A PROPOSITION IN MARKETING COTTON.

Education And The General Practice of Business Methods is Necessary to Succeed in Farming.

ALL INTERESTS SHOULD COOPERATE AND ASSIST THE PRODUCER
IN BECOMING ALSO THE PRICE-MAKER AND SELLER.

The statement going the rounds of the press to the effect that both the Farmers Union and the Southern States Cotton Corporation are making, or have already made, arrangements to finance the distress cotton of the South by loans at six per cent interest, is holding the attention of the commercial interests as well as that of the farmer and agricultural interests.

It is proposed that the price of cotton be made at a standard of fifteen cents a pound on the market at all times and at all places, and in order to secure and maintain such a price more than three hundred millions of dollars will be placed at the disposal of farmers at six per cent interest per annum by financiers and men of money. By the methods proposed the Cotton Corporation guarantees to the cotton producer a price of fifteen cents for all cotton sold through the organization.

The cotton marketing proposition is one of the greatest financial problems of the country, and one in which all business concerns as well as the producer are materially interested. Texas is the greatest cotton growing state and in this section cotton is the principal "money" crop. When farmers fail to grow big crops of cotton or sell the staple at a small price we have hard times, the towns and the general public as well as the farmers suffer as a result. And yet but few, if any of us, do anything to solve the problem and get the situation under our control and without the power of manipulators and speculators. All interests of the South should cooperate, with and assist the cotton producer to the end that he assume his proper position as price-maker and seller of his own products. Every farmer in the country hauls cotton into town to sell with the least idea of any business man as to the actual cost of growing and marketing the staple. He works all the year planting, cultivating and picking a few bales of cotton, brings it to town and sells it for any price offered without the least consideration of the cost of production. Education and business methods are two acquisitions necessary to the success of the farming business. Every merchant figures the cost of merchandise, adds a per cent of profit and figures expenses in fixing a selling price, otherwise an assignment is soon made and the sheriff takes charge. Farming is as much of a business as merchandising and banking, and to succeed a farmer requires a more extensive and broader education and a more practical system of management than any other business man. Many men who know nothing of soil culture nor its adaption to the various products enters the business of farming, makes a failure, curses the country, says the system is all wrong and recommends that our system of government be changed as a remedy.

We do not pretend to know anything about the propositions offered by either the Farmers Union or the Cotton Corporation, but are of the opinion that their systems will give temporary relief in the more successful marketing of cotton. However, we are of the opinion further that real, permanent relief to the cotton producers and farming interests will come only through more thorough information, education, systematic and practical business management on the part of the farmers, and so long as they depend upon other men and other interests to do the head work and figuring to that end the farmer will continue to do the sowing and the other fellow reap the pie.

DICKENS COUNTY MAN WALKS $250 MILES.

B. F. Garrett of Tap, Dickens county, Texas, arrived in Carlton Monday after a journey of about 250 miles, walking the entire distance in exactly three weeks.

Mr. Garrett is an ex-Confederate soldier 94 years old, but active considering his age.

He left Dickens county three weeks ago with the intention of visiting his grandson, who he told us lived ten miles below Waco, making a total distance of 350 miles he was intending to walk on account of having no money, but when he reached Carlton and the good citizens learned his situation there was a purse of $4.00 made up for him, besides carrying him to the depot and buying him a ticket to Waco, for which he seemed to be very thankful.—Carlton Citizen.

RURAL MAIL ESTABLISHED

AN EVIDENCE OF SETTLEMENT AND DEVELOPMENT PROGRESS.

A Fore-Runner of Many Rural Free Mail Routes to Be Established in The Years to Come.

In response to the efforts of Postmaster Baker and the demands of the rapidly settling and developing country surrounding Spur the first rural free delivery mail route is established out of Spur and the first trip over the route was made Tuesday of this week.

The route is under the supervision of Horace Gibson of Steel Hill, and covers a territory of twenty two and one-half miles, supplying about seventy five rural families with mail each day. The route runs south six miles to Tol Merriman's, thence east to Steel Hill, thence south about two miles, thence east to Duck Creek, then north to the J. Carlisle place and thence up the railroad and back into Spur.

Spur Rural Mail Route No. One is only one of a number to be established later as the country becomes more densely populated and acceptable roads built. The country is rapidly settling, farms developing in every section, the people prospering and as others come to build homes and assist in the transformation of a once vast cow range into blooming fields we assure them that Spur stands ready to furnish every convenience of a live, twentieth century town and commercial center.

DRAWING ON THE MORE DENSE POPULATION.

