A well tilled farm is more valuable to the owner and the community than an oil gusher.

DICKENS COUNTY FACES GREATEST DEVELOPMENT ERA IN ITS HISTORY

Inexhaustible Potash Beds Leased for Immediate Development by Responsible Parties.

Much has been said in the past of the wonderful possibilities and resources of Dickens county with reference to her agricultural and livestock interests, but little if anything has been said or generally known of her underground resources.

Last week J. Carlisle leased a portion of his farm southeast of Spur on Duck Creek to the Hutton interests of Louisiana for the immediate development of potash beds on the place, actual work of mining the potash to begin not later than December 14th.

The developing interests will build a spur railway track from Gilpin to the Carlisle farm, a distance of two and a half miles, and over which the crude potash will be shipped temporarily to the markets. Later a smelting or refining plant will be established at the mines, where the various by-products will be separated and finished for the markets of the world.

Mr. Carlisle's lease contract calls for the payment of one dollar per ton royalty as the potash is removed from the mine. Those who have given the potash beds thorough examination and calculation, say that five millions of tons are in sight on the Carlisle place, with inexhaustible quantities underground.

Mr. Blackwell, who lives two and a half miles from the Carlisle place, also let the Hutton interests have the potash beds on his place, selling outright his interest and royalty in the beds for five thousand dollars cash in hand paid. Development will also be extended to the Blackwell farm.

The discovery, leasing and development of the potash beds marks the beginning of the greatest development era in the history of Dickens county, and while potash resources will bring in millions of dollars, its development is merely the beginning in the process of uncovering our underground riches which are unlimited and inestimable. Several years ago one of the highly recognized geologists of America passed through Dickens county when oil was beginning to develop in the state, making a casual survey here, and remarked that while oil was indicated the riches from this source would not be a consideration in comparison with the riches indicated from other mineral products under Dickens county soil.

It requires time to get the proper parties interested in "wildcat" projects and money to develop unseen resources, but in the years to come Dickens county will witness unbelievable activity and experience undreamed riches from the development of underground and now dormant resources.

FIRST DIRT BROKEN IN THE CONSTRUCTION OF NEW CHURCH

Monday morning at nine o'clock the first dirt was broken in the construction of the new thirty thousand dollar brick Baptist church building. Very impressive ceremonies were conducted, and in breaking the first dirt the pastors of the several churches of Spur assisted L. L. F. Parker, pastor of the Baptist church.

Work of laying the foundation and construction of the basement is now in progress. When complete this will be one of the handsomest and most modern church structures in this section of the West.

NEW GIN AT McADOO WILL BE READY FOR OPERATION SOON

Work has progressed rapidly in rebuilding the new gin plant recently destroyed by fire at McAdoo, and it is thought the gin will be ready for operation by next Saturday.

It is very unfortunate that this plant was destroyed. However, it is estimated that more than half of the cotton is yet unginned in that section. In view of the delay in getting this plant in operation it is said that the Wake gin has ginned about 1,500 bales of cotton from this territory, while Spur, Roaring Springs and Crosbyton has also ginned much of the staple of the McAdoo territory.

LESTER ERICSON BUYS INTEREST IN THOMPSON SHOE CO.

Lester Ericson, who has been farming and ranching the past year, last week purchased a half interest in the Thompson Shoe & Harness Co. and will hereafter be personally identified with the business.

The Thompson Shoe and Harness Co. machinery and equipments are the most complete and modern in all of Western Texas, having motor driven machines of every character needed in the manufacture and repair of shoes, harness, saddles and everything made of leather. The shop is a credit to the town and West Texas. Mr. Ericson and wife have moved to Spur from their farm and ranch home and will become permanent, resident citizens.

4,449 BALES COTTON GINNED AND WEIGHED IN SPUR TO DATE

Up to Friday morning of this week there had been ginned and weighed in Spur a total of 4,449 bales of cotton of the 1922 crop.

Of the five gins in operation in Spur, following is the number of bales ginned by each reporting: Citizens Gin, 1047; Milligan Gin 829; J. W. Baker Gin 825; Swift Gin 732; Farmers Gin 953.

