MARCH 8, 1990

BRACKETTVILLE, TEXAS

FATHER AND SON SURVIVE PLANE CRASH

ROSE ANN YORK HONORED

Rose Ann York was honored Monday, March 5, 1990. She was presented with a Certificate in recognition of her many years of service as Democratic Chairman of Kinney County. The Certificate was from the State Democratic Party of Texas. She is praised for her good, efficient, and quality performance in her service in Kinney County since 1974.

She is well known across the State and the people of Kinney County appreciate her service very much and will miss her immensely.

Many of her friends and family were there. Some of them gave a personal thanks to Mrs. York. Mr. Dick Schroeder stated "When a problem arose, just one phone call to Rose Ann and it was taken care of." Mrs. Raney said "Mrs. York made my job easier, and Mr. Huey will have a hard time filling her shoes."

From the Kinney Cavalryman crew and all the other many residents of Kinney County, we want to thank you, Rose Ann York, for all your time, dedication and love that you have given to this community. God bless you!

Shown above is the remains of the Cessna Bobcat owned by Lloyd Lee Davis. Both Father and Son survived the plane crash. Mr. Davis and his son, Lee, were taking the plane from the Fort Clark Springs airport to the Davis ranch. The right engine failed and the plane lost altitude. Mr. Davis tried to land the plane on FM Road 3348 but the plane hit some power lines and sign post which caused the plane to cartwheel and crashed.

We all thank God that they are both safe.

In far west Texas and north into Eastern New Mexico stretches an extensive plateau about one hundred eight square miles in area. It is called by the Spanish "Llano Estacado" which means "palisaded" or "staked plains."

There are several theories as to how this area got its name. One is that the early Spanish explorers in that region called it the "staked plains," because they set stakes in the ground to mark their routes over the treeless plains where watering places were few and far between.

Another theory said the Spanish named the plateau because there were so many "yucca plants" known as "Spanish bayonets" or "daggers."

Yet a third theory was it was named "staked plains" because the plants at the foot of the mountains looked like stakes or palisades from a distance.

According to the diary of Thomas Falconer, who went on the Santa Fe expedition of 1841 said the plains were without timber, water and would kill the horses. The land itself looked sunken.

In San Antonio the opinions was that it was too vast to attempt to travel over.

The "Llano Estacado" is bounded on the north by the Canadian river, on the west, southwest and south by the valley of the Pecos, and on the east by the head-waters of the Red, Brazos, and Colorado rivers. It is a high isolated plateau. It is composed of limestone which is somewhat more resistant to erosion than the encarpment is called the "caprock."

When I lived on the edge of the caprock it was infested with diamond-back rattlers. There is little rainfall, sparse grass, no trees, and in spite of a popular view point is not level by undalating.

HOUSTON LIVESTOCK SHOW RESULTS

Kinney County 4-H members had another successful show in Houston last week. There were approximately 1500 lambs entered in the junior market lamb show in Houston. The quality was extremely good and the Houston Livestock Show has been known as one of the toughest lamb shows going. Stephanie Ahrens took honors having the reserve champion crossbred lamb of the show. Kimberley Ahrens had the 1st place medium wool lamb in the lightweight division. Justin Coates had a 9th place lamb in this same class which had over 200 other lambs in it and took judge Larry Shell, from Oklahoma, about 3 hours to judge. Wil Shahan had a 2nd place lamb in the mediumweight crossbreds and Lacey Esser had a 23rd place in the same weight class. Richard and Walt Esser had 15th and 16th place lambs respectively in the heavyweight crossbred division. Jared Shahan had a 13th place lightweight finewool. The Grand Champion lamb sold for $40,000. Stephanie Ahrens' reserve champion crossbred lamb sold for $8,500. 4-H members from Brackettville will be competing in San Angelo this week to wind up the spring junior Stock Shows. Congratulations are in order to all 4-H'ers from Kinney County for a strong showing at the 1990 Houston Livestock Show.

TIME FOR PRUNING!

