Grenville Dodge was one of the pioneers in the glory days of American railroading. He was born April 12, 1831 in Davners, Massachusetts.

Dodge became interested in engineering at an early age and received a science degree from Norwich University in Vermont.

In those times railroading lured young men as aviation did in a later time. Dodge dreamed of building a trans-continental railroad. He first became a railroad builder with the Illinois Central in 1852. Then he took a surveying job in Iowa. He moved to Council Bluffs where he became a part of railroad and business ventures.

When the Civil War began he volunteered and became an officer in Iowa. During the war he was wounded twice in battle and became an important part of railroad building when railroads were an essential part of the war. Once he built a seven hundred and ten foot bridge across the Chattahoochee River.

After the war Dodge finally got back to his young dream of a railroad that would reach across the United States from coast to coast. Beginning in 1866 he planned and supervised the building of the Union Pacific Railroad west while the Central Pacific moved east to meet it. The whole country was anxiously waiting to hear the day the two railroads would meet. They met on May 10, 1869 and the golden spike was driven home. Dodge's golden dream had finally come true.

The rest of his life was spent building thousands more miles of railroad in the United States and Cuba. His long life of railroading came to an end in 1916.

REFLECTIONS

BY REV. PRESTON TAYLOR
FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

A few people have asked for copies of "Little Mary's Essay on Husbands." Here it is for those who want it:

Husbands is the people your mamas marry. And she always wishes she hadn't picked the one she did. But I know why; cause husbands all look alike to me.

My mama says that husbands are like the things you buy on the bargain counter. They look fine and you think you'll die if you don't get the one you get your eyes set on, and you fight other women for it, and after you get it and take it home and keep it awhile, it looks like 98 cents. And then you spend your life wondering what made you fool enough to want it in the first place.

There used to be a lot of husbands, and it was as easy to go and get one as it was to shoot a buffalo for breakfast; but every year they get few and fewer and they don't roam the plains anymore -- I'm talking about buffalo. And soon there won't be any husbands or buffaloes left except those in captivity.

My mama says there's no other wild animal in the world as hard to tame as a husband, and then, even after you've had a husband for four or five years, it's liable to break loose and jump over the fences.

Husbands is nice and polite to strange ladies, and they laugh themselves nearly to death when slim young ladies tell funny stories; but when their wives are forty and don't weigh 115 any more, husbands is grouchy, and when their wives tell funny stories all they do is say "Humph."

Husbands is strange animals, but all young ladies try to catch one, and all the old ladies that start wearing wrinkles try to keep the husbands they've got.

There are two kinds of husbands; good ones and bad ones. Good husbands is the ones that give their wives lots of money to spend and leave the house at 7:30 in the morning and don't come home all day long. And a husband that's a mean thing is one that makes his wife buy things on a bill and sees how she spends the money, and goes snooping around the kitchen to see how she cooks up all the food so fast. The mean husband stays close to home about all day, too.

A husband is a right useful creature to have around the house because it pays the bill.

But I guess when I grow up I'm gonna get me a husband too.

PRIVACY LANDSCAPING

Outdoor living in Texas is enjoyed by a lot of people when insects and weather permit. With a trend toward smaller lots and closer spacing of homes, many people feel a need for more privacy in their landscapes. There are a number of ways to achieve this effect.

Constructed fences or screens have a big advantage over other types of privacy structures in that the effect is immediate upon completion of construction. Cost is relatively high when compared to planted screens. It is very important that any landscape structure be sturdy and attractive. Woods such as treated pine, redwood and cedar will weather to an attractive gray that blends in with almost any landscape.

If masonry construction such as brick or stone is being considered, it is often a good idea to repeat a material that has been used on the house. Concrete blocks may be used effectively as a privacy structure and can be painted to match the trim on the house.

Planted screens which are well selected and maintained not only provide privacy but also aid in reducing noise and air pollution. Extensive planting of hedges that require frequent clipping is more of a maintenance problem than most homeowners are willing to provide. The "natural look" is in for contemporary landscaping and practical people are selecting screen plants that are suited for the specific situation and will retain an attractive form with only occasional pruning. Possible disadvantages to planted screens are their maintenance and period of establishment during which time the screen is of limited value.