Robert Nichols and family, of Mart, unloaded a car of household goods in Spur this week and hauled them to the northwest part of the county where they own several sections of land and will make their permanent home in the future. Dickens county and the Spur country continues to draw on the more densely populated portions of the country for settlers and home builders, and such men as Robert Nichols are substantial additions to the country and welcome citizens of this section.

I will take boarders the first. $18.00 per month. Would like four young men.—Phone 27.

PLAN STORING WATER IN WESTERN TEXAS

The State Legislature Should Consider An Appropriation
To Consummate The Proposed Plan.

WESTERN TEXAS IS IN THE BEGINNING OF DEVELOPMENT PRO-GRESS & IS ENTITLED TO CONSIDERATION AND ASSISTANCE.

There are a number of prominent and well informed men who have spent many years in Western Texas, familiar with conditions and prevailing seasons of this section, now talking and urging the storage of the water by rainfall, claiming that by so doing the rainfall will be not only increased but become more regular, thus placing Western Texas as a whole in an enviable and more desirable position with respect to seasons and diversified crop conditions.

The proposed plan is to build tanks in suitable and convenient places in every community of the country, dam the creeks and rivers and in thus storing large quantities of water over the entire western territory it is stated that as a result regular and more liberal rainfalls will be insured.

It is further proposed that not only individual land owners and citizens contribute to this end by assisting by work and funds in the building of tanks and dams, but that the proposition be submitted through our representatives to the State Legislature with a view of securing an adequate sum of money to consummate such a proposition. We of Western Texas have continuous and uninterrupted paid in funds for many years in the form of taxes to the state treasury, and should such a proposition prove effective as it is practicable it will be of inestimable material benefit, and since the western portion of the state, within our knowledge, has ever received or asked for an appropriation from the state department for any purpose we consider that we are entitled to an appropriation, especially wherein the people in general and the country at large will be materially benefitted. In years past the lands of Western Texas as well as funds of the state treasury were appropriated for the more complete development of the eastern portion of the state, and now since we are in the beginning of development progress we need and are entitled to consideration and aid at the hands of those whom we suc-cored in the years of distress.

Western Texas is an empire within itself, and although in this the beginning of our development progress, disadvantages are encountered, yet such impediments are not insurmountable, the people are intelligent, practicable and most progressive, and failing to obtain from outside sources assistance and encouragement in any undertaking for the general welfare of the people and the advancement of our country, we will not despair. After a thorough investigation by competent men finding that the water storage proposition will be effective as feasible, should the Legislature refuse to make the desired appropriation, it is further planned that bonds be issued by the various counties to supply a fund to execute the proposed plan of water storage.

We of Western Texas are now doing the initial work in the development of an agricultural empire of unlimited resources, appreciating the great possibilities and realizing the few disadvantages, we ask the people at large for friendly cooperation and consideration of our appeal for assistance at the hands of the state department.

FIRST BALE MARKETED AND $38 PRIZE AWARDED

Tuesday the first bale of cotton of the 1912 season was sold on the Spur market by J. Carlisle of the Gilpin country, several miles southeast of Spur.

The bale was bought by Bryant-Link Company at ten and a half cents a pound, thus opening the Spur cotton market at a fair price for the season.

In addition to the market price paid Mr. Carlisle was given a prize amounting to thirty eight dollars made up by the business men of Spur.

During the day two other bales of cotton were sold at the same price of ten and a half cents.

After this week the fall season will be in full blast and the fleecy staple rolling in from every section of the surrounding country, business will take on new life and Spur will offer attractive inducements as a market and trading point. For inducements offered the trade your attention is directed to the advertisements appearing in The Texas Spur.

STATE EXPERIMENTAL FARM STATION AT SPUR

Recognizing the great possibilities and wonderful future of Spur Farm Lands, the state is now operating an Experimental Farm Station at Spur. This will be a great benefit to the settlers in this region, showing them by actual demonstration on the lands what crops can be most profitably raised; best methods of cultivation, and assisting in all the problems of the farm. This decision was reached after a visit to the lands by Judge Ed. R. Kone, Commissioner of Agriculture, and Dr. H. H. Harrington, Director of Experimental Stations, who recognized the unusual farming value.

To the first comers, ready to develop, we are willing to sell one-half our holdings of 673 square miles on easy terms and reasonable price. We reserve the other half for big increase sure to come with development. We stand shoulder to shoulder with the homeseeker. Cotton, no boll weevil, corn, alfalfa, all feed stuffs, grains, fruits, melons, vegetables. Great hog country—no cholera ever known. The hog farmer is king, and nowhere can hogs be matured so cheaply. Quick run to Fort Worth market. Delightful, healthful climate—altitude 2000 to 2,500. The great extent and variety of land insure the homeseeker such range of selection that the man early on the ground can find exactly what he wants. SELECT COTTON SEED NOW

The average farmer picks his cotton as it opens, gins it, sells lint and seed, and then about the last of the season, hauls home seed enough for next year's planting. In this way, as a rule, he saves the latest and the poorest seed.