Homeowners are reminded that March is the best time to prune roses. Hybrid Teas, Floribundas, and Grandifloras are usually pruned heavily at this time (down to 18 to 24 inches from the ground). Weak or dead canes should be removed or shortened to healthy tissue any time during the year. If you prefer a less drastic approach to annual pruning, you can cut back the vigorous canes one-fourth to one-third their length for a more attractive plant, especially for old shrub-type roses. A light application of fertilizer with some pruning in mid-August can lead to some fall flowering.

ANNUAL RAM TEST & FIELD DAY

The Annual Ram Performance Test Field Day and Sale is set for March 15 at the Sonora Experiment Station. The formal program will begin about 1:00 p.m. followed by the sale of performance tested animals at around 2:30 p.m. There are 400 rams on the test. new for this years tests are two groups of Australian Merino-Rambouillet rams that are being evaluated. There will be 75 rams available for public auction. These 75 rams must perform above average on the test and pass visual inspection and meet certain minimal production.

The program will feature a discussion of the new initiatives in wool and mohair marketing, comments on the lamb markets, an Australian Merino evaluation program will conclude with the sale of the eligible performance tested rams. For more information, contact the Kinney County offices of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at 563-2442.

On Saturday, March 3, 1990, Ray Kurtz, Lenny Mahefky, Bob Lampkin, and Bruce Clements traveled to San Antonio to attend a workshop sponsored by the Grand Masonic Lodge of Texas, held in the Scottish Rite Temple.

The ceremony began with a Memorial Service held in front of the Alamo, honoring all Masons who gave their life there for the cause of freedom.

Following the Memorial Service all 538 masons marched to the Scottish Rite Temple to be served a dinner catered by the Grandy's Restaurant.

After an introduction of the Grand Lodge Officers, we retired to the auditorium where a very informative program was conducted.

Hanna of the Grand Lodge of Texas. All members of Las Moras Lodge are urged to attend and all visiting brethren welcome.

FCS COMMUNITY COUNCIL ANNOUNCES IMPORTANT MEETING

Directors of the FCS Community Council are asking all members to attend the regularly scheduled monthly meeting on Saturday, March 10, at 10 a.m. to take place in the NCO Club, near the main gate.

The purpose of this meeting is twofold: First, to acquaint the membership with the urgent need for revitalized growth of Fort Clark Springs, and Second, to elect a new slate of officers with the mission of organizing an effective Task Force to assist the Association Board and Management Team in finding solutions to existing persistent problems.

Council Directors believe that a total team effort is needed, with more participation by and for the benefit of the members residing on or near the Fort.

FOGGING AROUND

I hear you have a naughty Schnauzer
That likes to roam the countryside
You fret and pant and carry on Till he comes home well satisfied

What do you think he has been doing
Out in the town for four days now?
He has been panting and carrying on Leave him alone, he'll mellow out

You drive around calling his name
He hears your voice three feet away
But he's not coming until he's ready
You might as well go home and pray

Somebody called early this morning
And your heart jumped with grim foreboding
It was the law, he's been arrested
For lewd behavior and public brawling

Once more you go and face the music
Relieved but angry you fetch your critter
He stinks but God, it could be worse
It's still just one and not a litter.

DUDLEY HARRISON

The Texas State Troopers Association has named State Representative Dudley Harrison (D-Sanderson) as "Law Enforcement Legislator of the Year." This recognition comes in part as a result of Harrison's dealing with many issues directed toward enhancing law enforcement across the state. He was also a legislative leader in the recent passage of a Department of Public Safety "Benefit package" that raised salaried and improved retirement features for DPS officers.

"This kind of support from Representative Harrison and other lawmakers allows the Texas Department of Public Safety to compete better with other agencies in recruiting and maintaining quality personnel," said Claude Hart, Executive Director of the Texas State Troopers Association. "That's why I'm extremely happy to acknowledge Rep. Dudley Harrison as Law Enforcement Legislator of the Year."

Hart added that the support showed legislative awareness and concern for the vital roll of the DPS officers in the growing battle with drug-pushers and drug-related crime in Texas.