In selecting plant species for planting, it is very important to consider soil and drainage conditions of the site as well as amount of sun or shade. Consult my office for soil testing procedures to give you an idea of what you have to work with. Of course, cultural requirements and growth habits of the plant are of equal importance.

Plants require considerable space, so remember, a very small site may be better suited for a fence or masonry wall.

The last option we will discuss is the structure and vine combination. An interesting and useful screen may be built by planting vines on a wooden frame covered with non-climbable welded wire. This screen can have the advantage of color and beauty of living plants which require relatively little space. Vines such as English Ivy or Carolina Jessamine are evergreen and attractive all year long.

Well placed privacy plantings and structures significantly increase the usefulness and value of your landscape. They should, however, be a part of an overall landscape plan.

If you have any questions or need more information, call or come by the Kinney County office of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, sex, religion, handicap, or national origin.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

A few short weeks ago a man walked into my wife's hospital room at Val Verde Memorial Hospital and handed my wife a newspaper clipping and said, "Here, Jackie, read this."

I would like to see you reprint this poem as a sort of memorial to that man who was a dear friend, a cousin, and a man that didn't know what the word quit meant, until his death from the dreaded lung cancer July 24, 1990. This man was Mr. Robert "Bob" Walsh of Del Rio, Texas. I have thought many times about the poem and how many persons it might give a small touch of hope and fight, if they could read it.

I sincerely hope you can find space and time to run a print of it.

Thanks,
Jackie and Elmer
Truesdell, Jr.
Spofford, Texas

Dear Mr. & Mrs. Truesdell,

Here's the poem and thanks for sharing it:

DON'T QUIT

When things go wrong
as they sometimes will,
When the road you're trudging seems all uphill,
When the funds are low,
and the debts are high
And you want to smile,
but you have to sigh,
When care is pressing you down a bit - Rest if you must,
but don't you quit.

Success is failure
turned inside out,
The silver tint of the clouds of doubt,

And you never can tell how close you are,
It may be near when
it seems afar.
So, stick to the fight
when you're hardest hit -
It's when things go wrong that you mustn't quit.

MEET YOUR FIREMEN

ADRAIN REYES JR.

Just about all of our fire fighters have been to a fire or accident or some kind of fire department function where someone has walked up and said "I didn't know that you were a fireman". Well we decided that the people of Kinney County should know who it is that they are depending on for fire protection and rescue.

Although fire and rescue are our main function, these guys do a host of other things, like driving in the parades and putting on the New Year's Eve dance, cooking up some great BBQ and talking to the kids at the schools.

Each of the firemen have something that they do for the department, everyone is different but we work together to give the people of this County the best fire department possible.

So each week we will introduce you all to one of your firemen. We welcome your comments and any advice you might have about the fire department and we're always happy to answer any questions you might have concerning the department.

Maybe you would like to join the department, if so please feel free to come to our meetings which we have on the first three Wednesdays of the month at 8:00 p.m. upstairs at City Hall.

We hope you enjoy this column, we realize some of you may know these firemen but maybe there are a few things in this introduction that you didn't know.

This is Adrian Reyes Jr..

He grew up in Brackettville, graduated from high school here and joined the Army in 1979 and served until 1983 when he came back home. He has since started a family with his wife Margret and two sons, Adrian Reyes III and John Andrew Reyes.

Adrian works at Davis Hardware and He is also a trained EMS attendant and works on the ambulance service as well as the fire department.

Adrain has been with the fire department since Feb. of 1986. After only 2 months in the department he was elected to the office of Secretary. He served in this position for two years and then was elected as Fire Chief and has been for two years now.

Adrian actively participates in all sorts of training and has almost enough ours to obtain fire fighter certification from the State Firemens and Fire Marshals Association. For Basic certification. 162 hours of training in 27 categories are required.

Adrian has many training certificates on file. To list a few: Fire Fighter I, Texas A&M: Fire Fighter II, Texas A&M: Vehicle extrication, Waco: Emergency Care Attendant, Dept. of Health.

Fighting fire is serious business and in order to be safe and effective we must train. As you can see Adrian is a dedicated Fireman.

