High Winter Polio Demands Greater MOD

AUSTIN, Jan. 22. — Reports and a warning of high polio incidence in Texas, unusual for winter months, call for a better March of Dimes than ever, Lloyd Gregory state chairman of the polio drive, declared today.

Gregory recalled a recent warning by the State Health Officer, Dr. George W. Cox, who was quoted in an Associated Press dispatch as warning that continuance of the high winter incidence into the new year could give the state a fast push-off toward what might become the worst polio year in Texas history.

Dr. W. A. Spencer, director of the Southwest Polio Center in Houston, this week verified a report that Harris County is having an unusual number of patients for this time of year. Galveston health officers recorded 21 cases since December 21st.

Gregory stated, that although no one can predict accurately the number of cases in 1952, it is certain that over $1,800,000 will be needed by National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis chapters for patient care alone. "During the past four years," the polio leader noted, "Texas county chapters have been spending approximately one and one half million dollars annually. The cost in 1952 may be even greater, considering the large number of patients being carried over who still require treatment."

"The time has come for us to examine our March of Dimes activities to make certain that no potential contributor is overlooked. Everyone must be given an opportunity to contribute voluntarily to the campaign for our success will depend upon proper organization in every county."

Although no quotas are assigned to counties, the state chairman has asked each county to raise the maximum possible. He estimated that a state average of about 40 cents per capita will be needed.

Inspection Date Extended

AUSTIN, Jan. 15. — Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announced today that the period for securing initial motor vehicle inspections in Texas has been officially extended until midnight, September 6, 1952. As originally specified, all vehicles would have been required to pass inspection before they could be registered on April 1st.

Director Garrison had pointed out in his request for a ruling by the Attorney General that it would be impossible to complete an inspection of the nearly 3 1/2 million vehicles in the State by April 1st.

Effect of the new action will mean, according to Garrison, that all motor vehicles in Texas must be inspected and bear an approved sticker prior to next September 7th. Following that, a second inspection will be required after September 7th but prior to April 1, 1953, before vehicles can be registered for 1953.

George W. Busby, Chief of the Department's Motor Vehicle Inspection Division, stated that he had, today, issued the 1000th license to official inspection stations. Another 1,500 are currently in the process of being approved.

Russia wants to disarm on the A-bomb question. But hedges on the question of inspection. Which, of course, is the old bait in with a new coating.

Our Washington Newsletter

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

PRESIDENT TRUMAN, General Eisenhower and Winston Churchill vied with each other for front page space in Washington last week, as Congress convened, politics buzzed, and Anglo-American problems were given a going over.

The President's annual State of the Union message, required by the Constitution, was pretty much a rehash of the one a year ago. It reviewed world events, promised a liberal amount of welfare for most every one, but was more conciliatory in that it did not dwell so much upon civil rights and the Fair Deal program. With Mr. Churchill and Anthony Eden looking on from the gallery, Mr. Truman talked for 35 minutes to a packed gallery and House chamber. The Prime Minister is scheduled to make a formal address to the House and Senate on January 17.

Everywhere up here these days politics is in the air. It is strictly an election year atmosphere—which is not given to much progress in constructive legislation. But the session will probably be a comparatively short one, with both sides girding themselves for the big political battles of the Summer and Fall. Both House and Senate are due to get down to work with but little delay, and the "must" legislation will be taken up earlier than is usually the case.

GENERAL EISENHOWER'S entrance into the Presidential campaign is claiming a lot of attention, as would be expected. In the cloak rooms, restaurants, in taxicabs and in Washington street corners, people are scenting a possible grassroots upsurge in public clamor for a change in the White House when the November election comes around. And they wonder if Eisenhower can withstand the hard knocks of political realism. Even President Truman jovially suggested that the General would find out a lot about himself that he never knew before.

Under Army regulations a soldier is not allowed to actively campaign for public office. He can run but he cannot issue political statements or make campaign speeches. That means that the Eisenhower race will be in the hands of friends, with about everything the General has ever said in print being pulled out, dissected and all sorts of interpretations placed upon them.

On the other side of the picture will be the choice of a Democrat to carry the torch for the Party that is being challenged. You can hear about everything on Capitol Hill, but there seems to be but few who think Mr. Truman will run. But he is the unpredictable type, and that cannot be overlooked.