"Representative Harrison's actions were most timely, and we want to show our appreciation," said Hart.

Formal presentation of the award will be made in April at the TSTA headquarters in Austin.

REVIEW:

FRONTIER GUNS & FRONTIER GALLEY

The name is unusual and the husband/wife business is equally unusual. Warren and Francis Outlaw demonstrate their marvelous creative talent and appreciation for the artistic and rare treasures that grace their side by side shops, on North Street. It is worth your time to pay them a visit, and while there, select a bargain or two to take home.

They bought the store building in 1979 in ghost town condition and have photos to prove it. With much imagination and improvisation, they put together a quaint and picturesque structure which is compatible with the unusual history of Brackettville.

The building is divided into separate shops. At 202 North Street, you will find the Frontier Gallery, which is filled with many beautiful and delightful works of art--paintings by Frances--and many antique items. It is a treasure house of interesting and fascinating creations. In addition custom built frames from old lumber are created on the premises to enhance western subject paintings. Many of these frames are on display at the Breen Gallery, on Ann Street.

Warren is top gun at the Frontier Gun Shop at 204 North Street. He can fill orders for new guns for sportsmen, and collectors, for just 10 percent over wholesale cost plus freight charges. He has accumulated a stunning variety of old firearms, including many small caliber weapons. Filling out his shop is one of the largest collections of Pancho Villa and Mexican Revolution (of 1910) photos that can be found in the southwest.

Both Warren and Frances are Texas born folks, he in College Station, and she in Houston. Warren gave 35 years in Store Supervision positions as Kroger Company spread throughout the south. Frances was also employed with the company for many years. She is now active with local art groups and specializes in smaller paintings for residential decoration. They both enjoy the good life as residents of Fort Clark Springs.

It's nice to have such talented folks in our community sharing a little bit of it through their shops. Plan to visit their place, call them at the store, 563-9222, to be sure they are there; but if not, then call them at 563-9250 to make an appointment for a shop visit, during the week.

OLD ARMY DAYS

BY WALLACE MORGAN

Fort Bowie, Arizona Territory in the 1880's.

This photo, appears to me, that it was taken during this time frame, due to no visible piping on the five button blouse coats of the enlisted troopers. The scene is of a platoon of troopers riding out of old Fort Bowie. This was the entrance and the visible wall was part of the sutler's store and faces west. This Fort was part of the chain of Forts along the Butterworth Stage Line. I haven't viewed this location in approximately fifteen years, but this wall was still remaining, and the only standing structure, and the entire fort was being prepared to be rebuilt. It is approximately 18 miles south of the interstate highway from El Paso to Tucson.

TO THE VOTERS OF KINNEY COUNTY

As we approach election day, March 13, I believe it is important that each voter know as much as possible about each candidate and his or her background. I would like to point out some of the accomplishments made during my 11 years in public service.

As City Manager: the following improvements were made to the overall operations of the City of Brackettville during my 2 year period:

1) The Utility Department-

- a) An improved cost-saving method of record keeping and billing was developed.
- b) Gas leaks were reduced from a 40% to under 5%, unaccountable. All gas meters were re-calibrated.
- c) Water leaks were reduced from 30% to 10% unaccountable.
- d) A new water main was installed on Sweeney St. with funds received from a C.D.B.G. Block Grant.

2) Fire Department-

- a) For little cost, a 6X6 Rural fire truck was obtained from the Texas Forest Service. This enabled the Fire Dept. to cover rural, rough-terrain fires.
- b) A new Fire Truck Chassis was purchased in 1979. I arranged and took the existing pumping unit to Texas A&M University to be reworked and placed on the new truck chassis. This method saved the City approximately $30,000.00. Insurance premium cost in Brackettville and Fort Clark were reduced, when this unit was placed into service.
- c) Approximately 15 new fire hydrants were installed, for broader fire protection coverage; Hence, Insurance Premiums were reduced with-in these areas.

3) Concrete drainage ditches-were completed through the downtown sections of the City, under a C.D.B.G. Block Grant.

4) Low water crossings with walk-bridges-were installed on Las Moras Creek under another C.D.B.G. Block Grant.

