The first Thanksgiving was held December of 1621 over 360 years ago. Governor William Bradford of the Plymouth Colony had appointed a day of celebration. The Governor had sent four men out to shoot wild turkeys for a feast.

The custom was abandoned in 1622 after an Indian massacre. The celebration was then revived with a change of dates, March 22, by the Virginia General Assembly in 1623, as a day of gratitude for the settler's deliverance from the Indians.

In 1775 George Washington called on colonies to observe Thursday, November 23, as a day of Thanksgiving. This was soon after the start of the Revolutionary War. In 1781, after the defeat of Cornwallis, the Continental Congress proclaimed October 29 as a day of prayer and Thanksgiving.

In 1789 George Washington proclaimed November 26 as the first Thanksgiving Day for the United States of America. This day still stands as the official celebration of Thanksgiving, 196 years later.

It shouldn't matter whether you choose to celebrate Thanksgiving in a typical American fashion or with domestic and wild turkeys, just as long as the spirit remains in the holiday it will continue to be one of America's most favorite, eagerly awaited and enjoyed holidays.

RECEPTION TO HONOR JULIAN LUCAS

Fort Clark Arts will host a reception for Julian Lucas on Thursday, December 10, from 3:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. She will be leaving Fort Clark Springs after the end of the year to reside in California. Julian has established the wonderful art library at the Art Center and has devoted many hours to upgrading and maintaining it. We urge members to attend and show their appreciation for all she's done. We also welcome friends and guests who may be unfamiliar with our art facility.

Evelyn Hunter will give a demonstration following our regular monthly meeting on December 7. Evelyn is recognized as one of Texas' foremost artists, and her paintings hand in many places in the United States as well as other parts of the world. This is a meeting members should not miss.

The Fort Clark Shrine Club Scooters closed out the year with rides in Crystal City and Kerrville.

On November 14th three members of the Fort Clark S.C. Scooters, Jack Taunt, Jim Haga, and Bruce Clements accompanied by Dorothea Clements made a trip to Crystal City to join in the Spinach Festival Parade. A light rain was falling when we left here and continued on us, sometimes heavy, until we got almost to Crystal City. This seems to be usual for us to travel in the rain, but we have been lucky never to have a parade rained out. This was no exception, by parade time which was 2:00 p.m. the streets were dry and weather warmed up to make it another perfect day for a parade. Crystal City has a wide smooth street to ride on and the crowd, even though large, stayed back on the sidewalk making it easier for all units to do their maneuvers. I think this was the best ride our unit has ever made. All of the City and Parade Officials came around thanking us for having come to help them make their festival a success.

Then on the 21st the same group made a trip to Kerrville to join in on their Christmas Parade. This is always a big celebration, and about all the Alzafar Shrine units turned out for it. After the parade the Hill Country Shrine Club treated all the Shriners and their ladies to liquid refreshments and a Fried Chicken dinner.

When we departed Kerrville for home, Dorothea and I decided to return Via the Scenic Route. We came back by way of Lost Maples. It is a beautiful drive this time of the year. The colors were so bright. It was saddening when we came through Utopia and ran out of the scenic area.

This completes our last official shrine participation for this year. We received praise from the Potentate for our participation. He said he could always count on those "Old Men on their white scooters from Fort Clark" to be there even though we had to travel more than twice the distances as other units. We made 11 of the 12 official parades, plus representing the temple in 4 additional area parades. We were excused from the "COME AND TAKE IT PARADE" in Gonzales due to the distance we would have to travel.

We will now sit back and get ready for the 1988 season which officially begins with the George Washington Parade in Laredo. This is a three day celebration, February 19-21, and one of the largest the Shrine participates in.

We hope that through our participations in this fun and fellowship, that we have helped promote the real purpose of Shrinedom, that being to help Crippled Children Walk. If through our riding, only one child is being treated, that otherwise would not have known about the facilities of the Shrine Hospitals for Crippled or Burned Children, then our year was a success.

ALONG THE
BY DORTHY PAYNE

Fort Lancaster was built in 1855 for the protection of the Overland Road in the extreme West. With Fort Bliss and Fort Stockton, Fort Lancaster remained Texas' western line of defense until the beginning of the Civil War.

Fort Lancaster was officially established and occupied in August 20, 1855. It was located halfway between Fort Clark and Fort Davis on the trail to El Paso with Fort Hudson seventy-five miles to the Southeast, on Live Oak Creek about one-half mile above the junction of the creek with the Pecos River.

Wood was found five or six miles up or down stream. Supplies were brought in from San Antonio.

