LONGTIME COOPERATIVE EMPLOYEE RETIRES

After forty years of dedicated service, Bill Riley of Brackettville, has retired from Rio Grande Electric Coop. Inc.

Bill started as a lineman in 1949, was promoted to Construction Superintendent in 1954 and to Line Superintendent in 1967.

A retirement dinner was held for him on Friday, January 13, 1989, at the NCO Club at Fort Clark Springs. Those attending included not only family and friends here in Brackett, but also fellow employees from Carrizo Springs, friends from Robstown from when he helped out there years ago and salesmen from the different suppliers that the Coop does business with.

After the dinner which was prepared by several of the employees, gifts of appreciation and friendship were given to him. An automatic paint-sprayer was given by the employees of Rio Grande Electric Coop, Inc., a gag gift was given by fellow employee, Dale Borden and a watch was given by Temple (a supplier for RGE). The camaraderie continued on while listening to the music supplied by fellow employee Clyde Justice.

HARRISON

STATE REPRESENTATIVE DUDLEY HARRISON
APPOINTED CHAIRMAN OF AGRICULTURE AND LIVESTOCK

Austin--Representative Dudley Harrison of Sanderson was appointed Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture and Livestock for the 71st Legislature. House Speaker Gib Lewis announced the committee assignments on January 11, 1989. "The early appointments are an indication of the willingness to start working on the important legislative issues as soon as possible," Rep. Harrison said.

Harrison has been Chairman of the Agriculture Committee for the past two years and looks forward to working once again on the important issues facing agriculture. The committee has budget and oversight responsibilities of the agricultural agencies in the State. Among the major agencies are the Texas Department of Agriculture, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, and the Texas Animal Health Commission.

Legislation relating to agriculture, horticulture, and livestock raising will be considered by the committee. "Agriculture is the second largest industry in Texas and the Legislature needs to do its part to promote and to develop the agriculture industry," Harrison said. Research and processing of Texas commodities are areas of concern for the industry, he said.

Rep. Harrison was also appointed to the Committee on State Affairs. "This committee assignment will broaden my duties and influence on the regulation of public utilities, the operation of state government, public lands, and state buildings," Harrison said. In addition, the committee has specific budget and oversight responsibilities of 23 state agencies and commissions which include the Governor's Office, Texas Public Finance Authority, the Public Utility Commission and the Texas National Guard Armory Board.

"I thank the people of District 68 for allowing me to represent them and their interests during the 71st Legislature," Rep. Harrison said.

LOW-INTEREST MORTGAGE MONEY AVAILABLE

U.S. Senator Phil Gramm announced Saturday the State of Texas will make available low-interest rate home mortgages to qualified buyers of foreclosed properties owned by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

"This state-federal initiative was developed to reduce the inventory of foreclosed properties in Texas while enhancing the ability of low- and moderate-income families to qualify for a loan," Gramm said in a press conference in Dallas.

Thomas T. Demery, Federal Housing Commissioner, said the $16.9 million Texas Housing Agency financing program will be offered exclusively to first-time homebuyers of low- to moderate- income who elect to buy one of 3,685 HUD-owned properties in Texas.

The average purchase price of these properties is $36,531.

"I am delighted to be able to announce this good news for the hundreds of hard-working families throughout Texas," Gramm said. "The attractive home prices available on HUD properties coupled with this affordable state financing program should allow families earning as low as $15,000 to qualify for an average-priced HUD property," he said.

The downpayment required on a typical property ranges from $100 to $500 with the balance of the home to be financed at an interest rate ranging from 8.05 percent to 9.55 percent, depending on the home. In contrast, the prevailing interest rate on

GOVERNOR ANNOUNCES TEXAS JOBS & OPPORTUNITY BLUEPRINT

AUSTIN--Governor Bill Clements today unveiled the Texas Jobs and Opportunity Blueprint (Texas JOBS) - an aggressive program to provide tax incentives for job creation, for developing the state's high technology base and for training workers.

In an address to the Texas Chamber of Commerce, Clements proposed the creation of a series of initiatives designed to bring jobs to the state.

The Rural Economic Development Fund would provide a guarantee loan program whose primary focus would be the expansion of food and fiber processing in Texas. The Exporters Loan Fund would help Texas businesses capture a bigger share of foreign markets. The Product Development Fund would provide funding for testing, refining and demonstrating potential new products, Clements said.

