NEW LOOK FOR BULLIS HALL

The new year will bring a new look to Bullis Hall when motel renovations begin in February. Plans approved at the December Board of Directors meeting call for complete internal remodeling of the Bullis motel building.

The Bullis renovation will be patterned after the highly successful remodeling of Patton Hall several years ago, with new windows, air conditioners, wiring and plumbing. The rooms will also have new carpet, furniture and decorations. Plans call for at least two large rooms built by combining small, end rooms with adjacent rooms.

Because of major rewiring and plumbing work, the entire Bullis Hall building will be closed to motel use during the initial phase of construction. Rooms will be let as they are finished. The project is expected to take at least 30 days to complete.

Patton Hall will be open as usual during the renovation project.

PET SHOW

Forty-six children entered pets in the Pet Show at the Civic Center Friday, January 20, 1989.

Judge Chap Traylor had a hard choice to make with the many varieties of animals including birds, goats, chickens and rabbits besides the usual cats and dogs.

Heath Huffman won Best of Show with his Goat "Doozie", Jim Rose and puppy "Missy" won Best Costume and Sonya Correa and her trick dog "Gussey" won the Showmanship Award.

Everyone won a ribbon and had a good time!

Trophies were donated by the Sunshine Garden Center and ribbons were donated by The Chamber of Commerce. The MC's were Monea and Kathy and Photographer was Dave.

VOTER REGISTRATION BEING UPDATED LIST

by TIM WARD

The Kinney County Tax Assessor Collector's Office is in the process of updating the current voter registration list. This is being done on a precinct by precinct basis. We are verifying all permanent residential addresses as well as mailing addresses. We have started with Precinct #3 of which 47 notices of examination have been sent along with 23 voter registration change forms. As time permits each of the 4 precincts will be processed in a similar fashion. This is an opportune time to update our list due to the following reasons:

- 1) This is not an election year.
- 2) This will help the County Court in their efforts to redistrict the voter population after the 1990 census.
- 3) All jury lists are selected from the voter registration list, therefore updating the voters list will facilitate this procedure.

Any voter whose residential or mailing address has changed, please notify the tax Office so that we can make those necessary changes on our lists. In addition we encourage any qualified voters who are not presently registered to do so.

We will be glad to assist those who need help in completing the notices of examination or the voter registration change forms. Please call 563-2688 or come by the Courthouse.

ECONOMIC INJURY DISASTER LOANS AVAILABLE

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 17,--- Mr. Julio Perez, District Director, San Antonio Small Business Administration (SBA) Office, announced that the following counties are eligible to submit applications under the Economic Injury Disaster Loan (EIDL) Program from eligible small business concerns:

- Bexar, Dimmit, Gonzales, Kinney, LaSalle, Uvalde, Webb

EIDLs were the result of drought conditions which occurred January 1, through August 31, 1988 and continuing.

In addition to the primary declared counties, the following counties are contiguous and also eligible for EIDL assistance:

- Atascosa, Bandera, Bastrop, Caldwell, Comal, Crockett, DeWitt, Edwards, Fayette, Frio, Guadalupe, Karnes, Kendall, Lavaca, Live Oak, McMullen, Maverick, Medina, Real, Val Verde, Wilson, Zavala.

The interest rates for loans processed under this designation are 4% for small concerns and small agricultural cooperatives without credit available elsewhere.

The EIDL is intended to assist agriculture-dependent businesses and non-profit organizations such as seed and feed dealers, etc. who sustained a decrease in sales (or other forms of economic injury) directly due to the losses incurred by those agricultural enterprises to whom the dealer usually sells. In some cases, this may include non-agriculture-related businesses which sustain a decrease in sales directly due to the inability of the farmers affected by disaster to purchase goods and services at their normal levels.

In addition to agri-dependent businesses, nurseries are also eligible to apply.

The deadline for submissions of all applications under this designation is August 29, 1989. However, the deadline may be subject to change in accordance with the requirements of the Federal budget.

Eligible victims seeking loan information and applications may call a toll-free number 1-800-527-7735 for assistance.

FISH FRY

The Knights of Columbus will have their Annual Fish Fry on Wednesday, February 8, 5:00 p.m. at the N.C.O. Club. Plate and trimming will be $4.00. We can better serve the community with your support.

SAINT ANDREWS

The traditional Shrove Tuesday pancake supper will be held again this year at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church in Brackettville, according to the REv. Bill Koons, vicar. Serving of pancakes and sausage in quantities commensurate with diners' appetites will be from 5 p.m. till 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 7. in the parish hall of the church at Fort and Henderson Streets. Fare will be $3.50 for adults and $2.00 for children under 12. Tickets may be purchased from local Episcopalians, at Kinney County Land Company, or at the door on Shrove Tuesday.