Dollars & Sense by Bryon Elson

If you plan on purchasing property for a business, investigate the make-up of several target communities or locations. Find out if the community is growing or shrinking. If it's shrinking, find out why and plan accordingly.

For example, a woman recently planned to open a children's bookstore in the midwest. After she investigated the community, she changed her plans, because employment was very hard to find there and many young adults were moving out. Armed with this information she still opened the bookstore, but with emphasis on mature titles rather than children's book.

Other important points to look at are the population's average income, predominant occupations, and median age. Find out if residents are college educated or blue collar workers. Do they rent or own their homes? Have property values increased or decreased? Also consider the area's future. Does the community have plans for construction that may affect your business?

Most of this information can be obtained from the census bureau, local government agencies, chambers of commerce, trade associations or local newspapers.

But don't overlook one very important resource: the residents and business owners of the community. Talk to these people and try to get a feel for the area's personality and values.

Ask local business owners about the history of stores in the area. What types of business does the community support, and which types have failed?

After deciding on the location, the next step is selecting a particular property. A top priority in this search is gathering information on traffic patterns. How many possible customers pass by your location on a regular basis? Your local Small Business Administration has publications that can aid you in this area. Also take note of the proximity of competitors, both present and future.

One common mistake small business owners make is ignoring a site's history. If the building has housed different businesses in a short amount of time, take a second look at the property. You may have overlooked a serious flaw in the building's location.

Once satisfied with the location, investigate the building's physical condition. Examine the building just as you would a new home. Also consider such factors as parking spaces and proximity to major roads or public transportation.

Finally, when you are ready to buy or lease a property, weigh the legal and financial ramifications. How high are the property taxes? Should you lease the property, or buy it outright? Are there local zoning regulations you must abide?

Selecting the proper location is crucial to your business. Make sure to do research and select the site and location that is best for your needs.

Early Detection Is The Key To Survival For Childhood Cancer Patients

This year, 8,500 children will be diagnosed with childhood cancer. For many of these children the key is timely as well as appropriate treatment.

But how does a parent make the distinction between a relatively minor illness and a serious illness, such as cancer? According to Dr. Elizabeth Thompson, physician-in-chief at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, when a child's health begins to decline for no apparent reason, it's worth taking a moment to run through this checklist of warning signs that may indicate serious illness if they persist. Is my child:

- Fatigued, listless or pale?
- Experiencing any swelling or unusual lumps anywhere in the body?
- Feeling nauseous or experiencing a loss of appetite?
- Suffering continued insomnia or sleeping too much?
- Undergoing unusual mood swings or crying abruptly?
- Stumbling or losing balance more often?
- Seeing double or suffering other eye problems?
- Bruising easily or frequently?
- Experiencing nosebleeds or any unexplained bleeding?

While many of these symptoms could be due to nothing more serious than a virus, a trip to the doctor is certainly called for.

"It's important not to try to diagnose your child yourself," Dr. Thompson urges. "Consult a doctor and set up a thorough examination for your child, including necessary blood tests. If symptoms persist, or worsen, despite the advice or treatment of a physician, consider getting a second opinion. It's worth the peace of mind."

"Parents need to keep aware of their children's physical well-being," Dr. Thompson adds. "Whether or not you suspect a serious illness, regular medical checkups are crucial for children of all ages."

Dr. Thompson suggests taking the time to learn what childhood cancer is, what forms it comes in and how to recognize its symptoms—a basic education for parents can help ease their general anxiety about childhood cancer.

Leukemia, a cancer of the blood-forming tissues, is the most common form of cancer in children. Symptoms of leukemia include fever, fatigue, anemia, bone pain, nosebleeds, bruising easily, weight loss and swelling of the body organs.

Brain tumors are the second most frequent kind of childhood cancer. Symptoms of brain tumors vary widely, but usually begin with headaches and, if untreated, can grow into impaired speech and hearing, and loss of motor control skills, such as walking.

Solid tumors, like bone cancer, and Lymphomas, such as Hodgkin's disease and non-Hodgkin's lymphoma, are also common forms of childhood cancer. Symptoms of these types of malignant solid tumors almost always involve swelling or pain accompanied by weight loss and fever.