Weighter Carlisle estimates that the cotton crop is now about half picked out, and in accord with his estimate Spur will get approximately 8,000 bales by the end of the season.

In addition to above estimate it is said that approximately 1,500 bales of Dickens county cotton has been ginned and marketed outside of the county.

The cotton crop in general of the Spur territory is turning out much better than at first estimated.

Friday morning the price of cotton on the Spur market ranged around twenty cents.

SATURDAY AN OLD TIME FALL DAY WITH MERCHANTS OF SPUR

Saturday the streets of Spur were lined with cars and vehicles, the sidewalks crowded with people, and the merchants had more customers and more business than could be attended to within the limited time. It was just such a day as we all enjoyed every week "before the war," when times were good, everybody had money and spent it freely. The return of old time business activity indicates "normalcy" and complete recovery from war inflations of several years past, and Spur business interests are meeting the situation from every angle.

Spur merchants are making competitive prices, carry large and varied stocks, and are again attracting the trade back to Spur. The markets offered here for every farm product, including hogs, poultry and livestock as well as cotton and feed stuff, is higher than any other market point in west Texas.

The fact that people are coming from distant communities to market and trade in Spur is some evidence that the inducements being offered in both marketing and trading is being appreciated.

THE SENATORIAL CAMPAIGN IS A BULL AND BEAR FIGHT

The attorney general has ruled that Peddy's name can not go on either the republican or independent ticket for the general election.

By an injunction the attorney general is restrained from placing the name of Mayfield on the democratic ticket, upon the allegation that he is not the legal democratic nominee and that more than ten thousand dollars was spent in his campaign.

It appears that the senatorial campaign will yet result in a bull and bear fight—and the Ku Klux Klan may split the democratic party as well as violate the constitution upon which is founded the United States government.

County Commissioner T. M. Green, Dickens, was a business visitor in Spur Saturday, spending the afternoon here meeting and greeting friends and acquaintances.

BUSINESS IS PROSPERING OVER NATION REPORTER SAYS

Washington, Sept. 30.—The federal reserve board declared tonight that the United States is now prospering in an era of general business recuperation, basing this conclusion on wide spread and encouraging reports of increased commercial and industrial activity.

The board emphasized these factors as significant of progress:

1. Several hundred thousand coal miners, railroad shopmen and textile workers are back at work. With the larger volume of employment, there has come substantial advances in wages, important increases being made in copper, steel, cotton and building industries.

2. Manufacturing is proceeding at high levels. Larger production is reported by most of the important industries. Iron and steel mills are booming ahead with increased demand from railroads and automobile companies. Building activity on a large scale is reported.

3. Banks are in a strong position. They are meeting seasonal demands with ease. This demand has produced an upward tendency in domestic money rates.

4. Farmers with bumper crops, occupy a more favorable position than for many years, though crop prospects showed a slight decline in conditions. Grain crops are being marketed more slowly than last year. Prospects for the spring wheat crop have materially improved.

Crop estimates have been reduced and some damage to cotton from boll weevil is reported. The farmer, however, faces a change of obtaining higher prices than at present, because of larger world demands.

Reserve banks report stronger spending power among the people. Retail trade has improved and business volume is larger than last year. The wholesale trade, as a result of the heavier buying, reflects improved business.

Comparisons with a year ago indicate improvement in all lines except groceries and shoes. Officials expect continued favorable reports throughout the winter because of the larger spending made possible by wider employment.

W. T. Lovell, of Draper, we understand, was in Spur the first of this week. From what his neighbors say, it may that he is so accustomed to dodging about among the rank growth on his farm, that when in town he inadvertently follows the same bent. However, it is said that he has picked out and marketed numerous bales of cotton up to this time, has many more in the field and when it is all sold will owe no man and have a surplus of cash to lend his friends who are not so fortunate—and this may be another reason for his actions when in town.

SIX INDICTED FOR LYNCHING IN FORT WORTH

Fort Worth, Tex.—Six men this afternoon were indicted for murder in connection with the lynching December 11 of Fred Rouse, negro strike breaker employed by a local packing plant.

Those indicted are John Roberts, Bud Maden, Tom Howell, Bugger Red Cantrell and Bill Atherton and Henry Tiller, former policeman.