Pancake suppers on the night before Ash Wednesday are traditional meals in the Anglican Communion, having roots in early England. The day gets its name from the old requirement one confess his or her sins on this date in order to be "shriven" before Lent. Pancakes became popular on this day as cooks used up fats in the house before the rigorous fast days of Lent.

St. Andrew's Church for a number of years has used its annual pancake supper as a means of sharing this tradition with others, as an opportunity for community fellowship, and as a fund-raising effort for its building and improvements fund.

Ash Wednesday services at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church this year will be at 6 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 8, and will be a Rite I Holy Eucharist and Imposition of Ashes, according to the Rev. Bill Koons.

The first day of the Church's 40-day penitential Lenten Season, Ash Wednesday traditionally has been a time when Christians are reminded as ashes are placed on the foreheads by the priest of their mortality as he repeats, "Remember that you are dust, and to dust you shall return."

Home, Sweeter Home The Centsable Way

You like your home, your neighborhood and the people who live around you. True, you probably wouldn't mind living in a newer, energy-efficient home. But, you're comfortable where you are.

Now get even more comfortable.

Central Power and Light has developed a program that can make your present house more energy efficient. It's called the Centsable Home Program.

What they'll do is run a Free Centsable survey on your house and then analyze the data. Then, they'll give you specific recommendations on how to lower your energy bills.

The recommendations involve steps like adding more attic insulation, caulking around windows and doors and putting an insulated blanket around your water heater. And installing a new properly sized central heat pump or air conditioner will qualify you for a Centsable Home Certificate from CPL.

You can either call a contractor or do the work yourself. Either way, you'll get a lower energy bill every month. And a more comfortable home.

If you're interested in the Centsable Home Program, give CPL a call. And get Centsable about your home energy use.

ARBOR DAY CELEBRATED

The Fort Clark VFW Post 8360 celebrated Arbor Day this year by planting a live oak tree behind the NCO building at Fort Clark Springs. Arbor Day is celebrated in southern states at various times between the months of December and March. It symbolizes respect for nature and naturalists who have helped preserve our nations' wooded resources. Many schools and youth groups plant trees on their chosen Arbor Days as a pact to protect trees and natural resources for the future.

Arbor Day began in Nebraska. Newspaper publisher, Julius Sterling Morton, realized that planting trees would help conserve soil, and enrich everyone's living environment. Through his efforts, April 10, 1872, was set aside as Nebraska's first Arbor Day. The Nebraska state government offered prizes to the groups and

City Hall is operating on an obsolete computer system which makes billing very hard and difficult to keep up accurate data. We are presently working on purchasing a new system which will cut down the amount of manual paper work involved in assisting the computer we now have in billing. It will also help manage our daily operations in a cost effective manner. Please bear with us during this difficult time of changing over our oldsystem to a new more efficient system.

We are asking all unemployed residents of Brackettville who are looking for work or want to work to please stop in at City Hall and sign up.

For further info call City Hall, Monday thru Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at 563-2412.

'Interest Section' in Vietnam?

Congressman Tom Ridge (R-Pa.) is a member of the House Veterans' Affairs Committee and is a decorated Vietnam combat veteran.

YES

Why do you support establishing an "interest section" in Vietnam?

An interest section provides countries a working presence in the capital of another through a third party embassy. The U.S. has maintained an interest section in Cuba since 1978 through the Swiss Embassy. We must improve our efforts to resolve many important and lingering humanitarian issues with Vietnam—POW/MIAs, Amerasian children, emigration, release of political and re-education camp prisoners, and withdrawal from Cambodia. We have not enjoyed sufficient progress in these matters for 13 years. We must redirect our efforts. We can do so and not undermine any previous arrangements or successes through the establishment of interest sections.

Is such a change in policy tantamount to recognizing or rewarding the Vietnamese government?

On those rare occasions when the U.S. has adopted this arrangement with a foreign government, it has never been interpreted by anyone to be anything more than a special working arrangement to facilitate communication. It cannot even be construed as a first step toward formal diplomatic or economic ties. Admittedly, the Vietnamese have been a continuing source of frustration, disappointment and even anger. However, we must not lose sight of the fact that it is in our best interests to resolve these matters. To oppose interest sections is to conclude that progress to date and the status quo are satisfactory.

Should preconditions be met before we establish interest sections with Vietnam?

While there should be no formal list of preconditions, the Vietnamese must understand that there can be no linkage between the humanitarian issues for which the interest sections are established and diplomatic recognition or economic aid. When we are substantially convinced that Hanoi has abandoned its inconsistent and erratic approach toward the resolution of these issues and is committed toward sustained, good faith negotiations, we should take the initiative and propose such an arrangement.

Ken Conboy is policy analyst for Asian studies at the Heritage Foundation, a tax-exempt public research institute in Washington, D.C.

