

K. F. WE MISS YOU !!

As shown above with the performance of the Brackett Tiger Cheerleaders, the Homecoming Pep Rally last Friday afternoon was a big success. A large crowd of townspeople join the students to wish our Great Tiger team luck.

FANS RESTRAINT REQUESTED

The Brackett Independent School District Board of Trustees responded to a complaint by Booster Club President Manuel Pena regarding profanity, and derogatory remarks directed toward student athletes, coaches, and officials by asking school officials to visit with persistent offenders and urge them to exhibit the same good sportsmanship in the stands that the coaches encourage on the field.

Crowd control at contests is the responsibility of the host school that fails to protect officials, coaches, and players from excessive abuse. School officials are empowered to have uncooperative individuals removed from the school property and banned from further attendance at athletic events. Bob McCall, Superintendent of Brackett Independent School District, stated that the situation is 100% better than last year. "Personally, I don't like to hear student athletes encouraged to take 'cheap shots', or hear individual students demeaned from the stands because of mistakes made on the field or court. Coaches and officials expect to get some abuse," McCall stated, "but coaches wives really shouldn't have to be subjected to disparaging remarks and student/athletes certainly should not have to listen to remarks about their abilities. Profanity has no place at any school event."

It is difficult to draw the line between what is appropriate and what is not. If everyone would remember that each student and coach on the field has a family in the stands, and then make an effort not to say anything that would be offensive, the problem would solve itself. With the type of poor sportsmanship by players and fans that we see everyday on T.V., it is difficult not to model that behavior. Pro and college athletes and fans are not good role models for athletes or fans at the high school level.

"CARE" FOR THE FUTURE

Each week CARE will try to bring the public up-to-date on what we are doing in the battle against Texcor and BFI's waste site proposal in Kinney County. We would also like to keep the public informed about radiation and its' effects on our air, water, soil, food, and human health.

This past week a group from CARE attended the Brackettville City Council meeting to discuss the possibility of adopting a resolution. CARE was also in attendance at the Del Rio City Council Meeting, Tuesday, October 13th, where they passed a resolution opposing the establishment of a toxic waste, or radioactive disposal facility.

With a community joined together, added by support from our governing bodies we are ensuring a safe environment and future for Kinney County.

Some American Indian tribes believed it to be good luck to "marry" their fishing nets to little girls.

EFFECTS ON AIR QUALITY

Uranium mill tailings are notorious for their emissions of cancer-causing radon gas. The Nuclear Regulatory Commission declared in 1980 that uranium mill tailings constitute the single largest source of routine radiation emissions from the entire nuclear fuel cycle (Federal Register, 1980,65523). In 1978 the Los Alamos National Laboratory wrote that the only way to contain radon emissions from the piles is to cover them with 12 feet of clay -- but even then, the emission levels would be 300% above background levels. Los Alamos--not a rabid environmental group, but a central part of the nuclear establishment--suggested that the only real way of protecting public health would be to evacuate areas around uranium mill tailings piles and zone the areas as unfit for human habitation (Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory, 1978.)

Those reputable studies suggest ominous consequences for South Texas as the uncovered uranium mill tailings piles continue to grow in size in several locations. The Department of Energy (DOE) Susquehanna study has already documented radon and gamma emissions from the abandoned Susquehanna mill tailings (U.S. Department of Energy, 1987, pp.66-67, 94-97). It has been ten years since DOE was required to cover the piles, and they have still not begun the on-site work. Discussions with DOE officials indicate that nationally the Susquehanna site is a low priority for restoration. Perhaps this is partly due to a low level of officially expressed concern to date.

SHERIFF'S CORNER

You ever notice how politics and election campaigns seem to bring out the worst in some people? They seem to get caught up in a vicious frenzy similar to the feeding frenzy of sharks. They start striking out in all directions with no regard to right or wrong or the truth, all they are interested in is victory, at any price and by any method. They lose sight of the real issues and become caught up in their desperate vicious frenzy attempting to discredit the opponent. This seems to be particularly true when the candidate is not qualified for the job he or she seeks and his or her supporters cannot present logical, valid reasons why he or she should be elected. Their tactics kinda adds emphasis to the old saying "cream always rises to the top and dregs always float to the bottom".

Many years ago, 1966 to be exact, I was a rookie deputy sheriff in Dallas County, Texas. I was not a rookie law enforcement officer as I had begun my career in law enforcement as a state game warden in 1963. But after a few nights on patrol in deep East Dallas I realized I was indeed a green rookie when it came to patrol procedures in a metropolitan area such as Dallas County.