The paymaster for Fort Lancaster and Fort Davis was stationed at Corpus Christi. The soldiers were paid every four months and were furnished an ambulance, four mules and a driver. He also had an escort of four to six men and a team of mules for the hauling of camp supplies.

Houses for officers and barracks were made of stone and adobe bricks with fireplaces in each end. Corrals, shops and feed houses stood in a line to the West of the parade ground.

One great need was iron bedsteads but they never got them and there were never enough Sergeants to drill and train the men. The average number of men on duty was one-hundred and twenty a month with three or four officers or less.

Activity occupied by Federal troops from August 20, 1855 to March 19, 1861 when it was turned over to the Confederacy. In these five and a half years, there were eleven different officers at one time or another. Which included two doctors who served as post surgeons. Four musicians were also assigned to the Fort.

Between Feb. 18 and April 3, 1861, the eighteen Federal Posts in Texas were abandoned or surrendered. Some soldiers were allowed to leave and some were held prisoners and some joined the Army. Fort Lancaster was evacuated on March 19, 1861.

In the fall of 1861 the Ranger Company C of mounted volunteers who were sworn in at Marshall in April of 1861 moved into Fort Lancaster. They saw deer, bear, wild turkey, squirrel, and mush hogs. They had bread, onions and dried apples to cook with the game they were able to kill. The soldiers also trapped coyotes which collected around the Fort by hundreds.

They played baseball and went hunting and Heartsill published a weekly newspaper called, "The Western Pioneer." General Sibly inspected the Fort from time to time. The Rangers stayed until April 2, 1862 before being transferred to another location. After the Rangers left, the Fort was abandoned.

After the Civil War the Federal government reoccupied Fort Stockton, Fort Davis, and Fort Bliss. Fort Lancaster was made a sub-fort. In 1871, the Fort was garrisoned by a Company of Infantrymen and a detachment of personnel who were changed monthly.

It was said probably more fights with the Indians took place near Fort Lancaster than any other Fort on the Texas Frontier. The Indians were mostly Mescalero, Apache and Comanche.

The final closing of the Fort was in 1873 to 1874, and by 1879 it was being called "Old Fort Lancaster".

East of the road near the Fort are three graves, ten feet apart. One is of J.T. Norris, a Ranger who died during the Civil War. The second grave is unidentified. And the third grave speaks for itself with the following epitaph:

Little Margaret
"Children are a heritage of God"

UNSUNG HEROES

BY JOE TOWNSEND

There is a man in our community who has probably beneficially influenced more boys than any other. He did it because of his dedication to his profession. He did exceptionally well in development of those under his charge. He spent many long hours beyond the call of duty to help "his boys". He initiated new ways for the boys to raise money for their projects, teaching them that money must be earned not gained by illegal raffles. His "boys" are scattered across the state, many in very responsible and productive positions. Truly Charley Foust is an unsung hero.

THE NITTY & THE GRITTY

BY JOE TOWNSEND

Did you ever watch a scissor-tail fly catcher chase a big hawk? It's amazing to watch. The little bird chasing what must be a giant in his eyes. Once in awhile the hawk will dodge but mostly he just flies on about his way. The other day I watched and I guess the hawk had had enough so he just set down on the ground. The small bird suddenly had business far away. How this incident spoke of human experience.

So often some small minded person will decide to attack someone far superior to himself. Jealousy and a feeling of inferiority reveals itself and the culprit thinks he can exalt himself by destroying another.

When the one attacked decides he's had enough, he simply stops and faces his foe who turns and scampers to the nearest hole. Reminds one of the loser in a dog fight who suddenly sticks his tail between his legs and runs yelping as fast as his legs can carry him.

Attacking one superior to oneself doesn't enhance the little person -- it amplifies the difference and exalts the greater and degrades the degenerate. If one would be superior he must improve himself -- he'll never make it climbing over the backs of others.

Nose rubbing has been used more widely as a greeting than either handshaking or kissing throughout the history of mankind.

SHERIFF'S CORNER

BY
Norman Hooten
Sheriff

With the annual influx of deer hunters into Kinney County the criminal element of our community has moved into full swing with several vehicle burglaries and attempted burglaries occurring over the past week. They are as listed below:

1. 11/16/87-Burglary of a Vehicle-Pacer House, Ft. Clark Springs 30/06 rifle stolen valued at $400.00 from vehicle parked in parking area. Ned E. Whitton, victim.
2. 11/16/87-Burglary of a Vehicle-Patton Hall Motel, Ft. Clark Springs Browning 12 gauge over/under shotgun valued at $1,350.00, Browning Skeet Gun .12 gauge over/under shotgun valued at $1,300.00, misc. personal items valued at $400.00 stolen from vehicle parked in parking area. Michael Cusack, victim.
3. 11/15/87-Criminal Mischief-Parking lot Kountry N' Hwy. 90 West. Wing window broken out, nothing of value taken. Damage estimate $100.00. David Guerro, victim.
4. 11/18/87-Burglary of a Vehicle-Pinon Ranch, North Kinney County. 38 caliber revolver valued at $300.00 and .22 caliber rifle valued at $100.00 stolen from vehicle parked and left unattended on ranch. Louis Flores, Jr., victim.