Six days before Rouse was killed he was beaten by a mob after he had shot into a crowd of pickets and injured Tom and Tracy Maclin, brothers. After being taken to a hospital where he was recovering from his injuries, the negro was forcibly taken to a lonely spot north of the city, hanged to a tree and riddled with bullets.

W. A. Valentine, of west of Spur, was here with cotton Wednesday. He reports having a very good crop notwithstanding the conditions which have prevailed. It has long been said that West Texas is the most wonderful country in America, and each year this saying is more thoroughly demonstrated and proven.

S. Power, of Mineral Wells, was in Spur recently, spending several days here looking after property interests near McAdoo. In the early history of Spur Mr. Power was a citizen of Stephens county near Breckenridge, located in the middle of big oil developments, but nothing has yet been developed on his holdings in the royalty of which several Spur parties are interested with him. There is a possibility that some time in the future his holdings will bring forth the "golden fluid" to enrich those having the patience to await further development work.

WORKING OF THE HERD LAW

By request of a few of the voters, I am now writing my views on the herd law.

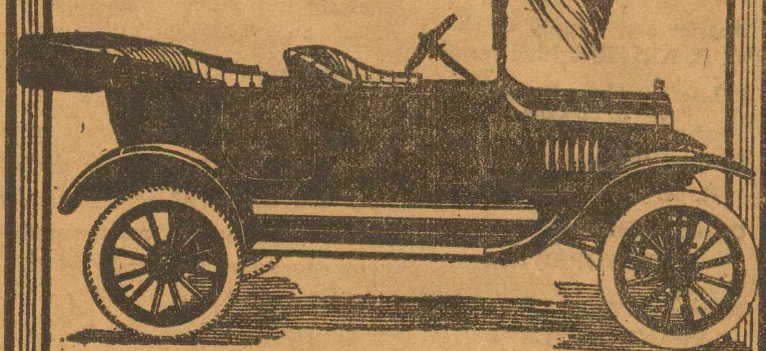

We all understand advice is cheap and often cheapens the one who is always ready to give it. What I have to say will not be in the spirit of advising, but more from observation of the workings of the herd law in the past.

1st, It will not prevent the moving of herds on the public roads. The public roads belong to the public, not to the people who may reside on them, or in the county. We can not vote a law that will legally prevent emigrants from moving on foot their cattle, horses and such, neither can we prevent driving cattle, mules, horses and other livestock to market on the public roads. People living along the public roads should keep this in mind and not be too ready to let their fencing be removed, should the herd law carry.

I left here in 1917 with between 3 and 4 hundred head of cattle for Crosbyton, with a view of shipping to New Mexico. We missed the way and drove in the night making for the town lights as our guide, which led us in the residence part of town, no fences around their dwellings and gardens. Those cattle didn't like the looks of such bright lights and scattered over the south part of town playing havoc with gardens, yards, crops and everything they could run over and tare up, it seemed to me they done it. Of course we all expected to be arrested and put in jail for the cattle tramping under foot everything, but we were not molested for the damage the cattle done while under herd. The next morning the grass around the stockpens looked good and the boys turned their saddle horses loose to graze a little while. They were up in town for breakfast. While they were at breakfast the stock wrangler run their saddle horses in the pound and locked the gate. They had to go to digging up their expense money to get their mount. The boys thought darn strange he did not run the cattle in that was roving the town and lock them up instead of the poor old pony that was picking a little grass. But the wrangler told them they turned loose the horses, but drove the cattle. I had the same experience in New Mexico. The cattle would get in the maize a long the road from Texico to Clovis as they had no fences. They too had herd law. We have just about as good herd law as we need at present if we will comply with it. Here it is: build you a fence 5 1-2 feet high of 4 wires, post 60 feet apart, 4 stays between each post, bring your wires tight, keep it tight. If the cow, the horse, the mple, jack or jennet jumps your fence, brakes it down and gets in your inclosure on your crop or feed stack tie said stock to a post, find the owner, present your charges for tying up said stock and damage also if any. If he refuses to pay just proceed to sell as you would under the special herd law. Your act will be just as legal and the sale as binding, under the general stock law as it would be under a special herd law voted by the citizens of the county. After you have your farm fenced with a lawful fence then when your crop is gathered you can turn the stock in let them clean up the ruffage and fertilize your land. If you have not the stock most any man who has will pay you a reasonable price for your stalk field. I paid one of my neighbors three hundred dollars for his stalk field two winters. That three hundred dollars would have built him a lawful fence, hog proof around his entire farm. His farm was not injured any in the least by my stock running on it, but on the other hand was in better condition than before taking the stock to pasture. In proof of this I will sight you to the Agricultural Department Washington, D. C. Bulletin on building up run down and worn out farms that were not even worth the tax to be worth $200 per acre by running a dairy herd on them a few years the very best crops were produced.

