Perhaps one of the most interesting birds of the southwest is the Roadrunner, sometimes called "chaparral cock", "countryman" or "cock of the Desert".

From Fort Worth westward to the Pacific, you may find a Roadrunner challenging you to a race along the highway. In New Mexico, he is the State Bird and is probably the fastest bird on foot. His wings are almost useless and he doesn't like to use them, hence his name "Roadrunner".

He only has two aims in life, to eat and have fun. He can see far more with one eye than humans can with two.

Surveyors in the field have reported cases where chaparral cocks will chase the ends of their chains, dragging on the ground.

Cowboys try to run him down with their horses, but using his tail like a rudder he usually wins the race.

Male and female birds are much alike. One schoolboy describes him as looking like a "skinny guinea" which is correct.

About the only noise he makes is by snapping his jaws together when in anger.

There is an old story that Roadrunners kill big rattlesnakes. They do this by building a fence of thorny cholla cactus around the snake when it's asleep. When the snake wakes up, he is so mad he ties a knot in himself and chokes himself to death.

The truth is the Roadrunner is a great enemy of the rattler and all other snakes. He eats every baby rattler he sees. By using his strong jaws, the Roadrunner has been known to kill a snake as much as twenty inches long.

The Roadrunner eats lizards like you and I eat fried chicken. When there isn't a lizard handy the bird eats grasshoppers, crickets, bumblebees, spiders, cactus fruit, and berries, but usually he prefers meat.

He doesn't make a good pet because he tears up anything he can and will tease the household cat until the cat is driven to kill the bird.

This bird travels alone, you won't ever see him with other birds and seldom with a mate. He goes to the same place at the same time every day like clockwork.

He builds his nest high up, made of sticks and mostly trash, about six to eight feet in a cactus or other plant. The eggs are yellowish and the babies are fed on lizards and insects too.

I once lived in the country and fed a jack rabbit & a turtle on bread and milk every day. I learned to feed the Roadrunner as soon as he showed up because he would not let the rabbit and turtle eat otherwise.

Maybe his lizard diet made him so disagreeable and hard to get along with.

REFLECTIONS

George Washington said we should try to keep alive within the human breast that spark of celestial fire called conscience. The conscience is an awareness (a consciousness!) of what is right and wrong. The word means "to know 'with' oneself."

The conscience may become distorted, dulled and ineffective. The Bible speaks of those whose conscience is "seared with a hot iron."

When a cow is branded, the hot iron deadens or numbs the sensitivity in that part of the body. Feelings hardly exist anymore where the branding iron sizzles the animal's hide.

If a person begins to lie, to cheat, to steal, and to defraud, his conscience becomes calloused. Lifeless. He becomes insensitive. When wrong is done by a person with a "seared conscience," he goes his way as indifferent to his awful acts as a vicious animal that has snuffed out the life of his victim.

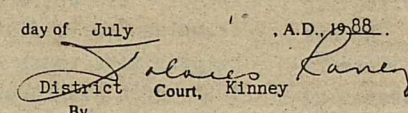

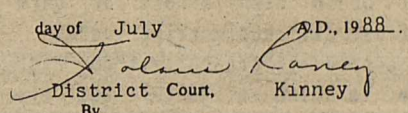

The conscience sometimes flashes like a green traffic signal, telling a person to move forward and do his duty. The caution light may come on, indicating some area of danger. The red light shines as a warning to stop. Look well to the light of conscience through which God tries to direct one's decisions.

If your conscience seems weak, strengthen it. If the conscience is pure, praise the Lord for it and walk in the light that God provides.

If your conscience is dead or dormant or devilish, ask God to give you "a good conscience, and an unfeigned faith."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

I do not think children should be seen and not heard. I believe that we, the youth, should have a say in the future of our community. The mistakes that are made by this generation will effect us and our children in the next. So why should we not be able to express our views. So this is the reason I am writing a letter concerning the waste dump. I think more young people should stand up for what they believe in. Why should this beautiful town be polluted for 25 jobs? Is it really worth it? I think not. It is true that we cannot guarantee what will happen in the future, but should such a big risk be taken?

Signed-
A concerned youth
Cece Foster

August 20, 1988

Dear Editor,

This is a letter concerning the installation of the dump site or sites in Kinney County.