The average dopester seems to think the President would welcome a contest with Senator Taft but doesn't cotton up to the idea of fighting it out with Eisenhower, if the Republicans nominate him. If he is nominated he would then be relieved of his Command in Europe and would return home for an active campaign. That might happen even before the Conventions.

General Eisenhower is a Kansan, but by accident is a native Texan, having been born near Denison. In 1944 when a small group of Congressmen were on a mission in England, the General heard about it and invited the group to visit him at his then secret headquarters near Paris. That was in September. Bob Poage of Waco and I were in the group, and we had the privilege of talking with the Allied Commander for two or three hours. I recall that Poage called the General's attention to his Texas birth.

"That's true", replied Eisenhower, "but grasshoppers were to blame for it! You see, the grasshoppers ate my father's crop up over in Kansas and he moved temporarily down to Denison where he could get a job. While the family was living at Denison, I was born. And so I guess you can blame the Kansas grasshoppers for my being born in Texas!"

But he said he took pride in his Texas birth, and had high praise for courage of Texas troops.

Gov. Shivers Gives Good Advice

Austin, Texas, Jan. — Governor Allan Shivers has urged the automobile drivers in Texas to learn proper hand signals and apply them while driving as a means of lowering the death and injury toll on our streets and highways. This appeal is contained in an official memorandum issued by Shivers which designates January as hand signal month in the Lone Star State.

"The use of proper hand signals," said Shivers, "is a most effective weapon in the curbing of traffic accidents. The hand-signaling motorist is the courteous motorist. I am firmly convinced that if all drivers were courteous while at the wheel, our traffic toll would be reduced to the minimum."

"When a motorist applies hand signals in his driving, he automatically becomes conscious of all aspects of traffic safety and courtesy . . . the protection of pedestrians, the danger of weaving in traffic, the death-dealing results of speed, the folly of hogging the highway, the importance of yielding the right-of-way. So, I urge all motorists to acquaint themselves with the proper hand signals and to apply them diligently. The hand signal is the mark of a courteous driver; he doesn't keep the other driver guessing".

Shivers stated that a number of cities and towns in Texas have carried out campaigns on hand signal education, and in practically all cases, these points have become recognized for their "courteous drivers".

The state-wide hand-signal campaign is sponsored by the Texas Safety Association, Inc. and is patterned after the project conducted jointly last September in Dallas, by the Citizens Traffic Commission and the Dallas Civitan Club. Highway posters and other media proclaimed the slogan: "Right turn — hand up. Left turn — hand out. Slow or stop — hand down".

The hand signal month in Texas is to be promoted by the press and radio facilities throughout the State and is to be directed by J. O. Musick of Austin, General Manager of the Texas Safety Association; Bruce Cunningham of Dallas, representing the Dallas Civitan Club and the Citizens Traffic Commission, and Weldon Hart, formerly of Governor Shivers press staff.

A salvo of shells from the cruiser Juneau near Chumunjin, Korea on June 29, 1950, announced the U. S. Navy's direct support of the UN war effort.

MENTAL MEANDERINGS

As we said before, and probably will say again, this is Election Year. The BIG Election year. This is the one time when your vote will count the most. And don't think that it might not count. There are a number of times in recent recorded history when one vote has changed many things, even to the ownership of the world. So, pay that poll tax, and, if you have paid it, USE IT.

That wrangling we have been in at and in Korea for so long a time is getting nothing to anyone save some loss of temper and accusations. True, we finally had given us the names of some who were made prisoners by the Reds, but in all other respects seems like we have been taking nothing but abuse. Seems that some of those who would lead us, and claim to be our friends are costing us more than we lose to our enemies.

And no matter what we think about it, it begins to loom up that our biggest error is to try to inoculate Britain, France, and our other allies, save possibly Belgium and Turkey, with a realistic approach to the whole question of Communism. Those last mentioned have had hard dealings before with other nations of questionable policies and fascist tendencies, to their sorrow. Whereas we were called the dreamers in other times, we are now getting more and more realistic on some things. Wish the same could be said about the condition of the country itself in general.

We often tried to get into words, but we heard it just recently, over the radio, a good description of what we think of some opera music. A fellow described it as an extended period of an orchestra "tuning up". We must say that is what it listened like to us, when we listened, which wasn't too often. And we have no opera favorites, either.

Seems funny as to what causes some arguments. One which ended in a suit for divorce back East recently came about when the lady of the house had her hair dyed a beautiful blue and the gent had his colored a perfect milk white. Neither had too much occasion for the dying processes, so a family feud started.