Just think 75 thousand farms in Texas, not a cow, nor a hog on them. I may have the number too high or too low as I am quoting from memory but the number is entirely too great. Do you know herd and hog law is the cause? I have kept stock on my farm every winter since its been in cultivation more than 30 years. I defy any man to show a richer and more productive farm that has not been grazed. The worst feature I see in the herd law we are voting the home less out of his milk cow. He has no vote, he has no land. The land lord will not build him a fence and he can't afford to on land not his own. He has got to keep his cow and his horse in the lane when they are not in the pen, or in use. But if you fence him out of his cow, or his horse he ought not to own breachy stock. But if you think different take to it Joseph. If you impound mine, I can impound yours.

But the professional impounder will get us both if he is not here at this time. When we vote the herd law he will be here soon. I hope he brings cost to you and not me. I am yours for the cow, sow and hen.

WOMAN BORROWS MILLION DOLLARS WITHOUT SECURITY

Pomeroy, Ohio.—Mrs. Susan Kraus, 63, is held in the county jail here in default of $3000 bond on a charge of embezzlement. County officials said that her arrest had revealed transactions covering a period of twelve years in which she had borrowed sums that may reach more than one million dollars on her unsecured notes, promising her creditors interest ranging from ten to thirty per cent. Local citizens hold her unsecured paper for more than $300,000, it was said.

J. M. Brownlow, a leading citizen and extensive farmer of the McAdoo country on the plains, was in Spur this week ginning and marketing cotton. While Mr. Brownlow has some cotton for the market, yet he is not what is termed a "cotton farmer," devoting a greater part of his acreage each year to small grain and feed stuff. As a result of diversified farming, Mr. Brownlow is one of the most prosperous and successful farmers of the county.

NOTE THE PROGRESS OF TEXAS

Directed now by the organization known as the Ku Klux Klan, Texans have recently thought the day or night illspent when they were not "safe guarding liberty", "preserving the white man's civilization," "making the state 100 per cent American." In carrying on this work, the clan's procedure is to motor some person in to the the country and flog him mercilessly, then hop back into the automobile and, wishing the victim a happy journey on his way back to town, make off. Up until Tuesday night last, the Ku Klux Klan of Texas was masculine in gender. On Tuesday night it developed that the clan's gender in feminine also. An adjunct of the organization comprises women who are known as "Ladies of the Invisible Eye" staged their first battle "in defense of American institutions" on Tuesday night at Stop Six, a little station on the interurban railway between Dallas and Fort Worth. At Stop Six, it seemed lived Mrs. I. C. Tatum. Four masked "Ladies of the Invisible Eye" called on Mrs. Tatum Tuesday night, invited her to a motor ride, whirled her away, jerked her out of the car when it came to a stop and then proceeded to flog her with cat-o'-nine-tails. As usual, the klans victim, after being flogged, was permitted to find her way home as best she could. Grand Old Texas. Not quite so old as some of her sister commonwealths, but getting grander every hour. San Jacinto, Goliad, Alamo, Teneha, Charco, Denison—Stop Six.

Keeping Tabs on Time

THE selection of a watch is a matter for the most careful consideration—for a time piece must give PERFECT service, day in and day out, year after year. The responsibility of the store that sells you a watch is great.