Last week, in the paper, I read a letter written by Ms. Keys and I strongly agree with her views. Even though I am eighteen and fresh out of high school, I completely understand what she is saying, and so do many other teenagers.

Yes, the site will bring twenty-five new jobs, but it could also affect or harm twenty-five of our citizens working there.

Yes, many people who graduate from high school leave to find a job. But the politicians and citizens of this community could work together and with the state to find other means of employment.

People of this county should not only think about the money they could gain from the site, but they should think about future generations who could help make this community prosper in a healthy environment.

Many people like living here, including me, it's a clean and smog-free community. But who's going to want to live here if there's possible harm from radioactivity?

Quoting Ms. Keys, "there are other and better ways for the city and county to grow".

Sincerely,
Sandi L. Green

August 22, 1988

To the Citizens of Kinney County:

On August 17, 1988, the City of Spofford and it's elected officials had a public meeting. In it was a proposal and discussion about putting a NORM waste disposal plant at Spofford. It was also discussed it would be put on a ranch a mile from Spofford. It was voted unanimously against the waste disposal. (1) 1 mile to 1/2 mile was very close to our City limits, (2) there was another discussion, because I Mayor Herndon believe we are on a fault right across from where they wish to put the proposed plant. When Mexico City had their last earthquake, Mayor Herndon was called to Charley Resendez house.

They had met water. After further investigation, Mayor Herndon found a big crack that went twice across the road, and left two big holes in the road. It also moved a pipeline sixteen inches from the main line. So we, the citizens of Spofford, are very concerned over this issue. We would certainly like more investigation into this matter before any plant can be put here.

Also, we have heard several comments on the needs of jobs for young people, which we heard. We do need more jobs, but to risk all of our future generations on a few measealy jobs. Please, let's refresh our memories a few minutes--If we recall, it was put to a public vote about a detention center for Brackettville, which would not have been close to the City. Why was it voted down? It would have brought around a 130 to 150 jobs. We heard some citizen scream it's too close to our town. We don't need it. Well, this is the citizens of Spofford screaming, we do not wish this plant so close to our town. Will we be heard over the noise? We need jobs and a $100,000.00. We the people of Spofford need the clean air environment. Not for jobs or money. Please don't sell our little community for such a cheap price.

Mayor Herndon was told by several people, that the officials of Brackettville had a meeting with the Associates of NORM waste plants. He would like to ask the Judge, and Commissioners of Brackettville, Why? Mayor Herndon or his Aldermen were not invited to the meeting before it was voted on? He was told about it after it was passed. Since it was a very vital situation concerning Spofford, Why? weren't we asked? Seems like we are trying to be swallowed up without a protest. Why was it so hush-hush?

Some of us have lived a lifetime in Spofford with no jobs, no water and no outside help. But gosh! we are on the map now. They want to throw trash from five other states on our little town. Isn't that a crying shame! We the citizens of Spofford think we are trying to be sold out for a measealy few jobs and money. Let's all of us ban together and put a stop to such nonsense - seems to us in all these past years that Spofford has been ridiculed or laughed at for no water, no schools, no stores (which we once had) but, now it seems like, what poor little Spofford sows, Brackettville wishes to reap the harvest. What kind of justice is that? We the citizens of Spofford are outraged.

Mayor J. B. Herndon
Alderman
Concerned Citizens of Spofford
Jessie Herndon

P.S.

This article below was turned in by a citizen to Mayor Herndon. Do we the people want to put our trust in these people? Can we believe anything they tell us? Will they sell us out like they sold these people of Ohio, Florida and other towns. We hope people will vote against Browning Ferris Industries waste disposal.

Jessie Herndon

TWO WASTE FIRMS TO PAY $700,000 IN OHIO LAWSUIT

by Bill Richards, staff reporter of the Wall Street Journal

A federal judge ordered the nation's two largest waste haulers to pay a total of $700,000 to settle allegations of price fixing in the Toledo, Ohio, area.

Ohio Attorney General Anthony J. Celebrezze, who filed the civil case against Waste Management Inc and Browning-Ferris Industries Inc. in 1986, called the federal court award "one of the largest judgments in the history of Ohio antitrust law enforcement." Each waste hauler will pay half the judgment, with most of the money going to 38 school districts and other customers in the Toledo area allegedly victimized by the price fixing.