"Though chemotherapy and radiation therapy are still the most routine forms of treatment for many of these cancers, St. Jude continues to research new and ongoing types of therapy, as well as anti-cancer drugs, and is achieving dramatic results. Still, the most promising treatment of all is early treatment," adds Thompson.

The research conducted at St. Jude is funded primarily through public contributions. The donations also allow St. Jude to fund treatment for young patients without insurance coverage.

Long known for their pioneering work in cancer treatment, St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, located in Memphis, is one of the world's premier centers for biomedical research and catastrophic diseases in children. St. Jude was founded 28 years ago by entertainer Danny Thomas and is supported through contributions received by the American Lebanese Syrian Associated Charities (ALSAC).

AN AFTERNOON AT THE RACES BY WALLACE MORGAN

One recent sunny afternoon, three of us found ourselves sitting in the Turf Club Terrace, located at Bandera Downs Race Track. The excitement around us was terrific, even more so than a number of other type sporting events that I have attended. Our seating arrangements were very comfortable, with a continuous writing shelf in front of the chairs. Our area was right in alignment with the finish line. There was even a waitress to serve cold, refreshing drinks, of any type. The only thing missing was air conditioning. However, how many outside type sporting events are you able to watch from air conditioned comfort, unless it is in front of the television?

The last time that I had attended a legal pari-mutuel horse race was around 1937 when I was too young to know what was going on, that my parents had taken me to. This was old Epson Downs Track, in Houston, which was turned into a drive-in movie, after the Governor of Texas decided that this state did not need pari-mutuel wagering. So, my experience in placing bets was zero. However, after obtaining a program, a tip sheet, and a daily racing form, I was in business. I mainly compared notes with the tip sheet, and the probable odds as suggested by the track handicapper, with any other bits or facts regarding the horses. I don't think that I did too bad for my first day of betting. My wife, who has a fear of going down high flights of stairs, forgot all about this, and would go flying down the stairs in order to collect winnings. I bet on each race in very small amounts and still came out being a small time winner, in the long run. Of course I realize that this will not happen each time, and there will be days of good, and of bad. But, it was an afternoon of real enjoyment.

A few nights later, we attended a handicapping seminar in Bandera at the Cabaret Club. The seminars are designed to explain pari-mutuel betting, how to read the program and the Daily Racing Form and to introduce the basics of horse race handicapping. It was very informative, enjoyable, and free. Hopefully, perhaps there will be a handicapping seminar conducted in this area, in the near future, for interested persons with no betting experience.

To persons who have no moral objection to placing a legal wager on sporting events. I certainly recommend attendance to at least one of these races, even if you do not place a bet. You will get to feel a lot of excitement and see many beautiful horses, GOOD LUCK !!!!!!!!!

Happy winner returning to her seat from the betting window

FREE AND REDUCED PRICE MEALS

Brackett Independent School District today announced its policy for free and reduced price meals for children unable to pay the full price of meals served under the National School Lunch Program. Each school and the Central Office has a copy of the policy, which may be reviewed by any interested party.

The household size and income criteria used for determining eligibility is attached. Children from households whose income is at, or below the levels shown are eligible for free or reduced price meals.

Application forms are being sent to all homes with a letter to parents or guardians. To apply for free or reduced price meals, households should fill out the application and return it to the school. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application will be used for the purpose of determining eligibility, and may be verified at any time during the school year by school or other program officials.

For school officials to determine eligibility, households receiving food stamps or AFDC must list the child's name, their food stamp or AFDC case number and the signature and name of an adult household member. Households not receiving food stamps or AFDC must list: names of all household members; social security numbers of all adult household members or a statement that the household member does not possess one; total household income and the amount and source of the income received by each household member; and the signature of an adult household member certifying that the information provided is correct.

APPLICATIONS MAY BE SUBMITTED AT ANY TIME DURING THE YEAR

Under the provisions of the free and reduced price policy, the Cafeteria Manager will review applications and determine eligibility. Parents or guardians dissatisfied with the ruling of the official may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis. Parents wishing to make a formal appeal may make a request either orally or in writing to Bobby D. McCall, Superintendent, P.O. Box 586, Brackettville, Texas 78832, or telephone 512/563-2491.