I learned more about jail safety and security, the safe handling and transportation of prisoners, law enforcement in general, and patrol procedures in particular in six months with the Dallas County Sheriff's Department than many peace officers learn in a 20 year career. Not because I was smarter than some of those other officers, but because of the sheer volume of law enforcement activity in a densely populated area such as Dallas County.

My patrol sergeant and training officer was a grizzled veteran of 20 years service as a Dallas County Deputy Sheriff. He has seen it all, the good, the bad and the ugly. He had earned his stripes in the mud and blood of a hands on street cop who loved his work. To this day I still benefit from his training. He strongly believed, as I do, that the letter of the law has to be tempered with common sense depending on the circumstances of each individual case. Some of the worst cops I have ever seen were those who believed in enforcing the law by the book with no variance to the right or left. Technically and legally they might be right, morally they were wrong. All GOOD peace officers, prosecutors, and judges are concerned with justice. Therefore those of us in law enforcement who attempt to temper the letter of the law with common sense will sometimes turn our heads at minor infractions of the law as long as there is no danger to the public. A GOOD peace officer can often obtain better results with a friendly warning than with a citation to court, especially when dealing with our young people.

During the many years that have come and gone since I was a rookie deputy sheriff in Dallas County I have been exposed to the good, the bad and the ugly side of human behavior on a daily basis while serving the public as a law enforcement officer. I have seen good peace officers destroy their careers, their marriages, and in some cases their lives by the abuse of alcohol and the use of drugs. I have lost a close personal friend or two to drug abuse, watching them slowly destroy themselves with hard drugs, becoming zombies dependant on their daily fixes, refusing all assistance offered by friends and slowly losing all self-respect, begging, borrowing, and stealing from friends and strangers to feed their habits. I have on many occasions had to handle young people, including teenagers and in some cases pre-teens, strung out on drugs. It sickens the soul to see what alcohol and drug abuse can do to the body and mind of an otherwise productive citizen. Anyone who knows me, both peace officers and citizens, knows that I would never turn my head to alcohol abuse or the use of drugs, never in a million years!

During this past summer we received several reports that local teenagers were having beer parties and smoking dope. We worked several raids on beer parties attended by local people, some of them under age for alcohol consumption and/or possession. We detained several of those young people and called their parents to come pick them up at the county jail. We confiscated several cases of beer and a few bottles of wine coolers. Not one case involved hard liquor, and not one case involved drugs of any kind. We issued warning citations and attached them to letters mailed to the parents to make them aware of the dangers involved. WE HAD NO REPEAT OFFENDERS! Did we make our point and get the job done? I think so and so do the parents and kids involved.

There have been 3 or 4 drug busts in Kinney County over the past year or so, all involved drug dealers or users passing through the County enroute to other destinations. I am currently a member of the Steering Committee of the Tri-County Drug Enforcement Task Force consisting of Val Verde, Edwards, and Kinney Counties. We have compiled all available information on suspected drug dealers and users in our respective counties and meet once a month to update information and evidence. We have a roving undercover agent who works the 3 counties and I am pleased to report that he indicates that Kinney County does NOT currently have a major drug problem. There is some indication of "social use" of drugs by a few, but NO indication of major drug abuse or drug dealing in our county. We are compiling information and evidence on suspected drug users in our county as it becomes available, but this has to be done with correct and proper documentation and procedures. The fact that we only had 1 rape and 2 aggravated assaults in Kinney County during 1987 indicates a very low level of that type crime, the fact that we had a low level of drug arrests in our county and none on locals indicates a very low level of drug activity in Kinney County. Any PROFESSIONAL law enforcement officer knows that I took my stand on drug dealers and drug users in 1981-82 at the risk of my own life, I still remember 1982! Do you?

THAT'S ALL !!

REFLECTIONS

Have you made plans for your funeral? Not a bad idea. The Word of God says that no one should brag about what he will do tomorrow because no person really knows what will happen in the future. Furthermore the Bible declares: "It is appointed unto man once to die." Death is inevitable. Each of us should therefore make preparations so that we may die sensibly. How?

Get your personal documents in order. Your family will be spared weeks of anguish and turmoil in arranging papers, if you will take a little time and get these matters updated. All legal documents such as insurance, wills bonds and stocks should be easily located and clearly understood. A lawyer and funeral director will be good friends to help in these arrangements.