"This is our JOBS Plan for Texas," he said. "It is our economic aim for the legislative session. But more than that, it embodies our hope for the years to come."

Clements also called on the Texas Legislature to reform the worker's compensation system, saying "this broken process is an impediment to our state's progress and it fails to adequately protect Texans on the job."

The Governor said lawmakers also must exempt business inventories from property taxes when these goods are only in the state temporarily and need to speed-up the scheduled phase-out of the sales and use tax now paid on manufacturing equipment.

"I recognize that the economic plan that I am outlining today and other measures I'll propose are, of course, subject to available revenue," Clements said. "But my intent is to find sufficient revenue without raising taxes to fund Texas' priorities. And jobs, diversified growth and opportunities are Texas' priorities."

STUDENTS VISIT THE COUNTY JAIL

On January 10, 1989, Brackett Jr. High students in the Career Exploration Class visited the Kinney County Jail. Sheriff Norman Hooten talked to the students about the different types of jobs at the county jail. He explained the job requirements and duties of the sheriff, deputy sheriff, radio dispatcher, and jailers. He ended the presentation with an interesting tour of the jail and its facilities. Your Conversation Tells
Your True Nature

What you say, and when you say it, even what you leave unsaid, are forms of power that tend to be corrupted.

"Words are powerful because they evoke emotional, psychological, spiritual, and intellectual meaning," says national radio broadcaster Karen Burton Mains, author of YOU ARE WHAT YOU SAY: CURE FOR THE TROUBLESOME TONGUE ($7.95, Zondervan Publishing House, 1988).

According to Mains, "Words are so powerful they undo worlds, they create havoc, they destroy well-ordered societies, they bring the downfall of dynasties, they speak murder, they shatter marriages with spoken authority."

She cites a Wayne State University (Mich.) study that reveals students use an off-color word for every 14 they speak and the average adult utters one off-color word for every 10. Mains says it has become "fashionable to be foulmouthed," but, she says, this use of language only portrays the speaker's laziness of speech and the disrespect for the listener.

Mains suggests ways to help control your tongue and contribute to a healthy oral environment:

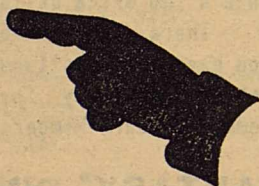

- Read uplifting, meaningful literature.
- Make a mental note of the frequency with which you use profanities, blasphemies, or obscenities.
- Do not orally attack another person during a disagreement.
- Exercise mental agility by discussing issues of the day.
- Do not embarrass your children by criticizing them in public.
- If you have a problem with gossiping, criticizing, or badgering, admit it and work on stopping each instance of it in your conversation.

GIRL SCOUT COOKIES

The Girl Scouts in Brackettville will be taking orders for Girl Scout Cookies January 13 - 26, 1989. The Girl Scout Cookie Sale is a great American tradition and we encourage you to join in this tradition of supporting Girl Scouting by buying Girl Scout Cookies. The El Camino Girl Scout Council will be offering seven great varieties of cookies this year. The cookies will include our four traditional varieties of cookies: Thin Mints, Shortbread, Peanut Butter Sandwich, and Peanut Butter Patties. In addition, this year we will be offering three new varieties including Chocolate Creme Sandwich, Caramel delites, and Lemon Pastry Cremes. The El Camino Girl Scouts will be delivering the cookies February 23 through March 12, 1989. The cookies will sell for $2.50 per box.

For nearly 70 years, Girl Scouts have knocked on the doors of their neighbors and offered delicious cookies for sale. In 1987, over 144 million packages of cookies were sold. The sale proceeds benefit the troops which make the sales as well as the Councils providing the girls facilities and services.

So when a Girl Scout knocks on your door-or calls you on the phone-buy some extra boxes for the freezer. The cookies are baked with vegetable shortening, have no preservatives and no artificial colors.

If the Girl Scouts miss you, visit their sale booths or call 563-2520 and ask to place your cookie order.

Not just any vermouth will please a truly discerning palate. Imported Stock Vermouths, either Dry or Sweet, are wines infused with their own special combination of over 50 marvelous herbs and spices that lend new taste sensations to a favorite dish, such as this recipe for Scallop Quiche:

 - 3 tablespoons French chopped parsley
 - 1/4 teaspoon dried thyme
 - 1/2 teaspoon chopped shallots

MEASLES ALERT

Measles has been on the minds of everyone since the outbreak in Houston and Harris County. In this outbreak approximately 250 cases have been linked to the original case, showing how easy one can catch it from the slightest exposure. The case count in the Harris County area is now 360.