Ohio's suit charged that beginning in 1981, officials of Waste Management and Browning-Ferris met secretly and conspired to fix prices to gain a lock on the trash-hauling market in five counties in Ohio and two counties in Michigan. Neither waste hauler admitted guilt.

In a statement, Mr. Celebrezze called the alleged scheme "a conspiracy designed to restrict competition and create artificially high profit margins."

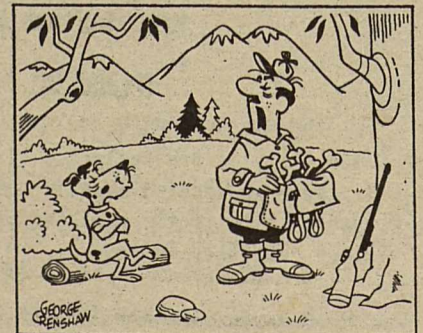

A Browning-Ferris spokesman at the company's Houston headquarters said the Ohio charges were "indefensible" and were the result of unlawful actions by a former Browning-Ferris district manager who left the company five years ago. The spokesman noted that both his company and Waste Management pleaded guilty last year to the same charges in a federal felony case and each paid a $1 million fine.

Waste Management said the settlement "recognizes our desire to bring to a conclusion this seven-year-old issue."

The two big waste haulers have been the subject of a number of federal and state antitrust investigations around the U.S. Last November, a federal judge fined Waste Management $1 million after the Oak Brook, Ill. based hauler pleaded no contest to price fixing in southern Florida. Waste Management settled two related civil antitrust cases with the state of Florida for $725,000.

Mr. Celebrezze's office said the two haulers also face numerous civil suits stemming from the various price fixing charges, including two private industry class actions in Toledo and a national class action in Philadelphia. (reprinted from the Wall Street Journal)

PUBLIC UTILITY OFFICIALS RECOMMEND AGAINST RIO GRANDE ELECTRIC'S PROPOSED POWER LINE

Administrative Law Judge Elizabeth Hagan Drews and Hearings Examiner Richard O'Connell of the Texas Public Utility Commission filed an Examiner's Report with the Commission recommending that the Commission deny Rio Grande Electric Cooperative's application for a Certificate of Convenience and Necessity to build the controversial Alpine to Persimmon Gap 138kV transmission line in Brewster County. Judge Drews heard the case in November and December, 1987.

The application was vigorously opposed by Rio Grande Electric's own members on economic grounds as well as by other groups concerned about historical, aesthetical and environmental damage that would result from the proposed construction. The 58 page Report cites the Cooperative's work as being "significantly incomplete inaccurate." Judge Drews and Examiner O'Connell found that the Cooperative "ceased maintenance on the existing 69kV Alpine-Persimmon Gap line in 1980 and that the preponderance of the evidence indicates that the inadequacies of the existing service are primarily due to the Cooperative's inadequate maintenance on the existing line." In finding that the Cooperative's proposal is "unreasonable" they also questioned "why a cooperative in financial trouble would contemplate constructing an $11 million transmission system whose alledged justification is a load growth projection that is based on two years of data." The Report concludes that the Cooperative's financial forecast failed to include many of the costs related to the project and that there was very little evidence in the record concerning the cost of the proposed line to the members of the Cooperative. It was found that the Cooperative spent more money on the project to date than its experts calculated would be needed to repair the existing line.

According to the Report, one would expect the costs of construction to be reflected in rates. Given the magnitude of the probable costs, the effect on rates could be substantial. The Report noted that the rates are already high. The Judge and Examiner filed 106 Findings of Fact, including a finding that the Cooperative is in technical default on its R.E.A. loan commitments; that evidence presented by Rio Grande was admittedly the result of guesswork and that the current service inadequacies could be resolved by a less costly means, ie, repair of the existing line.

The final decision will be reandered by the Commission on September 7.

APPLICATION FOR FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

The U.S. Department of Agriculture, Farmers Home Administration (FmHa) has received an application for financial assistance from the City of Spofford. The specific elements of this action are to construct a new water transmission main from Brackettville to Spofford, and to construct a new distribution system within the city limits of Spofford. The transmission line will be installed along State Highway 131.

A portion of the water transmission main is located in a 100 year floodplain. This floodplain is located approximately seven (7) miles south of Brackettville where the transmission main will cross Imperialist Creek.