For our part, we welcome this responsibility. We know the watches and clocks we sell—from the INSIDE out. We keep all of the standard makes, but even these go through a rigid test. We want you to buy a time piece of us and ten years later come back, satisfied with the purchase. The service the watch or clock gives will also breed confidence in everything ELSE we sell. That is simply wise merchandising.

The most charming of wrist watches for men and for women have recently been added to our stock—all in wonderful new designs. Sturdy clocks, too, that never "fall down" at a critical time, when SECONDS count.

Just as dependable is the W-W-W line of guaranteed rings, presented for your selection in precious birthstones, solid gold setting and of ingenious, smartly modern design.

Making 20 Years of Racing Serve Car Owners Today

IN the early days of automobile contests, Barney Oldfield—out to win every race—studied tires. His consistent success led other drivers to ask for tires constructed to his specifications.

Twenty years of road and track victories—with a steady and increasing demand for tires as he built them—convinced Barney Oldfield that these speed tests pointed the way to a better tire for everyday use.

The enthusiastic reception of Oldfield Cords by the public proved he was right. Scores of the most prominent dealers in the country—and many thousands of car owners, experienced in the use of tires—bear witness by their decided preference that Oldfield is doing a bigger and better job of tire making.

This volume, handled in an effective way in every phase of manufacture and distribution, has resulted in price quotations far below what you'd expect on tires known to be better built and more enduring.

Practically every important race event for three years has been won on Oldfields. The Wichita Test Run in which an entire set of Oldfield Cords covered 34,525 miles on rough roads proves the mettle of the Most Trustworthy Tires Built in everyday driving.

The Master Driver and Tire Builder has given the public a new standard of tire wear and tire cost—a true economy that every car owner should know about.

Your Oldfield dealer has these facts—talk to him.

ABOUT THE STOCK LAW

Now, why does any one want to vote for stock law? So all nonenterprising farmers can tear their fences down from around their farms, and tie all the stock up so we can not sell our surplus stock to buyers who have been coming over the country and buying them. Just farming alone without some stock raising improves any country. That is the trouble with our eastern countries. And why throw the break on prosperity here?

I have but few stock, but I want a free country so I can drive my stock to market or sell them to some one who can drive them to the railroad station. I know the curse of this stock law with farm fences down so stock cannot be driven over the country except in late winter after the crops are all gathered.

I beg and pray that you people will not vote that curse on our county.—H. C. Smith.

COTTON THIEVES OF LAMAR CO. PICK STAPLE BY MOONLIGHT

Paris, Texas.—From all over the county comes complaint of cotton theft. Bales have been stolen from the gins and seed cotton from wagons in the field. L. W. Miller, living near Atlas, reports the theft from his field of an estimated bale and a half of cotton, which the industrious and thrifty thieves picked. They chose the best part of the cotton in which to operate and picked the staple by moonlight, which afforded them ample light to work by. There have been no arrests on these charges, as the thieves have covered their tracks pretty well.

Additional Spur Farm Land Offering

ON DECEMBER 1ST. NEXT WE WILL PLACE ON SALE A LARGE ACREAGE OF SPUR LAND WHICH WILL OFFER A WIDE RANGE OF SELECTION TO INTENDING PURCHASERS OF EITHER FARM OR RANCH LANDS.

List of offerings and prices may be ascertained on application to our office Terms will be as heretofore: one-fifth cash, balance in six equal annual payments, with privilege of paying any or all notes before maturity with eight percent interest only to date of payment.

A considerable portion of the lands to be offered are now under lease to various individuals. Heretofore we have refrained from giving options on land, but wherever lands are held under lease, we shall give our lessee the prior right to buy, feeling it only fair that this privilege be extended. This option has the limitation however, that will not be continued beyond December 1st., 1922. Such lessees as desire to purchase must be ready to conclude on that date. After that time the remaining lands will be sold to any who desire to buy.

We have thought that this announcement at this time will perhaps aid lessee and the general public in formulating plans for new purchases.

HUMOR AND PHILOSOPHY

School is a great thing, but like all other good things, school works a hard ship on some. Many boys who have managed to get by with a very light washing of the face, will now have to submit to the terrible ordeal of a hard scrub behind and inside the ears. A good wife complains that the love of a husband is not constant. It isn't dear; it's as variable as the shade of the aspen. On the days when there are good hot biscuits for break fast and dinner hubby's love for wife rises to fever heat. But when the meal consists of stale light bread and canned goods the mercury in the con nubial thermometer drops to zero.