If, when the cotton begins to open, the farmer, with as much intelligent help as the size of the crop will warrant, would go through the field and select the early big bolls that are grown on short-jointed, vigorous, well-formed stalks, until he has saved enough to furnish seed for next year's planting, and would have this seed ginned to itself, and carefully store it where it will not heat, it is safe to say that the next season's crop would ripen ten or fifteen days earlier than the average of this year's crop, and that the yield would be practically doubled.

It would be just as reasonable to shake down the apples promiscuously from a tree and take them to the Fair, hoping to win a premium in competition with a man who had selected only the choicest specimens, or to turn all of your stock loose to breed indiscriminately instead of forcing the survival of the fittest by the most rigid selection, and expect to improve your stock, as it is to plant seed of any kind without selecting with the greatest care the most vigorous and the best, and hope for good results.

It is fair to say that ten per cent of the cotton seed selected as above suggested is infinitely superior to the average of the other ninety per cent; therefore, if you plant only the average of the whole you invite deterioration at nine to one.

Every cotton grower, from the man who raises one bale to the man who raises one hundred bales, can very greatly increase his yield and his profit by this simple and inexpensive method.

This is something that you can all do in your own field; try it.—HENRY EXALL, President Texas Industrial Congress.

Marketing Cotton

ANNUAL VALUE OF TEXAS COTTON CROP $220,000,000.

Cotton is the most profitable crop known in agriculture and it is one of the most useful and powerful of American industries. Millions cultivate the plant, as many more weave at its looms and its fibre clothes mankind. The plant yields the Texas producers a million dollars per day; its harvest moves the world's currency across the continent and, when marketed, the bulls and bears of two hemispheres tear at it until one or the other falls with a crash that can be heard around the world.

The Texas Welfare Commission is studying methods of marketing cotton. W. T. Loudermilk of DeLeon is chairman of the sub-committee having the subject under consideration.

Will have a line of the latest in this season's millinery on display at my Millinery Parlors next door to the Central Rooming House, September 10.—Mrs. W. H. Stephens.

Miss Nora Link, of O'Brien, Texas, came in Saturday to spend the winter with her sister, Mrs. A. T. Tidwell, and to attend the Spur High School.

Mrs. Minnie Phillips, who was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Smith of the city, from San Angelo is now at the Standifer Hospital having had an operation.

Judge O. S. Ferguson was in the city last week from Dickens and while here was a pleasant caller at the Texas Spur office. Judge Ferguson received the Democratic nomination at the recent election for County Judge of Dickens county. He was formerly County Judge and it is said that he left the cleanest office records of any judge the county ever had, and we are confident that he will again make an efficient and satisfactory officer to the majority of the people.

Mrs. W. B. Griffin is just back from market with a full line of up-to-date Hats, and is prepared to please the most fastidious.

GILPIN HAPPENINGS

L. W. Billberry and family visited relatives at Afton last week.

Cotton Seed Products

Value $8,700,000

Value $29,350,000

THE VALUE OF COTTON SEED IS FIVE TIMES GREATER THAN THE WHEAT AND OAT CROP COMBINED.

From the manner in which lint cotton has conquered its rivals in the field of production and consumption, one would think the victory complete, but the half has not been told. Cotton seed, a quarter of a century ago considered a poisonous product has demonstrated its merit as a food for man and beast. The Federal Agricultural Department recognizes sixty commercial uses for cottonseed and its by-products. Twenty-four per cent of the cottonseed crushed in the United States is harvested in Texas.

The Texas Welfare Commission will investigate the production and marketing of cottonseed and its by-products. R. E. Huff of Wichita Falls is chairman of the sub-committee having the subject in charge.

SPUR COUNTRY GROWS THE CHAMPION CANE.

B. C. Palmer brought two stalks of cane to the Texas Spur office the latter part of last week and which were grown on his place five miles northwest of Spur. This cane is claimed to be the champion of this or any other section of country and will continue to hold the championship until its superior is brought to light. This cane is wholly a product of Western Texas, the seed having come from the earliest cane products of this section, this latest product having developed into stalks measuring ten feet high, being exceedingly juicy and highly flavored and no doubt would make molasses second only to the noted Ribbon Cane. The great productivity of the soil of the Spur country is further evidenced by the fact that the cane was planted on late sod and developed with a single plowing and no special care and attention.

