time in the real beginning of his career as an artist, even then Bud had a way of putting action on canvas that was seldom exceeded. As Bud grew to be the outstanding artist he is today, he worked long hours and day, after day, after day.

Bud has given many paintings to local organizations and events to help them raise money. He has painted many artistic signs as a volunteer service when they were needed. He has designed many headings and sketches for brochures as a community service.

Where the totals are added, Bud Breen is certainly high on the list in contributions to our community. Bud is truly one of the "Unsung Heroes" of Brackettville.

VIDEO VIEWER

BY RORY WOODSON

Hello!

This week I will be reviewing "Golden Child" and "The Color Purple".

"Golden Child" is Eddie Murphy's latest comedic vehicle to becoming a multi-millionaire. The movie revolves around the kidnapping of a miniature maharaja, whose mystical powers, if used by the wrong people, could be devastating to mankind as we know it today.

Murphy, through no willingness of his own, was conned into getting the prince back. Through many obstacles, as always, Eddie Murphy comes out with everything intact.

Although this movie was rated "R" when released in theatres, Eddie was surprisingly calm in his vocabulary. This goes to show that Murphy can make a movie and leave his potty-mouth at home and the movie was still worth watching.

I can honestly recommend this movie for the whole family. I give it an 8 1/2.

"The Color Purple" is a very heartwarming movie about the tragedy and triumphs of the days of slavery as seen through the eyes of the slaves themselves.

Although this movie, did not win any Academy Awards, it should have. I, personally, feel like they (the Academy) gave Stephen Spielberg a raw deal for not even acknowledging his outstanding work on this movie.

Besides Spielberg's outstanding work on this film, the movie also boasted a magnificent cast such as: Oprah Winfrey, Whoopie Goldberg, and Danny Glover who you might remember from the movies "Silverado" and "Lethal Weapon".

This movie is guaranteed to stir some kind of emotions whether you are black or white. This movie is an old fashioned tear jerker that I recommend everybody see. I give this movie a 9.

Until next week, happy viewing!

BULLETIN! BULLETIN! BULLETIN!

Monday night I also had the pleasure of watching "Dragnet" at the theatre. I found this movie to be very entertaining. Except for one brief encounter with the muppets who barely escaped with their lives and a Snoopy look-alike who took the ride of a lifetime on the grill of a limo.

Sgt. Friday, portrayed by Dan Aykroyd, was a gung-ho cop borderlining on being a nerd. He spouted laws and regulations that Race Horse Haynes would not even know.

Tom Hanks, who played Pep Streebeck, managed to keep the duo believable.

I would recommend seeing this movie before it leaves the theatres.

See you next week!

BUFFALO SOLDIERS

San Angelo, TX - In 1866, former slaves were enlisted into the 9th and 10th Cavalry regiments, and one of the most brilliant records of black servicemen began.

The 9th and 10th Cavalries guarded mail routes and stagecoach lines, and established forts across the western frontier. They patrolled the Mexican border and protected settlers from rampaging Indians and outlaw bands.

These black horse soldiers blazed the trails of the Old West with blazing carbines and flashing sabres.

Given the name Buffalo Soldiers by the blood-thirsty Indians they fought, these black patriots never yielded to their cunning foes, the rugged terrain, nor the inclement weather conditions.

The 9th and 10th regiments earned dozens of battle streamers for scores of battles and skirmishes during the long and bloody Indian War.

These gallant cavalymen earned additional honors during the Spanish-American War. In mosquito-infested Cuba these regiments were cited for bravery when they stormed San Juan Hill and rescued Col. Teddy Roosevelt's famous Rough Riders.

The Buffalo Soldiers chased Pancho Villa, the infamous Mexican bandit, into Mexico during the Punitive Expedition shortly after the turn of the century. During World War I the 9th and 10th Regiments patrolled the Mexican border.

During World War II, the 9th and 10th were the nucleus of the all-black 2nd Cavalry Division that trained at Fort Clark, near Brackettville, Texas. The division embarked to North Africa in 1944 only to be disbanded and the troopers transferred to service units.

The Buffalo Soldiers will hold their 121st reunion at San Angelo, Texas, Wednesday, July 29, through Saturday, August 1. San Angelo is the location of old Fort Concho, one of the many Texas posts where the Buffalo Soldiers served in the Lone Star State.

James H. (Jim) Lazine of Fort Worth is the national president of the 9th and 10th (Horse) Cavalry Association. William (Bill) Prince of Houston is the organization's first vice president.

Wallpaper was introduced in Europe in the early 16th century as an alternative to expensive tapestries.

Much needs to be said of the determination of all the players in the League this season. All teams showed great ability to overcome weaknesses. The Astros showed their strength in their last game of the season by defeating the tied for first place, Lions. The Rams, even though unable to pull off a win, showed their ability to make a win tough for their opponents.

One of the upcoming events planned for the Bambino League is a PITCH, THROW and RUN COMPETITION scheduled for Saturday, July 11 at 8:00 a.m. All participants must wear their uniforms to the competition. Still in the planning stage is a PARENTS GAME to be held as a fund raiser. The evening of July 18 has been set as a tentative date for this muscle-bending event.

Also on July 11, there will be the election of the Kinney County - Brackettville Babe Ruth League Executive Board for the upcoming year.

This league shows much promise for the future, however, it does need the support of all the community, Brackettville and Fort Clark. Anyone who has never attended a Bambino League Game in Brackettville, Texas is missing an evening full of fine sports entertainment.