The Signal has never admired Samuel Gompers to the extent of dislocating a hip in a mad rush to fall on his neck, but occasionally Samuel does tell a big truth in a few words. For instance, when a bevy of beautiful women, arrayed in see more skirts passed Samuel the other day he dropped his newspaper to feast on the scenery. Asked why he did so, Mr. Gompers said, "a woman is as old as she looks and a man is old when he quits looking."

In the town of Des Laes, North Dakota, the women made a clean sweep last spring, electing all the officers. Last week the woman who was elected city marshal resigned. She had up to that time found it unnecessary to make an arrest, but finally one man grew obstreperous and a warrant was issued for his arrest. When the woman marshal went to arrest him the man jerked loose and ran. The woman turned up her nose and declared she wouldn't arrest people who treated her so shamefully. Man should never lose his gallantry. If a woman marshal arrests him he should gently take her arm and escort her to the prison, and bow his thanks when she locks him in the prison cell.

Tom Blanton, the breezy Congress man from the Abilene district, had four opponents this year and received nearly as many votes as all of them, but four men have already announced for Blanton's place two years hence. American men are not patriotic, but are fearless when it comes to taking punishment. Tom, it seems is the easiest man to lambast and the hardest man to beat that every trotted on the political track.

Only three weeks until the opening of the Dallas Fair. The big pumpkins are now being put in place, the fat hogs and steers are receiving the finishing touches and the figure eight is being oiled. The diving girls, we understand, are ready to embark for the big fair, the Russian dancers are ready and the hot-dog cookers are eager for the fray. There is going to be another great fair, and the best luck we know how to wish any one is enough money for railroad fare and Dallas kinsfolk to stay with at night.

We don't know that political plat forms make any difference, since few people read them and fewer still try to carry them out, but Texas Democracy has a platform this year that nobody can object to. The platform takes up as much space as an old fashioned Democratic platform, but says virtually nothing.

The cost of ammunition ought to vary according to the use to which it is put. If a man wants to shoot a pretty, harmless dove a load of powder and shot ought to be fifty dollars. But if the purchaser wants to shoot a fellow who runs his auto at night with the muffler open, give him twenty rounds of ammunition for a nickel.

The state election was held in Maine Monday, and of course the wicked Republicans won. The Republican majority was not as large as it has been at times, but it was large enough to capture all the offices and shut the Lord's elect out in the cold. Maine is at the northeastern edge of this cupation of the Maine people is eat-

The "Ladies of the Invisible Eye" is the name of a new organization at Dallas. Ladies' eye have caused the male species a great deal of trouble in this old world, and now the "invisible eyes" is to give the women folk trouble. The "Invisible Eye" adherents wear masks and look after women who don't do exactly as they should. We favor a lodge of the Invisible Eye for Honey Grove, and hope all the wives who refuse to cook biscuits for dinner will be looked after.

Bank statements will be printed again in the near future. Our guess is that these statements will show that the people have about as much money on deposit as they had at this date ten years ago, and in addition they have fully a million dollars worth of automobiles that they didn't have then. Many of us have fallen into the bad habit of saying the condition of the people and the country is growing worse, but it isn't. We have better places to live, and better roads, and the flivver takes us as far in an

AN OPEN DISCUSSION OF THE STOCK LAW ELECTION ORDERED

Since there has been an election ordered for October 14th to determine whether or not a stock law shall be enforced in Dickens county, the Texas Spur invites an open discussion of the proposition in its columns. The proposition is of moment to every individual, and since it can in no way engender discord or cause sectional strife, an open discussion will be wholesome to all and enlightening to many.