Measles is a highly communicable rash illness caused by a virus. Initial symptoms include high fever, red eyes, a cough, runny nose, and sneezing, followed by a dusky red, blotchy, flat rash which begins on the face, and then spreads to the trunk, arms, and legs. The rash lasts 4 to 6 days.

The measles virus is transmitted from person to person by direct contact, by droplet or airborne spread of respiratory secretions of infected germs.

Prevention for your child can be received by vaccination at your local health department or from your private physician.

Review your child's immunization record, and if it does not indicate measles vaccine (Rubeola or MMR vaccine) and your child is 12 months of age or older, see that you obtain vaccine protection. Usually, the vaccine is administered at 15 months of age, but for outbreaks may be administered as early as 12 months for earlier protection.

SHORTS AND FILLERS

Add shredded Cheddar cheese to crumb topping in apple crisp. Or, combine the shredded cheese with the pastry dough when making apple pie or dumplings.

Avoid storing ice cream in the front of the freezer near the door where it is constantly exposed to fluctuations in temperature.

It may be surprising to learn that sour cream contains only 25 calories per tablespoon while mayonnaise contains 101 calories per tablespoon.

As the cold winds howl, warm your family from the inside out with Cincinnati-style Chili. Serve chili with beans over cooked spaghetti noodles. Top with shredded Cheddar cheese and chopped onions.

For best results when whipping cream, place cream, bowl and beaters in the freezer 5 to 10 minutes before whipping. Use a bowl that is small and deep enough to accommodate beaters and maintain good contact with cream. Beat rapidly on medium high speed until cream begins to thicken, then lower the speed. Stop beating when stiff peaks form. If overbeating occurs to the point where the cream is turning to butter, add 2 to 3 more tablespoons cream.

conventional loans reported for December is 10.19 percent.

A typical buyer purchasing an average priced home in this program will save $20,260. over the life of a loan as a result of this below-market rate financing, said Kenneth G. DeJarnett, Chairman of the Texas Housing Agency.

"This unique program will create opportunities for homeownership among lower-income renters who never dreamed they were in a position to afford a home," DeJarnett said. "If a family is paying $275-$300 a month rent and has a stable job and few debts, we strongly encourage them to apply for a loan under this program."

The first date to apply for a home loan is January 18, 1989.

In order to participate in this financing program, a buyer must select a foreclosed property, make an offer through a broker on the property which is acceptable to HUD, and present an executed sales purchase agreement to a participating lender at time of loan application.

Listings of HUD properties are published periodically in the newspaper or can be obtained from local real estate agents. Additional information on this program and a list of participating lenders may be obtained by calling the Texas Housing Agency at (512) 472-7500.

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as a result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97% five year survival rate and a 90% 10 year survival rate. (The cost is only $50.00)

A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, even before it can be felt.

English As Our Official Language?

Congresswoman Virginia Smith (R-Neb.) is a member of the House Appropriations Committee and is a ranking member of its Agriculture and Related Agencies Subcommittee.

YES

Why do you support a constitutional amendment designating English the official language of the United States?

By custom for more than 200 years, English has been recognized as the common language of the United States, and it has served to unite the most diverse nation on earth.

The English Language Amendment I support does not seek to make English our exclusive language, but only the official language of government. The amendment in no way seeks to deny the inherent right of people to retain and speak the language of their ancestors. The amendment would reverse the two- to three-decade-old trends in government policies—bilingual ballots and licensing exams, misdirected bilingual education programs, and such—that promote official bilingualism and, thus, biculturalism and isolate immigrants from the economic, social and political mainstream of American society.

Is a common language needed for this to be a unified nation?

Yes! We are a nation of immigrants, coming together from every ancestry, every race, every religion, culture and language. Despite their fiercely diverse heritages, immigrants of past years found a common bond—the English language—through which they communicated and worked side by side as Americans to build this great country. They treasured their heritage, allowing it to enrich their lives without estranging them from the greater society. Only if we retain and reinforce this fundamental bond of a common language for today's immigrants will this country remain united as "one nation . . . indivisible."

Would such an amendment constitute prejudice against non-English speaking Americans?

Exactly the opposite! It is the fragmentation of society along language lines that will drive a wedge between English and non-English speaking Americans and foster discrimination. It is through a common language that we exchange ideas and learn about one another, peaceably resolve our differences, and shape the rich traditions of our diverse religions and cultures.