That wishing well business appears to be becoming a fad now, or the rage so to put it in the vernacular. We still remember back yonder in yesteryears when there were good old wishing wells, and many people really believed in them. Nowadays they parlay the game into a give-away plan, business mind you, and someone gets his wish, at least he wins the jackpot whether he can use everything in it or not. Back yonder, long ago, you tossed a penny into a well with a legend, breathed a wish and went on your way happily wondering when you would get your wish. If you didn't it was probably because some unclean hands had used that particular penny for an evil purpose.

A friend reminded us that besides being general election year this was also Leap Year. So 'tis. We had about forgotten. Seems this sort of a year has about lost its popularity with the gals, as there seems to be very few of them who can't snag her man even in years that don't leap. Not that the gals are forward, bless em, but they got so they know most everything a poor guy is up to and can trap him with little difficulty.

Income tax business is not monkey business but no one had better monkey with their income tax returns. Uncle Sam wants that dough and goodness knows he usually gets it.

The President's appeal for higher and more taxes for the fiscal year, which already is way in the red so far as requests are being made and many of which will be granted, struck congress with a thud, but there was no enthusiasm among either Democrats and Republicans, Truman supporters or not. For one thing this is Election year, and the subject heavier taxes. Then, there is the hard fact facing us that we are now nearly reaching our limit of taxation. Inflation is heavy on us, and the costs of living are high, and too much taxes may quiet inflation but it can't the empty stomachs which have no food nor money to buy it with. Extravagance in government home expenditures is something that can not be scoffed at, laughed at or ignored. Everyone who pays income taxes will feel it is HIS money that is being squandered, is being used by grafters to feather their own nests. And putting a man who himself is under suspicion to clean his own house is something that even the most stupid will view with distrust. The government is too big for one man to run alone—he must have help. And too often that help, being political and not the best for the office, will through greed, help itself. For home work read the fall of the Roman Empire.

Visited friends the other evening, and found them engaged in something we had about forgotten — making old-fashioned "spun sugar." Remember that delightful, delicious confection, from which were made "sweet" Valentines, sugar pictures, etc. A helping served to arouse our nostalgic sense and we launched off into days gone by with gusto and, of course, "spun sugar."

The balmy weather we had the past few weeks served to arouse natures with a false sense of spring-time and we notice many bushes, shrubs, etc. wanting to sprout. We wanted to feel like spring was here, but like the wary mesquite, we just knew winter had something in store for us!

Don't wait to have that car inspected. There will be an inspection coming up pretty soon, and you had best do it now while you can and not wait until later on when everyone is trying to have it done too.

Scientists tried to figure out what was the best way to keep yourself warm when cold — whether to exercise or stand still. They decided, inasmuch as standing still you'd freeze and moving about you'd shiver, that they didn't know. People who get in such predicaments, unless because of necessity, should stay home by the fire.

Eisenhower's Political Statement Causes Stir in Republican Circles

POLITICS—Gen. Dwight Eisenhower has made a statement that many political observers say clarifies his political intentions. It has also caused a great stir in Republican circles. The general said, in effect, that he would not make any pre-convention fight for the GOP presidential nomination. He added, however, that he has always been a Republican and that he would probably accept a clear cut call to political leadership which is the duty of every American.

Eisenhower's statement was made after he was put on something of a spot during a recent news conference by Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, during which the senator announced he was placing the general's name on the New Hampshire Republican ballot.

GENERAL EISENHOWER

Before Lodge's news conference, Eisenhower had repeatedly refused to make any comment on his political aspirations. By continued silence, he would have let it be known, in a negative manner, that he was willing to take the Republican nomination. While his statement was not as clear as some would have liked, it was noted that the general did not request his name held off the New Hampshire ballot. Eisenhower has assumed a unique, if somewhat confusing, position in American politics in the eyes of the average home town voter.

Almost as startling as Senator Lodge's maneuvering and Eisenhower's statement, was the announcement by The New York Times, one of America's oldest and most influential newspapers, that it would support the general "enthusiastically" if he becomes a candidate for President. The newspaper has supported GOP presidential candidates only twice in the past 20 years.

Said The Times in a lead editorial: "We have given our support on those occasions to the Democratic candidate essentially because we were reluctant to trust the Republican party on issues of foreign policy and because we believe these issues to be the decisive issues of the campaign, towering high above all domestic issues—for the clear and sufficient reason that without a sound and courageous foreign policy the safety, the prosperity, even the very independence of this nation would be endangered."