FOR SALE—20 acre block west of Spur, well improved. Will take some trade and sell at a bargain. T. A. Edmondson. 39-4t.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or Any Constable of Dickens County, Greeting:

Oath having been made as required by law You are hereby commanded to summon J. A. Reeves by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the 50th Judicial District; but if there be no newspaper published in the nearest District to said 50th Judicial District, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Dickens County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Dickens, on the 4th Monday in November, A. D. 1912, the same being the 25th day of November A. D. 1912, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 14th day of August A. D. 1912, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 377, wherein Jennie Reeves is Plaintiff, and J. A. Reeves is Defendant, and said petition alleging that Plaintiff is an actual bona fide inhabitant of the State of Texas, and has resided in the said County of Dickens for at least six months next preceeding the filing of this suit; that on or about the 18th day of January, 1910, in Dickens, Texas, Plaintiff was lawfully married to Defendant and that they had no children born to them; that at, and before said date, this Plaintiff's name was Mrs. Jennie Pritchett.

That they continued to live together as husband and wife until on or about June 11th, 1910, when by cruel and harsh treatment and improper conduct of Defendant toward Plaintiff, she was forced and compelled to abandon him, since which time they have not lived together as husband and wife; that during the time of their living together, the Defendant was indolent and made no effort to provide support for this Plaintiff, and that they accumulated no community property nor has this Plaintiff now any property of any nature acquired by their joint efforts.

Plaintiff alleges that during the time she and Defendant lived together as aforesaid, she was kind and affectionate toward him, and at all times conducted herself in a lady-like and prudent manner, but Defendant unmindful of his duties and obligations of his marital vow, one week after their marriage began a course of harsh, cruel, unkind and tyrannical treatment toward Plaintiff, which continued to grow worse until Plaintiff was forced and compelled to abandon Defendant as aforesaid.

That Defendant often cursed and abused Plaintiff and applied to her the vilest and most opprobrious epithets, without any cause or provocation whatever on the part of the Plaintiff.

That on or about February 1st, 1910, at their home in Dickens County, Texas, Defendant cursed and abused Plaintiff by taking hold of her and told her that if she was a man, he would not leave a drop of blood in her, all without any cause or provocation on the part of Plaintiff.

That on divers and different times he told her that he had never loved her; tried to make her leave home and threatened to kill her if she failed to do certain things, and accused this Plaintiff of being an unchaste woman; which accusation was false and untrue.

That said marriage relations between Plaintiff and Defendant still exist. Plaintiff alleges that Defendant's actions and conduct toward her generally are of such a nature as to render their further living together as husband and wife insupportable; the premises considered.

Wherefore Plaintiff prays the Court that Defendant be cited to appear and answer herein and for judgment dissolving their marriage relations, for the restoration of her name to Jennie Pritchett, for costs of suit and for such other and further relief, special and general, in law and equity, that she may be justly entitled to, etc.

R. S. HOLMAN, Attorney for Plaintiff.

Herein fail not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness, Crawford Cobb, Clerk of the District Court of Dickens County.

Given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Dickens, Texas, this the 14th day of August A. D. 1912.

SELECT COTTON SEED NOW

The average farmer picks his cotton as it opens, gins it, sells lint and seed, and then about the last of the season, hauls home seed enough for next year's planting. In this way, as a rule, he saves the latest and the poorest seed.

If, when the cotton begins to open, the farmer, with as much intelligent help as the size of the crop will warrant, would go through the field and select the early big bolls that are grown on short-jointed, vigorous, well-formed stalks, until he has saved enough to furnish seed for next year's planting, and would have this seed ginned to itself, and carefully store it where it will not heat, it is safe to say that the next season's crop would ripen ten or fifteen days earlier than the average of this year's crop, and that the yield would be practically doubled.

It would be just as reasonable to shake down the apples promiscuously from a tree and take them to the Fair, hoping to win a premium in competition with a man who had selected only the choicest specimens, or to turn all of your stock loose to breed indiscriminately instead of forcing the survival of the fittest by the most rigid selection, and expect to improve your stock, as it is to plant seed of any kind without selecting with the greatest care the most vigorous and the best, and hope for good results.

It is fair to say that ten per cent of the cotton seed selected as above suggested is infinitely superior to the average of the other ninety per cent; therefore, if you plant only the average of the whole you invite deterioration at nine to one.

Every cotton grower, from the man who raises one bale to the man who raises one hundred bales, can very greatly increase his yield and his profit by this simple and inexpensive method.

This is something that you can all do in your own field; try it.—HENRY EXALL, President Texas Industrial Congress.