Households that list a food stamp or AFDC case number must report when the household no longer receives the benefits. Other households approved for benefits are required to report increases in household income of over $50.00 per month or $600.00 per year and decreases in household size. Also, if a household member becomes unemployed or if the household size increases, the household should contact the school. Such changes may make the children of the household eligible for benefits if the household's income falls at or below levels shown above.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for school meal benefits. If a household wishes to apply for benefits for foster children living with them, the household should contact the school for more information.

The information provided by the household is confidential and will be used only for purposes of determining eligibility and verifying data. In the operation of child feeding programs administered by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, no child will be discriminated against because of race, color, sex, national origin, age or handicap. If any member of a household believes they have been discriminated against, they should write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

OLD ARMY DAYS

By Wallace L. Morgan

Fort Clark, Texas. The above scene probably has very little or no meaning to almost anyone who may pass by it, whether they may be resident, non resident member, members guest, sales guest, or just on a quick tour, after passing down Highway 90 while on vacation. However, if it was known just what was going on at this location during Fort Clarks active army years, to former military personnel it would bring back memories of their service training of which was not the most pleasant.

The Gas Chamber, or gas training building, was a very important part of military training, mainly during the period of time spent in military basic training, but also repetitious during the remainder of time that a person spent in service, active and reserve. This was building T1231, The "T" meaning that this was a building of temporary construction, built prior to America's entry into World War 2 during the time of the building up of troops, and was meant to last for only the duration of the war and possibly up to ten years after. If Fort Clark had remained an active military post, at some period of time after the war, this building would have been replaced by a more permanent structure.

During the period of time that this building was in use, the American Army service gas mask which was issued to troops was the best all around military gas mask known. It was the main device for protection of the face, eyes, lungs, and throat from the effects of gases, smokes, fumes, dusts, and chemical fogs, and was made to take care of all known chemical warfare agents. However, it would not give protection against carbon monoxide or ammonia gas and was not suitable for use in fighting fires or in industrial accidents where ammonia gas was present.

If the facepiece was not properly placed in the carrier, or if it became distorted, a crease might be formed which would prevent a positive seal between the facepiece and the trooper's face. Any of the materials of the mask could be damaged easily, especially by carelessness or improper use.