"In General Eisenhower we have a man who shares this conviction. We are confident that he would be able to lead even the laggards among his fellow Republicans away from isolation and toward world responsibility."

KOREA—The Korean peace talks settled down to a series of name calling, bitterness, and increasing suspicion. Although some progress has been made toward peace during the long months of talking, it is becoming more evident that a final and lasting peace can not be secured in such an atmosphere.

The Russians, meanwhile, indicated they wanted a greater voice in the talks to settle a war they don't even recognize, by asking for a meeting of the United Nations security council to consider the armistice negotiations. The proposal was rejected at once by the United States, Great Britain and France. American officials said such a session—where Russia has a veto—would worsen the prospect of peace in Korea by bringing political issues into the negotiations.

ECONOMY—Charles E. Wilson, director of defense mobilization, has predicted a severe pinch in civilian goods for the first three months of this year. The prediction was made in Wilson's annual report of rearmament under the national emergency program.

He predicted: (1) Materials for consumer goods in general in the first quarter of 1952 are sharply reduced from the levels of the first quarter of 1951. On the basis of present calculations the second quarter allotments will be even tighter; (2) Requirements of the military and atomic-energy programs for most materials will either continue at the same levels throughout 1952 or rise slightly; (3) After military and atomic energy needs are met in such strategic materials as steel, aluminum, and copper, the material remaining will be divided between industrial expansion, consumer goods, public services, limited export requirements, and stockpiling.

As for the past year, Wilson termed it one of great progress, but said more could have been accomplished.

CHURCHILL—Winston Churchill, who will go down in history as one of the great men of our times arrived in the United States for a series of huddles with President Truman and top military brass. Mr. Churchill's agenda was almost as magnificent as his personal appearance. It included everything from economic aid to plans for joint defense of the west.

The key to the talks was quickly revealed when President Truman met the 77-year-old Prime Minister at a Washington airport. Said the President: "I can't tell you when I have had more pleasure than I have this morning in welcoming you as a visitor to the United States of America." Replied Mr. Churchill, with the force and clarity of the Roosevelt days: "We have only to go along together, each doing loyally his best to understand the other's point of view and we shall find ourselves safe at the end of the road."

There followed a series of meetings between the President and Mr. Churchill, and Mr. Churchill and top military brass. The complete results of these talks may not be known for years, but it is evident they have resulted in closer cooperation between the two countries. Churchill, no doubt, has received assurances of economical help so badly needed by Great Britain. Whether or not Britain will join in the European defense army with greater enthusiasm than previously indicated has not been announced. Most observers believed that was one of the Prime Minister's bargaining points.

SCANDALS—The second session of the 82nd congress had been in session just a few hours when it became evident the nation is in for more months of spectacular investigation.

In the senate and house there were committees and subcommittees in every corner screaming for more investigations of corruption in high places, income tax frauds, murder, and underworld activities. It was evident, too, that there would be more investigations of Communists in government and defense industries.

Meanwhile, Attorney General J. Howard McGrath continues his new offensive against organized crime in the nation. McGrath's drive started after Treasury department agents swooped down on suspected narcotic offenders and arrested more than 500 persons.

It was evident the two drives were a part of the administration's announced plan to clean up crime and graft. But in the eyes of most home towners, the administration's campaign is a little like locking the barn door after the horse has been stolen.

FARM ELECTION STRATEGY

Democrats May Stand Pat on Farm Policy

According to reports circulating around Washington, the administration is unlikely to change its farm policy in the face of the approaching presidential campaign. The strategy, observers are reporting, will be to concentrate on the claim that a Republican victory in 1952 would endanger existing benefits of the farm program, and sidetracking any controversial issues that might arise. Democratic advisors point out that the plan worked well in 1944 and 1948. In 1949 the administration pushed the Brannan plan which would have made much greater use of federal subsidies to maintain agricultural prosperity. National farm organizations put up stiff resistance to the plan and it failed to get approval of the congress.

Teen-Agers Build Local Recreation Center Into Community Boon for All Age Groups

World War II kept the teen-agers in South Boston, Virginia, busy helping with the various drives, collecting scrap, fats, waste paper, rubber—After V-J day they could find no outlet for their surplus time and energy. They became bored and restless; roamed the streets and got into bad company.