Why do you oppose establishing an "interest section" in Vietnam?

The U.S. has publicly linked steps toward normalized U.S.-Vietnam relations to a full withdrawal of Vietnamese occupational troops from Cambodia. Premature normalized relations would reduce Hanoi's incentive to withdraw and would be seen by our ASEAN (Association of Southeast Asian Nations) allies as a softening of our Indochina position.

A step toward normalization would induce a flurry of economic activity into the Vietnamese market by other Western nations, causing the collapse of the aid embargo against Vietnam.

Despite arguments for cooperation on accounting for U.S. soldiers missing in action, Vietnam isn't about to loosen its tight hold over its society and allow U.S. personnel to search the countryside for MIAs and POWs.

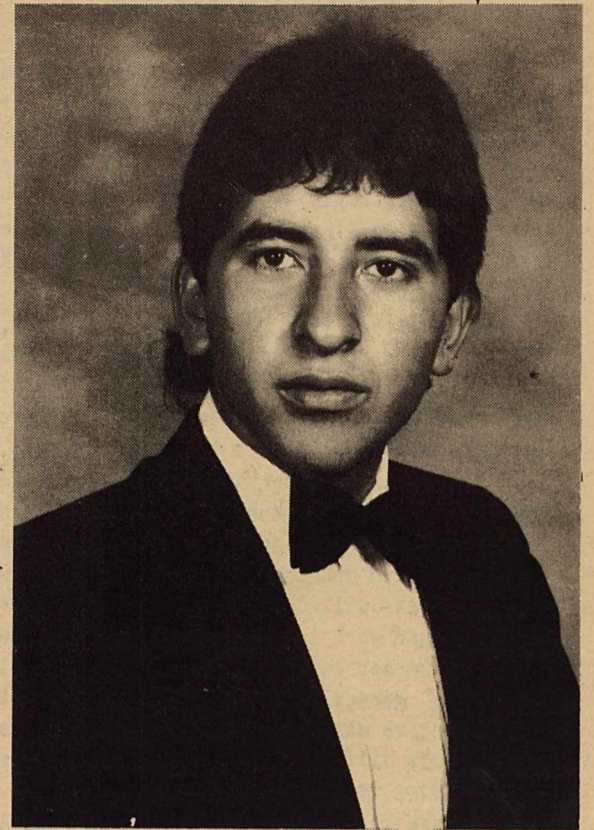

Lastly, Vietnam has insisted that the U.S. reciprocate with an interest section in Washington. Such an enhanced presence could steer U.S. policy toward a softer line on Cambodia before a military withdrawal is achieved.

Would such a change be tantamount to recognizing or rewarding the Vietnamese government?

Yes. Regional powers and Vietnam itself would view it as a "reward." Hanoi will be certain to rationalize its harsh social policies and aggressive foreign policies by pointing to U.S. "recognition." Moreover, establishment of interest sections would be seen by the American public as compliance with Vietnam's terms.

Should preconditions be met before we establish interest sections with Vietnam?

Vietnam sees normalized relations as the key toward receiving large-scale economic aid from the West. Preconditions should include a complete withdrawal of military forces and civilian advisers from Cambodia, followed by internationally supervised elections; a complete military withdrawal from Laos; an accurate accounting of all U.S. MIA discrepancy cases; and concrete moves toward significant reduction of Vietnam's armed forces. ll

TRACKS ALONG THE TRAIL BY DORTHY PAYNE

The speed king of the southwest is the long-eared jackrabbit. Through the years people who live in jackrabbit country have argued about how fast he really is. So one time a motorcycle club decided to find out. Resulting in the report that a jackrabbit can go about fifty miles an hour for a quarter of a mile before tiring. But then that is enough distance to take him safely away from the enemy that is chasing him.

He is not really a rabbit at all, but a hare. The white-tailed jackrabbit is the biggest hare of all, being about 25 inches long. The Texas jackrabbit has a black tail and is yellowish grey above and white on the underside. A jackrabbits ears are not there for fun. His hearing, coloring and speed are his safeguards against his enemies. The jackrabbits parents have one to six babies, who are born with their eyes open and can support themselves when they are only a week old.

The cotton tail babies need their mothers care much longer than th baby hares do. The jackrabbit eats practically any plant growing, even cactus. He gets his water from the plants he eats, and the morning dew.

The jackrabbit is so numerous and does so much damage to gardens and other crops he is slain by hunters by shooting, trapping, poisoning and other means.

Rabbit roundups are still held sometimes in many places just like a cattle roundup.

Several years ago the town of Odessa, Tx. introduced to the world a new cowboy carnival. They built a small arena and turned jackrabbits into the arena and a cowboy on foot was timed and prizes were given to the fastest ropers. One time the local sheriff won first prize.