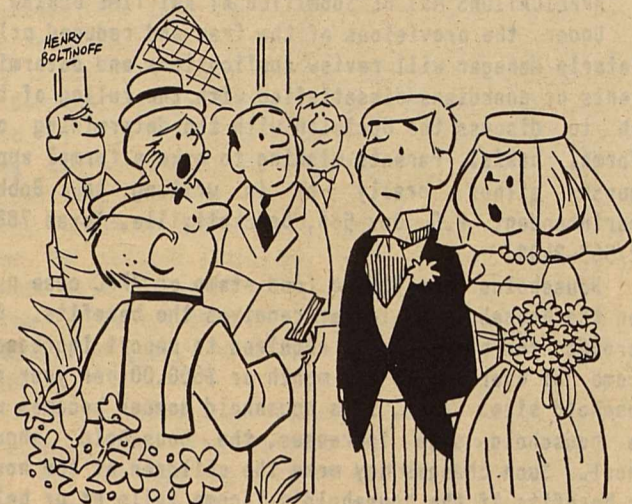

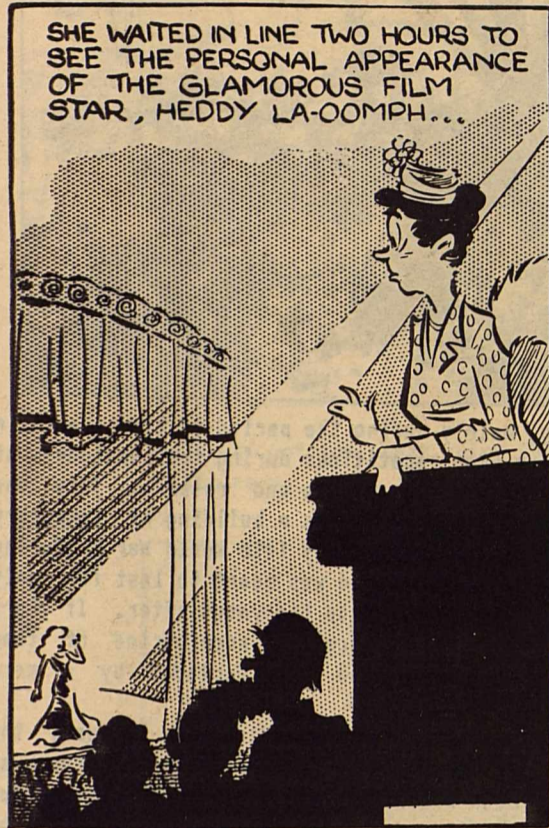

So in view of the above, it was very necessary to have good hands on instruction regarding care, proper installation, and use of the gas mask. Of course, this is where training in the gas chamber was so important.

I will never forget my first experience with gas mask training. At first we were given classroom instruction, and then when the instructors were reasonably sure that at least some of us knew what was going on and could handle situations of gas attack, we were marched to the gas chamber. We all entered the building in single file, and formed a square circle near the walls of the room. The instructors had us to place the mask on our faces, a number of times, and each time we were to have self checks regarding whether air could get in around the edges. Then they told us that they were to put the mask on, properly, one more time, and test it to see if it protected against tear gas or not. My mask seemed to be in good position and worded o.k., however I noticed that some personnel had some problems. Then, they told us to remove our masks, and at the signal, to move out of the building. By doing this procedure, everyone would find out exactly all they needed to about tear gas, which was not too pleasant. I thought that I would be real shrewd and close my eyes and hold my breath as long as I could, therefore avoiding this unpleasantness while I moved out of the room. However, I seemed to become blocked, by what I found out was an instructor, who caught on to what I was trying to do. So I got to remain in the building with my eyes open, breathing, and no mask, until everyone else moved out of the building.

The remaining slab of old building T1231 is located at the north west corner of Scales Rd., and Mulberry, on Fort Clark Springs. There have been many times that I have overheard or been asked the question, about old slabs or portions of old structures, "what used to be here?" I believe that it would be worthwhile to mark, in some manner, just what these old sites were. This possibly could lead to more of an interest in touring or exploration of our area.

NEWS FROM FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Living Will Forms Offered: As a service to the community, sponsored by the Stewardship and Finance Committee, Ron Buckles, Chairman, First UMC is making special "living will" forms available for those who want to assume responsibility and leave legal instruction regarding their dying. Specifically, this form properly filled in, protects people from being hooked up to tubes, artificial respirators and "life" prolonging devices after they are "brain dead" or in a "vegetative state" and can have no viable life. A second form, for those wanting to avoid probate and leave their estate to their spouses, is also available through First United Methodist Church. Both forms may be picked up on Sunday mornings or obtained by writing P.O. Box 93 or calling 563-2832.

Favorite Hymns Month: Worshipers at First United Methodist Church (1 block West of the Courthouse) are selecting the hymns for the month of August. Visitors are encouraged to come and suggest their favorite hymn. Hymns each Sunday are selected according to the most requests. The hymn requested the most so far is "How Great Thou Art," which was played as a beautiful piano solo by Sue Sims, Worship Chairman, last Sunday; it will be sung as the Hymn of Praise this Sunday. Favorite hymns sung last Sunday were "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," "He Touched Me," and "My Hope is Built." Next Sunday the top "Old Favorites" will be sung by the congregation and members of the Ron Buckles family will provide the Special Music.

Ron & Lorene Buckles Celebrate Their 50th! Ron and Lorene Buckles are celebrating their Golden Wedding Anniversary Sunday, August 12. Family will be coming in from far and wide, some of whom will sing during public worship at First UMC. Ron will serve as Liturgist for the morning. Flowers placed in their honor in the sanctuary will be provided by Nelda and Marvin Archer and Sondra and J.E. Meil. The Buckles invite all friends to help them celebrate by attending a reception Sunday afternoon 3:00 - 6:00 PM at the Cavalry Room at Las Moras Restaurant, Fort Clark. Everyone is invited. No gifts please.