Judge of the swine and calves is Steve Branecky and of the lambs is Prator Gibbs.

Marcelo Fernandez-Zayas is a nationally noted journalist specializing in social and economic issues.

NO

Why do you oppose a constitutional amendment designating English the official language of the United States?

The United States has always been a multilingual, multicultural nation. Publications in more than 100 different languages appear regularly in our country, adding to the knowledge of our society. On the other hand, the English language is recognized as the de facto national vehicle of expression in this country. The English language is very secure and does not need the Constitution to continue its existence. There is a popular saying that advises us not to fix something that is not broken. The amendment creates more resentment than benefits. Let's not try to mandate through the Constitution what is already accepted as a fact of life.

Is a common language necessary for this to be a unified nation?

Our national unity is intact, and members of all ethnic groups are working together toward common goals. The effort to pass this amendment will create xenophobic feelings and emphasize differences more than similarities. This proposed amendment definitely will divide more than unite.

Would such an amendment constitute prejudice against non-English speaking Americans?

Most members of the Hispanic communities oppose the intention and actions of the proponents of this amendment, specifically members of the U.S. English organization. Recently, Linda Chavez and Walter Cronkite resigned their positions in this organization when confronted with a memorandum signed by one prominent member of the group. The memorandum is, by itself, an exercise in ethnic and religious prejudice. The resignations of Chavez and Cronkite were not motivated by their personal opposition to the amendment, but rather by the hidden agenda of many behind this initiative. What needs to be amended is the way of thinking of those who see in the ethnic, cultural and religious diversity of this nation a threat rather than a blessing. ll

TRACKS ALONG THE TRAIL BY DORTHY PAYNE

The "horned" toad is not really a toad but a "horned" lizard. It has clawed toes, scales and a tail, so it's a lizard. It also has a transparent scale near the center of the head which is probably the remainder of an eye used by this lizards distant ancestor. When the "horned" lizard burrows down in the sand to sleep at night, he manages to leave the one tiny scaly spot of his "third eye" uncovered. Some scientists believe this "third eye" is sensitive to light and probably wakes him up when the sun comes up.

There are about seventeen species of "horned" lizards. Some lay eggs and plenty of them. An outdoorsman caught a live one near Tuba city, Arizona and mailed it to a zoo in San Diego, California. The zoo keeper wrote back to the man and thanked him for the 28 horned lizards. The mother had 27 babies while she rode in the mails.

These lizards eat grasshoppers, crickets, roaches, grubs and ants and are a friend of man. They don't even eat earth worms which are valuable to man. So you needn't be afraid of the "horned" lizard. They make interesting pets for children, who know how to take care of them.

Their tongues are not hinged in the front of their mouths, like real toad's are. They catch their prey with a flip of the tongue faster than our eyes can see.

The Texas Horned Lizard is the most abundant species. He has two central horns on his head, rather large and three more on each temple. His body is rounded with a small tail. A yellow band runs down his back, gray color and black spots on his yellow abdomen. Some are rust colored and a few are almost black.

Another horned lizard called the Regal Horned Lizard is found in Arizona and Mexico. He is sometimes seven inches long and has pink horns. Some mail order stores in the southwest ship horned lizards back east to sell as souvenirs.

About the tale that some horned lizards can spit blood is a true one. When frightened some species actually squirt fine streams of blood from little pouches in their eyelids. This hair-like stream may be thrown as far as 3 or 4 feet. It is harmless but will frighten some enemies, such as dogs. It's probably a characteristic found in a distant ancestor also.

Besides being camouflaged, the horned toad has taken the revenge on his enemy the snake when he is swallowed. The little toad twists his head left and right in trying to escape, causing the snake to die, but the lizard dies too.

The horned lizard is not poisonous. The Gila Monster is the only poisonous lizard in the world, and he is found mostly near the Gila River of Arizona.

REFLECTIONS

BY PRESTON TAYLOR, PASTOR
FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Several years ago Kenyetta was elected Prime Minister of Kenya, East Africa. Many feared the consequences. What would the black man do who had been a prisoner? Would he drive out the orientals? Expel the white men? Get revenge on his enemies?

Prime Minister Kenyetta needed the business-man of India. He needed the skill knowledge, and wealth of white European farmer. His own black rase was essential for the nation's growth. Everyone waited.