5) A new back-hoe-was purchased under a lease purchase plan with yet, another C.D.B.G. water improvement grant, which paid for this new unit at no cost to the local taxpayers.

As County Commissioner, the following improvements were made to the overall operations of the County during my 8 years of service:

When I was elected Commissioner in 1980, the County was in serious financial condition. The previous administration had paid no attention to a balanced budget. Chronic budget amendments were being made, resulting in a large debt to our local bank. The following measures were implemented to pay off the debt and get the County back on a solid financial standing.

1) Across the board reductions in budgeted expenditures. Though unpopular at the time, this was the only way to bring expenditures in line with receipts.

2) With a referendum passed by the voters we were able to consolidate the following offices and departments.

a) Four J.P. precincts were consolidated into one County-Wide J.P. precinct.

b) Four constable precincts were consolidated into one County-Wide constable.

c) Four County Road Departments were consolidated into one County-Wide road department. The first year under this plan the road dept. expenses were cut in half.

All of these changes reduced expenditures by eliminating a duplication of services, cutting over-head, better management of personnel, less capital outlay, better equipment maintenance and the reduction in the amount of equipment needed.

3) The Commissioner's Court and the County Sheriff negotiated a contract with the U.S. Marshal's Service to begin handling Federal prisoners. The basic operational cost of the jail would be necessary, with or without, the prisoner care program: therefore, the revenues that are generated more that off-set the expenses necessary for the basic operation of the jail. These funds have helped the County's cash flow problems and have created employment opportunities.

4) As a result of these procedures being implemented, the following changes were made in the County's Finances, beginning with my first year as a Commissioner through my 8 year tenure:

Ending fiscal year	Combined cash balances	Money owed Bank
1981	31,382.86	260,000.00
1982	37,977.18	280,000.00
1983	63,718.89	145,000.00
1984	122,987.33	pd. off
1985	390,155.44	-0-
1986	447,103.36	-0-
1987	370,038.65	-0-
1988	458,104.52	-0-

5) During my 8 years as County Commissioner, the taxpayers, not only benefited by a complete change in the handling of County Finances; but also, major capital improvements were made to two public facilities:

a) Kinney County Library- A grant had been obtained to build a new library. The administration, prior to 1979, had advanced a disproportionate amount of money to the architect and the contractor, with the building only being 30% to 40% complete. The performance bond was handled by an Insurance Agent from Uvalde and was proven to be invalid. As a result, the taxpayers were cheated out of many thousand of dollars. The Friends of The Library, and many others contributed time, effort and money to see this project completed. We can all take great pride in this fine facility.

b) Kinney County Memorial Clinic Expansion-The City of Brackettville and Kinney County worked together to obtain a grant to enlarge our Clinic in 1986. I was proud to serve as the volunteer contractor for this project. The addition to this facility has greatly improved the health care for the citizens of Kinney County.

I am proud of these accomplishments, however, there are still many ways our County Govt. can be improved; some of which, I presented in my previous mail-out and newspaper article. If elected, I believe that I can restore credibility, responsibility and strong leadership to our County.

In closing, regardless of who wins this election, the most important thing is that the people of this County come together and put aside personal differences. If we will forgive one another and pray for one another great things are possible. Thank you for your encouragement, support and your vote.

Sincerely,
Tim Ward

Most of the 100 million meteors that enter the Earth's atmosphere each day burn up and filter down to Earth as dust. The total weight of this dust that falls in one year is estimated to be four million tons.

CIRCUS ATTENDED BY MANY KINNEY COUNTY RESIDENTS

The Brackettville Volunteer Fire Department wishes to thank The City of Brackettville, Kinney County Commissioners Court and the Various businesses in town for their help and their support in making the "Circus" a big success. Everyone attending also helped to make it a success. Everyone seem to have enjoyed the circus. Maybe the Fire Department can make it a little better next year. The Fire Department proceeds was $358.00.