Pleasing Feed-Back: One of the most common responses of visitors is "The people are so friendly," and favorable comments about the flowers and grounds of the church. Darryl Earwood, under the Board of Trustees, is the man in charge of the flowers year round. He does a great job. He's also willing to share his considerable knowledge and, from time to time, extra flowers and shrubs. Don Nance (and sometimes his wife, Sis, and his son, Don, Jr.) is the man who keeps the large church grounds cut. It's a lot of ground to cover, especially when it rains. And he, too, regularly does a great job.

Building Used for Mission: One of the things that pleases Pastor Roland Cole the most is not only that the church believes in mission (serving God by serving man), but that it also shows it with its buildings. There are many ways the church gives to God's mission and purposes in the world: through the Mission Committee; through its budgeted giving to district, conference, national and global ministries; through the IN HIS NAME project (each month a church member is given $50.00 and asked to find the best and most-needed place to use that money to help local people in Christ's Name); and in other ways. But the church also serves others with and through its buildings. Slator Hall is open each Monday evening at 8:00 PM providing the meeting place for open meetings of Alcoholics Anonymous. That's every Monday at 109 West James Street, 8:00 PM. Recently, after having considered the possibility through the Board of Trustees (Betty Inman, Chairman), the Stewardship and Finance Committee (Ron Buckles, Chairman), and the Administrative Council (Ira Finger, Chairman), Pastor Roland Cole was instructed to sign a contract with the State of Texas. The Texas Department of Health will serve the needs of the community through screening and other services the FOURTH (not always the last) Friday of each month at Slator Hall. It is expected that this system will remain in place until and unless TDH find a permanent building of its own. (More about these services in a later column.)

VFW/AUXILIARY NEWS

V.F.W. Post and Auxiliary #8630 officers attended training session on Sunday, August 5, in Uvalde. The training for the V.F.W. Post was conducted by Don Albert, District II President of Del Rio. For the Auxiliary, Trudy Alexander, District II President, of Devine, was the instructor.

Attending from Fort Clark Springs were V.F.W. Commander Tom Faulkenberry, V.F.W. Senior Vice-President Walt Fithian, and Quartermaster Tino Cervantes. Representing the Auxiliary to Post #8630 were president Dot Fithian and Secretary-Treasurer Jean Faulkenberry.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

Volunteers are needed at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston for drug tests which may help with the devastating memory problems that accompany Alzheimer's disease.

"There is as yet no cure for Alzheimer's disease," said Dr. Rachelle Doody, an assistant professor of neurology at Baylor, "but we are hopeful that these drug trials now underway here and elsewhere around the country will provide us with new tools to alleviate some of the misery Alzheimer's patients and their families must endure."

The drugs are physostigmine and SQ29852, which is similar to the blood pressure medicine Captopril.

If these drugs help in stemming memory loss associated with Alzheimer's, it could be good news for victims of the disease, Doody stated.

Volunteers must be 50 or older, in the early stages of Alzheimer's disease and free of any other major health problems. In addition, there are restrictions concerning other drugs patients may already be taking.

People wishing to volunteer may call 713/798-6660 for additional information.

PREPARING FOR FALL GARDENS

Rain, rain, and more rain! We continue to receive rain in some, if not all, areas of this county. Most everyone is happy. We have had an additional 1.5 - 2 inches last week. Those folks who are contemplating a fall garden cannot wait until fall to get started. There are a number of things needing to be done before planting time. Unfortunately, these must be done in the summer heat. Soil preparation, fertilization and planting are some of these things.

Like preparation for a spring garden fall gardens benefit from generous amounts of organic matter such as hay, peat moss, shredded leaves, grass clippings, compost, barnyard manure or even shredded paper.

A 3 to 4 inch layer of organic matter is necessary to physically change the structure of the soil. Till the material into the garden at least 6-8 inches deep.

Fertilizer also should be applied at the same time. If your soil is high in phosphorus or you used a high phosphorous fertilizer such as 10-20-10 in the spring, then nitrogen fertilizer, such as ammonium sulfate or ammonium nitrate, can be used for each 100 square feet of garden area. This can simply be broadcast on top of the organic matter and all tilled in together.