The moment of the inaugural address arrived. Kenyetta began and closed his dramatic speech with a new slogan for his nation. The word was "Harambee," meaning "pull together." Every person knew then that the new leader was the man needed to lead their country.

More that ever before our Town, our State, our Nation, and our World needs to "pull together." Cooperation is vital. We need to be united in the face of complex problems that threaten our existence. If we have a future (and that "if" has grown to be the size of a monster), if we are to survive, it will be by the mercy of God and our "pulling together". Yes, "Harambee".

FOUR DAY LOOK AT GOSPEL OF JOHN

First Baptist Church will begin a special four day study of the Gospel of John on this coming Sunday, January 22.

At 11:00 o'clock Sunday morning Brother Joe Vernon from Earth, Texas, will speak. He speaks each evening at 6:00 o'clock. The night sessions will last one and one half hours, with a fifteen minute break between the two nightly studies.

The public is invited to attend and there will not be any charges or costs for the course. Welcome to the January 22-25 seminar on the book of John!

CITY HALL NEWS

Over the past several months the City has had numerous calls from customers to come read their meters again because the bill is too high and the meters were not read or were read wrong by the meter reader, or the meter is running too fast.

On one complaint of meter running too fast the meter was changed and the old meter was sent out to be checked and calibrated. The result of the meter check was that the meter was running 4% slower than it was supposed to. An example of this problem would be the meter reading would be 1000 gallons of water and actual use would be 1,400 gallons of water. So actually customer used 400 gallons free water. As reported to City from meter specialists, meters may run slow but hardly ever fast.

Sometime soon the City will be setting up a meter change out program where meters will be taken out rebuilt and recalibrated and replaced as needed to ensure customers that they are paying for only the water or gas that is consumed by the customer.

The Middle Rio Grande Development Council has at this time a JTPA work program going on for Migrants. Twelve applicants have been hired. These applicants were hired on first come first serve basis. This means the first twelve applicants completing the applications requirements were hired. The program will last for seven weeks.

The City, County and School benefits from this program and all work programs offered by the Middle Rio Grande as well as the persons qualifying for such programs.

During the time the JTPA work programs are offered you most likely can pick up a application at the County Judges' office.

The Middle Rio Grande Development Council brings special applications to be handed out to those that request one, interviews the applicants, selects the applicants, notifies the applicants they have qualified for the program and assigns them to a work site and last but not least they pay the workers. The applicants usually are divided equally among the City, County and School.

The Middle Rio Grande Development Council usually publishes in the paper an ad that a JPTA work program is in progress and applications are being taken within Kinney County and where to pick up the applications.

The City post the notification of the work program on the front door of City Hall and County post their notification on the bulletin board in the Court House.

The City would like to express their thanks for the cooperation of all the individuals with our cleaning program.

The City will try to keep the column as simple and to the point as possible so everyone can understand it.

MICROWAVES RAVES

It took awhile for those skeptics among us to believe it, but now after 15 or 20 years, we have to admit that with a microwave oven you not only can cook faster, but sometimes better, than with a conventional oven.

As illustration of how delicious from-scratch food can be when cooked in the microwave oven, the American Dairy Association offers a confidence-building leaflet, Dairy Raves from Microwaves. Not only is speed a distinct advantage in these recipes, but by preparing dairy-rich recipes such as Cheesy Shrimp Chowder in the microwave oven, you eliminate the need for the cook to stand over a hot range and stir.

For a free copy of Dairy Raves from Microwaves send a self-addressed, stamped, business size envelope to Dairy Raves from Microwaves, Associated Milk Producers, Inc., P. O. Box 5040, Arlington, Tx. 76005.

SOUTH TEXAS PROJECT

Nuclear fuel was loaded in the Unit 2 reactor at the South Texas Project Friday, Dec. 16. Fuel loading commenced after the Nuclear Regulatory Commission granted a low-power license to Unit 2.

Fuel loading involves the transfer of 193 fuel assemblies from Unit 2's fuel handling building into the reactor core. Teams, dressed in white paper suits to assure cleanliness, place the assemblies in mechanical loading equipment. The teams will work day and night until all 193 bundles are loaded. Fuel loading is expected to take about 10 days to complete.

Each fuel bundle (or assembly) is 14 feet long and weighs 1,750 pounds. The bundle contains 264 rods, which contain tiny pellets of uranium dioxide. A fuel pellet is about the size of the tip of a little finger. Each STP reactor core contains about 17 million fuel pellets.

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission approved Houston Lighting &