What about your burial? If your partner or children discuss the general features of the funeral before that time arrives, major problems can be avoided. Where will the funeral service and burial take place? Where will the remaining family members live?

What about the future of the children?

A patient was being visited by me in a hospital one day. That individual said: "Pastor, if you are called upon for my funeral, please know that all preparations have been made - it will only be a transitional step to heaven." Those were good words to hear. Spiritual preparation for death must also be made in advance. Are you ready to die?

The Bulldogs were sparked by quick Terry Hebert, who accounted for one of the LaPryor touchdowns in the second quarter as they led 15-0 at the half. The Tigers scored twice in the third period. Steve Clementz scored first from 4 yards out. Jesus Aguirre ran in the conversion. Aguirre later had a 5 yard TD run. The Tigers then had a chance to take the lead, but the pass on the conversion was incomplete. The Bulldogs secured the win with another touchdown in the final stanza.

The Tigers are now 2-2 in district competition. They are in third place behind Lytle(4-0) and LaPryor(3-0). The Tigers will travel to Dilley this Friday night as they will face the Wolves. Come support the Tigers as they annihilate the Wolves!!!

This idea was brought up at a student council meeting and voted upon. During halftime of Friday nights game the new king and queen were announced. The new queen is Melissa Meyer. The new king is Placido Samaniego. If this is continued it will prove to be a great tradition.

Flunk

Dear Flunk,

Due to your lack of effort in class and study you as an athlete should know what consequences you will suffer. You didn't show effort in your school work so you won't show your effort on the field, it only sounds fair to me. There's not much you can do about it now, but you can always strive for a better sense of knowledge. There is a possibility that maybe you can do something about next six weeks and be eligible for other school activities. The thing of it is to pass and get a good education so you can do good for yourself, sports isn't going to get you the education you need to get a job. If your goal is to play professional sports, do you think YOU need an education?

Think About It,
Nosey

Dear Nosey,

I have a slight bit of trouble studying after school. I get home turn on the television set and watch T.V. all day long. I know I have homework to do but I just can't manage to open my books and the next day at school I don't turn in my homework so I get bad grades. Nosey what I want to know is, do you have any study guidelines that I can go by that will help me in my studies?

Zero

Dear Zero,

Yes indeed I have a few guidelines that will help you in your study. First of all you need to get into the habit of getting home and the first thing you do is open your book. If you start your homework right away, you have more time on your hands to do the things you enjoy doing after school. In order for you to become adjusted to your new study habits it will certainly take a lot of time and effort. You also need to have a little more willpower to overcome your weakness of not studying. I know you can do it, write again!

Glad To Help,
Nosey

BAND GOES TO CONTEST

By: J.J. Guidry

The Brackett Fightin' Tiger Band traveled to Castroville this last weekend to compete in their yearly marching contest. Due to the nervousness of many of the unexperienced marchers, their performance was not its usual quality. The band recieved a four this year and a three last year (a one is the highest ranking). Though the ratings don't show it the band has improved greatly. The band will finish out the football season and begin working on music for their annual Christmas concert. Both the band and the community appreciate the work of the band director, Danny Potter. We wish the band the best of luck all future competitions.

NEW COMPUTER TEACHER AT BHS

On the BHS campus we have a new teacher. He's not just a new teacher, he's a new teacher from GERMANY. His name is Eberhard Kunze. In Germany, he attended the Technical University Institute at Darmstadt, where he recieved a Masters Degree in Electronic Engineering and a Masters Degree in Computer Education. Before coming to Brackettville High School, Mr. Kunze taught at the University of Maryland, and also at the City Colleges of Chicago European Division. He's been teaching for ten years. Mr. Kunze chose to teach computer because he says, "It's a challenge to the mind."

Mr. Kunze is happily married and has one daughter." When asked how his family was adjusting to Bracketville, Mr. Kunze said, "We are adjusting just fine, and we really like Bracketville." He also added that they don't miss the Germany weather, but they do miss the German beer.

When asked, how our school system compares to Germany's? He said, "Here school is more rigid and much more disciplined. School consists of longer attendance hours and less study time." In Germany, school lasts from 8 a.m. until 12 p.m., then everyone is sent home to study.

Mr. Kunze isn't really sure how long he will be teaching here, but he says he'd like to stay awhile. He said, "Before I leave I am going to make sure we get some computer experts in Brackett." Good Luck Mr. Kunze!