LIBRARY NEWS

By Marjorie Moore

Many fans who have enjoyed Louis L'Amour's western books will be eager to read his newest, Memoirs of a Wandering Man, which has just been received by your Kinney County Public Library. Come in and ask for it.

Thanks to a friend, we now also have copies of John Cramer's Twister, Katherine Kurtz's The Harrowings of Gwynedd, Michael Chrichton's Sphere, Roger Zelazney's Sign of Chaos, Roger Zelazney's Blood of Amber, Glen Cook's Annals of the Black Company, Dr. Kenneth H. Cooper's Aerobic Program for Total Well-Being, Dimmit Country Mesquite Roots, and Rodale Viess's Understanding Vitamins and Minerals.

In addition, an unknown friend a few days ago left boxes containing nearly 300 new and inviting paperbacks at the door of our Library. The same thing happened in December. Could this kind friend be a book dealer or a distributor? Many, many thanks. We appreciate his or her gifts.

If you don't always see Irma Perez, our Librarian, when you come in, it is because she has been busy, busy, busy entering these new books into our records, classifying them, looking up Dewey decimal system numbers for them, marking them, making book cards, author cards, title cards, subject cards, etc., for each. These books are now in place on their shelves, ready for you to enjoy.

P.S.: Did you know there are 14 steps a librarian has to follow for each new book before it can be put into circulation? This is in addition to sending in numerous monthly reports to the San Antonio Area Library System, which distributes Texas Library System funds based on financial support provided by our County to our Library. She also borrows and returns San Antonio Library Loan System books which have been requested by our community, and performs other duties too numerous to list.

County offices, including your Library, will be closed Tuesday, March 13th for Election Day.

TO THE VOTERS OF KINNEY COUNTY PCT 4

On Tuesday March the 13th an important step will be taken for the well being of Kinney County. This is the date you will elect a COMMISSIONER who will serve you for a period of four years. You are in a unique position, for not often do you have an opportunity to vote for a candidate where both have served in the same office. This affords you the chance to evaluate both candidates records.

As the records clearly show, there really isn't that much to consider. Under my turn in office the county has progressed far more than ever before. Four more years with me as your COMMISSIONER, we will progress even farther. You have read my letters and you have read my opponents. If nothing else, this certainly shows who is the qualified candidate; the candidate that has time to serve, the candidate that has all of Kinney County at heart and not a candidate that is looking for a paycheck.

Vote for the RIGHT CHOICE - BILL BIZZELL. I AM THE CANDIDATE THAT FITS.

Some of my opponents backers are stating that I have changed my position on the N.O.R.M. Storage Facility. They are saying, untruthfully, that I have taken a different position than I had in the past. This is wrong, and they know it, so don't believe what they say. This again is my position, and I repeat - I AM NOT FOR ANYTHING THAT WILL BE OR IS HARMFUL TO KINNEY COUNTY. This includes the N.O.R.M. Storage Facility; this has been and will be my position from now on. Don't be misled by someone telling you that I voted for that I did not. My opponent and his followers seem to think that this is the only issue facing Kinney County. We all know it isn't....Thanks for reading this. Maybe it will help you to understand the real issue and that is helping run your county in a business like manner for the NEXT FOUR YEARS.

I DO APPRECIATE YOUR VOTE...

BILL BIZZELL
COMMISSIONER, PCT 4

NATIONAL GUARD

In the days of local political mudslinging and divided loyalties, the unification of men and women is a welcome sight. This type of work unity is occurring at the future sight of the new U.S. Border Patrol Station as people from all over help in the construction of the new building.

The U.S. Military, in helping with the War on Drugs, is sending units of the National Guard to help complete new offices in places like Brackettville and Uvalde. Pete Marshall, Henry Cruz, Jeff Duncan and Rusty Moore have been the key agents representing the Brackettville station and have worked with the various groups of the National Guard in construction of the new building. The units of the National Guard have come from Michigan, California, Illinois and Wyoming.