This notice is to notify the existing landowners who may wish to obtain service in the future. The availability of service in the floodplain will be limited to only those existing structures, and those to be constructed in the future must be in compliance with the Kinney County Flood Management Plan. The Kinney County Flood Management Plan is available at the courthouse.

If implemented, the proposed action may indirectly convert an unknown number of acres of important farmland along the pipeline routes from agricultural use to residential uses and will serve as an incentive for residential development to occur in identified flood prone areas.

The purpose of this notice is to inform the public of this possible result and to request comments concerning:

1. impacts of the proposed location on prime farmlands and floodplains;
2. alternative routes or actions that would avoid these impacts; and
3. methods that could be used to reduce these impacts.

The proposed action is available for review at the following FmHa offices:

Mr. Don T. Mathis, District Director
Farmers Home Administration
1001 Main Street
Junction, Texas 76849

Any person interest in commenting on the proposed action may do so by sending such comments within 30 days following the date of this publication to:

SHERIFF'S CORNER

BY

Norman Hooten
 Sheriff

I am pleased to announce to the taxpayers and citizens of Kinney County that we passed our jail inspections conducted by the Texas Commission on Jail Standards on August 17th, and the federal inspection conducted by the U. S. Marshalls Service on August 18. We received our Certificate of Compliance from State Jail Inspector Maurice Wood after he completed his inspection. Mr. Wood complimented us on the overall good condition of the jail with special emphasis on the new cell door and lock system, he also had a positive reaction to our operational procedures on which he tested us.

With the passing of our inspection and receiving our Certificate of Compliance we are now fully certified by the state and are back in full operation. We currently have a total of 21 federal prisoners we are holding for the Bureau of Prisons at a rate of $28.00 per day or $18,228.00 per month. From all indications these numbers will hold up for several months to come. If so the income derived from the federal prisoner program will be of great benefit to Kinney County and will help to pay for the expenses that were necessary for the renovations and repairs to the county jail that were necessary for compliance with the minimum standards mandated by the Texas Commission on Jail Standards.

I feel I must take this opportunity to express my sincere appreciation and gratitude to the people of Kinney County who so overwhelmingly voted in favor of the bond issue which allowed us to obtain the finances with which to complete the renovations and repairs to the jail which has, at long last, made the county jail a much safer and more secure place to detain prisoners. The safety and security of the county jail and of the employees working there has been of major concern to me since I first became Sheriff in 1982. I will now rest a little easier. I also want to extend my appreciation to County Commissioners, Rosemary Slubar, Bill Bizzell, and Tim Ward for their concern, interest, and assistance over the past year in our efforts to bring the jail into compliance. They went above and beyond the call of duty and were in fact the only members of the Commissioners Court who displayed any interest at all in the progress of the jail repairs. All three came by to personally inspect the work being done and all three on several occasions offered valuable suggestions throughout the past year and stayed on top of the situation, conferring often with the officials responsible for the installation of the equipment and repairs to the jail.

It has been brought to my attention that there is a certain special group involved in the spreading of incorrect and false information to the public about the processes and procedures being used by the Voter Registrar (me) in the registration of voters and the preparation and maintenance of the voter registration list for Kinney County. This same special interest group is also complaining loud and long about the accuracy of the list as to addresses and correct precinct designation of voters on the list.

It just so happens that I, as Sheriff, Tax Assessor/Collector am also the Voter Registrar according to state law. Just another responsibility of my office that places an even heavier burden on my shoulders. Several of these people have been told by me the correct, legal process under state law for challenges of registered voters on the list. I know for a fact that at least one of them has called the Elections Division of the Secretary of State Office in Austin concerning the issue. And I know for a fact that person was advised of the same process for challenge that was received from me. It seems to me that these people want the law to be as they want it to be, and either do not want to follow the correct process or just want to keep the issue alive so as to have something to complain about and use for political purposes. Election years sure do bring out the worst in some people and they become blind to truth and legal process and demand they be granted their own selfish way for their own special interests.