Wild horses are the most interesting creatures, in many ways in the Southwest. Originally wild horses appeared in Louisiana, Texas and Mexico and by 1850 had spread into New Mexico, Arizona, California, Colorado, Oregon and even into Canada. Captain Zebulon Pike, the explorer, wrote of seeing many thousand wild horses as he traveled in the year 1806.

Today wild horses are called a pest, but it is sad about this, they belong in the picture of the great Southwest.

During the Baer War, the British Army bought many wild horses in America and shipped them to Africa for Cavalry mounts, although many of them died on the way there.

Later, many were killed and processed into soap, fertilizer, dog food, glue and chicken feed. In spite of all this there are still wild horses in the West and Southwest.

These horses are not native American. Many thousands of years ago there was an eleven inch tall specie called the Eolippus, another horse the size of todays horse also lived here in ancient times. But by Christopher Columbus' time horses were again in the Southwest.

Our modern wild mustangs come from tame horses that were brought from Spain by early explorers in the Southwest. The very first horses were brought to Mexico in 1519 by Fernando Cortez, a famous Spanish military explorer.

In his ships were eleven stallions and five mares. Then a Spaniard, Hernandez de Soto, who discovered the Mississippi in 1540 brought a few European horses, and started West. Some of these horses managed to escape and wandered away. They became wild and their colts grew up to be even wilder.

At first, the Indians of that period were afraid of the wild horses but soon made herds of the wild horses as we still see. Soon the wild mustangs were as important to the Indians as the steam engine to the white man.