Personally we have always lived out in the open free range and have never had any experience with the enforcement of range laws. While we are not dissatisfied nor discontented with the open range, and only on very rare occasions have we been aggravated even with the "town cow", yet we are willing and ready to make a change if the people think it best. We believe now, and always have, that the fewer enforcement laws we have, whether they apply to men or cows, the more contented and happier we will be. However, the abuse of open privileges usually brings about the adoption and passage of all enforcement laws. The few who disregard neighborly ethics by turning stock loose, unrestricted, to harass and depredate upon others, encourages a discussion of the advantages of a stock law enforcement, and eventually brings about its adoption, even though it be to the material disadvantage of many who do not abuse the open range privileges.

It appears to us that a strict enforcement of a stock law may be the cause of more dissension among neighbors than would be the case from an occasional disregard of the open range laws, in that impounding stock and charging a penalty is distasteful among neighbors and will result in ill feeling. It is much better to do the right thing by your neighbor and others, and then there will be no occasion for enforcement laws. Real men and neighbors will not permit stock to damage others, and when they do will be ready to make it right whether or not we have an enforcement law.

COTTON PRODUCTION AND PRICE ARE SOMEWHAT SURPRISING

W. C. Messer, of several miles south west of Spur, was in the city during the past week. He reports crops turning out better than anticipated in the beginning of the season. While the cotton turn-out is somewhat surprising, the prices being paid are also somewhat surprising under the circumstances. We expected to see cotton selling for twenty five cents, or even thirty, by this time—in view of the prediction that the world will experience almost a cotton famine before another crop comes in. The old theory that "supply and demand" controls prices has been further exploded and the fact that market manipulators are in control of the situation has been demonstrated beyond question.

—Trade in Spur—

W. P. Marshall, was here Wednesday from his Duck Creek truck farm, spending a short time here on business. Being a truck farmer the cotton season is not his busiest season, consequently he can enjoy the fruits of his labors at this time while others are worrying and working to get out and market the fleecy staple.

MARRIED

Mr. Leonard Ward and Miss Euna Spraberry, of near Spur, were married Wednesday of last week, and are now receiving the congratulations of friends.

The Texas Spur joins in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Ward many happy and prosperous years of married life.

MAKES $100.00 AN ACRE GROWING ALFALFA AT SPUR

W. T. Wilson, of Wilson Draw, was among the business visitors on the streets the first of the week. W. T. Wilson has always been a successful farmer, and has become even more successful and prosperous the past year or two, since growing alfalfa and hogs on the side. His alfalfa crop, if it had been sold, would have brought in better than one hundred dollars to the acre this year. If land in the Spur country will produce a hundred dollars from one year's crop, what should that land be really worth?

BUILDING MODERN BUNGALOW ON 20-ACRE BLOCK NEAR SPUR

J. H. Fulcher, who recently purchased of Ed Hufstедler a 20-acre block north of Spur, is now completing the construction work on a modern bungalow, and he and family will soon move into the new home.

The building progress of Spur and the Spur country continues unabated. The fact is the building progress here, considering the conditions which have prevailed, is unprecedented in the development history of any country.

WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES BASE BALL GAMES PLAYING

The Yanks and Giants, American and National League teams, are now playing the world's championship in base ball. The first game went to the Giants, 3 to 2; the second being a tie, 3 and 3. The third game Friday, the score was 3 to 0, in favor of the Giants.

The games are being played in New York where both teams were organized. The daily reports are being received over the Spur National Bank radio by Cashier W. T. Andrews.

WHAT IS LAND REALLY WORTH IN SPUR COUNTRY?

T. J. Harrison, of the Duncan Flat community, was in Spur Saturday winding up the sale of his farm to C. A. Jones. The consideration in this sale was fifty dollars an acre. A short time before, Mr. Harrison refused to take an offer of sixty dollars an acre for his place. Some day, and not many years hence, land will be considered cheap at a hundred dollars, or even two hundred an acre. We have land in the Spur country which has made more than a hundred dollars per acre in crop production, including crops of cotton, and alfalfa. One crop is making two bales of cotton to the acre, and another has made over a hundred dollars in alfalfa. In considering real values of land, soils which produce crops bringing in a hundred or more dollars a year, is worth considerably more than can be produced from a single crop.

Mr. Patton stated that everything continues progressing and in good shape in Cisco and throughout Eastland county. In effect he stated that Cisco is now laying the foundation for a large city in the future.