In an effort to find a way to use properly the misdirected energy of their young people, South Boston's Parent-Teacher Association called a meeting of representative parents, teachers and high school pupils. The feeling of every adult present was expressed by a member of the local Lion's Club who declared, "Something must be done!"

The very next day he did something. He presented a plan for a community recreation center to the high school student body. Such a center, he told the pupils, would be no easy undertaking. It would mean hard work and constant attention.

The kids, however, were for it. They appointed a committee of five to sound out representatives of the Lion's Club, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Women's Club, American Legion Auxiliary and the Parent-Teacher Association. To get workable ideas, the committee visited recreation centers in Radford and Danville. After which they made their own plans and submitted them to the Town Council described as "a group of business men who demanded hard facts."

The Juniors evidently presented their side convincingly, for the Council gave its consent, appointed a commission and appropriated money.

Backed by an officially approved recreation commission, the junior committee found a building, an unoccupied garage. In their blue jeans and with sleeves rolled up, they made it ready for occupancy. They scraped thick layers of black grease off the floor; applied lye, then scrubbed the boards with soap and water. They painted the walls, drew cartoons and other designs for good measure. Grown-up groups rolled in equipment, furniture, curtains, tablecloths; the Junior Chamber of Commerce furnished the game room; the Legion Auxiliary and Women's Club, the reception room and office; the Lion's Club and other groups built a stage and dressing rooms and filled in a parking lot.

They named it the "Rectangle Club" and all residents of South Boston, between the ages of 13 and 19 could join. Membership tickets admit one to the Club's activities or to use of the building.

The Club is financed by appropriations from the town council; from dues (50 cents a year) and the profits from a snack bar.

During its early operation, the Club had voluntary adult supervision. The recreation commission, however, realized that they could not expect voluntary supervision to continue indefinitely, so the executive director—then principal of the high school—insisted upon a paid director. And the town council came across with the money.

One of the nice things about the Rectangle Club is the encouragement the recreation commission gives to universal participation. As a result, other age-groups besides the teen-agers, both younger and older, enjoy the recreational facilities of a center which the whole community can call its own. On nights when the Center is not used by the members, it is available to other age-groups. A Sketch Club for instance, uses the Center building every Thursday night.

The vision of maturity, backed by the energy of youth, made possible the Rectangle Club. Also the fact that the teen-agers themselves were included in the decisions and plans from the very beginning. Another decisive factor was the provision for participation of other age-groups. Experienced youth recreational directors find that centers which are run for and by juniors exclusively may start off with a bang but they are not apt to last long.

So it was these three, vision, cooperation and participation by adults and teen-agers together, that solved South Boston's youth problem and made its all-age recreation center an enduring success.

Don't Fall For It

During the past two or three years I have had numerous inquiries regarding the success of TELEVISION reception in this area, and feel that a few timely remarks pertaining to the subject may be of interest to a good many of neighbors.

If you wish to buy a Television set I am in position to sell you one and feel that my training and experience in the electronic field, qualifies me to recommend the best on the market. However in the six years that I have been in business in Brackettville I have sought to build upon principals of honesty and integrity, and I would rather have the good will of the public than the profit which can be made on the sale of a Television receiver.

Under the present day standards the Kinney County area is beyond the range for good consistent Television reception. True there are a few sets now in operation in the town and surrounding community which are giving fair results when the weather and the atmosphere conditions are favorable. Yet for the protection of their reputation the leading manufacturers do not erect on sets in such remote areas.

Further it will be well to note that the Television industry is still in its infancy, and that during the coming year we are faced with drastic changes in the methods of transmission, ultra high frequency color television etc. which will in time make many existing receivers obsolete, necessitating the purchase of new instrument or the complete rebuilding of the present one.

If you have a thousand or fifteen hundred dollars which you wish to spend on a hobby or in experimentation, again I say, I'll be glad to sell you one and install it for you. Television is here to stay and will, I believe, in a very short time be made available to all at a reasonable price and in such a manner that we can enjoy it at its best, in the mean time if some one comes knocking on your door trying to sell you the idea that he can give you all these advantages now, DON'T FALL FOR IT!