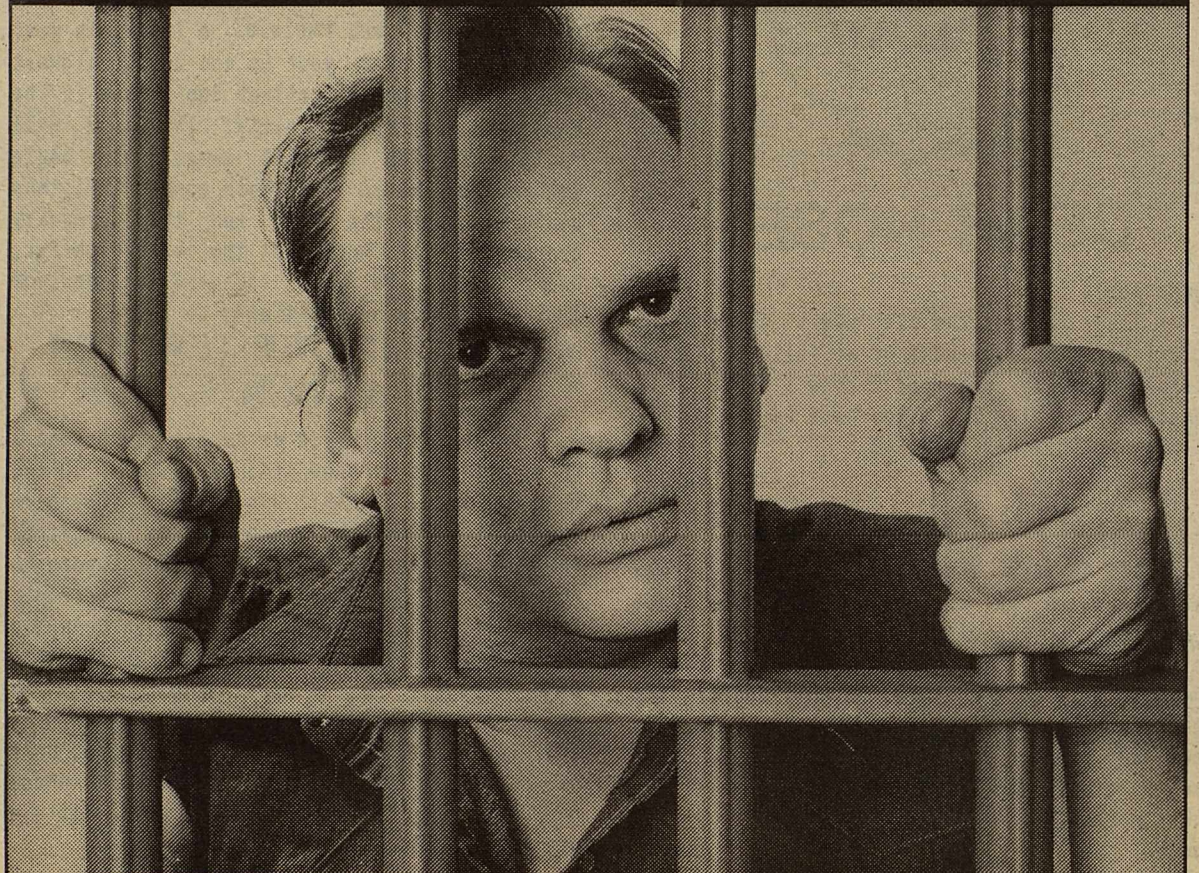

The word mustang probably came from the Spanish word "mesteno" meaning strayed or wild.

Sometimes mustangs are called broncos, slick ears, slicks or mavericks, meaning that they have not been ridden or earmarked or branded. A true bronco is any mustang that goes against mans effort to tame him. The

ADULT WELLNESS CLINIC

Influenza immunizations are beneficial, cost effective, safe, and an important component of preventive health care programs. Persons who are poorly equipped to cope with influenza infection because of their age or underlying health problems, such as diabetes, are more likely to suffer from complications from the disease.

EXPERTS SWEAR BY THE CPL SECURITY LIGHT.

Some even have strong convictions.

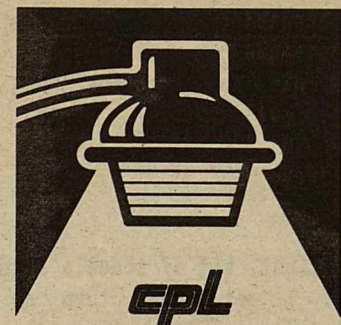

Police departments also recommend Security Lighting as an ideal crime prevention tool.

Plus, a CPL Security Light means more fun outdoors. . . on at dusk, off at dawn, automatically.

You can enjoy a Security Light for as little as $6.50 a month,* including installation and year 'round maintenance.

And CPL will conveniently add it to your monthly electric bill. Call your CPL office for details!

*Installed on an existing CPL pole.

Central Power and Light Company
Energy solutions that make Good Cents.

The Immunization Practices Advisory Committee (ACIP) lists persons with cardipulmonary or metabolic disorders (diabetes) among the highest priortiy target groups for annual influenza immunizations.

The trivalent influenza vaccine for the 1988-89 season is A/Taiwan, A/Sichuan, and B/Victoria. The ideal time to receive your vaccine is on or before four weeks prior to the onset of influenza season.

Tetanus-diphtheria vaccine is recommended as a booster dose every ten years for all adults who have completed a primary series.