Mancil Rose, of Jayton, was brought to the Nichols Sanitarium Sunday night where he immediately underwent an operation for appendicitis. Mr. Rose was in a very serious condition when he arrived at the sanitarium, the appendix having already bursted and gangrene set in, thus necessitating an immediate operation without further preparation upon his arrival at the hospital. Little hope is entertained for his recovery, Dr. Nichols stating that a miracle almost would be required to save him under the circumstances.

Uncle Eb Shaw, of Croton, was meeting friends on the streets of Spur Saturday. Uncle Eb Shaw was among the first settlers of Dickens county, has endured the hardships of frontier days and contributed much to the present day progress and development activities. These old timers deserve the enjoyment of the "fat of the land" in these days of luxurious living.

THE MARRYING PREACHER?

Rev. J. W. Jennings, of the Es-puela community, was in Spur Tuesday filling out marriage certificates and mailing them to proper authorities and parties. Rev. Jennings stated that he had had the pleasure of performing a number of ceremonies recently uniting young couples of Dickens and adjoining counties. In fact the boys of that section know where to find Brother Jennings at any hour of the day or night and have no hesitancy in calling upon him.

—Trade in Spur—

W. H. Taylor was in town Wednesday. He is now engaged in two occupations, selling cotton and buying cattle. Probably he figures that if cotton goes down cattle may go up, placing him in a position to enjoy some profits either way the tide turns. W. H. is a shrewd business man, trader and manipulator. Should he live long enough, he will become one among the multi millionaire class.

W. M. Austin, of Afton, was here Wednesday to have the dentist operate on one of his teeth. Mr. Austin told us that he was making a fairly good crop of cotton and that he had been unable to get pickers to help get the crop out of the field. However, after this week we presume that cotton pickers will be plentiful in every section.

—Trade in Spur—

J. A. Brown, of north of Dickens, was here Saturday. His fear of bankruptcy has been somewhat relieved from the fact that he is making better crops than expected and is in better position to smile and make any obstreperous creditors also smile. Verily, this is a great country and great people.

—Trade in Spur—

O. Taylor was on the streets Wednesday with samples of cotton to submit to buyers. He was not over anxious to sell, and we infer that he is of the opinion that the time is near at hand when the price will have to go back up.

LET THE COW RUN

Editor Texas Spur:
 I note a wise subhead original, in last week's Texas Spur, viz: "Any movement to aid farmers never fails to benefit the merchant". How silly and selfish is the proposition to shut up the cow, which God created and put upon earth to produce food for the human family by eating His free grass.

The cow is the chief agency of human nourishment and created to eat the grass that the babies and children might grow and be happy. Which is best that the lazy man fence or box up his town flowers or trees, or shut up the cow or sell her for beef and starve the babe and poor children who or not able to buy milk? Brethren, think on these things; who is getting hurt in this fight, with 60 per cent poor farmer renters, not able to keep up a cow and buy feed for it. No, they who vote to deny the poor man and his children their chief means of living injures himself materially and his country morally. Let the cow graze.—F. N. Oliver.

H. C. Eldredge, one of the leading citizens and most extensive farmers of the McAdoo section, was in Spur the first of the week with cotton to gin and market. Fire which destroyed the new gin plant under construction at McAdoo recently was an expensive blow to the community as well as the owners and builders. However, we understand that the rebuilding of the plant is again almost complete and the gin will be ready by next week to gin the cotton of that territory.

Trade in Spur—
 W. C. Mitchell, of the Tap country, was in Spur the first of the week. He informed us that he is making a good cotton crop regardless of the hot winds and dry weather. The crop production this year, under the prevailing conditions, demonstrates beyond any question that the Spur country and West Texas is the greatest agricultural section of America.

 J. V. McCormick, who is slightly disfigured as a result of a severe attack of rheumatism, we are glad to note is now able to get about, even with the aid of a stick. J. We sincerely hope that very soon he will be his old self again.

Trade in Spur—
 W. R. Gannon, of several miles southwest of Spur, was among the many in Spur Wednesday selling cotton and transacting other business affairs. W. R. Gannon raises hogs, turkeys and feed as a side line on his farm and the result is he is pretty well fixed and always has money.