After the summer soil preparation, August to early September is the time to plant most vegetables for fall harvest. Many vegetables perform better under Texas fall weather conditions. Crops such as green beans, cucumbers, and squash need to be planted early so that harvest is completed by the time the first frost occurs.

Other vegetables that can withstand freezes down to 25 degrees or so are beets, broccoli, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, celery, collards, lettuce, mustard, onion, parsley, radish, spinach and turnips.

THE SIGNS OF THE TIME

In Christ's Service

BY ROBERT WHITE

"Blessed is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of this prophecy, and keep those things which are written therein: FOR THE TIME IS AT HAND." (Rev 1:3)

Yes folks, "The time is at hand!" The current invasion of Iraq into Kuwait is just the beginning of sorrows for the entire world, and especially for the United States. Through greed and the unwillingness to face any hardships, America has become totally dependant on OPEC oil.

The American lifestyle is soon going to change - our days of luxury are soon going to be over. We have used our wealth which God has blessed us with on pleasures and selfish desires. Prosperity in America has become a curse, leading to millions of alcohol and drug-crazed people of all ages. However, THE PARTY IS SOON GOING TO BE OVER!

THE KINNEY CAVALRYMAN

"Go to now, you rich men, weep and howl for your miseries that shall come upon you. Your riches are corrupted, and your garments are moth-eaten. Your gold and silver is cankered; and the rust of them shall be a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh as it were fire. YOU HAVE HEAPED TREASURE TOGETHER FOR THE LAST DAYS. Behold, the hire of the labourers who have reaped down your fields, which is of you kept back by fraud, crieth: and the cries of them which have reaped are entered into the ears of the Lord of Sabaoth. YE HAVE LIVED IN PLEASURE ON THE EARTH AND BEEN WANTON; ye have nourished your hearts as in a day of slaughter. Ye have condemned and killed the just; and he doth not resist you." (James 5:1-6)

The luxury and pleasures of Americans are going to be the first things to go. Notice what God says, "Ye have lived in pleasure on the earth, and been wanton." There is no end to the appetites of the Americans. We have been spoiled and selfish with the blessings God has given us. Therefore, God is about to judge us by sending a financial collapse, as the dollar has become the god of this country.

Three years ago I did not understand why the Lord had us move to Brackettville. It became clear after a few months that we were to be here to proclaim the coming of the Lord Jesus Christ. All of these events happening in the world now are signs of the coming of Jesus!

As Christians, we are told to "WATCH and be SOBER." (Thes 5:7) "But the end of all things is at hand: be you therefore sober, and WATCH unto prayer." (I Pet 4:7) We are all going to suffer some hardships in the near future, Christian and non-Christian alike. "But the God of all grace, who hath called us unto his eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after that you have suffered a while, make you perfect, establish, strength, settle you." (I Pet 5:10)

There are many scoffers today who laugh at a message such as this which warns of judgment. The Israelite children also laughed when God sent them prophets to warn of impending judgments and captivity; however, they spent four hundred years in Babylonian captivity wishing they had heeded God's warning! The Bible says, "Knowing this first, that there shall come in the last days SCOFFERS, walking after their own lusts, and saying, Where is the promise of his coming? for since the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of creation." (II Pet 3:3-4)

The world is not going to end just yet. First, the world is going to be judged by Jesus Christ. Every person who lives, or has ever lived, will give an account of his life. "And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat on it, from whose face the earth and heaven fled away; and there was found no place for them. And I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God; and the books were opened: and another book was opened, which is the book of life: and the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, according to their works. And the sea gave up the dead which were in it; and death and hell delivered up the dead which were in them: and they were judged every man according to their works. And death and hell were cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death. And whosoever was not found written in the book of life was cast into the lake of fire." (Rev 20:11-15)

Is your name in the "book of life?" Have you asked God to forgive you of your sins and to cleanse you from all your unrighteousness? Time is up, folks! God is moving swiftly now. There is little time to repent and draw near to God. "And that, knowing the time, that now it is HIGH TIME TO AWAKE OUT OF SLEEP: for now is our salvation nearer than when we believed." (Rom 13:11)