The present unit of the National Guard is the 105th Civil Engineer Squadron from the New York Air National Guard, Stewart International Airport, Newburgh, New York. Lt. Col. Robert O'Hare is the site commander for both the Brackettville and Uvalde station projects. The Brackettville site officer is Capt. John Giamio and the Brackettville site NCO is MSG. R. Campanaro. These men and women from New York are at the new site for two weeks to work on the interior of the station. They are completing the electrical work, brick work and frame work of the building. They are also organizing the mechanics of the plumbing. Previous units have already poured the foundation, constructed the roof, built the steel structures and laid some of the siding.

The men and women that make up the New York Air National Guard all have different careers at home. Their occupations vary, but there are many types of engineers, including an IBM chemical engineer. There are several firemen and policemen from New York City. There is also a nuclear power plant air facilities manager. Several of the members work full-time for the National Guard.

Asked what they thought about Texas and in particular Brackettville, all members of the National Guard gave positive answers. They couldn't believe how friendly the people are in this area. Some were amazed at how this part of Texas is so unpopulated. MSG. H. Dohr wanted to know what happens if you live out in the country, fifteen miles from town, with no neighbors, and run out of sugar or milk. Sara Hoover explained to him that one doesn't forget supplies and that is why Texans are so sharp minded.

The group of men and women from New York's National Guard are exceptional people. They will be in Brackettville for another week and if you see them, stop and say hello.

TSG. T. Oakley, SSG. F. Misko, and TSG. D. Price work on the interior walls of the new building.

Brackettville's Jeff Duncan, SMS. J. Roberto, and MSG. H. Pierce go over plans for the new station.

THANK YOU

Many thanks to all our friends!! We were overwhelmed by the kind support and all the gifts we received on the occasion of the birth of our son Robert. Eberhard & Andrea Kunze.

REFLECTIONS

BY PRESTON TAYLOR

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Our family sat around the dining table eating black-eyed peas, turnip greens, corn bread, and milk. We had been in the hot cotton field all morning.

During the rushed meal time, an older brother said to me, "Preston, don't bother my T-Model car. It won't start because it's out of gas."

Within two minutes I slipped away from the table. A few moments later, I climbed up on the hood of the "T-Model." Then I unscrewed the gas cap and looked inside the tank. The tank looked empty.

As quick as a seven year old boy could do it, I dashed back into the house, slipped a couple of matches out of the box, and perched myself back on the hood of the car again.

I struck a match and moved it under my nose as I tried to look for a few drops of gas.

"Whoom!" The small explosion threw me off the car, and I threw two handfuls of sand into the car tank before the family got out to see what was happening.

All of us need to know we can be in explosions that are more danger-filled than an empty gas tank with a seven year old boy hovering over it with a match.

A person's love life out of control can explode in his or her face and cripple that one for life and bring heartache to a lot of other people. Does a boy or girl have enough money and a big-paying job to take care of a family and assume total responsibility for that family? Then why "play around" with temptations which one can't control?

A person who fails to study and do his or her best in school jeopardizes his future. Work on an algebra, chemistry, or history assignment may not be as exciting as a second date or as emotional as a blood-curdling movie, but the study one does today may be worth a million dollars later in life.

Dishonesty explodes with a more devastating blast than gas fumes in an empty tank. Shakespeare wrote, "To thine own self be true...(then) thou canst not be false to any man."

Oh, you can't find any Model T-Ford to climb around on today. And yet, everyone does have the opportunity to live without having his or her eyebrow and hair scorched and burned--as well as being free from the punishment that comes from bad conduct.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

To The Editor, Kinney County Cavalryman:

Elections certainly bring about changes in attitudes and events. Kinney County has been subjected to nearly two years of turmoil by the threat of the Texcor-BFI dump for radioactive trash. During this period Commissioner Bizzell has:

(1) abstained from voting, and thus withheld support for a commissioners court resolution objecting to the Texcor-BFI dump, in the autumn of 1988.

(2) written a letter to Senator Zaffirini in support of the Texcor dump (as the Senator stated at Senate hearings in San Antonio and Houston, and at a public meeting in Brackettville at the courthouse several weeks ago.)

(3) done absolutely nothing to recognize or represent the overwhelming majority of "my constituents" who oppose the Texcor plot.