If there any questions pertaining to this subject which you would like answered, I shall be glad to help you in so far as my limited knowledge will permit. I don't know all the answers but will be honest and frank with any one about what I do know. You are invited to stop at the BRACKETTVILLE RADIO SERVICE, and talk the matter over with (Adv)

SURVEY MACK ROAD

The last week the highway department began the surveying of the Mack road as a preliminary to activating this highway project under the Farm to Market schedule.

The upper portion of the highway between Highway 90 west of Brackettville and the railroad, was first designated as such and recently the highway department incorporated the remainder of the Mack highway from the railroad to the Eagle Pass Del Rio highway with the existing intention and purpose of letting contracts for the completing this entire stretch of highway at one time.

The March of Dimes organization maintains equipment depots in seven strategically located cities to speed shipment of iron lungs, hot pack machines and other essential polio-fighting supplies to any stricken area.

A guy showed us a book of "Toasts" as they had in the good old days. Asked us if they really quoted that stuff before drinking. We told him "yes". He muttered something of how nutty and sentimental they were in them days. Probably, we agree. But they didn't want to get on a quick one, and drink to no one else's health. They were gentlemen back yonder, even when they started trying to outstare that demon rum's "red" eye.

Safety Week Observed

By E. F. VANTRESE

So you want to know what was going on Monday afternoon? The Texas highway patrol was giving demonstration on the distance that it takes the average person to stop a car at various speeds.

The device used is known as the brake detonator. By the accurate use of the detonator it is able to measure the reaction distance of a person when driving an automobile. The test are made at 15 miles per hour and at 30 miles per hour.

The following scores were made in the run Monday:

Patrolman Bergstrom speed 15 MPH. Reaction distance 8'2" Stopping distance 8'7" Total 16'9"
Sheedy 80 16'8" 47'11" 64'2"
Neimier 15 10'8" 10'2" 20'10"
Pierce 15 9'6" 10'0" 19'6"
McKinney 15 13'4" 17'10" 31'2"

In the second test run at 30 miles per hour the speed was doubled but the total stopping time was four times the distance of the first tests.

Not counting the test run made by Patrolman Bergstrom the best total stopping distance was that of Johnny Sheedy at 30 miles per hour and Pete Pierce had the best stopping distance at 15 miles per hour.

The automobile used in the demonstration was a new car that only had 560 miles on the speedometer, also the brakes had been adjusted and were working about 95 per cent accurate on braking power. Could your car do that?

About 500 people witnessed this demonstration including school children carry safety posters. On Friday February 1st, the patrol will be in town to assist the New World Study Club in awarding blue ribbons to safe drivers for the day. Why not match a Couple of older men on the braking test for that day?

The following Texas highway Patrolmen were in Brackettville to assist with the demonstration: R. E. Hale and Black of Del Rio and E. F. Vantrese, District Safety Officer for the San Antonio District of the Patrol. Vantrese also showed films in the the Carver School and to the Elementary School and High School. Each film showing was preceded by a safety talk.

TRAFFIC SAFETY POSTERS WINNERS

Winners of the traffic safety poster contest which was participated in by the local schools, resulted in winners as follows:

High School—First prize Ed Hall. Second prize, Mary Lou Green. Third prize, Harold Jackson, all from Carver school.
Elementary School—5-6-7 grades. First prize, Ola Nunley, Carver. Second prize Paul Arredondo, Brackett. Third prize, Charles Etta Roach, Carver. 4th Helen Louise Jefferson, Carver.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Serve a Tempting Main Dish—Pin Wheel Shortcakes (See Recipes Below)

Budgetwise Meals

BUDGET MEALS are much in demand currently, but they still must satisfy the family in taste appeal and appetite interest. If the homemaker does the kind of job she should, both in trimming her food budget a few dollars a week, and keeping the family happy with meals served, only she need be the one to be aware of the economy.

Just as it's inspiring to turn out an interesting meal from leftovers, so is it to turn some inexpensive dishes into attractive meals that have color, glamor and eating pleasure.

To trim down costs on dishes as much as possible, make wise use of leftovers so that nothing of value is ever fed into the garbage pail. Another good way is to use canned foods alone or in combination as they will substantially lower the cost of food.

Here's a satisfying as well as handsome main dish that is appealing to the eye as well as nutritionally adequate.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU
Cream of Tomato Soup
Crackers Relishes
*Meat Pin Wheel Shortcakes
Tossed Green Salad
Banana Cream Pie Beverage
*Recipe Given

1/2 teaspoon salt
Few grains black pepper
1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
Sliced meat loaf
2 tablespoons melted fat
2 teaspoons worcestershire sauce
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
1/2 cup raw carrot slices

Combine butter, crumbs and onion. Add potatoes, grated carrot, salt, pepper, poultry seasoning and parsley; place in greased baking dish. Top with meat. Combine fat, worcestershire sauce and mustard; pour over meat. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Garnish with carrot slices.