Property owners could and should take the following precautions to help prevent having their property stolen and making it easy for the thieves and burglars of our community to ply their unsavory trade.

1. DO NOT LEAVE VALUABLES, INCLUDING WEAPONS, IN YOUR VEHICLE UNATTENDED.
2. PARK YOUR VEHICLE IN A LIGHTED AREA IF POSSIBLE.
3. LOCK YOUR VEHICLE EACH AND EVERY TIME YOU ARE GOING TO BE AWAY FROM IT.
4. REPORT ANY SUSPICIOUS PERSON OR ACTIVITY TO THE SHERIFF'S DEPT. AS SOON AS POSSIBLE AFTER OBSERVING SAME.

Law enforcement officers and public school teachers at first glance might not seem to have a lot in common in their respective professions, but more and more often these days it is becoming evident that we do indeed have one major thing in common, and that is the expectation and even demands of some parents that we, as public servants, assume the responsibility of the guidance and discipline of their children. The teachers have them during the day and the peace officers after school hours. Then when one of the sweet little darlings pushes his or her luck a tad too far and receives discipline from teacher or peace officer, the parent comes boiling up all red-faced and outraged that someone would dare to correct his or her child. They most often make accusations of abuse directed at the hardworking teacher or peace officer.

A case in point is the hue and cry being heard lately from some that local peace officers are not doing their jobs and are allowing unlicensed minors to drive and even some insinuations that we turn our heads at the use of alcohol and drugs by our young people. I wish the town criers could be present and witness the reactions of some parents towards peace officers when those parents are called to come to the county jail and take custody of their innocent, picked on, and even framed little darlings. And, I would safely estimate that 99.9% of the unlicensed minors driving in our community are operating vehicles furnished by and with the full knowledge and approval of their parents. The responsibility of guidance and discipline of minor children starts at home with concerned parents. School teachers and peace officers are there to help take up the slack, not to do the whole job that parents are either too lazy or too afraid to do, or both.

Taking all these things into consideration, Chief of Police Johnny Fritter and I have decided to crack down hard on unlicensed drivers, especially unlicensed minors. Parents of these violators would be well advised to take charge of their children and start law enforcement at home, where it should be started, for it is also a violation of the law to allow an unlicensed minor to operate a motor vehicle on a public road. The parents of unlicensed minors who are ticketed will also be charged if we have reason to believe that those parents have knowledge of the act. And, for good measure, tickets will be issued to many licensed drivers, young and old, who seem to have taken advantage of our patience and violate other traffic laws in our community.

Chief Fritter, myself, and Deputy Sheriff David Luna have on many, many occasions stopped young drivers and admonished them for their driving habits, they know who they are.

Now for all those who are crying for stricter law enforcement in our community, especially on young drivers and violators of other laws, where will you be when the irate parents come charging to the Sheriff's Office crying the blues because they and their children have been filed on? Don't do the crime if you can't do the time.

THAT'S ALL!!

BISD STUDENTS SEE FILM ON A.I.D.S.

Last week Brackett Independent School District students, ages 12-18, were given an opportunity to view a video tape on the Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (AIDS). The tape, titled Suddenly Sex Has Become Very Dangerous, discusses the way that AIDS can be spread, and encourages young people to avoid situations where they might be exposed to the virus.

Prior to the students viewing the video tape, letters were sent home by the school to see if parents objected. A preview of the film for parents was held on Monday, November 9, 1987 in the High School Library. The tapes are available to be checked out from the High School Library for parents who would like to view the tapes. Also, a special viewing at school can be arranged by contacting Bob McCall or Lee Schermerhorn.

"Disease Problems"

Do you know when your plants are sick? If there is a white substance on the leaves and buds, mildew has taken over. This disease is found on rose buds. Cool nights, warm days and high humidity causes this disease to flourish in the garden. Roses are subject to Blackspot, it is a fungus and usually can be seen after periods of rain. During a rainy period, spray each week with a good fungicide. To control this disease, pick off the infested leaves and burn them. A bacteria called Gall, enters the plant if there is a cut or other kind of wound. Prune away the affected part, and if it doesn't help, destroy the entire plant. You should sterilize the shears after each time you cut the plant to prevent the disease from spreading to other plants. Always consult your nursery for various sprays.