Now we see sudden "concern for all the residents...." in his letter to voters dated Feb. 22, and in his ad purporting to be a copy of a letter to the Bureau of Radiation Control also dated Feb. 22. These letters seem to us to be a deceptive and desperate eleventh hour attempt to erase his record of the past two years. During World War II the term "fox hole Christian" was used for soldiers who became suddenly devout when in danger. This new attitude by the candidate is too little and too late, we think. Two years of opportunity to assist "my precinct" (as he says) in the battle against this Texcor blight have passed, with the commissioner lined up on the other side.

TEXAS SENATE WEEK IN REVIEW

A second round of hearings begin this week in the Texas Senate on plans aimed at equalizing funding of the state's public schools.

Texas lawmakers, facing a May 1 State Supreme Court deadlines to reform the funding system for schools, went into special session Tuesday, February 27. The Legislature will also begin consideration this week of plans to revamp the way the state selects its district judges.

A federal district court has ruled that the state's practice of electing judges on an at-large, county wide vote is a violation of the Voting Rights Act.

Last week the Senate subcommittee on Public School Finance began hearing various proposals to balance state funding between poorer and wealthier school districts.

Some of the plans call for no additional monies, while others require the expenditure of billions of dollars over the next five years.

Before recessing late last week, the subcommittee, a group composed of members of the Senate's Education and Finance Committee, heard three of these proposals and is expected to hear the remaining bills this week.

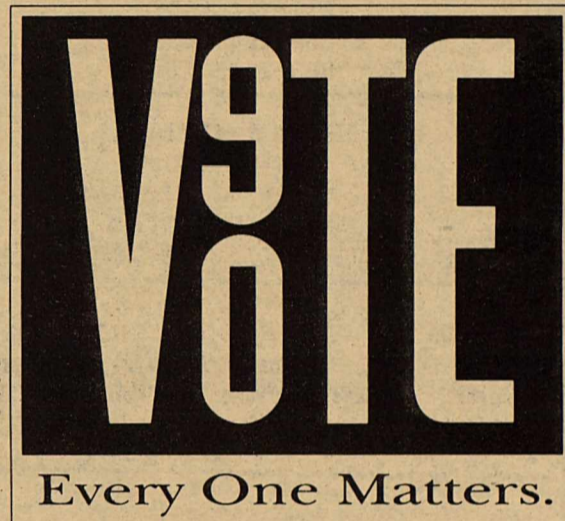

Thus far, plans have been proposed by the State Comptroller Bob Bullock, the Texas Research League, the Equity Center, the State Board of Education, and a special task force on school finance.

One provision common to all the plans is the guarantee yield concept adopted by the Legislature last year during the regular legislative session. By that agreement, school districts are guaranteed a certain amount of state aid for every cent of local taxation for schools.

The Senate will convene its second week of business Monday (March 5) at 3 p.m.

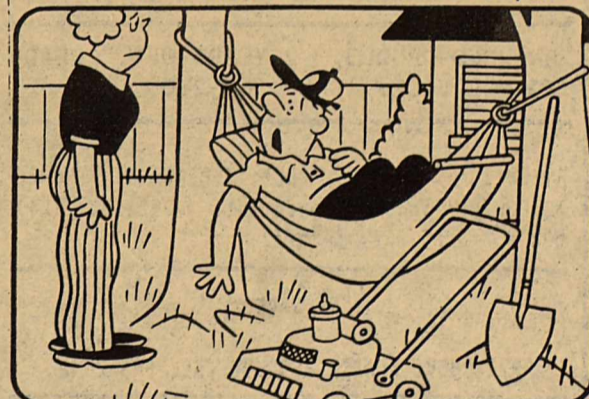

Among other business conducted by the Senate last week was the swearing in of new state Senator Rodney Ellis. Ellis will represent Houston's 13th Senatorial District, a seat vacated by the election of former state Senator Craig Washington to the U.S. House of Representatives. Tarrant County Senator Hugh Parmer was elected President Pro Tempore of the Senate, a leadership position based on seniority.