Corned Beef Ring (Serves 6)

1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 cup soft bread crumbs
2 tablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons butter, melted
1/2 teaspoon freshly ground pepper
2 cups finely diced corned beef (12-ounce can)
1 cup milk
2 eggs, slightly beaten

Combine mustard, bread crumbs, onion, green pepper, butter, pepper and corned beef; mix well. Combine milk and eggs, add to corned beef mixture, mix well. Pack into well-greased 1-quart ring mold, place in pan of water. Bake about 30 minutes in moderate oven (350° F.) Fill center with creamed peas.

When you're in a hurry, put the pressure cooker to good use by cooking a dinner in it that would ordinarily take much longer. An hour or more of cooking time can be cut down to actual 15 to 20 minutes with this savory dinner:

Quick Chop Suey (Serves 6-8)

1/2 pound lean pork, diced
1 pound round steak, diced
1 tablespoon fat
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 1/2 cups chopped onion
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1 1/2 teaspoons sugar
2 tablespoons soy sauce
1 tablespoon concentrated meat extract
1 cup hot water
1 tablespoon dark molasses
1 No. 2 can (2 1/2 cups) bean sprouts
5 tablespoons cornstarch
1/2 cup cold water

Brown meats in hot fat. Add seasonings, vegetables, sugar, soy sauce, meat extract, water and molasses. Heat to 15 pounds pressure. Cook 10 minutes. Reduce pressure gradually. Add bean sprouts. Combine cornstarch and cold water; stir into mixture and cook over low heat until thickened; stir constantly. Serve over fried noodles.

When you're using canned vegetables, drain off the liquid and cook until reduced in half. Then add the vegetable and just heat through. They'll have more flavor in this way.

Don't toss away those large outer stalks of celery. Dice and cook them until tender, then add white sauce. Add a few leftover green peas for color, if desired.

Waxed or yellow beans can be both flavorful and colorful if you add to them some chopped pimiento, lemon juice and melted butter.

BUILDERS OF POWER EQUIPMENT FOR THE FAMILY FARM

This Illinois Farmer Says: "I CAN ALWAYS DEPEND ON FIRESTONE OPEN CENTERS TO TAKE ME THROUGH"

"I farm 240 acres of black loam, and I've found that there are times when I need tires with extra traction to get my work done. I choose Firestone Open Centers for my farm, because they have the traction that will always take me through. In my opinion they're the best tractor tires a farmer can use."

LAWRENCE O. LARSON
ORION, ILLINOIS

THERE'S only one sure way to tell the difference between tractor tires, and that is to put them to work. On any job, you can soon see that the Firestone Champion Open Center outpulls all other open center tires.

From the tractor seat you'll soon see why it outpulls all other tires. It's the only open center tire with Power-Arc traction bars, tapered and curved to take a full-traction bite deep into the ground. And it's the only tire that is designed to cup the soil for a stronger grip and give positive cleaning as well.

Of course if you are one of the million or more farmers who prefer a traction-center type of tire, be sure to get the only traction-center tire ever built... the Firestone Champion Traction Center.

Buy Firestone Champions for your tractor. You'll find them the best tires you can use.

OPS Ceilings Affect Potatoes

Under recent orders of OPS, white potatoes will come under dollars-and-cents ceiling price regulations January 19, the Office of Price Stabilization announced.

Officials said that this is the first of a series of regulations to be issued covering fresh vegetables, which have recently shown marked price increases.

Liquor Dealers Get OPS Delay

Sellers of all distilled spirits, wines, cordials, and liqueurs were granted more time in which to complete OPS forms due by January 15, OPS officials announced this week.

The new date set is February 1.

OPS Reduces Raw Wool Ceilings

A rollback in raw wool ceiling prices, to take effect within 90 days, will average slightly more than 20 percent below ceilings established last May, OPS officials said this week.

The new ceilings represent the lowest levels which can practically be established under the amended Defense Production Act, which sets a "floor" of 90 percent of the price by grade received by growers on May 19, 1951.

Current market prices are below the new established ceilings.