The one and only person who attended was asked how he found out about the program, his answer was "I read about it in the paper."

Saturday, November 14th was a little busier for Cyndy while I was out with the flu. Cyndy reports 38 library users for the day and several children watched filmstrips.

Saturday, November 21st daily reports indicate 25 library users. Two children watched filmstrips. Pretty lonely between 2 p.m. and 4 p.m.

4TH GENERATION STONE MASON IS PROUD OF HIS WORK

BRACKETTVILLE-Another significant historical preservation project was recently completed at Fort Clark Springs by fourth-generation San Antonio stone mason Ross Hunt. In addition to the exterior work on the impressive three-story Commissary Building at the frontier Cavalry Post that is now a resort community, Hunt's expertise also was called upon locally to reset the precious keystone in the Alamo chapel at Happy Shahan's Alamo Village after the blasts and jolts the life-sized movie set incurred during the filming of "Alamo...The Price of Freedom" this summer.

"So now I've worked on both of them," Hunt, 37, said of Shahan's movie set, and of the project led by his father in 1981 that let brothers Ross and Curtis add new mortar to the original battle-scarred Mission/shrine in downtown San Antonio. In construction, and now restoration, the Hunt name goes back as far as some of San Antonio's oldest buildings. The skills of stone masonry have been passed from generation to generation, enabling grandsons to restore the buildings their Great-Grandfather, and Grandfather built.

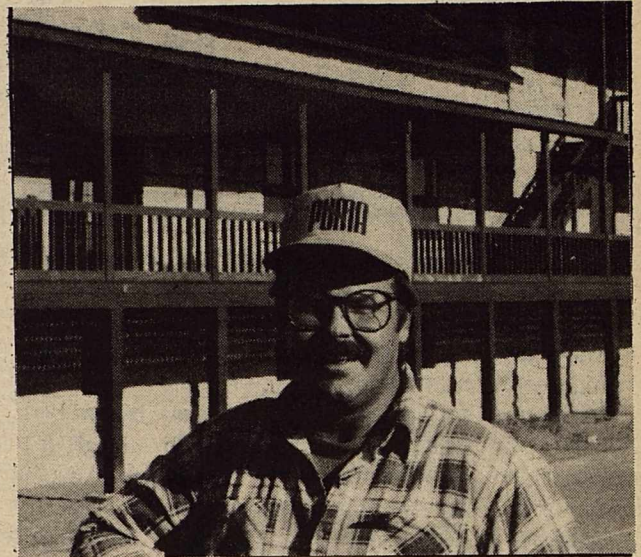

Great-Grandfather Hunt was a builder in the days of original Commerce Street projects. Grandfather Curtis Hunt, Sr., had major projects such as the Public Library and Our Lady of the Lake University. Ross's father, Curtis Hunt, Jr., led the stonework restoration of the Alamo Compound, the San Fernando Cathedral and Steve's Homestead in the King William area. Ross's younger brother, Curtis Hunt III is currently working on the Sullivan Carriage House on Broadway in San Antonio.

Ross's projects have led him to far places to make similar discoveries. Upon completion of his last project, a National Parks Service preservation project on Ft. Monroe in Virginia, Ross drove west of San Antonio to Fort Clark and found the same kind of mortar joints as the buildings he left some 2000 miles away.

"You don't see it a lot, but it's as if it was in the Army specifications at the time," he said. "These buildings were built with a lot of architectural detail." That dedication to detail could have come from an earlier hunt builder. It's undocumented family knowledge that Grandfather Hunt was in Brackettville to help build at Fort Clark, and chances are good that the Grandson has walked where the Grandfather stood. Work on the Fort Clark Springs Commissary Building included a new 600-pound cornerstone placed with the use of inclined planes, levers, fulcrums, "and lots of manpower - just like the Egyptians," Ross said. Completion of the structural work prepares the way for historic preservationists the building that has seen military greats such as Ranald MacKenzie, George C. Marshall, Jonathan M. Wainright and George S. Patton pass in its shadow.

"We're all really proud of the work we do," Ross said of his small crew of native San Antonians who spent the past four months working and enjoying the spring-fed paradise of Fort Clark. Standing beneath the majestic building that was once the hub of frontier life, Ross paused. "Many, many generations will come here and see firsthand the architecture of America," he said. "And how it's everlasting."