Various members of this special interest group has on several occasions attempted to pressure me as Voter Registrar to take pen in hand and revise the voter registration list according to the way THEY think it should be. I have on each occasion refused to make ANY changes unless the proper LEGAL procedure for challenge is used. So far NOT ONE MEMBER of this group has come to me with a correct, legal challenge as prescribed by law. The Elections Division of the Secretary of State Office in Austin closely monitors the process, procedure, and current validity of our voter registration list. I and members of my staff in the TAC Office are in close contact with the Elections Division office requesting and receiving information concerning voter registration, and preparation and maintenance of the voter registration list. I am not going to insult your intelligence (or mine) and say that there are not corrections that need to be made. What I am saying is that we do the best we can under state law and as long as I am Sheriff, Tax Assessor/Collector of this county, correct legal processes and procedures under state law will be used. I will not yield to Pressure from adverse political groups who would like to control the county and county officials and bend things around to suit their interests. As long as I am Sheriff of this county and saddled with the many duties and responsibilities that go along with the office, Kinney County WILL NOT become another Duval County where two or three people control the county! No Sir, not while I'm still in office!

Anyone desiring to obtain LEGAL & CORRECT information about voter registration and the voter registration list DOES NOT have to take my word for it, call the Elections Division of the Secretary of State Office. Their phone number is 463-5650 and the man in charge is Mr. Tom Harrison. Don't listen to biased, false information being spread by this special interest group, think for yourself and take the time to find out the TRUTH!

 THAT'S ALL!!

COMMITTEE TO ELECT C.C. VELTMANN SHERIFF OF KINNEY COUNTY

Twenty-seven individuals met Thursday evening, Aug. 18, in the Officers Club Community Room at Fort Clark Springs to visit with C. C. Veltmann, Republican candidate for Sheriff of Kinney County.

The meeting was the second of several organizational get-togethers of supporters for the candidate. The third such meeting will be held Thursday, Aug. 25, at 5:30 p.m. at the Officers Club Community Room, and all persons interested in supporting Veltmann's candidacy for sheriff are urged to attend.

Moderator of last Thursday's meeting was Glen Seaver, who introduced Veltmann. Veltmann began his talk to those present by saying that he intends to conduct his bid for office "in a clean, above-board manner, the same way I'll run the office if I win", and insisted he wanted his supporters to respect his wishes and campaign accordingly.

Veltmann said he was seeking the office of sheriff, because he believes that he had a good business background and that he feels it is time for a change in the office. Asked about his law enforcement qualifications, Veltmann stated that he had none but intends, once elected, to take appropriate schooling in order to become qualified in that area. He added that he believes a sheriff primarily should be an administrator, choosing excellent and well-qualified deputies and staff.

The Republican Party candidate for sheriff is a rancher, a long-time resident of Kinney County, and a U.S. Navy World War II veteran.

Born at Fort Clark's hospital (now the Adult Center), Veltmann graduated from Brackettville High School in 1943 before joining the Navy. Upon his discharge, he attended Southwest Texas Jr. College at Uvalde and went into the ranching business with his father, Clyde Veltmann, and has continued ranching in Kinney County since. He has managed other ranching enterprises in the state as well. He also has worked for various businesses, the most recent having been as a sales representative for 11 years for Schindler Bros. Steel Company of Houston, being headquartered in Mexico City, handling raw steel sales to governments in Mexico and Central and South America.

He is married to the former Mary Louise Roane of Houston. Mrs. Veltmann has been a teacher in the Brackettville Independent School District for the past 12 years. They have three adult children: Clyde, a businessman in Midland; Craig, a hair stylist in San Francisco, and Valerie, a school teacher for the past two years in El Paso, who will be teaching in San Marcos this fall.

Veltmann is an active member of his church and currently is serving as Bishop's Warden of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church of Brackettville, where he became an Episcopalian in 1950. During the time he was managing a ranch in Uvalde County, he was a vestryman at St. Philip's Episcopal Church of Uvalde and was a founder of St. Philip's School there.

Now get even more comfortable.

Central Power and Light has developed a program that can make your present house more energy efficient. It's called the Centsable Home Program.

The recommendations involve steps like adding more attic insulation, caulking around windows and doors and putting an insulated blanket around your water heater. And installing a new properly sized central heat pump or air conditioner will qualify you for a Centsable Home Certificate from CPL.

You can either call a contractor or do the work yourself. Either way, you'll get a lower energy bill every month. And a more comfortable home.

If you're interested in the Centsable Home Program, give CPL a call. And get Centsable about your home energy use.