Some of the citizens tried to have it stopped because they said it was cruelty to rabbits. But because the cowboys were used to riding and not walking they had sprained ankles and sore feet. So the roundup was finally judged cruelty to cowboys.

There was a famous baseball player of yesteryear named Pepper Martin. He was from Oklahoma and noted for his speed as a runner and stole many bases. One of his friends said the reason he was such a fast runner was because Pepper was raised in a jackrabbit country and as a boy, he caught jackrabbits for a living. He said Pepper would run along side of a jackrabbit and feel of him to see if he was fat and if he was fat enough Pepper would pick him up and drop him in a sock. If that legend were true, Pepper Martin would be very fast indeed.

Theodore Roosevelt was the first U.S. president to ride in an automobile.

REFLECTIONS

BY PRESTON TAYLOR, PASTOR
FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Catholic Churches have a special place in their buildings called the "Confessional Booth." All of us need to carry around with us a big inbuilt confessional booth. At least, I do!

The Bible and human experience confirms the truth that we all are sinners. Romans 3:23 declares that all have sinned and come short of God's glory. That takes in every race, every nation, every person.

Most of us don't like to admit that we are sinners, but we are. You name any sin you want to and the one who writes these lines is guilty of that sin!

Let's mention a few deviations or wayward ways of life. This may shock you, but I'm guilty of murder, adultery, lust, and profanity. Really? Yes, for the Bible declares that "whoever keeps the whole law, and yet offends in one point is guilty of all" (James 2:10).

Even though I'm not guilty of the actual act of murder and adultery and drunkenness, yet I'm guilty! And so are you. Jesus said if one has hate in his heart, he is guilty of murder (Matthew 5:22).

Do we want God to really point out the sinners among us? Then we would all be liquidated! Psalms 130:3 declares that if God should mark or tell who the sinners are among us that none of us could stand. That's some indictment, friend.

Once Jesus faced a few religious leaders who brought before Him a woman who had been caught in the act of adultery. They let the man go! The fellows said to Jesus, "According to the Law, she ought to be killed. What do you say?"

We remember what Jesus did. The He said, "The one that is without sin among you, let him first cast the stone." The would-be stone throwers quietly slipped away.

Amazing truth. If I take around a bunch of rocks to throw at another, those same rocks ought to "boomerang" and come back on my own head.

Quite frankly, I don't want a bleeding skull. I'm not qualified to be in the critic's chair, nor assume the place of God and judge another, are you?

BOB BULLOCK

AUSTIN--State Comptroller Bob Bullock on Monday sent checks totaling more than $10.5 million tyo 221 counties and 437 cities that tax mixed drink sales.

The checks represent the counties' and cities' share of the state's 12 percent mixed drink tax collected during the fourth quarter of 1988.

Bullock said that the state collected $43.6 million in mixed drink taxes for the fourth quarter, compared to $43 million collected during the same period in 1987.

Texas cities and counties each receive a 12.5 percent share of the tax collected on mixed drinks sold within their boundaries under the lawthat legalized the sale of mixed drinks in the state.

Of the total $43.6 million in state collections, counties received $5.4 million, up from the $5.3 million received in the fourth quarter of 1987. Cities received $5.09 million, slightly more than the $5. million rebated to cities last year for fourth quarter collections. The state's general revenue fund received the balance.

Bullock said the $33.1 million balance was deposited in the state's general revenue fund from fourth quarter collections, an increase compared to $32.6 million collected in the fourth quarter of 1987.

The mixed drink tax is collected by the Alcoholic Beverage Commission and city and county rebates are sent by Bullock's office.

CEDAR FEVER A WINTER ANNOYANCE

Every year, some people suffer through the colder months with what feels like a head cold, combined with itchy eyes, headaches, general tiredness and other symptoms, just because they breathe the brisk outdoor air.

Allergy sufferers are plentiful in Texas, especially in the central region and hill country. And December and January are some of their worst months, according to the Texas Department of Health (TDH), since the onset of colder weather invariably brings "cedar fever."

Cedar fever is an allergic reaction to the pollen of male mountain cedar (actually two species of juniper), which grow wild throughout Texas. The male trees have tiny green cones which turn brown, spring open, and release a yellow pollen onto the winter winds.

The minute, sticky, pollen grains irritate the eyes and sinuses, and enter the sufferer's respiratory system, triggering an allergic reaction.

Allergy specialists say that cedar fever is second only to ragweed allergy in the number of Texans it affects. And its severity may be greater. Even persons who are able to resist other allergens may fall victim to cedar fever. And for reasons not fully understood, some may react more severely in one year than in another.

In most cases of cedar fever, the reaction is uncomfortable, but temporary. Milder cases may be successfully controlled with over-the-