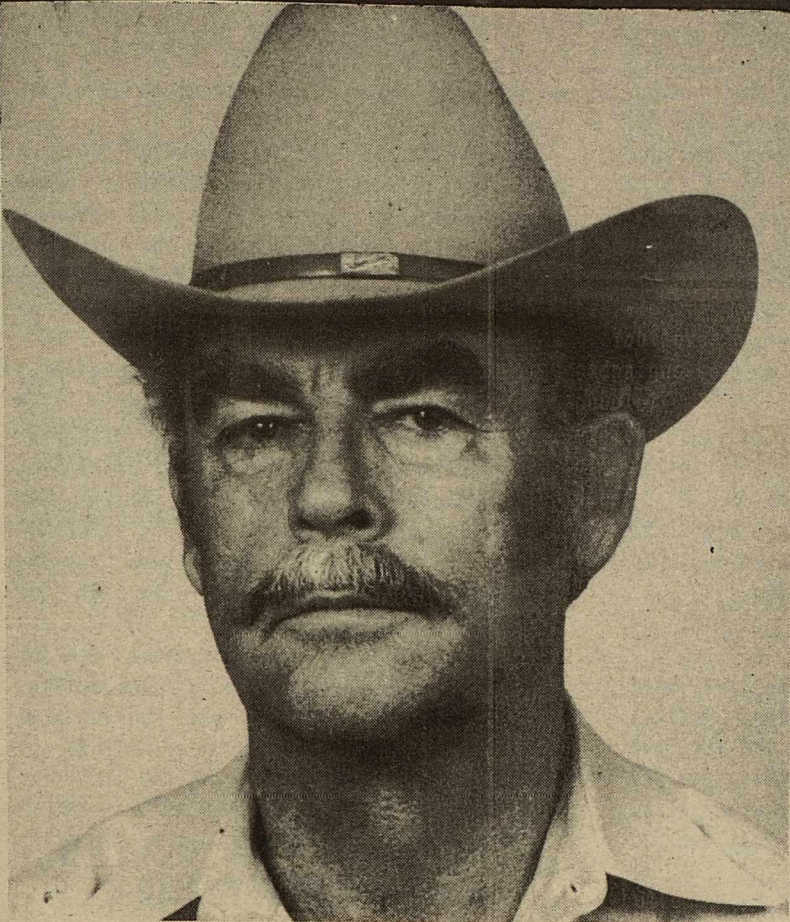

Persons living in Brackettville may receive their vaccine October 25, 1988 from 9:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m.

DIPHTHERIA FORGOTTEN, BUT NOT GONE

The Td immunization for tetanus also protects against another deadly disease - diphtheria. Years ago, diphtheria deaths were part of everyday life. Today, reports of diphtheria are rare, but this disease still exists as a serious threat to the unimmunized. One out of every 10 people who get diphtheria die from it.

Diphtheria is passed from person to person through "droplet infection" or by breathing in the diphtheria bacteria after an infected person has coughed, sneezed or even laughed. It can also be spread by handling used tissue

CAN WE AFFORD ALL THIS JAIL INCOME ?

Some Facts:

The average cost per meal at the Kinney County jail for the past year was $1.64, or $4.92 a day per prisoner. This figures out to be $598.60 a month for a family of 4. How does this compare with your budget?

More facts:

Partial expenses for Kinney County Jail for past year	-----	$187,494.11
Total income for Kinney County Jail for past year	-----	$134,792.00

The difference costs us , the taxpayer,	per year --	52,702.11
	per month --	4,391.83
	per day --	144.39

and this doesn't include the sheriff's salary or the jail debt !!! (above figures courtesy Kinney County Auditor)

What it amounts to is a Federal Prison instead of a County Jail for the purpose of the Federal Revenue. There is no guarantee of this Federal Revenue for the Future, and especially with the New Border Patrol center that is on the way for Kinney County.

The taxpayers have to continue to come up with the deficit in the budget, which raises our cost of our local prisoners which the facility is for to begin with, but which Federal prisoners have been given priority.

Can we afford this type administration?

THINK ABOUT IT!!

DIPHTHERIA

or drinking from a glass used by an infected person.

Diphtheria in its early stages may be mistaken for a severe sore throat. Death from diphtheria occurs when a gray coating forms in the throat and across the windpipe causing suffocation. Death may also occur from heart failure caused by the toxins or poisons produced by the bacteria.

For adults, diphtheria is easily prevented with a Td shot - a combination vaccine that protects against both tetanus and diphtheria. Many adults received their first diphtheria immunization in childhood as DTP vaccine, but they still need booster doses of Td vaccine.

Do you remember the Bexar County diphtheria outbreak of 1971? We had 102 cases and three deaths.

You may receive your Td vaccine at the Adult Wellness Clinic in Brackettville, October 25, 1988, from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

TETANUS -- A 50-50 CHANCE AT LIFE

Tetanus, or lockjaw, is a dangerous disease which gives unimmunized older persons only a 50 percent chance of surviving it, even with the best medical care. Everyone, regardless of age, needs to be vaccinated, since everyone is susceptible without it.

Tetanus occurs when soil contaminated with the tetanus bacteria gets into any break in the skin. Small scratches, burns and slivers that often go unnoticed can cause this disease as well as deep puncture wounds. Early signs of illness are stiffness in the face and neck, progressing to stiffness in the jaw (hence the common name, lockjaw), back and abdomen.

Tetanus is easily prevented with a Td shot - a combination vaccine that protects against both tetanus and diphtheria. Persons who have never received tetanus vaccine, or are unsure if they have, should start with the three shot series as soon as possible. The second shot is given about two months after the first and the third shot is given about six months to one year after the second. Many adults received tetanus immunization in childhood as DTP vaccine. After completing the initial three shot series, a booster shot is required only every ten years throughout life. A simple way to remember the booster is to receive it on your mid-decade birthday - ages 15, 25, 35, etc. (The Td immunization sometimes may be given after only 5 years if you receive a serious wound prior to the date of your next booster.)

You may receive your Td protection by seeing your private physician or attending the Adult Wellness Clinic in Brackettville, October 25, 1988, from 9:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m.
